

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE TO SECOND EDITION.

THERE is no misfortune from which we may not draw some benefit. The fire, which lately destroyed, at Philadelphia, so many of Messrs. Boericke and Tafel's valuable contributions to our literature, also devoured all the copies on hand of my Therapeutics. Such an opportunity could not be thrown away, and we tried, therefore, to erase all misprints and correct all sins of omission and commission which crept in volens volens. Our hearty thanks are due to Professor Farrington, who kindly pointed out to us such mistakes, and we hope and trust that his brotherly example may find many followers. Let us all work together for our benefit as well as pro bono publico.

PREFACE TO FIRST EDITION.

THERE is a just and continual outcry against the impossibility of mastering our ever-increasing Materia Medica, and many physicians are therefore in the habit of making their own repertories, in order to facilitate the selection of the simile. They give hints and only hints, and always necessitate further study, in order to ascertain the similitum. Thus originated this treatise on therapeutics, which, with great diffidence, I now put before my professional brethren; and I hope and trust that it shall be of as much benefit to them, especially to the younger ones, as it has been to me during the many years of my medical practice.

Jahr's Clinical Guide, which I had the honor to bring out in a new edition some ten years ago, is still the skeleton around which I clustered the experience of our best men. There is nothing original in such a work, but I culled from our whole literature, wherever I found something valuable to be preserved. Still, omissions will be plenty, and I would earnestly beseech, therefore, some of the friends of our cause to get their copy interleaved, in order that every omission can be filled out and corrections made wherever necessary. Only thus can we hope to have finally a work worthy to be named Homoeopathic Therapeutics.

ABSCESSSES, internal and external.

§ 1. Internal abscesses generally require the same remedies as external.

A preference should be given:

a. For acute abscesses, to: 1, bell., hep., merc., sil.; 2, apis, ars., asa., bry., cepa, cham., hep., lach., led., mez., phos., puls., sulph.

b. For chronic abscesses, whether cold or occasioned by congestions, to: asa., aur., calc., carb. v., con., hep., iod., laur., lyc., mang., merc., merc. c., nitr. ac., phosph. sep., sil., sulph.

Further, if there arises on any internal or external part a painful, red, inflamed swelling, which may point and form a suppurating swelling, bell., or if this does not succeed in twenty-four to forty-eight hours, hepar will often disperse the whole swelling and keep suppuration off; but when once matter has formed, merc. will bring on the discharge of the pus and frequently finish the case up, its chief indication being, that suppuration must have already taken place. Should the open wound not heal under the continuation of merc., give hep. or silic., which are the real specifics against all benignant or malignant suppurations. If the abscess looks erysipelatous, apis, bell.; if bluish, lach.

Apis. Threatened or incipient abscesses, where the stinging, burning pains are marked.

Arnica. Hot, hard, and shining swelling: pricking pains, and dull stitches in the part; general sinking of strength.

Arsenicum. Intolerable burning pains during the fever or when the abscess threatens to become gangrenous; pus copious, bloody, corroding, ichorous, watery, and of a putrid smell; great debility, muscular prostration, sleeplessness, and restlessness.

Asafoetida. Abscesses discharging a colorless, serous pus; violent pains on contact, and great sensitiveness of the adjoining parts; intermittent pulsations on the tumor, with darting, tearing pains, somewhat relieved by pressure.

Belladonna. Pressure, burning, and stinging in abscess; scarlet redness and hot swelling; pus scanty, cheesy, and flocculent, great sensitiveness to cold air. Hepatic abscess.

Bryonia. The tumor is either very red or very pale, pains tensive, sharp, sticking, lancinating; throbbings in the part; worse towards evening and at night, heaviness and hardness of abscess.

Calendula. Induration after surgical operations, followed by suppuration; the wound looks raw and inflamed, with stinging pains, followed by throbbing, as if it would suppurate; profuse and exhausting suppuration in traumatic abscess.

Hepar sulph. Lacerating and pricking pains in the tumors; throbbing and heating in the abscess; the skin over the abscess is highly inflamed, hard, hot, and swelling; pus scanty, bloody, corroding, smelling like old cheese; pains worse at night, and by exposure to cold.

Mercurius. Slowly suppurating abscesses. Burning redness of the skin, with prickling and tingling sensation; hard, hot, inflammatory swelling; pressing from within outwards; pulsating pains; pus copious, bloody, corroding, thin, and watery, or all these characters, but scanty.

Mezereum. For abscesses of fibrous parts or of tendons; or for abscesses arising from the abuse of mercury.

Phosphorus. Lymphatic abscesses, full of fistule; callous feeling; hectic fever; pus copious and yellow.

Pulsatilla. The abscess bleeds readily, with stinging and cutting pains; bluish-red swelling (varices) in the surrounding parts, with itching, stinging, and burning pains, abscesses after violent and long-continued inflammations; pus bloody or copious, greenish or yellow.

Rhus tox. Abscesses of axillary and parotid glands, swelling painful to touch, and discharging a bloody-serous pus, with stinging and gnawing pains. Smooth, red, and shining swellings, the inflamed skin being covered with little painful white vesicles.

Silicea. It controls the suppurative process, seeming to mature processes when desired, and certainly reducing excessive suppuration to moderate limits. Pains of abscesses are either burning, cutting, itching, prickling, or pulsative. Pus copious or scanty, bloody, brownish, corroding, gelatinous, gray or greenish, putrid, thin and watery, or yellow. After matter has been discharged, it promotes granulation and cicatrization.

Sulphur. Chronic abscess, tendency to suppuration, dependent upon a psoric or scrofulous diathesis; pains throbbing or stinging, and after evacuation of the pus there is a tendency to ulceration.

ACNE.

§ 1 The best remedies are generally: 1, kali hydroiod., antim. tart., sulph.; 2, bell., carb. v., hep., led., n. jugl.; 3, ars., baryt., calc., graph., kal., lach., natr. m., nitr. ac., phos. ac., puls., sabin., selen., silic.; 4, agar., ant., aur., bry., chin., dig., dros., merc., plumb., sabad., sep., spong.

§ 2 Particular indications:

For acne disseminata (pimples in the face of young people): 1, bell., carb. v., hep., sulph.; 2, ars., calc., lach., led., natr. brom., n. vom., phos. ac., puls.; 3, ars. brom., ars. iod., eugenia jambos, kali brom., sulph. iod.

For acne indurata (indurated pimples): 1, carb. v., led., sulph.; 2, ars., bell., hep., nux v., puls., sulph.; 3, kali brom., kali iod., sulph. iod.

For acne miliaris (miliary pimples of young chlorotic girls): 1, calc., sulph.; 2, graph., hep., kali, natr., natr. m., sabin., selen.

For acne punctata (black pores): 1, sulph.; 2, natr., nitr. ac.; 3, dros., graph., sabin.; 4, aur., bry., calc., dig., eugenia jambos., natr. m., plumb., selen., thuya.

For acne rosacea (coppery-red eruption of the face): 1, carb. a.; 2, ars., kreas., mez., rhus, ruta, veratr.; 3, calc., cann., carb. v., cicut., kal., led., nitr. ac., phos., phos. ac., sil., thuj.; 4, alum., aur. m., canth., caps., caust., clem., lach., n. jugl., petr., plumb., sep., sulph., sulph. ac.

For acne vermiformis (comedones): 1, selen., sulph.; 2, graph., natr., nitr. ac.; 3, bry., calc., dioscorea, dros., natr. m., sab.; 4, aur., dig., plumb., sabad.

For acne on the face of young plethoric people: 1, bell., carb. v.; 2, hep., sulph., sil., sulph. iod.; 3, ars. brom., kali brom.

For acne of drunkards: 1, kreas., led., nux v., sulph.; 2, ars., lach., puls.

For acne arising from sexual abuse: calc., phos. ac., sulph.

ADDISON'S DISEASE.

Bönnighausen mentions antim., acid. nitr., sec., spig. as remedies causing a bronzed skin. Jousset: ars., kali carb., calc. carb., sil., sulph.; also, bell., chin., ferr. iod., natr., mur., phos., sep.

ADENOMA.

See Glandular Tumors.

ADIPSIA, loss of thirst.

Apis, ars., bell., ferr. acet., hydrocyan. acid., led., lyc., natr. sulph., puls., sep., sarsap., tab.

Apis. Thirstlessness in cerebro spinal meningitis, ovarian dropsy, ascites, and pregnancy. No thirst with heat; mouth dry.

Ars. Absence of thirst, or thirst not very marked; no thirst during chilliness.

Bell. Absence of thirst; slight thirst, notwithstanding the general heat; no desire for drinks; aversion to all fluids, so that she behaves frightfully at the sight of them.

Ferrum acet. Complete absence of thirst; loathing sour things.

Ledum. Constant loss of thirst.

Lycopodium. Neither appetite nor thirst; nausea after drinking, with dizziness; pharynx feels contracted, so that nothing could be swallowed, from warm drinks.

Pulsatilla. Thirst rare; when thirsty drinks often, but little at a time; it provokes inclination to vomit. Thirstlessness, with moist or dry tongue.

Sarsaparilla. Neither appetite nor thirst; the thought of food is disgusting.

ADIPOSIS.

For adiposis (polysarcia) of young men and girls, observation and symptoms point to the following remedies: 1, calc., puls., sulph.; 2, ant., caps., ferr.; 3, ars., baryt., lyc.; 4, cupr., veratr., fucus vesiculosus.

AFTER-PAINS.

See Labor.

AGALACTIA.

Failure or scanty supply of the milk: Acon., agnus, asa., bell., bry., calc., carb. an., caust., chin., dule., iach., mere., nux v., puls., rheum., rhus, sec., sulph.

Agnus castus. Despairing, sadness; frequently says she will die.

Causticum. Amaurosis threatens; pulsations and noises in the ears. Anxiety and despondency: the woman has been subjected to night-watching, care, trouble.

Rhus tox. Mental derangement, and thought of suicide. Vitiated lochia, lasting too long, and loss of power in the lower extremities.

AGGRAVATION.

See Conditions.

AGORAPHOBY.

(Place-fear, dizziness in crossing crowded thoroughfares, or in crowded halls). Acon., arg. nitr., nux v.

AGUSTIA.

§ 1. The principal remedies are: 1, bell., lyc., natr. m., phos., puls., sil.; 2, alum., amm. m., anac., calc., hep., hyosc., kal., kress., magn. m., nux v., rhod., sec., sep., verat.

§ 2. For loss of taste from purely nervous causes, such as paralysis, the principal remedies are: bell., hyosc., lyc., natr. m., n. vom., sep., verat.

For agustia attended with catarrh. coryza, etc., we use: 1, n. vom., puls., sulph.; 2, alum., calc., hep., natr. m., rhod., sep.

§ 3. Compare Dysecoia, Anosmia, Amblyopia, etc.

ALBUMINURIA.

See Morbus Brightii.

ALCOHOL.

Poisoning by. According to Hering, the principal remedies are: 1, milk; 2, mutatiminos drinks; 3, caustic spirits of ammonium (one drop in a tumblerful of sugar-water, in teaspoonful doses). Black coffee is likewise useful, as well as n. com., in homoeopathic doses.

ALOPECIA, falling out of the hair.

§ 1. Alum., ambr., ara., bar. carb., bell., bov., calc. carb., carb. an. and veg., caust., chin., colch., con., ferr., fluor. ac., graph., hep., ign.,

iod., kali bieh., kali carb., kali iod., kress., lyc., magn., merc., natr. carb., natr. mur., nitr. ac., paris quad., petr., phos. ac., phos., plumb., sars., sep., selen., sil., staph., sulph., sulph. ac., tab., thuj., zinc.

§ 2. After severe acute diseases: chin., ferr., calc., carb. v., hep., lyc., sil.; after confinement: calc., lyc., natr. mur., sulph.; if caused by long grief: phos. ac., staph., ign., lach.; if by nervous or hysteric headaches: calc., hep., nitr. ac., phosph., sep., sil., sulph.; if caused by frequent sweats: merc.; from syphilis: thuj.

§ 3. As regards the condition of the scalp and hair, give for sensitiveness of the scalp: calc., bar. c., carb. v., chin., hep., natr. m., sil., sulph.

For violent itching of the scalp, especially if in consequence of old suppressed eruptions, give: graph., kal., lyc., sil., sulph.

For scales on the head: calc., graph., magn., staph.

For the disposition of the hair to turn gray, give: graph., lyc., phos. ac., sulph. ac.

For great dryness of the hair: calc., kal., phos. ac.

When the hair is frequently covered with viscid sweat: chin., merc.

§ 4. For falling off of the hair on other parts of the body:

In the eyebrows: agar., bell., caust., kal.

When the hair falls off on the sides of the head: graph., phosph.; on the forehead: arsen., natr. mur., phosph.; on the vertex: baryt., graph., lyc., sep., zinc.; on the occiput: carb. veg., petrol., phosph., sil.; on the temples: calc., kali carb., lyc., natr. mur.; for some places getting bald: canth., iod., phosph.; externally spiritus phosphori, a few drops to a pint of distilled water, and, after shaking, moisten well the scalp with it. Or dissolve a teaspoonful of table-salt in a pint of water and rub it well over bald spaces.

Falling off of whiskers: calc., graph., natr. mur.; of mustaches: kali, natr. mur., plumb.; of mons veneris: bell., natr. carb., natr. mur., rhus., sil.

Acid. fluor. Itching of the head and falling off of the hair: the new hair is dry and breaks off.

Aloes. The hair comes out in lumps, leaving bare patches; eyelashes also fall out; frequent frontal headache.

Ammon. mur. Large accumulation of branlike scales, with falling off of the hair, which has a denuded and lustreless appearance, with great itching of the scalp.

Arsenicum. Bald patches at or near the forehead. The scalp is covered with dry scales or scales, extending sometimes even to the forehead, face, and ears.

Carbo veg. Falling off of the hair, occasioned by severe illness or after parturition.

Helleborus. Losing hair from the eyebrows or pudenda.

Kali carb. Dry hair, rapidly falling off, with much dandruff.

Mancinella. Losing hair after severe acute diseases.

Sepia. Losing hair after chronic headaches.

Silicea. Premature baldness, itching of scalp or of vulva before menses.

Vinca minor. The hair falls out in single spots, and white hair grows there; spots on head oozing moisture, the hair matting together.

Compare Scaldhead, Nails, Itching of Skin.

AMAUROSIS AND AMBLYOPIA.

Loss of sight, weakness or alteration of vision.

§ 1. Weakness of sight, from mere dim-sightedness to complete blindness, may arise from so many causes, and may be attended with so many different morbid states of the organism that there is scarcely a remedy which is not of advantage in the treatment of this affection. I have, therefore, noted only the most efficacious remedies for amblyopia, furnishing particular indications to serve as points of support, and to facilitate the selection of remedies for particular cases.

The principal remedies for amblyopia are: 1. aur., bell., calc., caust., chin., cic., cin., dros., hyosc., merc., natr. m., n. vom., phos., puls., ruta, sep., sil., sulph., verat.; 2. agar., cann., caps., cimicif., con., croc., dig., dulc., euphr., guai., kal., lach., lyc., magn., natr., nitr. a., op., plumb., rhus, sec., spig., tart., zinc.

For amblyopia, simple weakness of sight: 1. anae., bell., calc., caps., cin., croc., hyosc., lyc., magn., puls., ruta, sep., sulph.; 2. cann., caust., sep., natr., natr. m., phos., plumb., etc.

For amblyopia amaurotica (incipient amaurosis): 1. aur., bell., calc., caps., caust., chin., cic., con., dros., dulc., hyosc., merc., natr., natr. m., nitr. ac., op., phosph., puls., rhus, sec., sep., sil., sulph., veratr., zinc; 2. agar., cin., dig., euphr., guai., kal., kal. bi., lach., lachn., lyc., n. mosch., plumb., veratr., vir.

For complete amaurosis, provided it is not incurable, the same remedies should be used as for amblyopia amaurotica, the remedy depending not so much upon the degree of weakness, as upon the totality of the symptoms. Unless secondary symptoms should require other remedies, we may use: bell., calc., merc., phosph., sep., sulph., etc., though any other remedy may be used if indicated by the general symptoms.

For erethic amaurosis, principally: bell., cact., calc., cic., cimicif., con., gela., hyosc., merc., nitr. a., op., phos., sep., sulph., etc.

For torpid amaurosis: aur., caps., caust., chin., dros., dulc., natr., natr. m., op., phos. ac., plumb., sec., veratr.

§ 2. As regards external causes, if the weakness should have been caused by fine work, give bell. or ruta, or perhaps carb. v., calc., gela., lachn., and spigel.; by old age: aur., baryt., con., op., phos., sec.

After suppression of a habitual bloody discharge, as hemorrhoids, menstruation, etc.: bell., calc., lyc., n. vom., phos., puls., sep., sulph.

By abuse of Mercury or some other metallic substance: 1. sulph.; 2. hep., nitr. a., sil.; 3. aur., bell., carb. v., chin., lach., op., puls.

By rheumatic causes: 1. cact., cham., euphr., lyc., mer., n. vom., puls., rhus, spig., sulph.; 2. caust., hep., lach.

By debilitating causes, loss of animal fluids, sexual abuse: 1. chin., cin.; 2. anae., calc., natr., natr. m., n. vom., sulph.; 3. phos. ac., sep.

By scrofula: 1. bell., calc., chin., cin., dulc., merc., sulph.; 2. aur., euphr., hep., n. vom., puls.

By drinking: calc., chin., lach., n. vom., op., sulph.

By suppression of a suppuration or mucous discharge: chin., euphr., hep., lye., puls., sil., sulph.

By catching cold in the head or in the eyes: 1, bell., dulc.; 2, chain., euphr., mere., n. vom., puls., sulph.

By external injuries, blows on the head, violent concussions: 1, arn.; 2, con., euphr., rhus., ruta, or staph.

§ 3 As regards the AFFECTIONS, which may attend amblyopia, the principal remedies are:

If nervous headache: aur., bell., bry., calc., hep., nitr. a., n. vom., nitr. ac., phos., puls., sep., sulph., etc.

If congestion of blood to the head: aur., bell., calc., chin., gels., hyosc., n. vom., op., phos., sil., sulph., etc.

If hearing and the ear is affected: cic., glon., nitr. a., petr., phos., puls., etc.

If by gastric and abdominal ailments: ant., calc., caps., chin., coec., lye., natr. m., n. vom., phos., puls., sulph.

If by uterine derangements: aur., bell., cic., coec., con., magn., natr. m., n. vom., plat., phos., puls., rhus., sep., stram., sulph., etc.

If by pulmonary complaints: calc., canu., hep., lach., lye., natr. m., phos., sil., sulph.

If by diseases of the heart: aur., cact., calc., canu., dig., lach., phos., puls., sep., spig.

If by spasm, epilepsy: bell., caust., cic., ignat., hyosc., lach., op., sil., stram., sulph.

§ 4 As regards symptoms, the remedy should be selected in accordance with the totality thereof, both the symptoms of the eye and those of the general organism. But as it would be impossible to enumerate those symptoms without repeating the pathogenesis of every remedy indicated, we must content ourselves with furnishing the following particular indications for the different remedies of the eyes, leaving to the practitioner the business of supplying omissions and modifying our indications agreeably to the general symptoms of the patient.

Use

Aconite. Sudden and complete blindness, with anguish, bitter complaints, and reproaches; fear of death; total blindness after catching cold; vision as if through a veil, difficult to distinguish faces, with anxiety and vertigo; optical illusions in dark colors or black.

Agaricus. Feeling of weakness in eyes without having exerted them; indistinct sight; focal distance changes while reading, first grows shorter, then longer, type seems to move, things look obscured as from turbid water, muscae volitantes; vibrating spectra; nystagmus; if she grasped at any object held before her, the hand did not generally come near it; diplopia from overwork at the desk; frequent twitching in eyeball while reading.

Antimon. crud. Arthritic affections of eyes; redness with fine stitches in eyeballs; anxious reflections about himself, averse to talking.

Argentum nitr. Sight vanishes while reading or writing; at twilight feels as if he would become blind; fiery bodies flash before his eyes; pupils insensible to light; complete but transitory blindness; yellowish complexion, taciturn, and apathetic.

Arnica. Diminution of visual power, everything looks dim, pupils dilated; loss of sight after violent blow.

Aurum. For black spots or scintillations; half-sightedness, so that things appear to be cut off horizontally; tensive pain in the eyes; sudden attack after scarlatina and during childhood.

Baryta. Amblyopia of old people; weakness of the eyes, especially in the evening by candlelight; during the day a cloud before the eyes; by candlelight a glimmer; after a meal, sensation as of a gauze before the eyes.

Belladonna. Dilated or insensible pupils; photophobia; spasmodic motion of the eyes and eyelids; scintillation or mist, black spots or points before the eyes or spots of various colors or silver-colored; hemeralopia as soon as the sun is down; diplopia; or the objects appear red or inverted, stitches in the eyes, or aching and distensive pains extending to the orbits and forehead; red face.

Bovista. Weak eyes, without lustre, or snap; sensation as of a veil before the eyes in the morning; all her visual perception was distorted.

Calcareia. For mistiness of sight, gauze before the eyes, especially when reading, or after eating, with black motes before the eyes; extreme photophobia, with dazzling of the eyes by light; dilated pupils; pressure or feeling of coldness in the eyes. Affections of organists or drunkards.

Capsicum. Pupils dilated, eyes protruding; aching in eyes as from a foreign body, red, burning, and inflamed eyes; red face; objects appear black, dim vision; anguish, capriciousness, homesickness.

Carbo veg. Weak eyes from overwork or fine work; eyes dull, lustreless, pupils do not react to light; black floating spots before eyes, heavy weight seems to rest upon eyes; must make exertion to distinguish letters when reading.

Causticum. For sudden and frequent loss of sight, with sensation as if a pellicle were stretched over the eyes; or dim sightedness, as if looking through a cloth or mist; black threads or mists; scintillations, photophobia.

Chelidonium. Dimness of vision and weakness of sight; letters run together while reading or writing; indistinct vision from flickering before the eyes; with vertigo; cloudiness and illusions of sight.

China. For weak sight, the patient sees only the outlines of things near him; the letters look pale, are surrounded by white borders, blurred; dilated and not very sensitive pupils; dimness of cornea, as if the eyes were filled with smoke; scintillations or black motes; the eyes feel better after sleeping. Amblyopia of drunkards and masturbators.

Cicuta. Frequent vanishing of sight, as if by absence of mind with vertigo, especially when walking; the objects seem to totter and the letters to move, when reading; diplopia; frequent obscuration of sight, alternating with hardness of hearing; blue margins around the eyes, photophobia; burning in the eyes; aching pains in the orbits.

Cimicifuga. Aching pain in the centre of both eyeballs; black specks before the eyes, diplopia.

Oina. For dimness of sight, when reading, going off by wiping the eyes, dilated pupil; photophobia, pressure in the eyes, as if sand had got in, especially when reading. Pain in the eyes when using them at night by candlelight : dull pains in the eyes, which get easily tired, chiefly in the morning, and aggravated by reading and meditation.

Crotalus hor. Momentary disappearance of vision, with profuse lachrymation ; vanishing of vision while reading ; great sensitiveness of light ; amblyopia from grief ; muscæ volitantes and colored flames before the vision.

Cyclamen. Diplopia ; amblyopia ; hemiopia ; after suppression of menses or an eruption Drosera. For frequent vanishing of sight, especially when reading, the letters look pale and blurred ; photophobia ; the eyes are dazzled by the light or by the glare of fire ; they are very dry ; the nose is dry and stopped up, stitches in the eyes.

Elaps. coral. Everything seems white, even at night ; gray veil before the eyes ; on stooping the blood rushes to the head with vertigo and pains at the root of the nose, can scarcely tell light from dark.

Gelsemium. The eyes close on looking steadily at an object ; diplopia when inclining the head towards the shoulder, but vision single when holding the head erect ; mist before the eyes ; dimness of sight ; dilatation of the pupils ; confusion of sight with heavy-looking eyes ; smoky appearance of the eyes ; total blindness with dizziness, thirst for light ; after apoplexy, congestion of the head

AMENIA.

Amenorrhœa; Menoschesis; suppression of the menses, and the ailments incidental thereto.

§ 1. The best remedies are: 1, asclep., calc., caul., cimicif., helon., puls., sep., sulph.; 2, acon., aletr., bry., con., dulc., graph., kal., lyc., sep., sil.; 3, amm., arn., ars., bar., bell., caust., cham., cocc., cupr., ferr., natr. m., phos., pod.; 4, china, iod., merc., n. mosch., op., plat., rhod., sab., staph., stram., valer., veratr., zinc.

§ 2. AMENIA OF YOUNG GIRLS, that is, too long delay of the first menses, requires principally: 1, calc., puls., sulph.; 2, acon., apis, caust., cocc., graph., kal., natr. m., petr., sep., veratr.

Suppression of the menses in consequence of a cold, principally: 1, cauloph., cimicif., gels., n. mosch., puls.; or, 2, bell., dulc., sep., sulph.—or, if occasioned by fright or sudden emotions,—1, acon., lyc.; 2, coff., op., veratr. For feeble, though not entirely suppressed menses: asclep., calc., cauloph., caust., con., graph., kal., lyc., magn., natr. m., phos., puls., sil., sulph., veratr., zinc.

§ 3. For amenia of plethoric individuals use: acon., bell., bry., gels., n. vom., op., plat., sabin., sulph.; for debilitated or cachectic individuals: aletris, ars., chin., cipurped., con., graph., helon., iod., natr. m., puls., polyg., sep., sulph.

§ 4. Particular indications for the symptoms characterizing amenia:

Aconite. Amenorrhœa in young girls who lead a sedentary life; tendency of the blood to the head or chest; vertigo or fainting on rising from a recumbent position; frequent epistaxis; from taking cold by getting the feet wet; from fright or chagrin.

Æsculus hip. Amenia, with general prostration and malaise; the back gives out when standing or walking, especially across the hips; constipation, with ineffectual urging to stool; hæmorrhoids.

Agnus castus. Suppressed menses with violent contracting pain in abdomen and bearing down sensation, feels as if the intestines were sinking down with inclination to support the bowels with the hand; transparent leucorrhœa passing imperceptibly from the very relaxed parts; leucorrhœa not copious, but spotting her linen yellow; nausea as from eating fat food; hysteria with maniacal lasciviousness.

Aletris far. Amenia, or delaying menses, in consequence of atony of the womb or ovaries; weariness of mind and body; fulness and distension of abdomen, with bearing-down sensation; night sweats; constipation from want of muscular action; debility arising from protracted illness; loss of fluid; defective nutrition.

Alumina. Amenia, with abundant leucorrhœa, which flows only in the daytime, with weakness, straining to evacuate even a soft stool, restless sleep, awaking with palpitation of the heart.

Antimonium crud. Menses suppressed by a cold bath, with nausea and vomiting, white tongue, great thirst at night, alternate constipation or diarrhœa; tenderness over ovarian region.

Apis mel. Suppressed menses with congested or inflamed ovaries; menses stop suddenly or cease for two or three days to begin again, blood black; dysmenorrhœa, with scanty discharge of slimy blood; chlorosis, with puffy, bloated, waxy appearance of the face; edematous swelling of the eyelids, labia, and feet; a peculiar annoying itching or pain in the ovaries, especially in the right one, usually shortly before or during menstruation, accompanied by intense occipital headache and other hysterical symptoms; cardiac distress.

Apocynum. In young girls, with bloating of the abdomen and extremities.

Arsenicum. White waxy paleness of the face, and great debility; painful henteria; cold water lies like a load on her stomach; sleep full of tiresome dreams; constant desire for sour things, coffee, or brandy; craving for sexual intercourse; corrosive leucorrhœa; frequent paroxysms of fainting.

Aurum. Great depression of spirits, with inclination to commit suicide.

Bryonia. Amenorrhœa, with violent crethism of the circulation, congestion of blood to the head or chest, frequent bleeding of the nose, dry lips and thirst, frequent shudders, alternating with a dry and burning heat, hard, dry stools, as if burnt; every motion is painful, vicarious menstruation.

Calcarea carb. Leucophlegmasia; frequent rush of blood to the head, with dizziness and buzzing in the ears; constricted feeling around the waist; quick, and sometimes irregular beating of the heart, increased by motion; bellows or anæmic murmurs around the heart and large arteries; want of breath when moving or ascending (borax descending), desire to lie down, great languor, especially in the lower limbs, amenorrhœa from working in water, with anasarca.

Carbo veg. Violent itching of old tettery eruptions at the time when the menses should appear.

Caulophyllum. Amenœa, accompanied by spasmodic action or extreme atony, spasmodic bearing-down pains, with scanty flow; sympathetic cramps and spasms of neighboring organs, as of the bladder, rectum or bowels.

Causticum. Yellowish complexion, weakly, scrofulous; melancholy, hysteria, abdominal spasms, and pinching pains in the sacrum. Leucorrhœa only at night, or worse then.

China. Pale face with blue margins around the eyes; headache, especially at night; fulness and distension of the abdomen, particularly after eating, with desire to eructate, which affords no relief; emaciation; great debility, with languor and heaviness of the lower limbs; sleeplessness or restless sleep, with anxious or fatiguing dreams; rush of blood to the head, with pulsation of the carotids; nymphomania; nervousness; great sensitiveness to the least noise.

Cimicifuga. Amenorrhœa in rheumatic and neuralgic subjects; nervous excitability, bordering on hysteria or chorea; pressive heavy headache; melancholy; palpitations and other reflex symptoms; uterine cramps; suppression from mental emotions.

Cocculus. Leucorrhœa or hysterical abdominal spasms at a time when the menses ought to appear, with pressure towards the chest; much paralytic pain in the small of the back; discharge of a few drops of black blood, attended with great nervous distress; great debility, which does not even allow the patient to talk; hysteria.

Conium. At every menstrual effort the breasts enlarge, become sore and painful; vertigo in a recumbent position, when an attempt is made to turn over; great nervousness; involuntary laughing and weeping; great weakness after the least walk; the urine intermits in its flow, complicated with ovarian or uterine disease and chlorosis; depression of sexual function.

Crocus. Sensation as if something were alive in the stomach or abdomen, epistaxis of black, stringy blood; mental depression.

Cuprum. Amenia in consequence of suppression of footsweats; rush of blood to the head, with a strange tingling pain in the crown of the head, or pale face with blue margins around the eyes, or burning redness of the face with red eyes; violent cramps in the abdomen and chest, with frequent nausea and fearful vomiting; palpitations and spasms of the heart; convulsions with fearful cries.

Cypripedium. Amenorrhœa with hysteria; great nervous debility and despondency.

Dulcamara. Suppression in consequence of exposure to cold and damp; she has urticaria or some other cutaneous eruption every time she takes cold. Warts on her hands; breasts engorged or hard.

Ferrum. In weakly, chlorotic persons, with fiery redness of the face; great nervousness and debility; great disposition to lie and sit; emaciation; rush of blood to the head, with throbbing pains, roaring, buzzing, and prickling in the brain; pale, livid face, with blue margins around the eyes; pressure in the stomach and head.

Gelsemium. Amenia, with sharp darting and twitching neuralgic pains in the face and head; headache, which causes great dullness of the head and vertigo, and affects vision; sensation of heaviness in uterine region, with increase of the white leucorrhœal discharge and aching across the sacrum.

Glonoïn. Congestion to head in plethoric females; when menstruation stops fullness of the head, with or without redness of the face, with throbbings in the head or with rending and pulsating pains before, during, or after menses, or when the menses do not show themselves.

Graphites. Amenia, with dryness of the vagina; burning and itching of the labia during the scanty flow of the menses, which are pale and appear only occasionally, with pains in abdomen and limbs; swelling of the hands and feet; itching blotches here and there on the skin, from which oozes a gelatinous fluid. Graphites is in climaxis what Pulsatilla is in youth.

Helonias. General weariness and languor; gloominess and dullness of mind, amenorrhœa from general atony and torpid condition of the whole body, with anæmia and disordered condition of the digestive organs; prolapsus uteri from want of muscular tonicity; loss of sexual desire, with or without sterility.

Ignatia. Suppression of menses caused by some suppressed grief; much involuntary sighing and sobbing; præcordial anguish; weak and empty feeling in the pit of the stomach.

Iodum. Very much out of breath in going upstairs; paleness, alternating with redness of the face; frequent palpitations of the heart; great nervousness and other chlorotic symptoms.

Kali carb. Very efficacious, particularly when attended with difficult breathing, palpitations; at every menstrual effort sour eructations and swelling of the cheeks; oftentimes shooting pains all over abdomen; organic disease of the heart; erysipelatous eruptions; disposition to phlebitis; delaying menses.

Lilium tigr. Amenorrhœa, accompanied with cardiac distress or with ovarian pains of a burning or stinging character. Amenœa complicated with prolapsed or anteverted womb. Thin, acrid leucorrhœa, which leaves a brown stain on the linen. Partial amenœa, the menses returning occasionally, and then remain off again.

Lycopodium. Amenœa from fright; chlorotic symptoms; disposition to sadness, melancholy, and weeping; hysteric headache, fainting fits; sour taste, sour eructations, and sour vomiting; great desire for sweet things; the smallest quantity of food distresses her; horborygmus, particularly in the left hypochondrial region; sense of dryness in the vagina; wind from the vagina.

Mercurius. Prolapsus of the vagina at every menstrual menses; rush of blood to the head; dry heat; leucorrhœa; pale face and sickly complexion; edematous swelling of the hands, feet, and face; pain in the mammae, as if they would ulcerate, at every menstrual period. Sad, peevish and whimsical.

Suppression of the menses, with spasms and other hysteric affections; disposition to sleep and faint away, with great nervousness; debility; complete exhaustion after the least exertion; bloating of the abdomen after every meal, frequent waterbrash; amenœa from getting wet, with rheumatic pains.

Opium. Suppression, with congestion of blood to the head, which feels heavy; redness and heat of the face; sopor and convulsions.

Phosphorus. Particularly in tall, slender, phthisical patients. Spitting and vomiting of blood at the menstrual menses; menses too late or not appearing; tight feeling in the chest, with dry, tight cough; profuse hæmoptysis or hæmorrhage from the anus or urethra; great sense of weakness across the abdomen; cold legs and feet, sometimes paralyzed.

Phytolacca. Amenorrhœa complicated with ovarian irritation or diseases; chronic rheumatism; constipation.

Platina. Particularly in emigrants. Painful pressing down, as if the menses would appear, with desire for stool and pains in the small of the back; constipation, with scanty, difficult stool.

Pulsatilla. The sexual sphere is primarily affected in an atonic direction, and there are no chlorotic symptoms present. Amenorrhœa in consequence of wet feet; attended with frequent paroxysms of hemicrania and stitching pains in face and teeth.

Rhus tox. Amenias, after getting wet in a rainstorm, followed by hydrometra.

Ruta grav. Corrosive leucorrhœa, in consequence of the suppression.

Sabadilla. The menses are suppressed immediately on their appearance, when they reappear, sooner or later, but are again suppressed, and so on:

Sabina. The menses, usually flowing profusely, cease, or are suddenly suppressed, followed by a thick, fetid leucorrhœa.

Sanguinaria. Amenorrhœa, in consequence of pulmonary disease; hectic flush of the face; noisy escape of flatus from the vagina; in women who are subject to sick headache, with stiffness of the neck.

Secale corn. Amenorrhœa in thin, scrawny married women, who suffer much at the menstrual nîsus, with a continual, long-lasting, forcing pain in the uterus.

Senecio. Useful to nervous, restless, sleepless women, who always complain of nausea, debility of the whole system; menstrual nîsus, but still the period does not appear; sensation of a ball rising from the stomach into the throat; gastric derangement and inappetency.

Sepia. Insufficient or retarded menstruation in feeble women of dark complexion, with fine delicate skin and extreme sensitiveness to all impressions; in some, tendency to cough, to congestion and pain in the apex of one or both lungs; sallow complexion, with yellow saddle across bridge of nose and dingy spots on face; frequent paroxysms of hysteric or nervous headaches; frequent alternation of chilliness and heat; great debility; pain in loins from uterine and other abdominal congestion; sensation as though the vulva were too large; pressure on abdomen at menstrual nîsus, then soreness of perineum and swelling of the vulva; acrid leucorrhœa of bad-smelling fluids, accompanied by much itching in genital organs; constipation and sense of weight at the anus; feeling of emptiness at pit of stomach and in abdomen; great disposition to sweat.

Silicea. Amenorrhœa with suppressed footsweats; instead of the menses smarting, acrid and corrosive leucorrhœa or discharge of a quantity of watery fluid from uterus; frequent attacks of momentary blindness or obscuration of vision; pressing-down feeling in vagina, parts tender to touch; itching at the genitals.

Sulphur. Amenias in serofulous and otherwise unhealthy constitutions, with tendency to papular skin eruptions, or with portal and pelvic congestion; flushes of heat; weak feeling in genitals.

Veratrum album. Amenorrhœa, with nervous headache and hysteric affections; pale, livid face; frequent nausea and vomiting; cold hands, feet, and nose; great weakness, with fainting turns; sexual excitement, even nymphomania and other forms of mania.

Zincum. Amenorrhœa, with alternate paleness and redness of face; varicose veins of external genitals, with fidgety feet; pruritus vulvæ causes masturbation.

ANEMIA.

The best remedies are: 1, ars., chin., helon., hydrast., puls., squill., staph., sulph.; 2, arn., bell., bry., calc., carb. v., cin., con., ferr., graph., ign., kal., lach., lyc., mere., sulph., natr., natr. m., n. vom., phos., phos. ac., rhns., sep., sil., ver.

If it arises from loss of blood, or other fluids, give: 1, chin., helon., n. vom., sulph.; or 2, calc., carb. v., cin., hydrast., phos. ac., staph., sulph.

If caused by violent acute diseases, use: calc., carb. v., chin., hep., kal., natr., natr. m., n. vom., veratr.

See Chlorosis, Debility, Scurvy, etc.

Arsenicum. Rapid and great prostration, with sinking of the vital forces; great anguish, extreme restlessness and fear of death; emaciation, and wants to be in a warm room.

China. The system has been debilitated by the loss of vital fluids, especially blood, semen, diarrhoea, leucorrhoea, or overlactation. Heaviness of the head, with loss of sight, fainting, and ringing in the ears; sleeplessness at night.

Helonas. A great restorative in diseases of the genito-urinary organs.

Ferrum. Anæmia, with pale face and lips, and great debility; great paleness of the mucous membranes, especially that of the cavity of the mouth; bellows-sound of the heart, and anæmic murmur of the arteries and veins; muscles are feeble, and easily exhausted from slight exertion; œdema of the body.

Natrum mur. Malarious cachexia; sallow complexion, or very pale; pressure and distension of the stomach; constipation, with contraction of the anus, terrible sadness.

Natrum sulph. Hydremia; sycosis; hydrogenoid constitution of the body.

Nux vomica. Anæmia, from gastro-intestinal derangement, as so often found in persons suffering the consequence of debauchery, or of a sedentary life.

ANASARCA.

Principal remedies are: 1, ars., bell.; 2, bry., chin., dig., dulc., eupat., helon., hydrast., mere., sulph., or perhaps apis, camph., convolv., iris v., lact., lyc., rhns., samb., senec., sol. nigr.; for anasarca after cutaneous diseases, such as scarlatina, measles, we give with great effect hepar, hell., and ars.; in other cases the remedies have to be chosen in accordance with the symptoms. See Dropsy.

ANEURISM.

Best remedies, so far as known: 1, carb. v., lach., lyc.; 2, gual., puls., sulph.. In some cases may be required: 3, calc., caust., graph., kal.; 4, ambr., arn., ars., aur. m., ferr., natr. m., zinc.

ANEURISM by anastomosis yields to: carb. v., caust., lycop., plat., thuj.

Franklin (Surgery, ii, 201) mentions, to control the force of the heart's action and irritability of the arterial vessels; acon., actæa rac., gels., cactus, dig., spig., verat. vir.; to be followed by lycopodium, lach., carbolic acid, bry., calc. carb., carb. veg., merc., rhns, sec., sulph. Iodide of potash, in 5-grain doses, three times a day, also enjoys a good reputation; also ergotin.

Helmuth (Surgery, 3d edition, p. 355) witnessed good effects from gallic acid in half-drachm doses for the cure of internal aneurism in combination with rest. He also speaks highly of veratr. vir., bell., acon., dig., gels., and of the antipsorics: calc., lyc., and sulph.; the phosphate of lime or the sulphate of soda may be required, perfect rest being enjoined.

ANGINA LUDOVICI.

See Parotitis Maligna.

ANGINA PECTORIS.

Neuralgia pectoris seu cordis. One of the principal remedies seems to be hepar, after which consult: 2, ammon. carb., amyl. nitr., apiol., arm., ars., cact., cimicif., cupr., jugl. cin., lach., samb., ver. alb., ver. vir.; 3, acon., aur., bell., caust., dig., phos., spong., and (according to Hartman) angust., ipec., mosch., sep., spig.

Aconite. Intense anxiety, with fear of death; coldness, cold sweat, feeble pulse, or full, strong, and throbbing; intense pain in all directions, frequent change of position without relief, but no exhaustion (as in arsen.); suffocative constriction of chest, so distressing that he sweats from agony; flushed face; pain in cardiac region, going down left arm; general or local numbness and tingling, particularly in recent cases, occurring in strong plethoric subjects.

Agaricus. Angina pectoris, gastralgic form; constant feeling of a lump in epigastrium, with pain under sternum; drawing in region of diaphragm, with sharp pains in left side; faintness, with an empty feeling, heaviness of stomach, sometimes alternating with a jerking sensation, as of some heavy object.

Angustura. In lighter cases, spasmodic breathing; chest in constant motion, worse from least exercise; anxiety and palpitation of heart; cutting shocks in sternum and back, painful shocks in region of heart, painful sensation as if the heart were contracted, in the evening while lying in bed, decreasing when sitting up.

Arnica. Violent attacks of anguish and vertigo when raising or moving the head; loss of consciousness; short panting breath; stitches in the heart from the left side to the right, with fainting fits, the beating of the heart is more like a quivering, the motion of the heart first very rapid and then suddenly slow; cramps in the fingers of the left hand; head hot, body cool, almost any exertion brings on the attack.

Arsenicum. Patient can only breathe very gently with his chest stooping forwards; the least motion causes a complete loss of breath, oppression and stitches in præcordial region, with anxiety and a fainting sort of weakness, aggravated by a simple change of position in bed; no ease except while sitting with his head thrown back, face pale and haggard, features contracted, pulse feeble, irregular, intermittent; worse after midnight; attacked while walking; cannot bear cold air, wishes to be covered; paroxysms recurring regularly, especially in malarious districts.

Arsenicum iod. Great pain in cardiac region, going through to back, in hypertrophy of left ventricle.

Assafoetida. Pressure in region of heart as if too full and expanded, pulse small; nervous palpitation from overexertion or suppression of discharges (in women); tremor of the heart while sitting; beating of heart and pulse small, quick, and irregular.

Aurum. Organic affection of the heart; hypochondriasis; great nervous weakness, with utter despair; feeling as though the heart ceased beating for awhile, and then at once a hard thump is felt; aggravation while reposing, relieved by moving, walking, and on getting warm; suffocative fit, with constrictive oppression of the chest, falling down unconsciously, with blueness of the countenance, when walking, the heart seems to shake as if it were loose, sometimes a single but violent beat of the heart.

Bryonia. Attacks from mental excitement or fright, cutting pain in right chest above the sixth rib inside the base of nipple extending down the left arm, the slightest motion brings on attacks; constant dull pain in left arm; sensation of great oppression, it seems as if something should expand but will not.

Cactus. Nervous excitability; palpitation of the heart in debilitated persons; feeling as though an iron band was around the heart, preventing its motion, worse when lying on left side, when walking, and at night, with great melancholy.

Cimicifuga. Pain sharp and lancinating, from region of heart all over chest and down left arm, and into the back; palpitation, unconsciousness, cerebral congestion; dyspnoea; face livid, cold sweat on hand, numbness of body, left arm numb and as if bound to the side.

Crotalus. Sudden and great prostration of the vital forces; frequent fainting spells, with unperceptible pulse and inclination to vomit, sudden breathing with open mouth and distortion of the eyes outwards.

Cuprum acet. Deathly feeling with pain behind the ensiform cartilage, sudden attack of dyspnoea unto suffocation, with cold face, blue lips, and coldness all over; slow pulse; attacks when excited or during exertion.

Cuprum arsenicosum. Sense of weight on chest and difficulty of breathing; pulsation of heart moving the wall of the chest up and down; pain in chest and back aggravated by deep inspirations; pulse very feeble, faltering at wrist.

Digitalis. Abnormal action of the heart; a sense of oppression, with tendency to fainting, feeble or spasmodic pulse; oppression of the chest, pain extending to the head and left arm, mental anguish, with vertigo and fainting, heart's action more vigorous than the pulse. In advanced cases, when the disease sets in suddenly, drawing, tensive, spasmodic pains in left chest and sternum, towards nape of neck and upper arm, indescribable deathly anguish when paroxysms come closer together during progress of disease.

Dioscorea. Neuralgic pains in stomach; laborious breathing; sudden severe pain in middle of sternum; action of heart very feeble; pulseless, pulse intermitting every eight or ten minutes after the attack for two weeks; pains extending from chest to both arms and hands; cold clammy sweat all over; unable to move.

Gelsemium. Sudden hysterical spasms; nervous chills in very sensitive subjects; feeling as though the heart would stop beating in a moment if she did not walk incessantly, with a feeling of impending death.

Hepar sulph. Sequelæ of the disease; dyspnoea after attack; dry nervous cough from eve all through night; pain in neck after attack; faintness and inability to recline after attack.

Hydrocyanic acid. Long fainting spells; heart disease, with violent palpitations; feeling of suffocation with torturing pains in the chest; irregular feeble beating of the heart. (Where ars. failed, and ipecac where both fail.)

Juglans ciner. Pain behind breastbone, when walking, especially after meals or when hurried or going up hill; severe retrosternal pain, with suffocating pain in chest, especially when walking, so that he has to stand still.

Lachesis. Anxious pain with beating of the heart; frequent attacks of fainting daily, with nausea; difficult breathing, palpitation, and cold sweat; choking, constricting, or rising in throat, with organic disease of the heart; inability to lie down; very distressed after a short sleep.

Lactuca virosa. Crampy stitching in left chest, extending to left scapula and indescribable tightness of whole chest; great oppression of chest at night, waking him from sleep and obliging him to sit up with anxious suddenness; feels as if he would suffocate, and finds himself suddenly on his feet in the room.

Laurocerasus. Attacks of suffocation, with gasping for breath; stitches in præcordial region; violent pain in stomach, with loss of speech; eructations tasting of bitter almonds, coldness; cold, moist skin; convulsions of the muscles of face.

Lycopodium. Cramp and constriction in chest, cannot get breath; stitches beneath short ribs, extending to small of back and shoulders; sharp pain shooting into heart; sensation of stoppage of circulation at night, with fright and then perspiration; pulse quick, unsteady.

Moschus. Tightness of chest so that he is obliged to take a deeper breath than usual; sensation of trembling around heart, with constriction in whole chest, almost suffocation.

Naja tripudians. Inability to speak, with choking; nervous chronic palpitations; chronic hypertrophy and valvular disease of the heart; considerable pain after riding in a carriage, extending to left scapula; pain not affected by inspiration.

Nitrite of amyl. Bronchial irritation; cough; quickened circulation; sense of fulness in the temples; burning of ears; commotion in the chest; tumultuous action of the heart and quick respiration. Sharp pain in cardiac region, relieved by eructations and by fresh air.

Oxalic acid. Violent irritation of the alimentary canal; costiveness. Difficulty of breathing; jerking inspiration, and sudden and forced expiration, as though the patient made a sudden effort to relieve himself of intense pain by expelling the air from the lungs; oppression of chest, especially towards right side; sharp, darting, or lancinating pains in heart and left lung, also in the arms. Jerking pains like short stitches, confined to a small space, lasting for a few seconds; numbness and weakness in back and limbs; coldness and complete loss of power of motion in limbs: movement excites and aggravates pain; periodical remission for some hours or days.

Phytolacca. Fatty degeneration of the heart; feeling of lassitude and indisposition to move; great exhaustion and prostration; lame feeling in the left side of the chest near the cardiac region, with much nervous restlessness, worse on motion, and particularly on expiration; pain extends also to right side.

Rhus tox. Stitches in heart, with painful lameness and stiffness of whole body and limbs, and pains extending down the left arm; rheumatic diathesis.

Sepia. Affections of the heart, with violent, unequal, intermittent palpitating, and tremulous motion of the heart; flushes of heat with cold hands and feet.

Spigelia. Abnormal action of the heart, with pain, worse when bending forward, lifting arms, or from the least motion; severe stabbing stitches in the heart at every beat; pain rapidly passing around the body from left to right, inside, to the scrobiculus cordis; sudden severe pain in left chest, so violent that it knocks her down; rapidly passing pain; weak, irregular pulse; spasmodic pain in stomach induces vomiting of contents of stomach and mucus, but no bile.

Spongia. Contracting pain in heart; suffocating pain at night at every attempt to lie down, worse with the head lying low, has to sit up; chest feels fatigued, with heat in face and nausea.

Tabacum. Laceration of skin, features drawn; cannot speak or walk; coldness all over; sudden periodical anxiety; violent constriction in throat; tightness across upper part of chest; nocturnal attacks of tightness in chest, with palpitation and paroxysmal oppression; neuralgia up into neck; pain between shoulders; pulse small, irregular, imperceptible.

Tarantula. Palpitation, with panting respiration and prostration; acceleration and suspension of the movements of the heart; trembling of the heart as when frightened, suffocation, so that the patient thinks he is going to die.

Veratrum alb. Difficulty of breathing; suffocative constriction of chest, so distressing that he sweats from agony; general prostration, cramps in the limbs; skin cold and clammy.

ANGUISH.

Paroxysms of. Generally a mere symptom, though sometimes so prominent and distressing, that it deserves a special treatment. Principal remedies: 1, acon., ars., aur., bell., cham., dig., mere., n. vom., puls., verat.; 2, alum., anac., baryt., carb. a., carb. v., cocc., eupr., graph., hyosc., igu., lyc., nitr., nitr. a., phos., rhus., sep., spig., spong., sulph.

By SIMULTANEOUS AFFECTIONS OF THE CHEST: 1, acon., ars., aur., ipcc., puls., verat.; 2, cact., calc., bry., carb. v., dig., spig.

By GASTRIC OR ABDOMINAL AFFECTIONS: 1, ars., calc., eupr., natr., n. com., puls., verat.; 2, bell., cham., carb. v., cocc., lauroc., lyc., natr., m., stann., thuj.

By AFFECTIONS OF THE HEART: 1, acon., ars., aur., cact., dig., puls., spig., spong.; 2, cham., cimicif., gels., lycop., nitr. ac., phos., sep., verat., vir.

By HYPOCHONDRIASIS: 1, acon., ars., calc., dig., lach., natr., n. vom., 2, arsen., alum., auae., bell., caust., cham., con., corn. c., cyprrip., graph., hell., hep., ign., iris, lach., lept., lyc., merc., mosch., nitr. ac., pod., puls., sep., stram.

By HYSTERIA: 1, acon., coc., con., croc., cyprrip., hyosc., ign., mosch., n. vom.; 2, aletr., bell., calc., caust., caulop., corn. f., gels., hyosc., magn. m., nitr. ac., n. mosch., phos., sil., scutel., veratr.

By HYPERÆSTHESIA OF THE BRAIN: acon., bell., hyosc., lachn., merc., n. vom., veratr.

ANOREXIA.

§ 1. Though generally a mere symptom, yet it is sometimes a mere dislike to certain kinds of nourishment, which can be treated with: 1, ant., ars., cact., chelon., china, hep., merc., n. vom., puls., rhus, sulph., tart.; 2, baryt., bry., calc., cimicif., cyclam., gels., gymnocl., helon., hydras., iris, lob., natr. m., sep., sil.; 3, ars., bell., canth., cic., coc., comoclad., con., ign., lyc., op., plat., sang., thuj., verat.

§ 2. For INDEPENDENT anorexia, or for anorexia remaining after gastric affections, we have: 1, ant., cact., chelon., cycl., gymnoclad., sulph.; 2, china, iris, n. vom., puls., rhus, sep., sil.

For anorexia accompanied with hunger, use: 1, cact., chin., cimicif., eupat., hell., natr. m., rhus; 2, bry., calc., ign., n. vom., op., sil.; 3, ars., baryt., dule., magn. m., sulph. ac.

For anorexia accompanied with complete loathing of food, give: 1, ipec., puls., rhus; 2, china, ign., jugl., n. vom.; 3, acon., bell., comoclad., lach., lob., mur. ac., sep.

§ 3. For PARTIAL ANOREXIA, or aversion to particular kinds of food, we have principally, as for aversion to beer: 1, bell., chin., coc., n. vom.; 2, cham., stann., sulph. To brandy: ign. To wine: ign., lach., nig., aus., merc., sabad. To water: bell., chin., n. vom., stram. To milk: bell., bry., calc., carb. v., cin., ign., natr., puls., sep., sil., sulph. To coffee: bell., bry., cham., chin., lyc., merc., natr., natr. m., n. vom., rhus. To drinks generally: 1, bell., canth., hyosc., n. vom., stram.; 2, lach., natr. m. For aversion to rye bread: lyc., natr. m., n. vom., phos. ac., sulph. To bread generally: con., lyc., natr. m., n. vom., phos. ac., puls. To butter: carb. v., chin., merc. To fat and fat things: bry., carb. a., carb. v., hell., hep., natr. m., puls. To meat and broth: 1, ign., merc., mur. ac., nitr. ac., puls., sil., sulph.; 2, bell., calc., carb. v., lyc., rhus, sabad., sep. To fish: graph. To vegetables: hell., magn. c. To warm boiled food: calc., graph., ign., lyc., magn. c., sil. To solid food: 1, bry., staph., sulph.; 2, ferr., merc. For aversion to sour things: bell., coc., ferr., sabad., sulph. To sweets, sugar, etc.: ars., caust., merc., nitr. ac., phos., sulph., zinc. To salty things: graph., selen.

§ 4. For further indications, see Gastric Derangement; Stomach, Derangement of; Nausea, Vomiting, etc.

ANOSMIA.

The best remedies are: bell., calc., gels., natr. m., n. vom., phos., puls., sanguin., sep., sil., sulph., or alum., aur., caps., caust., hep., hyosc., ipec., kal., lyc., magn. m., mez., nitr. ac., oleand., op., rhus, veratr.

For loss of smell from paralysis of the olfactory nerves, we have principally: bell., caust., hyosc., lyc., natr. m., n. vom., op., plumb., sep.

From catarrhal anosmia: alum., calc., gels., hep., mez., natr. m., n. vom., puls., sanguin., sep., sil., sulph. Compare Nasitis, Catarrh, etc.: also Amblyopia; Hearing, Hardness of; and the causes and varieties of these affections.

ANTHRAX.

When caused by infection, the best remedies are: ars., iach., unless china, rhus., sil., or puls. should be indicated. The malignant pustule generally yields to: 1, ars., bell., sil., rhus., or perhaps, chin., hyosc., mur. ac., sec., sep.; 2, anthracin, apis, carb. v., kreas., hydrastis, tarantula urbana.

The common anthrax or carbuncle, which is not caused by infection, generally requires, sil. or perhaps, cepa, hyosc., lyc., or nitr. ac. Sometimes arnica is given with good effect at the commencement, after which n. vom. completes the cure.

There is a kind of carbuncle which contains lice; this requires ars. and chin.

Anthracin. Violent burning pains, not relieved by arsen.; cerebral or typhoid symptoms; absorption of pus in the blood, gangrenous destruction.

Apis mel. Stitching, burning pains in the anthrax; erysipelas and œdema.

Arsenicum. Intense burning pains, as from hot coals, for some distance around the tumor; sensation in the swelling as if boiling water was running beneath the skin; pulse small, frequent, irregular; cold perspiration.

Belladonna. When cerebral complications arise, with red face, shining eyes, severe heat; the parts around have a tendency to erysipelatous inflammation.

Calcareo muratica (calcis murias). Internally and externally applied.

China. The asthenic character of the disease is well marked with symptoms of putrid fever, the patient has been much reduced by loss of blood, or the disease is kept alive by malarious poisons.

Hyoscyamus. Anthrax in nervous or hysterical persons; great restlessness caused by the excessive nervous excitement, shaking of the head in all directions, optical illusions, constriction of pharynx; itching around the part.

Kreasot. Tendency to decomposition; great irritability, aggravated by rest.

Lachesis. Dark redness around the sore, which discharges dark, bloody pus; tension of the skin around the carbuncle, as if too short; nightly burning of the ulcer, obliging one to rise and wash it with cold water. Gangrene, carbuncles from blood-poisoning.

Lycopodium. Warm poultices aggravate all the pains; boils returning periodically; carbuncles, with burning stitches all around, with alternate chilliness and heat of the body.

Muriatic acid. Carbuncles in scorbutic individuals, with ulcers on the gums and profuse emission of clear urine.

Phytolacca. Tendency to boils, carbuncles, or malignant pustule, very painful, and appearing especially on the back and behind the ears.

Rhus tox. Burning itching around the carbuncle, with vertigo, as if one were about to fall; stupor; pale face, disfigured and convulsed; pointed nose; bloody or serous frothy diarrhoea.

Silicea promotes suppuration; ichorous suppuration of the cellular tissue after induration.

Stramonium. The pains are so severe as to set the patient nearly distracted.

ANTHROPOPHOBIA.

This kind of mania is best treated with: 1, baryt., hyosc., lyc., natr., puls., rhus; 2, acon., anac., aur., bell., cic., con., cupr., led., selen., stann.; 3, amm. m., calc., mang., natr. m., nitr. ac., phos., sulph.

See also: Mental Derangement and Morbid Emotions.

APHASIA.

Partial or complete speechlessness of cerebral origin: bell., calc., carb., cann. ind., caust., con., hyosc., lach., natr., nux v., ranunthe croc., oleand., op., plumb., stram., zinc.

APHONIA.

Loss of voice.

Aconite. Aphonia caused by fright, anger, indignation, or a violent emotion. In acute laryngitis with hæmoptoe, the result of cold, and where the patient is very anxious about his health.

Ammon. caust. Catarrhal and paralytic aphonia, with general muscular debility, exhaustion, and tumors, and with profuse expectoration.

Antimonium crud. Loss of voice, on becoming heated by exertion; the voice returns by resting. Extreme feebleness of voice. Deficient muscular tonicity of the organs of speech, either from faulty assimilation or deficient innervation. Much hawking and expectoration of phlegm, and depressed vitality of the laryngeal mucous membrane.

Argentum met. Alteration in the timbre of voice of singers, speakers, and preachers, with feeling of constriction and rawness in the larynx; sensation in the cricoid cartilage as if stopped up with a foreign body. Cough accompanied with an easy expectoration of white, thick, starchlike mucus, without taste or smell.

Argentum nitr. Chronic aphonia. When in bed rattling in the larynx and trachea; this noise is synchronous with the pulse. Nocturnal aggravation, with a dry cough and flow of saliva, with some expectoration of mucus striped with blood. Tickling itchiness, burning in the larynx. Often during night fits of coughing with gagging and vomiting.

Arum triph. Aphonia or dysphonia with sore throat in persons who speak in public and sing. Voice changeable, varying in tone from one moment to another. Catarrh of the pharynx, trachea, and bronchial tubes; muscular exhaustion and a paretic state of the larynx in singers and speakers.

Belladonna. Sudden aphonia: voice weak and whizzing; painfulness of the larynx, with aggravation when touching it. Sensation of a lump in the throat and spasmodic constriction. Paralytic aphonia of cerebro-spinal origin.

Carbo anim. and veget. Catarrhal hoarseness, bordering on aphonia. Carbo veg.: hoarseness in the evening, and aphonia in the morning; chronic cases when a change in the weather produces an aggravation; dysphonic after measles. Carbo anim.: hoarse all day, and aphonic at night.

Causticum. Paralytic and catarrhal aphonia. Sudden loss of voice on taking cold; burning huskiness in whispering; sense of utter weakness in the laryngeal muscles. Voice weak and aphonia, after excessive use of the vocal organs in singers and public speakers. Tendency to catarrhal laryngitis, leading to aphonia, with a sensation as if a foreign body were in the throat. Dry cough, worse morning and evening, relieved by a swallow of cold water. With women every fit of cough causes an involuntary passage of urine. As concomitants, facial or glossal paralysis, or numbness of the palatine arches; condylomata on the vocal chords.

Cuprum met. Speechlessness continues after consciousness is restored, after hysterical, epileptic, or other convulsions. Reflex aphonia, from cerebral or sympathetic causes; spasmodic cough, or dyspnoea, due to spasm of the larynx, diaphragm, or intercostal muscles, with cyanotic state of lips, nails, etc.

Chininum sulph. Intermittent aphonia. More or less complete loss of the voice about 4 P.M.; preceded by thirst, cough, constriction of the neck, headache, or neuralgia; heat in the head, and frequent pulse.

Drosera. Catarrhal hoarseness, with or without coryza or cough; hollow and deep voice; the patient is only able to speak in a bass voice; hoarseness after measles, cough; scraping feeling of dryness in the fauces; exciting or hacking cough, accompanied by yellow expectoration.

Ferrum met. The patient when talking feels pain, and the tone of the voice is low; pain in the larynx and trachea; burning sensation after speaking; laryngeal hæmorrhage; asthmatic symptoms, with hæmoptysis.

Gelsemium. Paralytic aphonia during menstruation; the voice returning when catamenia stop. Nervous aphonia, with dryness and burning in throat, restless sleep, and twitching of muscles.

Ignatia. Hysterical aphonia, with mental anxiety and spinal symptoms. A constant, dry cough excited by a tickling in supra-sternal fossa.

Kali bichrom. Catarrhal laryngitis and catarrhal aphonia; worse in the evening and when weather is going to change, and after long talking. Frequent desire to clear the throat, with a rare, scanty, lumpy expectoration. Follicular enlargement of the mucous membrane of the pharynx, with chronic coryza, that forms hardened yellow pieces of mucus. Right side of nose more affected with bloody mucus.

Lachesis. Aphonia, with tenderness and sense of swelling in the throat; worse after sleeping and in the evening. Spasms of the glottis; suddenly something runs from the neck to the larynx, and completely interrupts breathing.

Mercurius. Catarrhal and syphilitic aphonia, or, in that occasioned by nervous paralysis.

Nux moschata. Hysterical aphonia, with gastro-intestinal and cardiac derangements; sudden loss of voice when walking against the wind.

Opium. Paralytic aphonia, originating in fright; the fear or fright still remaining; dry mouth and white tongue; faint voice.

Oxalic acid. Nervous aphonia, with cardiac derangement, violent palpitation and irregular action; change of voice, which becomes weak and hoarse.

Phosphorus. Sensitiveness and dryness of the larynx, with feeling as if it was lined with fur; cannot utter a word on account of pain in the larynx; nervous exhaustion; suspected atrophy of nerve-tissue. Tubercular origin of the aphonia.

Platina. Hysterical or reflex aphonia, associated with uterine troubles.

Rhus tox. Muscular exhaustion of the larynx, from prolonged and loud exercise of the voice; hoarseness, after being silent awhile; improved by talking; aggravation in the evening, from change in the weather.

Rumex crispus. Catarrhal aphonia, with irritation in suprasternal fossa, exciting a distressing cough; desire to hawk phlegm, which is felt in the larynx like moving to and fro, without succeeding; aggravated by cold air and night hours; in women every fit of coughing produces the passage of a few drops of urine; sensitiveness of the trachea to pressure; reflex aphonia due to infiltration of tubercles in left apex of the lung.

Senega. Aphonia from severe cold or excessive use of voice; dry cough, worse in cold air, particularly by walking.

Selenium. Raising of small lumps of blood and mucus, with tendency to hoarseness, especially indicated in beginning of tuberculous laryngitis, whether complicated with active pulmonary phthisis or not.

Spongia. Chronic hoarseness and cough; the voice frequently giving out when talking or singing; hoarseness with soreness and burning; voice cracked and broken, or faint; sense of choking; whistling sound in the larynx on a deep inspiration; phthisis laryngea; larynx sensitive to touch, worse when coughing, talking or swallowing.

Sepia. Reflex or sympathetic aphonia from functional or organic disease of the uterus. (Murex.)

Stramonium. Aphonia from great mental excitement, with hysterical and maniacal symptoms; speechlessness from cerebral disease.

Sulphur. Chronic aphonia on a psoric basis; when well indicated remedies fail, it will rouse the slumbering vitality or excite the animal electricity.

APHTHÆ.

The best remedies are: baptis., bor., eupator. arom., hydr., merc., n. vom., plantago. sulph., sulph. ac., etc. See Stomacæe.

APOPLEXIA.

§ 1. The best remedies are: 1, acon., arn., baryt., bell., cocc., gels., lach., lachn., n. vom., op., phos., puls.; and then, 2, asc., ant., chin., coff., con., dig., gymnocl., hyosc., ipsc., laur., merc., n. mosch., sang., tart.

§ 2 For APOPLEXIA SANGUINEA: 1, arn., bell., cacl., lach., n. vom., op.; or else 2, acon., ant., baryt., coff., hyosc., ipsc., merc., puls., sanguin.

For APOPLEXIA SEROSA: arn., dig., ipsc., merc.; or bar., chin., cocc., con.

For APOPLEXIA NERVOSA: 1, arn., bell., coff., gels., hyosc., lachn., stram.; 2, camph., laur.; 3, bar., cocc., ipsc., phos.

§ 3. For the subsequent paralysis: 1, arn., bell., caust., cocc., cupr., lach., n. vom., rhua., stram., zinc.; or also 2, anat., baryt., calc., con., dulc., laur., natr. m., phos., plumb., ruta., sep., sil.

For HEMIPLEGIA, particularly: 1, alum., anac., bell., caust., cocc., graph., kal., lach., n. vom., phos. ac., sulph. ac.; 2, asc., arg. n., arn., chinn., hyosc., plumb., rhua., stram.

For Apoplexia of old people: baryt. or op.; or con., dig., merc., etc.

For Apoplexia from loss of blood, or other debilitating causes: chin., ipsc.; or also, carb. v., cocc., n. vom., puls., sep.

For Apoplexia from overloading the stomach: A few tablespoons of black coffee; or if this should be insufficient: ipsc., n. vom., puls.

Æsculus. Severe vertigo, with reeling, like drunken men; vertigo, with nausea and dimness of sight; confused stupor; thickness of speech; great weakness, with trembling.

Aconitum. Heat of the head; pulsation of the carotids; skin more warm than cold; pulse full, hard, strong, even suppressed, but not intermittent; especially when fright or vexation was the cause of it in plethoric apoplectic subjects.

Arnica. Full and strong pulse with paralysis of the limbs (especially on the left side), loss of consciousness and stupefaction, with stertorous breathing; sighing, muttering, involuntary discharge of urine and feces. Chief remedy on account of its great power to produce absorption of the extravasated blood. It suits middle aged, plethoric, and stout constitutions.

Baryta. Apoplexy of old people, especially those addicted to the excessive use of stimulating drinks; the patient cannot speak; acts childish, at times anxious and full of fear; general paralysis of old age; paralysis of the tongue, with loss of memory; anxiety and fear and great trembling of the limbs; inability to keep the body erect.

Belladonna. The first stage of the disease, where severe congestive symptoms are still present, or at a later period, when the extravasation causes severe inflammatory reaction; stupefaction; loss of consciousness and speech, or convulsive movements of the limbs and muscles of the face; paralysis of the extremities, especially on the right side, the mouth is drawn to one side; paralysis of the tongue; ptyalismus, difficulty of swallowing, or entire inability to swallow; loss of sight; dilated pupils; red protruded eyes; red bloated face; reaching with the hands to the genitals.

Cactus. Vertigo from sanguineous congestions to the head; face bloated and red, with pulsating pain in the head; heat in the head and face, causing madness and horrible anxiety; pulsating pain with sensation of weight on the right side of the head; pressing pain in the forehead, increased by bright light or loud noises. All these symptoms caused by profound cardiac disturbance.

Calcarea carb. With fat persons, suffering also from fatty degeneration of the heart, and atheromatous state of the bloodvessels.

Causticum. Paralytic states remaining after the apoplexy is removed. Paralysis and contraction of the lower extremities; impossibility to find the right word.

Cocculus. The paroxysms are preceded or attended by vertigo, pause, convulsive motions of the eyes; paralysis, especially of the lower limbs, with insensibility.

Cuprum. Nervous apoplexy, with convulsions, distortions of the face, and palsy of speech. Atrophy of paralyzed parts with paralysis of motor nerves, whereas sensation is normal; paralysis of tongue; choreic movements.

Gelsemium. Threatened or actual apoplexy, with stupor, coma, and nearly general paralysis (rarely useful in hemiplegia or paraplegia). Headache, with nausea, tightness of the brain; giddiness; tendency to stagger, with imperfection of vision, vertigo unto falling; intense passive congestion to the head with nervous exhaustion.

Glonoin. During prodromal stage severe headache, hot flashes in head and face, exaltation or depression of mind, ill-humor, anguish, pulsations of the arteries of the head and neck, vertigo and dulness of head, scintillations and nebulae before eyes, surring of ears, heaviness and tired feeling of extremities, restless sleep and frightful dreams.

Hyoscyamus. Nervous apoplexy with somnolency; redness of the face; sudden falling down with a shriek, sopor. Paralysis of the oesophagus and numb feeling; paralysis of the sphincter muscles.

Ipecacuanha. In serous and nervous apoplexy with vertigo, lips hanging down, loss of speech, salivation and paralysis of the extremities. Headache as if the brain was bruised through all the bones of the head, and down into the root of the tongue; prolonged nausea and vomiting, arising from a gastric state.

Lachesis. Stupor with loss of consciousness, with blue face and convulsive movements, or tremor of the extremities; or paralysis, especially of the left side; the paroxysms are preceded by frequent absence of mind, or vertigo with rush of blood to the head; blowing expiration, after the use of liquors or mental emotions.

Lachnanthes. Vertigo with sensation of heat in the chest and round the heart; sensation as if the vertex were enlarged and driven upwards; the head feels enlarged, as if split open with a wedge from the outside to within, the whole face becomes yellow, etc.

Laurocerasus. Palpitation of the heart; scarcely perceptible pulse; cold moist skin; convulsions of the muscles of the face. The coma looks more like a deep, quiet sleep.

Nux vomica. Apoplexy of high livers, and leading an easy life; dyspepsia; stupefaction, stertorous breathing and ptialism; bleary-eyedness; dimness of vision; paralysis especially of the lower limbs; hanging down of the lower jaw; the paroxysms are preceded by vertigo, buzzing in the ears, headache as if the head would split open, or the eyes be pressed out with nausea and urging to vomit: great irritability and hypochondriasis.

Opium. The paroxysms are preceded by dulness of sense, vertigo and heaviness of the head, buzzing in the ears and hardness of hearing, staring look, sleeplessness, anxious dreams or frequent desire to sleep: the paroxysm is attended by tetanic rigidity of the whole body, redness, bloatedness, and heat of the face: the head is hot and covered with hot or cold sweat; red eyes, with dilated, insensible pupils; slow, stertorous breathing; convulsive movements and trembling of the extremities; foam at the mouth; deep comatose sleep, with snoring, rattling, and hanging down of the lower maxilla; impossibility to rouse the patient; the head feels so heavy that it sinks back when the patient wants to lift it. (Give apis, where opium fails.)

Psorinum. Congestion of blood to the head with heat; awakes stupefied and cannot recollect what happened. Sensation as if the head received a heavy blow on the forehead, awaking him at night. Aversion to having the head uncovered &c. Debility, independent of any organic disease, and still the patient is hopeless and despairing.

Pulsatilla. For stupefaction and loss of consciousness, bloated and bluish red face, loss of motion, violent palpitation of the heart, almost complete suppression of the pulse, and rattling breathing.

Sanguinaria. Sanguineous apoplexy from venous congestion. Pain like a flash of lightning on the back of the head; red cheeks with burning of the ears, distension of the temporal veins; vertigo on quickly turning the head and looking upward; burning heat and redness of the face; breath and sputa smell bad, even to the patient.

Sepia. In men addicted to drinking and sexual excesses, with a disposition to gout and hemorrhoids; or in women, from affections of the reproductive system. Venous apoplexy. Headache coming on in terrific shocks; dizziness in walking, with staggering; forgetfulness; cold feet; intermittent pulse.

Veratrum viride. Congestive apoplexy. Intensely congestive headaches; he becomes stupid, has ringing in the ears, bloodshot eyes, thickness of speech, hot head; slow, full pulse and hard as iron; convulsions from intense congestion of the capillary vessels of the brain; dimness of vision, with nausea and vomiting.

In particular cases apis and zincum (phosphide of zinc) will be indicated, and prove of great benefit.

§ 6. In apoplexy and convulsions: bell., hyosc., iach., op.; followed by paralysis: 1, atr., bell., n. vom., stann., zinc.; 2, anac., con., iach.; with paralysis of one side and convulsions of the other side: apis, bell., iach., stram.; followed by idiocy: bell.

§ 7. For further indications see: Congestion of the Head, Sopor, Spasms, etc.

APPARENT DEATH, Asphyxia.

§ 1. Put a few pellets of the specific remedy on the tongue of the patient, or administer the medicine by the rectum; not omitting the required mechanical means of cure, but NEVER RESORT TO BLEEDING.

If the asphyxia should have been caused by a blow, fall, etc., give arnica, especially if the patient has not been bled before, in the contrary case, or if the patient lost much blood in consequence of the injury, give first china (according to Hering), and then arnica.

If arising from suffocation, Hering recommends for those who tried to kill themselves by suspension: opium; by inhalation of carbonic acid gas: op., acon., bell.; and by drowning: larrea.

For asphyxia from congelation, after the patient has been resuscitated by the usual means, give for the remaining symptoms: ars., carb. veg., or acon., bry.

For asphyxia by stroke of lightning, give n. vom. The patient should at the same time be placed in recently dug soil, half sitting, half lying, and should be covered with it all over except his face, which is to be turned towards the sun, until the first signs of life become apparent.

For asphyxia of new-born infants we use: tart., op., chin., and acon. according to Hempel.

ARTHRALGIA.

§ 1. Intending to say everything we had to say on the pathological character of the diseases under rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, etc., we here point out more particularly the parts to which the remedies have specific curative relations. This knowledge is not required in every case, but in many cases it is, since two or three remedies may correspond to the general state of the patient, and one of them only to the part affected.

b. For pains in the AXILLARY JOINT: 1, bell., bry., calc., carb. v., ferr., igu., kal., lys., merc., n. vom., puls., rhus, sep., staph., sulph., thuj., zinc.; 2, ambr., arn., caps., caust., cinicif., led., natr. m., petr., phos., verat.

c. In the ELBOW-JOINT: 1, arg., bell., bry., calc., cauloph., caust., kal., led., merc., rhus, sep., sulph.; 2, ant., graph., lys., mez., petr., phos., puls., rhus ven., ruta, staph., verat.

d. In the WRIST JOINT: 1, amm., ars., bry., calc., cauloph., caust., graph., kal., nitr., rhus, ruta, sep., sulph.; 2, alum., carb. v., euphr., hell., lach., led., mang., merc., natr. m., nitr. ac., puls., sab., sil., stront.

e. In the FINGER-JOINTS: 1, agn., ars., bry., calc., carb. v., caust., graph., hep., lye., sep., spig., sulph.; 2, aur., carb. a., cham., chin., elem., colch., cycl., bell., ign., kal., lach., led., natr. m., nitr., petr. phos., puls., rhus, rhus v., sab., sil., spong., staph.

§ 3, a. For pains in the HIP AND HIP JOINTS: 1, ars., asclep. tub., bell., bry., calc., carb. v., caust., coloc., led., lye., mere, rhus, sulph.; 2, ant., coec., ferr., bell., ipec., kal., mez., natr. m., n. vom., phos., puls., rhod., sabad., sep., sil., stram., stront., verat.

b. In the KNEE AND KNEE-JOINTS: 1, acon., asclep. tub., bell., bry., calc., cauloph., caust., chin., lach., led., natr. m., n. vom., petr., phos., phytol., puls., rhus, sep., sil., sulph.; 2, alum., anac., ars., asa., carb. v., coec., con., ferr., graph., hep., iod., kal., lye., magn. c., mere, nitr. ac., rhod., ruta, spig., stann., staph., stront., veratr., zinc.

c. In the TARSAL JOINTS: 1, ars., bry., caul., caust., chin., lye., mere, natr. m., n. vom., phos., puls., ruta, sep., sulph.; 2, ambr., ars., carb. a., dros., hep., ign., kal., kreas., led., natr., oleand., spig., staph., zinc.

d. In the TOE-JOINTS: 1, arn., caust., chin., cimicif., kal., led., sabin., sep., sulph., zinc; 2, aur., calc., con., ferr., lye., n. vom., rhus, sil.

§ 4, a. For pains in the UPPER ARM: 1, bry., coec., ferr., phytol., sep., sulph.; 2, ars., asa., bell., chin., ign., mgt. arc., mez., nitr., puls., stann., val.

b. In the FOREARM: 1, asclep. tub., calc., carb. v., caust., lye., mere, n. vom., phytol., rhus, sass., sep., staph., sulph.; 2, arg., carb. a., chin., con., dulc., ferr., kal., mez., nitr., nitr. ac., phos. ac., rhod., spig., stront., thuj.

c. In the HANDS: 1, asclep. tub., bell., bry., calc., carb. v., cimicif., lach., lye., n. vom., rhod., sep., sulph.; 2, ambr., anac., aur., caust., cham., chin., elem., coec., ferr., graph., hep., hyosc., kal., mere., mez., natr., natr. m., petr., phos., phytol., rhus, sil., spig., spong., zinc.

d. In the FINGERS: 1, asclep. tub., amm., carb. v., graph., hep., lye., n. vom., phos., puls., rhus, sil., sulph.; 2, ambr., amm. m., calc., caust., cycl., kal., lach., mang., mere., natr. m., nitr. ac., petr., phos. ac., phytol., rhod., sep., spig., staph., sulph. ac., thuj., veratr.

§ 5, a. For pains in the THIGHS: 1, bry., calc., cauloph., chin., hep., mere., petr., phos. ac., phytol., rhod., sep., sil., stann., sulph.; 2, arn., bell., caps., carb. v., caust., coec., coloc., graph., guinea., led., mez., natr. m., n. vom., oleand., plat., rhus, sass., spig., spong., thuj.

b. In the LEGS: 1, bell., bry., calc., caust., ferr., kal., lye., n. vom., puls., sep., sil., staph.; 2, anac., asa., bor., con., graph., ign., mere, mez., phos. ac., rhod., rhus, sulph.

c. In the TIBIA: 1, asa., calc., lach., mere., mez., phos., puls., sabin.; 2, agar., arn., bell., caus., con., dulc., ign., kal., lye., mang., mur. ac., phos. ac., rhus, sep., sil.

d. In the CALVES: 1, alum., ars., calc., cham., con., graph., lye., natr., nitr. ac., puls., rhus, sep., staph., sulph., verat.; 2, ant., bry., chin., coloc., euphr., ferr., ign., kal., mgt. aus., natr. m., n. vom., sil., spig., stann., zinc.

e. In the TENDO ACHILLIS: anac., ant., caust., mur. ac., natr., natr. m., puls., rhus, staph., sulph., zinc.

§ 6, a. In the FEET: 1, amm., bel., bry., camph., caust., lye., puls., sep., sulph.; 2, ars., aur., baryt., ferr., graph., hep., kal., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. vom., rhod., rhus tox., rhus ven., ruta.

b. In the HEELS: 1, amm. m., ant., arn., caust., graph., ign., led., lye.,

mgt. arc., natr., nitr. ac., puls., sabin., sep., sil., sulph.; 2, calc., coloc., con., merc., petr., rhod., rhus, spong.

c. In the MORSA OF THE FEET: 1, calc., camph., carb. a., caust., lyc., merc., puls., spig., thuj.; 2, anac., asa., bry., chin., colch., hep., ign., led., mur. ac., natr., n. vom., rhus, sass., staph., sulph., zinc.

d. In the SOLES: 1, ambr., caust., graph., mur. ac., phos., phos. ac., puls., spig., sulph.; 2, bell., bry., calc., chin., cupr., ign., led., lyc., natr., rhus, sil., tarax., zinc.

e. In the TOES: 1, arn., asa., caust., graph., sabin., sulph., thuj.; 2, agar., aur., carb. a., carb. v., chin., cimicif., kal., led., lyc., mgt. arc., merc., phos., phos. ac., plat., sep., sil., staph.

f. In the BIG TOE: 1, arn., ars., asa., bry., calc., caust., cimicif., kal., plat., sabin., sil., sulph., zinc.; 2, ambr., amm., amm. ui., aur., cocc., evel. led., mgt. arc., natr., puls., rhus, sass., sep., thuj.

ARTHRITIS.

For CHRONIC ARTHRITIS: 1, benz., caus., kalm., lach., sil.; 2, calc., coloc., guan., iod., mang., phos. ac., rhod., sass., sulph.

For ERRATIC ARTHRITIS: 1, arn., mang., n. mosch., n. vom., puls.; 2, asa., daphne., plumb., rhod.

For ARTHRITIS WITH SWELLING: 1, arn., chin., cocc., hep., rhus, sulph.; 2, ant., bry., chinin.

For ARTHRITIS WITH HÆMORRHOIDAL OR MENSTRUAL DIFFICULTIES: berb.

With URINARY DIFFICULTIES: berb., canth., sass.

§ 3. ARTHRITIC NODOSITIES require: 1, calc., lyc., rhod.; 2, ant., graph., led., n. vom.; 3, agn., bry., carb. a., carb. v., nitr., n. mosch., ran., sabin., staph.; 4, ant., dig., phos., sep., sil., zinc.; painless: nitr.

ARTHRITIC CONTRACTIONS are frequently relieved by: 1, bry., caust., guai., sulph.; 2, calc., coloc., rhus, sil., thuj.

§ 4. For the precursory symptoms of gout, the same remedies are generally to be used that we use for the gout itself. The following remedies will generally answer: ant., bell., bry., n. vom.

For RECENT ARTHRITIC METASTASES the following are very useful: acon., bell., n. vom., sass., sulph.; in most cases the affected organs should be considered. We refer the reader to the paragraphs on headache, ophthalmia, gastric derangement, where the symptoms arising from arthritic causes will be found mentioned.

§ 5. For the ARTHRITIC AFFECTIONS OF DRUNKARDS we use: 1, acon., calc., n. vom., sulph.; or 2, ars., chin., hep., iod., lach., led., puls.

For the arthritis of persons who indulge in rich living: ant., calc., iod., puls., sulph.

For that of persons working in water: 1, calc., puls., rhus, sass., sulph.; 2, ant., ars., dulc., n. mosch.

§ 6. Use, moreover, during the acute attack:

Apis. Gouty nodes; chronic catarrh of stomach with hot and burning sensations; great tenderness to touch; podagra, sensation in toes and whole feet, as if too large, swollen and stiff, especially at night on removing boots, cold water relieves the pains, the swelling, and burning.

Arnica. Gout, with the greatest fear of being struck by persons coming towards him across the room; painful swelling of the joints, as if it were luxated, with great redness; in spite of the pains on motion the patient is still very restless; caused by over exertion or strain; metastasis to brain. (Arnica: stitching pains, Sabina: burning pains.)

Artemisia abrotanum. Painful and inflamed wrist and ankle joints; joints stiff, with pricking sensation; ailments after suppressed gout.

Benzoic acid. Nodes and gouty concretions on the joints of upper and lower limbs; cracking in the joints on motion (urates of soda); urine very deep red, strong smelling, and of high specific gravity.

China. Contusive pains in joints during the drowsiness in the morning, worse by rest, he must change constantly his position to ease the pains in his limbs, and they disappear when fully awake, accompanied by sensation of weakness and numbness; tearing, excruciating pains with swelling, sometimes with heat and redness of the big toe, worse from touch and motion, especially during the evening and at night, fever intermits; anorexia alternating with bulimy, intestinal flatulency, hemorrhoids; urine red, with brickdust sediment, asthma, with difficult and whistling expiration; palpitations; feet sometimes cold.

Colchicum. More a palliative, where the gout attacks many joints, with burning and tearing pains, aggravated by the touch, and at night muscular pains, like torticollis; lumbago; tearing pains in the muscles and joints; oedematous swelling, and coldness of legs and feet, with the pain, weariness, heaviness, and inability to move; urine of sour smell and acid reaction, dark and scanty; perfect loathing of food; feeling of muscular weakness.

Digitalis. Chronic cases, where the attacks gradually decreased in intensity.

Guaiacum. Gouty inflammation and abscess of the knee; repeated after a fall, with violent pain and loss of sleep; arthritic lacerations, followed by contraction of limbs; exhaustion, as after great exertion, especially in thighs and arms; immovable stiffness of the contracted limbs; can bear no heat, with pain in joints; great accumulation of wind in the whole abdomen; pinching in abdomen from incarcerated flatulence; receding towards rectum until emitted; constipation; pyrosis.

Kali bichromicum. Useful in arthritic headaches, lumbago, sciatica, periostitis. Periodical wandering pains, shooting, pricking; stiff all over; could hardly move in the morning; audible cracking in the joints on slight motion of the wrists, ankles, and spine, aggravated by motion.

Ledum. Low, asthenic cases (maltreated by large doses of Colchicum); lancinating, tearing pains; worse by motion and at midnight, when joints feel so hot that he throws off all covering; oedematous swelling of joint which may feel cold to the touch; affects chiefly left shoulder and right hip joint; habitual gout in the articulations of hands and feet, ball of great toe swollen and painful, soles very sensitive, tendons stiff; gouty nodosities in joints; fine tearing pains in toes.

Lithium carb. Gout in knees, sides of feet and soles; ankle-joints pain on walking; profuse urine, with uric acid deposit; painful urination; pain in heart before and at time of urinating; valvular deficiencies; worse from mental agitation, which cause a fluttering and trembling of heart.

Lycopodium. Tophi; nocturnal pains, ameliorated by heat; muscular contractions; gravel; hæmaturia; drawing, tearing in the limbs at night and on alternate days; worse at rest; muscles and joints rigid, painful, with numbness; finger joints inflamed; also with arthritic nodes, swelling of the dorsa of the feet; better in warmth; sour eructations; frequent belching, without relief; pressure in scrobiculum; fulness in stomach and bowels; tension in liver; abdominal and renal colic; constipation.

Rhododendron. Arthritic nodes; paralytic weakness of the limbs, aggravated in rough weather, and rest; sensation in lower legs and feet as if asleep.

Sabina. Red and shining swelling of the big toe, with excessive pains, aggravated by the least touch or slightest motion; heaviness of the affected limbs; fever worst in the evening; wandering pains, burning, affecting one joint after another, especially the big toe and the hand; relieved by cool applications. She changes her position often to get some relief.

Sulphur. For HABITUAL GOUT, anorexia; disgust for animal food; flatulence; dyspnoea, with desire to take deep inspiration; urine charged with uric acid; tophi, with articular crepitation; cracking in the cervical vertebræ, especially on bending backwards; stiffness in the neck or back; stiffness in the knee or ankle-joints; itching pain occurring either on the part affected, or on its neighborhood; alternate constipation or diarrhoea, with excessively fetid stools and of very fetid flatulence.

§ 7. For particular indications see rheumatic pains, and compare: causes, pain, paroxysms of: conditions; periods of the day; influence of the weather, nourishment, etc.

ARTHRITIS DEFORMANS.

See Rheumatism.

ARTHROCACE.

This inflammation of the terminal extremities of bones has been most successfully treated with: 1, coloc., phos. ac.; 2, cic., phos.; or perhaps with; 3, calc., cocc., hep., sil., sulph.; or, 4, phytol., puls., rhus, zinc.

ARSENIC.

Poisoning by. The antidotes are : 1, soap water ; 2, albumen, dissolved in water and used as a drink ; 3, sugar-water ; 4, milk ; 5, sesquioxide of iron ; but better the hydrated oxide, or pure iron-rust in sugar-water. Vinegar is useless, oil is hurtful.

After the alarming symptoms have been removed, we give ipec. After ipec. we give china, especially when the patient is irritable, has a restless sleep and nightly febrile motions ; or n. vom., when the patient is worse in the daytime, particularly after sleeping, with constipation or else with diarrhœic slimy stools, or veratr., if after ipec. frequent nausea remains, with vomiting and heat, or chilliness over the whole body, and great debility.

For the eruptions of the forehead, ophthalmia, and headache caused by wearing hats that have been worked with arsenic, the best remedies are : 1, carb. v. ferr. ; 2, chin, hep.

The best remedies for the ill effects of arsenic as a medicine, are : china, ipec., n. vom., verat.

ASCITES.

The best remedies are : 1, apis, apoc., can., ars., chin., hell., kal., merc., senecio., sulph. ; 2, asclep., tub., acon., bry., cepa, chin., umb., colch., dale., erig., euphorb., eupat., purp., iris, prun., sep. ; 3, asa., dig., led., lyc., puls., squill. ; 4, aletris ? ampel ? coloc. ? helon ?

Ascites from the loss of blood, from venesections, etc., yields to china, as by a miracle.

In all other cases the selection of the remedy depends upon the exciting cause, and the pathological character of the disease, and the general symptoms of the remedy have to be carefully compared with the symptoms of the disease.

ASTHENIA.

See Debility.

ASTHENOPIA.

After correcting the defect by suitable glasses, use

Aconite. Asthenopia from overuse of the eyes ; lids spasmodically closed, and have a heavy feeling in them, while the eyes feel very hot and dry after using them ; temporary relief by cold water.

Agaricus. Muscular asthenopia, consequent upon uterine disorders and spinal anemia ; cannot fix the eyes long even on distant objects, cannot converge them ; sudden jerks of eyeball ; twitching of lids ; lids heavy, as if stuck together, but are not.

Apis. Affections from using eyes at night, causing redness of eyes ; lachrymation ; stinging pain ; eyes weak ; not inclined to exert them ; feel sore and irritated when using them ; severe burning and sensation of a foreign body in the eye ; flow of tears by looking at anything bright.

Argentum nitr. Weakened ciliary muscles from overworking eyes ; they feel hot and dry, with disposition to rub them, blurring and constant pain when using eyes.

Arnica. Affection of external muscles, causing aching on moving the eye in any direction; sickering before the eyes, worse when reading or writing.

Calcarea. Pale flabby subjects, inclined to grow fat; with coldness of the extremities and perspiration about the head; eyes pain after using, and they are generally worse in damp weather and from warmth.

Cinnabar. Asthenopia, with pain from the inner canthus, extending above or around the eye; exit of supraorbital nerve sore to touch.

Conium. Cannot read long without the letters running together; burning pain deep in the eye; inability to bear either light or heat.

Euphrasia. Eyes irritable from overuse; with blurring of the vision; relieved by winking.

Ignatia. Asthenopia in nervous hysterical females.

Kalmia. Stiff drawing sensations in the muscles upon moving the eyes.

Lilium tigr. Aching, tired feeling in eyes, as if the eyes must be closed and pressed upon with the fingers in order to give relief, and to enable the patient to see better; bright light pains; heat in eyes; redness of conjunctiva; sense of fulness in head; pain over left ovarian region; morning diarrhoea.

Natrum mur. When reading only a short time the letters run together, with aching in and around the eyes; the muscles feel stiff and drawn, and ache upon moving the eye in any direction; sharp pain above the eye on looking down; the eyes appear irritable, and after using they smart, itch, and burn; patients wish to keep the eyes firmly closed, and something pressed hard against them.

Phosphorus. Eyes ache on moving, and feel hot and painful after using; bright light aggravates the trouble, so that patient is better in the twilight.

Rhododendron. Insufficiency of the internal recti-muscles, with darting pains through the eyes and head; always worse before a storm.

Ruta. Aching in and over the eyes, with blurring of the vision, after using and straining the eyes at fine work; the eyes feel hot like balls of fire, appear irritable and run water, especially towards evening, after working all day.

Spigelia. Sharp stabbing pain in the eye and around it, extending back into the head.—The local application of calabar bean in solution is highly recommended in muscular asthenopia by prominent oculists of the old school; its constant use must be continued for weeks to effect a cure.

ASTHMA THYMICUM, laryngismus stridulus.

For the acute paroxysm: Bell., chlor., cupr., lach., samb., stram., cham., ars., hyosc., ol. an., phyt., ver. alb., fluor., meph.

Chronic cases; constitutional accompaniments: plumb., calc. phos., phos., sil., lyc., sulph., bar., iod., hep.

Remedies adapted to diseases in which the spasm is a symptom.
Croup: spong., brom., iod., kaolin, laeh. Hysteria and other nervous affections: ign., asaf., mosch., strychn., zinc., cic., physost., gels.
Asthma: ipec., lob. ind., camph., samb. Brain affections: bell., hyosc., stram., cic., agar., cupr., op., atrop. Spinal affections (causing the spasm by reflexion): nux v., zinc., physost., bell., etc. Affections of the par vagæ or of their origins: lob., gels., laur., naj., ars.
Suppressed hives: ars.

Aconite. Suffocating cough, comes on suddenly at night, with hoarse voice and shrill outcry; respiration short and anxious.

Arsenicum. Chronic cases. The attack is preceded for several days by catarrhal symptoms. The little patient goes to sleep quietly and the spasm develops itself gradually; respiration short and hissing, when the spasm sets in with sudden suffocation; child breathes freely between spells, but appears weak and is restless; caused by suppressed hives; pale, waxen face; body hot, sweaty, and pale; prostration of strength with aggravation between midnight and daylight.

Belladonna. The smallest quantity of fluid drunk excites a spasm; larynx painfully dry, yet the child refuses all drink; larynx feels suddenly constricted; breathing during sleep intermittent and irregular; on falling asleep the child awakes and starts as if frightened; sleep restless, talks and kicks in his sleep; brain excited, face red, eyes injected; convulsions; skin hot and dry or bathed in hot sweat; urine deep yellow or scanty or even suppressed; larynx sensitive to pressure.

Bromine. Gasping for breath, with wheezing and rattling in larynx; child awakens gasping, hoarse, cries for water, which relieves; face hot and red, and eyes injected and inflamed; spasmodic closure of glottis; cannot inspire deep enough; constriction in larynx; suitable rather to light-complexioned, blue-eyed children.

Chamomilla. Sensation of oppression and slight constriction in region of larynx; dyspnoea as from suffocation (larynx feels constricted), with constant irritation to cough; hot sweat on face and head, especially during sleep; child becomes stiff and bends backwards, kicks with feet when carried, screams and throws everything off; staring eyes; child reaches and grasps for something, draws the mouth back and forth; peevish, irritable; worse from anger, violent emotions, and from exposure to cold winds; worse during dentition, accompanied by "wind asthma;" "liver-growth," or green, watery, offensive stools.

Chlorine. Inspiration unimpeded and natural, expiration absolutely impossible from a closure of the rima glottidis; inspiration again made is found easy enough, but attended with a slight crowing sound, expiration again impossible; face livid, lungs fearfully distended; spasm followed by partial coma, after its relaxation respiration free and deep sleep. The attack may come on after excitement, during sleep, and most common from midnight till 7 a.m.

Cuprum. Convulsions, with blue face and blue lips; short panting, whistling breathing on attempting to take a deep breath; body stiff, spasmodic twitchings, thumbs clenched; gurgling down the œsophagus; attack comes on suddenly and ceases suddenly, after fright of mother or child; cold perspiration at night; cough relieved by a swallow of cold water.

Gelsemium. Long croupy inspiration, sudden forcible expiration Iodum. Rachitic children, swelling of bronchial glands; tightness and constriction about larynx, with soreness, hoarse voice, etc.; enlarged glands may cause paralysis of laryngeal, tracheal, and bronchial nerves, mesenteric glands enlarged and indurated; tendency to marasmus; excellent appetite and yet grows thin, or indifference to food; stools clayey; urine high colored, scanty; skin yellow; heart's action feeble and increased by every motion; child unbearably irritable; well marked, painless goitre.

Lachesis. Spasms occur during sleep; child, as it were, sleeps into an attack and is aroused, gasping for breath or the paroxysms recur after each nap; external neck, about the larynx, very sensitive to touch; sense of constriction about the larynx, attended with dryness of the whole throat and mouth.

Mephitis put. Inspiration difficult, expiration all but impossible; convulsions; bloated face; when drinking or talking liable to get foreign substances into the throat.

Moschus. Spasm of throat, larynx, and lungs; sudden sensation of constriction in larynx, as if caused by the vapors of sulphur; difficult respiration; severe spasms in chest, with inclination to cough, after which the paroxysm becomes greatly aggravated; hysterical cases with impending paralysis of the pneumogastriæ.

Oleum anim. Larynx feels as if it would be closed by outward pressure when lying on the back with the head bent forward.

Opium. Especially after a fright

Phytolacca. Frequent spasmodic closure of the larynx; drawing of the thumbs into palms; flexion of the toes; face distorted; muscles of eyes irregular.

Plumbum. Closure of the rima; sudden difficulty of breathing and asphyxia, convulsions, during which expiration is suddenly arrested as if a valve closed the glottis; emaciation, stool, with much urging, hard balls.

Sambucus. Suppressed perspiration; the attack comes suddenly; patient awakes from a kind of lethargy, with eyes and mouth open; raises himself in bed with great anxiety and dyspnoea; respiration oppressed, with wheezing in chest; head and hands puffed and bloated, with dry heat all over the body; no thirst; small, irregular, and intermittent pulse; no cough; paroxysm principally from midnight till 4 A.M.; burning in red, hot face, with cold hands and feet during sleep. On awaking the face breaks out into a profuse perspiration, which extends over the body, and continues more or less during the waking hours; on going to sleep again the dry heat returns. Difficulty of inspiration, but not of expiration.

Silicea. Rachitis; head disproportionally large; body emaciated; head and feet sweat, the latter offensively; nervous; excitable; external impressions readily awaken convulsions; retarded dentition (indicated not from local symptoms, but constitutionally).

Spongia. Starts from sleep with contraction of the larynx; whistling inspiration; breathes as through a sponge; breathes with head bent backward.

Stramonium. Child arouses from sleep frightened, clings to those around: blueness of face; muscles of chest spasmodically affected: violent convulsions.

Sulphur. Attacks come on when dropping off to sleep; sudden jerks of the limbs in sleep; slow dentition; fever, etc.

Veratrum album. Spasmus glottidis, with protruded eyes: great weakness; cold sweat on forehead.

ASTHMA SPASMODICUM, and Asthma generally.

For asthma attended with MENSTRUAL IRREGULARITIES: 1. bell., caulop., coco., cupr., merc., n. vom., puls., sulph.; 2. acon., phos., sep.

For FLATULENT ASTHMA, from incarceration of flatus in the abdomen: 1. carb. v., cham., chin., n. vom., op., phos., sulph., zinc.; 2. ars., asclep. tub., caps., hep., natr., verat.

For asthma HUMIDUM or PITUITOSUM, with accumulation of mucus in the bronchi or lungs: 1. ars., bry., calc., chin., cupr., dule., ferr., graph., lach., lob., phos., puls., seneg., sep., stan., sulph.; 2. arum tr., baryt., bell., camph., con., hep., ipec., merc., n. vom., rhus gl., sanguin., sil., tart., zinc.; 3. eucalyptus, pulmo. vulp., silphium laciniatum.

For the real ASTHMA SPASMODICUM, nervosum s. periodicum: 1. baptis., bell., cact., camph., coco., cupr., hyosc., ipec., lach., lobel., mosch., n. vom., phos., samb., stram., sulph., tart., zinc.; 2. ant., ars., bry., coca, caulop., caust., ferr., kal., lyc., op., sep., stan.

The following remedies are the best to control an attack of asthma immediately: frequent smelling on the strong tincture of camphor, and 1. ipec., n. vom.; 2. acon., ars., cact., cham., lobel., mosch., op., samb., tart.

To remove the asthmatic disposition we use: 1. ant., ars., calc., nux. vom., sulph.; 2. amm., carb. v., caust., cupr., ferr., graph., kal., lach., lyc., phos., sil.

For asthma caused by the vapors of SULPHUR, give puls.; by the vapor of copper or arsenic: 1. hep., ipec., merc.; 2. ars., camph., cupr.

For asthma FROM A COLD: 1. acon., bell., bry., dule., ipec., kali hydrod.; 2. ars., cham., chin., cistus, lobel.

euphr., euphorb., gels., grindel., ipec., kali bichr., lach., lobel., mosch., sabad., saag., sticta, eucalyptus?, rosa damascena?

For asthma caused by AN EMOTION: acon., cham., coff., cupr., gels., ign., n. vom., puls., veratr.

If caused by a SUPPRESSED CATARRH: 1, ars., ipec., n. vom.; 2, camph., carb. v., chin., lach., puls., samb., tart.; if caused by a suppressed eruption: 1, ipec., puls., ver.; 2, ars., sulph., carb. veg.

§ 4 For ASTHMA OF CHILDREN we find generally useful: 1, acon., ars., bell., cham., coff., ipec., mosch., n. mosch., n. vom., op., samb., tart.; 2, camph., chin., cupr., hep., ign., lach., lyc., phos., puls., stram., sulph.

For asthma of HYSTERIC WOMEN: 1, acon., apis, bell., caulop., cham., coff., ign., mosch., n. mosch., n. vom., puls., stram.; 2, asa., aur., caust., con., cupr., ipec., lach., phos., stan., sulph., etc.

For asthma of OLD PEOPLE: 1, aur., baryt., con., lach., op., umbra; 2, ant., camph., carb. v., caust., chin., sulph.; 3, pulmo. vulpis.

Aconitum. 1. For sensitive persons, young plethoric girls, leading a sedentary life, or when the paroxysms set in after the least emotion. 2. Dyspnea with inability to take a long breath, accompanied with restlessness, heat, and sweat. 3. Suffocative cough at night, with barking and hoarse voice, spasmodic constriction of the throat and chest, anxious, short, and difficult breathing with open mouth; great anguish, with inability to utter a single word distinctly. 4. For asthma of adults, caused by rush of blood to the head, with vertigo, full and frequent pulse, cough and bloody expectoration.

Alumina. Asthmatic breathing, always aggravated by coughing, every morning a long attack of dry coughing, which ends at last with difficult raising of a little white mucus: great dryness in throat, especially on waking, voice husky, and sensation of lump in throat.

Ambra. Asthma senile et siccum; also suitable to children and scrofulous persons, with short, oppressed breathing, paroxysms of spasmodic cough, with expectoration of mucus, wheezing in the air-passages, and pressure in the chest. Oppression more in the left side of the chest through to the back, and between the shoulders, as if emanating from the heart, with palpitation, anguish, and loss of breath: asthma while attempting coition.

Apis mel. Throat feels as if it were strangled; the region of the short ribs pains as if bruised, especially on the left side. A warm room unbearable on account of heat and headache; difficult breathing, worse bending forwards or backwards; great feeling of suffocation, cannot bear anything about the throat: asthma after hives.

Aralia. Dry, wheezing respiration, with sense of impending suffocation, and rapidly increasing dyspnea; very loud musical whistling during inspiration and expiration, but louder during inspiration. could not possibly lie down; he would suffocate if he did not sit up: a constant desire to clear the chest, so that he could inspire better. When the attack reached its acme, expectoration first scanty, then increased in quantity, warm and salty: raw, burning, sore feeling behind the whole length of the sternum and in each lung; smarting soreness of posterior nares occasioned by passage of acrid mucus, accompanied by a peculiar soreness of the ala nasi, the rims of which feel as if fissured, covered by their skin, which, if detached, causes smarting and bleeding.

Arsenicum. Asthma of old people, after suppression of coryza; coexistence of emphysema or cardiac disease; nervous asthma, worse towards midnight, great suffering, followed by exhaustion. Asthmatic breathing, must incline the chest forward, must spring out of bed at night; constriction of chest with great anxiety and restlessness; every motion aggravates, even the throwing himself about in bed; has to sit up in bed, with knees drawn up, her head and arms upon her knees, short breath, cannot keep still. Shortness of breath, particularly after a meal; anguish and suffocative paroxysms, increased by the warmth of the room at night; deep, dry, unceasing cough, abating as soon as he expectorates either frothy saliva, thick yellow green, bitter, salty mucus, or streaked with blood. The paroxysms of acute or chronic asthma are accompanied by great debility and burning in the chest; in acute asthma suitable after ipec., unless it has been given at the commencement of the attack.

Asclepias tub. Necessity to inspire hurriedly, followed by a sensation of oppression. Want of breath, often very great, particularly after eating and smoking; pricking or contracting pain in the region of the heart.

Baptisia. Difficulty of breathing; the lungs feel tight and compressed; cannot get a full breath; constriction and oppression of the chest; sharp pains in the chest, when taking a long breath; awakes with great difficulty of breathing, the lungs feel tight and compressed; could not get a full breath, relieved only by getting the face to the fresh air; most symptoms of oppression are due to nervous depression.

Belladonna. Suitable to children and women of an irritable constitution, and with disposition to spasms. Constriction of the larynx with danger of suffocation on touching the larynx, and on turning the neck; oppression of the chest and loss of breath, stitches under the sternum with paroxysms of dry cough at night; asthmatic paroxysms with unconsciousness; relaxation of the muscles and involuntary discharge of urine and feces, aggravation by motion, and still he cannot keep quiet; asthma of plethoric persons (especially in hot, damp climates), when the paroxysms come on in the afternoon or evening, sensation of dust in the lungs; perspiration on upper part of chest; better when bending the head back, and holding the breath; worse after sleeping and from stimulants.

Bromium. Gasping for breath, with wheezing and rattling in larynx and spasmodic closure of glottis; difficulty of breathing; cannot inspire deep enough; sensation as if the air-passages were full of smoke; asthma of sailors, as soon as they go ashore; difficult breathing; must sit up in bed; sensation of constriction impedes breathing, with dry tickling cough; sensation of weakness and exhaustion in the chest; affections begin in the bronchi and ascend to larynx.

Bryonia. Respiration impeded, quick and deep, without motion of the ribs; constriction of chest: feels the need of breathing deeply, but is not always able to accomplish it, particularly at night and towards morning, increased difficulty of breathing when talking or during any kind of exercise; relief by rising from a recumbent position, or after expectoration; frequent stitches in the chest, especially during an inspiration, when coughing and during motion (suitable after ipecac. in acute asthma).

Cactus grand. Oppression of breathing on going up stairs; oppression of the chest as from a great weight; difficult breathing; uneasiness as if an iron band prevented normal motion of chest; periodical attacks of suffocation, with fainting; cold perspiration on the face and loss of pulse; anxiety returning in the evening; constriction in the chest, preventing free speech and hindering respiration; sanguineous congestion in the chest, preventing his lying down in bed; periodical stitches in the heart.

Cannabis indica. Great effort to take a deep inspiration; oppression of chest with deep, labored breathing; worse when ascending; feels as if suffocated, and has to be fanned; hard, dry cough with scraping right under the sternum; pressing pain in the heart with dyspnea the whole night; stitches in the heart, accompanied by great depression, which is relieved by deep breathing; worse when lying on left side; palpitation of the heart, awaking him from sleep; amelioration in the open air.

Cannabis sativa. Humid asthma, wheezing and mucous rales; after the paroxysm subsides an easy rattling cough, expectorating copious sputa of thick yellow mucus; during the paroxysm, dyspnea and extreme agitation; must sit up most of the time; oppression of breathing from tensile, pressive pains in the middle of the sternum, which is sore to the touch, he is obliged to breathe deeply.

Cistus canadensis. Periodical attacks of asthma on lying down with loud wheezing; feeling as if the windpipe had not space enough; in the evening, soon after lying down, a sensation as if ants were running through the whole body; then anxious difficult breathing; is obliged to get up and open the window; the fresh air relieves him; immediately on lying down again these sensations return.

Cuprum. Spasmodic asthma, with difficulty of breathing and fear of suffocation; aggravation at night; during cough, when leaning with the back against anything, or when taking a deep inspiration; violent asthmatic attacks, coming on suddenly, lasting from one to three hours, and ceasing suddenly; breathing whistling, quick, rattling, short, panting, seems to be interrupted in the throat; cough dry, suffocative, worse at nights; in the morning, slight expectoration of phlegm; anxious feeling in the heart, with stitches and boring pains in the heart. Aggravation at the period of the menses. Suitable to children (angina pectoris with slow pulse), or hysteric persons, especially after fright, chagrin, a cold, or before the appearance of the menses.

Ferrum. Asthma worse after midnight; must sit up; better walking slowly about and talking, and by uncovering the chest (after noon). Suffocative fits in the evening in bed, with warmth of neck and trunk; limbs cold; difficult inspiration, as from heaviness in the chest; breathing dry, loud, anxious, sometimes rattling in children. Oppression from orgasm of blood; chest scarcely moves in breathing; nostrils dilated during expiration; persons who flush easily and get epistaxis, dyspnea, palpitation; paroxysm of spasmodic cough with expectoration of tenacious and transparent mucus; expectoration of blood.

Gelsemium. Sudden sensation of suffocation, as in hysteria; respiration almost imperceptible; sighing respiration; heavy and labored respiration; slow breathing, with rapid pulse or with slow pulse. Long crowing inspiration; sudden and forcible expiration; spasm of the glottis; nervous chill, yet skin is warm; wants to be held, that she may not shake so; heart's action slow, feeble, depressed; hands and feet cold.

Graphites. Suffocative paroxysm at night, awakens him out of sleep, usually after midnight, has quickly to jump out of bed, hold himself firmly to something and quickly eats whatever is on hand, which gives relief; very hoarse cough.

Ipecacuanha. Difficult expiration. Violent constriction of throat and chest; peculiar panting sound; gasps for air at the open window; face pale; worse from least motion; threatened suffocation from suddenly suppressed catarrhs; nightly suffocative fits; tetanic rigidity of the body with bluish redness of the face; constant cough, raising nothing, although chest seems full of phlegm; cough sometimes followed by vomiting, which relieves.

Lachesis. Asthma, worse from covering mouth or nose, or touching the throat, or moving the arms; on awakening, after eating or talking; better sitting up bent forward; constriction of the chest, which feels stuffed; in the morning when sitting up quickly, the breathing becomes slow, difficult, whistling; palpitation of heart; can bear no pressure on throat or chest; must sit or lie on right side; numbness of left arm; fainting; anxiety; cyanosis neonatorum; spasmus glottidis.

Lobelia inflata. Asthma, worse from exertion, with a disordered stomach, especially a feeling of weakness in the pit of the stomach; asthmatic attack often preceded by prickling all over, even to fingers and toes. Constant dyspnoea, increased by even the shortest exposure to cold during an asthmatic paroxysm; sensation of weakness and pressure on the epigastrium, rising from thence to the heart, with or without heartburn; feeling as of a lump or quantity of mucus, and also a sense of pressure in the larynx; pain in the forehead from one temple to another; inclination to sigh; a deep inspiration relieves the pressive pain in the epigastrium; short inhalation and long, deep exhalation; worse from exposure to cold and eating very warm food.

Lycopodium. Oppression of breathing, worse walking in the open air, with weakness, wheezing breathing in daytime, with sensation of too much mucus in chest; loud rattling; dyspnoea, worse lying on back.

Nux vomica. Asthenia, connected with imperfect and slow digestion, with fulness of stomach, better after belching; oppression mornings or after eating; short, slow, stridulous breathing; spasmodic constriction of the lower part of the chest, worse from cold air or exercise; nightly suffocative paroxysms, especially after midnight, preceded by anxious dreams; short cough, with difficult expectoration; distension, aching pains, and anguish in the region of the heart and hypochondria; rush of blood to the chest, with orgasm of the blood, warmth, heat, and palpitation; amelioration in the recumbent posture, by turning to the other side, by raising the trunk, or by belching wind.

Phosphorus. Asthma, with fear of suffocation; oppression and anxiety of the chest; worse evening and morning; spasmodic constriction of the chest; stridulous inspiration in the evening on falling asleep, nightly suffocative spells, as if the lungs were paralyzed; noisy, panting breathing; difficult inspiration, chest feels full and heavy, with tension, great pressure on the middle of the sternum; dyspnoea, with inability to exert himself; short cough, with either salt, or sweetish, or blood-streaked expectoration; phthisicky disposition.

Psorinum. Anxious dyspnoea, with palpitation of the heart, worse when sitting up, better when lying down, the wider apart the patient keeps his arms the better he can breathe; want of breath in the fresh air, he has to hurry home in order to lie down; the chest expands with great difficulty; stitches from behind forward in chest and back when breathing; pulse weak, feeble; asthmatic attacks with hydrothorax.

Pulsatilla. Asthma; especially of children after suppression of rash, in hysteria or with suppressed menses; in the evening, especially after a meal, dyspnoea and vertigo, with weakness in the head, when lying on the back; at night in bed, as if throat or chest were constricted, or as if the fumes of sulphur had been inhaled; mornings, low down in chest; oppression of chest in walking fast, ascending an eminence, or exercising; shattering, spasmodic cough, excited by itching, scratching or dry feeling, as from vapor of sulphur in trachea and chest, dry at night, loose by day; oppression of chest, loss of breath, and suffocative fits, with anguish of death, palpitation of heart, and sensation of fulness and pressure in the chest, with internal heat and orgasm of the blood.

Sambucus. Anxious, loud, or quick, wheezing, crowing breathing; oppression of the chest, with pressure in the stomach and nausea; nightly suffocative attacks, with great restlessness; shedding of tears, and throwing about of the arms; hollow, dry cough at night, with regular inhalations, but sighing exhalations, caused by spasm of chest, and expectoration of small quantities of tough mucus, only during the day; suffocative cough, worse about midnight, lying in bed, or with the head low; from dry, cold air, occasional omission of heart-beat.

Sanguinaria. Asthma, especially after the "rose-cold" (hay-fever), worse from odors; short, accelerated, constrained breathing, extreme dyspnoea; cheeks and hands livid; inclination to take deep inspiration, which increases constriction of chest with tearing pains, especially on right side of chest; dry cough, awaking him, and not ceasing until he sits up in bed and passes flatus, upward and downward, continued pressure and heaviness in the whole of the upper part of the chest, with difficulty of breathing.

Sulphur. For chronic asthma with difficulty of breathing and painless oppression of the chest; frequent attacks of asthma in the daytime, even when walking in the open air; asthma when talking; wheezing, mucous rattling, rhonchus in the chest, oppressed breathing and suffocative fits, especially at night; fulness and sensation of weariness in the chest; pressure in the chest as from a load, after eating ever so little; burning in the chest with rush of blood and palpitation of the heart; suffocative cough with spasmodic constriction of the chest and urging to vomit; difficult expectoration of whitish mucus or copious yellow expectoration; blood-colored saliva; spasms in the chest, with compressive sensation and pain in the sternum, bluish-red face, short breath, and inability to speak.

§ 6. Ammonium. Chronic asthma, especially when attended with disposition to hydrothorax, with shortness of breath, especially when ascending even a few steps, less in the open air; dares not come into a warm room, where he becomes deathly pale, and can do nothing but sit quiet; difficult breathing, with short cough, and palpitation after every exertion.

Aurum. Asthma from congestion to chest; great oppression at night and when walking in the open air; suffocative fits, with spasmodic constriction of chest; face bluish red; palpitation, falls down unconscious; morning asthma, face cyanotic; light-haired persons worse in wet weather and warm air.

Baryta carb. Asthma of scrofulous children, with enlargement of the tonsils and of the cervical glands, or of old fleshy people, with light hair, when the attack is aggravated by wet weather and warm air, and followed by frequent and copious urination; suffocative catarrh of old people, with impending paralysis of the lungs; nightly cough; chest full of phlegm.

Benzoic acid. Asthma, with inflammatory rheumatic complaints, mucous oppression of the lungs, and difficulty of breathing when awaking.

Calcarea. For chronic asthma, with tight breathing and tension in the chest, as if from rush of blood, relieved by raising the shoulders; desire to take deep breath and sensation as if the breath remained stopped between the scapulae; the patient loses his breath by merely stooping; he is suffering with dry cough, especially frequent towards morning.

Carbo veg. Suffocative asthma, with blue and cold skin, and great anguish about the heart; flatulent asthma, with great relief from eructations, relief also by constant walking, aggravated by sitting or lying down; he exerts the whole body and limbs to produce deep inspirations; constant sensation of weakness and fatigue in the chest; great dyspnoea, with anxiety, but not restless; cough in violent spells; watery, profuse expectoration; desired to be fanned, must have more air, breath cold; pulse threadlike, weak and small, intermittent.

Asthma of old people and of poor, exhausted constitutions.

Chamomilla. Nervous bronchial asthma. Dry, tickling cough; suffocative dyspnoea, as if the windpipe were tied together with a string, and as if the chest were not wide enough; constricted feeling in the suprasternal fossa, with constant irritation to cough. Asthmatic attack, seemingly produced by an accumulation of flatus, better from bending the head backwards, in cold air, or from drinking cold water; worse in dry weather and from a warm diet; palpitation of heart and faintness. Asthma after a fit of anger.

China. Asthma, looks as if dying; worse autumn, wet weather, or after depletion; nightly suffocative fits; inspiration slow and difficult; expiration quick, blowing, short; oppression of chest, as from fullness in stomach, also from continued talking; inability to breathe with the head low; spasmodic cough and nightly suffocative fits, as if from too much mucus in the throat, with difficult expectoration of a clear and thick mucus; pressure in the chest as if from rush of blood, with violent palpitation of the heart; easy perspiration; sudden prostration.

Cocculus. Suitable to hysteric females, or for rush of blood to the chest, with difficulty of breathing, as if the throat were constricted; racking cough, with oppression of the chest, especially at night; spasmodic constriction of the chest, especially on one side only; pressure in the chest and orgasm of the blood, with anguish and palpitation of the heart; sensation of languor and emptiness in the chest.

Conium. Nervous bronchial asthma, paroxysms coming on in wet weather; periodical dry cough, excited by tickling, grating in the throat or behind the sternum, evoked by lying down, talking, and laughing, or loose cough with inability to expectorate.

Copaiva. Oppression of the chest, with labored breathing, while working in a stooping position, as when digging; pressure on the sternum; slow respiration.

Dulcamara. Humid asthma or for acute asthma from a cold, with dyspnea, loose rattling cough, copious sputa, worse during wet weather, asthma, with faceache, after disappearance of tetters in face; oppression of the chest from mucus.

Eucalyptus. Asthma humidum in bronchitic patients. It relieves the bronchial cough and aids in expelling the thick sputa.

Glonoïn. Sudden attacks; constriction of the chest, with anguish and much sighing, oppression of the chest, alternating with headache; breathing heavy, labored, stertorous, from feeling of weight, must often breathe deeply; sighing, chest feels as if laced.

Grindelia robusta. Mucous asthma depending on an abnormal accumulation of mucus in the smaller bronchi, tenacious and difficult to detach; patient feels and knows that expectoration brings relief. Purely nervous asthma, where inhalation is easy, but expectoration difficult; fear of going to sleep on account of loss of breath, which awakens him; cardiac asthma; cough from reflex causes; a cough maintained by habit; chronic bronchitis and bronchorrhœa.

Kali phos. Nervous asthma with depression; asthma after the most moderate use of food; asthma with sallow features, sunken eyes, emaciation.

Kreasot. Nervous asthma; spasmodic, fatiguing, wheezing cough; heaviness upon chest with dyspnea, as though the chest were bruised on inhalation; pain as though the sternum would be crushed in, with stitches here and there.

Moschus. Suitable to hysteric individuals and to children, or for oppression of the chest, and suffocative fits as if from the vapors of sulphur, commencing with a desire to cough, and getting worse until the patient despairs of getting over the paroxysms; spasmodic constriction of the larynx and chest, especially when feeling cold.

Opium. Congestion of blood to the chest, or pulmonary spasms, with deep, stertorous, rattling breathing; tightness of breath and oppression, with great anguish, tightness, and spasmodic constriction of the chest; suffocative fits during sleep, like nightmare; suffocative cough, with bluish redness of the face.

Sabadilla. Hay asthma, breathing heavy and anxious during heat, wheezing in the chest; expectoration of tenacious yellow mucus, of a repulsive sweet taste.

Sarsaparilla. Rigors over whole body from below upwards; asthmatic breathing, worse by lying down; severe nausea and constant vomiting, with headache; great urging to urinate with only slight emission; burning, stinging pains during and after micturition; asthma from emphysema pulmonum; continual short breathing, worse after eating, when going upstairs, from exertions; cough dry without expectoration, sometimes tickling in throat.

Silicea. Asthma on a cachectic base, after its removal gummatous nodes on skull, clavicles, and ribs; shortness of breath and panting from walking fast or from manual labor; dyspnoea when at rest or when lying on back; oppression of chest, cannot take a long breath.

Silphium laciniatum. Asthma, with large quantities of stringy mucus, scraping, tickling, and irritation of the fauces and throat; sick faint feeling, and a sense of goneness in the epigastrium; constriction and tightness of the lungs, with a constant disposition to expectorate.

Spongia. Asthma from taking cold; cannot lie down; sibilant rhonchi, after menses; wheezing breathing, or slow and deep, as if from debility; suffocative fits after every exercise, with weariness; asthma in consequence of goitre; spasmodic asthma with organic disease of the heart, face red, eyes staring; respiration slow, unable to lie down, urine pale, expectoration blood-streaked or yellow; cough relieved by eating and drinking.

Stannum. For asthma and oppression, especially in the evening or at night, when lying down, also in daytime during every exercise, and frequently attended with anguish and desire to detach the clothes; oppression and mucus rattling in the chest; cough with copious expectoration of viscid or lumpy, clear or watery, yellowish, salt or sweetish mucus.

Stramonium. Asthma spasmodicum; respiration difficult and constricted, with anxious respiration and livor of face; pressing pain in chest, provoked by talking, he is hardly able to draw in the breath.

Tartarus emet. Especially suitable to old people, also to children, or for anxious oppression, difficulty of breathing and shortness of breath, with desire to sit erect; oppression and suffocative fits, coming on suddenly, especially in the evening or in the morning, in bed; mucus and rattling in the chest; suffocative cough or congestion of blood to the chest, and palpitation of the heart; gasping inhalation, feeling of fulness and contraction of chest; after the cough has lasted awhile, it becomes loose and relieves the contraction of chest.

Veratrum. Suitable after chin., ars., ipcc., especially for suffocative fits, even when sitting erect and during exercise, pains in the side; hollow cough; cold sweat, or cold face and cold limbs.

Veratrum viride. Sensation as of a heavy load on the chest; excessively labored respiration; patient has to sit up, cannot lie down; cold sweat on face.

Yerba santa. Bronchial asthma with difficult expectoration and great prostration.

Zincum. For tight breathing and oppression, especially in the evening; shortness of breath after eating, for accumulation of flatulence; increase of asthma when the expectoration stops, decrease when it recommences.

ATROPHY OF CHILDREN.

The best remedies for atrophy of scrofulous children are: Sulph. followed by calc.; also, 1, ars., baryt., bell., chin., cin., iod., n. vom., phos., rhus., sarsap.; or, also, 2, aloe, arn., cham., hep., lach., magn., marum, petr., phos., puls.

In most, not too complicated, cases it will be advisable to begin the treatment with a dose n. vom., if constipation is present, or ars. if diarrhœa is present. After the one or the other has done all that could be expected, we follow it with sulphur, one or two doses in three or four weeks, and the little that yet remains, one or two doses calc., given in six or eight weeks, will suffice to remove weak, sinking feeling in stomach; alternate constipation and diarrhoea, the food passes undigested; hydrocele of children; hard lumps in different parts of abdomen; emaciation, mostly of legs; great weakness and prostration, or a kind of hectic fever.

Abrotanum. Marasmus, with emaciation: voracious appetite;

Æthusa cynapium. The child throws up milk soon after nursing, with great force, suddenly, then falls asleep as if from exhaustion, to awaken for a fresh supply. Milk does not agree with the child, which is shown by colic, diarrhoea, or constipation. Aphthae of mouth and throat.

Aloes. The child passes substances looking like jelly-cakes; sometimes small, at other times large, but they adhere together like congealed mucus; they may be green-colored or transparent.

Alumina. The child strains greatly, even to pass a soft stool; soreness of the anus; colic; the child wastes away.

Antimonium crudum. Vomiting of food and drink, as soon as it is taken; after nursing the bowels move, stools watery, containing fecal lumps, or costive, the stools being white, dry, irregular, or hard lumps of curds; no thirst; heavy white coating of tongue; great crossness when touched or looked at, which was not the case when well; child emaciated to a skeleton; complaints arising from heat of summer; cold bathing cannot be borne.

Apis mel. Violent screaming spells, at longer or shorter intervals; no appetite nor thirst; emaciation, white and waxlike skin; scanty urine; swelling of the feet and ankles, of transparent whiteness.

Arg. nitr. Diarrhoea of green fetid mucus, passing off with much flatulency; intense desire for sweets; emaciation, most marked in the legs; withered look; weakness so great that every motion is attended with trembling; exhaustion, the result of rapid loss of fluid as in cholera infantum, or of long-protracted diarrhoea and defective nourishment.

Arsenicum. Stools painful, offensive, containing quantities of undigested food; pale and waxy look; dry, parchment like skin; hollow eyes with blue margins; great restlessness at night; short sleep, broken by starts and convulsions; great debility, weariness, with constant desire to lie down; cold hands and feet; night sweats, the child feels constantly chilly; food and drink cause instant vomiting and diarrhoea; burning thirst for iced drinks, which cause distress in stomach, till they are ejected again; stools green, slimy, bloody, dark, watery, undigested, excoriating, and intolerably offensive; urine suppressed; the child lies in stupor, hot and twitching, and when aroused is restless, demanding frequent change of position.

Arsenicum sulph. flav. Stools green, slimy, watery, offensive, worse during day (ars. alb., worse after midnight).

Arsenicum iod. With the usual arsenic symptoms, engorgement of glands.

Baptisia. Constant diarrhoea, fetid, exhausting, causing excoriation; child can swallow nothing but milk; smallest quantity of solid food gags, and causes choking on attempting it.

Baryta carb. Swelling of cervical glands; great physical and mental debility, constant desire to sleep; face and abdomen bloated; pot belliedness; great laziness; crawling in the rectum; ascarides; scurfs on head, ears, nose; inflamed eyes; general emaciation; mental powers not developed, the child is dwarfish, cannot be taught, for it cannot remember; it does not want to play, but sits idly in a corner; child wants to eat all the time, but is averse to sweet things and fruit; a little food satiates.

Belladonna. For precocious children, with blue eyes and fair hair. The child does not sleep much, though appearing to be drowsy; it lies half sleeping and half waking; moaning; jerking of the muscles.

Benzoic acid. Ammoniacal odor of the urine, which leaves a dark stain on the diaper; the diarrhoeic stools have an odor similar to that of the urine.

Borax. Child grows pale, relaxed, flabby, cries; loathes the breast and falls into a heavy sleep; head and palms of hands hot, face pale and clay-colored; hot mouth and aphthae on tongue and cheeks from impaired nutrition, bleeding when rubbed; every attempt to nurse causes screaming; stools light-yellow, slimy, green, or painless, as if fermented, thin, brown, smelling like carrion; fear of downward motion; easily startled by the slightest noise; sleeps badly and awakens with screams as if in a fright, and clings to something, as if afraid of falling.

Bryonia. The food is thrown up immediately after eating; constipation; parched and dry lips; dry mouth; the child desires to be kept very quiet in a recumbent position; feels worse at every hot spell.

Calcarea carb. Emaciation more marked in other than adipose tissue; atrophy of muscles, soft bones, retarded teeth (defective nutrition), with deceptive appearance of plumpness from excess of fat. When also the fat wastes, the body dwindles, the pale skin hangs in folds, but abdomen remains disproportionately enlarged; partial sweats; scalp covered with cold sweat, knees clammy, feet damp and cold; crusta lactea, crusts dry or filled with a mild thick pus; ringworms; glands engorged, especially the mesenteric; appetite voracious, yet emaciation persists; morbid appetite for indigestible articles of food; fever and thirst in afternoon; stools green, watery, sour, or pungent, or claylike, and worse in the afternoon, or creamy, fetid, frequent; urine strong fetid, clear; vomiting of sour food or of lumps of curdled milk; child obstinate, self-willed, cross before stool and faint after; growth retarded, spine weak, it sits stooped, legs curved and bones bent easily, though old enough will not put its feet to the ground; worse by bathing.

Calcarea iod. Though looking plump and healthy, child shows well defined scrofulosis, with thick scabby eruptions, otorrhoea, engorged glands and tonsils.

Calcarea phos. Complexion sallow; child emaciated and poorly developed; posterior fontanelle large; abdomen shrunken and flabby; stools watery, hot, or green and slimy, passed with much offensive flatus; pain after eating; short breathing, with anxious look, when lifted.

Carbo veg. Vital powers failing, and no reaction to well-chosen remedies; skin cold, pale, or blue, the face having a greenish tinge; feet and legs to the knees cold; anxious look, but too lifeless to move or to exhibit much restlessness; breath cold, pulse weak and rapid; stools dark, thin, cadaverous-looking : useful also in protracted sultry weather, when the days are hot and damp.

Causticum. Adapted to children who grow tardily and who seem to suffer from a sort of paresis ; abdomen swollen and hard, but body wasted and feet diminutive ; they walk unsteadily and fall easily ; weakness of brain ; children timid, fear going to bed in the dark ; weak memory ; intertrigo during dentition ; eczema on occiput.

Chamomilla. The child must be carried all the time, for it is only then quiet. Diarrhoea green, watery, and slimy, or like chopped eggs and spinach. Odor like decayed eggs ; one cheek red the other pale.

China. Emaciation, especially of the hands and feet ; abdomen distended with flatulency ; voraciousness ; offensive, painless, undigested stools ; diarrhoea, especially at night, with copious, whitish, papaceous stools ; copious sweats, especially at night ; idleness and listlessness ; hollow, pale, or livid face ; stupefying, unrefreshing sleep ; great debility and prostration.

Cina. The child picks its nose very much ; is very restless ; cries, is very unamiable ; pale face ; wetting the bed ; great voraciousness ; wants to be rocked all the time, and will not sleep without it ; nothing pleases the child for a moment.

Cistus can. Hot, gray-yellow, spiring stools, worse after fruit, from midnight to noon ; glands, especially cervical, swollen or suppurating ; tetter on and around ears ; caries ; worse in wet weather ; indicated in thin, scrawny children of a scrofulous diathesis.

Conium. Abdomen hard and distended ; frequent sour stools, undigested ; the effort at stool causes great weakness ; worse during night and better by day.

Ferrum. Frequent vomiting of food, stools undigested ; red face ; the child is very pale and delicate in appearance.

Graphites. Moist blotches on the skin, exuding a transparent, glutinous fluid ; chafing back of the ears ; diarrhoea, painless, sour-smelling, thin, scalding, or constipation ; all discharges offensive, breath, stool, urine, sweat ; child is impertinent and laughs at reprimands ; harsh, rough skin, disposed to chafing ; groins become sore, and the inguinal glands swollen ; emaciation. Suitable to fair, plump children with well-marked skin symptoms.

Hepar sulph. Though apparently the child looks plump, the flesh is flabby, the muscles withered, digestion weak ; child intolerant of pressure about stomach after eating ; food temporarily relieves the debility ; stools green, watery, undigested, or white, sour-smelling, and painless ; worse during the day ; little tendency to cerebral symptoms ; glands swollen, and child subject to catarrhs from least draught of cold air ; eczema, worse mornings, when it itches, burns, and smart.

Hydrastis. Excoriations in groins ; eczema on forehead at the border of the hair, oozing after washing ; thick mucous discharges ; marasmus ; great debility ; faintness at the stomach ; aphthae of weakly children ; tongue swollen, shows marks of the teeth, or appears raw, dark red, with raised papillae ; stool light-colored, soft, acrid, fetid flatus.

Iodum. Rapid emaciation with inordinate appetite ; child restless: desires to change position continually; face yellow, or brownish and shrunk: copious and papescent stools; glands swollen and painless, especially mesenteric ones; goitre.

Ipecacuanha. Predominant nausea, with frequent vomiting; sleepy after vomiting; yellow fermented stools; cold hands and feet; sudden prostration and great weakness.

Kreasot. Fetid evacuations, and excoriation of the mucous surfaces generally; skin wrinkled; restless and sleepless nights.

Lithium Gettysburg. Rough, harsh skin; crusta lactea; ring-worm, itching violently; nose swollen, internally sore and dry, with shining crusts in nostrils, light yellow diarrhoea, fecal in the mornings, offensive at night; worse after fruit.

Lycopodium. Abdomen bloated, while limbs are wasted; face earthy, with blue rings around eyes; wrinkles in face, milk-crust thick, cracks and bleeds, and emits a mousy smell; tendency to capillary bronchitis; inordinate appetite, but food soon satiates; abdomen distended, with much rumbling of wind, especially in left hypochondrium, gastric region distended, and intolerant of any pressure, especially after nursing; urine has a red sediment or is suppressed; sleep disturbed by frequent awaking; child weak, with well-developed head, but puny, sickly body, is irritable, nervous and unmanageable when sick, after sleep cross and pushes every one away angrily.

Magnesia carb. Defective digestion; emaciation, swelling of glands, abdomen heavy and bloated; griping pain, followed by green, watery, sour diarrhoea, or the stool, when standing, forms a green scum like that of a frog-pond; great emaciation.

Magnesia mur. Ozæna, discharge acrid, and nose obstructed at night; scurfs in nostrils, alæ and tip being red and swollen; stomach bloated; stools in large, hard lumps, or crumble as they pass the anus; child puny, rachitic; enlarged liver; glands swollen, sweat on head and feet.

Marum verum. Emaciation, with jerking hiccough after nursing, and belching, without bringing anything up; child cries a great deal with the diarrhoea; increased discharge of pale urine; chilliness from want of animal heat.

Mercurius. Emaciation; skin dry, rough, dirty yellow, or clammy, especially that of the thighs; icy-cold sweat on forehead, sour or oily sweat on scalp; pustular or suppurating herpes; glands swollen and suppurating; skin chaps easily, becomes raw and sore, frequent attacks of jaundice; abdomen, especially right hypochondrium, swollen, and sore to pressure; stool green, sour, watery, with emaciation; diarrhoea bloody, slimy, green, with tenesmus, often continuing after stool; genitals sore and excoriated, urine causes pain; child pulls at penis; child pale, weak, and obtuse, or precocious and restless; fontanelles open, the head large and covered with offensive sweat; gums soft, and bleed easily; sour night sweats; blepharophthalmia suppurativa.

Muriatic acid. Child too listless to move or to take notice; aphthæ in mouth; child exhausted from frequent vomiting and diarrhoea, and the stomach so weak that it will no longer tolerate or digest food, most marked in forenoon; tongue shrivelled and dry as leather, or covered with deep bluish ulcers, having black bases, breath fetid, salivary glands tender, swollen; stool involuntary when passing urine; prolapsed ani during urination; muscular debility from abuse of soothing syrups.

Natrum mur. Rapid emaciation of the throat and neck of children, who are very slow to learn to talk; irritability.

Natrum phos. Marasmus of children who are bottle-fed; abdomen swollen, liver large; colic after eating; stools containing undigested food.

Natrum sulph. Inherited syctic constitution; abdomen bloated, with much rumbling of wind; stools watery, yellow, gushing, coming on as soon as the child begins to move in the morning.

Nitric acid. Weakly children, after abuse of calomel, or who inherited syphilis; child is wasted, sallow, weak; upper arms and thighs particularly emaciated; aphthae with putrid breath; ulcers or blisters about mouth, rawness and soreness about arms; stools of green mucus, sometimes fetid and undigested, worse in the morning; stools followed by great exhaustion; glands enlarged.

Nux vomica. Yellowish, sallow complexion, bloated face; obstinate constipation; large difficult stools, or alternate constipation and diarrhoea; large abdomen, with flatulence; no appetite or great hunger; desire to eat, with frequent vomiting of the ingesta; constant desire to lie down; sleeplessness towards morning; aversion to open air; nervousness; ill-humor.

Oleander. The food passes off unchanged in a remarkable degree, and very easily and almost unconsciously.

Oleum jec. as. Child emaciated, with hot hands and head; constant tendency to catarrhs; bones affected, rachitis; fever at night, with sweat, mostly on head, neck, and hands; cannot take milk; vivid dreams; restless and feverish at night.

Ozone. Where the symptoms clearly indicate sulphur, but that remedy fails, ozonized water cures (symptoms nearly identical).

Pepsin. Emaciation, prostration, and weakness of the digestive powers after cholera infantum.

Petroleum. Emaciation, with diarrhoea by day, but none at night; colic arising from sleep in the morning, relieved by bending double; stools profuse, yellowish, watery, hunger immediately after stool; aversion to open air, and from it chilliness; child vehement, susceptible to electric changes; eczema, excoriations; cracked, bleeding rhagades.

Phosphorus. Emaciation combined with nervous debility; brain and spine suffered severely; child overtall, but slender, emaciated but bag-bellied, face pale, almost waxen. Delicate eyelashes, soft hair, rapid breathing hint to sequelae; even thus early diarrhoea associated with dry cough, hence suitable to young girls with blonde hair, blue eyes, delicate skin, slender stature, with cachectic cough, diarrhoea; frequent exhausting sweats; great debility, with orgasm of the blood, palpitation of the heart, or oppression of the chest after exercise. Copious stools, pouring away like water from a hydrant, with great exhaustion, glandular swellings, suppuration and caries, &c.; appetite good; he craves cold food, ice cream; often awakens at night, hot and restless, and will drop off to sleep if fed, child irascible, vehement, susceptible to external impressions and to electric changes in atmosphere.

Phosphor. acid. Yellowish and very offensive stools; the child is very listless, wants nothing and cares for nothing; abdomen swollen, much fermentation in bowels, with the diarrhoea, which, though long lasting, does not proportionately weaken.

Psorinum. Pale, sickly, delicate children; it has a filthy smell, even after a bath: stools fluid, fetid; worse at night: great debility, and sweat from any exertion; crusta lactea on face and scalp, especially over either ear and cheek, exfoliating numerous scabs, or cracks and discharges a yellow fetid humor; dirty-looking boils on scalp, emitting an offensive odor; intolerable itching at night, worse in bed: child worse when the weather changes.

Podophyllum. Emaciation; many stools daily, all of which are natural. Morning diarrhoea.

Pulsatilla. Diarrhoea worse at night; no stools alike, they are so changeable: for a time the child seems much better, then it gets worse again without any appreciable cause. The appearance of the child changes in this manner several times the same day; but it is usually worse towards evening, and always seems better in the open air.

Rhus tox. Great debility, with constant disposition to lie down; pale face, hard and distended abdomen; great thirst; slimy and bloody diarrhoea; great appetite; aggravation after midnight; colic, diarrhoea, and restlessness increase at that time.

Sarsaparilla. Great emaciation; the skin lays in folds; the face is shrivelled; aphthae on tongue and roof of mouth; neck emaciated; fully developed marasmus; eruptions are prone to appear in the spring, their bases inflamed, the crusts detach readily out of doors and the adjoining skin becomes chapped, on forehead the crusta lactea is thick, becoming moist when scratched; herpes and offensive sweat about genitals; child restless and uneasy before passing water, afterwards the diaper is found covered with a white sand; stool, with much flatus, often followed by fainting.

Sepia. Child wastes rapidly, eyes are sunken, palms and soles burning hot; child can only take milk when boiled; stools green and painless; moist scabs on scalp; forehead rough; child awakens frequently, especially wakeful after 3 a m.

Silicea. Whole body wasted, while the head is exceedingly large; face earthy or waxy pale; affections of bones, pain in sternum and lumbar spine; rachitis; eruptions suppurate and ulcerate easily; every little prick festers; ingrowing toe-nails; moist, bozizing milk-crust, worse from scratching; no appetite, aversion to the mother's milk, which, even if taken, is at once vomited; stools watery, offensive, or costiveness; atmospheric changes cause great prostration.

Stannum. The child is always relieved in its abdominal sufferings by pressing hard upon the abdomen, leaning upon something, sickly face, weakness of the nape of the neck; dry, concussive cough, helminthiasis.

Staphisagria. Large abdomen; voracious and canine hunger; swelling of the submaxillary and cervical glands; frequent and constant attacks of catarrhs; unhealthy and readily ulcerating skin; fetid night sweats; frequent boils; the teeth, as they appear, turn dark or crumble; mouth aphthous, the gums appearing pale, spongy, and bleeding when touched; nostrils sore from catarrh, eyelids and corners of mouth ulcerated; fetid night sweats; abdomen swollen; colic after least food or drink; stools hot, smelling like rotten eggs or dysenteric: irritability.

Sulphur. Emaciation: skin dry, harsh, and wrinkled, giving the child an "old man" look: offensive odor of body, not removable by washing: eczema capitis, dry, easily bleeding, itching more at night, scratching relieves but causes bleeding: intertrigo, especially at anus: glands swollen, particularly cervical, axillary and inguinal; appetite voracious, child grasps at everything within reach and thrusts it into its mouth; abdomen distended and hard: constipation or diarrhoea slimy, green, watery, changeable, worse at night; sudden urging awakens him in the morning, followed by copious watery stools: restlessness at night, awakens screaming or on going to sleep is annoyed by sudden jerking up of the limbs, child cross, obstinate, cannot bear to be washed or bathed; dentition slow, bones and muscles develop tardily; easily fatigued; face pale and sunken, with deep, hollow eyes.

Sulphur. acid. Marasmus in restless, nervous, weakly children; they do everything hurriedly but without vim, bright-yellow mucous stools, which are stringy or chopped; aphthous sore mouth, yellow and painful, eruption like sulphur.

Theridion. Infantile atrophy, caries of bones, scrofulous enlargement of glands: constant desire for food and drink, but he does not know what, faintness after every exertion; weak, limbs tremble.

Viola tricolor. Crusta lactea, crusts thick, discharging copiously thick, yellow purulent matter, preventing sleep: urine profuse and of the odor of cat's urine; during sleep the hands twitch, thumbs clenched, face red, whole body hot and dry.

Compare Hectic Fever, Phthisis, and Scrofula.

ATROPHY OF THE SPINAL MARROW.

Tabes dorsalis. The following remedies are probably the most useful: 1. alum., n. vom., sulph.; 2. calc., carb. v., caust., cocc., natr., natr. m., phos., phos. ac., picric acid; 3. chin.? lach.? rhus? sabad.? sep.? sil.? staph.?

Jahr treated twenty-one cases of this disease, arising from onanism, accompanied with hypochondria, despondency, aversion to life. The characteristic unsteadiness of the limbs and the peculiar formication in the back were present in every case; and he gave in every case one dose of nux vom. $\frac{1}{2}$, allowing it to act from two to three weeks; and then sulphur $\frac{1}{2}$, allowing it to act from four to five weeks. If unpleasant symptoms remain, resort to calc., carb. veg., caust., phos. ac.

He never saw any benefit from china, nor from staphis, but they may prove useful in some cases.

Atrophy, with perfect paralysis of the lower extremities, has so far not shown itself very amenable to treatment, but when alum. does not help, he would propose: nux vom., sulph., n. vom., caust., n. vom., calc., carb. v., cocc., phos., rhus tox., in this order and alternation, in a single dose and at long intervals. We might study, also, ferr., kal., natr. m., n. mosch., sec. Tabes with paralysis of optic nerve: gels., cocc., lyc., plumb., rhus, sulph. As in all other chronic diseases, so is also in this disease constant change of remedies exceedingly hurtful.

We may mention the following remedies, which were found of service according to cases reported in our journals under the heading "Tabes Dorsalis:"

Æsculus hippocastanum. Constriction of the rectum; lameness in the back, and severe aching in the knees; great soreness of the spine; almost complete paralysis of the lower extremities.

Aluminium met. Euphrasia. Much thick yellow acrid discharge, making the lids sore and excoriated; blurring of the vision relieved by winking; thin watery bland discharge from the nose.

Hepar sulph. Inflammation of the lachrymal sac after pus has formed; biennorrhœa, with great sensitiveness to touch and to cold, with profuse discharge.

Mercurius. Thin and excoriating discharge; acrid coryza; nocturnal aggravation.

Petroleum. Discharge from the lachrymal sac, with roughness of the cheek; occipital headache, and other marked concomitant symptoms.

Pulsatilla. Profuse and bland discharge from the sac; profuse, thick, and bland discharge from the nose.

Silicea. Biennorrhœa, even with suppuration; the patient is sensitive to cold air, and wishes to keep warmly covered.

BLEPHAROPHTHALMIA, blepharitis.

§ 2. If the external surface of the lids be inflamed: acon, bell, hep, sulph.

If the INNER: acon, ars, bell, hep, hydrast, iris, merc, n. vom, phos, puls, rhus, sticta, sulph.

For inflammation of the MARGINS AND MEIBOMIAN GLANDS: acon, ars, bell, calc, cham, euphr, hep, merc, n. vom, puls, sep, sticta, sulph.

For STYES: puls, or staph, or alum. c, calc, ferr, thuj.

For inflammation of the UPPER LIDS: 1, ars, bry, calc, caust, croc, hep, phos, puls, rhus, sep, spig, staph, sulph; 2, baryt, bell, cham, chel, con, cycl, ferr, lyc, merc, sil.

For inflammation of the LOWER LIDS: 1, ars, bry, calc, dig, merc, natr. m, rhus, ruta, seneg, sep; 2, alum, bell, caust.

§ 3. For ACUTE BLEPHARITIS: acon, bell, cham, euphr, hep, merc, n. vom, puls.

For CHRONIC BLEPHARITIS: ant, ars, calc, chin, sulph.

Aconite. In the very first stage, when the lids are swollen, red, hard, with a tight feeling in them, great heat, dryness, burning and sensitiveness to air, caused by exposure to cold, dry wind; fever, with great heat and thirst.

Alumina. Chronic inflammation of the lids (particularly if complicated with granulations): burning and dryness of the lids, especially in the evening; itching, dryness, and excoriation of the canthi; absence of lachrymation; eyes generally better by being bathed.

Antimon. tart. Chronic blepharophthalmia of children; soreness of outer canthi; eyes red, inflamed, with itching and nightly agglution and morning photophobia; inflammation of lachrymal gland and duct.

Apis. Incipient stage, before the formation of pus: great puffiness of the lids, especially of the upper, with stinging pains: reddish-blue swelling of the lids: lachrymation profuse, hot, and burning: relief from cold water: chronic blepharitis, with thickening of the conjunctiva, with eversion of the lower lid, mucous secretion during night, agglutinating the lids, causing much pain when attempting to open them: granulations on edges of lids.

Argentum nitr. Lids very sore, red, and swollen; profuse discharge from the eyes, with firm agglutination in the morning: headache: pain in root of nose, etc.; relieved in the cold air, or by cold applications.

Arsenicum. Burning in the edematous swollen lids: lachrymation profuse, hot, and acrid, excoriating the lids and cheek: cachexia, with great restlessness, aggravation after midnight: thirst, etc.

Belladonna. Swelling and redness of the lids, with burning and itching; constant agglutination; bleeding on opening the eyes; eversion of the lids, or paralytic weakness.

Calcarea carb. Blepharitis in unhealthy, pot-bellied children, who sweat much about the head: lids red, swollen, and indurated; inflammation of the margins of the lids, causing loss of the eyelashes, with thick, purulent, excoriating discharge, and burning, sticky pain; aggravation in the morning, on moving the eyes, and in damp weather.

Causticum. Blepharitis, complicated with warts on the eyebrows and lids; amelioration in the open air.

Chamomilla. Cross, peevish children; great dryness of the edges, or else copious secretion of mucus; nightly agglutination; spasmodic closing or great heaviness of the lids.

Cinnabaris. Ciliary blepharitis, with dull pain over or around the eye, dryness of the eye, or considerable discharge.

Croton tig. Blepharitis, with vesicular eruption on the lids and face.

Euphrasia. Lids red, swollen; excoriated by the profuse, acrid, mucopurulent discharge; lachrymation profuse, acrid, and burning.

Graphites. Scrofulosis; blepharitis in chlorotic anemic subjects, with itching of lids; edges of lids swollen, red, covered with dry scurfs or scales, or ulcerated; outer canthi cracked and bleed easily; burning, biting, itching of lids, with constant desire to rub them; no trouble with the globe of the eye, disposition to styes; photophobia; wens and cystic tumors of eyelids; fissured eruption around mouth, nose, and ears.

Hepar sulphur. After the first stage, when suppuration threatens: lids inflamed, throbbing, aching, stinging, very sensitive to touch; amelioration by heat; eczema palpebrarum, where the scabs are thick and honeycombed.

Kali mur. Suppurating points on edges of eyelids; edges scabby; yellow crusts of pus on the edges of lids.

Mercur. Lids thick, swollen, red, especially along the base of tarsal cartilages, scurfy or ulcerated, sensitive to heat, cold, or touch: great photophobia, much acrid lachrymation; conjunctival discharge, requiring frequent wiping, gumming the lids in the morning; external canthi red, sore, and cracked; phlyctenular inflammation of conjunctiva or cornea, worse in evening after going to bed, from warmth in general, from glare of fire, or from any artificial light; excoriated nostrils; acrid nasal discharge; soft flabby tongue.

Mezereum. Eczema of the lids and head, characterized by thick hard scabs, from which pus exudes on pressure.

Natrum mur. Blepharitis; ulcers on cornea, with smarting-burning pain; feeling of sand in the eyes, mornings; acrid, excoriating tears, marked photophobia, with spasmodic closure of lids.

Nux vomica. Ciliary blepharitis, dependent on gastric disturbance, and worse in the morning.

Psorinum. Old chronic cases, with occasional exacerbations, with unhealthy, offensive discharges from the eyes.

Pulsatilla. Inflammatory redness of the conjunctiva or the margins; copious secretion of mucus; trichiasis; styes; nightly agglutinations; tense or drawing pains.

Rhus tox. Erysipelatous swelling of lids, with vesicles on the skin; chemosis; profuse lachrymation; aggravation at night, in cold, damp weather; relieved by warm applications.

Sepia. Sensation as if the swollen and inflamed lids were too tight and did not cover the ball; worse in the morning and evening; complication with uterine disorders.

Silicea. Blepharitis, with agglutination of the lids in the morning; objects appear as if seen through a fog; amelioration by wiping the eyes; fluent coryza.

Staphisagria. Dryness of the margins of the lids, with hard nodules on the borders, and destruction of the hair-follicles.

Sulphur. Inflammatory redness of the lids, with burning pains; secretion of mucus and eye-gum; great aversion to water, so that he cannot bear to have the eyes washed; eczema around the eye.

Thuja. Tinea ciliaris; dry, branlike eruptions on the lids, and fine scales covering the skin generally; eyes weak and suffused in tears.

Veratrum vir. Traumatic erysipelas of the lids, excessive dryness of the lids, with difficulty of moving them; great heat in the interior of the eyes.

We advise also, when the conjunctiva of the lids is ROUGHENED and VILLOUS: ars, bell., merc., sulph.; when covered with SMALL VESICLES: baryt., bell., con., hep., merc., rhus, sep.; for BLUENESS: ars., cocc., spig.; for BLOOD-REDNESS: merc., sulph.; for WEBLIKE APPEARANCE OF THE BLOODVESSELS: ars., bell., calc., con., euphr., hep., merc., puls., rhus, sulph.; for SWELLING: acon., ars., n. vom., rhus, sulph.; for ULCERATION: acon., ars., calc., euphr., hep., merc., puls., sep., sulph.; for ROSE COLOR: cocc., euphr., merc., puls., spig., sulph.; for REDNESS: acon., ars., bell., cocc., con., euphr., graph., hep., merc., puls., rhue, spig., sulph.; for VARICOSE STATE: puls.; for PUFFY APPEARANCE: acon., ars., rhus, sulph.

BLEPHAROPLEGIA, paralysis of the eyelids.

The best remedies are: 1, bell., nitr. a., sep., spig., atram., veratr., zinc.; 2, calc., cham., cocc., graph., hyosc., n. vom., op., phos., plumb., rhus.

BLEPHAROSPASMUS.

Principal remedies: 1, agar., bell., cham., coec., hep., hyosc., merc., natr. m., staph., stram., sulph.: 2, ars., calabar, coec., con., rhus, ruta, sep., sil., viol. od.

1, arn., bell., bry., hep., lyc., natr. mur., phos., sulph.; 2, abrot., alum., ant., calc., ham., iris, lach., led., merc., mez., mur. ac., nitr. ac., nux mos., nux vom., phos. ac., phyt., plumb., sars., sec., sep., sil., staph., tart., thuj.

Multiple boils: ars., nux v., sulph. Successive: ant crud., aster., merc., iod., sulph. ars. Diathesis: ars., auripigm., sulph. From exhaustion or blood poisoning: chin., lach. Boils or carbuncles aborting, leaving indurated masses, with asthenia and hectic fever: lach., chin.

LARGE boils require: 1, hep., lyc., nitr. ac., petrol., sarsap., sil.; 2, hyosc., natr., phos., phytol., tart.; 3, apis, croton., lach., merc.

SMALL boils: 1, arn., bell., sulph.; 2, grat., lyc., magn. c., natr. m., n. vom., zinc.

If they mature slowly give hep.; if very much inflamed and painful, give bell. or merc.

If large boils can be treated at the very commencement, calc sometimes eradicates the disposition.

If large boils threaten to become carbunculous, the best remedies are: 1, nux v., sil.; 2, ars., bell.; 3, caps., hyosc., lach., rhus, sec.; 4, apis? croton? hep.

For the disposition to boils give: lyc., n. vom., phos., phyt., sil., sulph.

For boils on forehead: ptelea, led., ammon. mur., phosph.

Where the hair begins to grow: calc., bell., when painful.

Around ear: ammon. c.

Before ear: carb. veg.

Behind ear: natr. c., phytol., picric ac.

On helix, large: sulph.

Boils, nose: alum., ammon. c., carbo anim., magn. m.

In the nose: alum., ammon. c., carbo anim., sil.

On the face, which do not mature: rhus rad.

BONES, DISEASES OF.

Osteitis, exostosis, caries, necrosis, and other diseases.

§ 1. The best remedies are : 1, ang., asa., aur., bell., calc., dulc., euphorb., lyc., merc., mez., phosph., phyt., ruta, sep., sil., sulph.; 2, chin., hecla, hep., lact. ac., nitr. ac., phosph. ac., rhus, rum., staph.

Angustura. Caries; particularly suitable to persons who drink too much coffee and have a morbid desire for it; easily irritated from the least provocation, caries, or very painful ulcers, which affect the bones and pierce them to the marrow, crumbling of pieces of bone.

Asafoetida. Inflammation and caries of the bones, with thin, fetid pus, bluish redness and swelling of the parts; ulcers with high hard edges; sensitive to touch; easily bleeding; soft enlargement of bones; also curvature; caries after abuse of mercury; drawing pains in the jaws and copious salivation.

Aurum. Secondary syphilis; abuse of mercury, with looseness of the teeth, ulcers of the gums, fetid breath, and heat in the head; osteitis and caries, especially of the palate and nasal bones; ozæna, with excessively fetid discharge; swelling of periosteum of forearms and thigh-bones; exostosis of skull and other bones; boring in the bones, pains excruciating; awakened at night by the bone-pains, which are so severe that he does not want to live.

Baryta carb. Tearing and tension in the long bones; boring in the bones; glandular diseases, suitable for infancy and old age.

Belladonna. Curvature of the lumbar vertebra; exostosis on the forehead, with caries of the palate; red shining swelling of the joints; pains along the periosteum.

Calcarea carb. Curvature of the spine and long bones; crackling and crepitation in the joints, as if they were dry; swelling and softening of the bones, with curvature; exostosis and caries of the extremities; necrosis; caries of the teeth of children; toothache increased by draft or cold; rachitis.

Calcarea phosph. Fistulous ulcers on the ankles; edges callous; ichor putrid.

Calcarea fluorica. Osteosarcoma; nodes and hard bone-swelling.

Carbo animalis. Gummata; benignant suppurations change into ichorous onus; scurvy; rending-tearing pains, caused by salt food.

with bleeding of gums and looseness of teeth, the teeth being very sensitive to the least cold.

China. Carbonaceous caries, commencing with a black spot, most observed in paor persons, with profuse suppuration and profuse sweat; humid gangrene; parts turn black.

Dulcamara. Exostosis, with ulcers on arms, in consequence of suppressed itch; exostosis on upper part of right tibia, with bluish-red spots, suppurating lumps.

Euphorbium. Caries and other diseases of the bones; burning in bones.

Fluoric acid. Diseases of the bones, particularly of the long bones; caries and necrosis, especially when they are of a paoric or syphilitic nature.

Gettysburg. Ulceration of joints, involving the bones, with thin ichorous discharge (sil.).

Hecla lava. Osteitis; periostitis; exostosis; osteosarcoma; rachitis. It affects mostly the bones of the head, jaws, teeth, and legs. Difficulty of dentition.

Lactic acid. Chronic osteitis; exostosis, especially of the thighs; chickenbreast.

Lycopodium. Arthritic nodosities; softening of the bones; caries and fistulous ulcers, with hard, red, shining, everted edges, and inflammatory swelling of the affected parts; bleeding easily; nocturnal bone-pains, especially at the end of the inflamed bones.

Mercurius. Bone diseases; worse at night; the bones feel as if they were broken.

Mezereum. Pain in the periosteum of the long bones, especially the tibia; worse at night in bed and in damp weather, when the least touch is unbearable; one side is more affected than the other. Rapid decay of the teeth. Serofulosis and syphilis.

Nitric acid. Secondary syphilis; carious ulcers, with irregular edges; exuberant granulations, stinging pains, and easily bleeding; carious teeth, loose and ready to fall out; gums easily bleeding.

Oleum jecoris. All kinds of serofulous diseases of the bones, as arthroace, spina ventosa, caries, etc.; fistulous ulcers, with raised edges, easily bleeding and discharging fetid ichor.

Phosphorus. Exostosis, especially of the skull, with tearing-boring pains, worse at night; swelling of the tibia; disease of hip-joint, oozing out a watery pus; swelling of the clavicle.

Phosph. acid. Caries of scorbutic patients; gums bleed easily; pains worse after cold or hot; sensation of coldness in the roots of the molars; arthroace of children, when after external injury of the periosteum there remains a feeling as if the bone were scraped with a knife; interstitial osteitis, serofulous, syphilitic, or mercurial; periosteal inflammation, with burning gnawing-tearing pains; external parts turn black.

Platinic chloride. Caries of the tarsus.

Phytolacca. Syphilitic bone diseases; ulcers, with lardaceous bottom, and with an appearance as if punched out.

Psorinum. Caries, with deeply penetrating ichorous ulcers, especially in pale, sickly, delicate children, when other remedies fail to improve permanently.

Pulsatilla. For curvature of the spine, with open fontanelles, in children; scraping or tingling pain in periosteum; jerking boring in bones.

Rhus tox. Crusty caries, always combined with tetter, in rheumatic or gouty patients.

Ruta. Bruised sensation in hip-bones, back, and coccyx; bruises and other mechanical injuries of bones and periosteum; periostitis, with erysipelatous inflammation of external parts.

Silicea. Indicated in nearly all diseases of the bones; fistulous openings; discharge offensive; parts around hard, swollen, bluish-red; fibrous parts of joints, especially of the knee, inflamed; all excretions offensive, pus, stool, sweat of feet, etc.

Staphisagria. Pseudarthrosis; osteitis, especially of the phalanges of the fingers; arthritic nodosities on the joints.

Stillingia. Scrofulous periostitis.

Sulphur. Scrofulous and rickety complaints; curvature, softening, swelling, caries, and other bone-diseases.

Theridion. Scrofula, when other remedies fail, rachitis, caries, necrosis, to reach the root of the evil, and destroy cause.

§ 3. a. For INTERSTITIAL DISTENSION OF THE BONES: 1, asa, lyc., merc., sil., staph.; 2, calc., mez., phos., phos. ac., sulph.; 3, aur., fluor. ac.

Aconite. Short, dry, titillating cough, resulting from an exposure to dry, cold air, increased by every respiration; painful sensitiveness of the affected parts, aggravated by breathing, coughing, and talking; dry cough morning and evening; sleep constantly disturbed by the cough; cough dry and tickling at night. Incipient stages of catarrhal and inflammatory conditions, with fever, great restlessness from exposure, whereby the perspiration is suddenly suppressed. Affection of larynx and bronchi.

Allium cepa. Cough with coryza, acrid discharge from the nose, bland lachrymation. Smarting and redness of the eyes; cough worse in the evening and at night; amelioration in the fresh air; left side of the head more affected than the right one; sneezing as often as he takes a long inspiration; cough worse in the evening, with sensation as if it would tear the larynx. Disease goes from left to right.

Arsenicum. Dry, violent cough, with burning in the chest, worse at night, preventing sleep; he cannot lie down from fear of suffocation, the cough is followed by increased difficulty in breathing, great exhaustion, with sinking of the vital forces; burning and dryness in the throat and larynx; cough excited by smoky sensation, or as of vapors of sulphur in larynx, and constant titillation in larynx.

Arsenicum iod. Catarrhal affections of the respiratory organs with profuse, irritating watery discharge : pain in head as if from taking cold : hawking up thick mucus and clotted blood mixed : abdomen hard and distended with flatus : diarrhoea diurna with urging : itching of skin.

Belladonna. Dry, barking, spasmodic cough, in paroxysms, with titillation in trachea and bronchi ; aggravation at night, and when continuous : sensation as of having swallowed dust ; amelioration from anything cold : sensation of constriction in throat, difficulty of swallowing ; congestion to the head : stitches in chest ; short, hurried, anxious breathing, attacks of cough, ending with sneezing.

Bryonia. Concussive cough, dry, from the sternal region all over the chest, as if it would burst, with scanty, yellow, or blood-streaked thin mucus, frequently with vomituration and vomiting, especially after eating ; difficulty of breathing, pleuritic stitches, producing pain in the head and chest, worse at night in bed, compelling one to spring up and assume an erect posture at once ; rheumatic muscular pains.

Cactus grand. Especially for children ; catarrh with mucous râles, great anguish, suffocation, and palpitation of heart ; oppression of the chest, as from a great weight, difficult breathing, uneasiness, as if an iron band prevented normal motion of chest ; spasmodic cough, with thick, yellow sputa, like boiled starch ; bronchial catarrh from overaction of the heart.

Chamomilla. Dry cough, worse at night, by anger and cold air, relief from warmth and warm drinks : constant irritation to cough beneath the upper part of the sternum ; expectoration only in daytime, none at night ; oppression of the chest, as if it were not wide enough, or as if the throat were throttled, with constant desire to cough ; oversensitiveness of the nerves of women and children.

Chelidonium. Capillary bronchitis ; difficult respiration with short fits of coughing and rattling of mucus in chest ; bright-yellow thin stools ; bronchitis of persons of blond complexion, disposed to diarrhoea, failure of strength, sensation of throbbing in lungs ; violent chills in the evening.

Cina. Great bronchial irritation of children ; cough nearly constant, dry, short, spasmodic, with the feeling as if something would rise up in the throat, which he tries to swallow ; short, hacking cough at night ; mucous râles in the bronchi ; moaning at night, with restlessness and cries.

Conium. Dry spot in the larynx, with almost constant irritation to cough, powerful, spasmodic paroxysms of cough, excited by itching and tickling in the chest and throat, worse at night, and when lying down ; unrefreshing sleep, broken by heavy dreams ; internal heat, with thirst ; headache, aggravated by the least noise ; great lassitude.

Dulcamara. Cough from damp, cold atmosphere, or from getting wet ; patients have to cough a long time to expel phlegm, especially infants and old people ; bronchitis, with offensive-smelling night-sweats.

Euphrasia. Cough, with coryza, heat, and sensitiveness of the nose ; redness of the eyes ; photophobia and lachrymation. No cough at night, but severe in the morning ; aggravation in the fresh air ; the right side of the head is more affected than the left side ; cough on rising in the morning, continuing until lying down again; can scarcely get breath; difficult expectoration during the day.

Eupatorium perf. Catarrhal fever; intense bronchial irritation, with severe cough, rough, scraping; chest sore, must support it with the hands; flushed face, tearful eyes; heart feels as if in too small a place; it feels as if something was pressing against the heart; palpitation.

Ferrum phos. Bronchitis of young children; acute, short, spasmodic and very painful cough, with ejection of urine with each cough (during pregnancy); cough in paroxysms; most at night and during the day when asleep.

Hyoscyamus. Dry, convulsive cough, especially at night, beginning as soon as he lies down, and continuing to morning, preventing sleep; paroxysmal cough, severely shaking the chest, abdomen, the whole body, and causes a sense of excoriation in the abdominal muscles; dry, hacking or spasmodic cough, worse lying, better sitting up; worse at night, after eating, drinking, talking, or singing. During the cough the face reddens and respiration may be arrested; vomiting of white mucus. After the cough, exhaustion. Elongation of the uvula. Nervous patients.

Ipecacuanha. Mucous and sibilant râles in the chest, especially of children; copious secretion of mucus, which nearly suffocates him during the cough; face livid during cough; short respiration and frontal sweat after every cough; spasmodic or catarrhal titillation, with dyspnoea, nausea, vomituration, especially at the end of a paroxysm, or with expectoration of a scanty, albuminous, nauseous mucus; gastric catarrhs.

Lycopodium. Severe bronchitis; short cough in children, worse during sleep, and in every exertion; dyspnoea worse when lying on the back; wheezing breathing in the daytime, with sensation of too much mucus in the chest; loud rattling; cough worse from 4 to 8 in the evening, from exertion, stooping and lying down, from eating and drinking cold things; fanlike motion of the alae nasi.

Mercur. sol. Dry cough, with fluent coryza or diarrhoea; cough worse in the evening and at night; cough as if the chest would burst, excited by a tickling and sensation of dryness in the chest; respiration short, rapid, oppressed, chilliness at night, especially inside; foul breath, aphthae, salivation; tongue coated with a thick white coating; throat swollen, dry, and as if excoriated; deglutition painful, especially of liquids; copious sweating without relief.

Nux mosch. Rheumatism after getting the feet wet; dry cough, worse by the heat of the bed; dry skin; dyspnoea, with feeling of weight in the chest, as if it were too narrow, after cold washing; he must swallow the loosened phlegm.

Nux vomica. Short, slow, stridulous breathing; cough dry, fatiguing, from titillation in the larynx, worse after midnight, and in the morning, with pain in the stomach, and soreness in the abdominal walls, worse after eating; with every cough the head seems to split; expectoration painful, consisting of thick, foamy, white or green mucus.

Phosphorus. Great oppression; anguish and heat in the chest; sensation of pressure; fulness and extreme constriction in the upper part of the chest. Cough dry, short, barking, excited by a tickling in the chest, and followed by expectoration of stringy sputa, and of a salty taste; sputa frothy, bloody. Burning, excoriating pain in the chest, especially on the left side, on which the patient cannot lie. Speaking excites laryngeal and tracheal cough. Severe palpitations, with precordial anguish. Aggravation during the night.

Pulsatilla. Easy and copious expectoration of thick, yellow sputa. At night and in bed cough dry, violent, spasmodic, so that he has to sit up, with vomituration and vomiting; tongue heavily coated; breath offensive; countenance pale, alternating with redness; fluent coryza, with loss of smell and taste.

Rumex crispus. Extreme sensitiveness of the respiratory organs to every irregularity of the atmosphere, so that the patient prefers to have the head covered; frequent feeling as if he could not get another breath; suffocating feeling even down to the epigastrium, as if tough phlegm must work up with the cough; hoarse, barking cough, in attacks every night at 11 P.M. and 2 and 5 A.M. (children); dry, incessant, fatiguing cough, caused by tickling in throat-pit, extending to behind sternum and to stomach. Soreness in larynx and behind sternum; rawness under clavicles; stitches in left lung; pain in stomach; hawking, with burning soreness in larynx, later in left bronchus, renewed by strong exhalation or scraping.

Rhus tox. Dry, racking, hard, rheumatic cough; greatly aggravated at night; brought on by cold, damp weather; anxious, as if not able to draw a long breath; the air-passages seem stuffed up; the cough dry, tearing, caused by tickling in the bronchi; worse evening and before midnight, or in the morning soon after waking, in the fresh air; amelioration by warmth and motion; cough, with a taste of blood, although no blood is to be seen.

Spongia. Laryngo- and tracheo-bronchitis. Croupy, dry, sibilant cough, continuing day and night, in long-lasting, distressing paroxysms; labored, crowing, wheezing inspirations, sometimes accompanied by râles. On every slight exposure the cough returns violently, with pressing dyspnoea, sibilant rhonchi, and violent, convulsive cough. Dry bronchitis, with terrible, hard, dry, racking cough; much dyspnoea and slight expectoration, worse in hot room, better by eating over so little.

Tartarus emet. Large collection of mucus in the bronchial tubes, expectorated with great difficulty; cough rattling, sounding loose without being loose; cough, with vomiting of food after eating; stertorous, tracheal, and bronchial rattling, so that he is obliged to sit up from fear of suffocation. In children during teething, and in old people frequently indicated.

Verbascum. Dry, hoarse cough; worse at night; waking the child from his sleep.

BRONCHITIS CHRONICA.

Allium sativum. Herpetic constitution; the poison attacks the respiratory and digestive mucous membranes; chronic, pulmonary catarrh; dry cough, from scraping in the larynx; afterward glutinous, bloody, or purulent sputa of foul odor. Dyspnoea, as if the anterior chest were compressed; pains in chest, so that he cannot expand it; stitches in shoulderblades and pectoral muscles, increased by cough and deep inspiration; aggravated by fresh, cold air, by atmospheric changes, after rest, and from washing the head. General chilliness, with redness of the face; sour, fetid sweat in the afternoon; general lassitude.

Ammon. carb. Copious bronchial secretion, with great difficulty of expectoration and bronchial dilatation. Numerous coarse rattles, and yet he experiences no necessity to clear his chest. Cough in the morning or at night, disturbing sleep, with spasmodic oppression; incessant cough, excited by a sensation as if down in the larynx; worse after eating, talking, in the open air, and on lying down, followed by exhaustion. Low vitality, and atony of the bronchial tubes. Catarrh of old people, beginning with the setting in of winter and continuing till summer heat prevails.

Ammon. iod. Chronic bronchitis, with swelling and induration of the glands, furuncles.

Ammon. mur. Pulmonary catarrhs, with constant hacking and scraping as if a foreign body were in the throat, but he only brings up small pieces of white mucus. Dry cough; worse evenings and at night, when lying on his back or on right side; worse after rest, after a cold drink, or when taking a deep inspiration; stitches in the chest and hypochondria; oppression when moving the upper extremities; burning in the chest, and coarse, rattling murmurs; heat at night, followed by sweat.

Ammon. phosph. Bronchitis chronica arthritica. When patients, suffering from gout or rheumatism, are attacked with bronchial catarrhs or bronchitis.

Arsenicum. Chronic bronchitis of the aged. Dry catarrh, not of recent origin; dyspnoea, from more or less extensive emphysema and consecutive pulmonary congestions. Difficulty of breathing continues during the intervals upon coughing, and returns periodically, especially at night; bronchial secretion scanty, with a sensation of dryness in the respiratory lining; titillation in the trachea and under the sternum, chiefly at night, provoking a dry wheezing, often very violent cough, followed after awhile by expectoration of a white, frothy, sometimes sticky mucus, followed by an increase of difficulty in breathing, aggravation after eating and in the afternoon; emaciation.

Asarum europ. Short respiration, with suffocation, especially at night, pressure over the whole chest; burning in the right side of chest, more outside than inside; dull stitches in the lungs, especially during inspiration, which provoke cough in the larynx; expectoration of mucous sputa; a tendency to vomiting and diarrhoea.

Badiaga. Chronic bronchial catarrh with excessive mucous secretion, so that talking or coughing causes the mucus to fly from his mouth, and gagging and vomiting (chel.).

Baryta carb. Useful in infancy and old age; to the former with indurated tonsils and engorged cervical glands; to the latter when enfeebled by antecedent diseases. Cough all the night, with sensation of excoriation in the chest, mucous expectoration; oppression as from a weight in the chest, with short and sometimes difficult respiration; stitches in the left chest, relieved by hot applications; hoarseness or aphonia; general chilliness in daytime; heat at night preventing sleep, followed by weakening night sweats.

Calcarea carb. Chronic bronchitis, complicated with emphysema; bronchial dilatation, with the characteristic fetid sputa; sadness and anxiety: cough dry at night, worse during day: cough dry, violent, even spasmodic, with titillation, as if from feather-dust, in the throat, especially in the evening, in bed, or at night during sleep. pains and stitches in the side and chest, or moist cough, with mucous rattling, and thick, yellowish, fetid expectoration; atony of the alimentary canal.

Calcareo iodat. Chronic bronchitis of scrofulous children, when the cervical glands are much swollen, the cough rather dry, and when there is ground for suspicion of enlargement of the bronchial glands; thin subjects.

Calcareo sulph. In children, severe cough, with malaise in the chest; green stools; small warts on fingers and thumbs; herpetic eruptions on the face, ears, chest, and hands.

Cannabis ind. Humid asthma, it requires a great effort to take a deep breath, feels as if suffocated and has to be fanned; rough cough with scraping immediately under sternum.

Carbo veg. Chronic bronchitis of aged people, with profuse expectoration, or with profuse mucous accumulation, with imperfect power of expectoration; blue nails and cold extremities; poor, exhausted constitutions, with great torpor of the bronchial lining; constant pain or soreness in the chest; burning excoriating pressure in the chest, shoulders, and back; oppression of heart, with palpitations; several paroxysms of spasmodic cough in daytime, or only in the evening, aggravated by fresh air, or by going from a warm room into a cold one.

Causticum. Violent, racking cough, especially at night, with pain in the throat and head, but he is obliged to swallow the sputum; it comes up apparently with cough, but it cannot be spit out; greasy taste of the sputa; cough after getting warm in bed, or after recovering the natural heat from a colder state; cough, with pain in the hip; cough immediately relieved by a cold drink; spitting of urine with the cough; he cannot cough deep enough to get relief; weakness of lower extremities.

China. Chronic catarrh, with mucous riles, coarse and loud, cough when the head is low; it must be somewhat raised to feel easier; cough after eating; weakness and loss of strength, anemia and edema.

Coccus cacti. Chronic bronchitis, complicated with gravel; acid diathesis; brickdust sediment in the urine, adhering to the vessel; cough, with expectoration of a large quantity of viscid, albuminous mucus; cough, with constant tickling in the bronchi, about their bifurcation, caused by a feeling as if a plug of mucus was moving in the chest in spite of the profuse expectoration; difficult breathing; dyspnea, and oppression of the lower part of the chest; cough worse when waking in the morning, clear, dry, and barking, followed by slight expectoration of thick, viscid mucus, or so violent as to cause vomiting, with the characteristic sputa.

Conium. Chronic cough, from enlargement of the bronchial glands, with irritation of the tracheal and laryngeal lining; spasmodically tearing cough, worse in the evening and at night; aggravated by talking and laughing. An unbearable titillation in the pit of throat, with lisping voice, causing some paroxysms of coughing, with headache and pains all over the chest; scrofulosis.

Drosera. Bronchitis of old age, in connection with emphysema or bronchiectasy: nocturnal paroxysms; worse from lying down: the cough seems to come from the abdomen, shaking all the muscles of the chest and body, with much exhaustion after the attack; expectoration of yellow mucus or pus; paroxysms of cough, from one to two hours apart, worse at night, especially in spring and fall.

Gummi amm. Bronchorrhœa. Respiration short, quick, with anguish, especially at night: oppression and obstruction in the chest from the accumulation of mucus: stitches in the left side of the chest when taking a deep inspiration: tickling in throat without cough; frontal headache, dimness of sight, in rheumatic or gouty subjects.

Hepar sulph. Mostly indicated when the cough enters the stage of resolution: a rattling, choking, moist cough, depending on an organic or catarrhal basis; worse towards morning and after eating; fatiguing, hollow cough, as soon as he uncovers any part of his body. Scrofulosis.

Hydrastis. Bronchitis of old people, with great debility, loss of appetite, cachectic state, great weakness; chronic cough, accompanied by febrile paroxysms evenings and night, and excessive prostration; sputa thick, yellowish, very tenacious, stringy, and profuse.

Hyoscyamus. As an intercurrent remedy with dry cough, worse at night and in a recumbent position, less when sitting up; titillation and cough in larynx and bronchi; worse from eating or drinking.

Inula helen. Coarse cough, with abundant expectoration and abundant leucorrhœa; general debility and languor of the digestive organs; engorged glands, or psoric cutaneous diseases.

Iodine. Delicate constitutions, with quick pulse, tendency to bronchial and pulmonary congestion and hæmorrhage. It suits overgrown young people, with weak chest and dry cough, subject to spitting of blood and cardiac palpitation; swelling of the cervical and bronchial glands, nocturnal sweats and progressive emaciation, notwithstanding the good appetite and regular function of the bowels; cough from every effort to expand the chest; much dry cough; suffocative feeling; shortness of breath at the least exertion.

Kali bichrom. Bronchitis oscillating between acute and torpid inveterate bronchitis, with a certain degree of irritation, vascular congestion, and moderate mucopurulent secretion, frequently accompanied by periosteal or rheumatic pains. Cough resonant, whistling, with nausea and expectoration of thick mucus; whistling, loud rattling in the chest; difficult expectoration of white, tough mucus, adherent, filamentous, sometimes fetid; burning sensation in trachea and bronchi; tickling in the throat, which causes cough, hoarseness, and aphony.

Kali brom. Chronic catarrh with purulent sputa of a slate-color; acne of the face; pruritus of the genital organs; dry, fatiguing cough at intervals of two or three hours, with difficult respiration, followed by vomiting of mucus and food, worse at night and when lying down; tightness of the chest when breathing.

Kali carb. Dry hard cough, especially worse at three in the morning; violent cough, but the dislodged mucus falls back in the stomach; night sweats; hectic fever; spasmodic cough, with nausea and vomiting of mucus.

Kreasot. Violent winter cough of old people with spasmodic turns at night and copious sputa of light-colored mucus; pressure on sternum, especially when turning over in bed in the morning. Teething cough of children (Teste).

Lachesis. Cough excited by even light pressure upon the larynx or as soon as he falls asleep, often with choking as if suffocation were inevitable; after a long, dry, and wheezing paroxysm of cough there is suddenly a profuse expectoration of frothy tenacious mucus, which gives great relief; cough at night and during sleep awaking him, and not ceasing till he sits up, with desire for fresh air; coryza fluent, watery, and persistent; the cough is attended with pains in the throat, eyes, ears, and head.

Lycopodium. Bronchitis, with expectoration yellow, like lemon, with hepatic and gastric affection, bilious urine, and constipation; continual pain under the right ribs and in epigastrium, with yellowish color of the face; grayish-yellow or dirty expectoration, with stertor and stitches in chest; respiration short before and during the paroxysm of coughing; as soon as cough ceases respiration is more normal; dry teasing cough in feeble emaciated boys, of weak muscular development, but of sensitive mind (florid scrofula); emphysema; dilatation of air-tubes and senile catarrh; constant tickling cough, worse at night; numerous loud mucous râles, with rare and scanty sputa, atony of the alimentary canal, and acid dyspepsia.

Natrum mur. Dry cough from tickling in the throat or pit of stomach, day and night; lungs feel raw and sore from continued coughing; headache from coughing, as if the head would burst; stitches in the chest when taking a long breath or coughing, with involuntary flow of urine, with tickling in throat when talking; cough excited by every empty deglutition; cough, with vomiting of food; physical and moral depression.

Nitric acid. Chronic winter cough; awakens often all stopped up with mucus, must expectorate before he can breathe easily, short breath, panting during work.

Nux vomica. Chronic bronchitis of old people; rough, dry, and deep cough from dryness of larynx, with tension and pain in the larynx and bronchi; accumulation of tenacious mucus in the throat, which the patient is unable to detach; convulsive racking cough, caused by irritation in the throat, especially mornings or at night in bed, after a meal, from exercise, thinking, or reading; cough, with vomiting or with bleeding from the nose or mouth.

Phosphorus. Subacute attacks of bronchitis in emaciated, cachectic, or young overgrown invalids; bronchopulmonary catarrhs from dilatation or fatty degeneration of the heart. Cough abrupt, rough, sharp, dry, between each coughing-spell a short interval; dry tickling cough in the evening, with tightness across the chest and expectoration in the morning. pain in chest when coughing, relieved by external pressure; trembling of the whole body while coughing; cough gets worse when other people come into the room; tingling, soreness, and rawness in the air-passages; dry cough, with expectoration of viscid or bloody mucus. Dilatation of the bronchi.

Phosphoric acid. Exceedingly violent capillary bronchitis; fever with evening exacerbations, dyspnoea, pressive pain under sternum; violent sneezing, great thirst; violent coryza; purulent or mucropurulent expectoration; cough with hawking of mucus in little balls.

Sanguinaria. Dry cough, with considerable tickling in the pit of the throat, a crawling sensation extending downwards beneath the sternum. Severe cough, causing considerable pain beneath the upper part of the sternum without expectoration. Teasing, dry, hacking cough, with dryness of the air-passages. Sensation of constriction, with inclination to take a deep breath, which only increases the constriction, and causes a tearing pain through the chest, particularly the right one; chest sore and painful to the touch (myalgic pains); painful sighing respiration.

Scilla marit. Extreme prostration; chronic catarrh, with profuse expectoration of a whitish and viscid mucus; tickling, worrying, and constantly harassing cough of greater or less severity, day and night; sometimes loose, at other times dry; watery mucous expectoration, sometimes tinged red; profuse urination; drinking of cold water always brings on a severe cough. Bronchitis of old feeble people with dyspnoea, heavy mucous râles; scanty action of kidneys, with some irritation of bladder.

Senega. Accumulation of masses of thick mucus in the bronchi, which can only be expectorated with difficulty, with irritation of the bowels and a tendency to diarrhoea: cough of old people, who expectorate large quantities of watery mucus; small, hardly perceptible pulse, great debility; somnolence; sensitiveness of the walls of the chest when moving the arms, especially the left one; burning pain in the heart.

Sepia. Dry, hard, short, spasmodic cough, preventing sleep: in the morning expectoration of foul-smelling, yellowish-green sputa. During the night in bed, especially before midnight, spasmodic cough, increasing till he expectorates. Constant hawking in order to detach the adherent mucosities; after the cough oppression; nausea during and after the cough, even vomiting. He cannot lie on left side. Sour perspiration in the morning; loss of appetite; general lassitude. Aggravation by cold damp weather.

Silicea. Bronchial affections of rachitic children; obstinate cough, provoked by cold drinks, with copious, transparent, or purulent expectoration; pains, soreness, and weakness of the chest, relieved by inhaling moist warm air; laryngeal morning cough, commencing immediately on rising, with tough, gelatinous, and very tenacious expectoration, loss of breath when lying on the back or stooping; cough provoked by cold drinks.

Sulphur. Inveterate bronchitis, with arterial and venous vascular irritability; great impressionability of the skin, which suffers from the slightest atmospheric variations, with exacerbation of all pectoral symptoms; chronic catarrhs of long standing, with secretion of large quantities of tenacious mucus (thickening of the lining membrane). Suffocation with palpitation; pains in the chest during cough, aggravated by the horizontal position; cough, with nausea and vomiting; heaviness of head and dim vision.

Tartarus emet. Bronchitis of infants and old people; profuse mucus with feeble expulsive power, rattling of phlegm in chest very audible, with increased irritation to cough. Sudden and alarming symptoms of suffocation; oppression and short breathing, so that he has to sit up; fits of suffocation in the evening and morning, in bed; accumulation of mucus in the chest with râles; cough after midnight, so that he throws up his supper. Coarse rattling in the chest and expectoration of thick white mucus, often in lumps, after great efforts to raise it. Adynamic state of old people with great muscular weakness; light deliria and coma, dry tongue; tendency to diarrhoea; hopeless and desponding.

Terebinthina. Bronchial catarrh of the aged with mucopurulent sputa.

Yerba santa (Eriodictyon). Constant irritating cough with great soreness of chest; a feeling of excoriation, rawness, and sensation of great hyperaesthesia of the mucous surfaces; after a while a great weakness of voice, profuse mucopurulent expectoration, soreness and cramp in chest; loss of appetite; emaciation; especially affecting right bronchi.

BURNS.

Acon., ars., asafoet., canth., carb. veg., caust., lach., sapo, stram., urt. Relief may be sometimes obtained by covering the burned surface with linen rags soaked in a saturated solution of alum, and the air kept off by allowing the linen to remain in close contact with the burn, and keeping it wet with the solution; others recommend Cosmoline or Vaseline, similarly applied, or the following ointment may be used after washing the scald with warm Castile soapsuds: Glycerin, 5 ounces; white of eggs, 4 ounces; Tincture of arnica, 3 ounces. Mix the Glycerin and Albumen intimately, and then add gradually the Arnica. Apply freely on rags, two or three times a day. Carbolated cotton is also an excellent dressing, and in the hurry of the first application after the accident, cotton batting alone has done well. The French prefer crude Petroleum as an application. Prof. Hewson highly recommends to cover the burned surface with powdered earth, and cover it with blue tissue-paper, and all to be retained by spiral bandaging (Am. Observer, viii).

Aconite. Either immediately after the accident, on account of its nervous symptoms, or when reaction has taken place, and there is dry burning heat of the skin; head hot and painful; face red; pulse hard, frequent, and contracted, great restlessness; fear of death, etc.

Arnica. Inflammation of the skin and cellular tissue, with extreme tenderness and painfulness, too often in severe burns the whole nervous system receives a shock which arnica will remove.

Carbo veg. Extreme cases in which the pain is so excessive as to threaten the complete extinction of life.

Coffea. Extreme sensitiveness, especially in children: it will promote sleep.

Hepar and China. For excessive suppuration, which by its drain may endanger restoration.

Opium. Especially in children, with a disposition to convulsions and other spasmodic affections; often the result of the fright from the accident.

Acetic acid. Cancer of stomach, ulcerative gnawing pain at one spot in stomach with agony and depression, preventing sleep; severe burning pain in stomach and abdomen, vomiting of yellow, yeastlike matter, of blood; eyes sunken and surrounded by a dark circle; face pale and waken; tongue pale and flabby.

Arsen. alb. Foul, destructive, easily bleeding, and cancerous ulcers, with burning and corrosive pains in the interior of the affected parts: terrible darting and lancinating pains through them: burning discharges, which may be thin or thick, brown or black, extremely offensive, worse after midnight.

Aurum. The womb is prolapsed and indurated; pain like that of a bruise, with shooting and drawing, and the mind constantly dwells on suicide. Cancer of the palate and nasal bones, or of the nose; pus greenish, ichorous, and putrid; cancer of stomach in last stage, when there are only few subjective symptoms.

Belladonna. Scirrhus indurations; cancerous ulcers, burning when touched, black crust of blood in the bottom of the ulcer; pus scanty. Pains come suddenly and leave suddenly.

Carbo animalis. Cachexia fully developed. Scirrhus cancer on the forehead, sudden and short aching from colloid cancer in the pit of the stomach, on taking a deep inspiration, clawing and griping in stomach; violent pressing in loins, small of back, and thighs during menses, with chilliness and yawning; weak empty feeling in the pit of the stomach; it checks the putrid taste, the waterbrash, and contracting, spasmodic burning; scirrhus mammae with dirty bluish, loose skin or red spots on skin, burning and drawing towards axilla; axillary glands indurated.

Causticum. Patient cannot bear the pressure of the clothes on the stomach; the lightest food or even the smallest quantity causes a violent lancinating pain in the stomach; scirrhus of the lips, with itching and soreness, which when ulcerated has a violent burning pain; pus bloody, or greenish, or corroding, or thin, watery, and yellow.

Chelidonium. Old, spreading, putrid, carcinomatous ulcers; the pain in the stomach is of a gnawing or digging character; nausea, with sensation of heat in the stomach; burning in stomach.

Clematis. For softened scirrhus uteri, with corrosive leucorrhœa and lancinating pains.

Conium. Bleeding of the ulcers, with a secretion of fetid ichor; a portion becomes gangrenous; concealed cancer of bone; cancerous swelling and induration of glands; cancer of the lips; spreading cancerous ulcers in the face; contractive spasmodic pains in the stomach; cancer and cancerous ulcers after contusions; burning stitches; stinging in the affected parts.

Cundurango. Is only efficacious in open cancer and cancerous ulcers, where it effectually moderates the severity of the pains. It does not act on scirrhus and indurated parts.

Galium aperinum. Epithelioma, when the disease is slow in its progress, and where there are nodular deposits near the surface.

Graphites. Hot and painful vagina; swelling of the lymphatic vessels and mucous follicles; the neck of the uterus is hard and swollen, with tuberculous nodes and cauliflower excrescences; great weight in the abdomen on rising, with fainting sort of weakness and aggravations of the pains, delaying menses, with aggravations of the pains shortly before and at the appearance of the menses; discharge of black, lumpy, fetid blood; stitches shooting through the abdomen as far as the thighs; burning and stitching pains; constipation; livid complexion; sad and anxious mood; constipation. Frequently useful in connection with ovarian diseases.

Hepar s. c. Corrosive pain in a cancerous ulcer, bleeding at the slightest touch; yellow skin and complexion; eruptions around the mouth, lips, and chin, which are converted into cancerous ulcers, rapidly spreading; pressure and dull aching pain in the stomach after moderate eating; cancerous ulcer of the mamma, with stinging burning in the edges; pus, copious or scanty, smells like old cheese.

Hydrastis. Recommended for all sorts of cancer, but it will only act as a regulator for the faulty nutrition, and thus exerts a favorable influence in soft or encephaloid cancer.

Iodium. Uterine hæmorrhage after every stool, with cutting in the abdomen, and pains in the loins and small of the back; great weakness during the menses, particularly in going upstairs; long-lasting uterine hæmorrhage; dwindling and falling away of the mammæ; aggravation from external warmth; complete prostration of strength and general emaciation; violent vomiting, renewed by eating; pulsations in the pit of the stomach.

Kreasotum. Shooting stitches in the vagina; burning and swelling of the external and internal labia; profuse discharge of dark coagulated blood, or of a pungent bloody ichor, preceded by pain in the back; aggravation of the pains at night; fainting on rising from the bed; she always feels chilly at the menstrual period; complexion livid; disposition sad, irritable; cauliflower excrescences; wretched complexion, great debility, sleeplessness. Tightness of the pit of the stomach, cannot bear the weight of her clothing; painful hard place on the left side of her stomach.

Lachesis. Melanosis, colloid, and encephaloid cancer; violent burning, gangrenous spots; cancer of the breast, with lancinating pains; the pit of the stomach very sensitive to touch; uterine cancer developing itself at the climaxis, or as a consequence of the change of life; the pains increase rapidly, until relieved by a profuse discharge of blood; violent pains, as if a knife were thrust through the abdomen, which has to be relieved from all pressure.

Lapis albus. Cancer as long as it has not opened, based on scrofulosis.

Lycopodium. Swelling of the upper lip, with a large ulcer on the vermilion border of the lower one; vomiting of food, bile, coagulated blood, and pus; tension in the hypochondria as from a loop; great emaciation and internal debility.

Mercurius. Cancerous ulcers, with a severe shooting and lancinating pain, not relieved by either hot or cold applications; spreading ulcers, spongy, readily bleeding, and extremely painful, unequal elevations and depressions in the floor of the ulcer; swelling of the whole or only the tip of the nose, accompanied by pain and inflammation, followed by cancer; pus thin, ichorous, and acrid.

Mezereum. Scirrhus ventriculi with burning, corroding pains; internal surface of the gastric mucous membrane feels raw, with sensation as if food remained for a long time undigested in the stomach, causing pressure and bloody vomiting; hypochondriasis.

Murex purp. Carcinoma uteri, with great depression of mind; pain in uterus as if wounded by a cutting instrument; lancinating, throbbing pains in uterus; acrid discharge, causing pudenda and thighs to swell and become raw, burning and itching; faintness and an "all gone" feeling in epigastrium; deep hypochondriasis.

Natrum carb. Induration of neck of womb, os uteri out of shape; pressing in hypogastrium towards genital organs, as if everything would come out; headache in sun and from mental labor; great nervousness and anxiety.

Nitric acid. Pain and swelling of the submaxillary gland, with induration, ultimately becoming scirrhus; burning sensation in the stomach; mercurio-syphilitic taint, urine very offensive; aggravation after midnight, in uterine cancer sympathetic affection of the inguinal glands; violent cramplike pains, as if the abdomen would burst, with constant eructations; violent pressing, as if everything would come out of the vulva, with pain from the back down the thighs.

Nux v. Ulcers with pale red, elevated edges; a painful, small, scirrhus tumor on the forehead; vomiting of sour-smelling mucus and dark clotted blood.

Phosphorus. Cutting pains through the abdomen, sometimes with vomiting, painful to the touch, and when walking; belching up of large quantities of wind after dinner; frequent and profuse hemorrhages, pouring out freely, and then ceasing for some hours or days.

Phytolacca. Scirrhus, especially mammae; cancer of lips and cancerous, ill-conditioned ulcers of the face.

Sepia. Suspicious tubercle on lip of a cartilaginous appearance, sometimes bleeding and having a scirrhus appearance, with a broad base; epithelial cancer of lip, with burning pain and a pricking as from a splinter of wood; complexion yellow and earthy; cancer of rectum; indurations, ulcerations, and congestion of the os and cervix.

uteri; cutting pains in abdomen and a pressure on uterus downward, as if everything would fall out, sinking sensation at pit of stomach.

Silicea. Painful dryness of the nose; scirrhus induration of the upper lip and face; continuous nausea and vomiting, especially when drinking; sensitiveness of the pit of the stomach; melancholy; in uterine cancer discharge of blood between the regular periods, with repeated paroxysms of icy coldness over the whole body; fetid, brownish, purulent, ichorous leucorrhœa.

Staphisagria. Scurfy and burning painful lips with pain in the submaxillary glands, with or without swelling. Syphilis and mercurialization.

Thuja. Sycosis; cauliflower excrescences; medullary and fungoid cancers.

Zincum. Pewter like hue of the face; scirrhus tumors in different parts of the body.

There are no remedies yet for cancer. The individuality of the patient, the cause of the affection, and the concomitant symptoms may aid us in selecting the remedy which for the time being will alleviate the suffering.

CAMP FEVER.

See Typhus.

CANKERS OF THE MOUTH.

See Aphthæ.

CANTHARIDES, poisoning by.

The best remedy for large doses is Spirits of camphor, in drop doses, on sugar, one drop every ten or fifteen minutes. Use mucilaginous drinks and frictions with camphor. For the ailments which frequently arise from the abuse of Cantharides, acon. or puls. are frequently suitable.

CARBUNCLE.

See Boils. Anthracin, ars., bell., chin., hyosc., iach., mur. ac., nitr. ac., rhus. sec., sil., sulph., tarantula cubana.

Anthracin. Violent burning pain in carbuncle, not relieved by ar-en; cerebral symptoms; absorption of pus into the blood; gangrenous destruction.

Arsenicum. Intense burning in the seat of the carbuncle and some distance around the tumor, or sensation in swelling as though boiling water was running beneath the integument; pulse small, irregular, frequent; cold perspirations; emaciation.

Belladonna. Cerebral symptoms well developed; red face, shining eyes, severe heat; erysipelatous inflammation around carbuncle.

China. Asthenic character, with symptoms of putrid fever, especially where patient is leucophlegmatic and much reduced by loss of blood, or where the carbuncle developed itself under the influence of swamp miasma.

Hyoscyamus. Carbuncle in nervous or hysterical individuals; coma vigil; great restlessness from excessive nervous excitement, shaking of the head in all directions; optical illusions, constriction of pharynx, etc.

Lachesis. Progress of inflammation slow, the skin over the dead cellular tissue shows little disposition to ulcerate; after perforation scanty discharge of thin, sometimes bloody sanies; great prostration from asthenia.

Muriatic acid. Carbuncles in scorbutic patients, with ulcers on gums; feeling of emptiness in stomach and abdomen; frequent desire to urinate, with profuse emission of clear urine.

Rhus tox. Burning itching around carbuncle, with vertigo, stupor, pale face, etc.

Silicea. Carbuncle on nape of neck; anthrax; want of vital warmth; slow progress of the disease.

Abies nigra. Distressing constriction just about the pit of the stomach, as if everything were knotted up, or as if a hard lump of undigested food remained there; when severe, also headache and flushes of face.

Abrotanum. Gnawing hunger; craves bread boiled in milk; burning in stomach as from acidity; paleness and bloatedness in gastric region, sensation as if the stomach were hanging or swimming in water, with a peculiar feeling of coldness and dulness to all stimuli ; pains cutting, gnawing, burning, sometimes contracting and stinging, mostly worse at night.

Acidum nitric. Cardialgia, spreading through to the back ; vomiting at night ; great anguish about the heart with diastolic murmurs ; chronic derangement of the liver and spleen ; aversion to meat and bread.

Esculus hip. Pain in stomach for four or five hours after eating, which continues till food is taken ; aching, cutting, and burning distress in stomach, fluttering sensation with faintness in pit of stomach ; periodical tightness in the scrobiculus, with labored breathing.

Ethusa cyn. Painful contractions of stomach, so severe as to prevent vomiting ; tearing, rending pains in pit of stomach, extending to œsophagus ; while eating sudden heaviness in forehead ; desire for wine (anemic patients).

Argentum nitr. Gnawing ulcerative pain, confined to a small circumscribed spot in the stomach as from a sore, forcing one to double himself up, aggravated by the least motion or food ; spinal irritation ; tendency to gangrene. The pain comes on sometimes immediately after taking food, as if the œsophagus were irritated as well as the stomach ; epileptiform convulsions from a heavy meal. Irritative flatulent gastralgia, chiefly affecting the cardia and œsophagus, accompanied by belching ; faintish sort of nausea with palpitation ; sensation as if a splinter was lodged in the throat when swallowing, irritating the respiration, and stretching and moving the neck. Suitable to delicate nervous women, especially when the affection arises from depressing causes, nightly watching, etc. The pain gradually increases in intensity ; when at its acme, the patients often press their clenched fists into the region of the stomach for relief, and then the pains gradually decrease again.

Arsenicum. Gnawing corroding pains, alternating with pressure in the stomach, with weight as of a stone or hard lump (objectively confirmed by the hardness of the stomach) ; sensation of soreness and of ulceration in the stomach, which is tender to pressure ; fruitless retching ; vomiting immediately after eating or drinking ; violent vomiting of food and gastric fluids ; pain in stomach relieved by sweet milk ; anguish, fainting, pale face.

Asafoetida. Rancid, greasy, or bitter taste ; accumulation of gas, which is eructated, and has a foul odor ; rising of acid, rancid fluid ; tearing-sticking pain in the stomach, with feeling of distension and heat ; nausea and inclination to vomit, but no vomiting ensues, accompanied by crampy pain, burning and soreness in stomach and epigastrium, strong pulsations in epigastrium ; flatus passes upward, none down ; obstinate constipation or very offensive diarrhœa.

Baptisia. Sensation as if the œsophagus from its beginning to the stomach were too narrow and constricted ; constant burning distress in epigastrium and cramp in the stomach ; the patient can only swallow fluids, but no solids.

Baryta c. Gastralgia resting on a material basis, especially stenosis of the cardia or pylorus from hypertrophy ; fulness and heaviness of the stomach immediately after the food has entered the stomach ; pressure as from a stone, better from eructations, sour a few hours after dinner.

Belladonna. Gnawing, pressing, crampy, drawing, and wrenching pain in stomach, extending through to spine; between the shoulder-blades dull aching, with a sense of fatigue and tired feeling in the spine, relieved by bending backwards, worse after drinking, painful pressure in the pit of stomach when walking, compels him to walk slowly; hard pressure on stomach after eating.

Bismuth. Excessive pain in the back and shoulders, corresponding to the gastric region, but in the vertebral column, not emanating from the mucous coat of the stomach; worse toward evening, or brought on at any time by fatigue and overexertion; pressure as from a load on one spot; intense malaise in the stomach, with burning; red or white tongue, restlessness; prostration; waterbrash; flatulence, with confusion in the head.

Bryonia. Pressure on the stomach, not circumscribed but extending over the whole stomach; pains come on one or two hours after eating, keep on for a few hours, and gradually decline; pressure on account of the bloatedness of the abdomen and dyspnoea; epigastric region painful to touch, cannot endure the clothes; stitching pains in gastric region, worse from motion, especially from a misstep; compressive sensation in temples, forehead, and occiput, as if the skull would burst; relief obtained by making pressure on head and temples.

Calcarea carb. All food tastes too fresh, he wishes to have more salt on it, milk disagrees; sour or burning-sour eructations or tasting of the ingesta; an undefined sensation of weight in stomach, with great anguish; intolerable feeling of pressure, as from tight clothes, around the hypochondria; pressing pains from above downwards, or from before backwards, in the abdomen, about the umbilical region; flatulence, gurgling in the right side of the abdomen (i.e. left); pressing-pinching, spasmodically squeezing and contracting pains in the stomach, particularly after meals, with vomiting of food, worse from motion, better lying quiet on the back.

Calcarea hypophosphorica. Constant desire to eat, feels only well when the stomach is full, or else severe pain; pressure and distress in the pit of the stomach, recurring about two hours after each meal. Milk relieves.

Carbo anim. Burning-aching pain, acidity, heartburn; faint, gone feeling, not relieved by eating, fulness, cold feeling in stomach, after slight meal, relieved by laying hand on it; eructations tasting of food eaten long ago.

Carbo veg. Atony of digestion. Suits old people, the male sex, and the hemorrhoidal world; pains in stomach, from loss of nutrition; painful burning pressure, with anguish, trembling, and aggravation by contact at night and after a meal, especially after taking flatulent food; spasmodic contractive pain, compelling the patient to bend double, with short breathing and aggravation in a recumbent position; heartburn; nausea; loathing of food, even when merely thinking of it; frequent flatulence, with oppression of chest and constipation.

Causticum. Pressure, spasmodic constriction, and griping in stomach, as if clawed, especially on deep breathing; pain in the stomach in the morning, increased by every quick movement; must lie down; nausea during and after meals; acidity and mucus in the stomach.

Chelidonium. Atony of digestion from morbid hepatic states; alternate heat and coldness in the stomach; gnawing and digging pains in the stomach, relieved by eating heartily; spasmodic contraction, stitching, and burning, with eructations, nausea, salivation; short breath and anxiety, relieved by belching; empty eructations after eating; desire for hot drinks; for milk, which relieves.

Chamomilla. Distension of the epigastrium and hypochondria, with pressure as from a stone; oppression, short and difficult breathing; aggravation of the pains after a meal, or at night, with great anguish and restlessness; decrease of the pains by bending double, instantaneous relief by coffee; and when the following symptoms are present: beating pain in the vertex, at night, obliging one to get out of bed; irritable, peevish mood. Cham. is frequently most suitable in alternation with coff.; if it should be ineffectual, give bell. instead.

§ 2. For the PRECURSORY SYMPTOMS, when the development of the catarrh seems to be delayed, with catarrhal affection of the frontal cavities, eyes, etc., use: 1, amm., calc., lach., n. vom., puls.; 2, caust., hep., natr. m.; 3, ars., bry., lyc.

For DRY CORYZA, or catarrhal obstruction of the nose, use, together with the above-mentioned remedies: bry., calc., carb. v., ign., lyc., natr., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. vom., phos., plat., sil.

Obstruction of the nose, in case of NEW-BORN INFANTS, is generally relieved by nux vomica or sambucus.

For FLUENT CORYZA, blennorrhoea nasalis: 1, merc., puls., sulph.; 2, ars., bell., cham., dule., hep., ipec., lyc., nitr. ac., sil.

§ 3. The best remedies for ORDINARY CATARRH are: 1, bell., eupat., hep., lach., merc., rumex, sticta; 2, ars., dule., ipec., n. vom., sanguin.; 3, cham., puls., sulph.; 4, amm., bry., cimicif., euphor., ign.

For CATARRH WITH FEVER: 1, merc., n. vom.; 2, acon., ars., gels., sabad., spig., vorat. vir.

For CHRONIC CATARRH: alum., anac., bapt., calc., carb. v., caust., con., graph., hydrast., lyc., natr., natr. m., nitr. ac., phytol., sep., sil., zinc, and the remedies indicated for suppuration of the nose.

For the DISPOSITION TO CATARRH, the best remedies are: resculus, calc., graph., natr., puls., sil., stict., sulph., and the remedies indicated for cold.

If the head be greatly affected give: 1, acon., bell., cham., chin., cin., n. vom., sulph.; 2, ars., carb. v., lach., lyc., puls.

If the eyes should be principally affected give: 1, bell., cham., euphor., ign., lach., n. vom., puls.; or 2, hep., merc., sulph.

For asthmatic complaints use: 1, ars., ipec., lob.; 2, bry., n. vom., sulph.

For bronchitis: acon., bry., merc., n. vom., puls., rhus, sulph.

Aconite. Creeping chills, followed by heat of the skin, with spasmodic sneezing and discharge of thin watery fluid from the nostrils; liable to frequent catarrhal attacks; the patient feels better in a cool room.

Æsculus hip. Severe fluent coryza, dull frontal headache; thin watery discharge; burning; rawness; sensitiveness to inhaled air, formation in the nose; burning and stinging in the eyes; lachrymation.

Ailanthus. Coryza, with rawness inside of the nostrils; the whole nose and upper lip covered with very thick grayish-brown scabs; fluent nasal catarrh, with sneezing; chronic nasal catarrh, with difficult breathing through the nostrils.

Alumina. Great accumulation of mucus in the evening and in the morning on waking, with frequent hawking and difficult discharge of dry yellowish-green mucus, with weak or entire loss of smell.

Aloe. Coryza, with burning and pain in the nose; on sneezing, stitches in the umbilical region; nosebleed in bed after awaking.

Ambrosia artemis. Catarrhal headache, beginning in posterior nares, gradually moving up to bridge of nose and frontal sinus; thin, scanty, or profuse coryza; pains in bridge of nose as if bones were ulcerated and swollen; lachrymation with burning; frequent sneezing; rheumatic pains in end of fingers.

Ammonium carb. Stoppage of the nose, especially at night, with swelling and painful sensitiveness of the nostrils; discharge of sharp burning water or blood from the nose on blowing it; dryness of the nose; painful eyes; lachrymation; epistaxis; dry mouth, especially at night.

Ammonium mur. Coryza, with stoppage of nose; hoarseness and burning in larynx; watery acrid coryza, corroding the lip; frequent sneezing; burning in the eyes and lachrymation at night.

Antimonium crud. Sore, chapped, and crusty nostrils and corners of the mouth; nose painful when breathing, as from inhalation of cold air or of acrid vapors; coryza fluent or dry; stupefying dull headache, especially in forehead.

Antimonium tart. Stoppage of nose, alternating with fluent coryza; sneezing; fluent coryza and chilliness, with loss of taste and smell; epistaxis, followed by fluent coryza, with sneezing.

Aralia racemosa. Coryza, with frequent sneezing; excessive, morbid sensitiveness to slight depressions of temperature; shortness of breath.

Argentum nitr. Coryza, with stupefying headache over the eyes; had to lie down; sneezing; chilliness; lachrymation; sickly look; sense of smell blunted.

Arsenicum. Fluent coryza, with frequent sneezing, with hoarseness and sleeplessness, with swollen nose; stoppage of the nose, with copious discharge of watery mucus and burning in the nose, with soreness of the adjacent parts, buzzing in the ears; headache, with beating in the forehead and nausea; relief by warmth; prostration (kali cyan).

Arum triph. Acrid fluent coryza, excoriating nostrils inside and upper lip; sneezing and sleepy; worse at night.

Asarum europ. Dry coryza; the left nostril stopped up; fluent coryza, with deafness and sensation as if the ears were plugged with something.

Baryta carb. Coryza; nose and upper lip swollen, in children with large abdomen; sneezing causes concussive pain in the brain; tormenting dryness of nose.

Belladonna. Dryness of nose, with dull frontal headache; fluent coryza, from one nostril only; suppressed catarrh; maddening headache; epistaxis, with congestion to the head, in children, at night.

Benzoic acid. Takes cold in the head easily; sneezing and hoarseness.

Bryonia. Severe dry coryza with catarrh of the frontal and maxillary cavities and severe drawing-tearing, twitching, and stitching pains in affected parts; or fluent coryza, beginning with violent and frequent sneezing, accompanied by stitching headache when stooping, hoarseness and altered tone of voice; profuse nosebleed; catarrh extending to chest.

Caladium. Sudden burning in nose, as from pepper, finally sneezing and fluent coryza; discharge of blood and mucus when blowing the nose; sensation in face as if a spider web were sticking here and there, hoarseness, cough weak, toneless.

Camphora. Fluent coryza on sudden change of weather; violent stitching or crawling, from the root of the nose almost to the tip; stopped coryza.

Cepa. Acid watery discharge from the nose, it drops from the tip of the nose; the tears mild; cough increases in the evening, sometimes with a pain in the larynx as if it would be torn; cold after damp northeastern winds; cold begins mostly on left side and goes to the right; catarrh, with epiphora and smarting of the eyes, with violent sneezing; he must take a long breath, and then sneeze accordingly; spring coryza; tingling and itching in right nostril, with burning acid discharge; aggravation evenings and in a warm room; feels better in the fresh air; violent, laryngeal cough.

Chamomilla. Coryza first dry and obstructed, followed by scanty, moderately acid discharge; irritation to sneeze, with crawling; dry heat; hoarseness, produced by tenacious mucus in larynx and trachea, with an almost uninterrupted tickling irritation, provoking a cough; dyspnoea; pressure on thorax and sternum; feeling as if coryza would appear.

Cimicifuga. Dry coryza, with stinging sensation in the evening; fluent coryza of whitish mucus, during the day; abundant watery coryza with sneezing and aching pains in the head and eyeballs; great sensitiveness to cold air, as if every inhalation brought the cold air in contact with the brain. Severe pains in the face, with general lassitude.

Cyclamen. Catarrh, with excessive sneezing and rheumatic pains in the head and ears.

Drosera. Frequent sneezing, with or without fluent coryza; profuse fluent coryza, especially in the morning.

Dulcamara. Stoppage of the nose; discharge suppressed from the least contact with cold air; aggravation by rest; better during motion; epistaxis; dryness of mouth; rough and hoarse voice.

Eupatorium perf. Weight over head and forehead, accompanied by coryza, nose and eyes both streaming with water at intervals; coryza with aching in every bone.

Euphrasia. Running coryza; increasing in the evening, with flow of tears and cough; the discharge of the nose mild, the tears acrid, and the cough worse during the day; after windy weather, (opposite to cepa; profuse bland coryza, with scalding tears and aversion to light; worse at night while lying down.

Gelsemium. Violent morning paroxysms of sneezing; watery excoriating discharge; a feeling from throat up into left nostril, like a stream of scalding water; right nostril stopped up; nasal voice; coryza after changeable weather, with inflammation of upper part of throat and shooting pains into the ear when swallowing; also hard hearing; tingling in the nose, with bloody mucous discharge.

Graphites. Frequent discharge of thick, yellowish, fetid pus from nose; painful dryness of nose; bleeding of nose; periodical attacks of fluent coryza, with continual stoppage and breathing through the mouth, dulness and heat in head and face, and especially in nose; soreness and roughness in larynx with tickling cough; obstruction of nose with secretion of tough, badly-smelling slime; on blowing nose soreness of nose, and sometimes discharge of bloody mucus.

Hepar s. c. In most cases of ordinary catarrh, after partial relief by merc., generally when every breath of cold air causes a new attack of catarrh or headache, or when it remains confined to one nostril, and the headache gets worse by motion.

Hydrastis. Watery excoriating coryza; burning in nose; more the right nostril; discharge scanty in the room, profuse outdoors; rawness in throat and chest; the air feels cold in the nose; secretion more from the posterior nares; thick, tenacious.

Iodum. Dry coryza, becoming fluent in the open air; fluent coryza with general heat of skin; flow of coryza hot.

Jaborandi. Feverishness; free flow of saliva; discharge from nostrils, eyes weeping; headache; soreness in nostrils and bones; profuse perspiration; dimness of sight; dulness alternating with hilarity without cause; diarrhoea or constipation.

Kali bichrom. Catarrh of fauces and trachea; great accumulation ofropy mucus; hoarseness; cough; suppressed voice; burning of the mucous membrane, extending up into the nostrils; enlarged tonsils causing dulness of hearing; ulceration in pharynx and larynx; oppressed breathing; coryza, with pressure and tightness at root of nose, worse evenings and in the open air; in the morning, obstruction and bleeding from right nostril; fluent coryza, excoriating nose and lip; nostrils sensitive and ulcerated, round ulcer or scabs on the septum, foul tongue, showing involvement of digestive tract.

Kali carb. Dull smell, especially from catarrh; fluent coryza, excessive sneezing, pain in back, headache, and lassitude; dry coryza, with loss of voice; hoarseness; mucus or sensation of a lump in the throat; obstruction in the nose, making breathing through the nostrils impossible; goes off when walking in the open air, but returns in the room; burning itching in the nose.

Kali iod. Nose red and swollen externally, discharge being cool and unirritating, or acrid, watery; tightness at the root of the nose.

Kali sulph. Coryza, with yellow mucous discharge; thick, yellow, offensive discharge alternating with watery flow.

Lachesis. Coryza preceded for one or two days by a feeling of soreness, rawness, and scraping in the throat; excessive sneezing; extremely copious discharge of watery mucus; swelling and soreness of the nares and lips; plugs in the nostrils; lachrymation; or instead of discharge, obstruction of the nose, with buzzing in the ears, headache, ill-humor, and inability to drink.

Lycopodium. Catarrh of nose and frontal sinuses; discharge yellow and thick; frontal headache; yellow complexion; violent coryza; nose swollen; discharge acrid, excoriating; posterior nares dry; nose stopped up at the root; breathes with open mouth and protruding tongue, especially at night.

Mercurius. Ordinary catarrh, whether epidemic or not; frequent sneezing, copious discharge of watery saliva; swelling, redness, and soreness of the nose, with itching and pain in the nasal bones on pressing upon them; fetid smell of the nasal mucus; painful heaviness of the forehead; night sweats, chills, and feverish heat; great thirst; pains in the limbs, aggravated by warmth or cold.

Mercur. biniod. Coryza and dull hearing, better getting warm by walking; right side of nose hot, swollen with coryza; much sneezing, with running from nose, whitish-yellow or bloody discharge; crusty eruption on wings of nose.

Mercur. protoi. Thick plugs of nasal secretion, with severe frontal headache, some fever, and prostration, especially in old people and children; septum nares sore, sharp pains; much mucus descends into the throat, causing hawking; spots in nose feel sore; constant inclination to swallow.

Mezereum. Excruciating pain in the forehead and face, from extension of the inflammation to the frontal and maxillary sinuses; ineffectual irritation to sneeze, or sneezing, with coryza and soreness of the chest; fluent coryza, with excoriation of the nose and lip.

Natrum mur. Violent fluent coryza, from one to three days, changing into stoppage of the nose, making breathing through it exceedingly difficult; fluent coryza alternating with stoppage of the nose, with hoarseness and tickling cough; sometimes discharge of thick mucus, at other times dribbling of clear water from the nose; loss of smell and taste; feeling of dryness in the posterior nares; hawking of mucus from the throat in the morning; fever blisters.

Nux vomica. During the first stage, dryness and obstruction of the nose, with heaviness in the forehead and impatient mood; catarrh fluent in the morning, and dry in the evening and at night, with dryness of the mouth without much thirst; worse in warm air, better in cold air; sneezing early in bed; scraping in nose and throat; chills and heat alternate in the evening, with great heat of the face and head; acrid discharge from the obstructed nose; stoppage of the nose, particularly outdoors, but fluent indoors.

Phosphorus. Coryza fluent; dulness of head; sleepiness, especially during the day and after meals; blowing blood from the nose; alternating fluent and dry, with frequent sneezing; dry, forming crusts, adhering firmly, profuse discharge, flowing down into the fauces, neck swollen; eyes staring.

Phytolacca. Total obstruction of the nose, when riding, so that he has to breathe through the mouth, not relieved by blowing the nose; flow of mucus from one nostril, while the other is stopped; thin watery discharge from the nostrils, increasing till the nose is stopped up; mucus discharged with difficulty; constant hawking.

Pulsatilla. Coryza, fluid or dry, loss of taste or smell, nostrils sore; wings raw; later yellow-green discharge, worse indoors; chilliness, face pale, head confused, frontal headache; chronic, thick, yellow, bland discharge.

Quillaya saponaria. Incipency of a cold; dry or fluent coryza; frequent sneezing; dull pain in head; dull heavy pain in both temples; scraping sensation in pharynx; dull pain at root of nose; throat very sore, especially on swallowing; tonsils swollen; dull pain through thorax; weary feeling in limbs; lassitude.

Rumex crispus. Dull headache, worse by motion; sore feeling in eyes, without any external sign of inflammation; fluent coryza, with painful irritation in nostrils and sneezing; epistaxis; violent and rapid sneezing; feeling of dryness in posterior nares; cough excited by tickling in throat-pit and worse by least current of air; hoarseness.

Sabadilla. Hay fever; coryza, with severe frontal pains and redness of the eyelids, violent sneezing, and copious watery discharge from nose and eyes.

Salicylic acid. Incipient catarrh, the patients, especially children, sneeze the whole day.

Sambucus. Suitable to infants; nose obstructed by a tenacious, thick mucus, with sudden starting from sleep, as if suffocating; snuffles of children; nose seems perfectly obstructed; dryness of the throat and mouth, with thirstlessness.

Sanguinaria. Coryza, with dull heavy pain over root of nose, and stinging sensation in the nose; severe pain at the root of the nose and in frontal sinuses, with dry cough and pain in chest; fluent coryza, with frequent sneezing, worse right side; watery acid coryza, making the nose sore; rose-cold hay-fever.

Sepia. Dry coryza, especially of the left nostril; fluent coryza, with sneezing, early morning; blowing of large lumps of yellow-green mucus, or yellow-green crusts, with blood from the nose.

Sticta pulm. Premonitory symptoms of catarrh; excessive dryness of the nasal mucous membrane, which becomes painful; secretions dry rapidly, forming scabs difficult to dislodge; deglutition painful, from dryness in the throat, aggravated at night; incessant sneezing, burning in the eyes; dull frontal headache, with feeling of fulness at the root of nose.

Sulphur. Profuse catarrhal discharge of burning water; fluent burning coryza outdoors; nose stopped up indoors; frequent sneezing; discharge of blood from the nose on blowing it; loss of smell; soreness and ulceration of nostrils.

Nasal catarrh, with green discharge: kali bichr., merc., natr. carb., phos., puls., rhus., sep., thuj.

Yellow: alum., cinnab., graph., hydr., mur. ac., natr. carb., nitr. ac., phos., lyc.

Thick whitish: hydr., kali bichr., lyc., merc., nox v.

Petid. aurum, asaf., graph., merc., nitr. ac., petr., rhus.

Purulent: asaf., aur., con., lyc., petr., puls., rhus.

Fluent coryza: anacard., ars., arum, bovis, brom., calc., chin., euphr., cep., fluor. ac., gels., hep., ipec., kali bichr., lach., mere., nitr. ac., nux v., thuj.

Dryness of nose: calc., caust., ant. crud., carb. an., dulc., graph., lyc., sil., spig., sulph.

Ulceration: alumina, aur., calc., graph., kali carb., lyc., puls., sep., sil., staph., sulph., zinc.

Accumulation of mucus in posterior nares: alum., anac., ant. crud., cep., coral., euphr., hydr., kali bichr., mere., natr. carb., plumb., rumex, selen., spong., sulph., zinc.

Dropping of mucus from posterior nares: coral., hydr., kali bichr., nitr. ac., plumb., sep., spig., sulph., thuj.

Scurfs in the nose: alum., aur., bov., calc., cic., kali bichr., lach., natr. mur., nitr. ac., nux v., phos., sil., staph., sulph., thuj.

Syphilitic ozæna: aur., con., hep., lach., lyc., mere., nitr. ac., sulph.

Scrofulous ozæna: mere., nitr. ac., phos., psor., sil., sulph.

Dry and fluent coryza alternating: kali carb., natr. mur., nux v., phos., sil.

Stoppage of nose: ipec., kal., laur., magn. c., magn. mur., mang., nitr. ac., sil., sulph.

Maga, carb.: waking at night; amm. carb. and magn. mur.: at night; cin.: at evening; marum.: during day; phyt.: when riding; nucul.: right side at night; lyc.: nightly closing of the nostril; sil.: long-continued stoppage from hardened mucus; sang.: alternating with fluency; claps.: from least current of air; ammon. carb. and arum.: can only breathe with open mouth.

Violent sneezing: acon., ars., coccus, rhus, sabina.

Ineffectual effort to sneeze: carb. veg., galv., mez., plat., raph., zinc.

With asthmatic sufferings: calc., bov., kal., lach.

With roughness or soreness of throat: caust., nitr. ac., phos., phos. ac.

CATARRH, CHRONIC NASOPHARYNGEAL.

§ 1. Chronic catarrh of the head.

Alumina. Scrofulosis, coupled with chronic nasal and aural discharge: ulceration of the Schneiderian membrane, with discharge of a thick yellowish mucus or expulsion of yellowish-green scabs, stoppage of the nose, snapping in the ears, when chewing or swallowing, caused by partial occlusion of the Eustachian tube. Septum narium swollen, red, and painful to touch; redness of nose, tip cracked; after blowing nose glittering before eyes. Pain in the root of the nose, chronic inflammation of the fauces, with accumulation of tenacious mucus in the throat; obstinate constipation; better in the open air, although liable to take cold from the slightest exposure.

Agaricus. Constant copious and offensive discharge, nearly unbearable, from the nose; breathing impeded at night, owing to the closure of the nose by the thick mucus; bad odor from mouth; occasionally dark and bloody discharge; incipient tuberculosis.

Ammonium carb. Discharges more in one nostril, mostly morning, watery, with sensitive swelling and burning pain of upper lip; worse during menses.

nose to external touch, often recurring; external swelling of left side of nose, with discharge of bloody crusts from nose; persistent itching in nose, with irritation to snuffling, and feeling as if a raw large body stuck in upper part of nose; stoppage of nose, with pain in right nostril at night, and disappearing in the morning; stoppage of only one nostril, from which much thick yellow matter comes, with tearing in cheek-bones and teeth of left side; clear acrid matter running from nose; pains worse at night.

Antimon. crud. Nose sore and painful, especially on drawing in the fresh air, and on the right side; dryness of nose when going into the open air, so severe that he can scarcely speak; mucus continually draw thick yellow mucus back into throat and spit it out; nostrils angry, sore, puffy, crusty, and painful.

Argentum nitr. Pain and swelling of right alæ; left nasal bones painful, bleeding pimples on septum; violent itching in nose, compelling rubbing till it looked raw; ulcers in nose, with yellow scabs; scurfs in nose exceedingly painful, bleeding if detached; bloody and purulent discharge in open air, stopped indoors, and at night smell of pus; catarrh with constant chilliness, sickly look, lachrymation, sneezing, violent stupefying headache; aching pain in forehead, going into eyes.

Arsenicum. Slimy discharge that seems to burn its way over the skin to upper lip; discharge biting and burning, distressing stoppage at bridge of nose, with excessive burning, which continues after the discharge appears.

Arsenicum iodat. Malaria; persons with pale delicate skin, enlarged tonsils, defective nutrition, with tendency to passive oedema, shown by puffiness of the eyelids; tuberculous diathesis; the discharge of the nasal or laryngeal catarrh is generally copious and thin, but sometimes scanty and thick, or tenacious and frothy. Discharge of very irritating and corrosive watery mucus, burning the nostrils and lip, attended with alternate chills and heat; fetid and corrosive otorrhœa.

Aurum. Nose swollen, red, inflamed, sore to touch, especially right nasal bone, and adjoining parts of upper jaw painful, discharging a greenish-yellow offensive matter; stinging-biting pains in bones, worse at night; jerking pains in septum, from above downwards; pains in nose in sunlight; pains accompanied by flow of tears; nostrils ulcerated, crusty, agglutinated, so as to impede respiration; ulcers in right nostril, covered with dry yellow crusts, without pain.

Asafoetida. Intermitting tearing pains, from within outward in nasal bones, with greenish offensive discharge, worse at night.

Belladonna. Pressive pain in nasal bones; worse at night and on touch; pain as if beaten, from external pressure in the nose above the alæ; left nostril very painful and agglutinated mornings; upper lip swollen; nostrils and corners of mouth ulcerated, but neither itch nor pain; offensive smell in nose as of herring brine on blowing it.

Borax. Dry crusts form continually within the nose; discharge of thick green mucus; ulceration of left nostril, with soreness and swelling of tip; nosel-deed mornings and throbbing headache at night.

Bromium. Nose feels as if all the hair had been pulled out, edges very sore, corrosive soreness on margins of nostrils and under the nose, with stoppage or with scurfs.

Calcarea carb. Forepart of nose red, inflamed, and swollen; nose dry, very offensive; nostrils scurfy and ulcerated; catarrh, with internal heat of head, with headache and oppression of chest; adapted to persons threatened with phthisis and bronchial affections.

Conium. Boring in nostrils; smell of animals in back part of nose; heat of face, congestion to head, with catarrhal sensation; purulent discharge from nose, hardened crusts.

Corallia. Ulceration of nose; painful ulcer on inside of right wing, with sensation as if nasal bones were pressed asunder, profuse secretion of mucus through posterior nares, obliging one to hawk frequently; the inspired air feels cold; great dryness of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

Elaps corallinus. Bad smell from nose and mouth, coryza from the least current of air; discharge of white, watery mucus from nose; constriction with pressure in throat, so that the beverage is arrested; tongue swollen and whitish in the morning; when swallowing the pain extends into the ears; frequent headaches, especially in occiput; after eating obstruction in œsophagus, as if a sponge had lodged there.

Fluor. acid. Chronic nasitis, with pain; chronic obstruction of nose, with dull heavy pain in forehead, followed by semidulent coryza; pimple with extensive inflamed base on the top of the nose.

Graphites. Nose feels sore on blowing; blowing bloody mucus out of nose; catarrh with obstruction of nose; heat in forehead and face; oppression of chest, numbness of head, and heat in nose, with loss of smell; severe stuffed catarrh, with much nausea and headache, without vomiting; must lie down; fluent coryza, with frequent catarrh and frequent sneezing, with oppressive pains in submaxillary glands; roaring in ears and crackling when swallowing; exposed parts sensitive to air, as if he would easily take cold; fetid discharge, worse during menses; eruption around anus and genitals.

Hepar sulph. Sore pains in dorsum, bones are sore to the touch; heat and burning in nose; ulcerative pain in nostrils; drawing pain in nose passing into the eyes, becoming a smarting there, pain lasts far into the night; drawing and burning pains; annoying occlusion of nostrils; crusts and scabs; interior of nose painful and sensitive to air; bad smell, scrofula; hard, glandular swellings around neck.

Hydrastis. Thick tenacious secretions, more from the posterior nares, dropping down into throat, soreness of cartilaginous septum, bleeding when touched; inner edge of right ala sore and thickened; ozæna, with bloody purulent discharge; dull heavy frontal headache over the eyes, with dull pain in hypogastrium and sacrum; constipation; general atony.

Kali bichrom. Aching pain at root of nose, with acrid discharge; pinching pain across bridge, with stuffed nostrils, especially at junction of cartilage and bone, relieved by hard pressing; ulceration of cartilage quite through, with great soreness; ulceration of frontal sinuses, with violent headache at root of nose, and in frontal prominences, if discharge stops; on blowing nose, sensation as if two bones rubbed together; sensation as if nostrils were made of parchment; a spot in right lachrymal bone is swollen and inflamed; internal ulceration, with thin watery discharge or collection of elastic plugs, which cause great pain in removal, and leave nose very sore; watery discharge with redness of nose and putrid smell; nose often painful and dry or watery discharge, excoriating nose and upper lip, with sore and swollen alae; fetid smell; complete loss of smell; perforating ulcers on septum.

Kali carb. Obstruction of nose, making breathing through nostrils impossible; goes off in open air when walking, but returns in the room; itching in nose; fetid yellow-green discharge from one nostril; dull smell; burning in nose; sore crusty nostrils; bloody red nostrils every morning; external nose red, swollen; stinging pains.

Kali hydriod. Ulceration of internal nose, involving the frontal sinuses and antrum highmori; nose red and swollen, with constant discharge of acrid, watery, colorless liquid, with violent lachrymation; anxious expression and restlessness; discharge of burning corroding matter from nose; inflammation extends to eyes; painful hammering in frontal region, with compressed feeling of both sides of brain.

Kaolin. Nostrils feel sore; scabs form in the nose; scanty and bloodstreaked secretion.

Lachesis. Nose raw, bleeds easily; acrid bloody discharge on blowing the nose; nose filled with scabs; discharge of pus and blood; mercurio-syphilis; also in drunkards.

Lycopodium. Much sneezing through the day, at night nose completely stopped, with dryness of nose and burning headache; nose swollen, patient cannot breathe through it, has to keep his mouth open; the burning headache forces him to shut his eyes; after a few days inflammation extends down bronchi; cough, with loose expectoration, and the coryza then becomes somewhat fluent.

Magnesia mur. Burning of both nostrils, as if sore; nose sore internally and to touch; scurfs in both nostrils, painful to touch, with loss of smell, oppressed stuffed feeling in nose; severe coryza, now stopped, now fluent, with confusion of head and complete loss of smell and taste; discharge of offensive, purulent, yellow matter; must sit up in bed a long time; evenings cannot lie down for want of air.

Mercurius. Trickling of mucus back into pharynx; swelling and excoriation; itching and bleeding of nose; bad-looking pimple on nose; unpleasant odor, not actually fetid.

Mercur. protiod. Chronic catarrh of posterior nares; constant dropping of mucus into the pharynx; follicular pharyngitis; constant inclination to swallow; septum narium sore, sharp pains.

Mezereum. Coryza, with excruciating pains in forehead and face, from extension of inflammation to frontal and maxillary sinuses (supra).

Natrum arsenicos. Pain in forehead and root of nose; dry, bloody crusts in nose; dropping of tough mucus from posterior nares; hawking up of mucus from larynx, worse from dust, smoke, and cold; fauces feel dry on inspiration and deglutition.

Natrum carb. Stoppage of nose or discharge of thin mucus, changing after a time to thick green mucus, or becoming yellowish green and offensive; violent sneezing with rush of blood to the head; chilliness over whole body, worse from least current of air; dropping from posterior nares into throat. Peeling of dorsum and tip, which is painful to touch; pains in bones of face; worse in open air; sensation in left nostril as if a hard body stuck there, which is not brought away by blowing the nose; ulceration of upper portion of nostrils.

Natrum mur. Burning pains in nasal bones, especially at roof of nose and in malar region; redness, heat, and swelling of left side of nose, with sore pain, especially on blowing nose; burning in nose, internal soreness; soreness and swelling of inside of nasal wings, which are full of pimples; loss of sensibility, with feeling of deadness of inner parts of nose; many small burning pimples under septum, with sensation as if acrid matter flowed from nose; severe fluent coryza, with complete loss of smell and taste.

Nitric acid. Malar bones sore and painful, stitches in nose as of a splinter on touching it; soreness and bleeding of inner nose; nostrils ulcerated, blood and bloody matter is blown from them; unpleasant smell evenings on lying down; on eating, pieces of food get into choanae, producing a sickening sensation, they are afterwards drawn out covered with mucus; nasal mucus goes down throat, with inflamed and swollen alae; acrid matter from nose at night; blows yellow matter of a sickening smell from nose; discharge of thick nasal mucus, corroding nostrils; severe catarrh, with swelling of upper lip, and especially night cough; stuffed catarrh, with dryness in throat on empty swallowing.

Nux vom. Dry coryza, with stoppage of nose; headache on coughing, or for alternating dry and fluent states of mucous membranes.

Phosphorus. Swelling of nose, with frequent discharge of blood from it, green-yellow discharge, with great dulness of the head; weakness of respiratory organs; frequent hoarseness; neuralgia of head and face, aggravated by windy weather and in the morning.

Psorinum. Boring stinging in right nostril, followed by excessive sneezing; tough mucus in nose, feels like a plug there, nauseating, better when stooping; loss of smell; septum inflamed, large pustules; catarrh, with cough and expectoration of yellow-green mucus; cheek-bones pain as if ulcerated; red pimples on face, nose, chin, and middle of cheeks; upper lip swollen.

Pulsatilla. Ulcerated condition of nostrils, discharge of green offensive matter from nose; loss of smell and taste; stoppage of nose at night on going to sleep, in the morning discharge of thick yellow opaque mucus.

Sanguinaria. Sensation of stinging and tickling, accompanied with irritative swelling of the parts, with or without free discharge; yellowish or grayish-white discharge from nose; headache in right hemisphere of the brain, with drawing pain back into the neck; bilious vomiting.

Senega. Frequent coryza, commencing with feeling as if red pepper were throughout the nostrils and air passages, followed by distressing cough; smell of pus before nose; troublesome dryness of mucous membranes; violent sneezing, head becomes heavy and dizzy, followed by discharge of thin watery mucus.

CHILBLAINS.

The best remedies are: 1, agar., bell., petr., phos., puls., sulph.; or, 2, arn., carb. a., carb. v., cham., chin., hyosc., kali carb., lyc., mgt., aust., phos. ac.; 3, abrotanum, aloes, cepa.

For inflamed chilblains give: ars., cham., lyc., nitr. ac., puls., sulph.

For very painful ones: 1, hep.; 2, arn., nitr. ac., petr., phos. ac., puls., sep.

Agaricus. Intense itching, accompanied by burning; the ears, nose, fingers, toes are red and swollen (abrotanum).

Arnica. The inflammation of the chilblain is caused by pressure, friction, etc.

Arsenicum. The vesicles appear to become blackish, with tendency to humid gangrene.

Kali carb. Aching-cutting pains; swelling and redness of the soles.

Nitr. acid. Itching, with swelling and pain, especially in very cold weather; they inflame from a slight degree of cold; skin cracked.

Nux vomica. Superficial inflammation, with bright-red swelling, with burning itching, or when the tumefied parts crack and bleed easily.

Petroleum. Chilblains, itching, and burning like fire: heel painfully swollen and red; feet tender and bathed in a foul moisture, especially when inflammation sets in with every cold weather.

Pulsatilla. Swelling, bluish, hot, attended with throbbing pains and intense itching, especially in soles of feet, after getting warm in bed.

Rhus tox. Burning itching in the chilblains during the afternoon and evening; when not scratching there is a pricking in them, obliging him to scratch; blotches after scratching; itching, especially at night, intolerable.

Sulphur. Redness and swelling of the chilblain, with tendency to supuration: chilblain thick and red, with cracks on the joints; itching worse in warm bed.

Zincum. Chilblains on hand, itching and swelling violently.

CHILDREN, diseases of.

Morbi neonatorum.

§ 1. Many diseases of children having been mentioned in other articles, we here content ourselves with mentioning the acute or otherwise most important diseases under one head.

§ 2. ASTHMATIC ATTACKS of infants, with spasms, danger of suffocation, and bloish face, yield to ipécac.; if occurring during sleep, with screams, dry and husky cough and anxiety, to samb.; if the spell seems to be excited by some abnormal condition of the heart, to lauroc. or mosch., and in cases of tall slim children, to phos.

See Asthma Thymicum.

Hardness and distension of the hypochondria and pit of the stomach, with shortness of breath, loss of breath, anguish and restlessness, tossing about, screams, drawing up of the legs (liver grown), yields to cham.

Aconite. Only during the very first stage, of no use after purulent discharge appears.

Apis. Great oedematous swelling of the lids and adjacent cellular tissue: stinging and shooting pains, hot lachrymation and photophobia.

Argentum nitr. Profuse purulent discharge, the lids swollen from the collection of pus.

Calcarea carb. Profuse yellowish-white discharge, oedema of the lids, and ulceration of the cornea; leucophlegmatic cachexia.

Chamomilla. As intercurrent for its characteristic symptoms.

Euphrasia. Profuse, acrid, burning lachrymation; discharge from eyes thick, yellow, mucopurulent, and acrid, making the lids and cheeks sore and excoriated.

Mercurius. Discharges of eyes thin and excoriating, caused perhaps by syphilis of the mother.

Pulsatilla. Discharge profuse and bland.

Rhus tox. Exposure to wet; lids red, oedematous, and spasmodically closed, with a copious, yellow, purulent discharge, or the discharge may be less and a profuse gush of tears takes place. Ca- chectic children.

Sulphur. Pimples more or less diffused over the body; eyes itch and contain much mucus; the canthi appear raw.

§ 4. Cephalæmatoma (bloody tumor of the head). Calc. carb., arn., rhus., where there is ichorous discharges, caries of the bones, and prostration, china, and sil.

§ 5. Hernia.

Aconite. Constant fever, uneasiness and distress by spells; the parts are very tender to the touch.

Antim. crud. A great deal of crying, white tongue, vomiting, diarrhoea, cough.

Borax ven. Child cannot bear a downward motion; even when asleep it suddenly awakes by the downward motion to put it in its little bed; very nervous; the least noise causes it to awaken, and then it cries all the time and does not thrive; brown watery diarrhoea.

Calc. carb. In children of leucophlegmatic temperament, with large open fontanelles, much perspiration about the head; the child cries much. It may have two or three ruptures, yet in such cases calomel alone will effect a cure in a few weeks or months.

Chamomilla. Constant diarrhoea, the child is fretful and wants to be carried about.

Cina. Child does not thrive and never sleeps quietly, is always in motion even in its most quiet sleep, which is never long at a time; when awake, it always cries and is very cross, refusing everything offered: it is continually crying and worrying.

Lycopodium. Child cries all day and sleeps all night; red sand in the urine, screaming when urinating; rattling and commotion in the abdomen; colic and crying.

Nux vomica. Large hernial tumor, perhaps in the scrotum; crying spells, during which the feet are alternately drawn up and then stretched out again; colicky spells after midnight or in the morning, bowels rather costive, the stools being large, difficult, and seldom, or small, frequent, and painful; the child does not sleep well, has no appetite; if already walking about, the tumor looks blue.

Opium. Redness of the face; abdomen hard and distended; the child is soporous.

Silicea. The child is very tender to the touch around the hernial tumor, which is painful, and it feels easier when it recedes, vomits up milk profusely after nursing; it dreads to be moved; frequent colicky pains relieved by the discharge of very offensive flatus.

Stannum. The child is relieved by pressure of the knee, shoulder, or hand upon the abdomen.

Vomiting: sulph (chronic); calc carb. (curdled sour milk), sil., ars., phosph., ant crud.; athusa vomits green curd, exhausted afterwards; kreasot (vomiting, child feels exhausted even hours after nursing, stomach so weak, it will not tolerate any kind of food); ant. tart., ipéc.

Diarrhoea, undigested: sulph., calc carb. (contains curdled milk); graph. (thin, brown, half-digested and fetid); calc. phos. (and bot); phosphor. (with great exhaustion); phos. ac. (without much exhaustion); hepar (and sour, white or green); ant. crud. (hard lumps of curdled milk); ars. (at once when eating); arg. nitr. (on eating and at night gurgling through); bar. carb., natr. phos. (bottle-fed); con. (and sour).

Watery: sulph. (sudden urging); calc. carb., calc. phos. (and hot); phos. (white); psorin. (and black, offensive, at night); ant. crud. (and containing fecal lumps); ant. tart. (and profuse); graph. (and half-digested); carb. veg. (rather a dark, thin, fecal diarrhoea, very offensive); arsen. (black or brown, with restlessness and anguish); phos. ac. (like phos., but with much gurgling in abdomen); sulph. ac. (with irritability and weakness); magn. carb. (green, sour, frothy); natr. sulph. (yellow); nitric ac. (yellow, white); merc. (green, watery, sour).

Mucous: sulph. (with fever); sulph. ac. (chopped, stringy, frothy); phos. (white, granular); borax (yellow); sil. (and feces); graph. (coated feces); calc. carb. (green); sep. (green); calc. phos. (green, slimy); magn. carb. (green, like scum in frog-pond); arg. nitr. (green at night, with much flatus); ars. (brown); iodum (frothy); ars., sulph. flav. (green, slimy, offensive); nitric ac. (green, fetid); merc. (green, with tenesmus); stilling. (white, pasty).

With much flatus: arg. nitr. (at night); calc. phos. (fetid); carb. veg. (putrid); sars. (with much flatus, faint afterwards); natr. sulph., sulph.

Bloody: sulph. (in streaks); arg. nitr., ars., phos., sep., sil., merc., pod.

Bilious: ars., sulph. (ars. sulph. rub.); phos. (golden); merc. (green).

White: calc. carb.; hydras. (chalklike), hep., ant. crud., phos. (grains); magn. carb. (like tallow); pod. (chalklike, fecal, undigested); kali carb. (gray, fecal); lyc. (pale, fecal).

Diarrhoea with excoriation or redness of anus: sulph. ars., phos., graph., ant. crud., staph., natr. muc., merc.

Alternatively costive and diarrhoeic (mesenteric affection): ant. crud., lyc., phos., sulph.

Special Indications:

Aconite. (Green, watery, frequent stools, often from effect of low temperature in the room; if there is dry heat of the body and restlessness, there is probably also vomiting)

Æthusa cyn. The disease sets in very insidiously, with sudden and forcible vomiting of the milk either curdled or just as it was swallowed; vomiting without preceding nausea; after vomiting the child feels exhausted and from sheer exhaustion falls asleep, and as soon as it wakes up takes the breast again; semi-comatose condition after vomiting or stool, pupils dilated and insensible to light, cold sweat, face sunken, withered; spasmodic hiccough; bilious; light yellow or greenish liquid stools, often with violent tenesmus and exhausting the child; intolerance to milk.

Alumina. Cholera infantum, stools green; acidity of primæ viæ.

Antimon. crud. Children cannot bear being touched or looked at; bitter, bilious, or slimy vomiting, renewed on taking food or drinks; greenish vomiting soon after nursing; white-coated tongue; thirstlessness; pale face; restless sleep; watery profuse diarrhœa with vomiting, containing large lumps of curd, and at once takes the breast again.

Apis mel. Summer complaint, which drags out from week to week, slightly improving and then relapsing again, until anemia and nervous exhaustion have reached such a degree as to terminate in hydrocephaloid, diarrhœa not too frequent, mostly in the morning hours, varying much in character, sometimes very offensive, at other times hardly of any smell, greenish-yellow mixed with mucus; not too thin or watery, and mingled with little bits of fecal matter. Abdomen sunk in, but no hardness of mesenteric glands. No appetite nor thirst; tongue and skin dry; hands cold and blue; suppression of urine or profuse urination; oppressed breathing. The child starts with a loud shrill scream from its stupor; during dentition gums sacculated, look watery.

Arsenicum. Diarrhœa and vomiting; much thirst for cold water, but the drink is thrown off immediately; hot skin; great restlessness; stools dark green, dark watery, scalding, and offensive, with or without vomiting; coldness of the extremities; pale and cadaverous face; striking the head with the fist.

Belladonna. Drowsiness, with starting, dry heat, and frequent drinking; gagging and vomiting; dry lips and tongue; stools green, small, and frequent; every diaper soiled a little; head hot; child does not rest, starts at every noise, the child turns very red in face before and during each motion, which is watery, and expelled with great force.

Bismuth. Diarrhœa and vomiting, but the latter prevails; all food and drink are thrown up at once; abdomen bloated; pale face; blue rings under the eyes.

Bryonia. When hot weather seems to develop the attack, the child vomits its ingesta immediately; lumpy diarrhœa; colic, with much thirst for large quantities at a time; lips dry and parched.

Camphora. The skin is cold as marble, yet the child will not remain covered; great prostration and diarrhœa. Sometimes these cold spells only come on at night, and pass off in the morning; there may be neither vomiting nor purging, but only coldness and extreme prostration; rapid breathing.

Carbo veg. When bryonia fails. Putrid or bloody, offensive stools; face pale or greenish; the gums recede and bleed easily; abdomen distended; emission of large quantities of flatus; skin cold; tongue and breath cold; voice hoarse or lost.

Gratiola. Violent vomiting and purging of yellow substances, with much flatulency.

Ipecacuanha. Violent vomiting and purging at the same moment; the discharges from the bowels look like a fermented mass of yeast; great nausea, with pale face, and oppressed breathing; cutting colic, with cries and restlessness; spasmodic loose cough and rattling of mucus; blue margins around eyes; ill-humor; wants to lie down; faintness.

Iris versicolor. Tympanitis. Diarrhœa and vomiting of food, bile, or of very sour fluid; profuse, frequent, watery stools, or mushy pappy stools, attended with discharge of fetid flatus; burning in rectum and anus after stool; pale face, with blueness around eyes.

Kreasot. Diarrhœa, with vomiting; the continuous vomiting and straining to vomit predominate; the child resists the tightening of anything around the abdomen, which increases the restlessness and pain; much thirst; gums hot; coldness of hands and feet; belching or hiccough when the child is carried.

Laurocerasus. Severe cholera infantum; green watery stools; drinks roll audibly through the œsophagus and intestines; suppression or retention of urine; dilated papilla; slow, feeble breathing; irregular imperceptible pulse.

Natrum sulph. Frequent attacks of violent colic with rumbling in the abdomen; relieved by violent discharge of yellow water, with large quantities of flatus; stools more frequent during morning hours, after the child has been taken up and moved about.

Oenothera biennis. Summer diarrhœa of children (brain diarrhœa), with great prostration.

Sulphur. The disease generally begins after midnight, with vomiting and diarrhœa; stools watery green, involuntary, smelling sour or very offensive; sour vomiting (like cake), with cold perspiration on face (veratrum, on forehead); pale face; fontanelles open; hands and feet cold from the start; the child lies in a stupor, with his eyes half open; not much thirst and entire suppression of urine. The child does not scream out violently as in ajus, nor rolls his head as under bell; excreting discharges.

Tabacum. The child wants its abdomen uncovered, as it eases the nausea and vomiting produced by motion.

Tartarus emet. (Ant tart.) Vomiting of food, with great effort, followed by debility; chilliness and sleepiness; vomits even the smallest quantity of water, with eager desire for it; watery, sometimes slimy and greenish diarrhœa, increased each time after taking the breast; pitiful whining before and during the attack, child gets only short naps; aversion and disgust for milk and every other kind of nourishment.

Veratrum alb. The least motion increases the nausea. Cold sweat on the forehead from vomiting, with great prostration; stool from the least movement of the body, thin and painless, with rumbling of the bowels; faintness at stool or immediately after; violent thirst for cold water, although the least quantity of fluid excites vomiting, with cold sweat, cold breath, and prostration.

1. Or the summer complaint shows itself more by diarrhœa, when other remedies may be preferable, as Argentum nitr. Much loud flatus passing with the stools, which are dark-brown, green, like spinach flakes, watery, fetid; pains in the stomach after eating; child is very fond of sugar; relief of pain from belching up wind.

Baptisia. Very offensive diarrhœa, day and night; the child can swallow nothing but milk : even the smallest quantity of solid food gags.

Benzoic acid. In children, especially during teething, light-colored, copious, very offensive stools; urine very strong-smelling, usually dark; much exhaustion, cold sweat on the head.

Bryonia. Diarrhœa from hot weather, or it is aggravated by the return of every spell of hot weather.

Calcareæ carb. Fat children : infants with open fontanelles ; involuntary, fetid, sour diarrhœa ; gray, clay-like stools, frothy ; thirst at night ; bloated abdomen, with emaciation and good appetite ; urine pungent, fetid, clear ; muscles soft and flabby ; head perspires, so as to wet the pillow.

Calcareæ phosphorica. The child has had diarrhœa for some days ; looks old and wrinkled, has a dry skin ; passages about every hour ; longing for bacon, ham-fat ; white papescent stools ; offensive flatus.

Chamomilla. Watery or greenish stools, like eggs beaten up ; the child must be carried ; is cross and feverish ; the stools have the odor of rotten eggs and are excoiating.

China. Painless and undigested putrid stools, very copious ; worse every other day.

Colocynth. Child has colic, relieved by carrying on its stomach ; stools during or right after nursing, and undigested ; stools small, bilious, frothy, frequent, preceded by severe colicky pains, coming on in paroxysms.

Colostrum. Great nervous irritability, listlessness, pale face, tongue coated yellow or white, sour vomiting ; watery diarrhœa with colic ; sour watery stools ; the whole child smells sour ; excoiating diarrhœa, watery, green, yellow, with colicky pains in hypogastrium, fever, emaciation from the profuse watery diarrhœa.

Croton tigl. Colic and diarrhœa immediately after nursing ; the yellow liquid stool escapes suddenly, as with an expulsive spasm ; stools occur while or soon after nursing.

Dulcamara. Every cool change of weather excites diarrhœa, also exposure in cold, damp places ; stools are changeable, white, yellow, green, watery, sour-smelling ; nausea accompanies the desire for stool ; general prostration.

Elaterium. Olive green stools, watery, gushing ; watery discharges from the bowels of a frothy character.

Ferrum pyrophosph. Painless and involuntary diarrhœa, with undigested food, after nursing ; diarrhœa, with nervous, spasmodic pains in abdomen, back, and anus ; watery stools, with much flatulence, more frequent after taking food or drink ; violent, exhausting diarrhœa.

Graphites. Soft, dark, half-digested, very offensive stools, followed by great, but transient prostration ; sour stools, excoiating the external anus ; eruptions on skin, from which oozes a glutinous fluid.

Helleborus. White jelly-like mucus, with burning and smarting in anus, diarrhœa preceded by colic, which is relieved after every stool.

Hepar sulph. Fetid stools ; the child itself smelling sour.

Lachesis. Excessively offensive stools ; sudden diarrhœa, with great urging; thin, pasty, frequent stools during hot term; the child always awakens with distress.

Magnesia carb. Stools green, watery, frothy, sour-smelling, often with curds of milk, resembling the scum of a frog-pond; sour vomiting, with colic.

Mercur. Open fontanelles; large head; face pale, earthy; aphthae; restless sleep; sour-smelling night-sweat, particularly on the forehead, which feels cold; much pain before the stool, great relief immediately after; stools frothy, slimy, bloody or dark-green, with much straining; the child's thighs and legs are cold and clammy, particularly at night.

Nitric acid. Green, mucous, bloody or putrid stools; putrid smell from the mouth; copious flowing saliva from ulcers on the mouth and tongue; exhaustion; mercurio-syphilis.

Nux moschata. Diarrhoea with indomitable disposition to sleep; stools offensive, copious, worse at night.

Opium. Diarrhoea from fright; involuntary evacuation of stool and urine; stool thin, frothy, profuse, followed with great relief; stool excessively offensive.

Paulinia sorbilis (Guarana). Green, profuse, inodorous stool.

Phosphoric acid. Long continued diarrhoea fails to weaken the child a great deal; dark yellow, undigested, very offensive stools, or of yellow water, with meal-like sediment, worse night and morning, after eating; much flatulence; bloated abdomen; voracious appetite.

Phosphorus. Child drowsy, wants to sleep all the time; vomits water as soon as it gets warm in stomach; stools white, green, watery, gushing out like water from a hydrant; loss of hearing.

Podophyllum. Great desire for large quantities of water, but none for food; the head sweats much during sleep; gagging or empty retching, vomiting of green frothy mucus or of food; stools larger than could be expected from the amount of food taken; foul-smelling stools, profuse and gushing, each seeming to drain the patient dry, but soon he is full again; violent cramps of the feet, calves, and thighs, prolapsus ani; the child lies upon the mother's lap or on a pillow, constantly moaning, eyes half closed, and rolling its head from side to side. The little phosph. acid patient is playful and laughing, while a stream of liquid stool will overflow the diaper.

Psorinum. Dark-brown, thin, fluid stools, very offensive, like rotten eggs or carrion; great debility; profuse perspiration from the least exertion, and at night; dirty, sallow, greasy skin, with a partially developed eruption on forehead and chest; constant fretting and worrying; sleeplessness.

Pulsatilla. Irresistible desire for fresh air; colic and diarrhoea, worse at night; changeable stools, no two alike.

Ratania. Thin fetid stools, burning like fire in anus.

Rheum. Brown sour-smelling stools, with great urging; the whole child smells sour; pasty sour-smelling stool, accompanied by shivering, and followed by renewed urging in intestines; diarrhoea, arising from improper food, colds, and generally accompanied with excessive acidity in the bowels, cutting colic, and nightly complaints; sour, flat, slimy taste; copious diarrhoea, with vomiting and great debility.

Senna. Dark-colored water, with cutting pains, flatulency, but less severe than in jalapa (which has copious watery discharge, accompanied by screams and restlessness).

Sepia. Almost constant oozing from bowels; green or sour-smelling diarrhoea of children; exhausting diarrhoea; stool, having a putrid, sourish, fetid smell, expelled suddenly and the whole of it at once.

Silicea. Child very much emaciated by long continuance of diarrhoea; it nurses well, but the food passes through it undigested and fails to sustain it, alternating with loss of appetite and vomiting; open fontanelles; much perspiration about head; great thirst; emaciation; cold hands and feet, with cold sweat on them; rolling of head; oppressed secretion of urine; watery, very offensive stools.

Sulphuric acid. Frequent, large, watery, very offensive stools, with aphthae and great irritability.

Sulphur. Particularly in children of delicate parents; the discharges are slimy, brown, green, or white, often marked with slight streaks of blood; redness around the anus, and excoriation between the thighs; hot palms and soles; dysuria; worse in the morning.

Veratrum alb. Stools profuse, watery, frequent, with thirst and vomiting; baby looks much exhausted after each spell; cold sweat on forehead from the least movement of the body.

Zincum. Feet constantly fidgety; on awaking, the child appears frightened, and its head rolls from side to side; during sleep it cries out capis, starts, and jumps; painless, papescent diarrhoea for many days, but some colic after stool and emission of flatulence.

Aconite. Great heat, with thirst; sleeplessness or restless sleep; child starts up from sleep with anguish and cries.

Belladonna. Much moaning, starting and jumping; very flushed face, red eyes; great heat of the face and other symptoms of cerebral congestion.

Borax. Child dreads downward motion; the infant has a hot head, hot mouth, and hot palms; sweat during the morning sleep; chilliness when taken up.

Chamomilla. Burning heat and redness of the skin, with frequent desire to drink; great restlessness, especially at night, with tossing about, anxiety, moaning; red face and cheeks, especially only one cheek; hot sweat about the head, even in the hairs; short anxious breathing, mucous rattling; short, dry, and panting cough, and convulsive twitchings of the limbs.

Coffea. The fever is not violent, but the nerves are irritated, with sleeplessness, restless sleep, and frequent sudden starting and waking from sleep; fretful mood, alternately merry or whining.

Gelsemium. The child is worse at night; the face is dark red, or has a dusky hue; a great deal of nervous restlessness; vertigo; the child is afraid of falling; sensitiveness to light and sound.

Ignatia. Great nervousness and chilliness of the child; it awakens from sleep with piercing cries, and trembles all over; spasms of children, preceded by hasty drinking; convulsive jerking of the limbs.

Mercur. Tenderness of the pit of the stomach and abdomen; green slimy stools, with tenesmus; yellowish tinge of the countenance; urine dark and offensive; sore mouth.

Nux vom. The child is very cross and irritable; total loss of appetite; flatulence and pain in the stomach; constipation or difficult large stools; worse mornings.

Podophyllum. Remittent fever from excessive hepatic action; diarrhoea during dentition, with green sour stools in the morning; thirst but no appetite; everything the child takes turns sour, with belching of hot flatus, which is very sour.

§ 10 The rash of infants yields readily to acon., cham., and finally a dose of sulphur.

§ 11. Gastric difficulties and colic of infants: acon., ars., bar., bell., cham., calc., cina., hyosc., ipec., iris, lept., lyc., merc., magn. c., nux v., pod., puls., robin., rheum. sulph.

Aconite. Dry hot skin, sleeplessness, or restless sleep, the child cries much, bites its fist, and suffers from green or watery diarrhoea.

Arsenicum. The food passes undigested, the stools are offensive; much crying during and after nursing, or as soon as the child begins to take food; emaciation.

Baryt. c. Useful in colic of dwarfish children, who do not grow; the child feels hungry but does not eat; repletion after a little food, as if the food causes a load on the stomach.

Belladonna. The child cries out suddenly, and after a while it ceases crying as suddenly as it began, and appears as if nothing had been the matter; starting, with jerking of muscles; the child cries and moans a great deal.

Bryonia. The child has to be kept very still in order to relieve its colic and other sufferings; the stools are dark, dry, and hard, as if burnt.

Calc. carb. White chalklike stools; long-continued crying; inguinal hernia.

Chamomilla. Sour breath; pinching pains; flushed cheeks; tongue deeply covered with a thick, moist, yellowish-white coating, often with indented edges; distress after nursing; stools smell like rotten eggs, are green, chopped, and consist of white or yellow mucus.

China. Colic comes on at a certain hour every afternoon.

Cina. The principal seat of the pain is a fixed point above the navel; pulse normal, sometimes a little frequent; pale and pinched face; colic relieved by pressure (pod.); the child is seldom quiet or good-natured, whether sleeping or awake; does not want to be touched.

Colocynthis. The child writhes in every possible direction, doubles itself up, and seems in great distress; piteful crying.

Ignatia. Colic after taking the breast of the mother or nurse, who suffers from grief.

Ipecacuanha. Sickness of the stomach and fermented stools; excessive nausea and gagging.

Iris versicolor. Protracted nausea and painful vomiting of an extremely sour fluid, especially about an hour after a meal; belching up of wind from the stomach with considerable force, or profuse emission of flatulence; colic and diarrhoea of bilious stools.

Jalapa. The child is good all day, but screams the whole night.

Lycopodium. The child always screams before urinating, and is relieved immediately afterwards; much rumbling and rattling in abdomen.

Magnesia carb. The colic is always relieved, whether by day or by night, by a green liquid stool.

Magnesia phos. Wind colic of small children with drawing up of legs, with or without diarrhoea; flatus neither passes up or down.

Mercurius sol. Colicky pains, relieved by a slimy, bloody stool, passed after much straining.

Nux vomica. Colic, with constipation (cham., with diarrhoea), caused by the stimulating food taken by the mother or nurse; large amount of flatus; constipation, with apparent frequent desire and effort to evacuate the bowels.

Opium. Abdominal troubles, caused by fright.

Podophyllum. An attack of colic at daylight every morning, causing an absolute retraction of the abdominal muscles.

Pulsatilla. Gastric catarrh, from ice-cream, fruit, or pastry, partaken by the nurse; the child is worse from evening all through the night.

Rheum. Violent pain, with cutting; the wind seems to rise up into the chest; very sour stools.

Senna. The child turns blue during its cries; caused by incarcerated flatus.

Stannum. The child's colic is relieved by firm pressure upon its abdomen (cina); relief can at once be obtained by resting its abdomen upon the shoulder of the nurse.

Staphisagria. Sufferings of pot-bellied children, with much colic and humid scaldhead, pains caused by a fit of chagrin or indisposition of the nurse; children in bad humor and cry for things, which, after getting, they petulantly throw away.

Sulphur. Pimply eruptions, filled with pus; excoriations; redness about the anus after a stool; it cures frequently the gastric and colicky troubles of children; child dislikes to be washed or bathed.

Veratrum album. Terrible colic, with coldness of the forehead; very cold feet with the colic; cold sweat on the skin, especially on the forehead.

§ 12 Jaundice. Icterus neonatorum generally passes off by itself after a few days; mercur. or china generally suffice for its removal; or, acon., cham., bry., nux v.

Aconite. Chief remedy with new-born babes, when they do not urinate in the first few days after birth.

Belladonna. Much moaning; distress; a sudden crying out from the retention.

Camphora. Unsuccessful urging to urinate; the urine passes only in drops and is burning.

Cantharis. Children pass only a few drops of urine with screams.

Ipecacuanha. Ischuria, with convulsions.

Lycopodium. Dysuria, with much rolling and rumbling of flatus in abdomen, and a reddish or sandy deposit in urine.

Nux vomica. Painful, ineffectual urging to urinate; urine passes in drops, with burning and tearing; spasmodic strangury.

Opium. The child is very drowsy and sleepy; the face is bloated; urine retained; bladder full, from nursing after passion of nurse.

Pulsatilla. Frequent, almost ineffectual, urging to urinate, with cutting pains.

Sulphur. In scrofulous children, where the retention occurs every time the child catches cold. (Dule.).

Urine suppressed: sulph. (with hydrocephaloid), lyc., sil. (hydroceph.), carb. veg., apis, ars., zinc., terebinth.

Urine strong, fetid, but clear: calc. carb.; strong, like horse urine: nitr. ac.; strong, turbid: benz. ac.; ammoniacal: iod.; milk-colored: phos. ac.; fetid: ars., carb. veg., phos. ac.; smelling like that of a cat: rosa trim.; depositing a red sandy sediment: lyc.; with crying before passing: sarsap.; urine becomes sour or turbid with reddish sediment: graph.; sediment like flour: calc. carb.; acrid, fetid urine, aphthae: borax.

Aconite. Great febrile excitement; hot dry skin; anxiety, anguish; convulsions from teething or otitis; startings; twitches of single muscles; child gnaws its fists, frets, cries; costive, or dark watery stools.

Æthusa cyn. Spasms with stupor, delirium; turning of the eyes downward; epileptiform spasms, with clenched thumbs, red face; dilated, staring, immovable pupils; foam at the mouth; teeth set; pulse small, hard, accelerated; great weakness; children cannot stand or hold up their head.

Agaricus. Spasms, with tremors of the body; involuntary movements while awake.

Amyl nitrite. Convulsions, with unconsciousness and inability to swallow; frequent piercing shrieks; after long-continued convulsions weak, emaciation with tendency to sweat easily from slight exertion; during convulsions rigidity of muscles of limbs.

Apis mel. Nervous restlessness; convulsions; trembling and jerking of the limbs; shrieking; boring the head in the pillow; cerebral affections.

Arnica. Spasms, in consequence of a fall or other injury.

Arsenicum. The child lies as if dead; pale, but warm; is breathless for some time; finally it twists its mouth, first to one side, then to the other; a violent jerk appears to pass through the whole body, and respiration and consciousness gradually return.

Belladonna. Starting from sleep, with a wild look, dilated pupils; heat of the head and hands; red eyes and flushed face; sopor after the spasm. Convulsions may commence in arm, and then the body be thrown forward and backward.

Bryonia. Spasms developed through repercussion of measles.

Camphora. Spasms from suppressed catarrh of the head or chest.

Causticum. Convulsive motions of the upper part of the body, with feverish heat and coldness of the hands and feet. Convulsions of the extremities in the evening when the child is sleeping, with disturbed eyes and icy coldness of the body.

Chamomilla. Child makes itself stiff and bends backwards; kicks with the feet and screams immoderately. Convulsions of children; legs moved up and down; grasping and reaching with the hands; mouth drawn from side to side; eyes staring, jerking, and twitching even in sleep. The nurse may have had a fit of anger which causes the convulsions of the child.

Cicuta vir. Violent shocks through the head, arms, and legs, which cause them to jerk suddenly; spasmodic rigidity of the body, either opisthotonos or emprosthotonos. The child seems well and in great spirits, when suddenly it becomes rigid, then relaxation sets in, with great prostration. Tonic spasms, renewed from the slightest touch, or the least talking or walking about. Helminthiasis.

Cimicifuga. Children wake at night with a frightened look and trembling of the limbs.

Cina. Child is feeble, lax, and ailing; painful sensibility in the limbs of whole body on motion or touch; attacks worse early in morning and evening, and most violent after eating; convulsive attacks at night; spasms of children, with throwing the arms from side to side; convulsions of the extensor muscles, the child becomes suddenly stiff, followed by trembling of the whole body, with blue lips, and whining complaints of pain in throat, chest, and all the limbs; there is a clucking noise during convulsion as if water was poured out of a bottle from the throat down to abdomen; paralytic pains in arms and legs.

Coffea. Convulsions of teething children, with grinding of teeth and coldness of limbs, after over-excitement; weakly and excitable children.

Cuprum. Eclampsia of children during dentition; the spasm is often preceded by violent vomiting of phlegm; the clonic spasms begin in the fingers and toes; child lies on belly and spasmodically thrusts the breech up; after the convulsion the child screams, and turns and twists in all directions till another spasm occurs.

Cuprum acet. Spasms from retrocession of the eruption in scarlet fever.

Gelsemium. Convulsions from reflex irritation.

Helleborus. Convulsions of nursing children, with extreme coldness; the urine is very dark, and has a sediment like coffee-grounds; intense and intolerable pain in the head.

Hyoscyamus. Convulsions after meals; child sickens after eating, vomits or shows distress at the stomach; sudden shrieks and then insensible. Convulsive jerks; long-lasting spasms; frothy at the mouth.

Ignatia. Spasms return at the same hour every day; screaming and violent trembling all over; single parts seem to be convulsed; spasms of children, preceded by hasty drinking; convulsive twitchings, especially after fright or grief of the nurse; convulsions during dentition, with frothing at the mouth, kicking with the legs.

Hepar s. c. Traumatic convulsions, caused by excessive pressure on the brain during delivery; trismus of new-born babes.

Ipecacuanha. Much nausea and vomiting, either before or during a spasm; the child is spasmodically drawn in some direction; body rigid, stretched out, followed by spasmodic jerking of the arms; convulsions from indigestible food or from suppressed eruption.

Kreasot. Convulsion from the swelling of a gum over a tooth which is not quite through; great restlessness, wants to be in motion all the time, and screams the whole night; bronchial irritation from dentition; teeth look black and decay as fast as they appear. Otitis.

Laurocerasus. Much gasping for breath before, during, or after a spasm, with bluish tint of the skin; after fright; emaciation.

Lycopodium. Spasms from incarcerated flatus, with screaming, foaming at the mouth, throwing the arms about, unconsciousness.

Melilotus. Convulsions in nervous children during dentition.

Mercurius. Convulsions, with cries, rigidity, bloated abdomen; itching of the nose and throat; worse at night, from suppressed salivation.

Nux vom. Convulsions in the child from indigestion, especially through the high living of the nurse, from emotions in the nurse, as anger; the spasms begin with an aura in the epigastrium; spasms renewed by the least touch, followed by deep sleep.

Opium. Spasms from fright, anger (in nurse); in children from approach of strangers; in new-born babes, screaming before or during the spasm; after attack deep sleep; stupor between spasms.

Silicea. Spasms which return at the change of the moon or at night; convulsions after vaccination; attacks preceded by coldness of the left side, shaking and twisting of the left arm.

Stannum. Spasms during dentition, with worm symptoms, more excitability, more disturbance of the brain, and more fear than in cina.

Stramonium. Suppression of an eruption, or the exanthem fails to come out; the child is afraid and shrinks back from objects on first seeing them; opisthotonic convulsions from bright dazzling objects, water, or touch; abdomen pulled; body very hot; spasms continually change character.

Tart. emet. Spasms from repelled eruptions, with paleness of the skin and much difficulty of breathing; great prostration and faintness.

Terebinthina. Dentition accompanied by suppression of urine and convulsions; child is wakeful at night, screaming as if frightened, has a staring look, clenches his fingers; twitchings in different parts of the body; picking of nose; dry short cough; aching in limbs and head; burning soreness and interstitial distension of gums, otitis infantilis.

Veratrum alb. Convulsions of children, with pale face and cold sweat on forehead; cough before or after the spasm; trembling all over.

Zincum. Twitching in various muscles; the whole body of the child jerks during sleep; the child is cross before attack; body hot; restless at night; fidgety feet; right side twitches; pale children during teething.

Infantile paralysis: acon., am., bell., caust., gela., hyosc., mere, nux v., rhus, sulph.

Ankles weak: caust., natr. carb., natr. mur. (also topically), sulph. ac., sulph., calc. carb., calc. phosph.

Child cannot stand, spine weak: sulph., calc. carb., calc. phos. (head drops), sil.

§ 16. Asphyxia or apparent death of new-born infants. Dissolve 1 grain of antim. tart. in 8 ounces of water, either as an injection or per os in drop doses, a few drops every fifteen minutes. Where it fails, give opium if the face of the child is blue, or china if pale. After the baby shows signs of life, give aconite where the face is red or blue, and china if pale.

Aconite. The child is hot, purple-hued, pulseless, and breathless, or nearly so.

Belladonna. Face very red and eyeballs greatly injected.

China. Where profuse hemorrhage was the apparent cause.

Tart. emet. The child is pale and breathless, although the cord still pulsates.

Camphora may be given a few minutes after ant. tart. if the latter should fail. Do not neglect artificial respiration.

§ 17. Sleeplessness of infants.

Aconite. Sleeplessness, restlessness, feverish heat; continual tossing about, from fear, fright, or anxiety.

Ambra. Child cannot sleep; it is nervous and irritable and when asleep awakens weak and unrefreshed; body cold.

Belladonna. Sleeplessness after weaning, with constant cries for hours and even days; starts during sleep, as if in fright; body icy cold all night, head burning hot; wetting the bed.

Chamomilla. Sleeplessness, with colic and screams, restless sleep or moaning, starting up, crying out, and tossing about during sleep; hot sweat about head; child must have motion, wants to be carried about.

Coffea. The child is so playful that it is hard for him to fall asleep; excitable and weakly children.

Cypripedium. The child is excitable, laughs and plays at unwanted hours; is very wakeful, and laughs even in sleep.

Gelsemium. Sleeplessness, a wide-awake feeling during dentition, with violent itching of face, head, and shoulders; face red; child nervous, excitable, with profuse flow of clear urine, alternating with drowsiness.

Hyoscyamus. Child sobs and cries in sleep; sleeplessness from nervous irritation; excessive wakefulness, alternating with drowsiness; strabismus.

Jalapa. Sleeplessness, with colic and screams.

Opium. Sleeplessness, with acuteness of hearing, which prevents sleep; or, instead of coffea, where the nurse is in the habit of drinking coffee.

Sticta pulm. Sleeplessness, from nervousness or from cough.

Staphisagria. The child wakes, pushes everything away, and wants everybody to go away; restlessness at night, as if from frightful dreams, calls for her mother often.

Stramonium. Child will not go to sleep in the dark, but will soon fall asleep in a brilliantly-lighted room.

§ 18. Hiccough: acon., nux v., puls.

§ 19. Aphthæ or thrush.

Æthusa cyn. The aphthous condition causes great distress; profuse salivation or dryness of the mouth; vomiting of milk, or of a substance resembling milk; diarrhœa of undigested food, or constipation; much crying, as if from colic.

Apis. Rosy-red mouth and fauces; mucous surface swollen; tongue swollen and studded with small blisters, also in clusters on the tongue or along its border; slight thirst.

Arsenicum. The aphthæ assume a livid or bluish appearance, with great weakness or diarrhœa; pytalism; great exhaustion.

Arum triph. Great swelling of lining membrane and tongue; will not or cannot open mouth; mouth raw, burning, bleeding; putrid odor; lips as if scalded; lips and nose chapped and bleeding; picks nose and lips.

Baptisia. Gums ooze blood and look dark, purplish, fetid odor; tongue brown; great exhaustion; offensive stools; can swallow only fluids, even a small lump of thickened milk causes gagging; profuse salivation.

Borax. Child frequently lets go the nipple, showing signs of pain in mouth from nursing; mouth hot, mucous surface of palate shrivelled; red blisters on tongue; child cries when nursing; urine of the odor of cat's urine.

Bryonia. The mouth is usually dry with thirst; dry lips, rough and cracking; the child does not like to take hold of the breast, but when once its mouth is moistened, it draws well.

Calcarea carb. Dry mouth alternating with salivation; constitutional symptoms will give the indication.

Carbo veg. Gums recede and bleed easily; oozing of blood; mouth hot; bloody saliva; edges of gums yellow, indented.

Capsicum. Suitable to fat, but flabby, sluggish children; small, burning blisters in mouth, having a carrion-like odor.

Hepar. White aphthous pustules on inside of lips and cheeks, and on tongue.

Hydrastis. Tenacious mucus hangs in shreds from the mouth; tongue red, raw, blistered, red papillæ; weak children; eczema on forehead at margin of hair, worse from being washed; bloody, purulent mucus from nose.

Iodum. Aphthous eruption in the mouth, offensive odor; copious saliva; nasal catarrh thin, excoiating.

Kali bichrom. Aphthous ulcers, deeply corroding; stringy mucus in mouth and throat, nasal catarrh.

Kali chlor. Follicular stomatitis, with extreme fetor.

Lachesis. Ulcers bluish, fluids return through nose; can bear no clothing to touch the face or neck.

Mercurius. Scorbutic gums; saliva copious, offensive, bloody; ulcers with bases like lard; inflammation of the whole buccal cavity and ulcers upon gums; glands swollen; diarrhœa, with tenesmus.

Mercurius corros. Mouth terribly swollen; lips swollen and everted; pytalism; nose sore and stuffed up with a gluey secretion.

Muriatic acid. Stomacæe of nursing children, patch on the right side of tongue, large, irregular, very deep; tongue sore, bluish, deep ulcer with black base and vesicles; month as if glued up with insipid mucus; much salivation, fetid breath.

Natrum mur. Scorbutic gums, blisters in and around the mouth, etc.

Nitric acid. Offensive, yellow ulcers; blisters on lips, salivation, gums sore, etc.

Phytolacca. Small ulcers on inside of right cheek, very painful, profuse salivation.

Ranunculus scel. Tongue looks as if covered with "islands."

Salicylic acid. Mouth dotted with white patches; burning, scalded feeling; ulcers on tip of tongue.

Staphisagria. Gums ulcerated, spongy, white, receding, bleed easily; mouth and tongue full of blisters; child weak, sickly; sunken eyes and surrounded with blue rings; cervical glands swollen; offensive odor from mouth.

Sulphuric acid. Mouth very painful, and child very weak; yellowish aphthae in mouth and on gums; whitish ulcers; pyæsemia; easily bleeding gums; ecchymoses.

Sulphur. Sour, fetid smell; gums bleed; blisters and vesicles; saliva mixed with blood; excoriations about anus, etc.

§ 20. Coryza or stoppage of the nose. Compare Catarrh.

Aconite. At the very start it will cut short the fever and the catarrh.

Ammonium carb. Snuffles; the child's nose is stuffed; it starts up every time it tries to go to sleep; lachrymation; rattling of phlegm in trachea and bronchi.

Ammonium mur. Coryza of children, discharge bluish.

Arum triphyllum. Profuse coryza, the fluid burning and ichorous; making the nostrils and lips sore; feverishness, and hot dry skin.

Copa. Profuse, watery, excoriating discharge, with violent cough and lachrymation.

Chamomilla. Watery or mucous discharge from the nose.

Dulcamara. Dry cough, worse in the open air, and from every cold change in the weather.

Elaps cor. Snuffles of children; coryza from the least current of air; white and watery mucous discharge from nose.

Euphrasia. Profuse fluent coryza, and acrid lachrymation; ulceration of the margins of the eyelids.

Iodum. Fluent coryza, with general heat of skin; discharge of nose hot.

Kali bichr. Discharge from nose, tough and stringy; sometimes, extending to the throat, it causes choking.

Mercurius. Nostrils red, raw, and ulcerated; frequent sneezing and profuse fluent coryza.

Nux vom. Coryza prevents infants from breathing while nursing, worse at night or towards morning.

Sambucus. The nose seems perfectly dry, and completely obstructed, preventing breathing and nursing; constant snuffles.

Sticta pulm. Constant irritation in the nose to blow it, but no discharge.

Sulphur. Profuse fluent coryza, like clear water.

Tart. emet. Obstruction of the nose, with much rattling in the trachea and bronchi.

Antimon. tart. Cyanotic symptoms; dyspnoea, child cannot nurse, cries with cough, also coughs when angry.

Arsenicum. Dry cough, or with frothy sputum and emphysematous dyspnoea, worse in winter.

Calcarea carb. Catarrh and chronic blennorrhagia of the trachea and lungs, rattling of mucus; loose cough.

Calcarea phos. Cough with yellow expectoration; child gets a suffocative attack when lifted up from the cradle; cough during difficult dentition, with fever, dryness, and thirst, better lying down, worse when getting up (mangan. acet.).

Conium. Dry, teasing cough, worse when lying; dry, spasmodic, nightly, almost continuous cough, especially in scrofulous children.

Hepar. Tracheal and bronchial inflammation in children, with continual fever and headache, difficult, short, anxious breathing, hoarse voice, violent, dry, painful, alternately rough and hollow-sounding cough, worse by eating and drinking anything cold, by cold air, talking or crying.

Iodum. Croupy, hoarse cough, worse in warm wet weather; tendency to bronchial and pulmonary congestion.

Kali bichrom. Fat, chubby, light-haired children; wheezing cough, with retching and expectoration of tough mucus, which forces him to sit up, bent forward; sensation of choking on lying down; worse when undressing, after eating.

Kali carb. Predominant stitches; incipient pulmonary phthisis with exhausting dry cough, short breathing, purulent expectoration, weakness, and emaciation.

Kali hydriod. Lungs hepatized; sputum frothy, green, looking like soapbuds.

Lycopodium. Persistent catarrhs of respiratory organs, with copious expectoration of large quantities of pus, day and night; general weakness, emaciation of upper part of body, while the lower portion is distended; child takes cold very easily.

Phosphor. Violent cough, quick breathing, oppression of chest; cough with diarrhoea, hoarseness; capillary bronchitis; cough worse coming from the warm room into the cold air.

Silicea. Rachitic children, pain under sternum; loose cough with purulent sputa; night sweats.

Sulphur. Dry cough, flashes of heat, rattling of mucus; sputum yellow, purulent; weak chest, scrofulosis.

If not depending on acute diseases, and continuing even after strict dietary rules have been enforced, may be relieved by ars., ipec., nux v., puls.; or, bry., ferr. ac. when the vomiting takes place after more solid food, and never at other times.

Vomiting of blood: arn., ars., ipec., nux v.

Vomiting of ingesta: calc., cham., chin., ferr., ipec., iris, lyc., nux v., phosph., puls., sil., sulph.

Bilious vomiting: ars., bry., cham., chin., ipec., merc., nux v., puls., sep., veratr. alb.

Fecal vomiting: acon., bell., nux v., op., plumb.

§ 23. Constipation of infants.

Alumina. A want of action in the rectum, the child has to make a very great effort even for a soft stool.

Antimon. crud. Hard white lumps and high-colored urine; colic; no appetite.

Bryonia. Faeces hard, and so large as to give great pain in passing them; dry lips and mouth; alternate constipation and diarrhoea.

Calc. carb. Hard undigested stools of a light color; claylike, gray, fecal.

Calc. phos. Hard stool, causing great depression, itching or stitching in anus.

Causticum. Hard, knotty stool, like sheep's dung, with red face from straining.

Graphites. Mucus-coated stools of uncommon size and very large, humid eruptions all over the body.

Hepar. Hard, difficult stool, but even if not hard, expelled with difficulty; often with eruptions in bends of joints.

Lycopodium. Perfect inertia of intestines; difficult stools, which it is almost impossible to pass; much flatulence.

Magnesia mur. Stools crumbling as they pass the verge of the anus, frequent desire to stool.

Nitric acid. Pains of evacuation great during and after passage, as though the little sufferer has fissures at the anus.

Nux vom. Stools large, difficult, or small, frequent, and painful, with much colic. Antiperistaltic action of the intestinal canal.

Opium. The stools occur in round, hard, black balls. Perfect inertia of the bowels.

Plumbum. The stools are composed of conglomerate balls, like sheep's manure.

Sepia. The stools are very difficult to discharge: they seem to remain in the lower part of rectum, and to require the assistance of the nurse for their removal.

Silicea. The stools are with difficulty forced to the very verge of the anus, when they slip back again; rectum inactive; spine weak.

Veratrum alb. Faeces cannot be passed from inertia of the rectum, but a healthy stool can be procured at any time by an injection; pallor and cold sweat from the exertion; general depression of vitality.

§ 24. Intertrigo or chafing of infants.

Calc. carb. In very fat and fleshy children of leucophlegmatic constitution.

Carbo veg. Much rawness of the parts affected, particularly in very warm weather.

Chamomilla. The excoriations irritate the already irritable infants, constant crying.

Graphites. The affected parts discharge a quantity of transparent glutinous fluid, especially behind the ears and between the thighs.

Hepar. The chafing extends by means of pimples which arise just beyond the raw surface.

Lycopodium. Offensive and bleeding excoriation.

Mercur. sol. The excoriation is much worse at night; it is raw and bloody; depriving of sleep.

Sepia. Delicate skin; the least injury tends to ulceration.

Sulphur. Much itching of the skin in general, and of the parts affected.

§ 26. Ailments of dentition.

For sleeplessness: acon., ambra, bor., cham., coff., cypriped., stict.

For feverish states: acon., bell., bor., cham., coff., gels., nux v., sil.

For nervousness and restlessness: acon., bell., cham., coff., iod., kali brom., kreas., mellilotus.

For dry and spasmodic cough: cham., cina, nux v., kali bichrom.

For slow dentition: calc. carb., dolichos., kreas., sulph., tereb.

§ 27. Compare Atrophy, Angina, Eclampsia, Rachitis, Scrofula, etc.

CHLOASMA.

Liverspots: calc., col., con., hep., hyosc., kali bichr., nitr. ac., phosph., sep., sulph.

CHLOROSIS.

Aletris far. Anæmic debility of chlorotic girls and pregnant women, suffering from slow digestion and flatulence; scanty pale menses, or amenorrhœa.

Alumina. Constant chilliness, craving for chalk; scanty pale menses; hysterical jerks and spasmodic laughter; anxiety; impelled to suicide when seeing a knife; low-spirited when awaking.

Antim. crud. Menses commence at an early period, are profuse, and cease afterwards; headache; peevishness; loss of appetite; irregular stool; excessive laziness and weakness; must lie down for hours; deep and unrefreshing sleep at night.

Arsenicum. High degree of debility, with excessive irritability; edematous paleness; cardiac disturbances, even during rest; complete gastro-ataxia; pernicious anæmia; febrile chlorosis, with dropsy and petechial effusion.

Belladonna. Laziness and indisposition to work or stir; great general debility, with weariness and a desire to sleep in the afternoon; shortness of breath; extreme paleness of the face changes immediately to redness, with cold cheeks and hot forehead.

Calcarea carb. Scrofula; disposition to cold and diarrhœa; great weakness or curvature of the spine; vertigo on going upstairs; disgust for meat; craving for sour and indigestible things; after eating, swelling of the stomach and palpitation of the heart; menses too often, too profuse, or wanting; leucorrhœa; great shortness of breath; great muscular debility; walking wearies and makes the heart palpitate; sitting causes backache and headache, therefore constant inclination to lie down; hands and feet feel cold and damp; the fingers appear dead. Imaginary fears about her state of health.

China. Result from loss of vital fluids, with tendency to cedematous swellings and dropsical effusions. Sour belching; poor digestion; bloated abdomen.

Cina. On drinking wine, she shudders as though it were vinegar; spasmodic yawning, headache, pain in the chest and back, caused by fixing the eyes steadily upon some object, as when sewing; all pains worse by external pressure; spells of intermittent fever at 4 P.M., with thirst and coldness of the hands and feet; colic and vomiting of ingesta; afterwards heat and sweat, followed by deep sleep.

Conium. Amenorrhœa, genitals very sensitive; constant dry heat all over without thirst; stitching pain in hepatic region and heaviness of the limbs; weeping mood; anxiousness and restlessness.

Cyclamen. Suppressed menses or scanty painful menstruation; headache; vertigo; swollen eyelids; pale face, lips, and gums; loss of appetite; no thirst; constipation; palpitation, constant chilliness, dread of fresh air; disinclination to move and to work; constant drowsiness; wants to be alone, and weeping does her good.

Ferrum. (Arseniate of iron.) Anæmia, great paleness of the face, which is very apt to turn suddenly fiery red; dyspnoea and beating of the heart; muscles feeble and easily exhausted; frequent vomiting of ingesta, especially after eating and from motion; gastrodynia; menses either suppressed or watery; general emaciation; œdema; cool skin; constant chilliness and evening fever, simulating very closely hectic fever, simple uncomplicated chlorosis (diminution of hæmoglobin).

Graphites. Scanty, pale, delaying menses or amenorrhœa; cool vagina; aversion to coitus; œdema of the eyelids, external genital organs, and abdominal parietes; face pale and yellowish.

Helonias. Profound debility, as after severe acute diseases; amenorrhœa marked by general atony; prolapsus uteri from want of muscular tonicity; loss of sexual desire and power, with or without sterility; mind exceedingly dull and inactive.

Ignatia. Sensitive, nervous, and hysteric women, inclined to spasmodic and intermittent complaints, and where the trouble is induced by mental emotions, such as fright, grief, disappointed love.

Ipecacuanha. Headache, as though the brain were mashed, with nausea and vomiting; miliary eruptions on the forehead and cheeks by spells; pale face, and pale mucous membranes; scanty and short menses; weak pulse, cold hands; morose, enjoys nothing.

Natrum mur. Chronic cases, and cachectic persons, with dead, dirty, withered skin; palpitation and fluttering of the heart; suppressed menstruation; leucorrhœa, diminished sexual desire; oppression and anxiety of the chest; sadness.

Nux vom. Abdominal functions out of order.

Phosphorus. Deepseated chronic cases, with tubercular diathesis, brought on by depressing mental influences, such as grief, worryment, by exhausting bodily crosses. Puffiness around the eyes; dry hacking cough, great weakness in the sexual organs; leucorrhœa; total loss of energy in all the organic functions of the body.

Plumbum. Want of breath and great oppression of the chest from motion; palpitation of the heart; anasarca; great muscular weakness.

Pulsatilla. Weakness and sluggishness in the circulation; soft and irregular pulse, and palpitation of the heart, malassimilation, with signs of anæmia, such as dizziness when rising; amenorrhœa, or scanty slimy menses, which appear too late; patient feels better in the open air. (Cyclamen, dreads the fresh air.)

Sepia. Bearing down as if everything would issue out of the genitals; leucorrhœa, yellowish and passing away in starts; swelling of the external genital organs, with itching, burning, and soreness; palpitation of the heart, intermittent pulsations of the heart; nausea brought on even by the smell of cooking.

Senecio aureus. Chlorosis in scrofulous girls, with dropsy; anæmia; dysmenorrhœa, especially where the stromous habit is present; leucorrhœa instead of the menses, or with urinary troubles; retarded and scanty menses.

Sulphur. Heat of the head, with cold feet; frequent unsuccessful desire for stools; leucorrhœa; oppression of the chest, with palpitation of the heart; exhaustion even from talking; feels worse when standing, and faint before dinner; perspires easily.

CHOLERA AND CHOLERINE.

§ 2. SPORADIC CHOLERA, during the summer heat, give: ars., cham., chin., coloc., dioscor., dule., euphorb. cor., gnaphal., ipeec., iris, merc., podoph., veratr.

For ASIATIC OR EPIDEMIC CHOLERA: 1, ars., camph., ipeec., veratr.; 2, carb. v., cupr., sec.; 3, bell., canth., cham., cic., kal. hydrocyan., jatr., phos. ac., laur., merc., n. vom., phos., phos. ac.; 4, oxygenized water.

For CHOLERINE or for diarrhœa during the cholera: 1, ars.; 2, ipeec., phos. ac., podoph., sec., veratr.; 3, cupr., gratiola, phos.

A species of cholera arising from chagrin or anger, requires: 1, cham.; 2, coloc., if anger and chagrin were combined.

§ 3. For ASPHYCTIC CHOLERA (the pulse hardly to be felt): 1, ars., camph., veratr.; 2, carb. v., kal. hydrocyan.; 3, acon.

For SPASMS IN THE CALVES OF THE LEGS: 1, cupr.; 2, camph., verat.; 3, coloc.

§ 5. For the CONSEQUENCES OF CHOLERA, the following remedies have been recommended: acon., bell., bry., canth., carb. v., chin., hyosc., op., phos. ac., rhus, stram., sulph.

If the CEREBRAL SYSTEM is involved: bell., lach., op.; or acon., hyosc., stram.

For INFLAMMATORY affections: acon., verat. vir.

For GASTRIC AND ABDOMINAL affections: bell., bry., carb. v., merc., rhus, sulph.

For NAUSEA: carb. v., n. vom., lach.

For PULMONARY AFFECTIONS: 1, acon., bell., bry., carb. v., rhus, sulph.; 2, arg. nitr., cic.

For GENERAL DEBILITY: china.

For DEBILITY OF THE INTESTINAL CANAL: phos., sulph.

For TYPHOID AFFECTION: 1, hyosc.; 2, bry., rhus; 3, bapt., bell., carb. v., cocc., lachn., op., phos. ac., stram.

Aconite. Premonitory stage, with nausea, sweat, and diarrhoea; white stools and red urine; hypogastrium painful and sore to the touch; weakness of bowels from former purgatives; sensation as if a warm liquid came out of the anus; acute congestion of the mucous membranes; after eating fruit. When cholera is fully developed, aconite may be still indicated, for inclination to vomit with violent diarrhoea; vomiting and watery diarrhoea; hippocratic countenance; bluish face, with black lips, terror and imbecility in the face; cold limbs, with blue nails; collapse.

Arsenicum. Stomach as much disturbed as the lower bowels; prostration profound; incessant restlessness and change of position; intense thirst, satiated for a few moments by a small quantity of water, but that little aggravates all symptoms, especially vomiting and purging; violent vomiting of watery, bilious, or slimy, green, brown, or black masses; lips and tongue dry, blackish, and cracked; icy coldness of the skin, and clammy sweat, with subjective heat; pains violent, and burning in the epigastrium; discharges, not rice water, but frequent, scanty, a dark or yellowish water; hippocratic countenance; small, feeble, intermittent or tremulous pulse; tonic spasms of the fingers and toes.

Belladonna. Typhoid variety; coma, with half-opened, distorted eyes, grating of the teeth, distortion of the mouth or great restlessness: desire to escape; stitches in the side or burning of the abdomen: burning heat and redness of the face, and desire for cold drinks: accelerated pulse, which is more or less full, but not hard.

Camphora. At the commencement, when there is neither thirst, vomiting, nor purging, but great muscular prostration, occurring simultaneously with mental apathy, coldness of the whole surface: hoarseness; intense anguish; stupor; icy coldness and blueness of the limbs, face, and tongue, with painful cramps in the extremities and calves; dulness of sense, moaning, tetanus, and trismus. Dry cholera, representing a terrible shock to the great sympathetics.

Cantharis. The urinary passages involved, with violent burning in the hypogastrium; rumbling in the abdomen; bloody stools with tenesmus; heat in the abdomen; great restlessness; cerebral symptoms. Suppression or retention of urine, even uræmic coma, delirium, and convulsions.

Carbo veg. Useful even in the premonitory stage after exposure to great heat of the sun or of fire, as for cooks, blacksmiths, masons, etc., ushered in by hæmorrhage from the bowels, associated with flatulence. algid stage: incipient paralysis with complete collapse of pulse, or with congestion of blood to the chest and head after cessation of the spasms; diarrhœa and vomiting, with oppression of the chest and coma: the cheeks are red and covered with clammy sweat; tympanitic distension of abdomen; hoarseness or total loss of voice; hicough during every motion.

Cicuta. Loud-sounding dangerous hicough; little diarrhœa, but the vomiting alternates with violent tonic spasms of the chest; sopor; convulsions; staring or upturned eyes; heavy breathing; congestion of blood to the head or chest; vomiting or diarrhœa.

Colocynthis. Vomiting, first of the ingesta, afterwards of green substances, with violent colic; retention of urine; cramps in the calves; frequent watery diarrhœa, which with every new stool becomes more colorless and watery.

Croton tigl. After violent nausea, violent vomiting of ingesta; sudden attacks of vomiting, yellowish-white frothy fluid, with the most violent efforts of the stomach; anguish, oppression, and pressure in stomach; nausea, and much water in the mouth; burning in stomach; many liquid stools, with tenesmus; no colic, or nausea and colic; yellow-colored water running out like a shot; violent purging, with a disagreeable sensation through the whole body, and a nauseous taste; sweat during stool; weakness, fainting spells.

Cuprum. Spasmodic variety Spasms first in lower limbs, then in the upper ones, then in the muscles of abdomen and chest; threatening suffocative syncope, invading diaphragm and muscles of heart; drink descends with a gurgling noise: desire for warm food and drink rather than cold; horrid colic, with the nausea and vomiting; drinking sips of cold water prevents vomiting; vomiting water after slight nausea, with tears in eyes; spasms in throat prevent speech; cholera collapse, with coldness, blue surface, deathly nausea, suffocation, epigastric distress, and cramps; uræmic eclampsia in cholera, with equacious delirium and asthma, followed by apathy, cold tongue and breath, and deathlike prostration.

Cuprum ammoniato-sulphuricum. Excessive thirst, constant vomiting of large quantities of fluid, which pour, as it were, away; cramps in the calves of the legs.

Elaterium. Profuse watery diarrhoea, without vomiting; stools frequent, frothy, watery, and of a pea-green color; cutting griping pains in the bowels; chilliness, with continued yawning; the whole attack followed by great prostration.

Euphorbia corollata. Violent vomiting of large quantities of water, mixed with mucus; then clear fluid like rice-water, and purging of watery light-yellow liquid, with warm sweat on forehead and face; the ejections are thrown out with much force; deathlike sense of faintness and exhaustion.

Gratiola. Cholera resulting from drinking excessive quantities of water of moderate coolness; yellow green, frothy, watery stools, gushing out forcibly, with rumbling in abdomen; cold feeling in abdomen; frequent spitting, with inclination to vomit; nausea not relieved by vomiting.

Hydrocyanic acid. Pulselessness; cold clammy sweat; involuntary stools; staring, fixed look, with dilated pupils; breathing slow, deep, gasping, difficult, and spasmodic, at long intervals; apparently dead.

Hyoscyamus. Typhoid symptoms after the vomiting, diarrhoea and coldness has ceased, with dulness of sense, wandering looks; red and hot face; spasms and rumbling in abdomen; hiccough, with involuntary incontinence and foaming at the mouth.

Ipecacuanha. Frequent vomiting, the purging not being violent; a mild form caused by eating fat meat or sweet cake; griping, pinching pains in abdomen, worse from motion, better by rest; vertigo and confusion of head.

Iris versicolor. Choleraic features; burning in mouth and fauces as if on fire, vomiting of food, then of bile, with great heat and sweat; burning distress in epigastrium; stools yellow, watery, corrosive, with burning in rectum; burning in urethra after micturition; sunken eyes, ice-cold tongue, cold limbs, and cramps with the rice-water stools.

Jatropha curcas. Easy vomiting of large quantities of a watery substance like albumen, diarrhoea, contents of rectum gush out like a torrent; anxiety, with burning at the stomach; anguish, with coldness of body; viscid sweat; violent cramps in lower limbs; calves look like flat splints; abdomen flattened after many stools.

Laurocerasus. Absence of vomiting and stools; asphyxia; coldness of body, pulselessness; cloudiness of the brain, fainting; tetanic spasms; suppression or retention of urine; sensation of constriction in the throat when swallowing.

Nicotin. Thirstlessness, without vomiting or diarrhoea, with icy-cold forehead, and without any sign of action in the vegetative muscles; slow, irregular, intermittent pulse; oppressed breathing, anxiety about the chest; icy coldness from the knees to the toes; paralysis of the lower extremities, with formication in the legs; dizziness, with nausea and anguish; deathlike paleness of the face, with nausea and clammy cold perspiration, while the body is warm; small feeble pulse; coldness in the abdomen, with nausea and hiccough; burning in stomach, vomiting of water, only when moving; hepatic and renal region painful to touch.

Opium. Great depression of nervous centres, with stupor and coma; insensibility to the action of medicine.

Phosphorus. Hicough after eating, making the pit of stomach sore and aching; diarrhœa, with violent thirst, rumbling in the abdomen, and debility, as a sequel of cholera.

Rhus tox. Typhoid stage. Dry, brown or black lips; constant comatose slumbering, loquacious delirium, red tip of tongue, and absence of coating, but great dryness, and pain in the limbs; better from motion.

Secale cornutum. The vomiting is over, but the diarrhœa continues, brownish, flocculent, colorless; aversion to heat or being covered, with icy coldness of the extremities; great exhaustion and prostration; pale and sunken face; dry, thick, viscid coating of the tongue, unquenchable thirst, severe anxiety and burning at the pit of the stomach. The stools may be involuntary and unperceived, and where there is still vomiting it is painless, without effort, and followed by great weakness. The extensors and abductors are more affected by the spasms than the flexors and adductors; toes and fingers are spread asunder and bent backwards, facial muscles especially affected, distortion of features, mouth closed or distorted; bites her tongue; considerable dryness of mouth and nose, not relieved by water, thirst for acids.

Tabacum. Nausea and vomiting, if persistent after purging yielded, recurring in constant paroxysms, with cold sweat, oppressed stomach, anguish and restlessness, cramp and tearing in limbs, occasional drawing in the calves; nausea, worse from slightest movement; vomiting, sometimes in a stream.

Veratrum album. Great torpor of vegetative system without any great mental or sensory disturbance; little depression of spirits or anxiety; violent evacuation upwards and downwards; icy coldness of the body; great debility and cramps in the calves; vomiting, with constant desire for cold drinks; copious, watery, inodorous stools, mixed with white flocks; pale face, without any color; blue margins around the eyes; deathly anguish in the features; cold tongue and breath; loss of voice; great oppressive anguish in the chest, giving the patient a desire to escape from the bed; violent colic, especially around the umbilicus, as if the abdomen would be torn open; the abdomen is sensitive to contact, with drawing and cramps in the fingers; wrinkled skin in the palms of the hand; retention of urine.

CHORDEE.

See Gleet.

CHOREA.

St Vitus's dance: agar., asa., bell., caust., chin., cimicif., cina., croc., cupr., hyosc., ign., iod., kali brom., myzale, puls., rhus, sec., stram., sulph., scutell., tarant., zinc. For permanent cure the antipsorics: calc. carb., natr. mur., psor., sep., sil., sulph., etc.

Agaricus. True cerebral chorea, with clonic spasm when awake, quiet when asleep; spasmodic motions, from simple involuntary motions and jerks of single muscles to a dancing of the whole body; frequent nictitation of the eyelids; redness of the inner canthus of the eyes; lachrymation; sensitiveness of the lumbar vertebrae; body convulsed, as if a galvanic battery were applied to the spine; worse during approach of a thunderstorm; itching spots on the skin resembling chilblains; idiotic expression of face, inarticulate speech, ravenous appetite, but difficult swallowing; cervical glands swollen; spinal column sensitive to pressure or to a hot sponge; weakness and coldness of limbs; unsteady walk; trembling of parts or all over; joints feel as if dislocated; emaciation.

Asterias rub. Trembling jactitation of both arms and legs, unable to feed herself or to walk; frequent, clear, profuse urine; cause: fright, mental depression.

Belladonna. After mental excitement, especially when the flexors are affected and the paroxysms are preceded by numb feeling in muscles, or by a sensation as if a mouse ran over the extremities, epidemic chorea; flushed face and sore throat.

Causticum. Convulsive movements, especially on right side, with distortion of the eyes.

Chelidonium. Chorea; troubled and sad without cause; anxiety, palpitations, loss of appetite with vertigo and confusion of head; paralytic weakness in left thigh and knee upon stepping.

China. Chorea from great loss of arterial blood, or from masturbation.

Cuprum. Periodical chorea, muscular contortions, with laughter, grimaces, exaltation and ecstasies; irregular movements, commencing in fingers and toes; twitchings, often confined to one side; better when lying.

Hyoscyamus. Chorea, the result or the consequence of long and debilitating diseases; every muscle of the body twitches, and is thrown about, from the eyes to the toes; great agitation and loquacity.

Ignatia. Emotional chorea, especially from grief and fright, with sighing and sobbing, worse after eating.

Iodum. Abdominal reflex chorea; the stomach, liver, pancreas, abdominal glands, being at fault.

Laurocerasus. Emotional chorea, fearful contortions, and jactitations when awake; restless sleep; unusual appetite, indistinct speech, and gets angry when not understood; gasping for breath.

Lilium tigr. Convulsive contractions of almost all the muscles of the body, and a feeling as if she would be crazy if she did not hold tightly upon herself.

Nux vomica. Spinal chorea, after the use of allopathic remedies; with crawling sensation in the parts attacked; constipation. (Coc., follows well where paralysis remains.)

Pulsatilla. Chorea caused by amenorrhœa or dysmenorrhœa.

Rhododendron. Paroxysmal chorea, left arm, leg, and face, on approach of a storm.

Rhus tox. Chorea caused by a cold bath, getting drenched, or after repression of measles.

Scutellaria. Hysterical chorea, nightly restlessness, with frightful dreams; during the day, twitching and tremulousness of all the muscles.

Stramonium. Mania saltatoria, convulsive movements affect the parts of the body crosswise, or especially the upper extremities, or isolated groups of muscles; furious motions, frightful visions, laughter, lamentations, singing, desire to escape.

Tarantula. The right arm and left leg especially affected with choreic motions; nocturnal chorea, the contortions even not ceasing at night, with or without rheumatic complication. (The Cuban mygale is also considered specific for chorea, whether in children or adults, in acute as well as in chronic cases.)

2. Or: Calcareæ. Twitching of the muscles; trembling of the body; falling down, great weariness; chorea during second dentition, from onanism, or in leucophlegmatic persons when resulting from fright.

Cicuta virosa. Twisting and distortion of the limbs; sometimes accompanied by screams; sudden rigidity, with jerking of the limbs.

Cina. The movements often commence with a shriek; the tongue, larynx, œsophagus affected, causing a clucking from the throat to the stomach, as when water is poured from a bottle; staring eyes; clean red tongue, normal pulse, urine clear; from helminthiasis or onanism.

Crocus. Spasmodic contraction of single sets of muscles; jumping, dancing, laughing, whistling; wants to kiss everybody; epistaxis of dark stringy blood; changeable disposition.

Mygale. Facial muscles distorted; arms and legs in constant motion; unable to dress without assistance, frontal headache, vertigo; grating of the teeth at night; worse in the morning.

Natrum mur. Suitable for chronic cases, after fright or suppression of eruptions on the face; jerks on the right side of the head; paroxysms of jumping high up, regardless of obstructions; twitchings of the right side, worse at full moon.

Opium. Emotional chorea; trembling of the head, arms and hands; the arms are thrown out at right angles with the body, with spasmodic jerkings of the flexors.

Secale. Spasmodic twitchings, beginning in the muscles of the face and spreading over the whole body; convulsive starts, with the fingers spread out.

Sepia. Uterine chorea, associated with menstrual irregularities; eruptions like ringworms around the body; better after menses and after a thunderstorm.

Sticta pulm. Choreia complicated with hysteria, when the movements are confined to the lower extremities; evening aggravations; the feet and legs jump and dance about in spite of efforts to prevent them; sensation as if the legs were floating in the air when lying down.

Sumbul. Constant jerking of the head and limbs, with protrusion of the tongue, voracious appetite; happy disposition, with continued smiling; expression idiotic; fear of becoming insane; vomiting of food and constipation of bowels.

Zincum. Chronic chorea.

CINCHONA, ill effects of.

calc., ferr., ipec., lach., merc., puls., veratr.; or, 2, caps., carb. v., cin., natr. m., sep., sulph.

Arnica. For rheumatic pains, heaviness, languor, and bruised pain in the extremities, drawing in the bones: sensitiveness of all the organs of sense; aggravation of the pains by motion, talking, and noise.

Arsenicum. Ulcers on the extremities; dropsy or edema of the feet; short cough and dyspnea.

Belladonna. Congestion of blood to the head, with heat in the face; pains in the head, face, and teeth; or for jaundice, when merc. is insufficient.

Calcareæ. Headache: otalgia: toothache; pain in the limbs, especially when these symptoms are occasioned in consequence of the suppression of fever and ague by large doses of quinine, and puls. proves insufficient.

Ferrum. For edema of the feet.

Ipecacuanha. Six pills in water, a tablespoonful three times a day, generally removes most of the symptoms.

Lachesis. For fever and ague which had been suppressed by large doses of quinine; puls. is inefficient.

Mercurius. For jaundice or other affections of the liver.

Pulsatilla. Otagia: toothache; headache: pains in the limbs, after suppression of fever and ague.

Veratrum. Coldness of the body and limbs, with cold sweat, constipation, or diarrhœa.

§ 2. For the consequences of suppressed fever and ague, give:

1. When the fever is actually suppressed: arn., ars., bell., calc., carb. v., cin., ferr., ipec., lach., merc., puls., sulph.

2. When the fever still continues: 1, ipec., and then: 2, ars., carb. v., lach., puls.; or, but less frequently: 3, arn., cin., veratr.; or, finally: 4 calc., bell., merc., sulph.

For further details, see Intermittent Fever, Hepatitis, Lientia, and the other diseases arising from abuse of china.

2. Cannabis. Pressure, as if with a sharp point on the coccyx ; pain in the middle of the back as if it were being pinched, the pain gradually extending toward the abdomen.

Cantharis. Lancinations and tearings in the coccyx, causing him to start.

Cicuta. Tearing jerking in the coccyx ; painful feeling of stiffness in the lower limbs ; his legs refuse to carry him ; during catamenia ; coming on for the first time after a confinement.

Cistus can. A burning bruised pain in the coccyx.

Fluoric acid. Aching in the os sacrum and lumbar region, relieved by stretching and bending backwards, especially by pressure.

Graphites. Dull drawing in the coccyx in the evening ; violent itching of the coccygeal region, the part being moist with scurfy eruptions.

Kali carb. Violent gnawing in the coccyx, both when at rest and in motion ; backache, while walking ; she feels as if she must give up and lie down ; backache, as if broken.

Kreasot. Drawing pain along the coccyx down to the rectum and vagina, where a spasmodic, contractive pain is felt ; better when rising from her seat ; subsequent milky leucorrhœa.

Lachesis. Continual pain in the os sacrum and coccyx ; drawing pain, or as if sprained, in the small of the back, preventing motion ; agonizing pain when rising from his seat.

Magnesia. Sudden piercing pain in the coccyx ; sudden, violent, concussive, tearing, stitching pain in this region, as if the spine were bent back.

Mercurius. Tearing pain in the coccyx, relieved by pressing the hand against the abdomen. Pain in sacrum as if one had been lying on too hard a couch ; pricking itching in the sacrum, when walking.

Muriatic acid. Drawing burning along the back, beginning at the coccyx, as if under the skin ; burning stitch in the sacrum, causing one to start.

Paris quad. Tearing in the coccyx when sitting ; pulsative stitches in the coccyx.

Petroleum. Pain in coccyx while sitting ; great uneasiness and stiffness in the small of the back and coccyx in the evening.

Phosphorus. Pain in coccyx as if ulcerated, hindering motion, and followed by painful stiffness in the nape of the neck.

Phos. ac. Itching stitch in the coccyx ; fine stitches in coccyx and sternum.

Platina. Numb feeling in the coccyx as from a blow.

Ruta. Pain extending from coccyx to sacrum, as if caused by a bruise.

Tarantula. Burning smarting leucorrhœa and painful uneasiness in the coccyx, relieved by standing, aggravated by the slightest movement, sitting or lying on the bed, or by the least pressure.

Valeriana. Bubbling pressure above the anus, in the region of the coccyx; pain in the loins, as from cold or overlifting.

Zincum. Pain in coccyx, sometimes a pushing-aching, and sometimes pinching; lancinations in the sacrum; pressure, tension, and weakness in the lumbar and sacral region; cracking in the back when walking.

COFFEE, ill effects of.

The best remedies are: 1, cham., coec., ign., and n. vom.; 2, bell., canth., carb. veg., caust., hep., ipéc., lyc., merc., puls., rhus, sulph.

Particular indications:

Chamomilla. Headache and toothache; extreme sensitiveness to pain, with crying; pains in the stomach, abating a little after taking coffee; violent colic, great oppression in the pit of the stomach, with hard pain.

Cocculus. Debility and sweat after every exercise, trembling of the limbs: sudden starting up during sleep, as if in affright; flushes of heat; toothache when eating; sensation of emptiness in the head; colic, great sadness and anguish; aggravation of the symptoms in the open air, during motion, when eating or drinking, during sleep, or by tobacco smoke.

Ignatia. Headache, as from a nail in the brain, or as if the forehead were pressed asunder, or for beating in the head, which is relieved by stooping; debility; sensation of emptiness in the pit of the stomach; spasmodic colic; painfulness or going to sleep of the limbs; fitful mood; at times gay, at others sad.

Nux vomica. Sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart; extreme nervousness; hemicrania, or sensation as if a nail were driven into the brain, with aggravation of the pains on stooping, or when walking; also, in the open air; toothache, colic aggravated by coffee; extreme sensitiveness to the open air; lively and choleric temper.

For other affections we refer the reader to the diseases of the special organs.

The chronic ailments arising from the abuse of coffee are frequently relieved by merc., or sulph., provided cham., nux vom., or ign., are not sufficient.

COLCHICUM, ill effects of.

Give: coec., nuc vom., puls.

COLD, ill effects of a.

§ 2. For acute pains occasioned by a cold, give: acon., ars., bell., cham., coff., merc., n. vom., puls., samb., spig. If less acute: dulc., chin., ipéc., n. mosch.

Obstinate chronic ailments require, besides the above remedies:

calc., carb. veg., graph., hep., lyc., mang., natr. m., nitr. ac., phos., sep., sil., sulph.

§ 3. For colds from exposure to wet, or getting wet to the skin, give: 1, calc., dulc., puls., sulph.; 2, ars., carb. veg., n. mosch., rhus, sarcap.; 3, ars., bell., bry., caust., colch., hep., lyc., phosaph., sep.

For a cold occasioned by bathing: 1, ant., calc., carb. veg., sulph.; 2, ars., bell., caust., nitr. ac., rhus, sarcap., sep., sulph.

By washing and working in cold water: 1, calc., n. mosch., puls., sarcap., sulph.; 2, amm., ant., bell., carb. veg., dulc., merc., nitr. ac., rhus, sep., spiq.

By profuse sweats: acon., calc., carb. veg., chin., dulc., merc., phos. ac., rhus, sep.

By the head getting wet: acon., baryt., bell., led., puls., sep.

By the feet getting wet: 1, cupr., nitr. ac., puls., sep., sil.; 2, cham., merc., natr., rhus.

By taking cold on the stomach in consequence of eating ice, fruits, acids, etc.: ars., carb. veg., puls.

§ 4. For suppression of sweat or some other secretion by a cold, give: 1, bry., ipec.; 2, acon., ars., carb. veg., cham., dulc., merc., phos. ac., rhus.

For suppression of coryza by a cold: acon., ars., calc., chin., lach., n. com., puls., sulph.

For derangement of the menses by a cold: acon., bell., calc., chin., dulc., puls., sep., sil., sulph.

See Suppression of Secretions.

§ 5. For the disposition to take cold, I recommend: 1, bell., calc., carb. veg., coff., dulc., nitr. ac., n. com., puls., rhus, sil.; 2, acon., baryt., borax, graph., hyos., ign., lyc., magn. m., merc., natr., natr. m., petr., phos., sep., spng., sulph., giving the specific remedy at long intervals.

This remark applies to sensitiveness to wind, weather, draught of air, warmth, and cold. If one is affected by every little cold air, take: bry., calc., carb. veg., cham., merc., rhus, veratr.

If cold weather is generally hurtful, take: ars., baryt., bell., calc., canph., caps., caust., coc., dulc., hell., n. mosch., n. com., rhod., rhus, sabad.

For great sensitiveness to wind: carb. veg., cham., lach., lyc., sulph.

To draughts of air: acon., anac., bell., calc., cham., chin., sil., sulph.

To cool evening air: amm., carb. veg., merc., nitr. ac., sulph.

To rough weather: bry., rhod., sil.

To damp and cold weather: amm., borax, calc., carb. veg., dulc., lach., rhod., rhus, veratr.

To changes of weather: calc., carb. veg., dulc., lach., merc., rhus, sil., sulph., veratr.

If the weather change from cold to warm: carb. veg., lach., sulph., are preferable; if from warm to cold: dulc., merc., rhus, or veratr.

Compare § 5 and § 6 of the article: Conditions.

§ 6. Colds in spring, generally require: carb. veg., lach., rhus, veratr.

In summer: bell., bry., carb. veg., dulc., and if there should be thunder and lightning: bry., rhod., sep., sil.

Cold in autumn: 1, dulc., merc., rhus, veratr.; 2, calc., bry., chin.

In winter: 1, acon., bell., bry., dulc., rhod., rhux.; 2, cham., pec., n. vom., sulph., veratr. In dry and cold weather: acon., bell., bry., cham., pec., n. vom., sulph.; in wet and cold weather: dulc., rhod., rhux., veratr.

Compare § 4 and § 7 in the article: Conditions.

Special indications:

Aconite. Inflammatory colic, after a cold, forces him double, yet relieved in no position; burning, cutting, darting in the bowels, worse from least pressure or lying on the right side; abdomen hot to the touch, distended, sensitive, paroxysms of anguish; cutting extending in a circle, from spine to abdomen, colic, involving the bladder, with violent cramp pains; contraction of the hypogastrium in the region of the bladder; constant, but ineffectual urging to urinate; pains in loins as if bruised.

Aloes. Colic, especially in elderly people, with intense gripping pains across the lower portion of abdomen, with a preference for right side, before and during stool, which is windy and watery; after stool all pain ceases, leaving the patient bathed in sweat and extremely prostrated; painfulness over whole abdomen, especially along both sides of the navel, which parts cannot endure being touched; on making a false step a pain in stomach; discharge of much flatus, burning, smelling offensive, with relief to the abdominal pains.

Alumen. Potter's colic, with sleeplessness, headache, crawling, tingling in limbs; constipation, better from pressure; abdomen retracted; tongue dry, black; urine red, scanty; violent delirium and debility. Lead colic, patient violent as if drunk and enraged, pulse slow; tongue in folds and dry; trembling of limbs and pain as if they were beaten.

Alumina. Lead colic; spasmodic pains in hypochondria and stomach, with dyspnoea almost to suffocation, worse when stooping, pressing in both groins towards sexual organs, like from hernia.

Arsenicum. Great pain, with anxiety in the abdomen; violent cutting, or spasmodic, drawing, tearing, or gnawing pains, frequently attended with intolerable burning, or with feeling of coldness in the abdomen; the pains set in especially at night, or after eating and drinking; nausea, or watery and bilious vomiting, constipation or diarrhoea; thirst, chill, and great weakness.

Asafoetida. Hysteric colic; the distension of the abdomen is mostly a partial one; eructations upwards without relief, fainting during acme of paroxysms, without being able to pass wind downward, amelioration from external pressure; wind colic, with abdominal pulsations, bellyache, as if the intestines were torn or cut; places in the side sore as if raw, with sensation as if something rising from chest to throat, relieved from passing wind.

Belladonna. Colic, as if a spot in the abdomen were seized with the nails, a gripping, clutching, clawing; violent cutting pressure in the hypogastrium, now here and there; the pains come on suddenly, and disappear just as suddenly; standing and walking aggravate the pain; tenderness to slight pressure, but relieved by hard pressure across the abdomen; pod-shaped protrusion of the colon, with abatement of the pain on bending double, or making pressure; loud rumbling and pinching in the belly; congestion of blood to the head; thirst, but drinks but little, as drinking aggravates.

Bovista. Cutting colic, with coldness, teeth chattering, limbs tremble, worse after stool; cutting pains around navel, relieved by eating, worse when at rest; colic, with bright red urine.

Bryonia. Rumbling gurgling in the abdomen; sudden painful cuttings in the intestines, with a feeling as though one were digging in with his fingers, compelling him to bend double, relieved by profuse pasty evacuations; foul flatulence; great sensitiveness of abdomen; has to keep quiet, most easy when lying on affected side.

Carb. veg. Colic excited by riding in the cars or in a carriage; sensation of constant downward pressure in the abdomen, so that the patient tries to support it with the hands, or with a bandage; colic relieved by emission of flatulence; flatulent colic; abdomen full to bursting; pain worse about bladder, or left of epigastrium; worse from the least food; better from passing flatus, upwards or downwards.

Causticum. Pains in the abdomen; must bend double; worse after the least nourishment, or from tightening the clothes; colic in the morning; the pain radiates to back and chest; painful distension of the abdomen; flatulency, loud rumbling, and rolling in the bowels.

Cepa. Colic from catching cold by getting the feet wet, or after eating too much, especially cucumbers, salad, etc.; the pains begin in the hepatic region, spreading hence over the whole abdomen, and are worst around the navel; worse when sitting; better when moving about and by passing of flatus; pressing down pain into the bladder, and to the left side of abdomen, with inclination to stool and to pass water.

Chamomilla. Peripheric neuralgia; the whole abdomen distended like a drum; gripping tearing colic in umbilical region, and lower down on both sides, with pain in small of back, as if it were broken; colic returns from time to time; flatulence accumulates in the hypochondria, and stitches shoot through to chest; wind colic; flatus passed in small quantity without relief, relief by applying warm cloths; sensation as if the bowels were drawn up in a ball and as if the whole of the abdomen were empty; loathing; bitter vomiting or bilious diarrhoea; the pains appear at night, or in the morning, at sunrise, or after a meal; constricting pain in the abdomen and back; she kicks, grates her teeth, and screams.

Chelidonium. Colic, with retraction of the navel, nausea, and rumbling of bowels; oppression or cramplike throbbing in pit of stomach; breathing with anguish; relief by hot drinks.

China. Colic from gallstones; pain in hepatic region, as from subcutaneous ulceration; worse from touch; violent colic, of pinching character, with nausea and thirst, relieved by bending double, returning every afternoon or at night; tympanitic distension of the abdomen or spasmodic constrictive pains with incarceration of flatulence and pressure towards the hypochondria; gastro-duodenal catarrh after loss of fluids or severe illness.

Cocculus. Spasmodic flatulent colic about midnight; flatus passed without relief; belching relieves; pain severest in epigastric, umbilical, and right iliac region; great rumbling in bowels; nausea, difficult breathing, fulness, and distension of the stomach and epigastrium, with feeling of emptiness in the abdomen; constipation; great anguish and nervousness.

Coffea. Excessive pains; colic, as if the stomach had been overloaded, as if the abdomen would burst; cannot suffer the clothes to be tight on the abdomen; pressure in the abdomen, as from incarcerated flatulence; continuous pinching pains in the iliac regions; anguish and pressure in the epigastrium; great nervousness; restlessness; cries; grating of teeth; convulsions; coldness of the limbs; moaning, suffocative fits.

Colchicum. Colic, aggravated by eating after flatulent food, with great distension of abdomen; bowels painful, until diarrhoea sets in; better from bending double; stomach icy cold with colic; epigastrium extremely sensitive to touch or pressure; very offensive flatus in the evening; copious, watery, bilious stools, with cutting colic.

Colocynthis. Violent, cutting, constrictive, or spasmodic pains, with pinching, gripping, cutting, as with knives, emanating from a central point in the abdomen, where the pains are the severest, and radiating from there all over the abdomen; severe colicky pain; worst around the navel; has to bend double, being worse in any other posture; great restlessness and loud screaming on changing position; worse at intervals of five or ten minutes, and relieved by pressing the corner of a table or head of bed-post against the abdomen; relief from coffee, tobacco smoking, and by the passage of flatus; incarcerated flatus, distending abdomen; after vexation; rheumatic colicky pains, aggravated by eating; hæmorrhoidal colic, with the sensation as if the bowels hung on easily tearing threads; tympanitic distension of the bowels, relieved by the passage of thin yellow stools, accompanied by great discharge of wind, and relief after stool; cramps in the calves, or cluils and tearing pains in the lower limbs.

Conium mac. Cutting pain in abdomen, previous to or during emission of flatulence, which felt incarcerated; forcing-down feeling in hypogastric region; great sensitiveness of abdomen.

Cuprum. Cramps in the abdomen; violent, colicky, drawing-cutting pains in the abdomen; abdomen drawn in; colic not increased by pressure; violent spasms in abdomen and upper and lower limbs, with penetrating distressing screams; intussusception of the bowels, with singultus, violent colic, stercoraceous vomiting, and great agony; spasmodic movements of the abdominal muscles; cramps of the stomach and bowels, with vomiting, and purging, and cutting pains in umbilical region, as if a knife were thrust through to the back, with piercing screams.

Dioscorea. Flatulent colic, chiefly in persons of feeble digestive power, and the pains relieved by stretching the body out, or by walking about. Steady twisting pains in abdomen, not remitting (colic, worse in paroxysms); severe, cutting, tearing, burning pains; worse on pressure and when lying down; motion aggravates in the beginning, and relieves afterwards; bilious colic and diarrhœa early in the morning; cramplike pain in the region of the sigmoid flexure of the colon, extending to the back, with vomiting; severe colic and heat in stomach and abdomen, aggravated from doubling up (colic, better) and at rest, the pains compel him to keep in constant motion. The pains in the abdomen suddenly shift and appear in distant localities, as the fingers and toes, with intense pains; hyperæsthesia of the abdominal nerves; neuralgia of the bowels.

Dulcamara. Colic after a cold; cutting pain about navel; griping; nausea, followed by diarrhœa.

Graphites. Colic immediately after eating; griping, digging, crampy pains in the lower abdomen; pain below the navel, as if the intestines were torn; burning pains radiating through abdomen; incarcerated flatus, painfully pressing towards the groins and anus.

Helleborus. Excessive colic; weakness; features sunken; face cold and pale, covered with clammy sweat; pulse thready; stools loose, watery, jellylike, involuntary; sensation of coldness in abdomen. (Colic.)

Hydrastis can. Loud rumbling, with dull aching in hypogastrium and small of the back; worse moving; cutting colicky pains, with heat and faintness in the hypogastrium, extending to the testicles, better after passing flatus.

Hyoscyamus niger. Colic, as if abdomen would burst, presses the fists into the sides; cutting, spasmodic pains, vomiting, belching, hiccough, screaming, tympanitic abdomen, sore to the touch; colic relieved by vomiting; frequent emission of urine as clear as water.

Ignatia. Periodical abdominal spasms; colic pains, first griping, then stitching, in one or the other side of the abdomen; flatulent colic at night; protrusions in various parts of the abdomen; the colicky pains aggravated by brandy, coffee, or sweet things.

Ipecacuanha. Flatulent colic from acids, with frequent loose stools; with every movement cutting almost constantly running from left to right; griping, as from a hand, each finger seemingly sharply passing into the intestines; much worse by motion, better during rest.

Iris versicolor. Grumbling bellyache, with very fetid flatus, which relieves; bending double relieves; intermittent colicky pains around the navel, before each spell of vomiting and purging.

Lycopodium. Flatulent colic. The incarcerated flatus causes much pain, as it cannot pass; colicky pains on the right side of the abdomen, extending into the bladder, with frequent urging to urinate; when turning on the right side, a hard body seems to roll from the navel to that side; great fermentation in the abdomen, with colic and discharge of much flatus.

Magnesia phos. Cramps in abdomen; pains around navel and above it towards the stomach, and from there radiating to both sides, towards the back; violent cutting pains so that he has to scream out, then shooting and violently contracting, lessened by bending double or by pressure with the hand, external warmth, and eructations; cramps and wind colic, often accompanied by a watery diarrhoea.

Mancinella. Intestinal colic, with fainting; constipation and diarrhoea in alternations.

Manganum. Intense pain, as if the bowels were drawn together, beginning in stomach, going downwards in abdomen, chiefly on left side, relieved by bending double and chiefly by sitting bent before a fire, also by food or eructations; worse in a cold room and cold weather, the pain concentrating itself around navel.

Mercurius. Colic from cold, from the evening air, from worms; colic which only passes off in a recumbent position; shaking sensation of the bowels on walking; they feel loose; distension of the abdomen, with pressure, and tension, and painfulness to contact.

Nux moschata. Colic immediately after eating, and worse after drinking during day, with dry mouth and thirstlessness; better from hot wet cloths; abdomen enormously distended; weight in upper part of abdomen, lower part tense; cutting pinching around navel, relieved by pressure, preventing sleep, though sleepy.

Nux vomica. Colic from indigestion, with waterbrash; worse after coffee, brandy, or overeating; flatulent colic, with pressure upwards, causing dyspnoea, and downwards, causing urging to stool and urination; periodical colic before breakfast or after meals; colic from suppressed hemorrhoidal flow; cannot bear his clothes tight around the hypochondria; painful soreness of the abdominal muscles when moving, pressing on them, coughing, or laughing; obstinate constipation; hard stool; cold hands and cold feet during the paroxysms, or even stupefaction unto unconsciousness; aggravation by walking; relief by bending double, by rest, sitting, or lying; violent pains in the small of the back and loins, violent headache.

Oxalic acid. Colic from eating sugar; burning in small spots in the abdomen; colic about the navel, as if bruised, with stitches and difficult emission of flatulence; worse on moving; better when at rest; worse evening and night.

Piper meth. Agonizing pain, with tossing, twisting, and writhing; patient driven irresistibly to change position, but it does not bring relief; momentary relief when his attention is absorbed by other things.

Petroleum. Sensation of coldness (hell.), weakness, and faintness in the abdomen; awakes toward morning with pinching colic; better from bending double.

Phosphorus. Flatulent colic deep in the abdomen; worse when lying; tympanitis, mostly about the cæcum and transverse colon; sensation of coldness in flaccid abdomen.

Platina. Painter's colic (opium); pain in umbilical region, extending through to the back, patient screams and tries to relieve the pain by turning in all possible positions; pressing and bearing down in the abdomen, extending into the pelvis; constipation.

Plumbum. Affection of motory nerves; constipation, but no flatulence; frightful pains around the navel; the abdominal walls are drawn toward the spine; the clawing twisting pains radiate upward toward the chest and downwards to the pubes; neuralgic colic and great despondency with the pains; pulse down to fifty or sixty; abdomen hard as a stone; knots in the recti muscles; anxious, with cold sweat and deathly faintness; better from rubbing or hard pressure.

Podophyllum. Excessive colicky pains, originating in a depressed or excessive bilious secretion. Cramps in the bowels, with retraction of the abdominal muscles, frequently recurring, but ameliorated by pressure; severe straining during stool, with emission of much flatulence; pain in bowels at daybreak, relieved by warmth and bending forward while lying on side; worse lying on back, pains and stool worst mornings, and excited again by eating and drinking; lead colic.

Psorinum. Colicky pains; better passing fetid flatus (iris); abdomen distended; griping and desire for stool while riding; stools fluid, fetid, smelling like rotten eggs or carrion.

Pulsatilla. Colic from cold, with diarrhoea, from getting feet wet, from fruits, ices, pastry; flatulent colic evening, after supper, or at night; oppressive flatulence in upper abdomen and hypochondria; shifting of flatus; colic, with nausea, ceasing after vomiting; restlessness; heaviness and fulness of the abdomen, with unpleasant distension; the pains are worse when sitting or lying, with chills; relief by walking.

Rhododendron. Colic at the navel, and feeling of repletion after eating; pressing in the pit of the stomach during and after eating; periodical cramp pains under the short ribs, with oppression of breathing; pain as from flatulence in different parts, but especially in left hypochondrium; painful incarceration of flatulence in the hypochondria and in the small of the back.

Rhus tox. Colic, compelling one to walk bent, relieved by lying on the abdomen; worse at night or after getting wet.

Robinia. Flatulent colic and pinching in abdomen, corresponding with pains in the head; severe colic, with ineffectual desire for stool; tympanitic colic, accompanied by great weakness, and aggravated from the least motion.

Sepia. Colic, with great distension and sensitiveness of abdomen, recurring towards evening; abdomen puffed up, with rumbling in it, especially after eating; constipation; ineffectual urgency to stool, with discharge only of mucus or flatus.

Silicea. Colicky pains in lower abdomen, with straining and increased pain during stool; colic, from worms, with yellow hands, blue nails; clothing across abdomen feels too tight; abdominal pains relieved by warmth.

Stannum. Colic, with stitches from both sides through the abdomen, aggravated by the slightest motion or touch, and when lying on the right side; relieved by bending double against a chair or table (pod.), especially when defecation is preceded by pinching pains; cutting about navel, with bitter eructations; hunger and diarrhoea; abdomen sore, as from subcutaneous ulceration; sensation of emptiness in abdomen.

Stramonium. Colic, with violent rumbling, coming on suddenly in the evening, with faint sensation and cold shivers; abdomen distended, but not hard; hysterical abdominal spasms.

Sulphur. Colic, after eating and drinking, obliging one to bend double; worse from sweet things; incarcerated flatulence in left side of abdomen, with heaviness, fulness, and constipation; intestines feel as if strung in knots; worse from bending forward; hemorrhoidal colic (nux v.); painful sensitiveness of the abdomen, as if it were raw and sore.

Terebinthina. On lying down the umbilical region feels retracted and cold, as if covered by a round cold plate; sensation as if the intestines were being drawn toward the spine; colic with mushy stools, constant cutting extending into the thighs, at rest and during motion; cutting in abdomen with local distensions, as if a hernia would protrude; cutting pains in groins, as if from a hernia.

Triosteum. Bilious colic; flatulency confined to the stomach; heat and sharp pain in the right side of the abdomen; diarrhoea, attended with colic; soreness in the epigastric region.

Valeriana. Hysterical colic, especially evenings, in bed; after dinner, from hemorrhoids; from worms; bloatedness of the abdomen, which feels as if it would become excessively distended, even unto bursting; involuntary inclination to draw the abdomen in, on account of the cutting and pinching pain.

Veratrum album. Colic, after a cold, from fruits and vegetables, abdomen swollen, sensitive; no flatus either way (plumb.); cold sweat, burning, twisting, cutting pains, with nausea and vomiting; better after wind passes; cold feeling in the abdomen; cold sweat; cholera.

Zincum. Flatulent colic; worse from wine, toward evening or during the night, and at rest; loud rumbling and rolling; retraction of the abdomen (plumb., pod.); hot, moist, fetid flatus, passing off without relief; violent bearing down in the abdomen after a difficult scanty stool, relieved by passing flatus; pressure under the short ribs after eating, with mental depression; pain in the hypochondria, like a spasm, alternating with dyspnoea.

CONCUSSION OF THE BRAIN.

The best remedies for cerebral affections produced by concussion, fall, blow on the head, etc., are: 1, arn. and cic.; or, 2, dig., gela., hyper., ign., laur., petr., merc.

See Injuries.

CONDITIONS OF AGGRAVATIONS, or Amelioration of the Symptoms.

§ 1. There are practitioners who select a remedy principally with reference to the external conditions of the symptoms, such as: the time of day when they appear, the side of the body, head, chest, etc., where they appear, etc. This is evidently going too far, though it cannot be denied that these external conditions have a general value in many cases, and facilitate the selection of a remedy, provided the practitioner is otherwise thoroughly acquainted with the essential points of our Materia Medica. To select a remedy with reference to these external conditions exclusively might prove of great detriment to the patient.

§ 2. As regards the time of day, give:

a. When the pains occur or exacerbate principally in the evening:

1, amb., amm., amm. m., arn., ars., bell., bry., calc., caps., caust., colech., dule., euphr., hell., hyos., lach., laur., mang., mere., nitr., nitr. ac., phos., puls., ran., sec., sep., sulph. ac., thuj., zinc.; 2, ant., asa., borax., carb. an., carb. veg., cham., chin., coec., con., croc., graph., guaiac., hep., ign., kal., laur., led., lye., magn. c., magn. m., mez., natr., natr. m., n. vom., petr., phos. ac., plat., rhod., rhus., seneg., sil., stann., staph., stront., sulph., tart.

b. When in the evening, in bed, after lying down, or generally before midnight: 1, ars., bry., calc., carb. veg., graph., hep., lye., mere., phosph., puls., rhus., selen., sep.; 2, alum., amm. m., arn., aur., calad., carb. an., caust., chin., coec., dule., ign., ipec., kal., lach., led., magn. c., magn. m., natr., natr. m., n. vom., phos. ac., ran., sarsap., sil., stront., sulph. ac., tart., thuj., veratr.

c. When at night: 1, acon., arn., ars., bell., calc., caps., cham., chin., cin., colech., con., dros., dule., fer., graph., hep., hyos., ign., magn. c., magn. m., mang., mere., natr. m., nitr. ac., phosph., puls., rhus., sep., sil., staph., stront., sulph., thuj.; 2, ant., aur., baryt., bry., camph., cann., canth., carb. an., carb. veg., caust., coff., croc., cupr., hell., iod., kal., kreos., lach., led., lye., magn. aret., mez., natr., n. vom., plumb., ran., rhab., sabad., samb., sec., selen., spig., sulph. ac., tart., thuj.

d. When during sleep: 1, alum., ars., bell., bry., cham., hep., lach., mere., mosch., nitr., nitr. ac., puls., samb., sil., stram., sulph.; 2, acon., anac., arn., baryt., borax., calc., caust., chin., cin., con., dule., graph., hyos., ign., kal., led., lye., magn. aret., mur. ac., natr., natr. m., n. vom., op., phosph., phos. ac., rhab., rhus., ruta., stann., thuj.

e. When after midnight, or early on waking: 1, alum., amb., amm. m., ars., bell., bry., calc., carb. veg., caust., con., graph., hep., kal., lach., lye., nitr. ac., n. vom., op., petr., phosph., sep., sulph.; 2, amm., ant., arn., aur., calc., cann., canth., caps., carb. an., chin., croc., dros., ferr., ign., mang., mere., natr., natr. m., nitr., phos. ac., plat., ran., rhod., rhus., sabal., samb., sil., squill., staph., sulph. ac., thuj., veratr.

f. When early in the morning: 1, amb., amm., amm. m., ant., ars., bry., calc., carb. veg., cin., croc., dros., guai., ign., natr., natr. m., nitr., nitr. ac., n. vom., phosph., rhus., squill., sulph., veratr.; 2, acon., alum., anac., ant., aur., carb. an., coff., con., hep., kal., lach., lye., magn. aret., magn. aust., petr., phos. ac., plat., puls., sabin., sep., sil., staph., sulph., tart., thuj.

g. When in the forenoon, or after breakfast: 1, carb. veg., natr., natr. m., n. mosch., sep.; 2, amm., anac., ars., bry., calc., caust., cham., con., dig., graph., guai., hep., kal., magn., nitr., nitr. ac., n. vom., phos., phos. ac., rhus, sabad., sarsap., sil., staph., sulph. ac., val., veratr.

h. When in the afternoon, after dinner: 1, alum., asa., bell., lye., nitr., nitr. ac., n. vom., phosph., puls., sil., thuj., zinc.; 2, amm., amm. m., ant., borax, calc., canth., cic., coloc., con., graph., ign., mosch., mur. ac., natr., natr. m., ran., sarsap., selen., val.

i. When the symptoms are worse after sleep: anac., calc., carb. veg., coec., con., graph., lach., stann., sulph., thuj.

§ 3. As regards the period of digestion, give:

a. When the symptoms which exist before breakfast are mitigated by the breakfast: baryt., calc., graph., hep., ign., iod., n. vom., petr., plat., rhus, sep., staph., sulph.

b. When settling in or increasing after breakfast: amm. m., bry., calc., carb. veg., caust., cham., con., graph., kal., lach., natr., natr. m., nitr., nitr. ac., n. vom., phosph., rhus, sep., sulph., thuj., zinc.

c. When the symptoms which exist before a meal are less during or after a meal: 1, amb., calc., canth., ferr., ign., iod., lach., natr., phosph., sabad., stront., zinc.; 2, alum., amb., anac., baryt., caps., cham., graph., laur., puls., rhus, sep., spig., sulph.

d. When the pains come on while eating: 1, amm., baryt., carb. an., carb. veg., coec., graph., hep., kal., lye., natr. m., nitr. ac., phosph., puls., sep.; 2, amb., arn., borax, calc., caust., cham., cic., con., magn., m., n. vom., phos. ac., sil., sulph., veratr.

e. When the pains come on or get worse after eating: 1, amm., anac., ars., bry., calc., carb. veg., caust., chin., con., kal., lach., lye., natr., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. vom., phosph., sep., sil., sulph., zinc.; 2, amm. m., ant., borax, carb. an., cham., cin., coe., hep., ign., natr., petr., phos. ac., puls., ran., squill., stann., sulph. ac., thuj.

f. When the pains are caused by drinking: 1, ars., bell., canth., carb. veg., chin., coec., ferr., natr., natr. m., n. vom., rhus, sil., veratr.; 2, acon., ant., arn., baryt., bry., caust., cin., coloc., con., hell., hep., hyos., ign., lach., nitr. ac., phosph., phos. ac., puls., sep., sil., stram., sulph., sulph. ac.

g. When the pains are caused or aggravated by smoking: 1, amb., calc., ign., ipec., lach., n. vom., phos., puls., spong., staph.; 2, acon., alum., anac., ant., arn., bry., carb. an., chin., cic., clem., coec., euphr., magn. aet., natr., natr. m., petr., ruta, selen., sulph., sulph. ac.

h. Compare under "Stomach, Weakness of," the various kinds of nourishment.

§ 4. As regards seasons and periods of the moon, give:

a. For pains which get worse or come on again in spring: 1, carb. veg., lach., rhus, veratr.; 2, amb., aur., bell., calc., lye., natr. m., puls.

b. In summer: 1, bell., bry., cact., carb. veg., dule., 2, lye., natr., puls., rhod., sil.

c. In autumn: 1, calc., colch., dule., lach., merc., petr., rhod., rhus, veratr.; 2, aur., bry., chin.

d. In winter: 1, acon., bell., bry., carb. veg., cham., colch., dule., ipec., n. vom., petr., rhus, sulph., veratr.; 2, amm., aur., camph., merc., natr. m., n. mosch., phos., puls., rhod., sep.

e. At a change of the moon: 1, alum., calc., sabad., sil.; 2, amm., caust., cupr., dule., graph., lyc., natr., sep., sulph., thuj.

f. At new moon: alum., amm., calc., caust., cupr., lyc., sabad., sep., sil.

g. At full moon: alum., calc., graph., natr., sabad., sil., spong., sulph.

h. At increase of moon: alum., dule., thuj.

§ 5. As regards the influence of air and wind, give:

a. For the pains caused by sultry weather: 1, bry., rhod., sep., sil.; 2, carb. veg., caust., lach., merc., natr., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. vom., petr., phos.

b. By stormy and windy weather: 1, bry., rhod., sil.; 2, carb. veg., chin., lach., lyc., mur. ac., n. mosch., n. vom., phos., puls., rhod., sil., veratr.

c. By winds: 1, carb. veg., cham., lach., lyc., sulph.; 2, acon., ars., aur., bell., chin., con., graph., mur. ac., n. vom., phos., plat., puls., sep., thuj.

d. By north winds: acon., caust., hep., n. vom., sep., sil.

e. By east winds: 1, acon., bry., carb. veg., hep., sil.; 2, caust., n. vom.

f. By south winds: bry., carb. veg., rhod., sil.

g. By west winds: calc., carb. veg., dule., lach., rhod., rhus., veratr.

h. By a draught of air: 1, acon., anac., bell., calc., cham., chin., sil., sulph.; 2, caps., caust., graph., hep., ign., kal., natr., n. vom., rhus., selen., sep.

CONDITIONS OF IMPROVEMENT.

Many of these conditions are, of course, the contrary of the conditions of aggravation; all we have to do, therefore, is to point out the principal conditions of improvement in one series.

For pains which are relieved by leaning against something, give: bell., carb. veg., kal., merc., n. vom., pod., rhus, staph.

By pressure upon the part: 1, amm., amm. m., con., magn. m., mang., mur. ac., natr., phos. ac., stann.; 2, alum., anac., ars., aur., bry., coec., dule., graph., kal., phos., rhus, sulph. ac.

By thinking of the pain: camph; by thinking of something else: paper met.

By resting the part upon something: alum., amm., hep., n. vom., phos., puls., ruta, staph., sulph.

By contact: 1, asa., calc., magn., menyan., mur. ac., plumb.; 2, anac., br., caust., natr. m., phos., sulph., thuf.

By motion. See Aggravation by Rest.

By riding in a carriage: graph., nitr. ac.

By staying in the open air. See Aggravation in the Room.

By walking: 1, amm., amm. m., ars., dule., ferr., magn. c., magn. m., mosch., plat., puls., rhus, sep., val.; 2, agar., alum., amb., ars., aur., caps., con., lyc., merc., mur. ac., nitr., sabad., samb., stann., sulph., veratr.

By coffee: ars., cham., coloc.

By external coldness. See Aggravation by Warmth.

By change of position: ars., cham., ign., phos. ac., puls., val.

By lying: alum., arn., ars., bry., canth., carb. an., eupr., lyc., magn. c., merc., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. mosch., n. vom., sabad., spig., spong., staph., stram., veratr.

By a recumbent posture: bry., calc., carb. an., ign., kal., lyc., n. vom., puls., stann., sulph.

By lying on one side: arn., ars., n. vom., phos., sep.

By lying on the affected side: amb., arn., bry., calc., caust., cham., coloc., ign., kal., magn. aust., puls., rhus, sep., stann.

By rest. See Aggravation by Motion.

By sleep: calad., chin., colch., n. vom., phosph., puls., selen., sep.

By sitting: acon., anac., bry., carb. an., carb. veg., coff., colch., mang., merc., natr. m., n. vom., petr., phos., phos. ac., rhus, squill., staph., thuj.

By sunshine: con., plat., stram., stront.

By standing: ars., bell., calc., coco., colch., graph., ipec., merc., mur. ac., phos., plumb.

By staying in the room. See Aggravation in the Open Air.

CONFINEMENT.

The principal remedies for the diseased states of lying-in females are:

For excessive or too long after pains:

Arnica. Indicated during the last stages of labor, and immediately after delivery, on account of the bruised condition of the genital organs, and the strain of the general muscular system.

Belladonna. The pains come on suddenly, and after a time disappear suddenly; they are forcing, as if the contents of the pelvis would be forced through the vulva; every jar is unpleasant; lochial discharge feels hot; congestion to the head and eyes.

Bryonia. After-pains excited by the least motion, even by taking a deep inspiration; she wishes to keep perfectly quiet; headache, as if the head would split; parched lips and dry mouth.

Caulophyllum. Suitable after protracted and exhausting labor; pains, spasmodic, across the lower abdomen, extending into the groins.

Chamomilla. Over-sensitiveness of the patient to the pain; she wishes to get away from herself, and is irritable and ill-natured; desire for fresh air; lochia dark-colored.

Cimicifuga. After-pains worse in the groins; over-sensitiveness; nausea and vomiting; she feels her pains very acutely, and they make her sleepless and restless.

Coffea. Extreme fear of death during the after-pains; desire to go to sleep, but inability to fall asleep.

Cuprum met. Most distressing after-pains, particularly of women who have borne many children: cramping pains, extending to the extremities; cramps in the fingers and toes.

Ferrum. Violent pains in the loins and abdomen, like those of labor, with discharge of partly fluid and partly clotted blood, full hard pulse; frequent short shuddering, headache and vertigo; especially suitable for feeble women, with fiery red face.

Gelsemium. The pain is severe and inclines to run upward or upward and backward; she seems to have lost the ability to regulate her muscular movements.

Hyoscyamus. Much jerking and twitching of various parts of the body; she is delirious; the pains are spasmodic, has no will to urinate.

Ignatia. Much sighing, sadness, and despondency, with the after-pains.

Kali carb. Stitching and shooting pains; they are in the back, shooting down into the gluteal region or hips.

Nux vom. After-pains violent and protracted; a sore feeling in the uterus, so that she dreads being moved or disturbed in any way; fainting after every pain; she likes to have the room warm, and be well covered; lochia scanty and offensive.

Podophyllum. After-pains, with heat and flatulency, also with strong bearing down.

Pulsatilla. After-pains too long and too violent; worse towards evening; wants fresh air, and complains of the heat of the room; no fever nor thirst, but still restless and changeable in her feelings.

Rhus tox. Great restlessness; the pains are worst at night; frequent desire to change position; likes to be covered warmly.

Sabina. The pains run from the sacrum to the pubes; with every pain, fluid or clotted blood is discharged. The pains sometimes extend from the back and sacrum to the uterus, and down the thighs.

Secale cor. After-pains too long and too painful, brown thin lochia, although she may feel cold, yet she does not wish to be covered.

Sepia. Constant sensation of weight in the anus; pains shooting upward in the vagina; severe bearing-down and forcing in the back, occurring in regular paroxysms.

Sulphur. After-pains especially located in the uterus; scanty lochial discharge, complains of feeling badly in the abdomen; itching and sore hemorrhoids; flushes of heat; weak and faint spells; feet either cold or burning hot, especially the soles.

For POT-BELLIEDNESS of lying-in women: coloc., sep.

For MILK FEVER: acon., arn., bell., bry., col., rhus.

For WANT OF MILK or for ABNORMAL SECRETION OF THE MILK:

Aconite. Breasts hot, hard, and knotted; hot, dry skin; much anxiety and restlessness.

Æthusa cyn. The child takes the breast with avidity, nurses plentifully, then vomits copiously, and is exhausted, but soon rallies, and cries for a fresh supply. The mother is not well, and thus the child does not thrive on her milk.

Agnus castus. Despairing sadness of the mother causes only a scanty supply of milk to flow; nervous weakness.

Asafoetida. Excessive sensibility of the vital organism; unnatural distension of the veins; deficiency of milk.

Belladonna. The breasts feel large and heavy, the redness often running in radii; congestion to head; restlessness and drowsiness, but no good sleep, from taking cold.

Borax. The milk is too thick, and tastes badly; often curdles soon after it is drawn; constrictive pain in left mamma when child nurses the right; griping, and sometimes stitches in left breast, and when the child has nursed she is obliged to compress the breast with the hand, because it aches, on account of being empty.

Bryonia. Stony heaviness of the breast, rather pale, but hard and painful, tense, burning, and tearing pain in mamma; scanty secretion of milk.

Calcarea carb. Mamme distended, but milk scanty; she is cold, feels the cold air readily, there seems to be a want of vital activity to bring the milk forward.

Calcarea phos. Child refuses the mother's breast, the milk tastes saltish, or acid, or thin, watery, neutral: pains and burning in the mammae, which are sore to the touch.

Carbo anim. The milk is thin and has a saltish taste; painful necessities of the mammae, nursing causes stitching pains in the mammae, which feel sore to the touch or when handled.

Causticum. Milk almost disappears on account of over-fatigue, night-watching, and anxiety: sensation of stomach as though lime were slacking; general constipation, pulsations and noises in the ear; threatening amaurosis.

Chamomilla. Mammae hard and tender to the touch, with drawing pains: is fretful, sleepless, and cross.

Cina. Child refuses the breast, constant gnawing sensation in the stomach, as from hunger; itching of the nose; does not sleep well; feels cross, and is not easily satisfied.

Croton tigl. Nipple very sore to the touch; excruciating pain running from the nipple through to scapula of same side, when the child begins to nurse; irritable nipple with sufficiency of milk.

Dulcamara. The milk fails to be secreted, in consequence of catching cold in the mammae, which are swollen, inactive, painless, and itchy; lochia also suppressed by cold or damp.

Kali bichrom. The milk, as it flows from the breast, has the appearance of being composed of stringy masses and water.

Lachesis. The milk is thin and blue, and is rejected by the infant; the mother suffering from some long-standing mental trouble, which makes her unhappy.

Merc. sol. Milk scanty, or spoiled, the child refuses it; mammae swollen and hard, with sore pains; swelling of glands; syphilitic taint; pyalism.

Nux moschata. Mammae too small.

Phellandrium. Pains come on chiefly during interval between nursing.

Pulsatilla. Milk thin and watery, and the true milk-globule is almost entirely absent; milk suddenly suppressed, lochia becomes milky, white; breasts swollen; rheumatic pains, extend to muscles of chest, shoulders, neck, axilla, and down the arms; change from place to place, during nursing.

Rhus tox. Mammae swell from catching cold or getting wet, and milk vanishes; vitiated lochia.

Silicea. The infant refuses the breast, or vomits immediately after nursing; milk suppressed; mammae swollen, dark red, sensitive. The mother is not well and full of silicea symptoms.

Galactorrhœa, or excessive spontaneous flow of the milk, may require: bell., bor., bry., calc., chin., con., phosph., puls., rhus, stram.

Cramps in the stomach, from nursing: carbo an. and veg., chin., phosph. Sense of emptiness in stomach, from nursing: carb. an., hydragr., ign., oleander, sep.

Deterioration of health from protracted lactation: calc., carb., calc. phosph., chin., lyc., phosph., phosph. ac., sil., sulph.

Convulsions of lying-in women. See Labor.

Emotions, puerperal mania: bell., cimicif., plat., chloral, stram., sulph., veratr.

Aconite. Ailments from fright or anger: great fear of death, of strangers, of getting up; inconsolable anxiety, reproaching others for mere trifles.

Aurum. Religious mania; prays all the time; imagines she is unfit for this world; unhappy, with continual thoughts of suicide; precordial anguish, driving him from place to place; weakness of memory and intellect.

Belladonna. Mania; either merry, but quarrelsome, or would spit and bite at any one; starts in affright at the approach of others; therefore desires to escape or hide herself; sleepless nights; fear of ghosts; moaning; begs those around her to get her out of the way and kill her.

Cantharis. Despondent and low-spirited; says she must die; paroxysms of rage, with crying, barking, and beating; renewed by the sight of dazzling bright objects; touching the larynx or painful parts causes a renewal of the symptoms.

China. Nervous irritability and excitability from loss of blood; delirium, with illusions and hallucinations; inconsolable anxiety; longing for death, or indifference and apathy.

Cicuta vir. Mistrust of men, whom she shuns; weeping, moaning, and howling; childish and plays with toys; quiet and contented disposition.

Cimicifuga. Declares she will go crazy; mental depression, with suicidal tendency; suspicious, indifferent, taciturn; takes no interest in household matters; irritable; the least thing makes her angry and destructive.

Cuprum. Full of anxious ideas, one following quickly the other; afraid of everybody, and tries to escape; acuteness of senses.

Hyoscyamus. Indomitable rage and horrid anguish; does not know her relatives; complains of having been poisoned; complete loss of sense; desires to be naked hyperesthesia of the cutaneous nerves; entire loss of modesty; throws off bedcovers and clothes.

Ignatia. Melancholia from suppressed mental sufferings, with much sighing; desire to be alone so as to give way to her real or imaginary grief; tears; weeps bitterly.

Kali carb. Great sadness; weeps much and is afraid she is going to die; great absence of mind; seems at a loss to know how to begin to say or do what she wishes to do, and finally is obliged to give it up; tympanitic abdomen; thirst, restlessness, and tossing.

Lachesis. Fear of death; dreads to go to bed; fears of being poisoned or pursued by her enemies; talkative and quarrelsome; proud, jealous, suspicious.

Lilium tigr. Great apprehensiveness and fear of impending evils; religious mania, with anxiety about her salvation; restlessness and hurriedness; irritable and impatient.

Petroleum. Full of strange delusions; thinks she has another baby with her in bed, requiring her attention, or that she has a third arm or foot, anxious and irresolute; sharp pains shooting up the dorsal spine into the occiput.

Platina. Voluptuous crawling up and about the genitals; very baughty, looks down disdainfully upon her attendants, black tarry discharges from the vagina.

Pulsatilla. Sad weeping mood; taciturn; when closing her eyes, sees all sorts of strange sights, and hears all kinds of operatic airs; after slight emotions, difficult breathing.

Stramonium. Nymphomania, with obscene gestures and lan-

Æsculus hip. Constant urging to stool, with ineffectual efforts: stool large, dry, hard, difficult, dark; the last of about natural consistency, followed by burning and constriction of the rectum, lasting till evening; prolapsus ani after stool, with backache; dryness, heat, and constriction of the rectum, which feels as if full of small sticks; throbbing in the abdominal and pelvic cavities; passing fetid flatus; urine dark, muddy and passed with much pain; dull pains in lower abdomen; severe lumbo-sacral backache.

Aloes. Constipation of aged people, with abdominal plethora; suitable to hypochondriasis, and to persons leading a sedentary life, with a pituitous state of the stomach and bowels; heat, soreness, and heaviness of the rectum; urgency as with diarrhœa; only hot flatus passes, with sensation as if a plug were wedged between the symphysis pubis and coccyx; involuntary, unnoticed hard stool.

Alumina. Torpor of rectum. No desire for and no ability to pass stool, till there is a large accumulation; inactivity of the rectum, even a soft stool requires great straining; stools difficult and hard, like putty, sticking to the anus, with discharge of blood from rectum; urine always voided while straining at stool; long-lasting pains in rectum after each stool; dry mouth and irritated-looking tongue; want of peristaltic motion, occasioning great pressure to discharge the feces in the aged and infirm.

Ambra grisea. Frequent ineffectual desire for stool, which makes her anxious; at this time the presence of people becomes unbearable; sensation of coldness in abdomen.

Ammon. mur. Hard stools, crumbling to pieces when defecating, requiring great efforts to expel them, followed by soft stool; the feces are covered with a glairy tough mucus, and are accompanied by a discharge of a quantity of mucus.

Anacardium. Frequent tenesmus for many days, without being able to pass anything; great urgent desire for stool, but on sitting down the desire immediately passes off without an evacuation; the rectum seems to be powerless, with a sensation as if plugged up; frequent profuse bleeding from the anus when at stool.

Antimon. crud. Alternate constipation and diarrhoea of old people; difficult hard stool; feces too large; costive with incarcerated flatus; costiveness in the heat of summer; constipation during childhood.

Apis mel. Chronic constipation, bowels sometimes open only once a fortnight; large, hard, difficult stools; stinging pains and sensation in abdomen as from something tight, which would break if much effort is used.

Arnica. Obstinate constipation after a blow on epigastrium.

Asafoetida. Obstinate constipation, with abdominal and hæmorrhoidal cramps; constant ineffectual urging to stool, with violent pressing toward the rectum, and discharge of offensive flatus; only some passes, no feces.

Aurum. Hard, knotty, and large stools; costiveness worse during menses; piles, with rectal catarrh.

Baptisia. Constipation, with torpor of the liver and hæmorrhoids in the afternoon, very troublesome.

Bryonia. Especially during hot weather; no desire for stool; little appetite; distress in stomach after eating; flatulence; more or less pain in bowels; weakness and pain in back, worse from exercise; stool infrequent, large in size, solid, passed with difficulty and attended by prolapsus of rectum and burning sensation; with disposition to headache and to become irritable and angry; rheumatic diathesis; it diminishes the intestinal peristaltic action and all excretion is slow.

Calcareæ carb. Stools looking like lumps of chalk in children, during dentition; stools at first hard, then mushy, and finally fluid; stools smelling like rotten eggs; involuntary, fermented, sour smelling diarrhoea, alternating with constipation; hard, large, partially undigested stools; after stool, feeling of faintness; oozing of fluid from rectum smelling like herring-brine; feeling of heaviness in lower portion of rectum; restless sleep toward morning.

Calcareæ phos. Hard stool, with depression of mind, causing headache in old people.

Capsicum. After drinking, urging to stool, but only slime is passed, feeling of heat in abdomen.

Carbo anim. Severe burning in rectum in evening; unsuccessful desire for stool; passes only offensive flatus; pain in back, and feeling across abdomen as if there was no expulsive power.

Carbo veg. Constipation, with sensation as if the bowels would be moved, but flatus only passes; urging to stool, with discharge of soft feces and relief from the pains. Hard stool, enveloped in mucus and blood at the extremity of the fecal mass; sensation of complete emptiness in the abdomen, remaining a long time after stool.

Causticum. Constipation of children, with enuresis nocturna; dryness of the rectum, with great contraction of the sphincter ani and pains in the rectum during stool, so that the children try to keep back the evacuation: tough stool, shining as if greased, with greasy taste in mouth: the stool passes better standing; frequent ineffectual efforts to stool, with much pain; anxiety and redness of face.

Chelidonium. Stools like sheep's dung; great pain in liver and cæcal region; gurgling in abdomen which is distended; frequent discharge of flatus; crawling and itching in rectum; reddish urine.

Cocculus. Disposition to stool, but the peristaltic motion in the upper intestines is wanting; hard stool every other day, expelled with great difficulty; contractive pain in rectum, preventing sitting, afternoons.

Collinsonia. Constipation, with a good deal of flatulence, sluggish stool, with distension of abdomen; heat and itching of anus; rectal costiveness with portal congestion; habitual constipation.

Colocynth. Constipation produced sometimes by cheese.

Crocus. Most obstinate constipation in grown persons or children, based on venous disturbances; sensitive, long, dull stitch near the left side of anus; stools contain dark, stringy blood; intolerable writhing in anus.

Euphorbium. Constipation from torpidity of the bowels; hard stool, difficult to pass; stool like glue, after previous itching of the rectum.

Ferrum acet. Chronic constipation, with ineffectual urging, with anæmic symptoms; flushed head and face with cold hands and feet; straining for stool all day, sick at stomach, disagreeable taste; worse drinking cold water.

Graphites. Constipation, with dryness of the mucous membrane of the rectum and fissura ani; hard knotty stool, expelled after great straining, the lumps being of too large a size, and united by mucous threads: a quantity of white mucus is discharged with each stool; prolapsus recti with the varices, as if the rectum were paralyzed; stitching, tearing, and soreness in rectum. Herpetic diathesis.

Hydrastis can. Constipation, with headache, hæmorrhoids; after stool, pain in rectum for hours; colicky pains, with sensation of goneness, faintness, and heat in intestines; the constipation is the cause of all other existing ailments.

Iris versicolor. Constipation succeeded by thin watery diarrhoea; flatulent colic; migraine; nervousness.

Iodum. Stools hard, knotty, dark colored; constipation alternating with whitish diarrhoea.

Kali bichrom. Constipation, with debility, coated tongue, headache, and coldness of the extremities; scanty, dry, knotty stools, followed by burning in the anus; constipation, with painful retraction of the anus; very painful evacuations of extremely hard feces; periodical constipation every three months.

Kali carb. Constipation, with difficulty of emission of too large-sized feces; retarded stool from inactivity of the rectum; feels distressed an hour or two before the passage; protrusion and distension of the varices during stool, with pricking and burning.

Kreasot. Constipation, stool hard, and expelled only after much pressing; stitches in the rectum, extending towards the left groin; constriction in case of uterine cancer.

Lac caninum. Chronic constipation; frequent desire with darting pains in rectum; no power to expel feces, which are large in size, whitish, rough, hard; urine scanty and not frequent.

Lachesis. Constipation, with ineffectual effort to evacuate; diarrhoea and constipation in alternation; stools excessively offensive; constriction in the rectum, or sensation of a plug in the anus; tormenting urging, but not to stool; beating in the anus: as from hammers; rectum prolapsed and tumefied; ineffectual attempts at eructations.

Lycopodium. Large accumulation of gas in the bowels; desire, but inability to go to stool, with painful constriction of the rectum and anus; small stool, with sensation as if much remained behind, followed by excessive and painful accumulation of flatus; contractive pain in the perineum after a scanty hard stool, itching and tension at the anus, in the evening in bed; itching eruptions at the anus, painful to the touch. Abdominal plethora, with constipation in elderly people of the higher classes, with no desire for stool. Torpor of bowels.

Magnesia carb. Constipation; frequent ineffectual urging to stool, with small stool, or only discharge of flatulence; stitches in the anus and rectum, with fruitless desire for stool.

Magnesia mur. Hard, knotty, difficult stools, crumbling as they pass the verge of the anus; knotty stool, like sheep's dung, the fibres covered with blood and mucus; much pressure to stool, passage scanty or only flatus.

Mercurius. Constipation, stool tenacious or crumbling, discharged only with violent straining; constant ineffectual urging, worse at night; prolapsus ani after stool; feces of small shape; accompanied by bad taste in the mouth, but no loss of appetite.

Mezereum. Constipation, stool dark brown in knots, very hard basis, with great straining, but not painful; copious discharge of fetid flatus before stool, during stool, prolapsus ani, with constriction of the anus, which makes it very difficult to replace it.

Natrum mur. Obstinate constipation, with troublesome perspiration at the slightest movement; difficult expulsion of feces, fissuring the anus, with flow of blood, leaving a sensation of much soreness at the anus, a ripping-up sensation in the anus after stool, heaviness through the pelvis and across the bladder, worse when walking about; constipation from inactivity of the rectum; irritable skin; mind depressed; stools hard, difficult, crumbling; spasms of sphincter, tendency to catarrhal affections, to eczema and other eruptions after cold; irritability and dryness of the mucous membranes; emaciation. It rouses up the tonicity of the intestinal mucous membrane.

Natrum sulph. Hard knotty stool streaked with blood, preceded and accompanied by smarting at the anus; difficult expulsion of soft stool; emission of fetid flatus in large quantities.

Nitric acid. Desire for stool, but little passes; feels as if it stayed in the rectum and could not be expelled; ineffectual urging to stool, with sharp splinter-like cutting pains in rectum during stool: stools dry, difficult, irregular; burning after stool; painful prolapsus of bowels, and sensation of constriction of anus.

Nux vomica. Frequent ineffectual desire for stool, the action of the intestines being irregular and spasmodic, the constipation resulting from this irregularity of action and not from inaction: stool black, hard, often streaked with blood: obstructed portal circulation, frequent ineffectual urging; hemorrhoids; alternate constipation and diarrhoea: relief after stool: frequent scanty urination.

Opium. Suspension of secretion from the mucous surface of the digestive canal, thus dry mouth and fauces: constipation from inactivity of the rectum, but there is a want of sensibility in the abdominal condition, and hardly any inconvenience is felt from the accumulation of faeces: constipation of good humored corpulent women and children: constipation from lead poisoning; stool in hard, round, black balls, from spasmodic retention in small intestines; beating and sensation of heaviness in abdomen; rush of blood to the head: headache: sleepiness.

Phosphorus. Constipation, the faeces being slender, long, narrow, dry, tough, and hard like a dog's, voided with difficulty.

Phytolacca. Constipation of aged persons, or those of very weak constitutional powers, with weak heart's action, intermittent pulse, and generally relaxed muscular frame: continual inclination to go to stool, but passes constantly fetid flatus: pains shooting from the anus and lower part of the rectum along the perineum to the middle of the penis.

Platina. Constipation after lead-poisoning or while travelling: frequent urging, with expulsion of only small portions of faeces, with great straining: after the stool, sensation of great weakness in abdomen and chilliness; the stool seems to stick to the anus, like putty.

Plumbum. Constipation from atony of the muscularis and diminished secretion of the intestinal glands: evacuation obstructed by the induration of the faeces: stools consisting of small hard balls: painful contraction and constriction of the anus: frequent violent colic.

Podophyllum. Constipation, with flatulence and headache; faeces hard and dry, and voided with difficulty; descent of the rectum from a little exertion, followed by stool or by the discharge of thick transparent mucus, sometimes mixed with blood; morning aggravation of all the intestinal symptoms: weakness and soreness of the back; hemorrhoids.

Pulsatilla. Obstinate constipation: nauseous, bad taste in the morning, must wash out her mouth, produced by derangement of the stomach (fat); costive; stools large and hard, with much backache and urgency, after suppressed intermittent fever by quinine.

Ratania. Dry heat at the anus; sudden stitches, which the patient compares to stabs with a penknife; protrusion of varices after stool, with straining and ineffectual urging to stool.

Robinia. Desire for stool, but only flatus passes off; great distension of the stomach and bowels; great acidity of the stomach.

Selenium. Stool so hard and impacted that it must be removed by mechanical aid; the faeces contain threads of fecal matter, like hair.

Sepla. Ineffectual urging to stool, with discharge of mucus or flatus only; stool retarded, insufficient, like sheep's dung, with straining and tenesmus; constipation during pregnancy; difficult discharge even of a soft stool: prolapsus ani during stool.

Silicea. Stool consists of hard lumps, which remain long in the rectum, as if it had lost the power of expulsion, with sensation of soreness, stitches and shooting pain in anus; constipation before and during menses; when, after most violent efforts of the abdominal muscles forces have been nearly expelled, they as suddenly recede into the rectum; even a soft stool is expelled with much difficulty; much rumbling of flatulence in the abdomen.

Sulphur. Habitual constipation, especially in hæmorrhoidal and hypochondriac persons; frequent, but ineffectual urging to stool, with incarceration of flatus and distension of abdomen, stools hard and knotty; general dullness of mind and body.

Veratrum album. Digestion appears to be well performed, and still defecation is nearly impossible, on account of inertia of the rectum; there is no expulsive action; general depression of vitality; predominant coldness of the body; pallor and cold sweat on the forehead, or over the whole body, on slight emotion or exertion.

CONSTITUTION, Age, Sex, and Temperament.

§ 1. The following classification of remedies, agreeably to constitution, sex, etc., is, of course, imperfect, and many remedies, which have been omitted in the various paragraphs, may have to be supplied after a little more observation. Nevertheless, an intelligent physician will find the attempted classification of service, were it only to confirm the selection of a remedy, or to decide him in favor of one remedy among several doubtful ones.

§ 2. Premising all this, we will give the preference, as respects age and sex:

a. For the male sex, to: 1, acon., alum., aur., bry., canth., carb. veg., chin., clem., coff., coloc., dig., euphorb., graph., ign., kal., magn. acet., magn. m., merc., natr., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. vom., op., phos., rhus., sil., staph., sulph., zinc., 2, agar., alum., anac., ant., ars., baryt., caps., carb. an., caust., coloc., con., hep., iach., lyc., mosch., mur. ac., par., petr., phos. ac., plumb., puls., seneg., stann., sulph. ac., thuj., Veratr.

b. For the female sex, to: 1, acon., amb., amm. m., asa., bell., cham., chin., cic., con., croc., hyoa., ign., magn. c., magn. m., mosch., n. mosch., plat., pulv., rhus., sabin., sep., stann., val.; 2, alum., amm., arg., borax, calc., caust., coec., ferr., graph., hell., hep., kal., lyc., merc. n. vom., phosph., ruta, sabad., sec., spig., stram., sulph., thuj., Veratr., zinc.

c. For children: 1, acon., bell., bry., calc., cham., coff., hep., ign., ipec., lyc., merc., n. mosch., rhab., sil., sulph.; 2, amb., ars., aur., baryt., borax, bry., canth., chin., cin., dros., hep., magn. c., n. vom., pulv., rhus., ruta, spong., stann., staph., sulph. ac., veratr., viol. tr.

d. For young people: acon., bell., bry., iach., and many others.

e. For old people: amb., aur., baryt., con., op., sec.

§ 3. As respects constitution:

a. For blonde persons of lax fibre, to: bell., brom., calc., caps., cham., clem., con., coccul., dig., graph., hyos., lach., lyc., merc., rhus., sil., sulph.

b. For dark-complexioned, with rigid fibre: acon., anac., arn., ars., bry., kal., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. vom., plat., puls., sep., staph., sulph.

c. For bilious individuals: 1. acon., bry., cham., chin., coccul., merc., n. vom., puls.; 2. ant., ars., asa., asar., cann., coloc., daphn., dig., ign., ipec., lach., sec., staph., sulph., tart.

d. For nervous persons: 1. acon., baryt., bell., chin., con., cupr., ign., magn. arct., merc., natr., n. vom., phos., plat., puls., sil., stann., sulph., val., viol. od.; 2. alum., ars., carb. veg., cham., dig., graph., hep., hyos., laur., lyc., natr. m., n. mosch., phos. ac., rhus., sabin., sep., stram., teuer.

e. For plethoric individuals. See Plethora.

f. For lymphatic individuals: 1. bell., calc., carb. veg., chin., lyc., merc., natr. m., nit. ac., phos., puls., sep., sil., sulph.; 2. amm., arn., ars., baryt., dulc., ferr., graph., kal., petr., rhus., thu.

g. For bloated, spongy persons: amm., ant., ars., asa., bell., calc., caps., cupr., ferr., hell., kal., lach., merc., puls., rhus., seneg., spig., sulph.

h. For slender individuals: amb., n. vom., phos., sep.

i. For thin, lean subjects: 1. amb., ars., bry., chin., graph., lach., merc., natr. m., n. vom., stann., sulph.; 2. ant., baryt., cham., clem., cupr., ferr., ign., ipec., lyc., merc., nitr. ac., phos., plumb., puls., sec., sil., staph., veratr.

k. For fat large persons: ant., bell., calc., caps., cupr., ferr., graph., lyc., puls., sulph.

l. For weakly cachectic individuals: 1. arn., calc., chin., natr. m., n. vom., phos. ac., sulph., veratr.; 2. ars., carb. veg., lach., merc., phos., sec., sep., etc.

§ 4. As respects temperament and disposition:

a. For choleric vehement individuals: acon., ars., aur., bry., carb. veg., caust., hep., kal., lyc., magn. aust., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. vom., phos., plat., sep., sulph.

b. For bland dispositions: amb., bell., calad., cic., coccul., ign., lyc., magn. arct., puls., sil., sulph.

c. For phlegmatic individuals: bell., caps., chin., lach., merc., mez., natr., natr. m., puls., seneg.

d. For lively dispositions: acon., ars., cham., nitr. ac., n. vom., etc.

e. For melancholy persons: acon., aur., bell., bry., calc., chin., graph., ign., lyc., natr. m., plat., puls., rhus., stram., sulph., veratr.

f. For sensitive people: ars., ant., calc., canth., coil., con., cupr., ign., lach., lyc., n. vom., phos., plat., sabad.

CONTRACTION OF MUSCLES, Induration.

The principal remedies for this affection, which is generally connected with rheumatic or arthritic ailments, are: 1. amm., amm. m., caust., coloc., graph., lach., natr., natr. m., puls., rhus., sep., sulph.; 2. baryt., carb. an., carb. veg., con., lyc., n. vom.

See Gout and Rheumatism.

COPPER or Verdigris, ill-effects of.

For poisoning with large doses, Hering recommends: 1. albumen, either with or without water; 2, sugar, or sugar-water; 3, milk; 4, mucilaginous drinks; 5, iron filings dissolved in vinegar, and mixed with gum water.

The subsequent dynamic affections require: 1, hep., n. vom.; or 2, aur., bell., chin., coec., dule., ipec., merc.

CORNS.

§ 1. The principal remedies, which, indeed, do not always cure, but palliate the pain, are: 1, ant., calc., sep., sil.; 2, amm., carb. an., ign., petr., lyc., nitr. ac., sulph.

§ 2. a. For boring pains, give: borax, caust., natr., phos.

b. For burning pains: calc., ign., magn. arct., petr., phos. ac., sep., sil., sulph.

c. For aching pains: ant., graph., bry., phos., sep.

d. For inflammation: lyc., sep., sil.

e. For tearing pains: bry., lyc., magn. m., natr., sep., sil., sulph.

f. For stitching pains: ant., bry., calc., lyc., natr., natr. m., rhus, sep., sil., sulph., thuj.

g. For pain generally: bry., calc., lyc., n. vom., phos., rhus, sep., sil., sulph.

h. For soreness: amb., graph., ign., lyc., magn. arct., n. vom., rhus, sep.

§ 3. See Skin, Induration, Thickening of the.

CORNEA, disease of the.

For inflammation, suppuration, or ulceration of the cornea, keratitis, give:

Aconite. Superficial ulceration of the cornea of traumatic origin, or from exposure to the open air; conjunctiva very red, even to chemosis, photophobia, and lachrymation; or the eye is dry, hot, burning and sensitive to air. Patient restless, feverish, and thirsty.

Alumen. Purulent ophthalmia of children: spots on cornea; staphyloma cornea.

Apis mel. Serofulous, parenchymatous keratitis, with dim, vascular cornea, hot lachrymation, contracted pupils, photophobia; pustular keratitis, with dark red, chemosed conjunctiva, and swollen lids; pupil cannot be seen through the smoky, discolored cornea; severe and shooting pains through the eyes, with swollen oedematous condition of the lids and conjunctiva; patient drowsy and thirstless.

Argent. nitr. Ulceration of the cornea in new-born infants or from any form of purulent ophthalmia, with profuse discharge from the eyes. Ulceration, with halo around the light by day, and darting pains through the eye, morning and evening; ameliorated in the cool open air, and worse in a warm room. Lids red, thick, swollen; conjunctiva chemosed, and the discharge of whitish-yellow pus profuse.

Arnica. Traumatic ulceration, with much hemorrhage into the anterior chamber.

Arsenicum, especially for serofulous, anemic, restless children. Ulceration superficial, with a tendency to recur first in one eye and then in the other. Excessive photophobia. lachrymation hot, burning, acrid, and profuse; pains burning, sticking, throbbing, pulsating; worse at night, especially after midnight; bathing with warm water relieves; eyeballs sore to touch; conjunctiva red; marked soreness on the internal surface of the lids, which are oedematous, spasmodically closed, and often excoriated by the acrid discharge.

Asafoetida. Ulceration, accompanied by iritic pains, extending from within outwards, and relieved by rest and pressure.

Aurum. Ulceration of the cornea, especially when occurring during the course of pannus and scrofulous ophthalmia. Cornea quite vascular; patient irritable and sensitive to noise; cervical glands enlarged and inflamed; marked photophobia; lachrymation profuse and scalding; eyes very sensitive to touch. The pains extend from without inwards, and are worse on touch. reverse of asaf.

Calcarea carb. Corneal ulcerations in fat unhealthy children, with large abdomens, who sweat much, especially about the head, and are very susceptible to cold air; deep sloughing ulcer found in weak cachectic persons. Calc. iod. may be preferable for strumous subjects, who have enlargement of the tonsils and cervical glands. Calc-arseniosa.

Cantharis. Superficial ulcerations caused by burns, with burning pains and lachrymation.

Chamomilla. Ulceration in cross peevish children during dentition.

China (Chinin. mur.). Ulceration of malarial origin or dependent upon anemia, especially when the iris became affected with severe pain in or above the eye; periodic in character, especially when accompanied by chills. Ulcers found in the course of pannus, with much pain in the morning.

Cimicifuga. Ulcers, with sharp neuralgic pains through the eye into the head.

Cinnabaris. Pain above the eye, extending from the internal to the external canthus, or running around the eye.

Conium. Superficial ulceration, intense photophobia, and much lachrymation; little or no redness of the conjunctiva; strumous condition; enlarged glands.

Croton tigl. Ulceration, with marked pain in the supraciliary region at night, with vesicular eruption on face and lids.

Euphrasia. Superficial ulceration; photophobia; profuse acrid burning lachrymation, excoriating the lids; eyes smart and burn; blurring of eyes relieved by winking.

Graphites. Eczema on head and behind ears, moist, fissured, glutinous; superficial ulcerations from pustules; cornea vascular, conjunctiva slightly injected; photophobia intense, lachrymation moderate or profuse; lids covered with dry scales; red and sore, with cracking and bleeding of the external canthus, when attempting to open the eyes.

Hepar. Ulcers and abscesses of the cornea, especially for the deep sloughing form and when hypopion is present; intense photophobia; profuse lachrymation; great redness of cornea and conjunctiva, even chemosis. Pains severe, of a throbbing, aching, stinging character; better from warmth. Marked sensitiveness of the eye to touch; the spasmodically closed lids bleed easily upon opening them.

Kali bichrom. Indolent ulceration; no photophobia and no redness; stringy discharge.

Mercurius. Superficial or deep ulcers in strumous or syphilitic subjects. Cornea around the ulcer quite vascular; photophobia and profuse lachrymation, burning, excoriating; pains worse at night, in damp weather and extreme cold, temporarily ameliorated by cold water.

Mercurius prot. Serpiginous ulceration, commencing at the margin and extending over the whole cornea, or a portion of it, especially the upper part, involving only the superficial layers.

Natrum mur. After the use of caustics: photophobia; acrid lachrymation; lids swollen; eruption around the eye on face; sharp piercing pains above the eye on looking down.

Nux vom. Superficial ulceration, with excessive photophobia, especially mornings. Neuroparalytic keratitis

Rhus tox. Superficial keratitis, with excessive photophobia and lachrymation, so that the tears gush out upon opening the spasmodically closed lids; the child lies with its face buried in a pillow; chemosis of conjunctiva; lids, especially upper, oedematous.

Silicea. Sloughing ulcers; small round ulcers, with a tendency to perforate, especially if situated near the centre of the cornea, and having no bloodvessels running to them.

Staphisagria. For lacerated wounds of cornea.

Sulphur. General symptoms. All eye-symptoms aggravated by bathing the eyes.

For specks: ars., calc., cann. sat., caust., euphr., hep., hydr., kali bichr., nitr. ac., seneg., sep., spig., sil., sulph.

For ulcers and scars: ars., calc., hep., kali bichr., lach., mere., natr. mur., sil., sulph.

For obscuration of cornea: calc., cann., caust., chel., chin., euphr., hydr., magn., nitr. ac., phosph., puls., sulph.

For pterygium: arg., nitr., ars., calc., chimaph., lach., psor., rat., sulph., zinc

For staphyloma: apia, calc., euphr., ilex, lyc., sulph.

For fungus hæmatodes: bell., calc., carb. an., lyc., sep., sil., sulph., thuja.

§ 1. Cough being, generally speaking, a mere symptom, it seems impossible to furnish precise instructions for the treatment of every species of cough. Nevertheless, it may not be superfluous to mention the principal remedies for cough, provided the practitioner selects his remedy in accordance with the general symptoms of the patient.

Taken in this sense, the principal remedies for cough are: 1, acon., aral., asclep., ars., bell., bry., calc., carb. v., hep., ipec., lob., lyc., lycopus, n. vom., phos., puls., rum., sang., sep., stann., stict., sulph.; 2, ceras., cham., chin., cimicif., cin., con., dros., dule., eupat., gels., gnaph., ham., helon., hep., hyosc., ign., kal., lach., led., leptan., rhus, sal., spong.; 3, asc. h., apoc., arn., caps., caust., conoelad., droscur., euphr., op., phos. ac., pod., phytol., squill., stann., staph., verat., verb.

chin., cin., dros., dule., euphr., hydrast., hyosc., ign., ipec., lach., phos., phos. ac., sep., sil., spig., squill., stann., staph., stict., veratr., verb.

For cough accompanied with VOMITING OR NAUSEA, give: 1, bry., carb. v., dros., ferr., hep., ipec., n. vom., puls., sulph.; 2, asc. h., calc., chin., kreas., lept., natr. m., sep., sil.; 3, lach., phos. ac., rhus., sabad., tart., veratr.

For NERVOUS AND SPASMODIC COUGH: 1, bry., carb. v., cin., hyosc., ipec., n. vom., puls., rum.; 2, amb., bell., cupr., dros., ferr., hep., ingt. arc., merc., sulph.; 3, acon., calc., chin., con., ign., iod., kal., kreas., lact., natr. m., nitr. ac., sep., sil.

§ 3. For DRY COUGH, WITHOUT EXPECTORATION: 1, acon., arum., bell., bry., calc., cham., coff., hep., hyosc., ign., iris, ipec., lach., lachn., n. vom., petr., phos., rum., sang., sep., spong., sulph.; 2, ant., arn., ars., caust., carb. v., caust., chin., cin., cupr., dros., iod., kreas., lyc., merc., nitr. ac., n. mosch., plat., puls., rhus., seneg., spig., squill., stann., staph.; 3, asc. hip., asclep. tub., caust., emicif., cist., gymnocl., jugl., lachn., stict., zizia.

For LOOSE COUGH, WITH EXPECTORATION: ars., bry., calc., chin., iod., lyc., phos., puls., seneg., sep., sil., squill., stann., sulph.; 2, acon., alum., anac., apoc. c., arum., dros., dule., eryng., ferr., kal., lept., merc., natr. m., phos. ac., ruta., senec., spong., staph., stict., thuj., veratr.; 3, asclep. syr., eryng., collins., eupat. perf., hepat., hydrast.

For cough, loose in the daytime, dry at night: ars., calc., cham., graph., n. vom., puls., sabad., sil., sulph.

For cough, with expectoration only in the morning: 1, alum., amm., bry., calc., carb. veg., ferr., hep., magn. c., mang., natr. m., phos., puls., sep., squill., sulph. ac.; 2, bell., kal., led., lyc., mur. ac., natr., nitr. ac., phos. ac., sil.

Expectoration only in the evening: 1, arn., cin., graph.; 2, calc., kal., lyc., mur. ac., nitr., n. vom., phos., ruta., sep., stann.

Expectoration only at night: bell., calc., caust., hep., led., lyc., sep.

When it is impossible to throw off the detached substance: amb., arn., caust., kal., sep.

§ 4. a. For bloody expectoration: 1, acon., arn., bry., calc., ferr., ipec., lyc., nitr. ac., phos., sulph.; 2, ars., bell., chin., con., croc., dros., dule., hep., hyos., laur., led., merc., nitr., rhus., sabin., sep., sil., squill., sulph. ac.

b. For blood-streaked expectoration, or mucus mixed with blood: 1, ars., bry., chin., ferr., phos., sabin., sep.; 2, acon., arn., bell., borax., iod., ipec., laur., lyc., magn. c., op., sulph. ac., zinc.

c. For purulent expectoration: 1, calc., carb. veg., chin., con., kal., lyc., natr., nitr., phos., sep., sil., staph., sulph.; 2, ars., bell., carb. an., dros., ferr., hep., merc., nitr. ac., phos. ac., puls., rhus., stann.

d. For jellylike expectoration, or resembling boiled starch, etc.: arg., baryt., chin., dig., ferr., laur.

e. Frothy expectoration: ars., ferr., op., phos., puls., sec., sil.

f. Mucous expectoration: 1, ars., bry., calc., chin., lyc., phos., puls., stann., sulph.; 2, amm., arg., baryt., bell., carb. veg., cin. dule., iod., kreas., lach., magn. m., nitr. ac., n. mosch., ruta., staph., thuj.

g. Fetid expectoration: 1, calc., natr., sil., sulph.; 2, ars., con., graph., lyc., magn. m., nitr. ac., phos., sep., stann.

h. Watery expectoration, or of thin mucus: arg., carb. veg., cham., chin., ferr., graph., lach., lyc., magn. c., merc., stann., sulph.

i. Tenacious expectoration: 1, ant., ars., bell., bov., carb. veg., seneg., sil ; 2. alum., anac., cann., cham., chin., dule., ferr., iod., kal., magn. c., magn. m., lach., merc., mez., phos. ac., rhus, spong., zinc

§ 5. a. Yellow expectoration : 1. bry., calc., carb. veg., dros., kreas., phos., puls., stann., staph., thuj. ; 2. acon., amm. m., ars., lye., mang., mere., natr., nitr. ac., ruta., sep., spong.

b. Gray expectoration : 1. amb., ars., lye., sep. ; 2. anac., arg., chin., kreas., lach., magn. m., n. vom., thuj.

c. Greenish expectoration : 1. ars., carb. veg., lye., magn. c., puls., stann. ; 2. horax, colch., led., mang., natr., phos., sil., thuj.

d. Reddish not bloody expectoration : bry., squill.

e. Blackish expectoration : chin., lye., n. vom., rhus

f. Whitish expectoration : 1. arg., carb. veg., kreas., lye., phos., sep., sulph. ; 2. acon., amm. m., carb. an., chin., cin., cupr., ferr., rhus, sil.

§ 6. a. For bitter expectoration : 1. ars., cham., mere., n. vom. puls. ; 2. arn., bry., canth., dros., nitr. ac., sep.

b. Foul expectoration : arn., bell., carb. veg., cham., con., cupr., ferr., puls., sep., stann.

c. Salt expectoration : 1. ars., lye., natr., phos., puls., sep. ; 2. alum., amb., baryt., calc., chin., dros., graph., magn. c., magn. m., mere., n. vom., samb., sil., sulph.

d. Sour expectoration : 1. calc., n. vom., phos. ; 2. bell., cham., chin., hep., kal., magn. m., plumb., puls., sulph.

e. Musty expectoration : horax.

f. For expectoration tasting like old catarrhal mucus : bell., puls., sulph.

g. For sweetish expectoration : 1. calc., phos. ; 2. kreas., kal., lach., magn. c., n. vom., puls., samb., squill., stann., sulph.

h. For expectoration tasting like tobacco : puls.

i. For expectoration having an offensive taste : 1. ars., dros., merc., puls. ; 2. calc., ferr., ipec., lach., natr. m., sep.

k. For other kinds of taste, compare Taste.

§ 7. a. For RACKING, EXHAUSTING COUGH : 1. ars., bell., lach., lob. infl., mere., n. vom., puls., stann., sulph. ; 2. anac., carb. v., gymnocl., hyosc., ign., lye., sil. ; 3. caust., chin., con., cupr., graph., ipec., kal., phos., rum., rhus, squill.

b. For SUFFOCATIVE COUGH : 1. arum., chin., cin., cupr., dros., ipec., op., sil. ; 2. bry., carb. v., con., hep., n. vom., puls., sep., sulph. ; 3. ars., carb. a., caust., cham., lach., tngt. arc., n. mosch., samb., tart.

c. For HOARSE DEEP COUGH : 1. carb. v., cin., hep., ign., mere., n. vom., stann., sticta ; 2. acon., ambr., apoc., ars., carb. a., caust., kreas., lye., nitr. ac., phytol., samb., verat., verb.

d. For HOLLOW BARKING COUGH : 1. acon., bell., bry., dros., hep., nitr. a., spong., staph. ; 2. caust., cin., ign., kreas., phos., samb., spig.

e. For PASTING WHEEZING COUGH : 1. cin., dros. ; 2. bell., carb. v., con., cupr., dule., hyosc., ipec., phos., puls., rum., spong., verat. ; 3. acon., ambr., arum., chin., kreas., lye., rhus.

f. For TITILLATING COUGH : 1. acon., ars., cham., dros., iod., ipec., lach., natr. m., n. vom., phos., phytol., puls., rum., sep., staph. ; 2. amm., bell., carb. a., caust., cinicif., con., eryng., gels., ham., nitr., sil., spong., stann., verat.

g. For CROWING COUGH : 1. chin., cin., dros., dule., samb., spong. ; 2. acon., hep.

h. For spasmodic cough: 1, bell., bry., carb. v., chin., dros., hyosc., ipec., n. vom., puls.; 2, ambr., comoclad., cupr., ferr., hep., mgt. arc., merc., sulph.; 3, acon., calc., chin., cou., ign., iod., kal., kreas., natr. m., sep., sil., verat.

i. For short hacking cough: 1, acon., ars., coff., lach., merc., natr. m., n. vom., sulph.; 2, alum., bry., caust., chin., eupat., graph., ham., hep., ign., kreas., lyc., nitr. a., phytol., pod., puls., rhus., sep., spong., squill., stann., sulph. ac.

k. For cough, as if from the vapors of sulphur, or from feather-dust in the throat: 1, ars., chin., ign., puls.; 2, amm., calc., em., teucr.

§ 8. a. For cough coming on in the evening, give: 1, ars., calc., caps., carb. a., carb. v., dros., hep., kreas., merc., natr. m., nitr. ac., petr., puls., stann.; 2, amm., cham., con., eupat. p., kal., lach., lyc.

Rumex crispus. Exalting the sensibility and diminishing the secretion of larynx and trachea; violent, incessant, fatiguing cough, aggravated by pressure, talking, and by every inspiration of cool air and at night, cough, with pain behind midsternum; soreness in larynx and behind sternum; rawness under clavicles; pain in stomach, stitches in left lung; cough worse from changing rooms evening when lying down; hawking, with burning soreness in larynx, later in left bronchus; renewed by strong inhalation and scraping; hoarse barking cough, in attacks every night at 11 P.M., and at 2 and 5 A.M. children, by inhalation of a breath of cold air, by any variation in breathing, as when undressing and going to bed, he keeps the head covered with the bedclothes; cough in any position, it makes the chest feel bruised, and it seems as if the cough did not reach low enough down to raise the phlegm, and when it did loosen it, it causes soreness of chest.

Sabadilla. Dry cough in children from scraping and roughness in throat, with lachrymation; hoarse cough, with hæmoptoe; violent spells of coughing at the same hour or at new or full moon; expectoration of tenacious yellow mucus, of a repulsive sweet taste, or else of bright-red blood, especially when lying down.

Sambucus niger. Increased secretion of the skin and of the respiratory mucous membrane; sudden nocturnal suffocative attacks from obstruction of thorax, when it seems as if the patient, awakened about midnight, would choke, without being able to call for help; profuse expectoration, with oppressed respiration; hoarseness, with much tough mucus in the larynx; quick, wheezing, crowing breathing; accumulation of mucus in the larynx; suffocative, hollow, deep cough, caused by a spasm in the chest, with expectoration only during the day of small quantities of tough mucus.

Sanguinaria. Dry cough, with considerable tickling in the pit of the throat, with a crawling sensation extending downwards beneath the sternum; severe cough, causing considerable pain beneath the upper part of the sternum, without expectoration; dry teasing cough, with dryness of the throat; sensation of constriction, with inclination to take a deep breath, which greatly increases the constriction, and causes a tearing pain through the chest, particularly the right; painful sighing respiration; chest sore and painful to touch, myalgia; dry cough, awakening him and not ceasing until he sits up in bed, and passes flatus, upward and downward; sputa, thick, mucous, offensive, purulent, rust-colored; circumscribed redness of cheeks.

Scilla mar. Drinking of cold water always brings on severe cough; tickling, worrying, almost constantly harassing cough of greater or less severity, day and night, sometimes loose, at other times dry; every fit of coughing winds up with sneezing and involuntary urination; short rattling cough, disturbing sleep, spasmodic cough from rattling in trachea or creeping sensation in chest; sputa, white or reddish mucus, sweetish, and of offensive odor, the loose cough in the morning is more fatiguing than the dry cough in the evening, worse by changing from warm to cold air.

Senega. Burning and titillation in larynx and throat, with danger of suffocation when lying down, from adhesiveness of mucus, oppressed breathing as if the chest were not wide enough, especially in the open air, and when going up stairs; shortness of breath, from accumulation of mucus in the chest and trachea; dry shaking cough, from tickling in larynx, especially in the open air, and when walking fast; cough, with expectoration of tough mucus (like the white of an egg); cough worse in the morning, while dressing and before breakfast, no cough at any other meal.

Senecio aureus. Increased secretion from the bronchial mucous membrane; chronic coughs, in females, the result of obstructed menstruation; hæmoptoe; cough, with copious sputa of yellowish, thick, sweet mucus, often streaked with blood, attended with a sensation of rawness and soreness of the chest; cough at the climaxis.

Sepia. Chronic diseases affecting the female sexual organs; coughs from passive congestions and obstructions in the portal system; dry cough, especially in evening in bed, till midnight, often with nausea and bitter vomiting; cough during sleep, without waking, from tickling in larynx or bronchi, toward morning; coughs every evening till he brings up a little phlegm; coughs phlegm loose, but cannot get it up, or is obliged to swallow again what he raised; spasmodic cough, excited by tickling in chest, from larynx to stomach, during day without, in the morning with expectoration of yellow, green, or gray pus, or of a milky tenacious mucus, generally of salty taste.

Silicea. Cough provoked by cold drinks; soreness and weakness of chest, relieved by inhaling moist warm air; laryngeal morning cough, commencing immediately on getting out of bed, with tough, gelatinous, and very tenacious expectoration; loss of breath when lying on the back or stooping; hollow, spasmodic, suffocative cough, from tickling in throat, with expectoration only during the day of profuse yellowish-green pus or of tough milky mucus, at times of pale frothy blood, of greasy taste and offensive odor; hoarseness, with roughness of the larynx; suffocative cough at night, with sighing and deep breathing.

Silphum laciniatum. Scraping, tickling, and irritation of the fauces and throat, nausea, faint feeling, and soreness in epigastrium; constant hawking and clearing the throat, but only throws off a thin viscid mucus; sneezing, followed by a discharge of limpid acid mucus from the nose, attended with constriction and pressure in supraorbital region; cough, attended with expectoration of yellow mucus, constriction and tightness in the lungs, with a constant desire to expectorate; spasmodic cough.

Spigelia. Suffocating dry cough at night, worse when bending forward, with palpitation; discharge of offensive mucus and blood from posterior nares at night; worm-cough.

Spongia. Dry, barking wheezing cough, caused by burning tickling in larynx, like a plug or valve, or by feeling of accumulation of mucus and weight in chest; chronic cough in violent attacks, which brings up small hard tubercles; profuse secretion of mucus in bronchi; expectoration of yellowish or whitish mucus; much oppression of breathing; worse by lying with the head low, the room getting too warm, relieved by eating ever so little; cough, with sensation of burning in the chest, relieved by eating and drinking.

Stannum. Dry, racking, concussive cough, so that the chest feels as if eviscerated, with weakness in limbs and general languor, caused by mucus in the chest and by stitches and dryness in the trachea, with copious, green, salty sputum during the day, most profuse in the morning; worse by talking, singing, laughing, and from drinking anything warm, oppressed breathing and want of breath from every movement, when lying down, in the evening.

Staphisagria. Throat dry and rough, sore when talking or swallowing; spasmodic hollow cough, with expectoration of yellow, tough, purulent mucus at night; worse from vexation, indignation, or after meat; sputa loosened at night and generally swallowed.

Sticta pulm. Excessive dryness of the nasal mucous membrane, which becomes painful; the secretions are so quickly dried that they become as hard as scabs; dry and hacking cough from tickling in the larynx and oppression of the lungs, causing a feeling of a hard mass collected there; cough excited by every attempt at inspiration; incessant cough at night, with comparative freedom from cough during daytime.

Stramonium. Cough of drunkards; periodical, painless, spasmodic cough, with shrill screeching tone; worse morning, from touching throat, from walking in wind, in vaulted rooms, after debauch, after fright, from looking at bright objects, drinking water.

Sulphur. Suppressed choking cough: short, dry, with stitches in the chest, or under the left scapula; dry cough, with hoarseness; dryness in throat, and watery coryza; loose cough, with much rattling of mucus, and soreness and pressure in the chest; sputa mucous, greenish lumps of sweetish taste, bloody pus; when coughing, headache as if bruised or torn; sometimes vomiting; pain in abdomen.

Sulphuric acid. Cough aggravated by the smell of coffee; soreness and tiredness between scapulae; cough from irritation of chest, with expectoration in the morning of dark blood, or of a thin, yellow, blood streaked mucus, tasting sour.

Thuja occid. Shortness of breath from mucus in the trachea; coughs loosely in the evening after lying down, or as soon as he eats or drinks anything cold; sputa green, tasting like old cheese, sensation as of a skin in the larynx.

Tolu. Constant, violent, racking, dry cough, with tickling irritation in larynx and trachea, especially above and below the upper part of the sternum; feeling as if something must be got rid of, pain in coughing all the way down in front of the (left) lung; a raw, sore, scraping feeling as if the mucous membrane was too much irritated, which keeps him from sleeping.

Trifolium prat. Spasmodic shaking cough, bronchial râles; asthmatic respiration, profuse stringy cohesive expectoration, resembling albumen.

Veratrum alb. Every coughing-spell is followed by great exhaustion, with cold sweat on the forehead and cyanosis; dry tickling, after walking in sharp cold air; deep, hollow, ringing cough by tickling on lowest branches of bronchi, and expectoration of yellow, tough, tenacious mucus, of bitter, saltish, sour, or putrid taste; suffocative fits from a constriction in the larynx or in the chest, worse from going into a warm room, getting warm in bed, eating and drinking cold things, especially water; mornings, and until midnight.

Veratrum viride. Cough, with high fever, oppression of the chest, scanty bloody expectoration; cough and vomiting of tough viscid mucus; spasmodic cough from spinal congestion or cerebral irritation, with spasms.

Verbascum. Frequent attacks of a deep, hollow, hoarse cough, with the sound like a trumpet, caused by a tickling in larynx and chest; cough without waking; hoarseness in the evening while reading.

Zincum met. Debilitating spasmodic cough from tickling in larynx, extending to the middle of the chest, with expectoration of yellow, purulent, blood-streaked, tenacious mucus, tasting disagreeably, sweetish, putrid, metallic, or of pure blood, in the morning or during the day, cough worse after eating, during rest, from drinking milk, sweets, liquors, during menstruation; cough all night, with dull pains in the chest, spasmodic cough, child puts hands to genitals, shooting pains in pit of stomach when coughing, which disappear after expectoration; spasmodic cough, as if the chest would fly to pieces, constrictive sensation around chest, with pain in chest as if cut to pieces from irritation of intercostal nerves, spasmodic cough with such as have large varices on the legs, disposed to burst and bleed, and incessant and violent fidgety feeling in the feet and lower limbs; cough during menses; complaints from overheating; drowsiness, with frequent gaping.

Zingiber. Dry hacking cough, from tickling in larynx or left side of throat, from smarting or scratching, with pain in lungs, and difficult breathing; copious morning spitta.

Zizea aurea. Dry cough, with stitches in the chest; a bruised feeling in the muscles of the chest, dyspnoea; worse in the evening and at night.

CROUP, ANGINA MEMBRANOSA.

Acetic acid. Lining membrane of larynx and trachea covered with fibrinous exudation; hoarseness, with laryngeal irritation; difficult breathing from laryngeal obstruction; hissing, rattling in throat; hurried and laborious breathing; membranous croup, with hissing respiration and rattling in throat; no thirst with the fever.

Aconite. Inflammatory period: high fever, dry skin, restlessness; the child is in agony, impatient, throws itself about; dry and short cough, but not yet wheezing, nor sawing respiration: cough and loud breathing during expiration, but not during inspiration; every expectoration ending with a hoarse hacking cough; after exposure to dry cold winds.

Spongia. Children with fair complexion; great dryness of the larynx, with short, hard, barking cough; embarrassed breathing, as if the larynx and trachea became narrower; pain at the larynx when touching it; slow, loud wheezing, and sawing breathing, and suffocative fits, with inability to breathe except with the head bent backwards; sawing sound during remission; the child wakes with suffocation about larynx on falling asleep early at night; always worst before midnight, and croup does not extend below the larynx.

Hepar sulph. Croup after exposure to dry cold wind, with swelling below the larynx; great sensitiveness to cold air; red face, high fever, hoarseness, and rattling of moist mucus, which the child is unable to get rid of, but still little or no difficulty in breathing; aggravation after midnight or towards morning; sensation as if there was a fishbone in the throat, or of internal swelling, when swallowing; stitching pain extending from ear to ear, when swallowing or turning the head.

Bromine. Children with blue eyes and light hair. Spasmodic or suffocative croup: hoarse, whistling, croupy voice, gasping for breath; much dry wheezing cough, without expectoration; formation of a false membrane in larynx and trachea; much rattling in the larynx when coughing, and hoarseness and spasmodic closure of glottis, relieved by a drink of water.

Iodine. Black-eyed children; roughness, painful pressure, and stitches in larynx and pharynx, as if swollen; pain in larynx, with discharge of hardened mucus; constriction and heat in the larynx, increased secretion of mucus in the trachea; dry, short, and hacking cough; soreness of the throat and chest, especially when in bed, with wheezing in the throat and drawing pains in the lungs (the child grasps throat and chest with his hands); hoarseness, the voice becoming continually deeper; tracheal and bronchial croup, with tendency to torpor; moist cough, with expectoration; morning aggravation; expectoration of large quantities of mucus, frequently blood-streaked; constant desire to change position, without anguish; plastic exudation. Swollen glands about neck.

Kali bichromicum. It suits best fat chubby children; gradual and insidious onset; at first only slight difficulty of breathing, when the mouth is closed; as the disease progresses there is fever and increased difficulty of breathing, hoarse voice, constant cough at intervals; cough hoarse, dry, barking, metallic; deglutition painful; tonsils and larynx red, swollen, covered with a false membrane, difficult to detach, with expectoration of tough stringy mucus; finally breathing performed only by the abdominal muscles, and those of the neck and shoulders; head bent backwards, breath offensive, diminished temperature, prostration, stupor, and death from asphyxia, if not relieved.

Kali brom. Spasmodic croup; child awakens suddenly from a sound sleep by a sense of suffocation, with a peculiar ringing, dry, brassy cough, and hurried breathing; the child is agitated, face flushed, eyes suffused and bloodshot. After one or two hours the child falls asleep, and breathes easily and naturally, only to awake again in a similar paroxysm; hyperæsthesia of the laryngeal nerves, followed by loss of sensibility in the larynx; hoarseness, extremely painful and disagreeable hacking cough, with paleness and confusion of the head; remission during daytime.

Kaolin. Croup seated in lower part of larynx and upper part of trachea; husky voice; metallic rasping cough; paroxysms of suffocation.

Cubebæ. False membranes, thick and of a dark shade, principally in the larynx; respiration noisy and panting; sensation as if the head was choked up, with heaviness of head; danger of suffocation; voice harsh and wheezing, cough, with coryza and hoarseness, during and after cough, cold sweat upon the breast and back, with burning in abdomen, respiration impeded, difficult râles, with crepitant râles; great fulness of chest, dyspnoea and sense of suffocation; barking and croupy cough, with feeling as of a foreign body in larynx; throat dry and parched; respiration hurried and noisy; face red and pale by turns, contractive and pressive headache, with drowsiness, but without sleep; uneasiness, anxiety, cannot remain in bed; constant need to swallow the saliva to relieve the dryness and suffering in the throat and larynx.

2. Antimonium tart. Voice weak and changed; hoarseness in the morning; rapid, short, heavy, and anxious breathing; must be supported in a sitting posture in bed; large quantities of mucus in the bronchial tubes, but none in expectoration; tough secretion of mucus from air passages; oppressed breathing and sensitive stitches in left breast; danger of suffocation from paralytic state of the lungs; large increase in amount of carbonic acid expired; face cold, bluish, covered with cold clammy perspiration, pulse very frequent; prostration, collapse; severe forms of catarrhal croup.

Arsenicum. Cough worse after midnight; the croup aggravates by spells; between them the child feels comparatively easy, though still distressed; great prostration; restlessness; thirst, but the child takes only a sip; bloated face, covered with cold perspiration, especially suitable to children frequently affected with hives and nettlerash, where there is hoarseness, feeling of burning or dryness in the larynx; cough, with sense of constriction and suffocation.

Belladonna. Sawing whistling breathing; frequent barking croupy cough, skin dry and hot; face red; eyes congested; pulse full, sharp, and frequent; tonsils red and swollen; patches of membrane on the fauces; great restlessness and irritability.

Bryonia. Tough mucus in the trachea, which is loosened only after frequent hawking; scraping sensation in the lower portion of the trachea, provoking a dry cough; voice rough and hoarse; hacking dry cough, from the upper part of the trachea; single, forcible, spasmodic shocks towards the upper part of the trachea, which is covered by dry tough mucus; cough, from a constant crawling upward in the throat, followed by expectoration of mucus.

Causticum. Catarrhal croup; sensation of rawness in the throat when coughing, with sawing respiration; dry sensation in the air-passages; irritation to cough, with easy expiration; dry hollow cough, with sore sensation in a streak down along the trachea, where it pains on every fit of coughing, and almost prevents breathing; frequent attacks of suffocation during inspiration, as if some one grasped the trachea, arresting the breathing for the moment.

Ipecacuanha. Catarrhal croup; convulsive evening cough; expectoration of mucus, with metallic taste; spasmodic cough, with constriction and danger of suffocation; shocks on falling asleep; rigidity of the body, followed by jerking of the arms towards each other, nausea and vomiting; worse from the least motion.

Lachesis. Croup in children subject to inflammatory rheumatism; decided aggravation after sleep, after a short nap; the children, as it were, sleep into the croup, and, when thoroughly aroused, breathe more freely; the child cannot bear anything touching the neck; patches of exudation in the fauces, extending downward on pharynx and larynx; commencing paralysis of lungs; left side of throat particularly affected, sensation as if there was something fluttering above the larynx; cough excited by sensation as if a crumb of bread were sticking in throat, causing frequent hawking and swallowing.

Lactic acid. Dryness, scratching and burning in throat; tearing to larynx and trachea, with hoarseness; difficult expectoration of gray tasteless mucus, or so tough that air can hardly pass through it; horrible dreams of abysses and restless sleep; croup-sound not heard.

Lobelia infl. Spasmodic croup, with stridulous breathing, ringing cough, dyspnoea; constrictive sensation in the larynx; constant cough and great anguish, with fear of suffocation; sensation of a lump in the throat-pit, impeding respiration and deglutition.

Lycopodium. Hoarseness remaining after croup, or with it loose cough in daytime and suffocative fits at night, or, in general, when suffocative fits alternate with free catarrh; dryness in windpipe, with hoarseness; feeling of rawness in trachea, with increased expectoration of mucus; cough in the evening before going to sleep (such after sleep), as if the larynx were tickled with a feather, with scanty expectoration; tickling cough, as from fumes of sulphur in larynx, with gray salty expectoration and difficult respiration.

Naja tripudians. Spasmodic croup (clogging up of the larynx and trachea with thick mucus, which is hawked up with difficulty; sensation of rawness in larynx and trachea (caust.), or as if there was a hair in it, causing constant tickling, coughing, hoarseness; finally some expectoration of tenacious mucus; breathing laborious, gasping for breath for several hours.

Phosphorus. Catarrhal and inflammatory states of the respiratory organs throughout their whole length; painfulness of larynx to touch; hoarseness and aphonia; shortness of breath; the child is hoarse and croupy at night; better towards morning; croup, with tendency to relapse, especially in tall, slender, nervous children.

Sambucus niger. Spasm of the epiglottis, attacking the child during sleep at night, whether spasmodic or true croup. Quick wheezing-crowing breathing, with suffocative attacks just after midnight, and from lying with the head low; frequent waking up as if in a fright, with fear of suffocation, mouth and eyes being half open; dry heat during sleep; profuse perspiration only after awakening; dread of being uncovered. In dangerous cases with excessive weakness, old-looking features, and threatening paralysis pulmonum.

Sanguinaria. Pseudo-membranous croup; chronic dryness of the throat and sensation of swelling in the larynx, with expectoration of thick mucus; aphonia, with swelling of the throat; steady severe cough without expectoration, with pain in the head and circumscribed redness of the cheeks; tormenting, exhausting cough.

CRUSTA LACTEA.

Ars., bell., bor., calc., elem., lyc., ol. croc., rhus, sulph., viol. tric. Compare Eczema.

Arsen. Pimples and vesicles; acrid discharge, itching and burning, worse at night in cold air; better from external warmth.

Bellad. Teething; jerking in sleep; want to sleep, yet unable to do so.

Borax. Red papulous eruption on the cheeks and around the chin, herpetic eruption around the nates.

Calcarea carb. A dose morning and evening for a long time; scrofulosis of fair plump children; teething; moist scurfy eruption on cheeks and forehead, with burning pain, especially after washing; moist eruption behind the ears; scurfy pimples on border of lower lip; perspiration after eating and drinking.

Clematis. Pale and sickly countenance; moist eczema on neck and occiput, itching terribly; worse from washing in cold water, in bed, from warm poultices.

Lycopodium. Thick crusts underneath cracked surface; skin dry and excoriating; worse at night and in warmth.

Ol. crotonis. Itching pustules; swelling and redness of the face and eyelids, which are covered with small vesicles; burning and itching.

Rhus tox. Acrid inflamed look; swollen glands on neck and throat; stiffness of neck.

Sulphur. Excoriations; pimples; vesicles; violent itching; bleeding from scratching; worse at night; diarrhoea in the morning.

Viola tricolor. Milk crust, burning and itching, especially at night, with discharge of tough yellow pus; heat and perspiration of the face after eating.

Aconite. High fever; restlessness; constant urging, yet fearful of voiding urine, on account of the painfulness of the act; urine scalding hot, micturition painful, difficult, sometimes only drop by drop; children reach with their hands to the genitals and cry out.

Apis mel. Great irritation at neck of bladder, with frequent and burning urination; frequent desire, with passage of only a few drops; difficult urination of children; urine scanty, high-colored, hot, red, and bloody, if caused by cantharides.

Arsenicum. Burning pain, especially at the commencement of urinating; fever; great restlessness; cold perspiration; face and extremities cold; chronic cystitis, with inability to void the water; bladder greatly distended and paralyzed; urine turbid, mixed with pus and blood.

Belladonna. Rapid sinking of strength; the region of the bladder very sensitive to the touch; urine hot and fiery red; clear at first, but soon becoming turbid on standing, and depositing a copious, slimy, bright-red, branlike sediment.

Camphora. Antidotes the effect of drugs acting on kidneys and bladder; complete suppression of urine; slow and thin stream; burning in urethra and bladder.

Cannabis sat. Gonorrhœal cystitis, burning smarting in the urethra; complete suppression of urine, or constant urging to urinate, especially at night, with burning pains; passes only drops of bloody urine.

Cantharides. Spasmodic pains in the perinæum, along the urethra down into the testes, which are drawn up; intolerable burning pain in the bladder; cutting through the abdomen; violent tenesmus (tarantula) and burning in the bladder; violent, but ineffectual urging to urinate, with drop-discharge of a saturated dark urine; stinging and burning pains in the region of the bladder, before and after micturating, or cutting pains from the kidneys to the bladder; abdomen distended and painful to contact, especially in the region of bladder; vomiting and nausea, great thirst, but drinking, and even the sight of water increases the pain.

Carbo veg. In old people and chronic cases, where the acute inflammation has subsided, and only blennorrhœa remains.

Chimaphila. Frequent and profuse discharge of urine, loaded with mucus, urging to urinate after voiding it; pressing fulness in the region of the bladder.

Colocynthis. After alleviation of the most violent symptoms, when the pain during micturition extends all over the abdomen, the urine looks turbid when first voided; depositing, on standing, a tough, mucous sediment, which can be drawn into strings.

Conium. Cutting-drawing through the urethra while urinating; sharp stitches shortly after urinating in the region of the neck of the bladder for many hours, shooting stitches in back part of urethra.

Dulcamara. Chronic cases, with constant desire, deep in the abdomen, to urinate, painful pressing down in the region of the bladder and urethra; drop-discharge of urine, with mucous sediment, or mixed with bloody lumps, from local damp or cold.

Elaterium. Inflammation of the neck of the bladder; pains, when urinating, so violent as to induce some degree of convulsions, with constant heat at the neck of the bladder.

Erigeron. Dysuria of teething children: the child cries when voiding urine, the calls for which are frequent; increased discharge of a strong odor; vesical irritation from calenli.

Eupatorium purp. Constant desire to pass water, accompanied by a cutting aching pain in the bladder; most excruciating burning and smarting in the urethra during the passage of urine, passes a few drops at a time, and is obliged to try it often.

Helleborus. The inflammation gradually increased in intensity, with constant desire to urinate, causing spasms; little urine is voided; constant nausea; distended abdomen.

Hyoscyamus. Retention of urine, so that bladder becomes largely distended; urine turbid, depositing a mucous or purulent sediment; great thirst; dry tongue; delirium.

Kali carb. Violent cutting and tearing in the bladder, neck of the bladder and urethra; urine hot, scanty, frequent, flows slowly, with soreness and burning, and deposits a red, slimy, or purulent sediment.

Lachesis. Catarrh of bladder, with discharge of offensive mucus during micturition; urine almost black, foamy; ineffectual urging to urinate; burning when it does pass; feeling as of a ball rolling in the bladder or abdomen when turning over.

Lycopodium. Feeling of heaviness in the bladder; burning during micturition; constant urging to urinate, passing into retention of urine; urine dark, milky, flocculent, with thick purulent sediment of a nauseous odor; fever, with general malaise and gastric ailments; frequent urging to urinate, forcing one to retain the urine and to support the abdomen with the hands; chronic cases; disposition to urinary concretions; in children urging to urinate, with impossibility to pass it; they cry impatiently and grasp the abdomen; when they discharge, the urine may be pale and clear.

Mercurius. Fever, with chilliness; great soreness in the region of the bladder when touching it; violent urging; the urine flows in a thin stream, or only drop by drop, containing mucus, blood, or pus; during micturition sweat breaks forth; syphilitic gonorrhœa.

Nux vom. Frequent urging to urinate, with violent pains during and after micturition, which is very scanty; burning pain in urethra, bladder, and kidney; contractive pain in urethra while urinating; constipation; hæmorrhoids; after drugs or suppressed gonorrhœa.

Pareira brava. Constant urging to urinate, with violent pains in the glans penis and straining, so that it extorts screams from the patient; worse after midnight till morning; the urine has a strong ammoniacal smell, and contains large quantities of thick tough mucus.

Polygonum. Painful cutting and feeling of constriction and strangulation at the neck of the bladder while urinating, lasting a long time after; pains in bladder; frequent and profuse discharge of clear, white, or straw-colored urine.

Populus. Urine scanty, containing a large quantity of mucus and pus, with severe tenesmus, as soon as the last drops are voided or a little before; catarrh of the bladder, especially in elderly persons, with ardor urinae or perfect retention; chronic gleet.

Pulsatilla. After exposure to cold the urine deposits a slimy sediment, which sticks to the vessel; tenesmus and stinging in the neck of the bladder; the pain continuing awhile after micturition.

Sepia. Chronic cases; distension of the lower part of abdomen; annoying itching sensation in the region of the bladder, with urging to urinate, especially at night; during and after micturition chilliness and heat in the head; periodical discharge of mucus with the urine; sometimes pieces of coagulated mucus clog up the urethra; constipation.

Sulphur. Urine mixed with mucus or blood; burning in urethra after micturition; constant desire to urinate, day and night; after meturition the pain continues in the urethra until a new urging ensues; stool also painful; feverish and sleepless during the night; suppressed or visible cutaneous eruptions; gonorrhoeal discharges; hæmorrhoids.

Tarantula. Cystitis, with high fever, gastric derangement, excruciating pains, and impossibility to pass a drop of urine; the bladder seems swollen and hard; great tenesmus from spasmodic action, debilitating the patient, who passes only by drops a dark-red, brown, fetid urine, with a gravel like sediment.

Terebinthina. Sensitiveness of hypogastrium; tenesmus of bladder; stranguary and pains in urethra; violent burning and cutting in bladder, alternating with a similar pain at the navel, worse at rest, less when walking in open air; urine retained from atony of the fundus vesicæ; catarrh of the bladder in old persons of sedentary habits.

Uva ursi. Frequent urging, with little discharge, and burning-cutting pain afterwards; the urine is yellow, but deposits a tough mucus; sometimes blood and mucus are voided at the same time, with great straining; constipation.

DEADNESS

Of single parts, a mere symptom, hints to: 1, calc., chel., con., lye., nux vom., puls., rhus., sec., sulph.; 2, ant., merc., natr. mur., sil., stann., thuj., zinc, etc.

DEAFNESS.

See Otitis and Otorrhœa, also Hearing, Defective.

DEBILITY, Asthenia.

§ 1 In many cases a mere symptom, which disappears with the general disease. Sometimes, however, it arises from losses of animal fluids, sexual excesses, and violent acute diseases, and requires special treatment. Principal remedies are: 1, ars., carb. v., chin., ipec., n. vom., phos., phos. ac., staph., sulph., verat.; 2, acon., alet. far., alal., amin., arn., baryt., calc., camph., caust., chelon., coec., cornus, ferr., graph., helon., hydr., kal., lach., lye., merc., natr. m., nitr. ac., oleand., rhus., rom., sang., sec., sep., sil.; 3, anac., arg. n., bar. m., bapt., cann., cantl., ceras., cham., gumeif., con., corydal., cupr., dig., dule., enpat. per., fluor. ac., gels., hyosc., kreas., lept., lycopus., magn. m., mosch., mur. ac., petr., plat., populus., stann., zinc.

§ 2. For debility from LOSS OF ANIMAL FLUIDS, give: alstonia, china; and if this should be insufficient: 1, calc., carb. v., cin., lach., n. vom., phos. ac., sulph., verat.; 2, nitr. ac., sulph. ac., selen.

§ 3. For debility from SEXUAL EXCESSES without onanism, give china; chronic debility requires: 1, calc., ceras., helon., n. vom., phos. ac., sil., staph., sulph.; or 2, anac., arn., carb. v., con., diosc., merc., natr. m., phos., sep.; from lactation: calc., chin., ferr. phos., phos. ac., alctris far., alstonia.

Calcarea is indicated when an embrace causes languor, trembling of the extremities, weariness, pain in the head.

Staphisagria. When the patient worries about his ailments, and is affected with asthma after an embrace, and with hypochondriac mood.

Selenium. Easy exhaustion; inability to perform any kind of labor, either mental or physical: sexual desire, with debility and relaxation of the organs, loss of prostatic juice.

§ 4. ONANISM generally requires: n. vom.; then sulph. and calc.; provided phos. ac. and staph. are not sufficient; frequently we give with success: carb. v., cin., coec., con., natr. m., n. mosch., phos. China is of little use, as the chief cause is here not loss of animal fluids, but rather nervous prostration.

To eradicate the vice, give: 1, calc., sulph.; or 2, chin., coec., merc., phos.; 3, ant., carb. v., plat., puls.

§ 5. For exhaustion and debility from OVERWORKING THE BODY: acon., arn., ars., bry., calc., chin., coec., coll., merc., rhus., sil., verat. From NIGHT WATCHING: carb. v., coec., n. vom., puls. From STUPIDITY TOO HAUD, and overworking the mind: bell., calc., lach., n. vom., puls., sil., sulph. From SEDENTARY HABITS: n. vom., sulph.

§ 6. For debility in consequence of ACUTE DISEASES: 1, chin., hep., ail., verat.; 2, calc., kal., natr. m., phos. ac., sulph.; 3, alet. far., alstou., bapt., cornus, fraser., gels., hydr., mitchel.

For debility from BLOODLETTING: chin., phos. ac., sulph. ac.

For debility from GROWING TOO FAST: phos. ac.

For OLD PEOPLE: aur., baryt., chin., con., op.

§ 7. For HYSTERIC DEBILITY. See Hysteria.

DEBILITY, nervous, or excessive nervous excitement. § 1. Principal remedies are: 1, acon., cham., chin., cimicif., coff., cornus, helon., lept., lycopus., mgt. arc., n. vom., puls., sang.; 2, asar., bapt., hep., ign., nitr. ac., pieric ac., tener., valer., verat.

§ 2. If caused by study, watching, or a sedentary life, give: 1, n. vom., sulph.; 2, calc., carb. v., chelon., coec., iris, lach., mgt. arc., puls.

If caused by abuse of coffee: cham., ign., mere., n. vom., sulph.

If by abuse of mercury: carb. v., cham., hep., nitr. ac., puls.

If by narcotics: cham., coff., mere., n. vom.

If by abuse of wine or spirits: acon., bell., coff., n. vom., puls., sulph.

§ 3. Symptomatic indications:

Aconitum. Suitable to young people (especially young girls) when plethoric and leading a sedentary life, or for extreme sensitiveness to pain; sleeplessness; tossing about; extreme sensitiveness of sight and hearing; red cheeks; tendency of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, etc.

Alettris far. Debility, especially of females, from protracted illness or defective nutrition; no organic disease; debility after diphtheria.

Chamomilla. Sensitiveness to pain; disposition to faint when suffering ever so little; disconsolate, tossing about, moaning and lamenting; irritable, quarrelsome mood; alternate paleness and redness; or one cheek pale and cold, the other warm and red, etc.

China. Great debility, with trembling; aversion to physical or mental labor; excessive nervous sensitiveness; sensitiveness to draughts of air; sleeplessness from thoughts crowding upon one's mind, or remaining awake late at nights; heavy dreams, causing anxiety even after waking; disposition to sweat; hypochondriac mood.

Coffea. Sleeplessness; mental excitement; ill humor, or excessive mirthfulness and liveliness; extreme sensitiveness to pain.

Nux vom. Irritable; nervous sensitiveness of all the organs of sense; tendency to start; anguish; disposition to lie down; aversion to open air and exercise; peevish mood; vehement; disposed to be angry.

Pulsatilla. Corresponds to the symptoms of nux, but more suitable to females or people of bland disposition.

Magn. arct. Nervousness; trembling; distension of the abdomen; anguish; nervous debility.

Pieric acid. Asthenia from diminished nutrition; furunculosis; weakness of muscles; lame and tired sensation all over the body, better in open air and when at rest.

Helonium. Great nervous debility after typhus, particularly where the eruptions of the patient spread from above downwards.

DEGLUTITION, Difficult, Dysphagia.

§ 1. Principal remedies: 1, bell., canth., caust., hyos., lach., merc., n. vom., puls., sil., stram.; 2, acon., alum., amm., ant., ars., aur., calc., cham., cic., coco., cupr., dros., ign., kal., laur., lyc., merc., n. vom., op., rhus.

§ 2. If caused by inflammation, give: acon., bell., canth., cham., ign., merc., n. vom., puls.; and the other remedies indicated for sore throat.

If caused by spasms of the fauces: 1, bell., canth., hyos., lach., stram.; 2, alum., ars., cic., coccul., con., ign., laur., lyc., merc., n. vom., op., veratr.

If caused by paralysis of the muscles: 1, caust., con., graph., lach., sil.; 2, ars., bell., carb. veg., coco., cupr., hyos., ipec., kal., laur.? n. mosch.? n. vom.? op., plumb., puls.? rhus.?

§ 3. See Pharyngitis, Spasms, Paralysis, etc.

DELIRIUM.

§ 1. It is a mere symptom, though of great importance in selecting a remedy. For delirium without fever, or mania, see Mental Derangement; delirium with fever, or violent cerebral irritation, requires: 1, bell., cact., hyos., lachn., op., stram., verat. a., verat. vir.; 2, acon., aur., bry., cupr., lach., lyc., n. vom., phos., sulph.; 3, arn., ars., bapt., calc., canth., cham., cimicif., cin., cyprid., gels., ign., kal., pod., puls., rhus., sang., sec., spong., zizea.

§ 2. Particular indications:

a. For ANXIETY, FRIGHTFUL OR FRIGHTENING delirium: 1, acon., bell., hyosc., opium, puls., sil., stram.; 2, anac., bapt., calc., cimicif., cyprid., hep., lach., n. vom., phos., pod., verat.

b. With FANCIES: 1, bell., stram., sulph.; 2, cham., gels., hyosc., op., sep., sil., spong.; 3, graph.

c. With DESIRE TO ESCAPE, jumping up from bed: 1, bell., bry.; 2, acon., coloc., op.

d. LOQUACIOUS DELIRIUM: 1, bell., rhus., stram., verat.; 2, cact., lach., op.

e. With VISIONS, PHANTASMATA, etc.: 1, bell., hyosc., op., stram.; 2, ars., cact., n. vom., puls., sulph.; 3, calc., camph., can. ind., carb. v., dros., hell., hep., nitr. ac., plat., sang., veratr.

f. MERRY DELIRIUM: 1, bell.; 2, acon., op., sulph., verat., zizea.

g. MUTTERING DELIRIUM: 1, bell., hyosc., stram.; 2, n. vom.

h. With ILLUSION OF SPACE: bell., bry., lach., verat.

i. RELIGIOUS DELIRIUM: 1, bell., puls., stram., verat.; 2, aur., croc., lach., plat., sulph.

k. With SCREAMS: plant., puls., stram., verat. vir.

l. With TALKING ABOUT DEAD PEOPLE: 1, bell., n. vom., op.; 2, ars., canth., hep.

m. SAD WHINING DELIRIUM: acon., bell., puls.

n. FURIOUS DELIRIUM: acon., bell., cimicif., op., plumb., verat.

§ 3. Special indications:

Acetic acid. Violent delirium (in typhus), with colic and diarrhoea, or with distended abdomen and constipation.

Aconite. Delirium, with talk about death; raves at night and springs out of bed, with great heat, dilated pupils, or convulsions.

Æthusa cyn. Delirium full of hallucinations; sees rats running across the room, sees cats and dogs; tries to jump out of the window.

Apis mel. Stupor, with murmuring delirium; dread of death, fear of being poisoned.

Arnica. Stupor, sits as if in thought, yet thinks of nothing, like a waking dream; trembling lower lip; declines to answer questions (phos. ac.); thinks he is well (apis, ars.).

Arsenicum. Slow protracted cases with mild delirium, great restlessness, anxiety.

Arum triph. During delirium boring in the nose; pecking at one spot, or at the dry lips.

Baptisia. Delirium, especially at night, or constant; delirious stupor, falls into a deep sleep, while answering questions (arn. hyosc.).

Belladonna. Violent delirium, with attempts to run away or to strike, bite, and spit, upon people; congestion to brain with great drowsiness, but inability to sleep; delirium with fear of imaginary things, sees monsters, tries to hide himself; violent delirium, breaks into fits of laughter, then gnashes the teeth and tries to bite people.

Bryonia. Nocturnal delirium about business; visions when shutting eyes, irritability and hasty speech; dull, pressing, stitching headache.

Camphora. Delirious, somnolent, with slow fever, at night, dullness and heat of head with cold clammy skin.

Cantharis. Furious delirium, with crying, barking, and beating; confusion of head, anxious restlessness, cold sweat, especially on hands and feet.

Cinchona or China. Delirium, after depletion; on closing eyes, sees figures of persons.

Colchicum. Delirium with headache; intellect cloudy, though giving correct answers; rarely irritable mood.

Cuprum met. Delirium; afraid of every one who approaches him, shrinking away from them, tries to escape; full of fears, restless, tossing about.

Gelsemium. Delirium in sleep, half waking, with incoherent talk; delirium as soon as he falls asleep (spong.); loquacity; brilliant eyes shooting through temples and nose.

Hyoscyamus. When spoken to, he answers correctly, but unconsciousness and delirium immediately return; delirium continues while awake, talks of business, complains of imaginary things; indistinct and muttering loquacity; insane passion for work.

Lachesis. Delirium, fears she will be damned, delirium at night; muttering, drowsy, red face; or slow difficult speech and drooping jaw; delirium with great loquacity, constantly jumping from subject to subject; delirium from overwatching, overfatigue, loss of fluids; excessive study; dread of death, fears to go to bed; considers himself dead; muttering stupor.

Lachnanthes. Loquacious delirium, brilliant eyes, circumscribed red cheeks.

Lycopodium. Sopor, delirium, uses wrong words for correct ideas.

Mercur biiod. Delirium with ulcers on fauces and tonsils, with increased fever.

Nux moschata. Delirium, violent vertigo, strange gestures, loud improper talk, sleeplessness; laughter, everything appears ludicrous, talks loudly to himself.

Opium. Mild or faribund delirium, with loud talking, laughing, attempts to escape; venous congestion with dark-red face; imagines parts of body very large; thinks she is not at home.

Phosphoric acid. Quiet delirium with great stupefaction and dulness of head, unintelligible muttering delirium.

Podophyllum. Delirious loquacity during fever heat.

Rhus tox. Delirium, talks incoherently to himself, mental operations slow and difficult; answers correctly, but slowly, sometimes hastily (bry: hasty speech; hepar: hasty speech and hasty drinking); low, mild delirium, thinks he is roaming over fields or hard at work.

Stramonium. Loquacious delirium, singing, laughing, whistling; constant involuntary odd motions of limbs and body; all objects appear oblique; delirium with very graceful gesticulations; patient conscious of her mentally unnatural condition.

Veratrum album. Delirium: heavy, soporous sleep; restless, thirsty, cramps in legs, cold sweat, tingling; irregular pulse.

Zincum. Delirium with attempts to get out of bed; staring eyes; constant trembling of the hands and coldness of the extremities.

DENTITION, morbid.

See Children, Diseases of

Aconite. Nervous erethism, constant restlessness; the child gnaws at its fingers or fists, or something else, cries, whines, or frets much of the time; restless sleep, much heat about head, sometimes with cold hands and feet, constipation or diarrhoea, great thirst, the child tries to cool its gums with the cold water.

Antimon. crud. Tongue white, much vomiting, no thirst; stools composed of hard lumps and watery secretions, passing together.

Apis mel. Flabby children, when there are cerebral symptoms; child screams out sharply and suddenly during sleep, especially at night; urine scanty, sometimes more profuse, red spots over skin, causing itching and restlessness, worse at night; the gum covering the teeth may have the appearance of a sac containing water.

Arsenicum alb. Child thin, pale, acid, restless; looks weak and waxen, had undigested, fetid stools; dry and shrivelled skin, and is particularly restless after midnight; vomiting of all fluids soon after swallowing them, especially water; wants a sip or two of cold water very often; gum over tooth looks blistered or to be filled with a dark, watery fluid, dry scaly milkcrust.

Belladonna. Active children; groaning and moaning gives them partial relief, violent starting and jumping, whilst sleeping or waking, with fright; convulsions followed by sound sleep, face and eyes red, often with dilated pupils and heat of head; skin hot, burning, stools composed of green, thin, sour-smelling mucus, and the child often shudders during stool; numerous turgid bloodvessels in congested gums.

Borax. Child afraid of a downward motion, even in sleep, great sensitiveness to least noise; starting and crying out during sleep, wants to hold on to something, as if afraid of falling; stools watery, yellow, green or brown; aphthous condition of gums and so sensitive as to shrick from the least touch, even of the nipple, when hungry.

Bryonia. Dry, parched lips, dry mouth and constipation; stools dark and dry, as if burnt (all secretions diminished); child wants to be quiet and dreads motion; if raised up, it vomits and feels faint; vomits its food soon after taking it, unchanged lactusa; likes cold water best; swollen gums hot and dry, though pale or light red.

Calcarea carb. Large open fontanelles; head perspires during sleep, wetting pillow far around; stools large, hard, chalky, or thin and whitish; feet cold and damp; ankle-men large; glands around neck swollen; loose rattling cough; soft and flabby muscles; gums pale and shiny, tooth long time coming through.

Calcarea phos. Peevish and fretful children; fontanelles still open or head closed and reopened, most in vertex; cold sweat on face; body cold; head totters; squinting as if from pressure; eyes somewhat protruding; during dentition diarrhoea with much wind, greenish thin stools; children refuse the mother's breast; they lose flesh, can neither stand nor walk, backward in teething, also in closing of fontanelles; skull soft and thin, crackling noise like paper; crepitation when pressed, most in occiput.

Causticum. Children with delicate skin, when, during the evolution of a group of teeth, intertrigo appears, with occasional convulsions, prolonged constipation; stools tough, covered with mucus, and shine like grease; yellowish, sickly looking taint, ravenous hunger, takes its food hurriedly, frequent gulping up of the watery portion of its nourishment; suppuration of the swollen gums.

Chamomilla. Peripheral hyperaesthesia, starting and jumping during sleep; when awake it must be carried around to soothe its sufferings; one red cheek, the other pale; watery, slimy diarrhoea, or like chopped eggs and spinach, and smelling like rotten eggs; dry, hacking cough, very thirsty, likes to hold its mouth in cold water a long time when drinking; very little appetite and frequent vomiting of thin, sour milk; sleeplessness; gums red and tender

Cina. Excessive peevishness, wants everything and pushes it away when offered, does not like to be spoken to or touched; restless in his sleep, wants to be rocked; unusual hunger, cries out from colicky pains and cries for water; rubs its nose; hacking cough followed immediately by an effort of swallowing; milky white (phosphatic) urine.

Coffea. Child is good-natured, though it cannot compose itself to sleep; feverish for want of sleep, which it cannot obtain.

Colocynth. Much colic, forcing child to double up, with writhing and twisting; stools watery, frothy or bloody; colic relieved by pressing hard upon abdomen.

Cuprum acet. and met. Dryness of mouth, with colicky pains in bowels; convulsions, beginning with cramps in lower extremities and drawing in fingers and toes, with much throwing about of the limbs; frothing at the mouth and choking in throat; spasms preceded by violent vomiting of mucus; after one spasm the child screams, turns and twists till another spasm occurs, green, bloody, painful stools.

Dulcamara. All teething troubles increased by damp, cold weather.

Ferrum. Persistent diarrhoea the result of teething; stools composed of mucus and undigested food, sometimes excoriating and exhausting, though painless; face flushed with red spot on cheeks; vomiting soon after taking food; slow dentition.

Graphites. Oozing of clear, glutinous, watery fluid behind the ears, on face, scalp, leaving the surface raw, aggravated at the evolution of each group of teeth; constipation, or large, difficult stool.

Hepar. Dry, herpetic eruption in bend of joints, greatly itching; whitish, sour-smelling diarrhoea, worse with every cutting of teeth; gums ulcerated, tender and painful.

Hyoscyamus. Pressing of gums together, putting hands to jaws, fingers into mouth, difficulty in swallowing; convulsions, beginning with twitchings of muscles of face, especially about eyes, dilatation of pupils, dark-colored, bloated appearance of face and deep sleep after the spasm goes off.

Ignatia. Child awakens from sleep with piercing cries and trembles all over; convulsive jerks of single parts; frequent flashes of heat, with perspiration; spasms return at the same hours daily, with trembling all over; spasms with cries or involuntary laughter; mucus or bloody stools; often with undue exertion and prolapsus of rectum; sighing and sobbing continues long after the crying.

Ipecacuanha. Continual nausea, with occasional vomiting; diarrhoea, stools fermented and of many colors, or green as grass; face pale with blueness of eyes.

Kreasot. Very painful, difficult dentition, pains worse during night, protruding gums infiltrated with a dark, watery fluid; teeth, as are through the gums, dark and show specks of decay down to the gums; constipation; stools hard and dry; or dark brown, watery, very offensive stools, very exhausting, excoriating, containing sometimes portions of undigested food.

Lachesis. Child awakens in an unhappy mood and distressed; convulsions as soon as the child goes asleep, breathing ceases just prior to the convulsion; protruding gums dark purple.

Lycopodium. Child sleeps with its eyes partly open, throwing its head from side to side, with moaning; it cries and screams just previous to passing water; urine leaves reddish stain on diaper; rumbling, rattling, and commotion in bowels, offensive flatulæ; does not care for his food.

Magnesia carb. Teeth do not come through; green, sour smelling diarrhoea, stools with appearance of scum on a frog-pond; frequent vomiting of sour substances; loss of appetite, sour breath, frequent effort to pass a natural looking stool; emaciation.

Magnesia mur. Slow dentition, with distension of abdomen and constipation; enlarged hard liver; stool large and hard, crumbling as it leaves the verge of the anus.

Mercurius sol. Copious salivation, sometimes little blisters on tongue, gums, and cheeks; ulcers on protruding gums; restless nights; convulsions when child takes cold and salivation is arrested; yellowish, strong-smelling urine, staining the diaper; abdomen hard and distended; stools slimy, bloody, green, with tenesmus.

Nux vom. For teething children being raised by artificial or mixed feeding, or whose mothers and nurses indulge constantly in highly seasoned food, wines, etc. Little appetite, thirst, child peevish and fretful; large, difficult stool, or small, frequent, lumpy or fluid stools; bloody saliva often stains their pillows when sleeping; mouth sore, breath offensive.

Nux mosch. Exhausting, thin stools, yellow, soaking into the diaper; constant sleepiness.

Podophyllum. Grinding of teeth, as are already out, with crying and worrying, often with painful diarrhoea; rolling of head from side to side, with green stools, whitish, chalklike stools, very offensive, with frequent gagging and thirst; morning diarrhoea, frothy, undigested stools, prolapsus recti, worrying and sleepless forepart of night from nervous irritability; voracious appetite, but diarrhoea immediately after eating or drinking; food sour soon after eating and is rejected.

Psorinum. Dark fluid stools, having the smell of rotten eggs, child's breath and eructations of the same offensive odor.

Rheum. Child smells sour; sour-smelling diarrhoea, worse when moving about, with much pain in abdomen during stool.

Sepia. Dry ringworms, brightening up at the evolution of every fresh group of teeth, bad smell from mouth; diarrhoea worse after taking boiled milk, exhausting diarrhoea.

Silicea. Scrofulosis and helminthiasis, with profuse salivation; frequent pulling at the gums; nocturnal fever with heat on head; difficult stools, faeces receding before the child can effect its passage; feet smell badly, notwithstanding every effort to prevent it; profuse sour-smelling perspiration upon the head in the evening; large head and large fontanelles, protruding gum, sensitive and seems blistered.

Stannum. Child seems more comfortable by lying with its abdomen across some hard substance; epileptiform convulsions, with clenching of its thumbs (bell); hernia.

Staphisagria. Child very sensitive to mental or physical impressions; it wincees and shrinks from every wry look or harsh word and cries from the least pain; pale white appearance of gums, which are very tender to touch; potbellied children; frequent desire for stool, not relieved even by a free evacuation, moist scald head, with yellow scabs and very offensive graph., viola tricolor; teeth decay as soon as they are out.

Stramonium. Grinding of teeth; moving of fingers in sleep, as if searching for something; desire for light; disposition to stammer when trying to talk; convulsions, with cries as if from the sight ous objects; throwing about of the limbs, especially upper phur. Dirty, sallow, impoverished child: white, sour diarrhoea, redness about anus; green or bloody stools, with crying and ting. and rawness about anus; vomiting of nourishment: papuruption on skin, with much itching: child hates to be washed;

at waking, jumps in his sleep; weak and faint spells phuric acid. Aphthæ in mouth and gums, very painful: child le, restless, cries much: saffron-colored mucous stools.

stratum album. Vomiting, with severe retching or severe ag without vomiting: cold sweat on forehead; vomiting re-by the least motion; each stool followed by great prostration; lamp feeling of extremities: weak, faint pulse

DIABETES.

betes mellitus and insipidus. Principal remedies: 1, holonia,
t. ac., uranium; 2, ars, carb. v., chloaph, coloc, laet, acid, scopus, sulph.; 3, carb. ac., canth., chloroform, curare, eupat, phosph. (Galvanization of the pneumogastric nerve.) entum met. Emaciation and great weakness: face pale and ; urine turbid, sweetish-tasting, profuse; scrotum and feet tious and itching; fetid taste of the mouth; disposition to me.

enicum alb. Insatiable hunger; unquenchable thirst; ema; paleness of the skin; loss of strength; disposition to gandryness of mouth and throat, great quantity of urine; watery ea; slight motion causes dyspnoea, with palpitation and faintepias vincet. Arthritis; bleeding of gums; insatiable hun-apotency; emaciation.

beris vulg. Pale sallow face, sunken cheeks; sickly expres-dryness and sticky sensation in the mouth and fauces; sticky saliva, like cotton; great appetite and increased thirst, ind micturition; pale yellow urine, with a gelatinous sediment; as of the sexual organs; pulse slow and weak; paralyzed d sensation in the back; fatigue and prostration from slight in; skin sticky and scaling off; intense coldness of knees colic acid. Short, dry, hacking cough; excessive urination, ine containing sugar; copious flow of limpid colorless urine; ea or torpor of intestines; unusual appetite and thirst for ants; great languor and profound prostration; skin cold, with lutions; light cases in persons given to obesity.

sticum. Diabetes insipidus; frequent and urgent desire to in hysterical women and during convalescence from some of fever; deposits of oxalate of lime in urine; pains and weight momilla. Diabetes from functional disease of the liver; in-secretion of urine and saliva; increased secretion of clear, y acid, urine.

rum. Great and slowly progressing emaciation; suppurating abscess of the lungs, and evident signs of depression of the brain; very great thirst; increased hunger; sweetish taste of the mouth; increased urination, especially at night; dry, very unfrequent stool; decrease of sexual desire.

Curare. Clear and frequent urine, with digging crampy pains in kidneys; shooting in stomach; dry mouth; great thirst, especially evenings and at night; sugar urine, with great emaciation; diabetes acutissimus, threatening life.

Digitalis. Heavy specific gravity of the urine; palpitation of the heart; irregular and intermittent pulse; cough, with profuse, loose, purulent expectoration; profuse and frequent emission of clear pale urine; debility steadily increasing.

Helonias. Unnatural languor, feeling of weakness, and weight in the region of the kidneys; general weariness; wakes every morning with the lips, tongue, and fauces dry, and a bitter, disagreeable taste in the mouth; pain in kidneys; passes large quantities of clear pale urine and of increased specific gravity; complete impotence; pain and feeling of lameness in the whole back; numbness in the feet, going off by motion; dull, gloomy, and irritable; profound melancholy.

Kali brom. Emaciation, paleness, skin cold and dry, pulse rapid and feeble, tongue red and tender, gums spongy and bleeding; thirst excessive, appetite voracious; bowels constipated, urine pale, frequent, of great density, and loaded with sugar; liver tumid and tender.

Kreasot. Perfect depression of the trophic nervous system. Heaviness all over, with drowsiness; depression of spirits; head feels confused and dull; dim-sightedness; flat bitter taste; appetite, with sensation of fulness; intermittent, hard, dry stool; frequent and copious emission of hot clear urine; impotence; bruised sensation in chest and all along the back; physical exhaustion.

Lachesis. Despondency and peevishness; dimness of eyes; livid-gray complexion; readily bleeding gums; sweetish taste, constipation; violent urging to urinate, with copious discharge; impotence; difficult suffocative breathing; laming pain and weakness in back and extremities; gangrene; emaciation, with muscular relaxation.

Lactic acid. Excessive thirst; frequent and copious micturition; urine contains sugar; skin rough and dry; obstinate constipation; tongue dry, sticky; gastric ailments; debility and emaciation; feels constantly tired and exhausted from slightest exertion.

Lithium carb. Very frequent urination, disturbing sleep; turbid urine, with much mucous deposit, dark reddish-brown deposit in urine.

Lycopodium. Peevish and depressed in mind; thirst and hunger constant, but worse at night; flatulence; feces small in quantity; want of natural warmth; sexual desire and power gone; lithic acid gravel; pulmonary phthisis, pituitosa and purrimenta, with hectic; great emaciation; mental, nervous, and bodily exhaustion; gouty lithæmia.

Lycopus virg. Diabetes mellitus and insipidus from some derangement of the central nervous system or sympathetics; morbus Basedowii; copious flow of clear urine, of great density, containing sugar; intense thirst; great emaciation, etc.; increased bronchial irritation, with sighing respiration; cardiac depression.

Magnesia ust. Sad mood; dryness of the eyes; dulness of hearing, pale earthy complexion; looseness of the teeth, with swelling and bleeding of the gums; dryness of the mouth, especially at night and in the morning; burning in the throat, with dryness and roughness; urine increased, pale, watery, with white sediment; itching and great dryness of the skin.

Mineral waters. Carlsbad, Gastein, Vichy, Wildungen, in Europe; Bethesda, Gettysburg.

Moschus. Unquenchable thirst; great emaciation; costiveness; frequent passage of large quantities of saccharine urine; paralytic condition of the brain; dimness of sight; earthy complexion; great dryness of the mouth and putrid taste; great thirst for stimulants and aversion to food; prickling in the skin; general exhaustion, with coldness all over.

Natrum mur. Polyuria; unquenchable thirst; emaciation; loss of sleep and appetite; no sweat; the skin generally cold; irritable and peevish, sallow complexion; great debility; great despondency; constipation, with sensation of contraction of the anus.

Natrum sulphuricum. (Carlsbad) depressed, irritable, taciturn, tired of life, dulness in head and weakness of sight; dryness and burning in the eyes; nosebleed; dryness of mouth and throat; great thirst for very cold drinks; voracious appetite, with a boring pain; disgust while eating; fetid flatus; increased urination, especially at night; pains in small of back, with burning urine; hæmoptoe; cough, with purulent expectoration.

Nux vomica. Good livers and sedentary habits. Acidity, with dyspeptic troubles; constriction of the throat; dry cough; pains in the back, numbness; parietic condition of the lower extremities; after ineffectual desire to urinate, frequent and more copious urination than could be expected from the quantity of fluid taken; sexual desire strong.

Phosphor. acid. Debility from loss of animal fluids; bad effects from grief, anguish, sorrow, and care; all the joints feel bruised; very sensitive to fresh air; lassitude and heaviness; weakness of mind; falling out of the hair; dimness of eyes; excessive thirst; eructations from acids; pressure in stomach; hard difficult stool; shortness of breathing; urine thick, like milk (chyluria) or lime-water, with whitish curds, with stringy bloody lumps, or clear, limpid, and containing much sugar; pain in back and kidneys; dull pressure in bladder; greatest weakness and emaciation; furunculosis.

Phosphorus. Glycosuria, with phthisis; urine profuse, pale, watery, or turbid, whitish, like curdled milk, with brickdust sediment and variegated cuticle on surface.

Plumbum. Dryness and brittleness; lassitude; great feebleness; steady decrease of nutrition, dingy color of the skin; gangrene; fever, with unquenchable thirst; lowness of spirits, anguish, and deep melancholy; diminution of sight; great dryness of the mouth; dry cracked tongue; feeling of contraction and constriction of the throat; constipation; suppuration in lungs; hectic fever and complete impotence; chronic lead-poisoning produces a perfect picture of diabetes mellitus and of morbus Brightii.

Podophyllum. Chalky stools; profuse and frequent micturi-tion immediately after drinking: excessive hepatic action: hot sour flatus.

Ratania. Considerable emaciation and weakness, limbs sore and aching, great appetite; insatiable thirst and constant dryness of the mouth; gums livid and swollen, soreness in the kidneys, severe pains in small of back, improved by motion; hard stool, with straining, frequent urging to urinate, with scanty discharge, or passes large quantities of light-colored urine.

Secale corn. Great general lassitude; heaviness of limbs; loss of strength, emaciation; gangrene, skin dry and withered; furuncles, petechiae; fever, with unquenchable thirst; diminished power of the senses, dryness of the mouth; morbidly great appetite; cardialgia, costiveness; diarrhoea; watery urine; increased quantity of urine.

Sulph. acid. Lassitude; debility; despondency; dimness of mind and of sight; itching over the whole body; flatulency upwards and downwards, stitches in hepatic region; skin completely inactive, cold, and dry; large quantities of sugar in urine; typhoid condition.

Tarantula. Profound grief and anxiety; great prostration and pain as if the whole body were bruised; loss of memory and dimness of sight; constant craving for raw articles, intense thirst, disgust for meat and general wasting away; constipation; polyuria, with violent pains in the lumbar region, and paralysis of the lower extremities, miliary eruptions and furuncles.

Terebinthina. Inability to concentrate the mind; dull languid mind, relieved by frequent micturition; despondency; weariness of life; obscuration of sight; sunken features; lips cracked and bloody bleeding; epistaxis; spongy gums, tongue dry and red; food loathed, hunger and thirst, with debility; aversion to meat, rancid or acid eructations; burning in stomach and hypochondria; tympanites, albuminuria, with frequent micturition; sugar is noticed in urine after large doses of ol. tereb.

Uranium nitrate. Causes sugar to be deposited in the urine. General languor; debility; cold feeling; vertigo, purulent discharges from eyelids and nostrils, with ulceration of cheeks from the acid discharge; copious salivation, vomiting, with great thirst; post-eructations; urgent desire to evacuate bladder and rectum; frequent micturition; cough, with purulent discharge from nostrils; lungs infiltrated with gray tubercles, stiffness in loins, languor on rising from bed, with fishy smell of urine, prostration, somnolence, and shivering during the day; restless at night.

2. Special indications :

Aconite. At the first onset, to moderate the fever and the pain, and to limit the exudation as much as possible.

Apis mel. Diaphragmitis, severe burning pain under short ribs on both sides; pains from below ribs spreading upwards; obliged to bend forward from a painful contractive feeling in the hypochondria.

Belladonna. The muscles are affected, especially the crura; in co-affection of the liver: in inflammatory and colicky pains from incarcerated concretions in the liver and kidneys; in pylephlebitis; in puerperal affections, with a great deal of pain in the head from active hyperæmia (atropia).

Bryonia. Fibrinosis; affections of serous and partly, also, fibrous membrane (hepar follows well).

Cactus grand. Feeling as of a cord around hypochondria; rush of blood to the chest; shooting pains through to the back and up each side of chest; cannot lie down; dry, tickling cough as from dust in throat.

Colchicum. Symptoms similar to bry., but less energetic, though more serious; albuminosis.

Digitalis. In persons who have suffered from inflammation of the serous membrane, especially from pleuritis, and in consequence of it become anæmic, calcarea arsenicosa. Grasping pain from inflammation of the crura; vomituration or vomiting; oppression in the centre of the chest; difficult breathing, more frequent than normal; the pulse in the beginning suppressed, quick; nails blue; face elongated and cold; in spite of the anæmia the patient cannot bear a high temperature, even during reaction; the patient sits rather than lies down.

Dulcamara. Diaphragmitis, with simultaneous rheumatic affections of the spinal cord.

Morphine. Great excitation, albuminous redness, impossibility of sleeping from dyspnoea, and extension of the disease, hyperæsthesia of the nerves, changing pulse.

Nux vomica. The muscular parts chiefly affected; boring and tearing pains, with nausea and vomiting.

Stramonium. A mixture of hyperæmia and spasm, of affection of the spinal cord and of the diaphragm, singultus, sympathetic spasm of the glottis, etc. In co-affection of the heart consult. spig., laur., cann., ars., veratr. alb.

Tobacco. Excessive painfulness of the muscular part of the crura from renal calculi, especially when incarcerated in the ureter (bell. contracts the circular fibres, tobacco the longitudinal ones).

3. Singultus: nux. after cold drinks; veratrum, after hot drinks; ars., puls., after cold fruit; hyosc., in hyperinotic inflammations of abdominal organs. In children, ignatia or stram., when they are restless or cry much at night. § 5 Particular indications:

Aconite. Frequent scanty and loose stools, with tenesmus, after checked perspiration; frequent watery slimy stools in summer, with cool nights, after being overheated; from anger and fright; bilious diarrhœa, like chopped herbs, of infants with colic.

Æsculus hip. Chronic diarrhœa; stools papaceous, mushy, white, or natural in color, accompanied by severe lumbar and sacral pains; weakness, tenesmus, and very unpleasant sensation in rectum and anus.

Æthusa cyn. Bilious, light-yellow, or greenish liquid stools; worse in the morning, during dentition, with much pain and tenesmus.

Agaricus. Diarrhœa, mostly in the morning after rising and eating, with much rumbling; crampy colic, and passing of morbidous flatus: stools grass green, thin, fecal, slimy; the burning and the red spots on the skin fade away as the diarrhœa improves: increased micturition even with the diarrhœa.

Alstonia const. Summer diarrhœa: stools full of undigested food and tinged with blood, especially when complicated with symptoms of malarious poison, or from drinking bad or swamp water, impregnated with decayed vegetable matter; camp diarrhœa.

Aloes. Difficulty to retain the fœces: lumpy watery stool, with intense gripping pain across the lower part of the abdomen, especially on right side, before, during, and after stool, relieved by passing flatus, followed by extreme prostration and perspiration; constant rumbling in bowels, with feeling as if he must have a stool, but no discharge follows; urgency, as with diarrhœa, only hot flatus passes, with great relief; it soon returns, with sensation as of a plug wedged between symphysis pubis and coccyx; stools small, brownish, slimy, half fluid; yellow, pappy; stool and urine escape together; diarrhœa in hot damp weather, from cold damp room; stool passes without any exertion when walking or standing; foul-smelling flatus, which causes burning in the anus; urine generally profuse; chilliness when leaving the fire, good appetite, but aversion to meat. Want of confidence in the sphincter ani: the rectum feels as if full of fluid, which feels heavy, as if it would fall out: hospital diarrhœa; disposition to stool when urinating; when the pain ceases after the stool, it leaves a slight burning in rectum, with weakness and lassitude.

Alumina. Inactivity of rectum, even a soft stool requires great straining; inability to pass a stool till there is a large accumulation of fœces; diarrhœa whenever she urinates; diarrhœa, with bloody, scanty stool, with urging in rectum; diarrhœa exhausting and stools offensive.

Ammonium mur. Discharge of glairy tough mucus with stool; green, slimy diarrhœa, with soreness of anus: sore pustules near it; after eating, with pain in abdomen, back, and limbs.

Antimonium crud. Alternate diarrhœa and constipation of old people; diarrhœa after nursing, from overheating, after cold bathing, at night and early mornings, with nausea and vomiting, with colic and much belching; acrid diarrhœa, with white tongue, loss of appetite, tructations, nausea, and vomiting; protrusion of rectum after stool; watery, profuse stools alternating with constipation : stools watery, profuse, with little hard lumps, or containing undigested food ; diarrhœa from vinegar or other acids ; diarrhœa of pregnant women and young children.

Apis mel. Diarrhœa in the morning, hands blue and cold ; chronic diarrhœa, with many small passages of blood and mucus ; chronic diarrhœa of a bilious or erysipelatous character ; increasing prostration during diarrhœa ; yellowish-brown stools, accompanied by frequent and painful urination ; painless diarrhœa, especially in the morning, offensive watery stool, after it rawness of anus ; burning in abdomen and tenderness to the least pressure ; thin yellow stool, with extreme weakness ; stool with every motion of the body, as if the anus were constantly open. Suits irritable people, dissatisfied with everything, or weak delicate children, of a rambling disposition.

Argentum nitr. Diarrhœa as soon as he drinks ; great fondness of sugar, though eating it provokes diarrhœa ; stool green, flaky, like spanich, mucous ; bloody, with tenesmus, brown, liquid, frequent, fetid, with noisy flatus and colic at night ; looseness after exalted imagination.

Arnica. Involuntary stools during sleep ; brown fermented stools, with fetid breath and loathing of food ; offensive, papaceous, involuntary stools ; foul and putrid eructations and stools, with feeling of nauseous repletion after eating.

Arsenicum. Diarrhœa of malarial origin, or after chilling the stomach with cold substances ; great weakness, out of all proportion to the amount of stool, fainting, rapid emaciation, rapid and scarcely perceptible pulse ; stool preceded by restlessness, anguish, and pain in abdomen ; stool pappy (not often watery, yellow, bloody, or greenish, or more frequently a blackish, very offensive substance, accompanied by vomiting, excessive pain in abdomen, burning in rectum, tenesmus ; followed by burning in anus, palpitation, trembling of limbs, and great prostration ; small, painless, pappy stools, smelling like putrid ulcers ; purging, with extreme coldness of extremities ; watery autumnal diarrhœa, with pinching pains and tendency to run into cholera or dysentery ; vomiting after drinking ; pulse frequent in the morning and slow in the evening, wants to lie with the head low ; worse at night, from 1 to 3 A.M., and in the morning after rising.

Asafoetida. Stools copious, watery, liquid, of a yellow or dark brown color and disgusting smell, accompanied with discharge of flatus and pain in abdomen, preceded by violent urging and emission of flatus, only slime passes, no feces, stool and breath equally offensive.

Asarum eur. Instead of stool, long, yellow, tenacious strings of inodorous mucus are passed, especially in women after confinement, with leucorrhœa ; before stool, cutting in the abdomen, and sharp stitches in the rectum from above downwards.

Asclepias tub. Fluid painful stools, of a very strong smell, or like spoiled eggs, with the sensation as if the bowels would come out ; black clammy stools, with yellow spots, like fat, attended with a feeling as if a stream of fire passed through the abdomen.

Baptisia. Adynamic diarrhœa, stools dark, offensive, nauseous, and even bloody, with colic and tenesmus ; pain in the region of the liver, and particularly of the gall-bladder; fetid exhausting diarrhœa, causing excoriation; dark-brown mucus and bloody stools, with typhoid tendency.

Belladonna. Involuntary diarrhœa; stool followed by frequent urging, no more stool is passed; flushed face; red eyes; throbbing carotids, etc.

Benzoic acid. Stool copious, watery, grayish-white, like dirty soap-suds, excessively offensive, scenting the whole house; stools of a strong, pungent smell, like that of the urine.

Berberis. Watery evacuations, large, pappy, free, mostly with tenesmus before and after.

Boletus lar. Deep-yellow, frothy, papose stools, that run a stream from the bowels, last part mixed with bile and frothy mucus, preceded by hard sickening pains in the hypogastrium, and followed by the same symptoms.

Borax ven. Stools frequent, soft, light yellow, slimy, with faintness and weariness; painless, at first frothy, thin and brown; later cadaverous smelling, containing bits of yellow faeces.

Bovista. Diarrhœa before and during menses, with cutting pains; stools first hard and difficult; last thin, even watery, with much pain in belly; after stool tenesmus and burning in the anus; stinking flatus.

Bryonia. Diarrhœa in summer after drinking milk, cold drinks, or from anger and chagrin; diarrhœa, especially in the morning on rising, as soon as he moves about; burning diarrhœa; lips dry and parched; thirst, nausea after eating; qualmishness and fainting when rising up, with great desire to lie down and keep quiet; alternation of diarrhœa and constipation; stinking flatus.

Cactus grand. Bilious diarrhœa; the stools always preceded by pain; morning diarrhœa of very loose fæces, preceded by great pain; sensation of great weight in the anus, and a strong desire to pass a great quantity, however, nothing passes; pricking in the anus, as of sharp pins, causing a slight friction.

DIPHTHERIA, DIPHTHERITIS.

Angina gangrenosa, malignant sore throat. The best remedies are : 1, apis, carbol. acid, kali bichr., lac. canin., lach., mere., cyan., nitr. ac., phytol., salicyl. ac., sulph. ac. : 2, aitanth., apis, ars., bell., kalmia, lyc., mur. ac., sulph. : 3, alum., amm. carb., amm. caust., ar. iod., ars., brom., arum., bapt., bry., calc. chlor., canth., caps., chlor., hydr., kali chlor., kali permang., krensol., mere. iod., mere. cora. phosph., plumb., sang., thuj.

Diphtheritis of larynx : amm. caust., brom., carbol. ac., kali bichr., mere. iod., mere. cyan., nitr. ac., salicyl. ac., sang.

Ailanthus. Thick, oedematous, dry, choke feeling in the throat, which is livid and swollen, tonsils studded with numerous, deep, angry looking ulcerations, exuding a scanty fetid discharge, diphtheritis scarlatinosa.

Ammonium carb. Diphtheria of scrofulous persons, with swelling of the glands of the neck; nose obstructed, patient being aroused by want of breath every time he falls asleep; great prostration; excessive sensitiveness to cold air and cold drinks; cerebral symptoms.

Apis mel. Diphtheria coming on quite unperceived and progressing insidiously; bright-red color of mouth, throat, pharynx, with puffy, glossy, varnished appearance; mucous membrane sometimes covered with dirty gray tough membrane; not much pain, except in ears, when swallowing; small amount of pain accompanying intense and extensive inflammation; puffiness and bloatedness of the subcutaneous tissue of the neck and face; tonsils swollen and red, more from inflammation of mucous membrane covering them; contraction and rawness of the throat, worse mornings; difficult swallowing from traction; swelling and weakness of the muscles of the throat; pain in ears when swallowing; pain in the neck and shoulders, in the scaput, radiating in different directions, of a darting-cutting character, more external and on the affected side; affected parts covered with a dirty gray exudation; thirstlessness; prostration from beginning; numb limbs; itchy stinging rash; oversensitiveness of the skin to touch; high fever; voice hoarse, rough; sensation as of rapid swelling of the lining membrane of the air-passages, speaking painfully; intense sensation of suffocation; can hear nothing about the throat; labored inspiration as in croup. Intense debility accompanying or following diphtheria; difficult swallowing from muscular paresis after diphtheria.

Arnica. General loss of strength; heaviness and paresis of right side (back left); foul breath; burning in the throat, with anguish from internal heat; stitching posteriorly, as if some hard body were in the pharynx; noisy and difficult deglutition, prevented by a kind of vomituration, as if the food could not pass downwards.

Arsenicum. Epidemic diphtheria, with typhoid symptoms, or in the presence of severe morbus Brightii; great prostration and restlessness; thirst, but taking only a sip; gangrene; fetid breath; dyslagia, perspiration sticky; abdomen distended; exhausting diarrhoea and great anemia; somnolence and occasional starting up to leave the bed.

Arsenicum iodat. Diphtheritic croup; deposit covering mouth from fauces to outer edge of lips, and external auditory canal; foul breath; short difficult respiration and symptoms of adynamia.

Arum triph. Discharge of burning ichorous fluid from the nose, penetrating nostrils and upper lip; nose stopped up, can only breathe with open mouth; tongue sore; red papillae elevated; swelling of submaxillary glands; throat sore, excoriated, cannot swallow; excessive acid salivation, sensation of something hot in the throat, more especially during inspiration; great restlessness, and throwing himself into all kinds of positions.

Baptisia. Diphtheria, with dark membrane in the throat; offensive breath; dry brown tongue; semi-comatose condition; little or no thirst; oppressed breathing unto suffocation on account of pulmonary congestion; the patient must go to the window for fresh air; very little pain in fauces in spite of oedema of the parts affected, especially of the posterior choanae; he can only swallow liquids; throat feels sore and contracted; prostration; chilliness of the lower limbs and back, with hot face and fever at night; stools dark and blood-streaked.

Belladonna. Great restlessness; continual desire to swallow, and sensation as if he would choke if he did not; every attempt to swallow causes lachrymation; stitches in the throat and fauces; great difficulty in swallowing solids or fluids; drowsiness, yet inability to sleep; pupils enlarged; pain in the throat aggravated by turning the head, will not lie down for fear of choking. Only useful in first stage, before exudation appears.

Bromine. Diphtheritic croup; the disease may commence in larynx and travel upwards, with hoarse and croupy cough, fearful pulse, passes from the fauces into the respiratory organs.

Cantharis. Burning pain and soreness in the throat; with a scraping sensation and expectoration of blood; marked disturbance of the urinary organs: frequent desire to micturate, with burning and cutting pain, passes only a few drops at a time. Extreme prostration, sinking turns.

Capsicum. Burning and soreness in the mouth and throat; congested appearance of the mucous membrane; fauces partially covered with the diphtheritic deposit; beating and throbbing in the head, rapid pulse, vertigo, and bleeding at the nose; chilliness in the back.

Carbolic acid. Low form of fever; absence of pain; great accumulation of deposits, spreading a most offensive fetor; excessive prostration, with dizziness and headache, pale face, loss of appetite, nausea, weak or thready pulse; soreness worse on right side.

Chininum arsenicos. Diphtheritic membranes on tonsils and fauces; swelling of maxillary glands; fetid breath; great prostration, especially lasting during convalescence.

Ignatia. Right side more affected, although the exudation may be on both sides; delirium characterized by fear and dread; soreness of throat, greatest between the acts of deglutition; pain in the back of head, nucha, and sometimes in the ears.

Iodine. Much glandular irritation, disease threatens to attack the larynx; formation of specks or patches of exudation, with sore throat; enlargement of tonsils and of the glands of the neck; disinclination for food; difficulty of breathing; cough and alteration of voice.

Kali bichrom. Shrill croupy cough, occasionally whistling and wheezing; rough hoarse sound of voice, with difficulty of breathing, as though the lungs were stuffed with cotton; throat purple, with numerous isolated patches of greenish-yellow exudation all over the fauces, tongue, cheeks, gums, smelling like decayed meat; pains extending to the right ear, when swallowing; expectoration frequently streaked with blood; exudation tough and firmly adhering (early, so loosely), spreading upwards into the nostrils and down into the larynx, tendency of diphtheritic deposits upon remote mucous membranes, great weakness; cachectic look; swollen glands.

Kali chlor. Numerous gray ulcers in mouth and throat; excessive secretion of tough, stringy saliva; epistaxis, ravenous hunger followed by total anorexia; dryness and pain in throat with difficult swallowing, beginning paralysis of glossopharyngeal nerve; excessive micturition; hæmaturia; albuminuria, hoarse voice; incessant cough with difficult respiration; chest pressed together and watery froth exuding from mouth.

Kali permangan. Odor of breath unbearable; fluids taken by the mouth returned by the nose, general and excessive prostration, great dyspnoea; foul diphtheritic exudations all over fauces.

Kali phos. Diphtheria, with marked putrid, gangrenous condition, and fearful stench of the mouth.

Kreasote. Acts well in scrofulous and lymphatic patients, with black softening and decomposition of the mucous membrane, with atony and extension of the softening, especially towards the œsophagus.

Lac caninum. Scrofulous constitutions, especially liable to diphtheria, white ulcers on the tonsils, which and the fauces are covered with a yellowish-gray curdy deposit; dorsal pains, also in the head and limbs; coated tongue; chills followed by heat; profuse saliva saturating the pillow; constant inclination to swallow; profuse urination; profound or slight prostration; able to take nourishment; disease commences either right or left, or alternates between right and left side, worse in stormy weather; breathing hoarse and croupy, often snoring, and only possible through the mouth; one side of nose stuffed, the other free and discharging thin mucus or thin blood; pharyngeal inflammation, with wholesale destruction of epithelium; viscidness of saliva; ulcers shine like silver gloss; pricking and cutting pains when swallowing, shooting up into the ears; foul breath; hot palms of hands; absolute necessity for constant change of position.

Lachesis. Asthenia from the start. Membrane commenced on left side, with tendency to spread to the right; very frequent pulse, very restless, and always worse after sleep; purple livid color of the inflamed parts, with dull dry appearance, and little swelling; intense pain accompanies an apparently small amount of inflammation, deep redness of the tongue and fauces; discharge of nose and mouth fetid and exoriating; cannot bear to have the larynx or throat touched; dulness of the cerebral functions; prostration and cardiac debility, even before the exudation; extreme tenderness of the neck, cold clammy perspiration; somnolency, delirium; peculiar hard aching all over, so that position is constantly changed; aggravation from hot, relief from cold drinks (i.e. the reverse); liquids pain more than solids when swallowing, spitting large quantities ofropy mucus; puts the trembling tongue out with difficulty; constitutional symptoms greater than local manifestations; paralysis of throat and other parts after diphtheria; sight becomes old during convalescence.

Lycopodium. Diphtheritis, beginning in the nose, and the discharge runs down into the pharynx; or it spreads from the right side to the left; inability of breathing through the nostrils; much swelling and pain in throat, with spasm on swallowing; feeling of constriction in the nose, throat, and chest; projecting tongue and silly expression; perfect stupor, grinding of teeth, even when fully awake; diminished secretion of urine, with red sand in it.

Mercurius corros. Although all mercurials are deficient in the rapid prostration as found in severe diphtheritic cases, still, in some cases, it might be useful where the exudation covers the entire fauces and extends into the nose, from which a profuse discharge flows; rapid destruction of parts.

Merc. cyanuret. Putrid diphtheria, beginning in the nasal cavities, extending all over mouth, fauces, pharynx, and larynx, which are covered by a grayish leathery exudation and ulceration; incessant salivation; fetor oris; laryngo-tracheal whistling; parotid and submaxillary glands engorged, excessive prostration; skin burning; voice extinguished.

Merc. iod. flavus. Diphtheritic membrane yellow, worse on right side, great thirst for cold water, can swallow only by little sips, as throat is so full; considerable salivation, which makes the clin sore; nose obstructed with thick yellow scabs and membranes, all worse on right side; tongue yellow, with tip and edges clear and red; coppery smell from the mouth; must swallow from a constant sensation of a lump in the throat, worse from empty deglutition; glands engorged salivary and cervical; much painful hawking of stringy mucus; fetid discharges from fauces and nares; oedema of the neck and throat; glandular derangements; great prostration, high fever; urine scanty and high-colored.

Merc. iod. ruber. Patches, mostly on left tonsil; velum elongated; must swallow from a collection of saliva, or mucus, or from feeling of a lump in throat; livid purplish patches; discharge thin, offensive; hawking up white and tough mucus, exudation limited, transparent, and easily detached; enlarged glands.

Nitric acid. Pricking in throat, as from a splinter or piece of glass; difficult deglutition and very painful excessive salivation; painful sensation of fullness in head; swelling of cheeks, yellow streak on tonsils, fauces and glands swollen; fetor oris; chilliness and still aversion to heat; great uneasiness; violent fever; excessive prostration, deep-seated local affection.

Phytolacca dec. Ulcerated sore throat; chills during evening and night; violent pains in forehead and occiput, back and limbs, great prostration; cannot stand; when rising up in bed faint and dizzy; patient feels cold in the evening and during the night, with dryness in the throat and soreness in the morning, livid exudations upon tonsils and fauces; difficult deglutition and extreme sensitiveness of the tonsils; exudation mostly of a grayish color.

Rhus tox. Bloody saliva running out of child's mouth during sleep, parotid glands very swollen; transparent, jellylike, reddish discharge from bowels during or after stool; typhoid condition.

Salicylic acid. Excessive weakness and prostration; difficult deglutition; soft exudation; redness of buccal cavity and fauces.

Secale corn. Loss of strength; rapid loss of sensibility; numbness of extremities, painful tingling and crawling on the tongue, dry gangrene, apathy; dilated pupils; burning pains of the affected parts; stammering speech. Absence of all reaction (carbo veg.).

Sulphur. Large yellow deposits all around the posterior wall of the pharynx, which is ulcerated and sloughing, very quick pulse, flashes of heat, frequent sinking spells, empty swallowing even more painful than that of liquids, inflamed parts purple; dryness of throat, slowly progressing cases.

Sulph. acid. Ulceration of throat, with large exudations, thick, grayish, or yellowish, sticky, and tenacious, tonsils bright red, swallowing very difficult; liquids run out of the nose; speech and respiration difficult on account of the accumulation of exudation in fauces; excessive salivation; fetor oris; pulse frequent, small, weak, apathy; somnolency; excessive paleness.

Paralysis following diphtheria need: caust, eupr, coec., nux v; arn., bar., gels., laeb., plumb., rhus, stann., sulph., thuy, zinc. In paralysis of the lungs: ant. tart., camph., musk. Kali phos., laeb.: weakness of vision following diphtheria. Dropsical affections: ars., bry., chin., chin. ars., etc.

Adjuvants: Gargling or pencilling, or the spray atomizer, using diluted alcohol, carbolic or salicylic acid, liquor calc. chlor., chlor. pot., hot water.

DIPLOPIA.

§ 4. Particular indications:

Acetic acid. Skin pale, waxen; anasarca, with diarrhoea, sour belching, etc., wasting away; great emaciation.

Apis mel. In nearly all cases of dropsy, with very scanty urine, sleeplessness, and absence of thirst; stinging-burning pains in different parts of the body; in dropsy of chest, stinging pains, dyspnoea, sensation as if he would never breathe again; in ascites, great soreness of the abdominal walls; cannot get breath except when sitting; even leaning backwards causes suffocative feeling; complications with scarlatina; uterine tumors and inflammatory processes of bowels.

Apocynum can. Ascites: sinking feeling at the pit of the stomach; irritable condition of the stomach, that cannot retain even a draught of water; muddy urine; diarrhoea; bloatedness of the face after lying down, passing off when sitting up; dropsy of chest inability to speak; catching of breath, suppression of urine, great thirst, post-scarlatinal dropsy, abdominal dropsies from hobnail liver, although it acts best when there is no organic derangement to impede its action; dropsy after typhus; hydropericardium, can hardly speak from want of breath; great dyspnoea, wheezing breathing, and cough, heart's action scarcely perceptible, face bloated and anxious looking, small weak pulse; finger nails of bluish-lead color, cannot lie down, must be supported in a sitting posture; lower limbs, penis, scrotum, and abdomen swollen. Whenever it acts beneficially, the skin becomes moist before the secretion of urine becomes more abundant.

Arsenicum. Anasarca, ascites, oedema of the lower extremities; the skin, and particularly the face, looks pale, earthy, and greenish.

ility and prostration; faint feeling from slight motion; great thirst, but drinks only a little at a time; suffocation, especially at night when lying on the back; great anxiety, get out of the bed; rapid respiration; skin cool, burning heat.

anas syr. Post-scarlatinal dropsy; dropsy arising from supersaturation or from renal disease.

agus. Old people with heart disease: weak action of heart, at left acromion and weak pulse.

a. Ascites in consequence of functional disturbance of abdominal organs: in combination with albuminuria.

ia. Anasarca and edema of the feet: the swelling increases at night and lessens at night; hydrothorax: pain in the side; difficult contraction of the diaphragm; vomiting and splitting of the head, excited by any motion; retarded stool and frequent passing water, but only a few drops at a time. Ascites; swelling of the head; giddiness after stooping; loss of breath when in the least, lower eyelids edematous; lips bluish; great scanty urine; obstinate constipation. After scarlet fever.

grand. Edema of the hands, especially the left; edema of the extremities, the skin is shining, and pressure with the finger leaves an impression for a long time; heart disease.

aris. Dropsy from atony of the urinary organs, with ischaemia of the neck of the bladder; pains in the limbs; dysuria, etc.

aphila. Anasarca and ascites following intermittents; it is frequent discharges of clear limpid urine, and the mucus in it.

a. Anasarca and ascites in organic disturbances of the liver, and after loss of blood; also in old people.

acum. Anasarca and hydrothorax; constant urging to pass urine from spasm of the bladder, but only a little is voided, and great pain; great dyspnoea; heart disease in consequence of pneumatosis.

divulus arvensis. (Edema, dropsy with constipation, abdominal disturbances, weakness; appetite good; he would eat more were more room, the abdomen being filled with water; urine scarcely suppressed.

lis. All kinds of dropsies, with difficult micturition; pale emitting pulse, doughy swelling, which easily yields to the pressure of the finger; cyanotic symptoms, with fainting, when there are affections of the heart.

erium purp. Diabetes insipidus; albuminuria; dropsy of renal disease, with severe dyspnoea and edema all over the body.

acid. Ascites from enlarged and indurated liver, in consequence of drinking whiskey, hydrothorax.

corus. Acute dropsies, with great debility; slow compression in answering questions; pale face; griping pains in the abdomen with diarrhoea of a jellylike slime; patient breathes easier when lying down (ears, while sitting up); suppression of urine, or only albuminous, dark color, no sediment.

as. Anasarca, with general debility, albuminuria, and an atonic condition in the sexual sphere, such as chlorosis, amenorrhœa, dropsy from uterine hæmorrhage.

Hepar sulph. Anasarca from Bright's disease, especially after so-called light cases of scarlatina.

Iris vers. Ascites and anasarca of hepatic origin.

Kali carb. Hydrothorax, with wheezing breathing; œdematous swelling between the eyebrows and lids; insufficiency of the mitral valves; great dryness of the skin; worse at 3 A.M.; ascites in complication with liver and heart affections, especially of old people.

Lachesis. Hydrothorax, with suffocative fits, waking from sleep, with throwing the arms about; cyanosis; black urine, offensive smell of the faces; complications with liver, heart, and spleen disease; after scarlet fever.

Ledum pal. Dropsy, with pain in the limbs and dry skin.

Leptandra virg. Ascites and anasarca from obstructed circulation in the portal system.

Lycopodium. Hydrops siccus from hypertrophy of the heart; hydrothorax; dyspnœa worse when lying on the back; constipation; rumbling in left iliac region; red sand in urine; very cross after getting awake. Ascites from liver affections, abuse of alcoholic drinks, after venesections, intermittent fever, oozing out of water from sore places in the lower extremities, without formation of pus, urine scanty with red sediment; upper portion of the body emaciated, lower enormously swollen; one foot cold, the other hot, restless sleep.

Manganum oxyd. Ascites from intermittent fever; cachexia; strong, irregular, trembling palpitation of the heart, without abnormal sounds.

Mercurius. Acute and chronic anasarca; ascites, in consequence of organic lesions of the liver and other abdominal viscera; the swelling of the abdomen is tense and hard; not much thirst. After scarlatina, with oppression of chest, general heat, and sweat, which does not relieve; constant short and racking cough, anguish, etc.

Scilla mar. Hydrothorax, with strong urging to urinate, with scanty and dark urine; continuous cough, with thin mucous expectoration; œdematous swelling of the body.

Senecio aur. Ascites; abdomen very tense; lower extremities œdematous; urine scanty and high-colored, or alternating with profuse and watery discharge; pain in the lumbar region and ovaries.

Senega. Hydrothorax, with loose, faint, hacking cough and expectoration of a little phlegm.

Spigelia. Hydrothorax; dyspnœa during motion in bed; can only lie on the right side, and with the trunk raised; danger of suffocation when making the least motion, or raising the arms, with anxiety and palpitation of the heart.

Sulphur. Hydrothorax, with sudden arrest of breathing at night in bed when turning to the other side, going off when sitting; constipation or morning diarrhœa; dropsy after suppressed eruptions, rough skin, bluish spots; sleep, with moaning, quick pulse, cold feet; easily sweating, especially in the face; painless diarrhœa, drawing together of the fingers; inclination to sit still or to lie down; very forgetful.

Tart. emet. Hydrothorax, with much coarse rattling in the chest; expectoration not in proportion to the secretion; drowsiness; cyanotic symptoms.

DROPSY OF THE JOINTS.

Hydrarthrus. Is frequently cured by sulphur, or by: ant., ars., bry., calc., iod., kal., lyc., puls., rhus, sil., sulph.

DRUNKARDS, Diseases of,

And ill-effects of spirits generally.

§ 1. The best remedies are: 1, acon., ant., ars., bar., bell., calc., carb. v., chin., coff., hyos., lach., mere., natr., n. vom., op., puls., stram., sulph.; 2, agar., arn., coccul., dig., ign., led., lyc., natr. m., n. mosch., ran., rhod., rhus, rut., selen., sil., spig., veratr., zinc.

§ 2. For intoxication itself, the best remedies are said to be: acon., bell., coff., op.

For the consequences of revelling at night, and of intoxication, give: 1, ant., carb. v., coff., n. vom., sulph.; or, 2, bell., bry., calc., chin., dulc., natr., nitr. ac., phos., phos. ac., rhus.

For the chronic consequences of drinking: ars., bell., calc., chin., coff., bell., hyos., lach., mere., natr., n. vom., puls., ranunc., sulph.

For delirium tremens: 1, ars., bell., calc., coff., dig., hyos., n. vom., op., stram.; 2, cimicif., gels., kali brom., ranunc.

For the disposition to drink: ars., calc., lach., mere., sulph., sulph. ac.

§ 3. As regards symptoms, give:

Aconitum. When drinking wine is followed by feverish heat, tendency of blood to the head, red face and eyes, and even loss of reason; acute mania, with frightful fancies and terror; sleeplessness.

Angelica atropurp. Small doses will abate and prevent drunkenness; large doses (15 to 20 grs.) cause disgust for all liquors.

Antimonium. Gastric affections in consequence of revelling, nausea, loathing, loss of appetite, etc., carb. veg. being insufficient.

Arsenicum. Mental derangement, anguish which drives one to and fro, fear of thieves, ghosts, and solitude, with desire to hide one's self, trembling of the limbs, etc.

Belladonna. Loss of reason, delirium, visions of mice, rats, etc.; red and bloated face, tongue coated, aversion to meat, sleeplessness, stammering speech, with constant smile; dry feeling in the throat, with difficult deglutition; violent thirst, paroxysms of violent fever, etc.

Baryta carb. Diminution of sexual desire and great weakness of the genital organs in persons addicted to the excessive use of intoxicating drinks; deficient memory; numbness of tongue and buccal cavity; tough mucus in fauces and larynx.

Calcarea. Delirium, visions of fire, murder, rats, and mice, neither bell. nor stram. being sufficient.

Carbo veg. Aching and throbbing pain in the head in consequence of a debauch; relief in the open air; nausea, without desire to vomit; liquid thin stools.

China. Debility of drunkards, especially when dropsy is setting in; dullness and heaviness of head as if from intoxication.

Cimicifuga. No disposition to talk, cross and dissatisfied; very restless, cannot sit long in one place; sitting still makes him frantic; terrible fancies at night as if from some impending evil; tongue brownish-yellow and heavily coated; pulse quick and excited; passes only small quantities of urine; delirium tremens, with frightened look; general tremor hardly visible, but apparent to the touch, with sensation to the touch of others as if cool clammy sweat would break out.

Coffea. Delirium tremens: constantly running about, imagines he is not at home, with trembling of hands, with small frequent pulse, sleeplessness, overexcited; talkative; full of fear; convulsive grinding of teeth; headache after intoxication, with sensation as if a nail were sticking in the brain; worse in the open air.

Hyoscyamus. Epileptic convulsions in consequence of drinking; delirium tremens, with chronic spasms; averse to light and company; visions as if persecuted; sleeplessness, with constant tossing about; vertigo, with drunkenness and sudden falling with a shriek; apoplexy; sopor; involuntary stool and urine; tremor of the hands.

Kali brom. Removes delirium, if not furious, and delusions, and produces sleep.

Lachesis. Diarrhœa of drunkards, with languor and exhaustion, very excessive in hot weather and with large hemorrhoidal tumors, which protrude after each pappy, offensive stool, with constriction of sphincter and continued desire to evacuate, or alternate constipation with ineffectual efforts to evacuate and pulsating headache; dropsy from liver and spleen diseases. Delirium tremens; worse after sleep, cannot bear pressure of neckcloth; loquacious, with mocking jealousy, frightful images; debility and tremor of the hands, and the patient finds it hard to correct himself.

Ledum. Tubercles, pimples and boils on forehead of drunkards.

Natrum sulph. Debility and dyspepsia of drunkards; satiety of life, must use all self-control to prevent shooting himself; dulness and muddled feeling in head; squeamishness in stomach and constant uneasiness in bowels.

Nux moschata. Tendency to faint, and intense nervous excitement after continued drinking; delirium tremens; slowness of senses, imaginary fancies; awakens and knows not where he is; laughter, with stupid expression; reeling in the open air; limbs numb and weak; skin cool and dry; takes cold easily and wants to stay in the house.

Nux vomica. Delirium tremens, with oversensitiveness; nervous excitability and malicious vehemence; every little noise frightens; anxious and beside himself; stupefaction as from nightly revelling; intoxication from drunkenness of the previous day, with vanishing of sight and hearing; worse after dinner and in the sun; hemierama after intoxication, with sensation as if a nail has been driven into the brain; gastric derangement; constipation or diarrhœa; tremor of the limbs; debility; convulsions from indigestion; at night springs up delirious; has frightful visions.

Opium. Mania à potu, with dulness of the senses, and at intervals sopor, with snoring; sees animals; affrighted expression of face; delirious talking; eyes wide open; face red, pulled up; fear; desire to escape, or dreams, from which the patient wakes as soon as he is spoken to in a loud voice; dry, tickling, paroxysmal cough, with spasm of lungs and blue face when drinking; troublesome breathing; general sweat; epileptic convulsions; trembling of the extremities; lockjaw; twitching of the muscles of the face and mouth; staring look; want of vital reaction.

Phosphorus. Irritable nervous weakness, caused by intemperance; alcoholic cirrhosis of the liver.

Ranunculus bulbosus. One of our most effective agents for the removal of bad effects from the abuse of alcoholic beverages; at the beginning of delirium tremens, with talkative mania; unusual exertion and powerful efforts to escape from the bed; convulsions of the facial and cervical muscles; risus sardonius; stitches in the liver; long-lasting gastralgia; burning, changing to a dull pressure, with nausea, vertigo, with danger of falling when going from warm room into the open air; confusion of the head as if intoxicated.

Stramonium. Suitable to habitual drunkards; delirium tremens, with frightful hallucinations; sees strangers, and imagines animals are jumping sideways out of the ground or running at him; shy, hides himself, tries to escape; talks incessantly, absurdly; laughs, alternately merry or dejected; epileptic convulsions; red, hot, and bloated face, eyes wide open and staring; lockjaw after convulsions; cough of drunkards; convulsive motions of upper extremities, the arms reaching forward and upward with an uncertain, tremulous motion, while the lower extremities feel nearly paralyzed.

Sulphur. Dropsy and other affections of drunkards, especially when they indulge in the abuse of coffee; longing for alcoholic drinks; fullness in stomach, after eating or drinking ever so little.

Keep your patient strictly on a milk diet, it antidotes alcohol, and causes many a time a disgust to it.

DUODENITIS.

Ars., kali bichr., pod. See Enteritis.

Kali bichr. Duodenal dyspepsia, bitter taste of food, thickly coated tongue, vomiting of pinkish, glairy fluid, of yellow, purulent mucus; dull pain or stitches in right hypochondrium; clay-colored stools; confusion of head.

Podophyllum. Catarrhal process extending along biliary ducts and causing jaundice.

DYSENTERY.

Bloody flux.

§ 2. Aconite. For dysentery, when the days are warm and the nights cool; rheumatic pains in the head, nape of the neck, and shoulders, or violent chills, heat, and thirst. If aconite does not suffice, give: cham., merc., n. vom., or puls.

Æsculus h. Dysentery caused by hæmorrhoidal irritation, and confined to the rectum.

Alstonia const. Dysentery complicated with symptoms of malarious poisoning, or caused by drinking swamp-water or water impregnated with decayed vegetable matter.

Alumen. Putrid dysentery: violent pains going from rectum down the thighs; during stool dyspnoea, pains in rectum, tenesmus; after stool scarcely endurable pain (scirrhus in rectum).

Aloes. Aggravation by acids: shooting or boring pains in the region of the navel, increased by pressure: the lower part of the abdomen swollen and sensitive to pressure: the distension and movements in the abdomen are more in the left side and along the track of the colon, increased after food; fainting whilst at stool; frequent stools of bloody water, bloody, jelly-like mucus; involuntary while passing flatus: great repugnance to free air, which notwithstanding ameliorates the suffering; hunger during the stool; cutting and pinching pains in the rectum and loins; heaviness, weariness, and numbness in the thighs; with the stools escape large quantities of flatus; when urinating urging to stool; sickness of stomach and great prostration, constant headache and some nausea; dryness of the mouth; thirst; discharge of a few drops of foul-smelling bloody mucus, with violent tenesmus.

Apis mel. More urging than actual pain: bloody stool, with but little pain; rawness of anus; tongue dry, shining, and white; urine frequent and profuse, or strangury; skin hot, dry, yet little thirst; disturbed sleep, with muttering; throbbing in the rectum, with sensation in the anus as if stuffed full. Infantile dysentery, painless bloody stools.

Argentum nitr. Dysenteric stools, consisting of masses of epithelial substance, connected by muco-lymph, red or green, shreddy, frequent, with severe bearing down in the hypogastrium; cramp of the rectum; thin unshapely strips pass in masses, with burning, constriction, and soreness in left side of abdomen; advanced cases of dysentery, with suspected ulceration.

Arnica. Nausea, with constant sense of fulness and satiety in the stomach; hard swelling in the right side of the abdomen, with pain as if cutting into a wound when touched, relieved by escape of flatus; putrid and slimy taste and eructations; loud rumbling in the bowels as if empty; stools of blood and faeces; offensive flatulence, like bad eggs; tenesmus of the neck of the bladder, with fruitless urging to urinate; putrid breath, chill of the back and front of the thighs.

Arsenicum. Stools smelling like old foul ulcers; greenish urine; sticky perspirations; great restlessness and tossing about in bed, pains relieved by external heat; despair of life, sensation as if the abdomen would burst, before the stool; sensation of contraction just above the anus, at the stool, burning in the rectum, and trembling in all the limbs, after the stool; tenesmus with burning in the rectum and anus; face sunken, pale, and features distorted; great exhaustion after each stool, pain relieved after the evacuation; red and blue spots on the skin; fetid urine.

Baptisia. Decided prostration, and much more profound than the loss of blood or pain would justify. The attacks come on with rigors; pains in limbs and small of back; stools small, all blood, not very dark, but quite thick; adynamic dysentery, with acid, fecal discharges, which are frequent, small, and offensive; violent colicky pains in the hypogastric region; terrible tenesmus; ulcerative inflammation of the bowels in hot weather or in the fall.

Belladonna. Tenesmus so severe as to cause shuddering; cutting-tearing pains; burning of anus; tongue dry, very red at the tip, or two white stripes on a red ground; urine profuse or suppressed; dry hot skin or hot sweat; thirst, yet averse to drink; starts in sleep; stupor, sensitiveness of abdomen to external pressure, the sense of soreness being deep in the abdomen; constant pressing to the anus and genitals, as if everything would be pushed out; pains of a constricting character, relieved by bending forward.

Bryonia. Often after aconite, especially during hot summer and from taking cold drinks; the least motion of the body, raising the arms, or even bending the toes, produces a disposition to stool.

Cantharis. Bloody, mucous, skinny stools, with suppression of urine and burning like fire in the anus during and after the stool; dryness of the lips and thirst during the pain, and yet loathing of drink; vesicles and cankers in the mouth and throat; collapse, small pulse, coldness of hands and feet; passage of pure blood from the anus and urethra.

Capsicum. Thirst after every stool and shuddering after drinking; stool after drinking; taste like putrid water; tenesmus of the bladder; drawing pains in the back, which with the tenesmus are continued after the stool, which consists of thin adhesive slime, mixed with black blood, with twisting pains above the navel, small and frequent.

Carbo veg. Frequent involuntary stools of putrid cadaverous odor; restlessness and anxiety; general collapse; cold breath; salivation; much putrid fatus.

Chamomilla. After acon.; when there are great heat, thirst, rheumatic pains in the head, and great restlessness.

China. Dysentery in marshy districts, with intermittent symptoms, or when ars. and carb. veg. are insufficient to remove the putrid symptoms; discharges of a terrible cadaverous smell, worse at night, of a chocolate color; cold hands and feet, filiform pulse.

Cistus. Chronic dysenteric diarrhoea?

Colchicum. Aversion even to the smell of food; scanty difficult stool of bloody mucus and shreds, with pain in anus and violent tenesmus; constant ineffectual efforts to have a stool; discharges white jellylike or bloody mucus; prolapsus ani; great swelling of the lower part of the abdomen; frequent shudderings down the back; cramps in the calves of the legs; constriction of the oesophagus; burning or icy coldness of the stomach. Autumnal dysentery.

Colocynth. Fruitless efforts to vomit; weakness, paleness, and prostration after the stool; severe cutting and squeezing pains, accompanied by retching and bending the body forward, relieved by pressure, by coffee, and the relief is followed by immediate disposition to stool; cold hands with warm feet. Mostly indicated in the first stage; fullness and pressure in the abdomen; tympanitic distension; chills proceeding from the abdomen; white-coated tongue; severe burning along the whole urethra during stool; green slimy stools, with straining; bloody diarrhoea, with violent pains in the bowels, extending down into the thighs; dysenteric stools renewed each time by the least food or drink.

Conium. Violent pain and tenesmus during frequent stools; trembling and weak feeling after stool; vertigo when lying down; craving for salt things; frequent urging to urinate, especially at night, with intermittent flow of urine.

Cornus cir. Dysentery, with abdominal pains before, during, and after stool, with great debility and biliousness; ulceration of the mucous membrane of the rectum.

Croton tigl. Every movement of the body renews the discharges; producing at first very violent pains in bowels, with tenesmus; discharges frequent and small.

Dioscorea. Just before and during stool severe pain in sacral region and bowels, of a writhing drawing character; the pains radiate upwards and downwards, until the whole body and extremities become involved with spasms, even the finger and toes, eliciting shrieks from the patient; spasmodic pains in the bowels, with unusually severe tenesmus; stools like albumen, but lumpy, with straining and burning in rectum, and sensation as if the fæces were hot; during the stool nearly fainting.

Dulcamara. Dysentery from cold damp weather; increased flow of saliva; burning itching of rectum; heat of skin; thirst; retention of urine; stranguary from a cold, or from cold drinks; great straining at stool; violent cutting around navel; rectum protrudes.

Erigeron. Dysentery, with burning in any part of the alimentary canal. Extreme tenesmus, with frequent small stools, streaked with blood, or bloody, and great irritation of the urinary organs, urination painful or suppressed.

Ferrum phos. Stools pure blood, bloody mucus, bloody serum; yellowish, whitish, brown stools, with blood; like bloody fish-brine; green watery or green mucus, with blood; no pain; blood dark or light.

Gamboge. (Gummi gutt.) Chill and pain in back; bitter taste in the mouth; burning of the tongue; soreness all over; watery stools attended with colic or green mixed mucus, with burning tenesmus and prolapsus ani; offensive, frequent, and copious stools, coming out all at once.

Hamamelis. When the amount of blood in the stools is unusually large in quantity, amounting to an actual hæmorrhage; blood dark, in small clots or patches, scattered through the mucus.

Ipecacuanha. Suitable for fall dysenteries, with violent colic and tenesmus; tongue moist, yellowish, or white; stools dark, almost black, and fermented like frothy molasses, worse in the evening; tenesmus after stool; constant nausea and vomiting.

Iris vers. Dysentery, when the patient is cold skin blue, vomiting with prostration; bilious dysentery; stools of bloody mucus passed with great straining; pains in the umbilical region and loud rumbling in the bowels; burning in anus and rectum after stool.

Kali bichrom. Blackish, watery, bloody, jellylike stools; periodically every year; dryness of the mouth and lips; tongue dry, red, smooth, and cracked; much thirst; vomiting of bitter, sour, glairy fluids; morning aggravation (after cantharides).

Kali mur. Intense pain in abdomen, cutting as if from knives; calls to stool every few minutes, with tenesmus, extorting cries, stool consisting only of a small quantity of blood.

Lachesis. Dark chocolate-colored, cadaverous-smelling stools of decomposed blood, looking like charred straw; stools of mixed blood and slime : stools passed with painful straining and burning in the anus : cramplike pain in the abdomen, which feels very hot ; coldness ; thirst : tongue red and cracked at the tip, or black and bloody.

Leptandra. Stools of mixed mucus, flocculent and watery, with yellow bile and blood ; stools of pure blood ; pain in bowels after stool, but no tenesmus : tarry, fetid discharges.

Lycopodium. Chronic dysentery ; stools shaggy, of reddish mucus : excessive flatulence ; constant and distressing pressure in the rectum ; urgent straining, with shuddering and sense of insufficient evacuation.

Mercurius. Excoriating discharges ; cuttings in the lower part of the abdomen, at night : the abdomen is externally cold to the touch ; cutting stitch in the lower abdomen, from right to left, and aggravated by walking ; fecal putrid taste in the mouth ; nausea, with vertigo, obscured vision, and flashes of heat ; offensive perspiration : the pains are increased before the stool, and during the stool, with violent tenesmus ; the pains are rather increased after a stool, and sometimes they extend to the back ; during the stool hot sweat on the forehead, which soon becomes cold and sticky ; frequent discharge of pure blood or bloody green mucus, like stirred eggs ; screams during stool (in children). Aggravation during night till about 3 A.M.

Merc. corr. Cold face and hands, with small and feeble pulse ; all the pains, but especially those of the rectum, are aggravated by motion ; faintings, weakness, and shuddering : the limbs as if bruised and trembling ; abdomen tense, hard, and sensitive to pressure, especially about the navel ; astringent metallic taste ; severe pains in the rectum, which continue after the discharge ; the fruitless urgency to stool increases the pains ; evacuations very offensive ; suppression of secretion of urine ; retention of urine.

Nitr. ac. Constant pressing in the rectum without any stool, or the patient evacuates mere mucus, after which the tenesmus continues, followed by headache ; dryness of the throat ; violent thirst ; intermittent pulse.

Nux vom. Stools small, frequent, with violent tenesmus ; pressing pains in the loins and upper part of the sacral region, with sensation as if broken : the pains and tenesmus cease with the stool.

Opium. Amelioration ceases on third or fourth day ; patient becomes drowsy and stupid ; urine scanty or suppressed ; rapid emaciation : no appetite.

Petroleum. Dysenteric diarrhea, consisting of bloody mucus, followed by much pressing, as if large quantities were yet to be expelled : weak and dizzy after a stool. (Teste.)

Phosphorus. Painless discharges of blood and mucus, the anus remaining open.

Plumbum. Severe tenesmus ; frequent and almost fruitless efforts to stool ; cutting pains with violent screaming ; retraction of the abdomen : constriction and retraction of abdomen.

Podophyllum. Severe straining during stool, with emission of much flatulence ; mucous stools, with spots and streaks of blood ; great thirst, but no appetite ; stools yellow, green, brownish, watery ; mucus streaked with blood, with heat in rectum, flashes of heat running up the back, painful tenesmus, and descent of rectum; great sensation of weakness in rectum.

Pulsatilla. Discharges white, almy; whitish coated tongue; pappy sticky taste, without thirst; great difficulty in breathing, all worse at night.

Rhus tox. Stools have the appearance of water in which fresh beef has been washed; discharges jellylike; pains in abdomen and limbs; constant tenesmus and urging to stool, with nausea and passing of small quantities of bloody water; nocturnal exacerbations: after getting wet.

Staphisagria. Cutting pain before and after stool; tenesmus in rectum and bladder during stool, always worse after drinking cold water and after eating.

Sulphur. Difficult breathing; blood-streaked mucous stool. tenesmus continues a long time after the discharges; frequent urging to stool; violent tenesmus, relieved by stool, especially at night; prolapsus ani at night; cutting pains while urging at stool, from pressure on abdomen or bending the body backwards; relieved by the application of dry heat; chills about the lower part of the body and lassitude; ulceration of intestinal mucous membrane.

Thrombidium. Brown fluid stools, with or without bloody streaks, occurring every half hour; violent colic, causing the patient to scream with pain; prolapsus ani; discharge of mucus and soft feces or pus, or blood and mucus, with occasional small fecal masses; skin dry, tongue coated, thirst moderate; after stool pain in bowels moderates.

Zincum. Chronic dysentery; extreme emaciation. thin, pale, bloody stools, with painful tenesmus; great desire for food, which fails to be assimilated.

Chlorine. Easy inhalation, exhalation impossible.

Cuprum. Dyspnoea; short, superficial quick respirations; aggravated by coughing, laughing, bending upper part of body backwards, walking quickly, or inhaling acrid vapors.

Digitalis. Complications with heart disease; respiration slow, asthmatic, paroxysms early in the morning, especially in cold weather; worse when walking.

Ipecacuanha. Difficult expiration; dry spasmodic cough of old people; collection of mucus difficult to expectorate, and giving only temporary relief.

Lachesis. Constriction of the chest in the morning when sitting up quickly; the breathing becomes slow, difficult, whistling; chest stuffed; short cough, with scanty, difficult expectoration; all covering around the neck and even chest unbearable; stool smelling badly (after ars. or carb.).

Lobelia infl. Contraction of chest, with deep inhalations; impossibility of deep inspiration; extreme dyspnoea; short inhalation, and long deep exhalation; inclination to sigh or to get a very deep breath; deep inspiration relieves the pressive pain in the epigastrium; burning feeling in the chest, passing upward.

Naphthalin. Thorax fixed in inspiration, which lasts much longer than expiration; respirations ten or twelve per minute; attacks of dyspnoea with great oppression of chest, somewhat relieved by violent movements of the arms and upper body.

Natrum mur. Attacks of suffocation; breathing anxious, oppressed; short on walking fast; better in the open air and when exercising the arms.

Opium. Suffocative attacks during sleep, like nightmare; short inspiration, long slow expiration; epigastrium drawn in; fine râles; constant cough; sopor; face bluish; great anguish and dread of suffocation; looks as if dying; slightly better from cold air and bending forward; worse from smoking or wine.

Sulphur. Shortness of breath and oppression on bending the arms backwards, nightly suffocative fits; wants doors and windows open; rattling in chest, worse after expectorating.

Tart. emet. Dyspnoea; must be supported in a sitting posture in bed; great difficulty in expiration; breathing rapid, short, heavy, and anxious.

Terebinthina. Distension of the air-vesicles to the highest degree; apex of heart felt beating in pit of stomach: heart and liver pushed down; he loses his breath from the least exertion, avoids even walking

Agaricus. Epilepsy with great exertion of strength; from fright, every seven days; from suppressed eruption; epileptic fits increase at first and lessen gradually; patient feels as if drunken and always sleepy; unconscious and speechless with the convulsions, face blue and puffed, froth at the mouth; sensation as if cold air was spreading from the spine over the body, like an aura epileptica.

Amyl nitrite. Muscular twitching in legs, arms, and face, followed by sense of fullness of head, flushing of face, violent palpitation of heart, and unconsciousness; mental confusion, and a dreamlike state; haunted many times a day by an indescribable dread and sensation of an oncoming fit; profound and repeated yawning during unconsciousness; succession of fits, with increasing frequency, before one fit ceases another one begins.

Argentum nitr. Cerebral epilepsy; the pupils permanently dilated a day or two before the fit; epileptic convulsions coming on at night.

Belladonna. Fresh cases of epilepsy, with decided brain symptoms; there is an aura as if a mouse were running over an extremity, or of heat rising from the stomach, or illusions of sight or of hearing. Convulsions commence in upper extremities, and extend to the mouth, face, and eyes; spasms in the larynx and fauces, with a peculiar clenching of the throat during the fit; inability to swallow and danger of suffocation; foam at the mouth; involuntary micturition and defecation; oppression of the chest and anxious breathing. the spasms are excited again by the least touch; great anxiety, fear, frightful visions.

Bufo. Epilepsy following onanism; longs for solitude to give himself up to his vice, quick ejaculation without pleasure, with spasms and painful weariness of the limbs; epilepsy, with destructive suppuration; fits occur mostly at the change of the moon, at the time of menses, in sleep.

Calcarea carb. Hamorrhoidal plethoric constitution; scrofulosis and rachitis; delicate and poorly nourished persons; sudden attacks of vertigo; loss of consciousness without convulsions; pharyngeal spasms, followed by desire to swallow; attacks return after the slightest vexation; anxiety with the fit, and after it apprehension of never getting well again; mental dulness or even derangement; speechless; nocturnal epilepsy; attack commences in abdomen.

Camphora. Epilepsy fits, with stertorous breathing, red and bloated face, coma. Early enough given it may prevent the fit or at least abridge its intensity and duration.

Cannabis ind. Extraordinary mental and physical vigor, an ecstatic exaltation of all the powers of mind and body as the aura before the fit; tendency to catalepsy.

Causticum. Recent and light cases; sudden fall, with loss of consciousness in the fresh air, but recovers himself soon; convulsions, especially on the right side, with drawing of head towards it; during the convulsions the urine flows copiously and involuntarily; frequent urination; restless, desire to escape; idiotic condition before the attacks; cold water brings the paroxysms on again.

Cicuta vir. Especially for children: convulsions; clonic and tonic spasms, with pale and yellowish complexion; distortion of the extremities; cries; frothy saliva; after the attack the child is unconscious and nearly lifeless. In women, after emotions, with sad melancholy; after confinement; painful ulcers on edge of tongue.

Crotalus horridus. Convulsions, with trembling of the limbs, without foaming at the mouth; loss of senses; indifference, seems only half alive, paleness of the face as in faintness; sensation of tight constriction of the throat.

Cuprum. Nocturnal epilepsy, or when the fits return at regular intervals (menses), beginning with a sudden scream; unconsciousness; loss of sensibility and throwing the body upwards and forwards; convulsions commencing at the fingers or toes or in the arms, with coldness of the hands and feet, and pallor or lividity of face; clenching the thumbs; suffocative paroxysms; frequent emission of urine; turbid urine; piercing violent screaming; difficult comprehension or stupor; convulsions of children during dentition or from retrocession of an exanthema; extreme violence of the convulsions, with pale or livid face, slow pulse (often a sign of feeble muscular action of the heart), coldness of hands and feet.

Cypripedium. Epilepsy from reflex nervous irritation, from exhaustion of nerve-forces, from irritability of the brain in children.

Glonoin. Epileptic fits accumulate and return daily; convulsions from cerebral congestion; stupidity and somnolence; alternate congestion of heart and head; throbbing pain in epigastrium.

Hydrocyanic acid. Recent cases. Sudden complete loss of consciousness and sensation; extreme coma for several hours, only interrupted by occasional sudden convulsive movements; confusion of the head and vertigo; jaws clenched, teeth firmly set, froth at the mouth, foaming large bubbles; unable to swallow; involuntary discharge of urine and feces; upper extremities contracted and the hands clenched; unusual stiffness of the legs; spasms commencing in the toes, followed by distortion of the eyes, towards the right and upwards, afterwards general spasms; distortion of the limbs and frightful distortion of the face; trunk spasmodically bent forward; great exhaustion, prostration, and aversion to all work, mental or physical.

Hyoscyamus. Epilepsy, before the fit, vertigo; sparks before eyes; ringing in ears; hungry gnawing; during the fit, face purple, eyes projecting, shrieks, grinding teeth, urination; after attack, sopor, snoring; from grief, after emotion.

Ignatia. Recent cases. Convulsions return at the same hour in daytime or at night; silent stupid state, with jerking of body, partial spasms of the extremities, one limb or only certain muscles at a time. Emotional epilepsy; lassitude after the fit.

Indigo. Patient is of exceedingly timid and melancholic (blue) character, tired of life, feels very gloomy; flushes of heat from abdomen to head, with sensation as if the head were tightly bandaged around the forehead; epileptic fit begins with dizziness; epilepsy originating from plexus solaris, or from abdominal ganglia, or from a cold or fright.

Kali brom. Mental hebetude, slowness of expression, failure of memory; confusion and heat of the head, great vertigo; dull, stupefied expression; the same languor in extremities, in fact the whole mind and body given up to lassitude, but nowhere convulsions. Still, some of our physicians found it of benefit in peripheral epilepsy from mental irritation, where it controlled the severe convulsions.

Lachesis. Epileptic convulsions, characterized by cries, falling down unconsciously, foam at the mouth, sudden and forcible protrusion of the tongue; vertigo, heavy and painful head; palpitation of heart, left side chiefly affected. Onanism or excessive sexual desire the cause of the disease.

Nux vom. Spinal epilepsy, with opisthotonos; trembling or convulsive twitchings of the limbs, involuntary defecation and urination; rigidity of the limbs; pressure on solar plexus renews the attack.

Opium. Nocturnal epilepsy; continued stertorous breathing, respiration deep, unequal; cyanotic face, or red, bloated, distorted, deep, comatose sleep; suffocative paroxysms during convulsive state.

Ceanothe crocata. Epileptiform convulsions, followed by deep sleep or coma; convulsions with vertigo, madness, nausea, vomiting, unconsciousness, eyeballs turned up, pupils dilated, lockjaw, convulsions with deathlike syncope; epilepsia nocturna.

Plumbum. Heaviness and numbness of the legs before the spell; swollen tongue; after the fit consciousness returns only slowly and symptoms of paralysis remain; chronic cases with earthy color of face, stupor and debility after fit; periodicity.

Silicea. Nocturnal epilepsy, especially about the time of the new moon; chronic cases (after calc.); before the attack; feeling of great coldness of the left side of the body, shaking of the left arm, slumber with starting. The spasms spread, undulating from the solar plexus up towards the brain; violent screaming, groaning, tears drop out of his eyes, foam before the mouth; afterwards, warm perspiration, slumber, paralysis of the right side. Exalted susceptibility to nervous stimuli, with an exhausted condition of the nerves, abdominal epilepsy.

Stannum. Helminthiasis or genital orgasm. Epilepsy, with tossing of the limbs; clenching of the thumbs, pale face, opisthotonos unconsciousness.

Stramonium. Epileptiform spasms; thrusting the head continually in quick succession to the right; continual rotary motion with the left arm; pain in the pit of stomach, obstinate constipation, deep snoring sleep; risus sardonicus, pale worn-out appearance, with a stupid friendly look, afraid of being alone, convulsions affecting the upper more than the lower extremities, also isolated groups of muscles.

Sulphur. Whenever some dyscrasia lurks in the system, or its outward symptoms were suppressed; chronic epilepsy, before the spell; crawling and running as from a mouse down the back and arms, or up the leg to the right side of the abdomen; after the convulsions, soporous sleep and great exhaustion.

Tarantula. Hystero-epilepsy; sensation of dizziness before the fit, followed by convulsions and great precordial anguish.

Viscum album. Epilepsy, with constant vertigo, even when in bed; feeling as if the whole vault of the skull would be raised up, muscles of the face in constant agitation.

Zincum. Cerebral epilepsy; symptoms felt mostly during rest; aggravation after dinner and towards evening; twitching in various muscles: the whole body jerks during sleep.

Zizea aurea. Spasmodic movements of the muscles of the face and extremities; epilepsy.

ERYSIPELAS.

Principal remedies: acon., apix, arn., bell., bry., camph., canth., euphorb., lach., puls., rhus., sulph.

Aconite. Intense synochal fever, with restlessness, fear of death, etc.

Ammonium carb. Erysipelas of old people, when cerebral symptoms are developed, while the eruption is still out: debility and soreness of the whole body; tendency to gangrenous destruction.

Anthracin. Erysipelas gangrenosa with typhoid symptoms; great pain in head and dizziness; delirium and unconsciousness; great depression and prostration; fainting and copious sweating; sleep short, unrefreshing, more like stupor.

Apis. Erysipelas, with bruised sore pain and much swelling; stinging, burning, pricking pains in the skin, which is very sensitive to the slightest touch: erysipelas of the face and scalp, with puffiness of the eyelids, typhoid tendency, sphacelated spots here and there; the whole eruption rather pale than deep red; chronic erysipelas, recurring periodically, apt to go from right to left.

Arnica. Phlegmonous erysipelas, with extreme tenderness and painfulness on pressure, with tendency to the formation of bullæ; the swelling hot, hard, shining, even deep red; the patient feels nervous, cannot stand pain, and feels tired as after hard work, or as if beaten.

Belladonna. Intense erysipelatous fever, accompanied by inflamed swellings, passing even into gangrene; skin imparts a burning sensation to the examining hand; phlegmonous erysipelas; tendency to attack the brain, with delirium; severe headache, furious look, violent thirst, dry tongue, parched lips, etc.; smooth and shining erysipelas on the right side of the face; tendency of inflammation to spread in streaks.

Borax. Erysipelas of the left side of the face, painful when laughing, with sensation as if covered by cobwebs.

Bryonia. Erysipelas articulatorum, with drawing-tearing pains, increased by motion.

Cantharides. Typhoid erysipelas; vesicular erysipelas, with fine stinging burning pains internally and externally, the patient being uneasy, restless, distressed, dissatisfied; unquenchable thirst, with disgust for all sorts of drinks; kidneys and bladder involved; erysipelas begins on dorsum of nose and spreads to both cheeks, but more to the right.

Comocladia. Burning on face and eyes, worse towards evening, excessive swelling of the face, with tormenting itching and swelling, corrosive itching of the head; dizziness and heaviness of the head, with shooting pains, relieved by motion.

Euphorbium. Erysipelas of head and face, with digging, boring, and gnawing pains, followed, when ameliorated, by creeping and itching of the part. Considerable swelling of the parts affected, with small vesicles discharging a rather yellowish fluid.

Graphites. Chronic disposition of the disease to return, from right to left; phlegmonous erysipelas of head and face, with burning-tingling pains; swelling and induration of lymphatics and glands; very liable to take cold from the least cold air.

Lachesis. Where the cerebral affection does not yield to bell; bloated red face, attended with heat; headache and coldness of the extremities; one-sided tense headache, extending from occiput to eyes, with vomiting, vertigo, tendency to faint, and numbness; left side especially affected. (Bell right)

Ledum. Erysipelas of face and eyes from bites of insects.

Nux vomica. Gastritis the cause of the erysipelas, burning itching all over the skin, worse in the evening; great debility, with oversensitiveness of all the senses, and irritability of temper.

Pulsatilla. Erysipelas erraticum; bluish, spreading rapidly, especially about buttocks and thighs; smooth skin, headache; mucous diarrhoea, nausea, neither appetite nor thirst.

Rhus radicans. Phlegmonous erysipelas, especially when it begins in the ankle and moves gradually up the leg in the deeper tissues, sometimes with very little fever.

Rhus toxicod. Vesicular erysipelas: itching all over, especially on hairy parts; after scratching burning; swelling and redness of the face, with partial or entire closure of the eyelids; bruised feeling in the limbs and back; tendency to attack the brain; dark bluish redness of the parts affected.

Sulphur. Erysipelas migrans, appearing in subsequent throes, and running its course for a longer time than usual.

Terebinthina. Erysipelas bullosum, skin red and indurated, swollen; clusters of small, flat, pale, yellow vesicles, often confluent, with large red halos, here and there turning bluish-black, showing a tendency to gangrene.

For simple erysipelas: acon., bell., hep., lach.

For phlegmonous: acon., bell., hep., lach., merc., rhus; ars., bre., carb. an., cham., graph., phos., puls., sep., sulph.; ars., bor., calc., chin., lyc., petr., zinc.

FAVUS.

Constitutional treatment is of the highest importance, but as therapeutical hints might be given:

Arsenicum. The scalp is found perfectly dry and rough, covered with dry scales and scabs, extending sometimes even over the forehead, face, and ears (arsen. iod.).

Bromine. Malignant scaldhead, oozing profusely, where the skin is dry, extreme tenderness of the scalp, unbearable fetor of the discharge.

Calc. carb. Scabs are thick, and cover a quantity of thick pus, the scabs are large, even one half of the entire scalp being covered with a single scab; eruption spreading to the face; thick scabs, bleeding when picked, itching slightly.

Clematis. Eruption on occiput, extending down the neck, moist, sore, with crawling and stinging itching; often drying up in scales, itching worse when getting warm in bed, and but temporary relief by scratching.

Cornus circinata. Dry or moist eruption. Scrofulosis, with dry spasmodic cough, or tedious chronic cough, with mucous expectoration.

Graphites. Exudation of clear glutinous fluid, forming moist dirty scabs, matting hair together; itching on the scalp.

Jacea. Thick incrustations, pouring out a large quantity of thick yellow fluid, which agglutinates the hair.

Lappa major (Arctium lappa) Scalp covered with a grayish-white crust, and most of the hair disappeared; eruption spreading over head, face, and neck: moist foul-smelling eruption on the head of children: swelling and suppuration of the axillary glands.

Mezereum. Head covered with a thick leathery crust, under which pus collects and mats the hair. dry eruption on the head, with intolerable itching, as if the head were in an ant's nest. White, scaly, peeling off eruption on the scalp, extending over forehead and temples.

Oleander. Biting itching on the scalp, as if from vermin; worse back part of head and behind ears, better when first scratching it, followed by burning and soreness; worse evenings when undressing; humid, scaly, biting, itching eruption, especially on the back part of head.

Psorinum. Moist, suppurating, fetid eruption, or dry eruption; hair dry, lustreless, tangles easily; averse to having head uncovered; wears a fur cap even in hottest weather.

Staphisagria. Yellow, moist, offensive scales; falling out of the hair; humid, itching, fetid eruption on occiput, sides of the head, and behind ears; scratching changes the place of itching, but increases the oozing.

Vinea minor. Spots on scalp, oozing moisture, matting the hair together; the hair falls out on single spots, and white hair grows on it.

Chamomilla. Red and chapped or yellowish coated tongue; bitter taste of the mouth, and of food; fetid smell from the mouth; loss of appetite, nausea, or bitter or sour eructations and vomiting; great anguish, tension, and pressure in the region of the stomach, hypochondria, and especially in the pit of the stomach; flatulent colic, with tearing pains and distension of the abdomen; constipation, or diarrhoea, greenish stools, or sour diarrhoeic stools mixed with fecal matter and mucus resembling stirred eggs; yellowish urine, with flocculent sediment; hæmorrhagia; pains in the limbs; great nervousness, with restlessness and moaning, or vehement disposition; asthma; heat, especially of the face and eyes, with red cheeks, sometimes only on one cheek, or heat mixed with shivering and the hair standing on end, sleeplessness with restlessness, or restless sleep with anxious dreams, starting, etc. (Compare acou., bell., nux v., puls.)

China. Remittent fever, when the remission is marked, prostration considerable, the tongue not deeply loaded; pulse shows great fluctuations; during the fever full but compressible, in the remission weak and thready; humming in ears, accompanied by a sense of tightness across vertex or with a sense of rumbling through occiput.

Cocculus. Yellow-coated tongue; loathing of food; dry mouth, with or without thirst; fetid eructations and desire to vomit; painful fulness of the stomach, with difficult breathing; constipation, or soft stools with burning at the anus; great debility, with sweat on taking the least exercise; headache, especially in the forehead, with vertigo, etc. This remedy is frequently suitable after abuse of chamomile.

Ipecacuanha. Yellow coating on the tongue, with dry mouth; loathing of food (especially greasy things), with desire to vomit; fetid odor from the mouth; bitter taste in the mouth, and of food; nausea, with regurgitation of the ingesta, and vomiting of undigested food; pressure and painful fulness in the pit of the stomach; colic; diarrhoea, yellowish stools, or fetid putrid stools, pale yellowish color of the skin; headache, especially in the forehead; febrile heat, with thirst or shiverings. (Compare n. vom. and puls.)

Mercurius. Moist tongue, coated white or yellowish; dry and burning lips; nauseous, foul, or bitter taste; nausea, with desire to vomit, or vomiting of mucus and bitter substances; painfulness of the hypochondria, pit of stomach, or around the umbilicus, especially at night, with anguish and restlessness; sleepy in the daytime, wakeful at night, peevish irritable mood; chills alternating with heat, burning thirst, sometimes with aversion to beverage, etc. (Compare bell.)

Nux vom. Dry and white, or yellowish-coated tongue, especially towards the root; burning thirst, with burning in the throat; bitter or foul taste, bitter eructations, constant nausea, especially in the open air; desire to vomit, or vomiting of undigested food; cardiacgia, with aching pain; painful pressure and tension in the whole region of the stomach and hypochondria; spasmodic colic, with pinching and rumbling in the umbilical region; constipation, with frequent, but ineffectual urging to stool, or with small, diarrhetic, slimy, or watery stools; aching pain in the forehead, with vertigo, angry, vehement, peevish, hypochondriac mood; great debility and languor; red and hot, or yellowish and livid face; heat, mixed with chills or shuddering; bruised feeling in the limbs; aggravation of the symptoms towards morning, etc. (Compare acen., bry., cham., ipec., and puls.)

Pulsatilla. Whitish mucous coating on the tongue, flat, pappy, or bitter taste, especially after swallowing; eructations tasting of the food which one had just eaten, or bitter eructations; aversion to food, especially to fat and meat, with desire for sour or spirituous drinks; waterbrash; regurgitation of the ingesta; nausea, great desire to vomit; vomiting of slimy and whitish, bitter and greenish substances, or sour substances; vomiting of undigested food, pressure in the pit of the stomach, with difficult breathing; constipation or diarrhetic, white, slimy, or bilious or greenish stools, or stools resembling stirred eggs; hemicrania; frequent chills, with absence of thirst, or dry heat and thirst; alternate pale and red face, or one cheek is red and the other pale; sad mood, with whining, moaning, and restlessness. (Compare cham., ipec., and n. vom.)

§ 6. We may likewise use:

Antimonium. In consequence of indigestion, with loss of appetite, loathing of food, nausea, and desire to vomit; the aliments not having yielded to ipec. or puls.

Baptisia. Weak and tremulous feeling; pulse quick, full, and soft; internal and external heat, with thirst; chilly all day; whole body feels sore; heat at night, preventing sleep, headache and tendency to delirium; tongue yellowish brown in the centre, and red at the edges; constipation, alternating with diarrhœa; loss of appetite and great thirst; urine high-colored.

Colocynth. Bilious fever, with cardiacgia, spasmodic colic and diarrhetic stools, which come on again after eating ever so little, cramps in the calves, etc. Cham., bry., n. vom., or puls. were unable to effect a change.

Cornus. Flushes of heat and coldness in alternation; dull headache, with aching pains in the eyeballs; rumbling of wind in the bowels, stitches in the chest and under the scapula; sense of debility and fatigue; nausea, aversion to meat and bread, loss of appetite, gripping pains in the bowels; dark, green, thin, and very offensive stools, with copious emission of very offensive flatus.

Digitalis. Nausea early on rising; bitter taste in the mouth; first; slimy vomiting, diarrhœic stool, and great debility.

Eupatorium perf. Chilliness, with excessive trembling, aching of the bones, and soreness of the flesh, with nausea, followed by burning fever, alternate chilliness and flashes of heat, vomiting at every night; jaundiced color; thick yellowish fur on the tongue; intense headache, especially in the occiput; fulness and tenderness in the hepatic region, with stitches and soreness on moving or coughing; the scanty and dark-colored; profuse bilious watery stools, with tuses and severe colic, prostration, and relaxation.

Gelsemium. Complete loss of muscular power, marked exacerbation of the fever towards night, and decline of the heat without respiration towards morning; heaviness of the head, with vertigo and blindness, loss of appetite, with bitter taste; large, deeply bilious stools, asthenia and stupor.

Iris ver. Chills over the whole body, although abundantly covered; fever, with muttering delirium and bilious diarrhœa.

FEVER, Hectic.

§ 1. Principal remedies: ars., calc., chin., cocc., ipec., phos., phos. sil., sulph.; also, bell., con., cupr., dig., fluor. ac., hell., ign., iod., lach., lyc., merc., n. vom., puls., sep., stann., staph., veratr., zinc.

§ 2. For slow nervous fever, give: ars., chin., cocc., merc., mosch., vom., phos. ac., staph., veratr., or caust., cyclam., gels., ign., osmium, al. ac.

Hectic fevers attended with local chronic inflammations, suppurations, etc., require the remedies which correspond to the respective gastric affections, principally: 1, ars., calc., chin., cocc., ipec., phos., sulph.; or, 2, bell., canth., hep., lach., lyc., merc., puls.

Hectic fevers caused by emotions, long grief, homesickness, etc., require: phos. ac., staph.; or, ign., lach., merc., and even ars., graph.

If caused by debilitating loss of animal fluids, by depletion, sexual excesses, etc., give: 1, chin., n. vom., phos. ac., sulph.; or, 2, calc., cin., laeb., staph., etc.

If coming after severe acute diseases, such as typhus, cholera, etc., give: 1, cocc., hell., hyos., phos. ac., psor.; or, 2, ars., chin., veratr.

Hectic fevers may likewise result from dyscrasia scrofula, syphilis, etc.), or from abuse of medicinal substances, or from slow poisoning, in which case give the antidotes indicated under these respective heads.

§ 3. Particular indications.

Arsenicum. Great emaciation, with debility and palpitation of the heart; night sweats, with hot and dry skin in the daytime; thirst, obliging one to drink frequently, but little at one time; restless sleep, unrefreshing, disturbed by sudden starting; constant desire to lie down; irritable and strange mood; loss of appetite, with weak digestion, etc.

Calcarea. Constant heat, with little thirst, or frequent paroxysms of flushes of heat, with anguish and palpitation of the heart, or constant shuddering, especially in the evening, with red cheeks; withering dry skin; emaciation, debility with listlessness; loss of appetite; paroxysms of anguish, in the evening; dry and short cough, great desire to be magnetized; great prostration after talking; sweat breaking out easily; great apprehensions about one's health; slow, weak digestion, night sweats, etc.

China. Pale complexion and sunken cheeks and eyes; great listlessness; dry and flaccid skin; sleeplessness or restless sleep, unrefreshing, with anxious dreams; loss of appetite, with desire for dainties, or great hunger, even voracious, with weak digestion, ill humor, malaise, distended abdomen, and other ailments after eating; frequent sweats, especially at night; frequent diarrhoeic stools, even with discharge of undigested food.

Cocculus. Great debility and trembling after the least exertion; frequent flushes of heat, especially in the face; blue margins around the eyes; dry mouth; loss of appetite; oppression of the chest, with orgasm of the blood and anguish, great sadness; sudden starting from sleep, and anxious dreams; frequent nausea; sweat easily breaks out during motion; bland temper.

Ipecacuanha. Dry and extremely troublesome heat, especially in the evening, with thirst; great restlessness, burning in the palms of the hands and night sweats; parchment like skin; desire for dainties only, very listless; out of breath after the least motion, etc.

Phosphorus. Dry cough, with short and oppressed breathing; chilliness towards evening followed by dry heat; debilitating diarrhoea; exhausting clammy night sweats; emaciation, debility, etc.

Phosphoric acid. Sad oppressed mood; taciturn, listless, the hair turns gray; febrile heat in the evening, with anguish and accelerated pulse; debilitating sweats in the morning, etc.

Silicea. Pale livid complexion, dry short cough, emaciation; loss of appetite; shortness of breath; debility, especially in the joints; febrile heat in the evening or morning, etc.

Sulphur. Febrile heat, especially towards evening, with sharply circumscribed redness of the cheeks (especially the left cheek), dry skin, with thirst; thin pale face; dry or diarrhoeic and slimy stools.

short oppressed breathing; palpitation of the heart; sweat towards morning; debility, tired feeling in the limbs, with heaviness, dry cough, etc.

FEVERS, Inflammatory.

Synocha, Synochus, etc.

§ 1. The principal remedies for inflammatory fevers, or acute fevers with local inflammations, are: 1, acon., bell., bry., hyos., merc., n. vom., phos., puls., rhus; 2, ars., can., cham., kal., lye, nitr., sulph., veratr.; 3, chin., chinin., coccul., coloc., coff., hep., ipeec., lach., mez., natr. m., nitr. ac., op., phos. sec., sep.

§ 2. For simple synochal fevers we use: 1, acon.; 2, bell., bry.; 3, ars., cham., hyos., merc., puls., rhus, sulph.

If they assume a typhoid character, with symptoms of cerebral irritation, the following remedies are required: 1, bell., bry., hyos., op., rhus; or, 2, cham., coccul., n. vom., phos. ac., stram., and others.

See Typhus; also, Typhus Putridus.

§ 3. If these fevers should be attended by symptoms of meningitis, pleurisy, pneumonia, violent pains in the stomach, enteritis, etc., acute cutaneous eruptions, vomiting, diarrhoea, etc., give the remedies indicated under these respective heads.

§ 4. In every local inflammation, no matter what organ is affected, acute is the principal remedy when the fever is violent, with thirst, dry burning heat, and a hard (full or not full) pulse: acon. should be continued until the inflammatory pulse is subdued. Very sensitive persons sometimes require the alternate use of coffea and acon.

Aconitum. Burning heat, sometimes preceded by chills or shuddering, burning thirst; dry and burning skin, bloated hot and red face or red spots on the cheeks; or redness of face, which alternates with paleness, especially when the patient raises himself; red, inflamed, and painful eyes; sleeplessness, restlessness, agonizing tossing about, sometimes attended with anguish, dread of death, screams; full and hard or subdued pulse; violent stitching or aching and beating pain in the head; vertigo on raising the head; nightly delirium; dry lips and mouth; clean and moist tongue; hurried stuttering speech; dark-red urine; oppression of the chest, with short, anxious, hurried breathing; stitches in the chest or sides; short cough; palpitation of the heart; pains in the limbs. (Compare bell., bry., cham.)

Belladonna. Internal and external heat, with dark-red face and eyes, burning thirst, with aversion to drink, or constant desire to drink without ability to do so; moist and clammy skin; sleepiness in the daytime, sleeplessness at night; or restless sleep with sudden starting, twitching of the limbs, loss of consciousness, muttering, grasping at flocks, or screams and convulsions, or furious delirium, fearful visions, desire to escape from bed; obstinate and malicious; hot head; violent headache, especially in the forehead, as if everything would issue through the forehead; dilated pupils; furious and wandering look; photophobia; dry mouth and lips; ulcerated corners of the mouth; hurried and indistinct speech; sore throat, with difficulty of swallowing; cough, with headache and redness of the face; scanty yellow urine; stitching pains in the limbs; red spots on the skin. (Compare acn., cham., merc.)

Bryonia. Great heat or chill, with chattering of teeth, either one or the other symptom, attended with redness and heat of the head and face; night-sweat, especially towards morning; unquenchable thirst, sometimes followed by vomiting; drowsiness, with sudden starting, screams, and delirium, as soon as the patient closes his eyes; delirium day and night; irritable mood or apprehensions on account of his illness, dread of death; taciturn; restless, tossing about, grasping at flocks; great and general debility; hard, full, and hurried pulse; stupefying headache, with vertigo on raising the head; dullness of hearing and sight; dry lips, pressure in the pit of the stomach; constipation; dry cough, with pain in the pit of the stomach; stitches in the chest or side, tearing or stitching pains in the limbs. (Compare acn., bell., cham., nux vom.)

Camphora. After a chill of congestive appearance flying shooting pains all over, bluish lips and fingers; distended veins; rapid breathing; heat, trembling, stupor.

Chamomilla. Internal and external heat, sometimes preceded by a chill; or heat in the face and eyes, with red cheeks, or only one cheek being red; burning thirst with burning from the mouth to the stomach, sleeplessness, with restlessness and tossing about, or sleep with anxious dreams and sudden starting; great restlessness and anguish; hemiparesis; vertigo on raising the head, with darkness or scintillations before the eyes and fainting turns; red and cracked tongue; bitter taste in the mouth and of the food; sour or bitter eructations and vomiting; anguish, tension and pressure in the region of the stomach and hypochondria; colic and diarrhoea; hot burning urine; tearing in the limbs, face, and head; fetid breath, distress of breathing and orthopnea. (Compare acn., bell., nux vom.)

Gelsemium. Heat with languor and drowsiness; aching in back and limbs; little thirst; sleep interrupted by half waking and muttering; evening or early morning crimson flush of whole face, sometimes preceded by cold hands and feet; distant objects look confused, and outlines were shaded with some colors, eyes heavy-looking, suffused, sometimes oscillating; wants to keep very still; pulse full, frequent, not tense.

Ipecacuanha. Dainty appetite, clogged by everything; subjective conditions, nausea; diarrhoea; hands and feet cold; dry heat without thirst; sweat variable, profuse, or absent; listlessness.

Mercurius. Chills alternating with heat, red skin, burning thirst, sometimes with aversion to drink; frequent full pulse, stitching and aching pains in the head; red bloated face; vertigo on raising one's self; dry and burning lips; moist tongue, or coated white or yellowish; painful sensitiveness in the region of the hypochondria, epigastrium, and umbilicus, great anguish, tossing about, sleeplessness; sleepy in the daytime; peevish and disposed to be vehement. (Compare bell.)

Nux vom. Heat, especially in the face, sometimes mixed with shuddering; dry and burning skin; hard frequent pulse, great debility and fainting turns; anguish, with palpitation of the heart and dread of death; extreme nervousness; sleeplessness or comatose sleep; headache worse on stooping; vertigo worse on stooping; hot red face, sometimes accompanied with chilliness of the body; dull, dim, red eyes; dry and white tongue; thirst, with burning in the throat; aching pain in the stomach and region of the stomach; constipation; bruised feeling in the limbs, vehement, irritable mood. (Compare bry. and cham.)

§ 6. Of other remedies use:

Arsenicum. For burning heat at night, with burning in the veins; sleeplessness, with great restlessness and tossing about; anguish, with despair and dread of death; great debility and necessity to lie down.

China. Heat, dry mouth, parched and burning lips, red face, delirium, chill as soon as the patient uncovers himself ever so little; debility, and pains in the limbs.

Coffea. Suitable to children; for great restlessness, tossing about, nervousness, screams, weeping.

Hyoscyamus. Violent delirium, sleeplessness from nervous excitement, subsultus tendinum, grasping at flocks; red and hot face; red, staring, and sparkling eyes.

Lycopodium. Circumscribed redness of the cheeks, cerebral irritation, debility, dry and red tongue; constipation; ill-humor after sleeping; screams, headstrongness, and grumbling.

Pulsatilla. Dry heat at night, especially in the face, with heat and redness of one cheek; delirium; whining mood; no thirst, or else unquenchable thirst; tongue covered with white mucus; painfulness of the pit of the stomach; bitter taste; diarrhoeic slimy stools.

Rhus t. Great heat, anguish, dry skin, stupefying headache, delirium, with desire to escape; red burning face; red, dry, and rough tongue; debility and grasping at flocks.

Sulphur. Dry, husky, scaly skin; no sweat from beginning, pulse frequent, skin, especially feet, very hot; no change from day to day; frequently remaining after the use of other remedies.

§ 5. As regards the relation of the stages, give:

a. For fevers, where the chill and coldness prevail, either entirely or partially: 1, bry., canth., caps., chin., n. vom., puls., sabad., veratr.; 2, coff., diad., hyos., ipec., petr., phosph., ruta., staph.

b. When there is only chill and heat, but no sweat: 1, arn., ars., bell., bry., carb. veg., cham., dulc., ign., ipec., nitr. ac., n. vom., rhus, sulph.; 2, acon., caps., carb. an., bell., lyc., merc., phosph., phos. ac., puls., sabad., sep., spig., sulph., tart., val.

c. When there is only chilliness and sweat, but no heat: 1, caust., magn. aust., puls., rhus, veratr.; 2, amm. m., ars., bry., carb. an., lyc., sabad., sulph., thuj.

d. For mere heat, with little or no chill and sweat: 1, acon., bell., bry., ipec., n. vom., sabad., sil., val., veratr.; 2, ars., calc., coff., coloc., dulc., lach., lyc., op., phosph., puls., staph., sulph.

e. For heat and sweat without chill: 1, ars., caps., carb. veg., cham., coff., led., n. vom., op., phosph., rhus, stram.; 2, acon., amm.

m., bell., bry., carb. an., chin., cin., hell., hep., ign., ipec., puls., sabad., spig., staph., tart., val., veratr.

f. When the sweat prevails: 1, bell., bry., calc., chin., hep., merc., rhus, samb., sep., sulph., veratr.; 2, acon., ars., carb. veg., graph., natr. m., puls.

g. When chill, heat, and sweat exist in the same degree: 1, acon., ars., bell., bry., caps., cham., graph., ign., ipec., rhus, sabad., spong., veratr.; 2, chin., cin., bell., hep., lyc., magn. aust., nitr. ac., n. vom., phosph., puls., sabin., staph., sulph.

§ 6. As regards the succession of the symptoms, give:

a. When the chill comes first, then the heat: 1, acon., ars., bell., cin., hep., natr. m., n. vom., puls., rhus, spig., sulph.; 2, bry., caps., carb. veg., chin., dros., hyosc., ign., ipec., natr. m., nitr., petr., phosph., phos. ac., sabad., veratr.

b. When the heat comes first, then the chill: 1, bry., calc., caps., n. vom., sulph.; 2, bell., lyc., puls., sep., staph.

c. When heat and chilliness alternate: 1, ars., bry., calc., chin., merc., n. vom.; 2, asar., baryt., bell., coc., lyc., natr. m., phosph., phos. ac., sabad., sil., spig., sulph., veratr.

d. When the heat and chilliness exist simultaneously: 1, acon., ars., bell., calc., cham., hell., ign., merc., n. vom., puls., rhus, sep.; 2, anac., asar., bry., chin., ipec., lyc., nitr. ac., oleand., rhab., sabad., spig., sulph., veratr. External heat, internal chill: acon., ars., bell., calc., coff., ign., lach., lyc., men., nitr., n. vom., phosph., sep., sill., squill., sulph. Internal heat, external chill: ars., bry., chin., hell., merc., mosch., phos. ac., puls., rhus, sabad., spong., stann., veratr.

e. Sweat and chill coming simultaneously: 1, lyc., puls., sabad., sulph.; 2, ars., calc., led., n. vom., thuj. Sweat after the chill, no heat: 1, carb. an., caust., lyc., rhus, thuj., veratr.; 2, bry., caps., lyc., magn. aust., sabad.

f. Sweat and heat together: 1, bell., caps., cham., hep., n. vom., op., rhus; 2, acon., bry., chin., cin., hell., ign., ipec., merc., phosph., sabad., spig., staph., val., veratr.

g. Sweat after the heat: 1, ars., cham., ign., ipec., rhus, veratr.; 2, bry., carb. veg., chin., cin., coff., graph., hep., lyc., nitr. ac., op., puls., spong., staph., sulph.

§ 7. As regards the thirst, give:

a. For thirst before the paroxysm: ars., chin., eupat., puls. During the chill: 1, acon., bry., caps., carb. veg., cham., cin., ign., natr. m., n. vom., rhus, veratr.; 2, ant., ars., calc., chin., hep., ipec., kal., natr., sulph. After the chill or before the heat: ars., chin., dros., puls., sabad., thuj.

b. Thirst and heat together: 1, acon., bell., bry., calc., cham., hep., hyos., lach., merc., natr. m., rhus, sec., sulph.; 2, caps., chin., n. vom., puls., sil., val., veratr. No thirst during the heat: 1, ars., camph., caps., carb. veg., chel., chin., hell., ign., ipec., men., merc., n. mosch., sabad.; 2, apis, bell., lach., n. vom., puls., rhus, samb., sep., spig., sulph., veratr.

c. Thirst after the heat: amm. m., chin., n. vom., op., puls., tart. Thirst during sweat: ars., cham., chin., hep., merc., natr., natr. m., puls., rhus, stram., veratr. Thirst after the sweat: lyc., n. vom., sabad.

§ 8. As regards secondary symptoms, give:

a. For pains in the limbs: ars., chin., bell., ign., natr. m., n. vom., rhod., rhus, veratr. For great debility: ars., chin., ferr., hyos., lach., lyc., merc., natr. m., n. vom., phos. ac., rhus. For dropical symptoms: ars., chin., ferr., bell., stram. For sopor or drowsiness: bell., carb. veg., bell., hyos., lach., op., puls., rhus, tart. For great nervous and mental excitement: acon., ars., bell., bry., cham., coff., ign., lyc., n. vom., puls. For tendency of blood to the head (with vertigo, delirium, stupor, etc.): acon., bell., bry., camph., carb. veg., coloc., hyos., lach., n. vom., op., puls., rhus, stram., val. Violent headache: ars., ars., bell., chin., ign., lach., lyc., mez., natr. m., n. vom., phos. puls., rhod., rhus, sep., spig. Gastric symptoms: ant., ars., asa., bel., bry., cham., chin., dig., ign., ipec., natr. m., n. vom., puls., stram., sulph., tart. Diarrhoea: ars., ars., cham., chin., coloc., ipec., phos. phos. ac., puls., rhus, veratr. Constipation: ars., bry., calc., lyc., natr. m., n. vom., veratr. Liver complaint: ars., chin., merc., n. vom. Affections of the spleen: ars., cap., cham., chin., mez., n. vom. Catarrhal symptoms (cough, etc.): acub., bell., bry., chin., con., hep., kreas., lach., merc., n. vom., puls., rhus, sabad., spig., sulph., sulph. ac. Oppression of the chest and distress of breathing: acon., ant., ars., ars., bry., chin., ferr., hep., ipec., lach., n. vom., phos., puls., sep., sulph.

And when these secondary symptoms set in principally before the paroxysms, give: 1, ars., ars., carb. v., chin., ipec., natr. m., puls., rhus; 2, bell., calc., cin., hep., ign., n. vom., phos., spong., sulph.

If during the chill: 1, ars., bry., caps., chin., hep., ign., natr. m., n. vom., puls., rhus, veratr.; 2, ars., calc., carb. v., cin., hell., ipec., lach., merc., mez., n. mosch., sabad., sep.

If during the heat: 1, acon., ars., bell., carb. v., cham., ign., natr. m., n. vom., op., puls., rhus; 2, bry., calc., caps., chin., coff., dias., hyos., ipec., lach., merc., op., phos. ac., sep., sil., sulph., veratr.

If during the sweat: acon., ars., bry., cham., lach., merc., natr. m., n. vom., op., phos., puls., rhus, sep., sulph., veratr., zinc.

If after the paroxysm is over: ars., bry., carb. v., cic., coff., ign., lach., lyc., n. vom., plumb., puls., rhus, sabad., sil.

§ 9. As regards the pulse (a very imperfect indication in fever and ague) give:

a. For intermittent pulse: ars., chin., dig., lach., merc., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. vom., op., phos. ac., sec. For apparently wanting imperfect pulse: acon., ars., carb. v., con., cupr., hyos., op., sec., stram., tart., veratr. Hard pulse: acon., bell., bry., canth., hyos., iod., n. vom., phos., plumb., stram., sulph. Small pulse: acon., ars., bell., camph., canth., elem., cupr., dig., hyos., lach., laur., merc., n. vom., op., phos., plumb., sec., sil., stram., veratr. Slow pulse: bell., camph., chin., con., cupr., dig., laur., merc., op., phos., plumb., puls., rhod., rhus, samb., sec., veratr. Hurried pulse: acon., ars., bell., bry., coloc., hyos., iod., merc., phos., puls., sec., sil., spong., sulph. Irregular pulse: acon., ant., ars., bry., chin., dig., hep., kal., lach., merc., natr. m., nitr. ac., phos. ac., rhus, sec., spig., stram., val. Full pulse: acon., bell., bry., camph., coloc., ferr., hyos., lach., n. vom., op., phos., puls., samb., sec., sep., spong., stram., sulph., tart. Soft pulse: carb. v., chin., cupr., iod., plumb., stram., veratr. Tremulous pulse: ars., cic., con., merc., rhus, spig., stram., tart.

§ 10 Arsenicum. Paroxysm general, violent, and of long duration, stages distinctly developed and equally proportioned to each other or else, as is most frequently the case, one or the other stage is absent or very feebly present, generally the cold stage fails and the hot stage is all the more violent; the sweating stage absent or very copious, perspiration breaks out several hours after the hot stage and lasts for a long time. Before the fever, faintness, inclination to lie down, pain in abdomen and chest. During the chill, shuddering without thirst, worse in open air; pains in limbs, anguish, uneasiness; coldness in abdomen, pain in pit of stomach, oppression of chest, pulmonary spasms, headache; tastelessness of food, inclination to vomit. During the chill and during the heat, aggravation of symptoms, which existed before, but were of slight importance. During the heat, internal burning, inclination to uncover, with thirst and frequent drinking of large or small quantities of water, which often disagrees with the stomach; swelling of the face, pain in liver, redness of skin, headache, vertigo, and even delirium; drinking of cold water, even in fever, causes chilliness. During sweat, no relief, great thirst, buzzing in the ears. During apyrexia, burning sensations in different parts of the body, chiefly in chest and abdomen; watery diarrhoea, with feeling of great prostration, painfulness of the whole epigastric region, with nausea and disposition to vomit; great precordial anguish; violent pains or lameness of extremities; tendency to dropsy or to degenerate in a remittent fever. Such as caught the fever by the seashore. Tertian fevers; relapsing cases of dumb ague of malarial origin.

China. Miasmatic intermittens. Before the fever nausea, headache, hunger, anguish, and palpitation of heart. Paroxysm postponing or anticipating; chill over whole body, increased by drinking, thirst before or after the chill, but not during the chill; internal violent chill, with icy-cold hands and feet, and congestion of blood to the head; wants to be near the stove, but it increases the chill. General heat, with distended veins, long lasting, which frequently sets in late after the chill; during the fever thirstlessness, or thirst for cold drink only; hunger and sleepy after eating; desire to uncover, aversion to food, or canine hunger; profuse debilitating sweat with thirst during this stage. All three stages are distinctly marked, and the paroxysm is of long continuance. Anticipating or postponing type, especially in cases with sallow face, sunken features, confusion of the head and impaired digestion. During apyrexia, great debility, loud rumbling in the head, sense of constriction from ear to ear over the vertex, great sensitiveness to currents of air, sinking at epigastrium, a feeling of emptiness without hunger, or with hunger easily appeased, contractive pain under the left lower ribs, mental depression with irritability; uneasy sleep, drowsy after a meal; dropsical symptoms; pain in liver, which is often greatly swollen; enlarged spleen; aching, stitching pains in spleen when walking slowly; pain extends in direction of long axis of spleen.

Chininum sulph. Fevers with regular type, complete intermissions. Regular paroxysm of chill at the same hour; during the chill blue lips and nails, ringing in the ears, pale face; pain in dorsal vertebrae all down the spine on pressure; fever-heat with fulness of head, ringing in ears, and hardness of hearing, red face, passing over into sweat, especially in the evening, followed by profuse perspiration, especially on back and neck, when he sleeps; excessive thirst, just before and during hot stage, with dryness of mouth and fauces; pain in the region of liver and spleen on bending, taking a long breath, or coughing; lassitude and excessive prostration, with thirst, during apyrexia.

Ignatia. Thirst only during the chill, which is relieved by external heat; chill frequently of only the posterior part of the body, with pains in back during chill; external coldness with internal heat or internal chill with external heat; fever, with external heat, no thirst, nettlerash over whole body, with intolerance of external warmth, one-sided burning heat of the face; flushes of external heat; continuous quick alternations from heat to cold; fainting during heat or sweat; very little perspiration, or only in the face; sensation as if sweat would break out, which does not follow; sweat when eating; headache, and pain in pit of stomach; great languor, deep sleep, with stertorous breathing after or during the fever; eruption on lips and corners of mouth.

Ipecacuanha. Predominance of gastric symptoms during the paroxysm as well as during the apyrexia; violent retching before the chill; paroxysm sets in with yawning, stretching, and a collection of saliva in mouth; chill generally of short duration, soon passing over into heat; internal chill, as if under the skin, aggravated by hot applications, lessened by drinking and in the open air; coldness of upper part of the body; no thirst or but little thirst during the chill, violent thirst for large quantities during the heat; backache, short chill, long fever, with oppression of chest, dulness of mind, and constant nausea and cough; heat all over, with alternate coldness and paleness of face; feels worse during sweat and better after it. Unequal distribution of heat during the fever, sour-smelling perspiration, more or less thirst all the time, shortness of breath, loss of appetite, and feeling of oppression in the chest; or chill and fever are severe, with little or no sweat, or a kind of sticky cold feeling of the skin. Intermittent fevers after abuse of quinine, also in beginning of irregular cases, especially if there is much nausea.

Lachesis. Thirst before the chill, general chill, with chattering of the teeth and desire for external warmth; shivering, benumbing chill, running up back to head (tertian); chill and heat alternating and changing from place to place; chill in the afternoon, with violent pains in limbs and pleuritic stitches, oppression of chest, and convulsive motions; violent headache during the heat, livid complexion, debility, heat, especially at night, in the hands and feet; internal sensation of heat with cold feet; profuse sweat; great inclination to sweat; sweat yellow and cold, or bloody and staining red. Spring intermittents, or after suppression in the previous fall by quinine, worse in the early afternoon; loquacity during hot stage.

Natrum mur. Hard chill about 11 A.M., with great thirst, which continues through all stages; chill mostly internal, hands and feet icy cold; chill begins in the feet or small of the back, blue nails, thirst, burning headache, nausea and vomiting, sometimes stupor; heat, with increased headache and thirst for large quantities of water; unconsciousness or obscuration of sight, and faintishness, during the fever blisters on the lips like pearls; ulcerated corners of month. Sometimes persistent vomiting precedes the chill, with great thirst during the chill, but the cold water is thrown up soon after drinking. Sweat relieves the headache and other pains. Paroxysms anticipating, worse in the forenoon and daytime. During apyrexia stitches in the liver, great languor, emaciation, sallow complexion; urine muddy, with red sandy sediment; loss of appetite; fever blisters. Intermittents after abuse of quinine, living in damp regions, or near newly-turned ground.

Nux vomica. Anticipating morning fever; chill at irregular hours, with aching in the limbs, gaping, no thirst, blue nails; then thirst, long-lasting fever, with stitches in the temples; light sweat; apyrexia, marked by gastric and bilious symptoms; legs feel weak, paralytic. Congestive chills, with vertigo, anguish, delirium, vivid visions, distended abdomen; stitches in the sides and abdomen. Irregular paroxysm, sweat, then chill, then sweat, or heat first, then chill or external heat and internal chill, or vice versa; constant desire to be covered, even during heat and sweat; during the chill the skin, hands, feet, and face are blue; during the heat burning in the hands, burning in the ears, red urine, headache, buzzing in the ears, distress in the chest, heat about the head and face; red cheeks and thirst during chill and heat; during sweat tingling in the skin; chilliness from every motion; keeps well covered during chill and fever.

Pulsatilla. Before the paroxysm, drowsiness all day, mucous diarrhoea. Chill 1 P.M., no thirst, anxiety, dyspnoea, vomiting of mucus when the chill comes on; chill in spots, now here, now there; one-sided coldness, with numbness; heat of face or of one hand, with coldness of the other; body hot, limbs cold; internal dry heat, without external heat; laborlike pains, sleepiness, starting when falling asleep. Sweat one-sided, only on face and head, more at night and morning, soon ceasing after waking. During apyrexia, headache, nervous diarrhoea, nausea, and loss of appetite, enlarged spleen, suppression of menses or menstrual irregularities. Quartan fever. Long chill, little heat, and absence of thirst, none of the stages very marked, and apt to run one into another; frequently the symptoms are much mixed up, sometimes thirst present, when the hot stage is strongly marked.

Rhus tox. Before the attack, burning in the eyes, increase of mucus in the mouth, a dry teasing cough before and during the chill, with painful weariness of the limbs; constant chilliness as if cold water were poured on him, or as if the blood was running cold through the veins; 7 P.M., feels cold when moving; chill over the back, increased by drinking; pains in bowels or diarrhoea; heat, with nettle-rash, pressure and swelling at the pit of the stomach, general heat as from hot blood running through the veins, thirst, drinking little but often, or excessive heat without thirst; sweat, even during the heat, except on the face, with violent itching of the eruption, sour or musty, with or without thirst, sleep during sweat. Heat and sweat after chill, or chill in some parts and heat in others, or both at the same time; thirst, mostly at night, from dryness of mouth; constant restlessness, patient cannot sit quiet, or compelled to turn in bed frequently without finding an easy place; continual motion only relieves.

§ 11. Aconite. Recent cases, or as a good intercurrent remedy during the hot stage; violent chill and heat, especially about head and face, with red cheeks: cough during the fever: anguish, palpitation of heart, pleuritic stitches, nervous excitability, ill humor or sadness, dread of death.

Alstonia constricta. Chronic miasmatic intermittent fevers, often suppressed by quinine; general debility and great prostration, rigors, cold sweats, diarrhoea. Is apt, where not indicated, to change the type of the fever without any other effect on it.

Antimon. crud. Much gastric disturbance; the greatest sadness and woeful mood: chillness predominates, not relieved in a warm room: violent shaking chill towards noon, with thirst (for beer), or thirstlessness; aching in forehead, bitter taste, and eructations of food taken: pain in chest, with heat and drawing in sacrum, sweat breaks out during the heat, but soon disappears and is again followed by dry heat; great desire for sleep; during apyrexia tongue thick and white; sore feeling and redness on border of tongue; constipation or diarrhoea: disgust for drink and food, desire for pickles.

Antimon tart. Soporose intermittens. Chilliness, as if cold water was poured over him, with gooseflesh, gaping, thirstlessness; long-lasting heat after a short chill, with somnolency and sweat on forehead, sweat follows long after heat during sleep; backache with chill; pain in chest when coughing: neither appetite nor thirst during apyrexia, but great weariness and headache.

Apis mel. Pure, uncomplicated, but non-malarial intermittent: paroxysms well-marked: quotidian fevers, without any disease in liver and spleen; intermittent fever, chill coming on at 3-4 p.m., beginning in front of chest or in the knees, worse in a warm room or near the stove; renewed chilliness from the slightest motion, with heat of the face and hands; heat, with inclination to uncover; during hot stage more or less violent headache, generally a continuous deep sleep; dry hot skin, or alternate dry and moist skin; sweat, light or absent, after trembling and fainting, then nettlerash: thirst wanting during sweat, may or may not be present during heat, always thirst during the chill. During apyrexia pains under short ribs, especially on left side, swollen feet, and scanty urine, great soreness of all the limbs and joints, nervous excitability, with restlessness, urticaria, sleeplessness, great oppression in chest, as though the patient would suffocate. Protracted cases.

Aranea diadema. Quotidian fevers of paludal origin: the chill occurs at precisely the same hour daily; lasting chill, either without any heat or sweat, or with little or short heat not followed by sweat with great lassitude and disinclination to work; feels continually chilly, even on a hot summer day, and feels decidedly worse on wet rainy days; nocturnal toothache in upper and lower maxilla; hæmorrhage from lungs and uterus; numb feeling in the periphery of the ulnar nerve, also in the ring and small finger of both hands; gastricismus, loss of appetite, nausea, inclination to vomit, anomalies of stool, urine dark-colored, liver and especially spleen enlarged; after awhile ascites, loss of strength, laziness, irritability, or more often apathy. Great thirst during chill.

Arnica. Congestive chills, with hyperæsthesia of spinal cord before the chill yawning and thirst; chill felt worse in the pit of the stomach; head hot, red face, drinking a great deal, no thirst during heat or sweat; internal chill with external heat; morning chills of chill mostly in the evening, with much thirst even before the chill; bone-pains, during the fever constant desire to change one's position, apathy, pains in stomach, no appetite; head alone or face alone hot, body cool; great internal heat, hands and feet being cold; sweat and breath sour and offensive, sometimes cold. During apyrexia aversion to meat, headache, yellow face, bitter taste, listlessness.

Belladonna. Violent headache, with stupefaction, chill and heat alternating; coldness of the limbs, with heat of the head; shivering running down the back; continuous dry burning heat, beginning early, with red face and throbbing of the carotids, with sweat only on the head; sweat on the covered parts; no thirst or else a good deal; irritable whining mood.

Bryonia. Coldness prevails; chill, with external coldness of body, mostly in the evening, and frequently only on the right side; worse in the room than in the open air; dry burning heat, mostly internal, the blood seems to burn in the veins, with great aggravation of all the sufferings; sweat in short spells and only on single parts. Chill begins on the lips and tips of the fingers and toes; great thirst in all stages, but greatest during the heat; profuse sweat, often sour, easily excited by the least exertion, even when slowly walking in the open air, and lasts a long time; pulse full, hard, tense, and quick; headache and vertigo during the heat, or before the chill, coated tongue, bitter taste, aversion to food; nausea, desire to vomit; the patient feels best when lying upon the painful side and getting warm in bed.

Cactus grand. Particular symptomatic indications:

Aconitum. Yellow coating on the tongue; bitter taste in the mouth and of food and drink, except water; excessive nausea, bitter eructations, violent but ineffectual urging to vomit, or bitter, greenish, or slimy vomiting; distension and swelling of the hypochondria, with painful sensitiveness of the region of the liver, no stool, or small, frequent stools, with tenesmus, beating or stitching pain in the head, worse when talking.

Agaricus. Fulness in stomach even after eating light food moderately; pressure and fulness in abdomen; very drowsy after dinner, he sleeps deeply and awakens with pains in all his limbs; after supper tormenting fulness in abdomen, backache, chills; after a meal nausea, eructations, abdomen distended.

Antimonium. Indigestion, with the following symptoms: frequent hicough, loss of appetite, loathing, tongue coated or covered with blisters, dry mouth; or else: accumulation of saliva or mucus in the mouth; thirst at night; nausea, desire to vomit, increased by drinking wine, eructations smelling and tasting of the ingesta, or with a fetid smell; vomiting of the ingesta or of slimy and bilious substances, painfulness of the stomach to the touch, with painful feeling of fulness, colic and frequent flatulence; diarrhoea or constipation; dull headache; worse when smoking or going upstairs. (After ant., bry. is sometimes suitable.)

Arnica. Gastric symptoms occasioned by external injuries, watching, mental exertions, etc.; generally for: great nervousness, with dry or yellow-coated tongue; putrid, bitter, or sour taste; bad smell from the mouth; desire for acids; aversion to smoking; eructations of putrid eggs; urging to vomit; flatulent distension, especially after a meal; heaviness of the whole body; giving way of the knees; vertigo; dulness of the head; aching pain, with heat in the face, and stupefaction. (After anæmia, are sometimes suitable nux. v. cham.)

arsenicum. Acid bitter eructations; dry tongue, with violent thirst and desire to drink frequently, but little at a time; salt or flat taste, nausea, vomiting of the ingesta or of bilious, brownish, greenish substances; colic, or burning pains in the stomach and bowels, with chilliness and anguish, or violent burning pressure at all spot in the stomach; great sensitiveness of the region of the navel to contact; great debility, desire to lie down; no stool, or watery, greenish, brownish, or yellowish diarrhoea with tenesmus; the vomiting or diarrhoea comes on again after drinking and every motion of the body.

alladonna. Whitish, yellowish, or thickly-coated tongue; aversion to drink and food; sour taste of rye-bread; vomiting of food, or of acid, bitter, or slimy substances; sometimes with constant nausea, thirst, or thirst; headache in the sinuiput, as if every thing would burst at the forehead, with throbbing of the temporal arteries; no stool, or slimy diarrhoea.

cyonina. Especially in summer, and hot and damp weather; taste insipid, flat, even with good appetite; sometimes bitter, or putrid, or offensive breath; appetite generally diminished or destroyed, aversion to food; thirst day and night, with sensation of dryness of tongue, in mouth and throat; after eating eructations, sometimes of the food, but generally bitter or sour, with accumulation of water or tasteless water in the mouth; aversion to solid food, desire for wine, acids, or coffee; hiccough; nausea after a meal, but ineffectual attempts at vomiting, or else bilious vomiting, usually after drinking; nausea after a meal, though the food tasted and was eaten with relish; food oppresses the stomach, is felt as a load at the epigastrium, and is often regurgitated; sensation of distension and sometimes actual swelling in the umbilical region; flatulation; dulness of head with vertigo, or burning, oppressive, oppressive pain in head, worse after drinking; chilliness and shuddering.

carbolic acid. Total loss of appetite, but desire for stimulants; constant belching up of wind, regurgitation from stomach, intense heat and waterbrash, better after raising a sort of sweetish sour taste; sensation of warmth in epigastrium; heavy weight in epigastrium with constant inclination to relieve himself by fruitless efforts at eructations or by pressing the hand into the pit of the stomach; distension of gas in abdomen; rumbling and rolling in abdomen; frequent, sluggish stool; muddled and confused feeling in head.

hamomilla. Red and cracked tongue, or coated yellow; bitter taste in the mouth and of food; fetid odor from the mouth; loss of appetite, nausea, or eructations, and greenish, bitter, or sour vomiting; constant and oppressive anxiety, tension and pressure in the pit of the stomach, hypochondria, and epigastrium; constipation, or greenish, acidic stools; or sour diarrhoea, or discharge of fecal matter and mucus, resembling stirred eggs in appearance; restless sleep, with tossing about and frequent waking; pain and fulness in the head;

hot and red face; red and burning eyes; sensitive, suspicious temper. (If the patient should have made excessive use of chamomile tea, give coec. and puls.)

Cocculus. Yellow-coated tongue; loathing of food and at the same time sensation of hunger in epigastrium; aversion to drink and yet great thirst; fetid eructations, nausea, and desire to vomit, especially when talking, after sleeping, when eating, or during motion, particularly riding in a carriage; painful fulness in the region of the stomach, with labored breathing; constipation, or soft stools, with burning at the anus; debility, with sweat during the least exercise, aching in the forehead, with vertigo.

Ipecacuanha. Clean tongue, or thickly coated with yellowish mucus; dry mouth; loathing of food, especially fat food, with desire to vomit; violent ineffectual straining, or else vomiting of the ingesta or of slimy substance, easy, but with great force; fetid smell from the mouth; bitter taste in the mouth and of food; violent pains, pressure, and fulness in the region of the stomach; colic and diarrhoeic stools of yellowish color, or fetid, putrid smell; chilliness or shuddering over the whole body; pale, yellowish complexion; aching in the forehead, or sensation as if all the bones of the skull were broken; sometimes nettles rash.

Mercurius. Moist tongue, or coated white or yellowish; dry burning lips, offensive, foul, and bitter taste; nausea, desire to vomit, or bilious mucous vomiting; painful sensitiveness of the epigastrium and abdomen, especially at night, with anguish and restlessness; drowsy in the daytime, sleeplessness at night; sometimes aversion to drink. (Is frequently suitable after bell.)

Nux vomica. Dry and white tongue, or yellowish toward the root, no thirst, or else burning thirst with heartburn; accumulation of albuminous mucus or of water in the mouth, bitter or foul taste in the mouth, or else the food tastes flat; bitter eructations, constant nausea, especially in the open air; desire to vomit, or vomiting of the ingesta; cardialgia; painful pressure and tension in the epigastrium and hypochondria; constipation, with frequent but ineffectual urging to stool, or small diarrhoeic, slimy, or watery stools, dulness of the head, with vertigo, heaviness, especially in the occiput; ringing in the ears, rheumatic pains in the teeth and limbs; worn-out feeling, inability to think; restless, quarrelsome, vehement disposition; hot and red, or yellowish and sallow face. (After nux v., cham is frequently suitable.)

Pulsatilla. Tongue coated with whitish mucus; foul, pappy, or bitter taste, especially after swallowing; bitter taste of food, especially of bread; bitter, sour, or putrid eructations, or tasting of the ingesta; aversion to food, especially warm-boiled food, also to fat and meat, with desire for acids or spirits; acidity of the stomach; excessive mucus in the stomach; regurgitation of the ingesta; excessive nausea, desire to vomit, especially after eating and drinking, or with evening exacerbations; vomiting of food, or mucus, or bitter and sour vomiting (especially at night); hard distended abdomen, with flatulence, rumbling; slow stool, or slimy and bilious diarrhoea, hemierania, tearing or darting; chilliness, with languor and drawing through the whole body; ill-humor; taciturn, vehement without reason, especially when the patients are habitually of a bland and obliging disposition.

§ 4. Use likewise:

Capsicum. Accumulation of mucus and acids in the stomach; heartburn, waterbrash; stomach icy cold, or burning in the stomach, and at the anus during every stool; stools of tenacious mucus, suitable to phlegmatic persons or to such who take everything in bad part.

Carbo veg. Malaise, no appetite; pyrosis, great flow of water; sour or rancid eructations; vomiting of food, of sour, bilious, or bloody masses; pains in stomach on pressure; stomach feels heavy and dragging down; pain in stomach from nursing or other loss of fluids; heaviness and dullness of head, with debility.

China. Heartburn after milk; belching, sour rising; frequent eructations, or regurgitation and vomiting of the food; constant satiated feeling, yet can eat, but feels worse afterwards; fulness in stomach and abdomen; flatulence, belching does not relieve; slow digestion, food remains long in the stomach, especially if eaten too late in day.

Cina. Dryness of mouth; inability to swallow, drinks roll round in the mouth for a long time; on drinking wine she shudders, as if it were vinegar; canine hunger shortly after a meal; qualmish distress at epigastrium; winding and sticking pains around navel, as if navel were forcibly pressed inward, increased by respiration and pressure; edious feeling of warmth in abdomen.

Coffea. Hiccough, eructations; constant inclination to vomit felt in the throat, gastric symptoms, accompanied by great nervousness and sleeplessness.

Colocynthis. Feeling of emptiness in the stomach; pit of stomach very sensitive to touch; nausea rising from the stomach, vomiting of bitter-tasting yellow fluid; diarrhoea after eating ever so little.

Digitalis. Sinking at the stomach, feels as if she were dying, with constant persistent nausea and vomiting; nausea even after vomiting, with clear tongue covered with white slime, soreness and bloatedness of the pit of the stomach; frequent desire to defecate, and very small soft stools, without relief.

Graphites. Hiccough after nearly every meal; rancid heartburn after dinner; vomiting sour or of food; constricting pain in gastric region; griping in stomach, with flatulency.

Hepar sulph. Frequent odorless and tasteless eructations; constant sensation of water rising in the oesophagus, as if he had eaten sour things; heartburn, nausea, with coldness and paleness; stomach frequently and easily disordered; pressure in stomach after moderate eating; colic and constipation, or diarrhoeic slimy stools.

Lobelia infl. Acidity in the stomach, with contractive feeling in the pit of the stomach; hiccough with profuse flow of saliva, followed by browiness in the evening, incessant violent nausea and vomiting, sensation of weight in the stomach as from undigested food; worse on pressure.

Lycopodium. Derangement of stomach from pastry; sour eructations; frequent belching, without relief; heartburn, waterbrash; nausea after cold, not after warm drinks; fulness and flatulency in stomach and bowels; gnawing griping in gastric region.

Robinia. Fulness and oppression in pit of stomach; bitter, flat, or foul taste, excessively acid eructations; long-continued nausea, finally relieved by vomiting, which is so tiresome that it may cause fainting; constant inclination to stool, finally black, fetid, watery stools, with great relief.

Tartarus emet. Constant nausea, with desire to vomit; retching, then vomiting, followed by great prostration; sensation as if stomach had been overloaded, with frequent eructations like foul eggs; abdomen feels as if stuffed full of stones, though it does not feel hard; slimy vomiting and diarrhoea.

Acon., ars., bell., bry., cedron., cimicif., col., con., erot., figl., gels., ham., kali iod., merc., nux., phosph., phyt., prun., spin., spig., sulpa., zinc., val.

Belladonna. Relieves the severe pains of glaucoma, especially if accompanied by throbbing headache, flushed face, etc. The eyes are injected, pupils dilated, fundus hyperemic, and pain both in and around the eye, mostly deepseated and of a pressing nature, sometimes as if the eye were being torn out, or as if pressed into the head. The eyes feel hot, dry, and stiff, as if they might protrude.

Bryonia. The eyes feel full as if pressed out, with sharp shooting pains through the eye and head. The eyes feel sore to the touch, and on moving them in any direction, or by any exertion of them in reading and writing, especially at night.

Cedron. Severe ciliary neuralgia, especially when the pains are distinctly periodical; severe shooting pains along the course of the supraorbital nerve; dilatation of the pupils; dimness of vision; eye injected and sore to the touch.

Cimicifuga. Ciliary neurosis; sense of enlargement of the globe; the eyes feeling as though they were to be pressed out of their sockets; congestive headaches.

Colocynth. Severe burning, aching, sticking, cutting pains in and around the eye, always relieved by firm pressure and by waking in a warm room, worse by stooping and by rest at night.

Conium. Dilatation of pupils, with dimness of sight; feeling of pressure in the eyes when reading, writing, or doing any fine work; photophobia; in serofulous persons.

Gelsemium. Choroidal and venous congestions, either with or without serous effusion. Amaurotic symptoms, with dilatation of pupils, disturbed accommodation, pain in eyes, with or without lachrymation.

Hamamelis. Venous congestion, hemorrhoids, conjunctival vascularity, ciliary neuralgia, photophobia, lachrymation.

Kali iod. Incipient glaucoma in syphilitic subjects; dull discolored state of the iris; burning in eyes, lachrymation, dilated pupils, amaurotic symptoms.

Phosphorus. Fundus hyperemic and hazy, halo around the light, and various lights and colors flashing before the eyes.

Phytolacca. Dimness of sight; dull aching pains in eyes; worse from motion, light, or exercise; rheumatic or syphilitic cases.

Prunus spin. Pain severe, crushing in the eye, as if pressed asunder, or sharp shooting through the eye and corresponding side of the head. Aqueous and vitreous humor hazy; fundus hyperæmic.

Rhododendron. Incipient glaucoma, with much pain in and around the eye, periodic in character, and always worse just before a storm, ameliorated after the storm commences.

Spigelia. Pains sharp and stabbing through the eye and head, worse on motion and at night.

Aconite. In the beginning of the disease; micturition painful, difficult, drop by drop; burning distress in the urethra.

Agave americana. Excruciating painful erections, chordee, strangury, drawing in the spermatic cords and testicles extending to the thighs.

Agnus castus. Yellow and purulent discharge after the inflammatory symptoms have subsided; there is neither sexual desire nor erections.

Antimon. crud. Burning when urinating, the urine being mixed with blood, urethra feels sore to the touch, knotty, suppression of urine.

Argentum nitr. Burning when urinating, with sensation as if the urethra were sore and swollen inside, with cutting pain extending to the anus, and a discharge of excoriating pus; chordee; enlargement and induration of the testicles from suppressed gonorrhœa.

Aurum. Inability to retain the urine; stricture of urethra, with continual urging to urinate; or profuse discharge, excoriating the perineum and inner parts of the thighs, with vesicular eruptions in these parts, and laborlike pains.

Camphora. Strangury from stricture following gonorrhœa, the urine passing drop by drop or a thin stream, also when the urine is acid, chordee during gonorrhœa.

Cannabis sat. Usual in the premonitory stage, when the discharge is yet thin, or afterward when the urethra feels as if drawn up into knots, prepuce greatly swollen and sensitive to the touch; ulcerative soreness of the urethra on touching it, smarting and burning during and after micturition; constant urging with difficult urination, dark redness of the glans and prepuce; priapism, with free mucoid discharge. In women, when there is cutting during micturition between the labia, violent sexual desire, with swelling of the vagina, the orifice of the urethra closed with mucus. Urine is voided in a spray.

Cannabis indica. The nervous symptoms more marked than the blennorrhagic ones; priapism, chordee, involuntary erections and emissions, nymphomania.

Cantharis. Tenesmus vesicæ, constant desire to urinate, passing only a few drops at a time, often mixed with blood; severe chordee; yellow or bloody discharge; excessive sexual desire, with erections at night.

Capsicum. Pricking, burning, cutting pains, with sensation of warmth in the urethra, excessive sensibility of the parts to contact; white, creamlike, or thick, purulent, yellow discharge; erections.

Carbolic acid. Frequent desire to urinate, with burning pain in urethra; urine of a dark color.

Clematis. Pain in urinating, most severe at the commencement; the patient cannot pass a drop of urine for a long time, finally a few drops pass away, or there follows an interrupted stream without pain.

Copaiva. Violet smell of the urine; yellow, purulent discharge, with constant desire to urinate; nettlerash.

Cubebæ. Irritation of urinary passages; increased secretion of mucus from urethra; cutting and constriction after micturition; hæmaturia; urine smells of the drug.

Doriphora. Itching and burning in the glans penis, which is swollen and bluish red; urethra inflamed, with severe pain when urinating.

Erechthites. Scanty bloody discharge; great pain when urinating; orchitis during gonorrhœa, or when the discharge became suppressed.

Gelsemium. Gonorrhœa in its acute stage, with great pain inflammation, and scanty discharge; suppressed gonorrhœa with fever, rheumatism, orchitis.

Graphites. Gluey, sticky discharge at the meatus urinarius, which does not drop out.

Hepar sulph. Discharge of whitish, yellowish, or discolored pus, attended with fetid smell, particularly when occasioned by scrofulous leucorrhœa, or after repeated attacks.

Hydrastis. Acute or chronic gonorrhœa; copious, persistent discharge without pain or soreness in the urethra, which is thick, yellow or green, tenacious; sensation of weakness and goneness after every stool; want of tone in mucous membrane.

Kali bichrom. After passing urine it seems as if a drop were remaining far back in the urethra, which he is unable to expel, this drop burns and worries him a long time with fruitless efforts to expel it.

Lithium carb. Greenish yellowish discharge from urethra, thick and profuse, alternating with hæmaturia.

Mercur. cor. Orifice of urethra inflamed, forepart swollen, with suppuration between glans and prepuce; the glans feels hot, painful when touched, accompanied with burning pain and itching, stinging and throbbing in the urethra, the urine passing in a feeble stream; the discharge is greenish, often painless, especially at night (chancre in the urethra).

Mercur. iod. The discharge is free and mucoid; patches of induration along the urethra.

Mercur. sol. Yellow, green, or purulent discharge, worse at night; complication with phimosis or chancreoid.

Mezereum. Watery mucous discharge, increased by exercise, with stinging and titillating pain through the whole course of the urethra, extending to the perineum, with painful soreness of the urethra when touched; hæmaturia; anterior portion of urethra most painful.

Millefolium. Severe cases of hæmaturia, with great swelling of the penis.

Natrum mur. Gonorrhœa caused by acrid leucorrhœa or menstrual discharge, particularly where injections of nitrate of silver were used without success; discharge of yellow pus, but without pain, during micturition, or discharge of thin mucus, leaving thin, transparent spots on the linen; urine deposits a brickdust sediment; aching in the testicles, burning and cutting in urethra after micturition.

Nitric acid. Horrible pain, much swelling and tenderness in testicles; urine offensive and painful in voiding; suppressed gonorrhoea; condylomata about genitals and anus.

Nux vomica. Pressive pains occurring at the orifice of the urethra when not urinating, accompanied by shuddering and sharp pains, as of a cutting instrument, near the orifice of the passage, with discharge of mucus; constipation; hemorrhoids.

Petroleum. Itching of urethra in cases of long standing; chronic urethritis accompanying stricture; chronic inflammation of prostatic part of the urethra, with frequent emissions and imperfect erections; itching and humid herpes on the scrotum, perinæum, between scrotum and thighs. Gleet.

Petroselinum. Chronic cases of long standing, particularly suitable to old persons.

Pulsatilla. Orchitis, with swelling of scrotum from checked gonorrhoea; itching burning on inner and upper side of prepuce; gonorrhoea, with thick, yellow, or yellow green discharge; inflamed eyes; scanty urine, restlessness; suppressed gonorrhoea.

Senecio. Advanced states of gonorrhoea; prostata enlarged, hard, and feels swelled to the touch; dull heavy pain in the left spermatic cord down to the testicle; lascivious dreams, with pollutions.

Sepia. Chronic mucoid discharges without pain or burning when urinating; gleet, painless discharge only during the night, a drop or so staining the linen yellowish; titillation at orifice of urethra.

Silicea. Cases of long standing, with slight shreddy discharge; gonorrhoea, with thick fetid pus, especially after exertion to the extent of sweating; scrofulosis.

Stillingia. Chordee, painful erections, with burning and itching during micturition; threatening cystitis.

Sulphur. Burning pains near the orifice of the urethra, which is red and inflamed, with constant urging to urinate, accompanied with tearing and stinging, the stream of urine being thin and divided; much thickening along the urethra, with itching in it, stitches and cutting pain during stool.

Terebinthina. Burning in urethra while urinating; strangury, spasmodic retention of urine; painful urination every ten minutes, relief by micturition; chordee; gleet; gonorrhoeal rheumatism.

Thuja. Discharge is watery and copious, with drawing, burning, cutting, piercing pains, especially when walking, and stitches in the urethra when not urinating; gonorrhoea, scalding when urinating; urethra swollen; urinal stream forked; discharge yellow, green, watery; warts, erosions on the glans. Checked gonorrhoea causes articular rheumatism, prostatitis, sycosis, impotence; condylomata.

§ 5. Compare Hæmorrhage from the Respective Organs.

Guernsey gives us the following valuable hints:

Aconite. Hæmorrhages, occurring particularly at night, or if caused by anger or fright; patient can't lie on either side, and either is really worse, or is made to feel worse from rising; the flow is constant, and coagulates into a mass; thirst, dry skin, restlessness; dark hair, plethoric habit, especially in young people; mental symptoms: fear of death, of moving or turning, of rising, lest something may happen, etc.; no peace of mind.

Argentum nitr. Where belching of wind affords marked relief of suffering; observed particularly in hæmoptysis.

Arnica. Bleeding is caused by injury, concussion, fatigue; patient feels a soreness as from a bruise in the part whence the blood issues; hot head and cool body; pain causes a rush of blood to the head, which feels very hot to the patient; bleeding constant, and bright red; head sensitive; headache.

Belladonna. Forcing or bearing-down sensation in uterine hæmorrhage, as if the abdominal contents would be pressed out of the vagina, with loss of blood; blood coagulates easily and feels hot to the parts through which it passes; congestion to head, eyes, eyeballs, which are red, flushed face; patient can't bear the least jar of the floor; wishes to drink little and often; wishes to be covered warmly, and even then may have cold thrills pass through the body; feels worse, or is worse in the afternoon or evening, from a draught of air, from rising; in plethoric people with red faces.

Calcarea carb. Leucophlegmatic temperament; patient feels worse when the limbs hang down, even in bed, wishing to keep them drawn up and feels better in dark rooms, from being rubbed, loosening the garments, from warmth, and on being covered up warmly.

Cantharides. Hæmorrhage from any part, if attended with cutting and burning pains during micturition.

Carbo veg. Collapse, desire to be fanned hard and continually, skin dry, cold, and bluish; anguish of heart; blood bright red, rigid fibre; cold breath; pulse weak and irregular.

Chamomilla. Spiteful and irritable temper; blood dark, more or less clotted; desire for air; thirst; urine pale and profuse. Worse in the night from warmth, anger, eructations while lying on painless side, while perspiring, during sleep, from coffee; feels better while fasting.

China. Ringing in the ears as of bells; fainting spells; pulse irregular, flickering, imperceptible; skin cold and clammy, uncoactions. Worse periodically in the night after drinking, whilst talking, after perspiring, from touching the parts softly.

Crocus. The blood forms into long black strings, as it escapes from inner parts; sensation of rolling and bounding in the abdomen as from a stone; worse in the morning, on fasting, in the house, during pregnancy; better in the open air, after eating.

Ferrum. Great erethism of the circulation, red face and full pulse, blood partly fluid and partly clotted, black, with laborate pains in the abdomen; feels worse in the night, particularly after midnight, from fat food, from abuse of Peruvian bark; very weak, though having flushed face and full pulse.

Hyoscyamus. A constant flow of bright-red blood, with bluish face; congested eyes, twitching of the muscles; delirium, unconsciousness; worse in the evening from mental emotions; jealousy, unhappy love, from taking cold; better in stooping over or leaning forward.

Ipecacuanha. Constant flow of bright-red blood; constant nausea; pain about the umbilicus; cold skin, cold sweat; suffocating spells and dyspnoea. Worse periodically, from vomiting, coughing, from suppressed eruptions, after eating venal. Haemorrhage may have been produced from taking Peruvian bark at some past time.

Kali carb. Chiefly in post-partum haemorrhage, also in threatened abortions between second and third months, accompanied by pain in the back, extending down over the buttocks. Haemorrhages attended with stitching pains. Worse after vexation, after being overheated, from lying on the side; better from warmth, from eructations.

Lachesis. Always when blood can be discerned like black straws as a sediment, whether from the uterus, bowels, nose, stomach, lungs, or at the bottom of the ulcer. Often useful in typhus when hemorrhages occur. At the climax, paroxysms of pain in the right ovarian region, relieved by gushing of blood from the vagina. Chills coming on at night as an accompaniment of bleeding.

Lycopodium. Haemorrhages, accompanied with a sensation of fullness up to the throat; and taking food and drink, even in small quantities, increases that feeling of fullness; hiccorygnus and a constant sensation of fermentation in abdomen; flushes of heat; desire to be fanned continually day and night; desire for more air; palpitation and dyspnoea; cutting pains from right to left in abdomen; cannot lie on either side.

Mercurius. Epistaxis; haemorrhages of old women after the catarrh is passed, haematuria in typhus, etc. Suitable for light-haired persons with lax skin and muscle; moist mouth and tongue with thirst; foot-sweat scentless; mental symptoms of a serious and anxious character; blood light; scorbutic condition of the gums.

Nitric acid. Bleeding from the uterus, with pain in the back, extending down through the hips to the legs, and pressure as if the uterus would be forced down and out of the vagina; epistaxis; hæmoptysis; one of the best remedies for bleeding from the bowels; suits dark-haired persons with rigid skin and muscle; no thirst; foot-sweat fetid; mental condition of distrust; blood dark; urine like horse urine.

Nux vom. Frequent urging to stool, with sensation as if feces were remained in the rectum, which the patient desires to expel. Worse about 4 A.M., in cold air, after liquors; better in warm air, lying on the side, in loose garments, after passing flatus.

Phosphorus. Small wounds or orifices bleed profusely; weak, emaciated feeling in abdomen; tall slim persons with black hair; worse lying on left side or back; from warm food or warm drinks; from bed-ridden after sleep; erectile tumors; amelioration after sleep.

Platina. Blood flows in thick clots and fluids, or in one grumous mass, thick, black, and tarry; feeling of horror of what may happen, as thought of death, etc; sensation of growing larger in every direction.

Pulsatilla. Tearful and gentle disposition; flow intermits, and is in clots and fluids mixed; cannot bear a close room, must have plenty of air; no thirst; scanty urine.

Sabina. Pain is felt running through from pubis to sacrum in uterine haemorrhage; blood is discharged in liquid and clots, dark red or pale. Worse in close warm room; better in open air.

Secale corn. Passive hæmorrhage: blood dark or red in feeble cachectic persons, accompanied by tingling in the limbs and prostration; desire for air; does not like to be covered; wishes to have the limbs extended; skin cold.

Sepia. Sensation of weight in the part from which the blood flows, empty feeling in the pit of the stomach; worse from nursing; better from drawing up the limbs.

Sulphur. Sensation of heat in the part from which the blood flows, worse when warm in bed or when exposed to heat; gets sick soon, and soon gets well again.

HÆMORRHAGE FROM THE ANUS.

From injuries to the anus and rectum: acon., arn., cact., calend., chin., croc., hamam., millet., phosph., sulph., sulph. ac.

HÆMORRHAGE FROM THE EYES.

1, acon., bell., crotal., lach., phosph.; 2, bell., calc., carb. v., cham., ecuphr., ham., led., ruta., seneg.

Ecchymosis: arn., bell., calc., cham., crotal., nux. v., plumb., rut., seneg.

HÆMORRHAGE FROM THE LUNGS.

Hæmoptoe. For spitting of blood: 1, acon., arn., bell., bry., cactus., carb. veg., chin., dale., lach., ledum., merc., nit. ac., puls., rhin., staph., sulph.; 2, anim., ars., con., copaiva., croc., cupr., elaps., kai., lyc., sep., sulph. ac.

For real hæmorrhage, loss of large quantities of blood: acon., arn., arsenate of soda., bell., cactus., chin., ipéc., led., ferr., millet., phosph., sulph. ac.

Acalypha indica. Expectoration of pure blood in the morning, and dark lumps of clotted blood in the evening, cough, with little expectoration: arterial hæmorrhage, preceded by burning in chest.

Aconite. Orgasmus sanguinis in the chest, with feeling of fullness and burning pain, palpitations, anguish, restlessness, fright, fear of death, aggravation on lying down; copious discharge of blood from time to time, even when coughing but very little; after wine the blood comes hot and fresh, like arterial blood, causing a decided burning sensation behind sternum.

Antimonium crudum. Hæmoptoe after bathing.

Aranea diadema. Hæmoptysis: bloody expectoration in persons weak and anæmic through privations of all kinds.

Arnica. After mechanical injury; from slight bodily exertion: slight expectoration of black or coagulated blood, with heavy breathing; stitching, burning, and contraction of the chest; palpitation of the heart; great heat in the abdomen and fainting fits, or for discharge of bright-red frothy blood, mixed with mucus and coagulated lumps; tickling cough under the sternum; stitching in the head, and bruised pain in the region of the ribs when coughing.

Arsenicum. After loss of blood, great weakness, restlessness, anguish, with palpitation; dry burning heat, driving one out of bed.

Belladonna. Cough, from constant tickling in the throat, aggravating the bleeding; sensation as if the chest were filled with blood; stitching pains in chest; worse from motion.

Cactus. Pneumorrhagia, accompanied each time with convulsive cough and expectoration of large quantities of blood; difficulty of breathing; continued oppression and weariness, as if the chest were constricted with an iron band; congestion of blood in the chest, which prevents him from lying down in bed.

Carbo veg. Pale face, cold skin; pulse slow, intermitting, scarcely perceptible; violent cough in paroxysms and hoarseness; worse towards evening; burning in chest.

Carduus marianus. Expectoration of pure blood, or mucus mixed with blood, the result of a diseased liver.

China. Bloody expectoration during violent cough, which was first hollow, dry, and painful, with taste of blood in the mouth; alternate shivering and flushes of heat; great debility, with constant desire to lie down; frequent sweats; trembling; dimness of vision, or dulness of head; or, after great loss of blood, the patient being pale and cold, with fainting fits and convulsive twitchings of the head and facial muscles. (Ferrum follows well.)

Collinsonia. Blood dark, tough, coagulated, enveloped in viscid phlegm; bleeding caused by cardiac affections or portal congestion; previous discharge of blood from anus; subsequent constipation.

Conium. Especially after masturbation; dry, spasmodic, nightly, almost continually titillating cough, with violent oppression of the chest and evening fever; suffocating cough in scrofulous patients; want of breath on taking the least exercise, and copious cough, with mucous discharge.

Dulcamara. Constant titillation in the larynx, with desire to cough; expectoration of bright-red blood, with aggravation during rest; the bleeding is caused by a cold, or a loose cough, which had existed previously.

Ergotin. Passive pulmonary hæmorrhages, mostly venous, but may be also arterial, usually preceded by sensation of pressure upon the chest, with anguish, faint feeling, weak and small pulse; patient wants to lie with his head low, and wants the windows open.

Ferrum. Scanty expectoration of pure bright-red blood during a slight paroxysm of cough, with pains between the scapulae; quick motion and talking brings on cough; feels better when walking slowly, notwithstanding weakness obliges him to lie down; heavy breathing, especially at night, with frequent palpitation of heart; poor sleep; sallow complexion.

Hamamelis. Pure venous blood coming into the mouth without much effort, seemingly like a warm current from out of the chest; mind calm; labored respiration when attempting to assume the recumbent position, breathing becomes almost impossible; tickling cough, with a taste of blood in the morning on waking; sometimes taste of sulphur in the mouth.

Hyoscyamus. The discharge of blood is preceded by a dry cough, especially at night, obliging the patient to get up; frequent sudden starting from sleep; also suitable to drunkards, where opium or nox v. failed to give relief.

Ignatia. For the debility after the arrest of the hæmorrhage, with disposition to be vehement or vexed; deep sighing breathing.

Ipecacuanha. Copious bleeding from the lungs, preceded by sensation of bubbling in the chest; taste of blood in the mouth; frequent hacking, with expectoration of blood-streaked mucus, occasioned by the least effort; nausea and debility.

Ledum palustre. Copious discharge of bright red and foamy blood, accompanied by violent cough in paroxysms, caused by a tickling in larynx and trachea, congestion towards the chest and head, hardness of hearing; pulse strong and hard; a burning pain in some point of the chest, from which the blood seems to come; stagnation in liver and portal veins; coxalgia alternating with hæmoptoe.

Millefolium. Expectoration of florid blood, without much coughing, sometimes in consequence of violent exertions; pulmonary phthisis after hæmoptoe.

Nux vomica. Especially after high living and for those given to strong drinks; tickling in chest, with cough, distressing the head; suppressed hæmorrhoidal discharges; after fits of passion.

Opium. Suitable to persons who are addicted to drinking, in severe cases, or for discharge of thick frothy blood, cough aggravated by swallowing; oppression or heavy breathing and anguish; burning at the heart, tremor of the arms and feeble voice; anxious sleep, with sudden starting; coldness, especially of the extremities, or heat, especially in the chest or other parts of the trunk; absence of all pain.

Phosphorus. Vicarious spitting of blood for the menses; tubercular diathesis; dry tight cough; trembling of the whole body while coughing, hæmoptysis, with occasional attacks of profuse hæmorrhage, pouring out freely, then ceasing for some time, followed by anaemia and great debility; worse from evening till midnight.

Plumbum. Phthisical disposition, when bloody and purulent sputa alternate one with another.

Pulsatilla. Dark coagulated blood; anguish and shuddering, especially at night; debility, loose stools, suppressed menstruation, crying spells; extreme soreness in upper left chest, shoulder and arm.

Rhus tox. After straining, lifting, blowing of instruments, or worryment and mental excitement continually renewed; bright red blood, with tickling in the chest; cough, which seems as if it would tear something out of the chest. Expectoration of blood becomes nearly a habit, so that the patient gradually becomes anæmic, weak, and the blood itself poor.

Sanguinaria canad. Hæmoptoe during incipient phthisis, especially in women suffering from amenorrhœa, or during and after climaxis.

Senecio gracilis. Hæmoptoe in suppressed menstruation after venesection; considerable debility; flashes of heat at times during the day; cough first dry, then loose, with copious expectoration of yellowish mucus, streaked with blood, with sensation of rawness and soreness in chest.

Stannum. Hæmoptysis, with tendency to copious expectoration; empty sore feeling in the chest, which feels so weak that he cannot talk; pulse frequent and small.

Sulphuric acid. Characteric period; cough and hæmoptysis after typhus; profuse bleeding from the lungs; tuberculosis, with ulcers.

tions in different parts of the lungs: pulse small, feeble, accelerated, easily affected by alcoholic stimulants.

Sulphur. Frequently suitable after nux to persons affected with piles, or after arsen. to prevent relapses.

Tart. emet. When after the attack there remains for a long time a bloody slimy expectoration. Compare Hæmorrhages, Pneumonia, Pulmonary Phthisis, etc.

§ 3. Particular indications:

Acid lacticum. Morning sickness in pale anæmic women, who lose large quantities of blood during menses, which usually last from five to eight days.

Aconite. Active hæmorrhage, with fear of death, and much excitability; vertigo on rising from a recumbent position, she has to lie down again; restlessness; thirst.

Agaricus. Menses too profuse, with titillation in the genital organs, and tearing-pressive pains in the back and abdomen; strong desire for an embrace.

Aletris far. Menorrhagia in consequence of a congested condition of the uterus and ovaries: profuse discharge of dark-colored blood, with congloba; passive hæmorrhage from that condition of the uterus which predisposes to hæmorrhage and abortion ; general debility ; loss of tone in the muscular system.

Ambra grisea. Menorrhagia from the slightest cause, as after a long walk or a hard stool, during the interval between the regular menses.

Ammon. carb. Menorrhagia after a long drive in the cold air.

Ammon. mur. Flow more abundant at night ; a quantity of blood is passed at every stool during the menses.

Antimon. crud. Menorrhagia, with a peculiar sensation, as if something were being pressed directly out of the uterus.

Apis mel. Profuse uterine hæmorrhage of dark color, blood coagulates slowly or not at all, with heaviness in abdomen, faintness, great uneasiness, and yawning, resulting from acute congestion of ovaries, metrorrhagia, with red spots, like bee-stings, upon the skin, and sensation as if stung by bees in the abdomen and on different parts of the body.

Apocynum can. Profuse menses lasting eight days, with violent pressing pains, efforts to vomit, great prostration, and trembling of the whole body, preceded for a day or two by a moderate discharge, shreds or pieces of membrane come away with the fluid blood ; fainting when raising the head from the pillow ; hæmorrhage ceasing at intervals, always recurs when the vital powers rally ; great irritability of the stomach and vomiting ; palpitation whenever she attempts to move ; pulse feeble and quick ; excessive debility.

Aranea diadema. Menorrhagia, anticipating menses, metrorrhagia, bright-colored blood.

Argentum nitr. Menorrhagia, with cutting pains in the small of back and groin ; confusion, dulness, and much pain in the head, aggravated by the least movement. A short time seems very long to her, and everything done for her seems done so very slowly ; heaving wind affords marked relief ; flooding from fibroma uteri.

Arnica. In cases from a fall, a shock to the system, or concussion, blood bright red or mixed with clots ; nausea in the pit of stomach ; warmth about the head, and the extremities cool. Menorrhagia, and pain in small of back, extending into the groin and down the inner side of the thighs and legs to the great toe ; head hot, extremities cool ; tympanitis.

Arsenicum. (Solutio Fowleri.) Tedious, long-continued hæmorrhages, with great debility and lancinating burning pains, aphthæ in mouth ; uterus larger and softer than usual, with dilated os uteri ; a passive hyperæmia, based on atony ; chronic endometritis.

Belladonna. Profuse discharge of bright-red blood, which feels hot as it escapes from the vulva ; the blood flows profusely between the after pains ; vascular excitation, showing itself by throbbing in the carotids, flushed face, red eyes ; full bounding pulse ; nausea, and rumbling in the whole abdomen, with great weight from above downward ; gentle pressure on the uterus causes nausea ; there is a wave-like feeling, an undulating sensation, or pulsating tremor all over the body, from head to foot, a sick pulsation all over the body ; painful pressure over the sexual organs, as if all would escape from the vulva, or pain in the back, as if it would break ; the blood sometimes has a bad smell ; hæmorrhage between the periods, with darkness before eyes, yawning, twitching, and convulsive jerkings of the arms and ngers; offensive metrorrhagia; frequently indicated in uterine hæmorrhage after labor.

Borax. Menses too soon, too profuse, attended with colic and nausea; great nervousness.

Bovista. Menses too often and too profuse, flowing more in the morning and less at night, with discharge of blood between the periods.

Bromine. Menses too early and too profuse, of bright-red blood, passive flow with much exhaustion, or membranous shreds may pass off, particularly in women with affections of the chest, heart, or ves.

Bryonia. Hæmorrhage of dark-red blood, with pain in small of back, and headache as if it would split; dry mouth and lips; nausea and faintness on sitting up in bed or after eating.

Cactus grand. Menorrhagia in clots, with bearing-down pains; very three expels clots of blood; menses are premature as well as too copious; the flow ceases on lying down; cardiac complications; the menses are dark-colored, or black and thick.

Calcareæ carb. Frequent menses, often attended with aching in the vagina, it seems difficult for her to stop menstruating; cold and numb feet, she wants to be covered up, feels chilly, and is sensitive to the slightest draught of air; vertigo on stooping, worse on rising or going upstairs; profuse menstruation during lactation; climaxis.

Cannabis sat. Too profuse menses; dysuria, with sensation of soreness in the whole track of the urethra.

Cantharis. Uterine hæmorrhage, with great irritation in the neck of the bladder; urinating often, smarting, cutting, and burning in passing only a few drops; more suitable to sterile women.

Carbolic acid. Menses much more profuse and darker than usual, preceded by headache and great nervous irritability.

Carbo anim. Menses too early, not too profuse, but last too long; weakness of the thighs. After the appearance of the menses she is so tired she is scarcely able to speak.

Carbo veg. Metrorrhagia from uterine atony, even when she is cold and deathly pale; uterine hæmorrhage, with excessive tension and burning pain across the sacrum; much itching of the vulva and anus; tettery eruption on the nape of the neck and between the shoulders; dragging pain from the abdomen to the back.

Chelidonium. Passive hæmorrhage, an oozing from the lax vessels after premature delivery; tremulous weakness felt in the entire body, accompanying the flow, with sensation of excitement; the uterus is soft and relaxed, and contracts very feebly; menorrhagia; threatening abortion, with spasmodic bearing-down

Comilla. Metrorrhagia of dark coagulated blood, occasionally interrupted by bright-red gushes, with tearing pains in legs and labor pains in uterus; hæmorrhage of dark blood, with pressure towards the uterus and frequent discharge of colorless urine; hæmorrhage of dark-red or black fetid blood, with lumps; the flow is irregular and starts at irregular intervals; coldness of the extremities; fainting; desire for cool air; frequent discharge of blood; irascibility; local and general sensibility abnormally exalted; cervix enlarged and indurated; uterine cavity enlarged.

China. Hæmorrhage from atony of the uterus; paroxysmal discharges of clots of dark blood; uterine spasms, colic; frequent urging to urinate, and painful tension in the abdomen; coldness and blueness of the skin; suitable to persons who have lost much blood, even in severe and desperate cases, with heaviness of head, ringing in ears, vertigo, vanishing of the senses, sopor, fainting fits, cold extremities, pale and bluish face and hands, with convulsive jerks across the abdomen; debility incident to menorrhagia.

Cimicifuga. The discharge is profuse, dark, and coagulated, more of a passive character, accompanied with heavy, pressing-down, laborlike pains, nervousness, hysteric spasms, pains like those of rheumatism in the back and limbs.

Cina. Menses too early and too profuse, particularly in nervous women, who are constantly tossing, even during sleep; diarrhœa, always worse after drinking.

Cinnamomum. Excessive menstrual flow, bright red and clear, suitable to pregnant or lying in women, after straining, missing a step, or some other exertion.

Coccus. Menses profuse and too often, when rising upon the feet it gushes out in a stream; painful pressure in the uterus, with cramps in the chest and fainting nausea; sensation as of sharp stones in the abdomen, at every movement.

Coccus cacti. Menorrhagia only in the evening when lying down, never when stirring about, sharp pains in the lower part of the abdomen, first in right side, then in left. She passes enormous black clots from the vagina; urging to pass water, but she cannot do so until one of these clots had passed. Sensation of tension and constriction about the abdomen, and of something ascending towards the stomach, which makes her think she will vomit water.

Coffea. Profuse menstruation, with excessive sensitiveness of the organs and voluptuous itching.

Collinsonia. Congested condition of the cervix uteri, with painful hæmorrhoids and aggravated constipation.

Crocus sat. Menorrhagia of dark stringy blood, hanging down from the bleeding orifice; if a mass of blood, which at first appeared as a clot, is examined, it will be found to be composed of an aggregation of dark, round, distinct strings, resembling long angleworms knitted together; sensation of something alive in the abdomen, turning and twisting about; great excitement, palpitations; liveliness alternating with somnolence; liability to fainting, excessive timidity, yellowish or sallow color of the face, post-partum hæmorrhage; worsens from slightest movement.

Cyclamen. Menorrhagia, with dizziness, stupefaction, and obscuration of vision, as if a fog were before the eyes.

Erigeron can. Profuse and alarming hæmorrhage of bright-red blood, every movement of the patient increases the flow even to the reverse; pallor and weakness in consequence of the discharge; flooding before and after labor, with violent irritation of the rectum and bladder.

Ferrum. Copious discharge of partly fluid and partly black and coagulated blood, with pains in the loins and laborlike colic in weak persons, with a fiery-red face and vascular excitement; headache and vertigo; constipation and hot urine.

Fluoric acid. Menses too early and too profuse, thick and coagulated, with an uncommon buoyancy of mind; she fears nothing, and is well satisfied with herself.

Hamamelis. Passive hæmorrhage with anæmia; the flow is steady and slow, the blood dark-colored, and there are no uterine pains; the discharge ceases at night, occurring only in daytime.

Helonias. Atonic and passive menorrhagia; very profuse flow at every period, so that her strength is exhausted, and she suffers from debility, sallow and pale complexion; menorrhagia from ulcerated os or cervix, the blood being dark and bad-smelling, and continuing a long while, the flow is increased by the least exertion.

Hepar s. c. Menorrhagia in women with chapped skin and rhagades of the hands and feet; every slight injury causes ulceration.

Hyoscyamus. Hæmorrhage after labor, miscarriage, or at any time, when there are general spasms of the whole body, interrupted by jerks or by twitchings of single limbs. Menorrhagia with delirium; she has uncommon foolish manners, silly laughing, with inclination to uncover or undress herself; bright-red blood continues to flow all the time.

Ignatia. Menorrhagia, with sighing and sobbing, faint feeling at the pit of the stomach; great despondency, she seems full of suppressed grief.

Iodum. Chronic menorrhagia in thin delicate women, subject to corrosive leucorrhœa, with other indications of congested uterus and ovaries; uterine hæmorrhage occurring at every stool, with cutting in the abdomen, pain in the loins and small of the back.

Ipecacuanha. Profuse menstruation, with a constant nausea, not a moment's relief, not even after vomiting; nausea proceeds from the stomach, and the discharge of bright-red blood is increased with every effort to vomit, and flows with a gush; violent pressure over the uterus and rectum, with shuddering and chilliness; heat about the head and debility; gasping for breath, faintness; after childbirth, after removal of the placenta, or after miscarriage; worse when getting out of bed.

Kali carb. Continual profuse menstrual discharges, or menorrhagia in delicate anæmic women, subject to corrosive acrid discharges, sequelæ following parturition and miscarriage; scrofulosis, sycosis, arthritis.

Kreasot. Menses and metrorrhagia, inclined to be intermittent; she thinks she is almost well when the discharge reappears; black blood in large quantities, and of an offensive smell, with corrosive itching and smarting of the parts; headache, climaxis.

Lac caninum. Blood bright red and stringy, hot as fire, coming in gushes and clotting easily; constant bearing-down pain, as if everything would come out of the vulva.

Lachesis. Pain in the right ovarian region, extending towards the uterus, increasing more and more till relieved by a discharge of blood; menorrhagia, with chills at night and flushes of heat in daytime; climaxis.

Laurocerasus. Menses too early and too profuse, with nightly tearing in the vertex; peculiar suffocating spells about the heart, gasping for breath (ipecac.); blood thin.

Ledum pal. Profuse menorrhagia, caused by polypi: menses too early and too profuse, with a great want of vital warmth; she can hardly keep warm; rheumatic and gouty diathesis.

Lycopodium. Cutting pain across the abdomen from right to left; great fermentation or commotion in the abdomen, and discharge of much flatulence; profuse and protracted flow, partly black, clotted partly bright red, or partly serum, with laborlike pains, followed by swooning, increased flow of blood from vagina during every passage of hard and soft stool; sense of satiety.

Magnesia carb. Menses too early and too profuse, flowing decidedly more at night, and never during uterine pains.

Mullefolium. Hemorrhage of bright-red and fluid blood (in alternation with china): uterine hemorrhages after great exertion.

Nitric acid. After miscarriage or confinement, with violent pressure as if everything would come out of the vulva, with pain in the small of the back and down through the hips to the thighs.

Nux moschata. Menses irregular in time and quantity, flow generally dark, thick, with intolerable dryness of mouth and tongue, the latter so dry that it sticks to the palate, fainting, sleepiness.

Nux vomica. Metrorrhagia as a precursor of the critical age, also after parturition, particularly if there be constipation or frequent calls to small and painful stools.

Opium. Menorrhagia, with great sleepiness, yet she cannot sleep, the sheets are so hot, she has to change to a cooler place every little while; menses profuse, violent colic, forcing her to bend over, urging to stool.

Phosphorus. Frequent and profuse metrorrhagia, pouring out freely and then ceasing for a short time; menorrhagia in nursing women; menses early, profuse, long-lasting, with pain in small of back, and palpitation; sense of emptiness in abdomen; cold feet and legs.

Platina. Premature or excessive development of sexual instinct, catamenia early, long continued, and profuse, blood dark and thick, but not coagulated, with chilliness and sensitiveness of vulva, menorrhagia associated with melancholy of older women, metrorrhagia of dark, thick, and tarry blood, with pain in the small of back, which penetrates into both groins, with excessive sensitiveness of the genital organs, flooding, with the sensation as if the body were growing larger in every direction; great sexual excitement, hemorrhage during pregnancy, horrid thoughts.

Plumbum. Metrorrhagia, with a sensation of a string pulling from the abdomen to the back; constipation, feces composed of lumps packed together like sheep's manure.

Pulsatilla. Hemorrhage ceases for a short time, and then recommences with redoubled force, the blood black, mixed with coagulated lumps, most profuse in persons given to reveries; at the critical age better in the open air.

Rhus tox. Menorrhagia from a strain; blood bright red; in rheumatic women, worse at night, demanding constant change of position for relief, and worse at every change of weather.

Sabina. Pain, or a feeling of uncomfortableness extending between the sacrum and pubis : flow profuse, intermixed with clots, the blood most frequently of a bright-red color, sometimes dark red ; frequently attended by pains in joints ; the slightest motion excites the flow afresh, but very much walking lessens it ; excessive, debilitating menses, with abdominal spasms ; painless loss of dark-red blood after miscarriage, immediately after parturition ; plethoric women with habitual menorrhagia, who began to menstruate very early in life, always menstruated freely, and showed more or less a tendency to miscarriage ; great weakness or nervousness in head and extremities ; menorrhagia with erethism.

Secale. Painless flooding in feeble, cachectic, dyscratic women, or who have long resided in tropical climates ; general coldness, while the patient feels too warm, and does not wish to be covered ; feverish pulse, hæmorrhage passive, dark-colored, and continuous, seldom clotted, sometimes offensive, and the slightest motion aggravates the flow, particularly where the weakness is not caused by loss of blood. Hæmorrhage, with strong and spasmodic contraction of the uterus, every flow preceded by strong bearing-down pains ; hæmorrhage from atony of the uterus, especially after protracted labor, aggravated by the slightest motion ; menses usually too profuse, and too long lasting, with spasms and mental depression or melancholy.

Sepia. Menorrhagia, with a painful sensation of emptiness at the pit of the stomach, or with fetid urine, or with a sediment, as if clay were turned at the bottom of the vessel ; constipation, icy-cold feet, and flushes of heat ; icy-cold paroxysms ; yellow spots on her face, a yellow saddle across the ridge of her nose ; chronic congestion of uterus with sense of weight, as if all would come out of the vulva.

Silicea. Metrorrhagia, with terribly offensive sweating of the feet ; constipation.

Stramonium. Metrorrhagia, with excessive loquacity, singing, and praying ; full of strange ideas ; menorrhagia, with drawing pains in the limbs and abdomen.

Sulphur. Chronic hæmorrhage ; she seems to get almost well, when it occurs again and again, day after day, for weeks ; she is weak, has fainting spells, flushes of heat, heat on the top of the head, and cold feet ; sleep very light ; gets hungry spells, when she cannot wait for her food, especially for her dinner.

Sulphuric acid. Tremulous sensation in the whole body during profuse menses ; without trembling.

Trillium. Active uterine hæmorrhage, of dark, thick, and clotted blood, continuing at intervals of several days, followed by bloody hæmorrhæa and great prostration, especially for women who invariably flow after parturition or miscarriage ; also hæmorrhagia of thick, dark, and clotted blood during climaxis.

Ustilago maidis. Copious hæmorrhage during menses, with great restlessness and pain ; chronic uterine hæmorrhages and passive congestions ; slow and persistent oozing of dark blood, with small black coagula, the finger upon being withdrawn from the vagina is covered with dark semilucid (but not watery) blood as though partial disorganization had taken place ; uterus enlarged, cervix tumefied, os dilated, swollen, and flabby ; perfect inertia of the uterus.

Veratrum alb. Menorrhagia, with nausea and diarrhœa, or vomiting and cold sweat on forehead, weak pulse.

Vinca minor and major (periwinkle). Excessive, profuse menses, flowing like a stream, with great debility; passive uterine hæmorrhage from fibroid tumors (cedum); has been given in tangible doses.

Zincum album. Menses too early and too profuse. Lumps of coagulated blood, passing away mostly when walking, fidgety feet and lower extremities.

HÆMORRHAGE FROM THE URINARY ORGANS.

Hæmaturia.

Arnica. When caused by external violence, fall, etc.

Arsenicum. Hæmorrhoids of the bladder: very painful micturition: scanty secretion; burning pain in the urinary organs: paralytic symptoms of the bladder; great anguish and restlessness.

Calcarea carb. Chronic cases, hæmorrhoidal affections, polyp.

Camphora. After irritating drugs, especially cantharides, and during exanthematic fevers.

Cannabis. The flow of blood is accompanied by retention of urine or at least by dysuria, burning, lancinating, sharp pains during emission of urine.

Cantharis. Violent cutting, pressing, and crampy pains in the bladder, extending into the urethra and into the kidneys; stranguary burning pain before, during, and after micturition; cylindrical exudations in the urine; pain increased from drinking water, even from the sight of water.

Chimaphila. In consequence of severe and long-continued gonorrhœal inflammation.

Erechthites. Hæmorrhage from the kidneys and bladder; urine dark, scanty, and mixed with blood; painful while passing; blood oozed from the urethra while urinating.

Erigeron. Bloody urine during gonorrhœa or gleet.

Hamamelis. Hæmaturia from passive congestion of the kidneys, hæmorrhoids of the bladder; urine scanty and high-colored.

Ipecacuanha. Hæmaturia, with cutting in the abdomen and urethra; profuse bleeding, with faintness, deadly paleness, sickness of the stomach, oppression of the chest; constant desire to urinate from suppressed itch.

Lycopodium. Hæmaturia from gravel or chronic catarrh; urging to urinate; must wait long before it will pass; urine scanty, dark red, albuminous, with stranguary; sandy sediment.

Mercur. Painless discharge of blood; violent urging to urinate and painful micturition, whereby sweat easily breaks out.

Mezereum. Crampy pain in the bladder, after that bloody urine is passed.

Millefolium. Pain in renal region, with chilliness, necessity to lie down: the blood forms a sediment in the vessel like a bloody cake: pressive pain in the urethra during the flow of blood.

Nitric acid. Hæmorrhage bright red, not clotted; urging after, and shuddering along the spine during urination; faint from the least motion; while urinating, smarting burning in the urethra, gonorrhœal affections.

Nux vomica. Hæmaturia from suppressed hæmorrhoidal flow of menses; full tensive feeling, pressure and distension of the abdomen.

loins, and region of the kidneys; signs of stagnation in the portal circulation; abuse of alcoholic stimulants.

Phosphorus. Hæmaturia from debility, after sexual excesses; blood deficient in fibrin, twitching and burning in the urethra, with frequent desire to urinate; hæmophily. It antidotes turpentine.

Pulsatilla. Hæmaturia, accompanied by burning pains at the orifice of the urethra, with drawing cutting pain around the navel into the small of the back; penis and scrotum drawn up; crampy pain in the right leg from the knee to the groin.

Secale. Passive hæmorrhage; blood thin; blood-corpuscles wanting from dissolution of the blood; painless discharge of thick black blood, in consequence of kidney disease; coldness of the body, cold perspiration on forehead, great weakness.

Sulphur. Hæmaturia after suppressed cutaneous or hæmorrhoidal discharges, stinging and burning in the urethra.

Terebinthina. The blood is thoroughly mixed with the urine, forming a dirty, reddish-brown, or blackish fluid, or a coffee grounds-like sediment; burning-drawing pains in the kidneys, pressure in the bladder, extending up into the kidneys, when sitting, going off when walking; burning in the bladder, worst during micturition, in complication with scorbutic affections, or caused by living in damp moist dwellings.

Thlaspi bursa pastoris. Hæmaturia, profuse bleeding from all parts of the body.

Uva ursi. Constant urging to urinate and straining, with discharge of blood and slime, or constant straining without any discharge at all, or only a few drops of urine; after this, cutting and burning in the urethra, which is succeeded by a discharge of blood; hard stools.

§ 3. Particular indications:

Acetic acid. Profuse hæmorrhoidal bleeding; hæmorrhage from bowels after checked metrorrhagia; constipation.

Aconitum. Bleeding piles, inflamed; stinging and pressure in anus; feeling of repletion in abdomen, with tension, pressure, and colicky pains; pains in the small of back, as if the back of the os sacrum were broken; constipation; vertigo; fulness and heaviness in the head.

Æsculus hip. Mucous membrane of rectum unnaturally dry, producing a sensation as if sticks were in it; feeling in the rectum as though folds of the mucous membrane obstructed the passage, and as if the rectum would protrude, from the sensation of fulness and bearing down, with constipation, soreness, burning, itching, and fulness of the anus; dull backache, especially in lumbosacral region, affecting sacrum and hips; worse stooping forward and when walking; aching between the shoulders; purple hæmorrhoids; painful sensation of burning, seldom bleed; aching or lameness, or shooting in the back.

Aloes. Protruding piles, with constant bearing-down sensation in rectum, accompanied by diarrhoea, stools small in quantity, brownish, slimy, half fluid, with jellylike mucus tinged with blood, with much sputtering of flatus, feces often escape without being noticed at the time, seeming like paralysis of sphincter ani, hæmorrhoids protrude like grapes, with constant bearing down in rectum; relieved by cold bathing or copious hæmorrhage, but no hæmorrhoidal knobs, abdominal plethora, with a pituitous state of the intestines; flatulence, constipation, especially in old men of sedentary habits and given to the pleasures of the table, heat, soreness, and heaviness in the rectum; weakness or loss of power of sphincter ani, general weakness, weariness; piles of recent origin.

Alumina. Hæmorrhoids worse in the evening; better after night's rest, clots of blood pass from the anus; inactivity of the rectum, stools hard and knotty, like sheep's dung, with cutting in anus, followed by blood; pain in back and small of back as if beaten. During a stool blood spurts out of the rectum, followed by soreness all about the rectum; sweat on perineum with tenderness to the touch, most varices sting and burn; itching of anus with great sensitiveness.

Ammonium carb. Hæmorrhoids protrude, independent of stool, protrusion of hæmorrhoids after stool, with long-lasting pains, can not walk, or the hæmorrhoids protrude during a stool, and recede when lying down; they are usually moist and pain as if excoriated, bloody discharge during and after stool; itching at anus; costume of hardness of feces; hæmorrhoids worse during

mur. Hæmorrhoids sore and smarting after sup-pnea; hard crumbling stools, requiring great effort to pass; bleeding from rectum, with lancinating pain in perinæum, stinging and itching in rectum before and during passage of hæmorrhoids surrounded by inflamed pustules.

m. Internal piles; especially if fissured; painful hæmorrhoids; frequent profuse hæmorrhage when at stool; great difficulty for stool, but the rectum seems powerless, with sensation of being stuffed up; great hypochondriasis.

rud. Copious hæmorrhoidal hæmorrhage accompanying solid fecal matter; mucous piles; pricking burning; mucous discharge, staining yellow; sometimes ichor oozes;
itching in rectum, as if an ulcer had been torn open.

Small protruding varices, which sting, burn, and smart at defæcation and with hæmorrhage from the bowels; burning at anus, and constant tenesmus; constipation, as if it were stuffed full, with heat and throbbing;

and piles, with painful pressure in rectum, constipation and tenesmus; worse when standing and from cold things.

l. Hæmorrhoids with stitching pain when walking or when at stool, with burning pain; burning and soreness at anus; rectum is pushed out spasmodically with great effort; anus protruded after hæmorrhage from rectum; burning restlessness and great debility, worse at night and from cold than warmth; hæmorrhoids of drunkards.

st. Piles, with rectal catarrh; external piles bleed easily; hard, knotty, or large stools; constipation worse during attack of melancholia; pain in small of back, as from fatigue; weakness.

l. Bleeding piles; spasmodic constriction of sphincter mus in the small of back, as if it would break; piles so severe that the patient has to lie with the nates separated, or with the back would break; scanty red urine; congested head; red, hot face; thirst and restlessness.

Hæmorrhoids, with itching and burning, particularly itching often is hard and covered with blood; soreness in burning pain when touched, and great sensitiveness when at stool, like sheep's dung, passed only after much straining; stinging stitches in sacrum; fretful and weary of life.

and. Constipation as from hæmorrhoidal congestion; piles outside the anus, causing great pain; itching of anus, like the anus, as from sharp pins, ceasing from slight friction;
hæmorrhage from anus, which soon ceases.

a carb. Hæmorrhoids protruding, painful when walking, and sitting, causing pain during stool; great irritability of even a loose stool is painful; frequent and copious bleeding from anus, or for suppression of habitual bleeding (after sulphur).

fluid; itching in the anus, most in the evening; toward the anus or shooting in the anus; hard of mind, causing headache; with old people.

Capsicum. Piles burning, swollen; itching, throbbing, with sore feeling in anus; the tumors are very large, with discharge of blood or bloody mucus from the rectum; blind piles with mucous discharge, suppressed hemorrhoidal flow, causing melancholy, lack of reactive force, especially with fat people, easily exhausted.

Carbo veg. Discharge of an acrid, corrosive, viscid humor from the anus, causing much itching and some smarting; oozing of mixture upon the perineum, with soreness and much itching; protruding large bluish varices, suppurating and offensive, with burning pains in ano, stitching pains in the small of back, burning and tearing in the limbs; constipation, with burning stools and discharge of blood; frequent tendency of the blood to the head, flatulence, slow action of the bowels, epistaxis; dysuria; for debauchees.

Causticum. Hemorrhoids accompanied with obstinate constipation, with ineffectual urging and fistula ani; hemorrhoids impeding the stool, swollen, itching, stinging, burning, painful when touched; pain increased when walking, standing, when thinking of them, frequent sudden, pressive, penetrating pain in rectum; the stool passes better standing; pain worse from mental labor, useful for clergymen, who have an attack of piles after every effort to preach.

Chamomilla. Flowing piles, with compressive pain in the abdomen, frequent urging to stool, occasional burning and corrosive diarrhetic stools; tearing pain in the small of the back, especially at night; painful and ulcerated rhagades of the anus.

Collinsonia. Hemorrhages from anus, blood dark and tough, enveloped in viscid phlegm; constipation, with a good deal of flatulence, chronic constipation; heat and itching of the anus; hemorrhoids bleeding, with alternate constipation and diarrhoea; obstinate and chronic hemorrhoids, bleeding or not, always attended with constipation; congestion of the pelvic viscera, with piles, catarrh of the bladder, especially with piles; aggravation late at night, better in the morning; stools mostly only in the evening, not the opposite.

Dioscorea. Piles, like grapes, around the anus, not bleeding, involuntary discharge of slimy mucus from the anus; darting pain, from old hemorrhoidal tumor, to the liver, black, hard, dry, lumpy stool, last part of it soft, white, and mushy, followed by prolapsed hemorrhoidal tumors of livid color prolapsed, with great pain and distress in them.

Erigeron. Bleeding piles, with hard, lumpy stools, burning around the margin of the anus, it feels as if torn, small stools streaked with blood; burning in bowels and rectum.

Ferrum. Piles, copious bleeding or ichorous oozing, tearing pain with itching and gnawing; costiveness, stool hard and difficult, followed by backache.

Graphites. Piles, with pain on sitting down or on taking a wide step, as if split with a knife, also violent itching and very sore to the touch; hemorrhoids of the rectum, with burning rhagades at the anus; large hemorrhoidal tumors, protrusion of rectum, without urging to stool, as if the anus were lame; fissura ani, sharp cutting pain during stool, followed by constriction and aching for several hours, worse at night; chronic constipation, with hardness in hepatic region; moist humid eruption on scalp and behind ears; watery leucorrhoea at the time of menstruation; piles accompanied by dizziness.

Hamamelis. Hemorrhage from piles, where the loss of a small quantity of blood is followed by prostration out of proportion to the loss of blood: painful and profusely bleeding piles, with burning, soreness, fulness, and weight: burning soreness, and at times rawness of the anus, weakness and weariness of the back, as if it would break; tumid hæmorrhoidal veins, bluish in color, the whole anus encircled by a red erythematous halo; hæmaturia; constipation, severe frontal headache, restless nights; pulsation in rectum, as if feces would protrude.

Hepar sulph. Hemorrhoids from engorgement of the liver, with great abdominal distress, preventing abdominal respiration, protrusion of hemorrhoids: hemorrhage from the rectum, with soft stool, sensation as if bruised in small of back and thighs; great want of vital power of expulsion from the congested condition of the veins in rectum; abdomen swollen and somewhat tender; obstinate constipation.

Hydrastis canadensis. Even a light hæmorrhoidal flow exists: constipation, with piles, flatulent colic, accompanied by flatness; catarrh of the bladder, with thick, ropy, mucous sediment in the urine; faintness, goneness, physical prostration.

Hyoscyamus. Piles bleed profusely; fulness of the veins, full face, skin and muscles lax.

Ignatia. Sudden sharp stitches in rectum, shooting upward to the body; evacuation of feces difficult, because of seeming inactivity of rectum, every violent effort to expel them may produce prolapsus ani; after stool frequent, spasmodic constriction of the anus; recurring pains in the anus, compounded of soreness, spasmodic constriction, and pressure; moderate effort at stool causes prolapsus ani; bleeding during and after stool; fissures of anus; hemorrhage and pain are worse when the stool is loose.

Kali carb. Passage of feces difficult owing to their bulk; sensation as if the anus would be fissured; stinging, burning, tearing, itching, screwing pain, following even a natural stool, setting the patient nearly crazy and depriving him of sleep; the tumors swell and bleed much; riding on horseback ameliorates the pain for the time being.

Kali sulph. Hemorrhoids with catarrh of stomach and yellow, green coated tongue; sensation of faintness in stomach and dull aching in head, fearing to lose her senses.

Lachesia. Piles protruding and strangulated, or with stitches upward at each cough or sneeze; sensation as of a plug in the anus; tumor prolapsed or tumefied, beating in the anus, as from hammers, free at climax or with drunkards.

Lobelia inflat. Copious hæmorrhoidal discharge; discharge of black blood after stool; debility; sensation of tightness in the epigastrium and acidity of the stomach; sense of weakness and oppression at the epigastrium, with oppression of the chest.

Lycopodium. Varices protrude, painful when sitting; discharge of blood, even with soft stool; itching eruption at the anus, painful touch; itching and tension at the anus in the evening in bed; continued burning or stitching pain in the rectum; constipation; ineffectual urging from the contraction of the sphincter ani; flatulence; hæmaturia; pain in the sacral region, extending to the thighs, worse lying from a seat.

Mercurius. Large bleeding varices, which suppurate; hæmorrhage after micturition; hæmaturia, with violent and frequent urging to urinate, prolapsus ani after stool, also if rectum is black and bleeding; pain in sacrum, as after lying on a hard couch; great weakness, with ebullition and trembling from the least exertion (mercurialis, inveterate piles).

Millefolium. Hemorrhoids, with profuse flow of blood; chronic hemorrhæa from atony of mucous membranes; great pain.

Muriatic acid. Piles, suddenly, in children: the hemorrhoidal tumors are inflamed, swollen bluish, with swelling of the anus, sore pains, violent stitches, and great sensitiveness to contact, even of the sheets; prolapsus ani while urinating.

Natrum mur. Varices painful, stinging, and humid; protrusion of the rectum; smarting and burning in the rectum; herpes about the anus and on the boundaries of the hair on the nape of the neck, stool hard, difficult, or crumbling; anus contracted, anus torn, bleeding, smarting, burning afterwards; stitches in the rectum; cutting pain in urethra after micturition.

Nitric acid. Long lasting cutting pain in rectum after loose stool, with hemorrhoidal troubles; old pendulous hemorrhoids, that cease to bleed, but become painful to the touch, especially in warm weather; hæmorrhage bright red, not clotted, faint from least motion, load after every stool; spasmodic tearing during stool from fissures in rectum; hæmaturia active, shuddering along the spine during micturition, and urging afterwards.

Nux vomica. Piles, blind or flowing, irregular piles; stitching, burning, or itching of the anus; stitches and shocks in the small of the back, with bruised pain, so that the patient is unable to raise himself; frequent constipation, with ineffectual urging to stool, and with sensation as if the anus were closed and constricted; frequent tendency of the blood to the head or abdomen, with distension of the epigastrium and hypochondria; hæmaturia from suppressed hemorrhoidal flow or menses; ischuria, suppression of urine; backache, must sit up to turn in bed.

Pæonia off. Painful ulcer at the anus, with exudation of a fetid moisture; hemorrhoids, with fissures at the anus; intolerable pains when going to stool and afterwards.

Petroleum. Piles and fissures at the anus, great itching, scurf on borders of anus; stool insufficient, difficult, hard, in lumps.

Phosphorus. Bleeding piles, with severe lancinating pains, blood flows with each stool in a small stream; ulceration of the rectum, with discharge of blood and pus; constipation, feces small, long, dry, tough, and hard, voided with difficulty.

Phosphoric acid. Bleeding piles, with intolerable pains when sitting, with cramps of the upper arm, forearm, and wrist.

Phytolacca. Constipation of the aged, or those of weak heart, bleeding piles, fissured rectum; aching in sacrum.

Podophyllum. Piles with prolapsus ani and long-standing diarrhæa, worse mornings, prolapsus ani, with stool, even from least exertion, followed by stool, or thick transparent mucus, or mixed with blood; bleeding or non-bleeding piles; flushes up the back, with stool.

Polygonum. Copious stool, followed by a smarting sensation in the anus, straining at stool, with mucous, jellylike discharge.

inum. Burning hæmorrhoidal tumors: large quantities of mucus from rectum, with hard difficult stool; pain in small of back.

stilla. Painful protruding piles, with itching and sticking and soreness.

toxi. Fissures of the anus, with periodical profuse bleeding from anus: sore piles protruding after stool, drawing in the back above downwards, pain in the small of the back as if bruised, keeping quiet: frequent urging to urinate, day and night, with increased secretion: sore blind hæmorrhoids, protruding after stool, passing in the rectum, as if everything would come out, worse from cold, pressure, or rest.

ma. Hemorrhoids, with discharge of bright-red blood, causing the back, from sacrum to pubis, followed by great lassitude and weakness.

ea. Hemorrhoids intensely painful, boring, cramping from rectum and testicles: protrude during stool, become incarcerated and suppurate: piles protrude with the stool, and discharge mucus: can only be returned with difficulty; fistula in ano best symptoms; aching, heating, throbbing in lumbosacral region; anus is constantly damp.

hisagria. Piles with enlarged prostata, intense pain in back through the whole pelvis.

monium. Painful bleeding piles, coagulated blood passes from anus: constipation alternating with diarrhoea.

hur. Hemorrhoids blind or flowing dark blood, with violent shooting pains from small of back towards the anus; lancinating pains from the anus upward, especially after stool; suppressed hæmorrhoids, with colic, palpitation, congestion of lungs: back feels as if bruised; anus swollen, with sore stitching pains: considerable mucus passed with soft easy stool; painless piles: bleeding, burning, frequent protrusion of the hæmorrhoidal tumors; weakness, dysuria.

huric acid. Piles feel damp, painful to touch, itch violently; cause violent burning, stinging, tearing pains, or the tumors obstruct passage; stools hard, small, black lumps, mixed with blood, blood clot, pinching in anus; sediment like blood in the urine.

sa occ. Hemorrhoids pain during stool so much that one cannot resist, burning violently while walking, sensitive to touch; warts, warts around the anus; obstinate constipation from dryness.

strum album. Hemorrhoids, with disease of lungs or pleura; with discharge of masses of blood in clots, with sinking feeling; with feeling in sacral region.

strum viride. Hemorrhoids red and dark blue; neuralgic pains in the rectum.

§ 9. Particular indications:

Acetic acid. Nervo-bilious headaches: greatest irritability; confusion of ideas, worse from any nervous excitement; dizziness, with heavy head, as if he were drunk; bloodvessels on temples distended.

Aconite. Hemisrania or sun-pain, especially from sleeping in the rays of the sun, commencing in the morning, increasing to noon, and going off as the sun declines, leaving the night's rest undisturbed; intense pain in the orbit, recurring at regular periods, pain greatly increased by stooping or lying down: fullness and heaviness in the forehead, as if the whole brain would start out through the eyes; beating and shooting in the head: headache, as if the brain were moved or raised, worse during motion, drinking, talking, or sunlight; burning as if the brain were moved by boiling water; on going into a warm room forehead feels as if compressed; pressure in forehead, temples, and top of head; headache so violent that she loses consciousness, and lies as if in a fainting fit; dry heat, agitation, congestion, anxiety, with heat and redness of the face, or pale face; pulse full and strong, or small and quick, worse towards evening; great sensitiveness to odors; frequent micturition.

Æthusa cyn. Violent pain, as if the brain were dashed to pieces; pressing pain in the forehead as if it would split, at its acme vomiting, and finally diarrhoea; headache ceases with discharge of flatus downwards; stitches and pulsations in the head; distressing pain in occiput, nape, and down the spine, better from bending slowly backwards; sensation as if she was constantly pulled by the hair, hemi-crania.

Agaricus. Pain as though sharp ice touched the head or cold needles pierced it: headache of persons subject to chorea, or who readily become delirious in fever or with pain (nervous temperament); dull headache, especially in forehead, must move the head constantly to and fro, and close the eyes as for sleep; tearing and pressure in left half of the brain; pressing in right side as if a nail were thrust in, worse sitting quietly, better moving slowly about; hysterical complications, with spasmodic jerking of the muscles; nervous headaches from overwork at the desk.

Agnus castus. Probably most suitable to headache of persons with derangement of womb, ovaries, testicles, or sexual organs in general; headaches of persons given to sexual excesses or subject to seminal emissions, or of those of unmarried persons suffering from nervous debility, melancholia and hypochondriac mood, keeps repeating that she will die; tearing pains above the right eye and temple, as if one had received a blow upon the eye, attended with soreness of touch, worse by motion and in the evening; contracting headache from reading; pain in upper part of head as from staying in a close damp room, relieved by looking at one point.

Aloes. Dull pressing frontal headache, rendering him unfit for all labor, especially mental; congestions to the head, compelling one to sit down; headache across the forehead, with heaviness of the eyes and nausea; weight on vertex, pressing outwards to the temples, with periodic heat of the face and thickening before the eyes; worse from heat and better from cold applications, headache after insufficient stool, with abdominal pains.

Alumina. Headache, with constipation, relieved by lying quiet in bed; throbbing frontal pain, worse going upstairs or stepping; stitches in brain with nausea.

Aluminium. Suitable to scrofulous persons suffering from chronic catarrhs; headache, attended with nausea, oppression in forehead, rush of blood to eyes and nose, epistaxis, pale face, and lancinating pain in head and nape of neck, increasing when going to bed, and only ceasing in the morning on rising; head giddy as soon as she opens her eyes, worse from walking in open air, going upstairs, or stepping, on alternate days; inability to recollect things or to follow up a train of thoughts; no desire to do anything, especially anything serious.

Ambra. Pressure in forehead, with fear of becoming crazy; extremely painful tearing on top of the head, and apparently in the whole upper part of the brain, with paleness of the face and coldness of the left hand, pressive drawing ascending from the nape of the neck and extending through the head towards the forehead, considerable oppression remaining in the lower part of the occiput.

Ammonium carb. Sensation of looseness of the brain, as if the brain fell to the side toward which he leaned; stitches in various parts of the brain; pulsating, beating, and pressing in forehead, as if it would burst, worse after eating and in the open air, better from pressure and in warm room; especially suitable to fat, stout women leading a sedentary life.

Anacardium. Gastric and nervous headaches; pressure from without in jerks, spreading from forehead over whole head; headache in occiput, worse from making a misstep or from loud noise, from strong smells; constrictive headache in forehead, with very irritable mood, pains increase hourly, momentarily relieved by strong pressure, finally the whole head becomes affected, worse during motion; relieved entirely by eating or lying down at night, worse during motion or work; tearing-itching pains in face; fetid breath.

Oppression about the heart, burning flushes along the back, palpitation, with feeling as if boiling water was poured into the chest, anxiety, difficulty of breathing, flying heat in face, sensation of something rushing into the head, fainting, with tingling in fingers, numbness and lameness of left arm.

Æsculus hip. Palpitation, heart's action full and heavy, darting in the region of the heart, can feel the pulsation all over the body; dull aching burning in cardiac region, pulse quick, soft, and weak; lameness and weariness in back, faintness at the stomach.

Agaricus. Burning shooting pain in region of heart, extending to left shoulderblade, caused by deep inspiration, coughing, sneezing, hicough; anxious sensation of pressure in heart, oppression on bending body; feeble filiform pulse, becoming slow and irregular; convulsio cordis; violent palpitation, strongly felt, worse evenings, with redness of face, with anxiety breaking out in a sweat; trembling in pit of stomach; dull headache and vertigo; paralyzed feeling in left arm and hand; weariness of limbs.

Ammon. carb. Audible palpitation, with attacks of great anxiety, as if dying; cold sweat, involuntary flow of tears; unable to speak; loud difficult breathing and trembling of hand; debility and soreness of the whole body; pulse hard, tense, frequent; nightmare every night, sometimes in a sweat when awaking.

Amyl nitrite. Cardiac oppression and tumultuous heart's action; violent beating of heart and throbbing of arteries, with a sense of constriction; violent pulsation of carotid, extending to head and temples, with intense flushing of face, which precedes debilitating sweat; fluttering of heart on the slightest excitement; aortic insufficiency with excessive hypertrophy of heart, irregular pulse, cold feet, sometimes cold hands; weakness of limbs.

Anacardium. Stitch in the region of heart, during inspiration, at night, stitches piercing through and through at the heart, each time two by two quickly succeeding each other; beating in the blood-vessels; rheumatic affection of the heart and pericardium.

Antimon. tart. Dilatation of heart from rheumatism, with feeling as if the heart were strained; velvety feeling in chest; heat about heart and warmth rising up from it; oppression about heart and small, unequal pulsations; orthopnea, cyanosis.

Apis mel. Sudden attack of acute pain just below the heart, soon extending diagonally toward the right chest, blowing sound with the diastole; sensation as if he would not be able to breathe again; restless, but relief in no position; chest feels as if beaten or bruised; every contraction of the heart shakes the whole body, thinks he will die; agitated, impassioned, apprehensive; distress in paroxysms, lasting half an hour or more, generally taking place in the morning; great prostration; pulse accelerated, full, and strong, or feeble and imperceptible; dropsy of limbs; hyperæmia of liver, lungs, and kidneys.

Argentum met. Full feeling in region of heart; frequent, spasmodic, though painless, twitchings of the whole cardiac muscle, especially on lying on back; fears apoplexy; lame, weakness with all pains.

Argent. nitr. Heart's action irregular, intermittent, with an unpleasant sensation of fullness; exertion causes strong beating, worse when noticing it; constant, anxious, burning feeling in region of heart; choking pains about the heart, can hardly breathe; relief from belching.

Arnica. Sensation as if heart were grasped by an iron band; stitches in cardiac region; region of base of the heart feels as if bruised; sudden pain, as if the heart got a shock; intermittent, feeble, hurried, irregular pulse; hypertrophy of heart, induced by over exertion, especially in young men, as from rowing: the fatty heart cough from cardiac lesion.

Arsenicum. Palpitation, after suppressed herpes or foot-and-mouth, with feeble, irregular pulse; the heart beats strong, visible, and audible at night, more rapidly when lying on back; pericarditis in consequence of suppressed measles, or scarlet fever, with inexpressible anguish, and restlessness, worse at night, flushed face, paralytic feeling in the upper extremities; tingling in fingers, cold perspiration; heart-disease characterized by feeble action of the heart, a small pulse, often slow, pale skin, flabby muscles, especially in stout persons, with difficult breathing when going upstairs or up hill; fatty degeneration of the heart (antrum), the fat surrounding and compressing the heart.

Arsenicum iod. Great pain in cardiac region, going through to back, in hypertrophy of left ventricle.

Asparagus. Weak action of heart, with pain at left acromion and weak pulse; hydrothorax.

Asafoetida. Nervous palpitations, with small pulse, breathing not oppressed, in women after suppressed discharges or bodily exertions; pressure in cardiac region, as if heart were too full and expanded; pulse small.

Aurum met. Frequent attacks of anguish about the heart, with tremendous fearfulness; violent beating of heart after exertions, with great agony; strong beating of heart, with anxiety and congestion to head, after metrorrhagia; when riding or walking palpitation compels to stop; palpitation with irregular intermittent pulse and short breathing.

Badiaga. Nervous palpitations, cardiac debility; palpitation from any elating thought, with a fluttering and vibrating upon the slightest emotion of the mind; the heart is both heard and felt to pulsate at night, from chest up to neck.

Baptisia. Brain-fag; violent headache and vomiting; compass and frequency of heart's pulsations seem increased and to fill the chest, with a slow and faint pulse; restless, uneasy, feels as if lying on a board; changes continually position, general weak feeling.

Belladonna. Nervous palpitations, with congestion to head; pressure in cardiac region, which arrests the breathing, and causes a sense of anxiety; gurgling at the heart, a kind of palpitation when going upstairs; throbbing of carotid and temporal arteries.

Benzoic acid. Benzoate of ammonia. Rheumatism of heart; pains change place incessantly, but are not constant around the heart; awakens after midnight with violent palpitations of the heart and temporal arteries; internal but no external heat; at times tearing pains in the extremities, relieving the heart; urine high-colored, offensive, hot, scalding, ammoniacal, high specific gravity; metastasis to heart threatening in podagra or in affections of joints; the palpitation ceases when she has tearing pains in lower limbs.

Bromium. Hypertrophy with enlargement of heart, especially in young growing persons; cutting pains running upwards in heart disease; violent palpitation when walking and at night, so that one cannot lie on left side; pulse much accelerated.

Bryonia. Pericarditis, with stitching pain in cardiac region, preventing motion and even breathing, wants to lie perfectly quiet.

heart beats violently and rapidly, strong orgasm of blood, especially when rising up or going upstairs; from repercussion of measles.

Cactus grand. Pericarditis and endocarditis, sensation of constriction of the heart, as if an iron band prevented its normal movement; acute pains and stitches in the heart; difficulty of breathing; attacks of suffocation, with fainting; cold perspiration on face, and loss of pulse; palpitation when walking, and at night when lying on left side. Nervous palpitations; easily frightened, often awakes in a fright; numbness of left arm, annoying creeping sensation from before backwards in cardiac region; oedema of the hands, especially of left one. endocardial murmurs, excessive impulse, increased præcordial dulness; enlarged right ventricle; irregularity of the heart's action, at times frequent, at others slow; great irritation of the cardiac nerves; enlarged left ventricle; pains in the apex of heart, shooting down the left arm to the ends of the fingers; feeble pulse, dyspnoea; general weakness, prostration, great depression, sleeplessness, fainting, cold feeling in chest at seat of pain; low-spirited and weeps; contractive pain in cardiac region, going down to left abdomen, it catches the breath; severe pain in spine, worse in lumbar region; tearing pain in shoulders and arms, first in joints, then in long bones. Palpitation worse at the beginning of a movement, such as stooping, turning, but walking for some time does not bring it on.

Cadmium. Palpitation of heart with constriction of chest; beating near the heart.

Calabar. Physostigma; spasmodic trembling and twitching of the muscular fibres of heart; pulsations through the whole body, particularly in the chest, each beat of the heart distinctly perceptible in the chest and temples; heart's action retarded, with diminished impulse, no abnormal sounds, radial pulse irregular and weak; heart's action irregular, feeble, or tumultuous.

Calcarea carb. Nervous palpitation after suppressed eruptions and pimples on the face, from onanism; tremulous palpitation with anguish, worse at night and after meals.

Camphora. Præcordial distress and nervous palpitation, attended by coldness of the skin, cold extremities, pale face; sudden oppression of breathing; irresistible sleepiness, diminished flow of blood to those parts remote from the heart.

Cannabis indica. Pressing pain and anguish at the heart, with dyspnoea the whole night; painful sticking, as with the prongs of a fork, in the heart; stitches in the heart, accompanied by great oppression, relieved by deep breathing.

Cannabis sativa. Sensation as if cold water were dropping over the region of the heart; palpitation, gradual loss of flesh and strength, from imperfect oxygenation of blood; violent beating of the heart, on moving the body and on stooping, with warm sensation about the heart; pulse weak, often almost imperceptible.

Carbolic acid. Fearful beating of the heart, especially at night, accompanied by great dyspnoea; stitches in cardiac region; bellows' murmur over mitral valve.

Carbo veg. Impending paralysis of the heart, complete torpor, cyanosis, blood stagnates in capillaries, cold face and limbs, cold sweat, filiform, intermittent pulse.

China. Nervous palpitations after great loss of fluids; heat and redness of head and face, with cold hands; pulse frequent, small, improving after meals.

Cicuta vir. Nervous trembling, palpitation of the heart, feels as if the heart stopped beating, with sensation of faintness.

Cimicifuga. Excessive impulse of the heart over an extensive portion of the left ventricle, with dulness on percussion; heart's action ceases suddenly, impending suffocation; pains from the region of heart all over the chest and down left arm, palpitation, unconsciousness, cerebral congestion, dyspnoea, face livid, cold sweat on the hands, numbness of the body, the left arm numb, and as if bound to the side; pulse weak, irregular, trembling; chorea of heart, tumultuous, irregular, unexpected, and strange motions of the heart, myalgia cordis, cardiac debility, rheumatic endo- and pericarditis.

Chloralum. Dilatation of heart, a weakened heart, peculiar fullness and tightness of chest, with a sense of emptiness in the stomach, violent palpitation, with great difficulty of respiration, heart's action regular, but with increased frequency and diminished force.

Clematis er. Sharp stitches in region of heart, from within outwards; tearing pain in the forepart of the chest above the heart.

Cocculus. Tremulous palpitation from quick motion and mental excitement, with dizziness and faintness; pulse small, spasmodic, often imperceptible.

Colchicum. Heart disease, following acute rheumatism, hydro-pericardium; pressure and anxiety in precordial region, fulness and oppression, as from stagnation of blood, in the heart, at night, when lying on left side, he is obliged to turn to the right side; dull, irregular, seemingly suppressed beats of heart, with a peculiar sensation in chest; pulse small, slow, and weak.

Digitalis. Pericarditis, with copious serous exudation; violent, but not very rapid beating of the heart, irregular intermittent pulse, brickdust sediment in urine, during or after rheumatism. Very feeble irregular action of heart, with feeble, small, intermittent pulse; great prostration, fainting on the least movement, even lifting the arms, with palpitations, coldness of limbs and body, and dreadful weak feeling in pit of stomach, with or without convulsions or syncope, profuse expectoration of bloody mucus and vomiting of food, sensation as if the heart would stop beating if she moved, with fear of impending death; hydro-pericardium; chills from the feet upwards.

Eupatorium perfol. Pain, soreness, and heaviness behind the sternum and in cardiac region, worse by the least motion or by turning the body around.

Ferrum. Consecutive heart disease, especially from chlorosis and onanism; congestion to head, spitting of blood; palpitations, better from moving slowly about; pseudo plethora, with hard strong beating of the heart and throbbing in all bloodvessels; pulse full, hard, increased by exertion; soft bellows' sound at apex, nervous restlessness, must walk slowly about.

Gelsemium. Cardiac neurosis. Feeling as if the heart would stop beating if she did not move about; a sensible motion of the heart, as though it had attempted to beat, which it failed fully to accomplish, and the pulse then each time intermitted, worse when lying down in bed, especially when lying on left side; excessive action of heart, stitching sensation in cardiac region, heart's action slow and feeble.

the beats of heart cannot be felt, chills and pains in head; nervous chills, yet skin is warm, wants to be held that she may not shake so.

Glonoïn. Laborious action of heart, pressure in heart, as if it was being contracted; sharp pains in the heart; heart's action easily excited violent palpitation, throbbing carotids, pulsating headache, worse stooping; purring noise in heart when lying, pulse intermittent, must have head high, worse when lying on left side; restlessness in limbs, must rise and walk.

Graphites. Sensation like an electric shock from the heart toward the front of neck, constriction, pressure, or stitches in cardiac region; strong pulsation of blood in the whole body, but especially about the heart, increased with every motion; tremulous sensation through the whole body; lassitude, prostration; amenorrhœa, herpetic constitution.

Hepar. Anxious feeling about the heart with sensation of debility and palpitations in hypertrophy, palpitation of heart, with fine stitches in heart and left half of chest.

Iodum. Pericarditis in complication with croupous pneumonia; pouring feeling in the region of the heart, violent palpitation, increased from the slightest motion, better while lying perfectly quiet on the back, fainting spells; sensation as if the heart were squeezed together; fluttering sensation in heart; constant, heavy, oppressive pain in cardiac region; dilatation of heart, after scarlatina; tendency to melancholia.

Kali bichrom. Cold sensation about the heart, tightness of chest, dyspnea, pricking pain in region of heart; pulse irregular, small, contracted, with nosebleed.

Kali brom. Feeble action of heart (dig) and intermittent, so nervous she must be busy and walk, slow and small pulse; heart's beats wanting in energy, and its sounds distant and feeble; action of heart slow and fluttering.

Kali carb. Carditis, with stitching pain in cardiac region, frequent intermission of the beat of heart, intermittent pulse, impending suffocation, with inability to lie down; crampy pains, as if the heart were hanging by bands, mostly noticed on deep inspiration and coughing, not on motion of the body; systolic murmurs, second tick from pulmonary stagnation, insufficiency of mitral valves, ebullitions, with heat from abdomen to head; pulsations all over.

Kali hydriod. Valvular defects after repeated endocarditis; darts in cardiac region when walking; intermitting beats of heart, act lancinations, cramps in chest, stopor, and loss of breath; greatly annoying palpitations; pulse quick, but varying every moment; shivering about heart on awakening, must jump up or smother; tumultuous, violent, intermitting, and irregular action of heart and pulse, with tensive pain across chest, especially affecting the right ventricle, which gradually becomes dilated.

Kalmia lat. Wandering rheumatic pains in cardiac region; shooting pains above heart, through to scapula; hypertrophy and valvular insufficiency, or thickening, after rheumatism; heart's action very tumultuous, rapid, and visible; paroxysms of anguish about the heart, dyspnea, febrile excitement, pains in limbs, stitch in lower part of chest, right-sided prosopalgia; pressure like a marble from epigastrium toward the heart, with a strong quick heart-beat; every beat has a strumming, as if it would burst, along sternum to throat, third or fourth beat is harder, and is followed by an intermission; arms feel weak, limbs cold; weariness in all muscles, shuns all exertion, especially in lower extremities, unattended by any swelling or sign of inflammation.

Lachesis. Pericarditis; deep sighing every few minutes; occasional fits of suffocation and fainting, pulse weak, often intermittent, stitches in left side of chest; palpitation and choking from the slightest exertion; constrictive sensation in cardiac region; palpitation, can bear no pressure on throat or chest, must sit up or lean right side; numbness of left arm; worse after sleeping. Rheumatismus cordis; sensation as if the heart was too large, a feeling of expansion of the heart. Atheromatous condition of arteries in old people.

Lachnanthes. Neurosis cordis. Sensation as of a lump of ice in the cardiac region and back, somewhat relieved by pressing the chest together with both hands; stitches in heart, with great anxiety, knocking and bubbling in chest and cardiac region; while lying, feels tearing of heart to the head; trembling of heart, with great debility.

Laurocerasus. Violent palpitation of heart, with very feeble beat, the heart's action itself is feeble; beating-fluttering sensation in cardiac region, gasps for breath, cold moist skin, pulse scarcely perceptible; convulsions of muscles of face; sitting posture causes gasping for breath.

Lilium tigrin. Cardiac irritability, nervous palpitation; parts dull, pressing, and heavy, as if the heart were grasped and released alternately; sensation as if the heart contained too much blood, which might be relieved by throwing up blood; pain, pressure, and fullness about the heart, with a feeling of coldness about the heart, but no indication of any organic lesion; trembling feeling about the apex of the heart, worse on talking; frequent sensation as if the heart stopped, followed by a rush of the blood to the heart and violent palpitations; amelioration by lying on left side.

Lithium carb. Valvular deficiencies from calcareous deposits, worse from mental agitation, which cause a fluttering and trembling of heart; sudden shocks in cardiac region; rheumatic soreness in cardiac region; pains in heart before and at time of urinating, see before and at time of menses; nervous palpitations, cardiac irritability; fluttering of the heart, distressing and painful in the heart, and so far as between the shoulders, extending upwards into the head, where the throbbing is felt; the air on inspiration seems so cold that it is felt unpleasantly cold, even in the lungs; prostration of the whole body; painfulness of feet, ankles, metatarsus, toes, especially of the border of the feet and soles, burning in great toe; gassy cases.

Lobelia infl. Slight deep-seated pain in cardiac region; sensation of weakness and pressure in epigastrium, rising to heart; sawing sound about heart, with violent pains, diarrhea, and vomiting; short sensation, as if heart would stand still, a deep pain above the heart.

Lycopodium. Hydropericardium; trembling palpitation, pressing tearing in the region of heart; sensation as if circulation would stand still, or ebullition of blood; palpitation of heart nearly every evening in bed; marked palpitation, with flatulence; acceleration of pulse, with coldness of the face and feet; neck drawn towards right side, stitches in left side of chest; typhoid symptoms; wind gurgles under apex of heart, in left hypochondrium, with oppressed breathing; cannot bear covering.

Lycopus virg. Morbus Basedowii: constricting pain and tenderness around the heart; action of heart tumultuous and forcible; hyper trophy of heart; cough with spitting of blood; intermission in the beat of the heart; first sound of heart displaced by a blowing sound of mitral regurgitation; beats of heart more distinct on right side of sternum, stitchlike pain in cordia or a throbbing pain; sensation of pressing outward in cordia, not painful; cardiac oppression, palpitation from nervous irritation, with plethora; cardiac distress most marked at apex, on awaking after slight exertion; pulse feeble, compressible, faintness.

Magnesia mur. Oppressed breathing, greater after a meal; constrictive pain in chest and scapula; stitches in the heart, arresting the breath, palpitation of the heart, when sitting, better from motion, violent palpitation of heart, with pulsation of all the arteries.

Manganum acet. Strong, irregular, trembling palpitations, without abnormal sounds of heart, sudden shocks of heart and in left side of chest from above downward; pulse uneven, irregular, rapid, or slow, but always soft and weak.

Mercurius. Weakness of heart, as if life was ebbing away, awakens with trembling at the heart, and agitation as if frightened;aching pain at apex of heart, extending upwards towards the base; cardiac oppression; palpitation on the slightest exertion.

Mercur. cor. Heart's sounds dull and intermittent; tremulous undulating motion of the heart; præcordial anxiety; pulse small, rapid, feeble, and irregular.

Mercur. protiod. Suffocation about the heart, with nausea and dizziness; sharp pain about heart, taking away her breath; sudden spasmodic action of heart, as though it had jumped out of its place; pulse weak, irregular, laboring.

Mercur. præc. ruber. Suffocative fit at night on lying when on the point of falling asleep, must jump up suddenly; violent palpitations that seemed as if it would burst the chest; small, hard pulse.

Moschus. Hysterical palpitations, or when the nervous or muscular energy of the heart is weakened by great mental exertion, anxiety, emotions; hysterical spasms of chest; vertigo as soon as the head is moved.

Naja tripud. Feeling of depression and lowness about the heart; fluttering of heart attended by headache; pulse regular in rhythm, but irregular in force; acute pain and sense of oppression in chest, as though a hot iron had been run into it and a hundredweight put upon it, cannot lie a moment upon left side, liliun feels better when lying on left side, but great relief of pain and breathing on lying on right side.

Natrum carb. Painful cracking in cardiac region; violent anxious palpitation of heart when ascending, and at night when lying on left side; pulse excited at night, with ebullitions.

Natrum mur. The heart's pulsations shake the body; fluttering of heart, with a weak faint feeling, worse lying down; irregular Intermission of the beating of the heart and of the pulse, worse lying on left side; irregular beat of the heart, at one time slow, then again quick, especially from the slightest motion; increased impulse of the heart, the beats strong, but clear; an overworked heart, but the primary organ affected is the spleen; hypertrophy of heart; anxious palpitation, with morning headache; pulse full and slow, or weak and rapid, intermits every third beat.

Nux moschata. Hysteria cordis; violent action of heart, feels as if her head would burst, and her heart be squeezed off; trembling fluttering of heart, as from fright; palpitation and fainting, followed by sleep; irregularity in heart's beat, pulse intermits sometimes so long that it excites fear of death; woman's murmur in carotids, frequent trembling pulse, accelerated after wine; disposition to faint even from slight pains.

Nux vomica. Hypertrophy of heart from portal obstruction; palpitation in frequent short paroxysms, with pulsating throbs in the direction of the heart, especially from mental emotions, protracted study, after eating highly-seasoned food; tired sensation of heart, with palpitation when lying down, frequent belching; dilatation of heart (weakened heart), with nervous palpitation, with nausea, inclination to vomit, and heaviness of the chest.

Oxalic acid. Soreness and stitches in heart, from behind forward and from above downward; sharp darting in head and left lung extending down to epigastrium; immediately after lying down in bed at night palpitation for half an hour; heart beat intermits when thinking on it; numbness of whole body; loss of motory power.

Petroleum. Cold feeling about the heart (Silium, Kali bichrom.); fainting, with ebullitions, heat pressing on the heart and palpitation, pulse accelerated by every motion, slow during rest, violent trembling of the limbs, weak unto faintness.

Phosphorus. Disease of right heart, with consequent stagnation, dilatation of the heart following endocarditis; fatty degeneration of heart; dyspnoea, tightness across the chest, great weakness, with inability to exert himself; palpitation from every emotion, with rush of blood to the chest, especially in rapidly-growing youths; oversensitiveness to external impressions, congestion to lungs, tightness across chest, and tight cough; painless diarrhoea.

Phosphoric acid. Nervous palpitations in children and young persons who grow too fast, in orators, after depressing emotions, pulse irregular, weak, and frequent.

Phytolacca. Chronic rheumatic endocarditis, shocks of pain in cardiac region, pain goes into right arm; awakens with lameness across heart, worse during expiration, cannot get to sleep again; heart's action weak, fatty heart, with constipation; great exhaustion.

Platina. Palpitations of heart after mental exertions, accompanied by anxiety and weeping.

Plumbum. Chronic endocarditis and endarteritis; anxiety about heart and violent palpitations, heavy, difficult breathing; hypertrophy and dilatation of left ventricle, frequent palpitation, with dyspnoea, threatening suffocation, feeling the pulsations in head, hands, and feet associated with parenchymatous nephritis; anæmic brutal soufflé at the base of the heart and in the large vessels, sense of pier-sure upon the heart, feeling as if it were imprisoned by the thoracic wall; anxiety at the heart and cold sweat.

Podophyllum. Nervous palpitation, in consequence of excessive hepatic action: sensation in chest as if heart were ascending to throat: palpitation, with a clucking sensation rising up the throat, obstructing respiration: palpitation, from mental emotion or exertion, with rumbling in ascending colon; heavy sleep, fatigue on waking in morning.

Psorinum. Pericarditis of psoric origin; rheumatic carditis, with effusion: dyspnoea with pain in cardiac region; sounds of heart indistinct; bellows' murmur with first sound; inability to lie down; great weakness after severe acute diseases: ailments worse outdoors; better by rest.

Pulsatilla. Nervous palpitation in young girls during the time of puberty, or from amenorrhoea; catching pain in cardiac region; better for a time from pressure of hand, rheumatic irritation of heart, the pains shifting rapidly from one part of the body to another; constant chilliness, worse nights, especially after getting feet wet; burning in cardiac region; violent fits of palpitation, often with anguish and obscuration of sight.

Rhus tox. Uncomplicated hypertrophy, from violent exercise; organic heart disease, with sticking pain and soreness; numbness and lameness of left arm, chest and heart feel weak after a walk; violent palpitations when sitting still; pulse sometimes quicker than the heart's beat, irregular; restlessness, must change position, always worse when keeping quiet. Myalgia cordis.

Rumex. Heart feels as if it suddenly stopped beating (gels.). Followed by a heavy throbbing through the chest; aching in heart, with throbbing of carotids and through body, shaking the bed; dyspnoea, worse when lying, has to sit up; face red, puffed, worse about eyes, which are red and lustreless; burning in region of heart; prostration; violent dry cough, provoked by a tickling in throat-pit; brown, watery, morning diarrhoea.

Scutellaria. Irregular action of the heart, from derangement of the cardiac plexus; tremulousness and twitching of the cardiac muscles; oppression of the chest, with a sticking pain in cardiac region; sensation of throbbing about the heart, with flushed face; nervous disorders of heart, as palpitation, tremor, and strange sensations, from emotional excitement, hysteria; reflex nervous irritation, from ovarian or uterine disorders.

Secale corn. Nervous palpitation, with profuse menstruation of a watery discharge; palpitation of heart, oftener at night, with contracted and frequently intermitting pulse.

Sepia. Suppressed menses; congestion of blood to the chest, with violent palpitations; an occasional hard thump of the heart; palpitations, with anxiety about things which happened years ago; palpitation after mental emotion; interruption of the beating of the heart, most after dinner, alarming, quivering motion; restless, fidgety; sensation of ball in inner parts. Nervous palpitation, better by walking fast.

Silicea. Heart troubles, from nervous exhaustion; violent hammering palpitation, after very quick or violent motion; palpitation while sitting, so that he had to hold on to something.

Spigelia. Rheumatic pericarditis. Undulating motion of the heart; indistinct beats of the heart, running one into another; tumultuous beating of heart in recumbent as well as in sitting positions, not synchronous with the radial pulse; spasms of the chest, cataplectic complaints; tremulous sensation in chest and temples, increased by motion; tearing sensation in chest when raising the arms overhead and when touching pit of stomach; purring murmur during the beats of the heart, stitches in cardiac region; pulsation of carotids, with tremulous motion; great dyspnoea at every change of position; bright redness of lips and cheeks, changing to pallor during every motion; audible beating of heart, causing a pain that is felt through to the back; cutting pains from the heart to shoulders, as far as the head and arms; arthritic pain and stiffness in joints, and stitches where the beats of heart are felt, and recurring with the measured regularity of the pulse; scraping in throat; affection of the tracheal and bronchial mucous membranes; systolic blowing at the apex; pulse irregular, strong but slow.

Spongia. Aneurisma aortæ; dry paroxysmal cough; worse lying down; rheumatic endocarditis; loud blowing with each heart-beat, attack of oppression and cardiac pain; worse when lying with the head low, or inability to lie down at all; stinging pressing pain in præcordial region; violent palpitation; awakens at night with a sense of suffocation; violent gasping respiration; loud cough; great alarm, agitation and anxiety; valvular insufficiency, bellows' sound; feeling of numbness of lower part of the body; trembling in all the limbs; fibrous deposits upon the valves of the heart, violent and rapid action of heart, each beat accompanied by loud blowing as of bellows.

Stramonium. Chorea cordis; beating of heart, so increased by motion he cannot speak for hours; trembling twitching murmurs, instead of regular sounds, consequent on fright; sensation as if something were turning in the chest, followed by heat in the face, slow inspirations and sudden expirations, frequent sighs.

Sumbul. Nervous affections of the heart, rheumatic carditis, heart's impulse strong, jerking, especially after exertion or during digestion, action of heart full and sharp, strokes at times irregular, beating rapidly eight or ten times, then slowly again, apæge, bellows' sound of the heart, with violent and irregular palpitations and flashes of heat in floods from the back; sharp pains, like a knife, in the chest, oppression in left chest, clogged sensation; worse on stooping, left arm numb, heavy, and weary, with sharp, wiry shooting in fingers, hysterical mood.

Sulphur. Palpitations worse when going upstairs or when climbing a hill, sensation as if heart was enlarged; palpitation of the heart, without any apparent cause, without anguish, when lying or during the siesta; violent orgasm of blood in the chest, a sort of boiling, with qualmsiness unto fainting and tremor in right arm, pulse full, hard, accelerated, at times intermittent.

Tarantula. Great oppression of chest; panting respiration, palpitation of heart without any known cause; murmurs and beating of heart, with alternate acceleration and suspension of the movements of the heart; trembling and thumping of heart as from fright, præcordial anguish; the movements of the heart are not felt; suffocation, constant want of air; heart suddenly ceases to beat, and patient fears to die; sensation as if the heart turned and twisted round, with pain in chest and general perspiration; pain in heart as if squeezed or compressed (cactus, lithium); also in aorta, under the left clavicle and carotids, with violent throbbing of heart and arteries; rheumatic pains in chest, extending down to umbilical region.

Tobacco. Lassitude, from muscular relaxation and dread of vertigo on moving; facial pallor or lividity; cold extremities; palpitation when lying on left side; diarrhoea and constipation; dark and scanty urine, alternating with polyuria; perturbation of senses; sudden precordial anguish; oppression of heart.

Veratrum album. Tumultuous irregular contractions of heart, forerunners of paralysis; intermittent action of heart in feeble persons, with some obstruction to hepatic circulation; violent, visible, anxious palpitation, with fainting; pulse sometimes slower than heart-beat.

Veratrum viride. Idiopathic and rheumatic peri and endocarditis, violent fever, full, hard, bounding pulse; congestion to head, without delirium; throbbing carotids; constant burning pain, with oppression of the chest; sensation as of a heavy load on the chest; heart's action violent and tumultuous; respiration rapid, labored, and agging; faintness and blindness when rising from lying, from sudden motions; patient feels best when lying quietly.

Vipera torva. Violent pains in chest, with chilliness; swelling of chest, with difficulty of breathing; violent congestion to heart; he tears his clothes open, with excessive sensation of sickness in abdomen; anguish about the heart; numbness and lameness of upper extremities.

Zincum met. curius. Herpes burning when touched; moist vesicles surrounded by dry scales, easily bleeding; phagedenic blisters; herpes labialis, zona on right side, and extending across abdomen; worse from warmth of bed.

ereum. Herpes zoster, with severe neuralgic pains, itching scratching turns into burning, worse in bed, from touch; vesicles form a brownish scab.

um carb. Herpes iris; herpes with yellow rings, or suppurating vesicles with shooting and itching pains, sensation of formication; hypochondriasis, with aversion to society; warts and herpes on hands; panaritium; worse forenoon, better by rubbing the um mur. Herpes labialis during fever; herpes of bends of arms and knees; moist oozing eruptions; large red blotches, itching by oleum. Herpes, especially on the genitals, moist, oozing, with itching herpes followed by ulcers; itching, sore, moist surface, deep cracks, worse in open air when perspiring, better from cold and warm air.

phorus. Herpes in persons inclined to pulmonary difficulties; burning pain; vesicles confluent and appear in clusters; colored blisters between the fingers and toes; dry herpes; restlessness, wants to change position, worse before midnight, exceedingly sensitive to cold air, better after sleeping.

Psorinum. Moist herpes after suppressed scabies, intolerably itching when getting warm; worse before midnight and in the open air.

Ranunculus. Vesicles filled with a thin acrid fluid; burning, itching vesicles in clusters; herpes over the fingers, palms of hands finally over the whole body; worse from touch or motion, after eating.

Rhus tox. Herpetic eruption, with incessant itching, burning, and tingling, alternating with pains in chest and dysenteric stools, burning and stinging herpes upon hairy parts, more annoying after a perspiration. Herpes Zoster.

Rumex. Vesicular eruption, itching when uncovered and exposed to cool air, worse on lower limbs, when undressing.

Sarsaparilla. Herpetic ulcers, extending in a circular form, forming no crusts; red granulated bases, white borders; serous, reddish secretions.

Sepia. Itching and burning humid tetter; humid places in bends of knees; itching worse by scratching; female complaints.

Silicea. Eruption inclined to ulcerate; sensation of numbness in extremities; genitals perspire and the sweat is offensive; foul foot-sweats.

Spongia. Herpes on face, especially in scrofulous persons, after a cold, with dry croupy cough.

Sulphur. Herpes, with great itching, burning, and soreness after scratching; herpes about nose and mouth; face pale and colorless, lips bright red; aversion to water and open air.

Tellurium. Herpes filled with a watery excoriating fluid, smelling like fishbrine; vesicles bluish or purple; copious perspirations all over the affected parts; ringworms all over the body; headache with faintness. Herpes carinatus with great constitutional disturbance.

Thuja. Herpes zoster; herpes all over body, from suppressed gonorrhoea, itching and burning violently; white, scaly, dry, weal herpes, eruptions only on covered parts, burn violently when scratching; worse from cold water, from the heat of bed, at night, better from gentle rubbing.

Zincum met. Herpes, with violent lacerations; suppurating herpes; violent itching, especially in the bends of the joints, on herpes over the whole body; rhagades, mostly between fingers, bad even in mild weather.

HICCOUGH.

Singultus. Principal remedies: acon., agar., ammon. carb., amy. nitrite, bell., bry., bism., calc., carb. v., coco., croc., tigl., cupr., zeb., graph., hyos., ign., iach., led., lyc., mar., mosch., natr. mur., nuxom., nux m., n. vom., puls., ratan., rut., sep., sil., spong., staph., ver.

For excessive and painful hiccough: cistus, hyosc., mar. ver., veratr. vir., stram. After cold drinks: n. vom. After hot drinks: veratr. alb. After cold fruit: ars., puls. During abdominal inflammation: hyos. For children: ign., or stram., when they are restless and cry much at night. In epigastrium pain: magn. phos., phos.

HIP DISEASE.

gia. Coxarthrocace.

ite. Coxitis, with full, hurried, or intermittent pulse, great heat and intense thirst, the pain may follow the whole tract of the nerve; drawing-tearing pains. During first stage and often requires frequent remedy.

micum. Third stage; the child is emaciated, exhausted, diarrhoea worse in the middle of the night; constant thirst in quantities at a time; pain back of great trochanter, extending to the thigh posteriorly, then toward the knee anteriorly, to the patella, down the tibia to the ankle: pain somewhat relieved by flexion of knee.

m. Third stage; syphilitic diathesis complicated with the use of mercury; inflammation and caries of the bones; cramplike pains in region of hip, and of the inner brim of the pelvis, with stiffness in glutei muscles, which are worse by rubbing.

onna. Thigh and legs feel lame and weak, with tensile pressure in the thigh, as if a tight bandage was drawn around it; tenderness in the region of the head of femur, and inability to walk, severe pain, as if the head of the femur had been crushed; and burning heat of the skin over the affected parts, worse at night, in warm room and when rising, better in the cold and when resting; drowsiness, with inability to go to sleep; pain to head.

rea carb. Second stage; chronic protracted cases: pain when touched, as from subcutaneous suppuration, less when at rest than when moving or walking; pain as from ulceration of the hip joint; numbness in hip and thigh; limping gait or pain on the tip of the toes, worse at night and mornings, from moisture of the clothes, better by warmth, loosening of garments, rubbing up of limbs.

rea phosph. Third stage, where it may stop the further erosion of bone and the suppuration, and promotes new organization; patient falls asleep; stinging-itching burning on small spots; pain in thighs, with aching in the sacral bones; knees pain as if sore when walking.

veg. Excessive prostration; the ulcers have a livid appearance; emit a fetid odor; ichorous, offensive, blackish discharge; gangrene.

ynth. Second and third stage; difficult urination of dark green diarrhoea; lies upon the affected side with bent-up knee; pain, as though the parts were screwed in a vice.

r sulph. Strumous patients, where suppurative process has been arrested by mere, or where suppuration seems inevitable; the formation of abscess; buttock and posterior thighs then sitting; swelling of the knee, pains as if bruised, comes into it.

astis can. Marasmus from scrofula; pain from right hip to the knee; cannot stand or bear one's weight; outer part of thigh aches while sitting, worse when walking.

a. Intermittent, sharp, tearing pains between the left hip and the head of the femur, increased by moving the joint: glandular swellings; abuse of mercury.

Kali carb. Third stage; crampy tearing in the hip-joint and knee; bruised pain in the hip-joint when moving and sneezing; twitchings of the muscles of the thigh; dull pain in the side of the knee when walking, and especially when extending the limb; starting and twitching of the limbs during sleep; great tendency to start, especially when touched.

Lachesis. Traumatic gangrene: ulcers blue and livid, and of exceedingly offensive odor; the wound is surrounded by a number of smaller ulcers; notable offensiveness of the stools, even if of a natural consistence; general malaise after sleep; ulcers sensitive to touch; blood dark, non-coagulable; hæmorrhage from small wounds.

Lycopodium. Suppurative stage, when the wounds are very irritable and the patient complains of a burning pain; great emaciation from protracted suffering; hectic fever; the pus from the openings is ichorous, bloody, of a sour smell; violent jerking of the limbs and body, awake and asleep, and great crossness when awaking out of sleep; great fear of being left alone; worse between 4 and 5 P.M.

Mercur. First and second stage, worse at night, restlessness and inclination to sweat; sharp stitching flashes through the joint, acute stitches in right ilium, boring pain in glutei; burning of nates; tearing pain in hip-joint, knee, and femur, worse during motion; limbs feel stiff when walking; involuntary twitching of the limbs; pain in right thigh as if bruised, worse after walking.

Nitric acid. Rheumatic and arthritic pains from mercurial abuses; diseases of periosteum and necrosis of the bones of the joint; caries; putrid decomposition.

Petroleum. Scrofulous and rachitis; protracted ill-treated cases, with hectic fever and profuse fetid suppuration; unhealthy skin, small wounds ulcerate and spread.

Phosphorus. Fistulous ulcers, with callous edges, secreting a thin foul pus, wounds and areolæ livid and blue, and bleeding by the slightest irritation; hectic fever; dry hacking cough; chronic diarrhoea; urine turbid on voiding, precipitating a white sediment on cooling.

Phosph. acid. Emaciation from the excessive suppuration, general debility; sensation as if the bones were scraped with a knife; the disease originating from suppressed or mismanaged scarlatina or other exanthemata.

Phytolacca. Sharp cutting-drawing pains in hip, leg drawn up, cannot touch the floor; heavy dragging pains from hip to knee, hip disease on right side after mercury, or in syphilitic children.

Rhus tox. First and second stage; pain in hip-joint on pressure upon the trochanter; pain in the knee, and worse from overexertion and at night; involuntary limping; spasmodic twitching in the limbs when stepping out; swelling of the glands of the neck; crusty eruptions on face and head, worse in damp cold weather, from touch; right side mostly affected.

Silicea. Suppuration and caries of the bones, even where gangrene seems inevitable; disease can be traced back to vaccination; fistulous openings discharge a thin fetid pus, together with bony fragments; pale earthy complexion; loss of smell and taste; stoppage of nose.

trid coryza; the part on which one lies easily go to sleep; glandutellings; every little sore is apt to fester.

tended with unbearable pain, driving one mad; emaciation; cough; day and night.

phur. Psoric persons, metastasis of cutaneous eruptions; frequency of redness and inflammation of the eyelids; heat of head and cold of feet; red spots on face; morning diarrhoea or constipation;
in daytime and wakeful at night; easily perspiring.

HOARSENESS.

cedo, Aphonia.

catarrhal hoarseness: bell., calc., caps., carb. v., copaiv., cubeb., dulc., hep., mang., merc., n. vom., phos., puls., rhus, samb., saff.

onic hoarseness: carb. v., caust., dros., dulc., hep., mang., petr.,
rhus, sil., sulph.

consequence of overexerting the voice: aesc. hip., arg. nitr., arn.,
cann., copaiv., cubeb., lach., sang., selen., phos.

consequence of croup: bell., carb. v., dros., hep., phos.

consequence of cold: bell., carb. v., dulc., phyt., sulph.

consequence of measles: bell., bry., carb. v., cham., dros., dulc.,
sulph.

anthus. Hoarse failing voice; wakes up mornings with almost loss of voice.

mina. Sensation of tightly adhering phlegm in the larynx, removed by hawking and cough; sudden complete aphonia;
worse evening and night, especially towards morning; voice with a nasal twang.

monium carb. Hoarseness; cannot speak a loud word, from speaking; larynx as if drawn shut from both sides of the

tim. crud. Loss of voice from becoming overheated, worse um triph. Hoarseness worse from talking or singing, voice lain and changing continually, sometimes deep and hollow, can be heard, and then again loud and screeching; copious secreand great accumulation of mucus in trachea.

gentum nitr. Chronic laryngitis of singers, raising the voice cough; internal soreness of larynx and pit of throat, worse in breath; hoarseness.

ladonna. Dryness of larynx; hoarseness; rough voice, or weakened even to complete aphonia; speaking difficult, and a piping tone.

carea carb. Hoarseness, especially in the morning, painless;
ness and rawness in larynx.

bo veg. Ulcerative soreness in larynx and a burning pain in after a hard cough, worse in the evening, after talking, or after ; deep voice, failing if exerted; unusual feeling of dryness in a, not relieved by hawking isticum. Hoarseness, worse morning and evening, with scraping in the throat, accompanied by a teasing dry cough; paresis of laryngeal muscles and vocal chords; cannot speak a loud word.

Chamomilla. Hoarseness or loss of voice in children, with rough cough; stitching-burning pains in throat, sensation of rawness and scraping in larynx; hoarseness on account of tough mucus in larynx, which can only be removed by strong hawking; catarrhal hoarseness of trachea, with dryness of the eyelids.

Coca. The great toner of the vocal chords (15 drops pro dose). hoarseness of voice, with tickling in the upper part of the trachea, and some cough, especially in the evening, much dry cough in the evening, in bed, as from catarrh of the air-passages.

Conium. Dry spot in larynx, with almost constant irritation to cough and hoarseness.

Copaiva. Hoarseness of voice, especially in the morning, with excruciating pain in larynx when talking; the voice loses its compass, the lower notes are unchanged, but the higher notes cause an excruciating pain, which finally makes their rendering impossible, dry, rough cough, with difficult expectoration of greenish mucus.

Cubebæ. Hoarse, wheezing cough; cough with coryza and hoarseness; tough, gluey, stringy mucus (intermediate between kali bichr. and sang.), dryness and harshness of throat; dry throat obstructed with scanty, tough mucus.

Cuprum. Hoarseness as soon as he breathes dry cold air, talking is difficult, voice powerless; contraction of larynx with the cough.

Drosera. Voice hoarse, deep, husky, hollow, requires exertion to speak; chest and throat symptoms worse from talking or singing; sensation as if something in chest prevented exhalation when talking or singing.

Dulcamara. Catarrhal hoarseness, trachea full of mucus, chronic mucous cough.

Eupatorium perf. Bruised feeling down sternum when coughing; hoarseness, throat dry, can hardly talk, worse mornings when he gets up.

Ferrum phos. Hoarseness from overstraining voice, much mucus in throat and rattling in chest.

Graphites. Chronic hoarseness in herpetic constitutions, voice not clear in singing, worse in the evening; soreness and roughness of larynx, and tickling cough.

Hepar sulph. Sensitiveness of larynx to cold air; hoarseness and roughness in throat; wheezing in larynx, and painfulness of small spot in larynx.

Iodum. Hoarseness all day, constant hemming and coughing to raise small quantities of tough phlegm; tightness and constriction about larynx, with soreness and hoarseness.

Kali bichr. Subacute and chronic inflammatory processes in larynx or bronchial tubes, with congestion and swelling of the tubes and increased secretion of a glutinous mucus, which veils and alters the voice.

Kali carb. Hoarseness, rawness of voice and of throat, with continual sneezing; scraping dryness; parched feeling in throat.

Lycopodium. Hoarseness; feeble husky voice, dryness in wind-

; hoarseness remaining after croup: loose cough by day, suffocating spells at night.

Mercur. bi-iod. Complete loss of voice; hoarse and husky voice; dry after getting a little wet; livid purple patches of inflammation; thin offensive discharge; subacute processes arising from cold atmospheric variations.

Mercur. subl. cor. Hoarseness or aphonia; burning and stinging in the trachea, tightness across the chest.

Stratum mur. Hoarseness, throat sore; voice weak, exhausted talking; accumulation of mucus in the larynx in the morning, dry during day.

Stratum sulph. Hoarseness with fluor albus.

Ulex moschata. Hoarseness from walking against the wind; voice uncertain, bleating; feeling of dryness in larynx; laryngeal inflammation.

Urtica quadrif. Periodical painless hoarseness, voice feeble, constant hawking of mucus, and burning in larynx.

Vitellus phosphorus. Constant hoarseness with cough and rawness in larynx and bronchi, especially behind sternum, and a weight upon chest, worse evenings; cannot talk on account of pain in larynx; only from prolonged long talking, catarrhal or nervous; larynx sensitive to touch.

Urtica tomentosa. Hoarseness and aphonia, dryness in larynx and chest worse evenings; burning in air-passages, with sensation of traction of glottis.

Urtica tinctoria. Hoarse when talking, phlegm sticks in larynx; tickling sensation in throat, as if narrowing, must cough to relieve it; very fatiguing.

Urtica urens. Hoarseness and roughness of throat, cannot speak; nervous aphonia from every emotion, constriction in throat preventing speech, cannot eat, weeps, heaviness comes and goes quickly.

Urtica vulgaris. Hoarse from overstraining the voice, with roughness and soreness in larynx and chest; hot air arises from trachea, cold sensation in larynx when breathing.

Urtica crisp. Hoarseness worse evenings, voice uncertain; thick mucus in throat or larynx, constant desire to hawk.

Urtica sanguinaria. Chronic dryness in throat, sensation of swelling in larynx, and expectoration of thick mucus; aphonia, with swelling of glottis.

Urtica clematidis. Voice husky when beginning to sing, and from talking long; hawks transparent mucus and lumps every morning, sometimes bloody.

Urtica nemoralis. Increased short and hacking cough in the open air; less hoarseness when reading aloud; constant inclination to clear throat and to swallow the saliva; great dryness in the throat, impeding speech; titillating, scraping feeling in the throat.

Urtica opifera. Hoarseness, with tickling in larynx and bronchi; coryza, dry cough, with titillation in throat.

Urtica officinalis. Hoarseness and roughness of larynx; husky voice, worse evenings; fibrous painless swelling of larynx, connected with thyroid gland.

Urtica pinguis. Hoarse voice, cracked or faint, choking sensation; voice goes out when singing or talking; feeling of a plug in larynx; larynx sensitive to touch, and when turning the neck; talking hurts the larynx, voice suddenly gives way.

Stannum. Voice deep, hoarse, hollow; higher after hawking up mucus; roughness and hoarseness, the latter momentarily better by coughing.

Staphisagria. Feeble voice from weakness of the vocal organs, after anger; hoarseness, with much tenacious mucus in larynx and chest.

Sulphur. Great hoarseness, harsh voice, gradually ending in complete loss of voice; talking fatigues and excites the pain, soothing pains through left chest to back.

HOMESICKNESS.

See Emotions.

HONEY, ill effects of.

Camphor by olfaction and as a liniment, according to Hering, then drunk black coffee or tea, as hot as you can bear it.

HORDEOLUM.

Graph., lyc., puls., staph., etc. See Styes.

Graphites. Frequent recurrence of styes, ulcerations of the margins of the lids; biting lachrymation.

Lycopodium. Styes on lids near internal canthus.

Pulsatilla. More in affections of lower lids, conjunctiva injected, agglutination of lids in the morning; much swelling of lids; burning, drawing pain, worse evenings in warm room, and in a cold draft, better in fresh air, catarrhal states tending to suppuration.

Staphisagria. Affection of both lids, especially the upper one; consequences of nervous exhaustion, the affection does not spare the surrounding tissues; shooting, lancinating pains or tears, mostly in paroxysms, worse during night; new ones form continually and leave small hard nodules at the tarsal edge.

HYDROCEPHALUS ACUTUS and HYDROCEPHALOID

HYDROCEPHALUS ACUTUS.

Prodromal stage: bell., brv., cham., glon., ign., ipec., puls.
first stage: acon., bell., glon., hyosc., stram., zinc.; second stage: apoc.

poc., artem., bell., cin., dig., hyosc., merc., rhus., stram.; third stage: apis, opium; 2. arg. nitr., ign., indigo, ipec., moschus.

Chronic hydrocephalus: ars., calc., phosph., hell., kal. jod., lach., mer., sil., sulph.

Aconite. In the earlier stages, when there is marked febrile excitement, great heat and dryness of the skin, nervousness, and fearfulness.

Apis mel. Great restlessness at night; the child screams out very sharply and shrilly during sleep or when awake, especially during the latter part of the night; cri encephalique; squinting; grating of teeth; trembling of limbs; irregular pulse; one-half of body twitching, other half lame; bores head into the pillow; rolling of head; olive green, limy, profuse stools, full of bright-red lumps, like chopped beets, with colic and tenesmus; small stools smelling brassy; copious sweat from head of musklike odor; urine scanty, though it may be profuse; cerebral depression.

Apocynum can. Stage of exudation: sutures opened, forehead projecting; sight of one eye totally lost, the other slightly sensitive; stupor; constant involuntary motion of one leg and arm; urine suppressed.

Argentum nitr. Last stage; convulsions, with great restlessness between the attacks, or every successive spasm is announced by a very marked degree of restlessness.

Arsenicum. Great depression of the vital forces, manifested by great prostration; emaciation; pallor; thirst; sometimes the child strikes its head with its fists, as though for temporary relief.

Artemisia vulg. While the left side is paralyzed, the right is in a state of clonic spasm; the child lies in a sleepy or dreamy state, and yet will drink large draughts of water, without being entirely roused; surface of body cold, involuntary stools.

Belladonna. High fever, with dry burning heat of the whole body, severe burning thirst, beating of carotids, stormy beating of heart; full, strong, quick pulse; sleeplessness or sleep full of anxious dreams and fright when awaking; delirium; vertigo when rising up, with nausea and vomiting, passing off when lying down; bright shining eyes, convulsions; pupils contracted or dilated, blindness; severe headache, as if the head would burst, with pain at every motion and surring of ears; almost constant moaning; convulsions; the child lies in a drowsy or semicomatose state, is constantly starting and jumping, bores its head backward into the pillow, and tries to bend its body backward.

Bryonia. As soon as symptoms of exudation appear, with almost constant motion of the jaws, as though the child was chewing something; lips dry and parched; stools very dry and hard or constipation; the least motion produces nausea and faint feeling.

Calcarea carb. Anterior fontanelle wide open; head very large; copious perspiration on head and upper part of body; frequent screaming without cause, dentition.

Calcarea phosph. Posterior fontanelle wide open; bones of skull soft and friable; screaming and grasping the head with the hands; head totters, squinting as if from pressure; eyeballs distended and protruding; ears and tip of nose cold; face pale, sallow, yellowish; stupid look, takes no interest in anything, always worse about sun-burn; great desire for salt meat and potatoes.

Cimicifuga. Delirium and wild fancies; intense pressing and throbbing in vertex and occiput; feeling as if brain were too large, and as if the top of head would be forced out; pain in the eyes.

Cina. Constant whining and moaning; the child cries piteously if one takes hold of it or carries it; vertigo; loss of consciousness; the child frequently bores into the nose so long that the blood comes, face pale and cold; paroxysms of spasmodic twitching of the limbs, followed by trembling of the whole body.

Cuprum acet. Metastasis during an attack of catarrhal or exanthemic fever, stage of exudation; deliria, with loud screaming, precede the sopor; convulsions begin at the periphery and extend upwards, great stiffness of the neck, with remarkable paleness of the skin; pressure in precordial region and sunken in abdomen; great irregularity of the pulse, sinking sometimes deep below the normal state; trismus, tetanus; cramps; grinding of the teeth; inability to hold the head up; bloodshot eyes; insatiable thirst, cold hands and feet.

Gelsemium. Catarrhal and dental fever, with predominant nervous symptoms; vertigo and blurred vision; cannot hold the head erect; dull stupefying headache; pulse slow, soft, and full, or weak, no thirst.

Glonoin. Cerebral exaltation (apis, depression); head feels larger, can hardly keep the head erect; confusion; faintness, black spots before eyes; wants to keep head perfectly quiet, or cerebral spasmodic vomiting; alternately flushed and pale face; convulsions heavy sleep, difficult to awaken.

Helleborus. Chiefly indicated when all reaction is past and we deal with the consequent paralysis. Diseases of the serous menbrance, approaching insidiously, rather as a sequel from some other disease than as the natural termination of an inflammation of the brain; rigidity of the muscles of neck and limbs, strabismus; dilated pupils; wrinkled forehead, which is bathed in a cold sweat; soporose sleep, with screaming spells, dryness of nostrils, the lower jaw hangs down, or chewing motion of the jaw; urine scanty and dark, depositing a sediment like coffee-ground; involuntary throwing or whirling about of one arm and one leg; rubbing of the nose, the child drinks water greedily.

Hyoscyamus. Delirium; jerking of limbs; watery diarrhea, red face; wild, staring look; throbbing of the carotids; indistinct speech; picking at the bedcovers; distorted eyes, with diplopia; convulsions; frothing at the mouth.

Lycopodium. In delicate, anemic children; heaviness and distension of head; stupefaction; convulsive motions of head, face, and extremities; hemiopia or amblyopia; coldness of face or of the whole body; indistinct speech and heaviness of the tongue; sleepiness screaming out in sleep delirious words; frequently indicated after calcarea, when the eruptive symptoms are followed by deep coma.

Mercurius sol. Scorbutic condition of the gums, sarvatio, glandular enlargement; slimy or clay-colored stools, cold and clammy sweat upon thighs and legs, especially during night; moist tongue with great thirst; child very sensitive to pressure on lower abdomen and epigastrium.

Opium. Indicated in early and late stages; heavy and stupid sleep, with red face; stupid even after waking; extremely acute heat the child seems to be afraid of something, and starts as if frightened; constipation, or stools resemble small black balls.

Phosphorus. Child dull and inclined to sleep all the time; vomits drinks as soon as they become warm in the stomach; coldness of feet and legs.

Pulsatilla. Metastasis, from measles; is unable to raise the head to carry it erect; obscuration of sight, with inclination to vomit and paleness of the face; alternate redness and paleness of face; lividness; easily started; children worry, fret, and cry, and cannot sleep; the child seems sometimes improving, and then worse again; craving for fresh air.

Silicea. The child grasps at its gums continually as though they were painful; profuse sweat about the head at night; scrofulosis.

Stramonium. Great loquacity; merry delirium; desire to escape from the bed and room; grinding of teeth; glittering eyes; staring black, dark-colored stools; during the convulsion the head is jerked from the pillow, and falls back again alternately.

Sulphur. Suppression of a chronic skin disease, or of an otorrhœa, hinders the gradual appearance of the disease; a psoric diathesis prevents the little patient's recovery; head falls backward, prefers to lie with his head low; face pale or red; qualmsiness when raising head; sour breath; urine as if mixed with flour; swollen gums; blisters in mouth, with burning pains; pain in swallowing, with redness and swelling of tonsils and uvula; pain in nose, which is swollen and ulcerated, with discharge of yellow sticky fluid; flashes of heat and burning spells about the middle of the day; great hunger, redness and excoriation around the anus; constant sleepiness, but only sleep in short naps.

Veratrum album. Great inequality in the division of heat; skin cold and clammy; vomiting and aggravation of all symptoms when lying himself up, and comparative well-feeling in horizontal position; the least motion produces nausea and vomiting; loss of all length in extremities; stiff neck, great tendency to convulsions; great thirst for ice-water or ice; disfigured pale face, or redness of the cheek; great prostration after a stool.

Veratrum viride. Fulness and heaviness of head; vertigo, severe headache, unconsciousness; oversensitiveness of hearing, with ringing in ears; strabismus, visual disturbances; nausea, vomiting; loss of memory; convulsions, the child bends its body far backward, pointing to opisthotonos, during a spasm; very quick pulse; skin livid; cold sweat on face, hands, and feet; paralysis.

Zincum. The child has its feet in constant motion; distension of abdomen, constipation, with hard and dry feces; on awaking the child gives signs of fear, and rolls its head from side to side; cries out, starts, and jumps during sleep.

HYDROCEPHALOID.

Apis, arg. nitr., ars., methusa, calc. phos., carb. veg., chin., kali om., kali carb., ign., lyc., merc., nux v., phos., phos. ac., puls., p., sil., sulph., ver. alb., zinc.

Methusa cyn. Disease supervenes upon long-continued indigestion, milk disagrees, and the child vomits soon after nursing, falls asleep from exhaustion, and after waking wants to nurse again; great irritability, or the patient lies stretched out in a semicomatose condition; pupils dilated and insensible to light; features expressive of great anguish; pulse very feeble; mouth very dry or very moist, great weakness, child cannot hold up its head.

Apis. Hydrocephaloid after exhausting diarrhoea or summer-complaint. Heat in the head, all the other body cold; ghastly paleness, sickness of stomach and vomiting when the child is raised up, great emaciation and prostration; pulse filiform while the heart beats voraciously against the chest; faint flushes upon one or the other cheek, absence of thirst, with dry tongue and dry hot skin, apathy, slight reaction to light and sound.

Argentum nitr. Suppression of urine; stools every four hours of creamy consistency, neither offensive, nor painful, vomiting of greenish water in small quantity, or of milk, about an hour after taking food; stupor; pupils dilated.

Arsenicum. After exhausting diarrhoea, or in consequence of morbus Brightii; deep sopor, or coma vigil, with staring spasmodically-moving eyes, dilatation of pupils, difficulty of hearing, speaking, or swallowing, dryness of tongue, sooty nostrils; abdomen sunken; stiff neck, involuntary stool and urine; pulsiness of extremities.

§ 2. Inflammatory indurations (after inflammations): 1, bell., carb. veg., chin., clem., lach., magn. m., rhus, sep., sulph.; 2, agn., arn., baryt., bov., bry., calc., cham., con., dule., graph., iod., lyc., puls., sep., sil., staph.

Scirrhus indurations: bell., carb. an., carb. veg., cham., clem., con., magn., magn. m., n. vom., phosph., sep., sil., staph., sulph.

§ 3. Compare Glands, Diseases of, and Cancer.

INDURATIONS OF THE SKIN, Callosities, etc.

Principal remedies: 1, ars., clem., graph., rhus, sep.; 2, ant., chin., dule., lach., ran., sil.

Hard callosities require: 1, ant., graph., ran., sep., sil.; 2, dule., lach., rhus, sulph., thuj.

Horny indurations: ant., graph., ran., sulph.

When the hard pieces of skin become detached: 1, graph., natr., sep.; 2, amm., ant., borax, clem., ran., sil., sulph.

INFLAMMATION.

§ 1. The principal specific for inflammation is aconite, though this is not the only remedy. Aconite is principally indicated by fever, hard and accelerated pulse, dry skin, etc.; in short, by the so-called sthenic inflammations of the old school.

§ 2. Sulphur is the principal remedy for chronic inflammations, though only remedial when indicated by the totality of the symptoms.

See Inflammatory Fevers.

INFLUENZA.Grippe.

Aconite. Inflammatory symptoms, high fever, dry skin, restlessness; dry, violent, racking cough, with or without oppression; stitches in chest, after exposure to cold west winds.

Allium cepa. Catarrh, with epiphora, smarting of eyes; violent sneezing; profuse bland lachrymation; profuse acrid coryza, when coming into a warm room; must take a long breath and then sneeze accordingly; constant inclination to hack; chest laden with mucus; stitches, with burning, in middle of left side of chest when taking a deep breath.

Ammonium carb. Fluent coryza, with stoppage of nose, and cough after midnight.

Ammonium mur. Watery discharge from nose; loss of smell, with coryza and stoppage of nose, hoarseness, and burning in larynx; frequent sneezing.

Antimon. tart. Oppression of breathing relieved by expectoration; much fatiguing cough, most nights, striking the whole chest and causing headache, most in forehead; constant irritation to cough, with brown expectoration of sero-albuminous fluid; aphthae around mouth; flat or bitter taste; thick, white, or bilious fur on tongue, with retching of phlegm, nausea, and vomiting; loss of appetite without much thirst; sensation of emptiness in stomach.

Arsenicum. Profuse watery discharge from nose, corroding the nostrils and making the upper lip sore; worse at night and after a meal; great debility; spasmodic cough, with desire to vomit, or with vomiting and expectoration of watery mucus; running of eyes, excessive photophobia; inflamed eyes, with ulcers on cornea.

Arsen. iod. Alternate chills and flushes of heat, with irritating corrosive discharge; sneezing; short dry cough; tightness in chest, worse in the open air; puffiness of the lower lids and face, thick white tongue, with red tip and edges.

Belladonna. Hot skin, with inclination to perspire; spasmodic coughing, aggravating the headache; sleepy, but cannot sleep; starting in sleep; frequent sneezing; dryness of nose, with dull frontal headache.

Bromine. Fluent coryza, first the right nostril is stopped up and then the left, frontal headache, especially on right side, with pressure downward, as if the brain were forced down through the nose, short, dry, hacking cough, with difficulty of breathing, which is short and hurried.

Bryonia. Crying at every motion; cough tight; worse through the day when entering a warm room; pain in the pit of the stomach and in the muscles under the short ribs when coughing.

Causticum. Paroxysms of cough, attended by involuntary discharge of urine; rheumatic pains and chills, worse by motion, pains in malar bones and jaws; violent cough, worse at night, and hoarseness in the morning, chest feels raw and excoriated; constipation.

Cimicifuga. Rheumatic catarrhal attacks, with pains in limbs, head, face, eyeballs; chilliness; heat and fluent watery coryza, stuffed nostrils, with great sensitiveness to cold air, as if the base of the brain were laid bare, and every inhalation brought the cold air in contact with the brain.

Eupatorium perf. Flowing coryza; sneezing; hoarseness, with roughness of voice; hacking cough in the evening, with soreness in the chest; restlessness; pains and aching in the limbs; constant change of position, though the pains are not worse by repose.

Gelsemium. Soreness of throat, felt at upper part of left tonsil, extending thence across the soft palate, along the left nostril, attended by a sensation at every inspiration as if a stream of scalding water rushed along the nasal passage of that side, the other nostril at the same time being stopped up; continuous accumulation of irritating mucus about the throat, with hard painful cough; shooting pain in the ear, when swallowing; hard hearing; thirstlessness with the fever; worse at night.

Hepar sulph. Cough tight or loose, or worse in the morning, and after exposure to cold west wind.

Hydrastis. Influenza in cold, weak, debilitated persons; dry harsh cough from tickling in larynx; rawness, soreness, and burning in chest; thick, yellow, tenacious, stringy sputa, sneezing, with fulness over eyes, dull frontal headache, dropping down of mucus from the posterior nares into the throat, pain in right breast and down the arm; constipation from debility or inactivity of intestines.

Iodum. Fluent and hot coryza, with general heat of skin.

Ipecacuanha. Rattling of large bubbles; convulsive cough, with throwing up of phlegm; dyspnoea, nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea; face pale, even bluish.

Iris vers. Constant sneezing; sharp boring pains in the centre of the temples; light, mushy, painless diarrhoea; dry tickling cough, with smarting burning in throat.

Lachesis. Frontal headache, trifling discharge from nostrils; throat sore, especially when touched; as soon as profuse discharge sets in, head and throat feel relieved.

Lycopodium. Expectoration of a lemon color; hepatic and gastric difficulties, with bilious urine and constipation; continual pain on right side under ribs and in gastric region; catarrh of the frontal sinuses, coryza, with deep-yellow discharge and expectoration of the same color, rattling respiration, and loose cough.

Mercurius. Rheumatic pains in head, face, ears, teeth, and extremities, with sore throat; pleuritic stitches, with dry, violent, rack-ing, unceasing cough, not allowing the patient to utter a word; dry or fluent coryza; frequent epistaxis; constipation, or mucous, bilious diarrhoea, chill or heat, with profuse, not alleviating sweat.

Mercur. protiod. Thick plugs of nasal secretion, with severe frontal headache, some fever, and prostration, especially in old people and children.

Nux vom. Rough and hollow cough, with mucous râles and thick expectoration; violent headache, as if the brain were bruised; heaviness of head, vertigo, pains in loins, constipation, loss of appetite, nausea, and desire to vomit; sleeplessness or restless sleep, with anxious dreams; stitches and pain in chest as if raw.

Phellandrium. Hoarseness, with roughness in throat; dry cough, with shortness of breath, stitches in chest and oppression; great thirst, loss of appetite, sleeplessness on account of cough, small black spots like petechiae, disappearing without desquamation; urging to urinate, with scanty emission and violent burning after micturition; urine pale and watery, almost greenish.

Phosphorus. Intense bronchial and laryngeal affection, affecting the voice, and rendering speech almost impossible; dry tickling cough, with tightness across the chest; worse evening and before midnight; coryza, alternately fluent or dry, with frequent sneezing; goneness and faintness in region of stomach; painless diarrhoea.

Phytolacca. Influenza, with derangement of the digestive organs; thin watery discharge from the nose, which increased until the nose became stuffed; inability to breathe through the nostrils, difficulty of swallowing; dry hacking cough, with hawking, excited by tickling in larynx and dryness of pharynx; heart's action weak.

Pulsatilla. Fluid or dry coryza, loss of taste and smell; sore nostrils wings raw; later yellow-green discharge; cough day and night, especially when lying, with distress in bowels and mucous diarrhoea.

Rhus tox. Edema of fauces and uvula, with vesicles and itching, burning pain in these parts, sometimes threatening edema glottidis. velum swollen and pale red, uvula elongated, swollen, transparent, and its apex looks as if a drop of jelly would fall off; blisters on pharynx, the whole throat feels sore, with general debility.

Sabadilla. Fluent coryza, dulness of head, gray dingy color of the skin; dull cough, with vomiting and spitting of blood, especially when lying down; worse in cold weather, towards noon, and evening. red spots in face or on chest.

Sanguinaria. Intense irritation of the nasal mucous membrane, smell in nose like roasted onions; fluid coryza, with frequent sneezing; raw throat; pain in chest; wheezing-whistling cough, and finally diarrhoea, which relieves the cough.

Senega. Constant tickling and burning in larynx and throat, with danger of suffocation when lying; copious expectoration of tough mucus; relief by outdoor exercise.

Silphium lanc. Scraping-tickling irritation of fauces and throat, nausea, faint feeling, sense of soreness in epigastrium; constant hawking and scraping to throw off thin viscid mucus, constant sneezing, followed by discharge of limpid acrid mucus from the nose, with constriction and pressure in supraorbital region; rough cough, with expectoration of yellow mucus.

Spigelia. Influenza accompanied by facial neuralgia; fluent coryza, with dry heat and no thirst, headache, with hoarseness and anxiety about the heart; dry hard cough at night, with dyspnoea, worse when bending forward.

Stannum. Cough dry at first, then moist, with copious expectoration, so that the influenza threatens to assume a consumptive character.

Sticta pulm. Excessive dryness of the nasal mucous membrane, painful, with inability to breathe through the nose, worse in the afternoon, and better in fresh air, the morning hours being nearly free from distress; dull heavy pressure in forehead and root of nose, soft palate feels like dried leather, with difficult deglutition; incessant cough the whole night, dry and hacking from tickling in larynx, with oppression of chest; incessant sneezing, with feeling of fulness in right side of forehead down to the root of the nose, with tingling in right nostril.

INSANITY.

See Mania, Melancholy.

INSECTS, Stings of.

Acon., arn., hell., or merc., generally procure prompt relief.

If the sting should happen on a very sensitive place, causing fever and inflammation, let the patient smell of camphor, and give acon. should camph. be found insufficient.

if tongue be stung by a bee, give acon. and then arn., and if no relief could be obtained, give bell. in water, and afterwards mercury. All should cease to act.

Stings in the eye, give acon. and arn. alternately; acon. for first, and let the arnica act from three to four hours.

SENSIBILITY to external physical impressions.

A condition should exist during illness to such an extent that any remedy seems to affect the patient, give: 1, carb. v., laur., oleand., os. ac.; 2, anac., bell., camph., carb. a., hyos., lach., stram.,

IODUM, III effects of.

Poisoning with large doses, give: 1, starch, mixed with water; 2, flour; 3 mucilaginous drinks.

Secondary affections, or drug symptoms, give: bell., then phos.; chin., coff., hep., spong., sulph.

IRITIS.

Acute. First stage or sudden reappearance: ciliary injection; pupils contracted, severe beating and throbbing pain, especially at night; great heat and dryness of eyes; fever.

Ca. Rheumatic and traumatic iritis.

Chronic. Serous iritis, with periodic burning pains, worse at night, better by warm applications.

Exudativa. More applicable to females: syphilitic iritis, or after use of mercury; pains severe in eye, above it, in temples, of a burning, pulsating, pressing, burning, or sticking character, and become periodic; pains from within outwards, relieved by pressure (reverse of aurum); worse at night.

Mercurialis. Syphilitic iritis, and after overdosing with mercury or pain deep in the bones surrounding the eyes; tearing pressure extending into the eyeballs, with burning heat, especially opening eyes; pain from above downwards and from without in, aggravated on touch; vision clouded as by a dark veil; depression, bone-pains in other parts of body.

Idiopathica. Early stages, caused from a cold, with much redness, throbbing pain in eye and head; congestion of conjunctiva, neuralgia, photophobia.

Rheumatica. Rheumatic iritis, with sharp shooting pains in eyes, extending through into the head and down into the face; soreness and pain in and around the ball, especially behind it, extending through out; pain as if the eye was being forced out of the socket; aggravated by moving or exerting the eyes and at night.

Neuralgica. Periodical supraorbital ciliary neuralgia.

Scrophulosa. Severe ciliary neuralgia in scrofulous children.

Senilis. Iritis dependent upon loss of vital fluids or malaria (chinin).

Spasmodica. Rheumatic iritis, with intraocular tension and much Ulcerativa. Syphilitic iritis; condylomata on iris and lids; commences at inner canthus and extends across the brow, and even passes around the eye; shooting pains through the eye into the head, especially at inner canthus, or soreness along the course of the supraorbital nerve and corresponding side of head. Nocturnal aggravation.

Clematis. Iritis and kerato-iritis: much heat and dryness of eye, great sensitiveness to cold air, to light, and bathing.

Colchicum. Rheumatic cases, with great soreness of the eye balls.

Euphrasia. Rheumatic Iritis, with constant aching and occasional darting pain in eye, always worse at night; ciliary injection, photophobia, aqueous humor cloudy, and iris discolored and bound down by adhesions.

Gelsemium. Severe iritis, alone, or complicated with choroidal exudations.

Hamamelis. Iritis traumatica; hemorrhage into the anterior chamber.

Hepar. Kerato-iritis, ciliary body involved, pus in anterior chamber from rupture of a condyloma; pressing, boring, and throbbing pains, better by warmth, worse from motion, eye very tender to touch; photophobia, great tenderness of conjunctiva, lids red, swollen, spasmodically closed.

Kali iod. Syphilitic iritis, when secondary symptoms are present.

Mercurius. All forms of iritis; pains severe, tearing, boring, cutting, worse at night and in damp weather; much heat around eye and soreness of corresponding side of head; great sensitiveness to heat and cold, to light; acrid lachrymation; pupil contracted and overspread by a thin bluish film, with great tendency to formation of adhesions to the lens; iris discolored, ciliary injection; lids red, swollen, spasmodically closed. (Merc. cor.)

Nitric acid. Suppressed syphilis; gonorrheal kerato-iritis; pressing stinging pains, worse by change of temperature, at night, or touching the parts.

Petroleum. Syphilitic iritis, with occipital headache, pressing and stitching pain in eyes, skin around eyes dry and scurfy.

Rhus tox. Idiopathic and rheumatic iritis, from exposure to wet, suppurative iritis of traumatic origin, as after cataract extraction, lids oedematous, spasmodically closed, and upon opening them tears gush out profusely; chemosis, photophobia, varied pains, worse after midnight and in damp weather; vesicular eruption on corresponding side of face.

Spigelia. Rheumatic iritis, pains sharp and shooting in and around the eye, radiating from one point.

Sulphur. Chronic iritis in scrofulous persons, after suppression of eruptions.

Terebinthina. Rheumatic iritis, urinary symptoms, suppressed footsweat.

Thuja. Syphilitic iritis, marked by condylomata on iris; severe, sharp, sticking pains in the eyes, worse at night, relieved by warmth, heat above and around eye; tearing, dull browache, as if a nail were driven in.

IRON, Ill effects of.

ISCHIAS.

Sciatica, Coxalgia.

Genuine coxalgia : ant., bell., bry., calc., caust., colch., coloc., iach., led., merc., n. vom., puls., rhus., sep., sulph.

Ischias, nervous coxalgia : arn., ars., bell., coloc., lyc., rhus., spig., visc., alb. With intermittent character : ars., cedron, chin.

Coxarthrocace : calc., hep., coloc., phos. ac., sil., sulph., zinc.

Claudicatio spontanea : bell., calc., coloc., lyc., merc., puls., rhus., stram., sulph., zinc.

Ammon. mur. Severe and long continued sciatica, especially left side, worse while sitting, easier while walking and free from pain while lying down.

Argentum nitr. Periodical drawing cramplike pains, from the hip down to the knee; paralytic weakness of the limbs, with emaciation; during the paroxysm sensation of expansion of the limb; worse in the morning, but especially after dinner.

Arnica. From overexertion; burning, stinging, tearing pains; numb and bruised feeling in the affected limb; changes constantly position, as everything on which limb lies feels too hard, especially useful in women during confinement.

Arsenicum. Typical regularity of the pains, worse at night, and unbearable towards midnight; burning-tearing pains, with great restlessness, obliging the patient to move the limb often, in order to obtain relief, but pains are increased by vigorous motion; cannot lie on painful side; great weakness and inclination to lie down; worse from cold applications, temporarily relieved by warmth; from staying in cold damp houses, or from sudden suppression of eruptions.

Belladonna. Ischias, with pain in hip-joint, especially at night, so that he has to change position often; sensitiveness to the touch, even to the clothing, to the least concussion, and even to stepping of other persons in the room; worst by the least draught of air; paroxysms in the afternoon, and last till midnight; wants to sleep, but cannot; better from letting the limb hang down, from warmth, after perspiring, and when in an erect posture.

Bryonia. Pain in lumbar region, extending to the thigh, worse by sitting up, by moving, and late in the evening; lies best on painful side; often relieved by cold water.

Chamomilla. Left side; drawing pain from the hip to knee, and from tuber ischi to soles of feet; numb feeling in affected parts after motion; drawing, tearing, excruciating pains, which become intolerable at night; worse at night in bed, and from the least motion; excessive sensibility and irritability of fibre; the patient acts as if out of his mind.

Cimicifuga. Pain in lumbar region, sacrum, in the whole left leg; the left shoulder and groin pain also, or the pain changes from extremities to abdomen, producing diarrhoea, and sometimes retention of urine; hysterical tendency, complication, with ovarian or uterine troubles.

Cocculus. Pain as if the hip was screwed together, or shooting pain, like lightning, down the whole limb; worse by motion and contact; sensitive to fresh air; excessively prostrating; wretched color of skin; chilliness, with perspiration and heat of skin; sleeplessness; great emaciation; after the paroxysm the parts feel numb as if asleep.

Coffea. Neuralgia of the crural nerve, worse by walking, better by pressure (except at the point of exit of the nerve); pains in paroxysms, tearing stitching, worse afternoon and at night; great restlessness and sleeplessness.

Colocynthis. Ischias on right side: shooting pains in sacral region, so that he must keep perfectly quiet, as every motion aggravates; stitching-cutting pains from hip to knee, or like lightning from os sacrum to heel, worse evening and at night, with thirst for cold water, pain sets in suddenly, is constant in character, becoming intolerable in paroxysms; severe pains causing him to limp, and a numb feeling after the pain; worse from touch, cold, motion, anger, and indignation, better while at perfect rest, and from warm external applications; tendency to shortening of the tendons.

Euphorbium off. Tearing, stinging, pressing pains, better by motion, worse during rest; paralytic sensation, with difficulty of rising from his seat.

Gnaphalium. Intense pain along the sciatic nerve, following its larger ramifications; feeling of numbness occasionally taking the place of the sciatic pains, making exercise very fatiguing.

Hypericum. Violent pains and inability to walk, or to stoop after a fall on the coccyx; the feet feel pithy, as if pricked with needles.

Ignatia. Chronic intermittent ischias, better in summer, worse in winter; hammering pain, as if the hip-joint would break to pieces, chilliness with thirst, followed by heat, especially in the face, with out thirst; intermittent pains of an incisive or throbbing character, at first tertian, later quotidian; patients of a mild, melancholic temperament.

Iris vers. Shooting, burning, laming pains, affecting the posterior femoral muscles, shooting along the left sciatic nerve to foot, greatly aggravated by motion, even moderate one; shooting-burning pain in right shoulder; complicated at times with gastralgia or enteralgia.

Kali carb. Pain in hip-joint as if bruised; drawing pain in left thigh; numbness of limb; in cases where quinine has been used to excess.

Kali iod. Gnawing pain in hip bones; severe lacerating pain in thigh and legs; nightly lacerating in both knees; twitching in right knee, tearing and darting in posterior surface of right thigh; tearing above the bend of the knee, and immediately after, also below, worse in the evening, especially when getting into bed, better by motion, spasmodic contraction of muscles; frequently caused by mercury.

Kali bichr. Males (puls. female); left side, pain running from hip to knee; wandering erratic pains, sharp pain in knee and hip-joint; aching in leg, with trembling; pains come on quickly and subside soon; jerking-aching pain in hip; pain relieved by walking and flexing the leg; worse in hot weather (ign. better in hot weather, by standing, sitting, or lying in bed; pressure causes the pain to shoot along the entire length of the nerve.

Ledum pal. The pain runs from the foot upwards; pinching-drawing pain in either hip-joint, descending along the posterior surface of the thigh; pressure in posterior region of the thigh, with sensation of contraction of muscles; the affected limb is cooler than the remainder of the body; pains worse when getting warm in bed, when touching the parts; left side more affected with weakness and heaviness of the parts; pains followed by swelling of feet and limbs; extreme tenderness of the soles of the feet; itching of dorsal surface of feet and of the ankles at night; deficiency of vital heat.

Lycopodium. Chronic cases, burning and stinging pains, with complete intermissions; stiffness and weakness in the affected limb; worse by rest, and slightly alleviated by motion; painful muscular twatchings; constipation; abdomen bloated, with incarcerated flatulence; urine high colored, turbid, red sandy sediment.

Menyanthes. Stitching contractive pain in the region of hip-joint; cramp-like drawing in the anterior portion of thigh when sitting; when sitting, the thighs and legs are spasmodically jerked upwards (sticta); pain relieved by motion and pressure, worse evening, during rest, and when lying down; after abuse of quinine.

Mercurius. Lancinations in hip-joint and in knee, particularly at night and during motion; drawing and heaviness in lower limbs; chilliness and dread of cold air.

Mezereum. Darting in hip-joints down to knee; drawing pain along the whole thigh, leaving a painful weakness, hindering walking; feels as if the flesh were torn from the bones; sensation of internal heat, surface being cold; worse from touch, motion, evening and night, better in open air.

Natrum mur. Tensive pain in right hip-joint and knee, of a remittent character, painful contraction of hamstrings, limb emaciated; limb painful to touch, pains renewed or increased in a recumbent posture, even in daytime, worse towards noon, relieved by heat.

Natrum sulph. Ischiatic pains in some motions, always when getting up from sitting or when turning in bed; can hardly find a position in which the pain in hips and loins is tolerable; relief from changing position does not last long.

Nitric acid. Pain across the buttocks below spine; hip as if strained, with limping; restlessness and heaviness and trembling of limbs, especially mornings.

Nux vomica. Drawing tearing pains from below upwards, relieved by hot water, with stiffness and contraction of the limb; great pain along the affected limb down into the foot; sensation of paralysis, with coldness of parts affected; can lie best on painless side (bry. more); worse early in the morning and during stool; constipation.

Phytolacca. Neuralgic pains on the outer side of thigh; pressing, shooting, drawing aching, worse from motion, pressure, and at night; great lassitude and desire to lie down; chronic cases of syphilitic origin.

Pulsatilla. Drawing pain, worse toward evening and at night, compelling patient to move the limb constantly; left-sided ischias, cannot rest, although motion aggravates; no thirst, weeps constantly; the worse the pain, the more severe the chills; anorexia.

Ranunculus. Sciatica, especially in women, pains worse by moving about, yet not relieved by lying down; pains worse in rainy, stormy weather; stitching-burning pains, radiating from the dorsal region of the spine.

Rhus tox. During advanced course of the affection, especially when caused by exposure to wet, or straining in lifting, stinging, burning, tearing pain, with numbness, formication, and paralytic stiffness of the limb, increasing during rest and when beginning to move, relieved only for a short time by motion, frequent paroxysms of cramps in calves; worse in open air, better from dry heat.

Ruta grav. The pain is deeply seated as if in the marrow of the bone itself, or as though the bone were broken; the patient is obliged to walk about constantly during the paroxysms, as the pain increases as soon as he sits or lies down; constant complaining about his sufferings, which are of a burning or corrosive character, worse in damp or cold weather, or from cold applications; ischias arising from injuries and contusions.

Salicylic acid. Drawing-shooting pains from behind forwards and downwards to the knees and toes; burning at the toes as if the feet were in an ant-hill; trouble in ascending, worse at night.

Staphisagria. Aching pain around hip joint when walking or sitting, pulsating in hip joint as from beginning suppuration; legs painfully weak, especially the knees; crural neuralgia, stinging-stitching pains during movement.

Sulphur. Pain in small of back, stitching drawing on rising from a seat; tensive pain in hip joint, especially left one; drawing, extending down the limb, accompanied by bruised sensation; heavy feeling of affected limb and numbness as if paralyzed, particularly when walking; more or less rigidity of the knees; swelling of feet in chronic cases.

Tellurium. Sciatica accompanied by sensitiveness of the vertebral column, the pains radiating from the sacrum to the right sciatic nerve.

Viscum album. Severe cases; metastasis of pain from nape of neck to the buttock, and outside of the thigh; fearful tearing, shooting, throbbing pains in left side of sacrum, extending to thigh; sensation as if the flesh of the thigh was torn away with hot pincers; great sensitiveness of thigh, slightest touch causing pain; pains periodic from sacrum into the pelvis, worse in bed, with tearing-shooting pains from above downwards in both thighs, as well as in the upper extremities, with sleeplessness and general prostration.

Zincum. Violent long-lasting pain about the last lumbar vertebra; burning along the whole spine; patient cannot sit at all, must walk about, feet are fidgety; sensation of stagnation in the broad of the legs; rheumatic sciatica, worse from being overheated and from exertion; hysterical hyperaesthesia. (Zincum valerianatum.)

ISCHURIA.

Spasmodic ischuria requires: 1, n. vom., op., puls.; or, 2, aur., canth., con., dig., hyos., lach., rhus, veratr. Paralytic ischuria: ars., dule., hyos.

ITCH.

Scabies.

For dry itch mere. and sulph. alternately every four, six, or eight days, until an improvement takes place, or the symptoms change; these new symptoms generally indicate carb. veg. or hepar, provided it is dry itch, or caust. if a few pustules should have supervened. Symptoms remaining often yield to sepiä or veratr.

For pustular itch give sulph. and lycopod. alternately as above. When the itch becomes more dry, give carb. veg. or mere. Give caust. once a day where sulph. and lye. remain without effect, and where this also fails resort to mere., a dose every forty eight hours. Ulcers indicate elem. or rhus, and where the pustules change to large vesicles of a yellowish or bluish color, give lachesis. Thus teaches Jahr.

Jousset believes only in parasiticide treatment, orders general friction of the body with green soap for half an hour pumice or sand-soap, a hot bath for an hour, and then general friction with ointment of hard 300 gms., flores sulph., 50 gms., subcarb. of potash, 25 gms.

Hering finds for the itch a successful practice of sleeping with the twigs of the poplar (populus balsamifera) in the bed. The buds are resinous and kill the acari as surely as the pyrethrum kills bedbugs, or borax the cockroaches. Balsam of Peru, if genuine, stirred in water, and the clearer portion used as a bath, is next best; also tolu balsam. This destruction of the acari never developed any bad symptoms whatever.

At the Vienna Hospital the patient is rubbed all over with soft soap for half an hour, takes then a tepid bath for another half hour, is dried, and when in bed rubbed all over with a solution of two parts styrax to one of glycerin, packed left for several hours in his pack, takes then another tepid bath, and after a few such procedures is discharged.

Others prefer unguentum staphisagria 4, 30 gms. fat.

Remedies indicated:

Arsenicum. Inveterate cases; eruption in the bends of the knees; pustular eruption, burning and itching; better from external warmth.

Carbo veg. Eruption dry and fine, almost over the whole body, worst on extremities, itching worse after undressing; dyspeptic symptoms, belching of wind and passing flatus; after abuse of mercurial salves.

Causticum. After abuse of sulphur or mercury; yellowish color of face, warts on the face; involuntary urination when coughing, sneezing, or walking; sensitive to cold air

Croton tigl. Itching and painful burning, with redness of skin; formation of vesicles and pustules; desiccation, desquamation, and falling off of the pustules. (Teste.)

Hepar sulph. Fat, pustular, and crusty itch; also after previous use of mercury.

Lobelia. (Teste.) Pricking itching of the skin all over the body.

Lycopodium. Humid suppurating eruption, full of deep fissures; itching violently when becoming warm through the day.

Mercurius. Fat itch, especially in the bends of the elbows, if some of the vesicles become pustular; itching all over, worse at night when warm in bed; sleepless at night from the itching, diarrhoea.

Psorinum. Inveterate cases, with symptoms of tuberculosis; also, in recent cases, with eruptions in the bend of the elbows and around the wrists; repeated outbreak of single pustules after the main eruption seems all gone.

Sepia. After previous abuse of sulphur; itching worse evening, especially in females.

Sulphur. Main remedy; voluptuous tingling itching, with burning and soreness after scratching; worse in warm bed; disposition to excoriation; glandular swellings.

Sulph. ac. When itchiness of skin and single pustules appear every spring; after imperfectly cured itch.

ITCH, BAKERS' AND GROCERS'.

See Lichen.

ITCH, PRAIRIE.

Apis, ledum, rumex.

Apis. Vesicles between fingers, itching after much scratching, inclined to ulcerate; skin covered with a dry, red, raised eruption, uncomfortably itching; worse from warmth of bed and in cold or changing weather, better in the fresh air.

Ledum. Itching eruption scattered thickly over scalp; flush on face and forehead; enlargement of cervical glands; burning and smarting in lower extremities; bone-pains; itching of feet on dorsal surface and ankles, especially nights; day, intensely itching spots on the body, with anxiety; itching rash on wrists and inside of knees.

Rumex. Pimples on the limbs, about the knees, on the calves of the legs, violently itching, especially when undressing, irritated by scratching, when the skin turns red, and mornings immediately on rising; burning itching in various parts of the body, limbs, face, and neck.

ITCHING OF THE ANUS.

Aconite is an excellent remedy, especially if the skin be inflamed; we may likewise try: merc., nitr. ac., sepia, sulph., thuj.; and, baryt. calc., zinc., at long intervals. See Herpes, Itching of the Skin, Haemorrhoids, Worm Affections.

ITCHING OF THE SKIN.

Pruritus, Prurigo Simplex.

This itching may depend upon a variety of causes, of which the ure: 1, a simple irritation of the skin by sweat, etc.; 2, a tumor characterized by a very fine vesicular eruption.

Pains too strong: bell, cham., coff., con., nux v., puls., sec.

Aconite. Great distress, moaning, and restlessness; vulva, vagina, and os dry, tender, and undilatable.

Arnica. Fatigue of uterus, great flushing of face and heat of head during each pain, the rest of body being cool; violent pains to very little purpose; feeble pains, with constant desire to change position.

Arsenicum. Rigidity of vagina and soft parts, so that they will hardly admit the index finger.

Aurum. The pains make her desperate; congestion to head and chest, and palpitation of heart.

Belladonna. Pains come on suddenly and disappear suddenly, spasmodic contraction of os, which is hot, dry, and, tender, labor slow and tedious; hot face, throbbing headache; sensitive to noise, light, jarring of the bed.

Borax. Pains accompanied by violent and frequent eructations; oversensitive to noise.

Caulophyllum. Extraordinary rigidity of os; spasmodic severe pains, without progress; pains flag from long continuance and exhaustion; thirst and fever; false pains.

Causticum. Sore distressing pain in the back; inertia uteri with great relaxation of the tissues and prostration, attributable to debility from night watching, grief, or other depressing influence.

Chamomilla. Spasmodic pains, which she can hardly bear, rendering her frantic; tearing pains down the legs; she is spiteful and shrieks out, hour-glass contraction; rigidity of os uteri.

China. Hemorrhage, fainting, convulsions; cessation of pain from loss of vital fluids; she cannot bear to be touched during the pains, not even on her hands.

Cimicifuga. Tearing distressing pains, but they do not effect expulsion; nervous excitement in rheumatic women; labor-pains severe, tedious or spasmodic, with fainting fits or cramps; feels worse from least noise; shivers during first stage of labor; rigidity of os uteri.

Cocculus. Pains of a spasmodic, irregular, and paralytic character; she will have one hard one, and then after a longer interval several light ones; much headache; numb and paralyzed feeling of lower extremities.

Coffea. Labor-pains insupportable to her feelings; she feels them intensely, weeps and laments fearfully; the pains, though severe, are not efficacious.

Conium. Scirrhus in breast or uterus; labor slow in progress, spasmodic pains, os uteri rigid; vertigo, particularly on turning a bed.

Cuprum. Violent spasmodic pains at irregular intervals, with violent cramps in lower limbs; great restlessness between the pains.

Ferrum. With each pain face flushes up fiery red.

Gelsemium. Rigidity of os uteri, with tardy labor; cutting pains in abdomen from before backward and upward, rendering labor pains useless; pains go upward to back or chest.

sygium. Lingered, almost painless labors, uterine contractible and inefficient.

phites. Large and corpulent women of venous constitution; weak or ceasing.

vacuanha. Constant nausea and faintness; sharp cutting about umbilicus, which dart off toward the uterus, interfering the pains.

carb. Pain begins in back, and instead of coming around in like a regular pain, pass off down the buttocks or glutei. sharp sitting pain across lumbar region, arresting progress; sharp pains; belching with relief.

opodium. Labor pains go upward, she must keep in constant, often with weeping; relief by placing the foot against a sup- pressing and relaxing alternately, so as to agitate her whole mesia mur. Hysterical spasms interrupt the pains; great sickness; constipation; fainting fits with nausea, relieved by fons.

rum carb. Anguish, tremor, and perspiration with every thing which she desires to be gently rubbed, which affords rum mur. Very sad and foreboding; feeble pains; labor pro- slowly.

mosch. Drowsy, sleepy, disposed to fainting spells, pains feeble, or suppressed vom. Pains, without actual labor, with constant urging to e or urinate; every pain causes fainting and thus retards labor.

im. Suppression of pains from fear or fright; twitching and of muscles; sopor, red face, injected eyes.

sphorus. Tall and slender women of phthisical diathesis, being distressing and of very little use; very weak and empty in abdomen, sometimes with cutting pains.

ina. Contractions interrupted by painful sensitiveness of val- external genitals; painful, ineffectual, spasmodic pains. Her is horrify her.

atilla. Inertia of uterus (arnica, fatigue of uterus); pains palpitation, suffocating, and fainting spells, must have fresh ; labor progresses slowly.

le. Weak, cachectic women; pains weak, distressing, or sup- ; fainting fits; small and suppressed pulse.

a. Shuddering during pains, she wants to be covered; indu- on neck of uterus; shooting pains in neck, extending upurnum. False pains precede the real pains; cramps in abdo- moting down the legs; acts best in blondes.

FOR RETAINED PLACENTA, give:

adonna. Red face and injected eyes, great distress and g; heat and dryness of vagina; profuse flow of hot blood, which coagulates; the slightest jar causes suffering. hour-glass tions.

haris. Burning pain in pelvic portion of abdomen and back; ness, vomiting, swelling of the lips of the os.

oifuga. Rheumatic, distressing, tearing pain in uterine region; no uterine action; feels sore, headache, brain feels too large for the skull, eyeballs pain.

Gelsemium. Cutting pain in lower part of abdomen, running upward and backward.

Gossypium. Retained placenta, adheres firmly to the walls of the uterus, no amount of force will scarcely remove it.

Ipecacuanha. Constant nausea, cutting pain around navel, occasionally extending down into uterus; hemorrhage with retained placenta.

Pulsatilla. Want of expulsive power (inertia uteri), or spasmodic retention; intermittent flow of blood; restless; wants cool fresh air.

Sabina. Intense after-pains notwithstanding the retention, with discharge of fluid blood and clots, with every pain running from sacrum to pubes.

Secale. Constant bearing down; passive hemorrhage; the parts feel as if relaxed, and there is no uterine contraction (climacif), or irregular hour glass contraction.

Sepia. Little sharp shooting pains in cervix uteri, sometimes burning.

§ 3. VIOLENT AND LONG-LASTING AFTER-PAINS:

Arnica. Should be given during the last stage of labor, and another dose immediately after it, on account of the strain on the general muscular system and the bruised condition of the genital organs; pain excited by nursing the babe.

Belladonna. Sudden appearance and sudden cessation of the pain; forcing pains, as if the contents of the pelvis would be forced through vulva; lochial discharge seems to her hot, flow increased with each pain.

Bryonia. After-pains excited by least motion and deep breath, which satisfies and relieves the chest; parched lips and dry mouth.

Caulophyllum. After protracted and exhausting labor, spasmodic pains across lower abdomen.

Chamomilla. Distressing pains, she cannot bear them; lochia dark-colored; wants fresh air; flow clotted and dark.

Cimicifuga. Patient low-spirited, sleepless, restless; great sensitiveness to the pains, which are continuous; great tenderness on pressure, womb does not contract properly; severe pain in right side of head, back of the orbit.

Coffea. Distressing pains, preventing sleep, though very sleepy.

Cuprum. Cramping pains, causing cramps of extremities, even toes and fingers; particularly indicated in multiparae.

Ferrum. Violent pains in loins and abdomen, like those of labor with discharge of partly fluid and partly clotted blood; full, hard pulse; frequent short shuddering, headache, and vertigo; especially suitable for feeble women, with fiery red face.

Gelsemium. After-pains too severe and lasting too long, sensitive women, who cannot compose themselves to sleep; sleep, with half waking and murmuring.

Hyoscyamus. Jerking and twitching; spasmodic pains, she is delirious.

Ignatia. Much sighing, sadness, and despondency with the after-pains.

Kali carb. Stitching and shooting pains, especially in the back, shooting down into the gluteal region or hips.

Lac caninum. Severe after-pains shooting down the thighs.

Nux v. Aching pains, with a desire to go to stool with every pain; sore feeling in uterine region, so that she dreads to be disturbed; likes to have the room warm.

Paris quad. Intense after-pains, but very imperfect contractions; entire suppression of lochia, with ineffectual urging to stool; agonizing headaches, with sensation as though the face was drawn towards the root of the nose, then backward towards occiput, as if by a string; eyeballs painful and sore to the slightest attempt at motion.

Podophyllum. After-pains, with strong bearing-down pains.

Pulsatilla. Restless and changeable in her feelings, now better, now worse; wants fresh air.

Rhus tox. Pains worse at night, hardly any during day; relief from changing position and from being well covered; cramps in calves.

Sabina. Pains run from sacrum to pubes; discharge of fluid and clotted blood with the severe pains, extending from pubes to thighs.

Secale. Prolonged pains; brown thin lochia; though feeling cold, does not wish covering.

Sepia. Constant sensation of weight in anus; pains shooting upward in vagina, and are felt mostly in back; severe bearing down or forcing in the back, occurring in regular paroxysms.

Sulphur. After-pains from sacrum around pubes and down the thighs; scanty lochia; feels badly in abdomen; flushes of heat; weak and faint spells.

Sulphuric acid. Great sense of general weakness or sense of trembling all over, without actual trembling.

§ 4. CONVULSIONS OR SPASMS DURING AND AFTER LABOR:

Aconite. When in their incipency there is a hot dry skin, thirst, restlessness; fear of death.

Argentum nitr. Presentiment of the approaching spasm; she is in constant motion from the time she comes out of one spasm till she goes into another; the spasms are violent, and are preceded by a sensation of expansion of the whole body.

Arnica. The pulse is full and strong, and during every pain the blood rushes violently to the face and head; symptoms of paralysis of the left side; tympanitis of abdomen after labor (peritonitis); unconsciousness; involuntary discharge of feces and urine; head hot, body cool.

Belladonna. Convulsive movements in the limbs and muscles of the face; paralysis of right side of tongue; loss of speech and difficult deglutition; dilated pupils; red or livid face; renewal of the fits at every pain; more or less tossing between the spasms, or deep sleep, with grimaces or starts and cries, with fearful visions; jerking and twitching of muscles between the spasms; sound sleep or unconsciousness after a spasm.

Cantharis. Convulsions, with dysuria and hydrophobic symptoms. bright light, drink, sound of falling water, or the mere touch, cause a renewal of the spasms.

Chamomilla. Convulsions after anger; excessive irritability and petulance.

Cicuta. Strange contortions of the upper part of the body and limbs during the paroxysms, with blue face and frequent interruption of breathing for a few seconds.

Cocculus. Spasms following difficult labor, brought about by changing position of patient.

Cuprum. Spasms, complicated with violent vomiting, opisthotonus with every paroxysm, with spreading out of the limbs and opening the mouth; clonic spasms during pregnancy, when the attack begins at the periphery and spreads centrally.

Gelsemium. Premonitory symptoms: the head feels very large; the spasms occur as the first hint that the os uteri remains rigid and unchanged; distressing pains from before backward and upward in the abdomen; head heavy, with half stupid look; face deep red; speech thick; pulse slow, full; albuminuria.

Glonoïn. Unconsciousness; face bright red, puffed; pulse full and hard; urine copious and albuminous; eclampsia, from protracted difficult labor.

Helleborus. A shock passes through the brain as if from electricity, followed by spasms.

Hyoscyamus. Puerperal spasms; shrieks; anguish; oppression of chest; unconsciousness; bluish color of face; twitching and vibration of every muscle of the body; delirium; during convulsion limbs forcibly curved and body thrown up from the bed.

Ignatia. Deep sighing and sobbing, with a strange compressed feeling in the brain; groaning and stretching of limbs at the termination of each spasm.

Lachesis. Violent convulsions in lower limbs, with coldness of feet, stretching backward of the body, and screaming.

Laurocerasus. She is conscious of a shock passing through her whole body before spasm (hell).

Mercurius. Convulsions mostly in extremities; much salivation.

Moschus. Convulsions from uræmic poisoning.

Nux mosch. Convulsive motion of head from behind forward; hysterical eclampsia in women who easily faint; drowsy before and after spasms.

Enanthe. Epileptoid convulsions from uræmic poisoning.

Opium. Sopor, with stertorous respiration, incoherent wandering, and convulsive rigidity of body, with redness, swelling, and heat of face; stupor between spasms.

Pulsatilla. Convulsions following sluggish or irregular labor; countenance cold, clammy, and pale; unconsciousness and loss of motion; stertorous breathing and full pulse.

Secale. Puerperal convulsions, with opisthotonus.

Stramonium. Frightened appearance before and after the convulsions commence; sardonic grin, stammering or loss of speech; loss of consciousness and sensibility; frightful visions, laughter, singing. Attempts to escape, the fits are renewed by the sight of brilliant objects, and sometimes by contact.

Veratrum viride. Eclampsia from emotional causes; great activity of the arterial system, convulsions and mania, which even keeps on after cessation of the spasms; face flushed, pulse wiry, throbbing.

Zincum. After the disappearance of old eruptions, coma from bral exhaustion; loss of sensation of the whole body; mania from mental excitement; somnambulism.

5. ABDOMINAL SORENESS AFTER CONFINEMENT:

Arnica. Tympanitis; relief of soreness in abdomen by pressure with the hand or binder.

Colocynthis. Relief from pressure; patient inclined to double up.

Conium. Constant inclination to evacuate the bowels to relieve soreness.

Mur. acid. Anus so sensitive to touch that even the pressure of a sheet cannot be borne.

Plumbum. Abdominal walls retracted and drawn inwards toward the spine.

Rhus tox. She feels badly all through the night, is restless, and tosses about.

Ruta. Anus prolapsed and swollen, whether painful or painless.

Sulphur. Abdomen raw and sore; sensation as of something winging about in the abdomen; occasional stitches, extending from the abdomen upwards, even into the head.

6. DERANGEMENT OF THE LOCHIAL DISCHARGES:

Aconite. Lochia return, when she begins to walk about the house.

Baptisia. Lochia acrid and fetid; great debility and prostration.

Belladonna. Offensive lochia, feeling hot to the parts; great tenderness of abdomen; pains come and go suddenly; flushed face; delirium and visions.

Bryonia. Suppression of lochia, or they may be too profuse, with cramping pains in uterine region; worse from least motion.

Dalcarea. Milky lochia last too long; woman menstruated also profusely.

Darbo an. Lochia too long continued, thin, offensive, excoriating, with numbness in limbs.

Daulophyllum. Bloody lochia last too long; oozing passively, from the relaxed uterine vessels.

Thamomilla. Suppression of lochia, followed by diarrhoea, colic, headache, irritability.

Coffea. Discharge too profuse, with exalted nervous sensibility.

Colocynth. Suppression of lochia, with colic, tympanitis, and delirium, worse after eating or drinking; great restlessness.

Orocus. Lochial discharge appears in dark strings; sensation of tension in abdomen, which becomes much distended.

Dulcamara. Lochia suppressed by cold or dampness; quantity of milk diminished.

Erigeron. Least motion excites a fresh discharge of blood; retarded by rest.

Kreasot. Excoriating, offensive lochia; they almost cease to flow, then freshen up and become more profuse and bloody, and again most disappear, to reappear again.

Mercurius. Discharge worse at night, with swelling and inflammation of the genital organs; swelling and sore groins.

Nux vom. Scanty and offensive lochia; irritable rectum, calling for stool frequently; urinates often, the urine producing a scalding sensation; soreness in uterine region; hates to be moved or disturbed; prefers to be well covered.

Opium. Suppression of lochia from fright; sopor.

Platina. A little discharge remains, but it is black and clotted; genital organs very tender; intermittent discharge occurring in gushes; cannot bear a warm room.

Pulsatilla. Milk suddenly disappeared from the breasts, the scanty lochial discharge remaining is milky; she is peevish, but has no thirst.

Rhus tox. Thin and offensive lochial discharge, lasting too long and nearly exhausting her, and occasionally becoming bloody, restlessness; must change often for relief.

Secale. Very offensive and thin lochia, scanty or profuse, painless, or accompanied by prolonged bearing down pains; very dark discharge.

Sepia. Offensive, fetid, excoriating lochia, with little sharp shooting pains in the region of the neck of uterus; distressing bearing down in the back; nipples cracked across the crown.

Silicea. Pure blood flows every time the infant nurses; discharge sometimes excoriating; after-pains in the hips.

Stramonium. Cadaverous odor of lochia; she is full of strange fancies and visions.

§ 7. METRORRHAGIA. Compare Hemorrhage of Uterus.

§ 8. INJURIES OF SEXUAL ORGANS. Give arnica internally, and bathe the parts with ten drops in eight ounces of water.

§ 9. RETENTION OF URINE AFTER PARTURITION.

Arnica. Retention, with urging to urinate; bruised feeling from mechanical injury.

Arsenicum. No sensation or desire to urinate.

Belladonna. Urine passed in drops without pain.

Cantharis. Great desire to urinate, with cutting-burning pain in bladder and urethra; complete strangury, or the urine may dribble away.

Causticum. Frequent and urging, but unsuccessful desire to urinate, or only a few drops flow involuntarily.

Hyoscyamus. Apparent paralysis of the bladder; atony of bladder, with constant pressure.

Lycopodium. Retention of urine, with violent pain in back, and urine flowing in fits and starts.

Nux vom. Burning and tearing pains, with unsuccessful desire to urinate; retention of urine, with frequent desire to stool.

Opium. Retention of urine and feces, without any desire to expel them.

Pulsatilla. Retention of urine, with redness, heat, and soreness of the external region of the bladder, which is painful to the touch.

Stramonium. Retention of urine, with sensation as if ureters were too narrow, passes only a few drops after severe straining.

Antimon. crud. Violent spasms in larynx and pharynx, as if throat were filled with a plug, which becomes alternately thicker and thinner, accompanied by a feeling of soreness; laryngitis of singers, voice gone, scarcely able to utter a single word, worse from getting overheated, in a warm room, better after rest.

Argentum met. Phtthisis laryngea, with hectic fever, sweats easily on chest and abdomen; cough with easy expectoration of white, thick, starchlike mucus, without taste or smell; cough excited by laughing (stannum).

Argentum nitr. Inflammation and swelling of the posterior wall and lining of the larynx, attended by a sensation of a clog in the vocal organs, with hoarseness and loss of voice; continual and vain efforts to swallow, with pain and soreness in deglutition; much hawking; considerable muco-purulent expectoration or titillation in larynx, with dry spasmodic cough.

Arsenicum. Burning pain in larynx, increased by deglutition, which is difficult, as if impeded by a lump at the root of the tongue; short dry, hoarse cough in rapid paroxysms, mostly in daytime, less at night in warm bed; prostration from nausea and difficult swallowing.

Belladonna. Acute laryngitis, rendering deglutition difficult and painful, spasmodic croupy cough, the usual congestive symptoms, sudden attacks of hoarseness; feeble low voice.

Bromine. Husky, hoarse voice, cannot speak clearly; voice weak and soft, with raw, scraped feeling in throat; constriction in larynx, which is painful to the touch; scraping and rawness in larynx, provoking cough.

Calcarea carb. Deficiency of secondary assimilation; great irritation of the air-tubes; dry tormenting cough, chiefly at night, raising only after long and great efforts scanty, white, frothy, gluey, or dirty-looking putrid sputa; cold and chilliness; emaciation, gastro-intestinal catarrhs; rachitis.

Carbo an. Cough, with greenish expectoration and pneumonia of right lung, degenerating into suppuration, while at same time larynx is chronically inflamed.

Carbo veg. Long-standing catarrhs of elderly people or in person whose vitality is reduced to the lowest ebb by insufficient nourishment rather than by disease, with venous capillary dilatation of the pharyngo-laryngeal parts and prevailing torpor of all the functions (phosphorus); ulcerative pain in larynx, with scraping and tickling.

Causticum. Laryngeal catarrh of singers; the laryngeal muscles refuse to act, cannot speak a loud word; worse morning and evening, with scraping in throat.

Hepar sulph. Laryngeal catarrh, grafted on an organism of tuberculous disposition; scanty, tenacious, muco-purulent secretion, with difficulty of expectoration; hoarseness remains for some time.

Iodine. Laryngeal ulceration; voice altered, husky; constant hemming and hawking; tightness and constriction about the larynx, with soreness and hoarseness; trachea also implicated.

Kali bichrom. Chronic laryngitis, with congestion, swelling of the tissues and increased secretion of a glutinous fluid, worse toward morning, when the tough mucus nearly strangles him, follicular laryngitis.

Kali iod. Follicular inflammation; laryngeal irritation, fit cough, burning tickling in throat, secondary syphilis or tertiary, with deposits in the throat.

Lachesis. Hoarseness, rawness, and dryness of larynx, which is sensitive to touch, feeling of lump in throat causing sensation of suffocation.

Manganese. Laryngeal catarrh in weak, anemic persons, or in such as exhibit tubercular deposits in the lungs; hoarse voice in the morning, which becomes gradually clear after expulsion of lump of consistent mucus.

Nitric acid. Chronic laryngeal cough, without expectoration, with a stinging or smarting sensation, as if a small ulcer was there, generally felt on one side; long-standing, short dry cough, continuous all day, very troubles one when first lying down at night, but not waking the patient from sleep.

Phosphorus. Irritable weakness of the vocal organs, violent tickling in larynx when speaking; dry spasmodic cough, with constriction of throat.

Sanguinaria. Acute edematous laryngitis; dryness in throat, with soreness, swelling, and redness; chronic dryness in throat, sensation of swelling in larynx, and expectoration of thick mucus, polyp of larynx and nasal fossae.

Selenium. Tubercular laryngitis; raising of small lumps of blood and mucus; tendency to hoarseness; cervical glands swollen, hard, but not sore.

Senega. Copious accumulation of mucus in the air tubes.

Spongia. Dry, irritating cough from a burning tickling in larynx; swelling of submaxillary glands; swollen larynx almost protruding above the chin; difficult respiration as from a plug in throat.

pains at larynx when touching it; whistling and rattling in the wind-pipe; hoarseness; great dryness of larynx, with short and barking cough and obstructed respiration, worse at night; cough always coming on after eating sugar.

Sulphur. Arterial and venous vascular irritability; great impressionability of the skin; rheumatic, gouty, herpetic, scrofulous diathesis.

Compare Bronchitis.

Aconite. Leucorrhœa, with sensation of heat, fulness, and tension in the internal parts; continual tingling, not disagreeable, but forcing them to scratch; burning on urinating; febrile symptoms.

Æsculus hip. Great lameness across the sacro-iliac symphysis, so that walking is difficult; constipation; hæmorrhoidal knots, at with little bleeding; discharge worse after menses, increased by walking of a dark-yellow color, thick and sticky, corroding the labia, with aching in the sacrum and knees.

Aletris farinosa. In cases of debility from protracted illness, loss of fluids, defective nutrition, great disposition to abortion.

Alumina. Leucorrhœa before and after menses; transparent mucous discharge in large quantities, only in daytime; acrid burning leucorrhœa; vertigo; constipation; flat taste; difficulty of suffering from dryness of the throat (nux. mos.); profuse leucorrhœa, running down to the heels in large quantities, lasting about a week after menses, then disappearing, and ameliorated by cold washing.

Ammonium carb. Extremely acrid, burning, and watery leucorrhœa; menses too early, too scanty, or too profuse; poor refreshing sleep; headache after walking in fresh air; it suits such weak, delicate women; sleepy by day, no sleep at night.

Ammonium mur. Leucorrhœa like white of egg; menses too early, too profuse; constipation, stools hard, crumbly.

Aralia racem. Leucorrhœa with acrid, foul-smelling discharge and pressing down pains in uterus; feeble state of the nervous system, great debility, chronic uterine catarrhs.

Arsenicum. Leucorrhœa in women who are pale, waxy; with even slight efforts fatigue them; sleep full of fatiguing dreams; constantly chilly; dread of cold water, as it lies cold in the stomach; vomiting immediately after taking food; amenorrhœa; it acts terrifically in the chronic leucorrhœa of old women; acrid, free discharge.

Aurum. Syphilitic and scrofulous leucorrhœa; induration and prolapsus of the uterus; great nervous weakness with utter despair. Turbid urine, with a deep mucous sediment. Chimaphila.

Belladonna. Leucorrhœa, with colicky pains, appearing suddenly and as suddenly vanishing; bearing-down pains as if the uterus ould issue forth (lilium); leucorrhœa most copious in the morning; semi-consciousness during sleep; headache, noise and bright light annoying; constipation or diarrhœa, with shuddering during stool; fine stains linen like saffron.

Borax. White albuminous discharge, escaping with the sensation of warm water passing over the parts; nervousness; cannot bear a downward motion or horseback riding; the least scratch gives rise to sore; menses too early and too profuse, with pain extending from the stomach to the small of the back; sterility; leucorrhœa just midway between the menstrual terms.

Bovista. Leucorrhœa, after the menses, thick, slimy, tenacious, mild, and corrosive; before the menses, diarrhœa; during menses, headache, which are too early and profuse or too late and too scanty, coming only at night.

Calc. carb. Milky leucorrhœa, burning, and by spells between menses, much moisture between the labia and thighs, with biting pain, inflammation, redness, and swelling of the vulva, with purulent discharge from the friction in fat leucophlegmatic women?; albuminous leucorrhœa from the cervical canal, with great lassitude, debility, sinking and trembling at the stomach, and burning pains in cervical canal; cold and damp feet, as though she had on damp stockings; menses too profuse, too often, and too soon; the least excitement causes the menses to return (relaxation of the whole system); sensitiveness to cold air, sexual desire with relaxed sexual parts.

Calc. phosph. Feeling of weakness in sexual organs after stool and urination.

Cannabis sat. Inflammatory stage of gonorrhœa, with all its painful symptoms.

Cantharis. Bloody discharge after urinating; frequent urging to urinate, with cutting and burning; severe headache, deeply seated in the brain, so depressing that it causes her to frown; pernicious consequences of masturbation; pruritus vaginæ; leucorrhœa acid and burning during micturition, and when it is not occasioned by the more deep-seated disturbance of the organism, particularly in males with intense sexual desire; pressing towards the genital organs; gonorrhœa.

Carbo anim. Serofulous leucorrhœa; burning and acrid leucorrhœa; induration of the neck of the uterus; watery leucorrhœa when sitting or standing.

Carbo veg. Great foulness of all secretions; morning leucorrhœa, discharges very acrid, excoriating the parts, with itching at the perineum; pruritus of genitals and anus; flatulency; sphulph of the pleva, with much itching, heat, and redness; leucorrhœa thin and profuse in the morning when rising; leucorrhœa after micturition; silky leucorrhœa, excoriating the parts; bloody mucus from the vagina; soreness and rawness in the pudenda during the leucorrhœa.

Carbolic acid. Copious discharge of fetid, greenish, acid matter from the vagina, with uterine catarrh; dragging sensation across the hips and through the pelvis; frequent desire to urinate, with burning pain in the urethra; excoriating discharge, worse after the previous menses.

Caulophyllum. Leucorrhœa, with profuse mucous discharge from the vagina atony), and yellow spots (moth) on the forehead a reflex symptom from uterine irregularities (æcia).

Causticum. Leucorrhœa at night, sickly yellow look, and drooping eyelids; menses too early and too abundant; after its cessation a little blood is passed from time to time for many days, which smells badly; profuse leucorrhœa, smelling like the menstrual blood.

Chamomilla. Burning in the vagina, as if excoriated; yellow corrosive leucorrhœa; acid, watery leucorrhœa after dinner; pressure towards the uterus, like labor-pains, with frequent desire to urinate; nervous irritability and hysterical spasms.

China, or Cinchona. Great debility, attended with a certain amount of irritability, leucorrhœa preceding the menses, with pressing pains in the groin; discharge of clots, or of bloody, foul-smelling, purulent matter, with contractions in the inner parts; a melancholic feeling about the heart, and a desire to take a deep breath. Painless indurations in the neck of the uterus.

Cimicifuga. Vaginal and cervical leucorrhœa, without ulcerations, with bearing down pains; uterine inertia; prolapsus uteri from deficient innervation; sterility.

Cina. Leucorrhœa, produced by worms crawling into the vagina?

Cinnabaris. Gonorrhœa on a syccotic basis; leucorrhœa, causing a pressing in the vagina during the flow.

Coccus. General sense of prostration, as if it were impossible to make any exertion; leucorrhœa in place of the menses, like æcia, mixed with purulent, ichorous fluid; bloody leucorrhœa, irregular and scanty menses, and in the intervals leucorrhœa, clouded, confused feeling in the head; feels too weak to talk aloud, pains in back, as if menses would come on.

Collinsonia. Leucorrhœa with pruritus, obstinate constipation and dysmenorrhœa.

Conium macul. One of our best remedies in indurations, especially of a scrofulous nature or from injuries; leucorrhœa of white, acid mucus, causing a burning or smarting sensation, violent itching of vulva, followed by pressing down of the uterus; prolapsus uteri, complicated with induration, ulceration, and profuse leucorrhœa; rigidity of the os uteri, stinging pains in the neck of the uterus, with indurations and scirrhusities; acid, corrosive leucorrhœa; interrupting urination, constipation; brownish blood instead of menses; blood mucus instead of the leucorrhœa; leucorrhœa, with weakness and lameness in the small of the back previous to the discharge, with subsequent lassitude. Leucorrhœa during pregnancy.

Copaivæ balsamum. Leucorrhœa arising from gonorrhœa, yellow purulent gonorrhœa; hæmaturia.

Cubebæ. Leucorrhœa profuse, yellow, greenish, very acid, and of a very offensive odor; erythema at the inner surface of the thighs and pruritus of the vulva, with an intense desire for coition; small burning pimples, ulcers like aphthæ and condylomata upon the vulva fissured and bleeding excrescences upon the os tincæ; womb swollen and painful, as if from a tumor; menses too soon, often preceded and followed by leucorrhœa, or in small quantity, and consisting mostly of leucorrhœa.

Curare. Scanty, thick, purulent, foul smelling leucorrhœa in clots.

ulcerations on the os uteri, smarting in the vulva and thighs, shooting and digging pains in the womb.

Cyclamen. Leucorrhœa in blonde, leucophlegmatic subjects, with retarded or scanty menstruation; chlorosis and anemia, fits of fainting and constant chilliness of the whole body.

Daphne mezereum. Leucorrhœa resembling albumen, malignant, chronic; discharge of mucus from the vagina; menses too early and protracted; prolapsus ani; constipation.

Dulcamara. As this remedy is especially adapted to all catarrhal ailments in damp, cold weather, it may also find a place in acute catarrh of the sexual organs from such a cause.

Erigeron canad. Profuse uterine and vaginal leucorrhœa.

Ferrum. Leucorrhœa like watery milk, smarting and corroding the parts when first appearing; previous to the menses she had stinging headache, ringing in the ears, and discharges of long pieces of mucus from the uterus; anemia, with uterine congestion, burning pain, or pressure and weight in the sacrum; dragging pains in the loins, pelvis, and thighs; cold hands and feet.

Gelsemium. Sensation of heaviness in the uterine region, with increase of the white leucorrhœal discharge; nervousness, especially adapted to nervous, excitable, hysterical females, to ailments from masturbation, with great depression of spirits and excessive languor; feeling of fulness in the hypogastrium, and aching across the sacrum.

Graphites. Very profuse leucorrhœa, often excoriating, occurring in gushes by day and by night; sensation of weakness in small of back, menses scanty and delaying; constant weariness and drowsiness by day and restlessness at night; leucorrhœa watery, with soreness of the labia, or with a rash on the labia; in fact, the whole skin is irritable and easily ulcerates; thin watery leucorrhœa, with distended abdomen; with weakness in back, when walking or sitting; discharge worse early in the morning when rising from bed.

Hamamelis. Leucorrhœa, with much relaxation of the vaginal walls; profuse fluor albus, constituting a drain on the system as severe as a bleeding; passive hæmorrhagea.

Helonias dioica. Leucorrhœa associated with general atony and anemia; sensation of soreness and weight in the womb, a "consciousness of a womb;" deep, undefined depression, and melancholy.

Hepar sulphur. Leucorrhœa, with smarting of the pudendum; pruritus pudendi during the menses, adapted to scrofulous diseases, where there is more or less suppuration.

Hydrastis canad. Tenacious discharge, erosions, and superficial ulceration of the cervix uteri and vagina; great sinking and prostration at the epigastrium, with violent and continued palpitation of the heart. Mucous leucorrhœa, the discharge hanging from the os in long viscid strings (kal bichr.), profuse debilitating albuminous discharge immediately after menses. It alleviates the pain and improves the character of cancerous ulcerations (cundurango); leucorrhœa complicated with hepatic derangement and constipation.

Iodum. Corroding discharge; patient is easily exhausted and put out of breath, especially on ascending. It suits thin, delicate women, subject to corrosive leucorrhœa between the menses, suffering from chronic inflammation or congestion of the uterus and ovaries (especially right ovary); induration of the womb; cancerous degeneration at the neck of the uterus.

Kali bichromicum. Yellow, ropy, tough leucorrhœa, can be drawn out in long strings; yellow stiff leucorrhœa, with pain and weakness across small of back, and dull heavy pains in hypogastrium; accumulation of thick tenacious mucus about the sexual organs; prolapsus uteri, seemingly caused by hot weather; menses too soon, with vertigo and nausea; suitable to fat, light-haired people.

Kali brom. Induration of the uterus, enlargement of the uterus (after parturition), with abnormal discharges.

Kali carbonicum. Yellow leucorrhœa, with much burning and itching; menses have a pungent odor and are very acrid, excoriate the thighs, with great backache and sticking pains in the abdomen.

Kreasot. Leucorrhœa of bad odor, detestable, mild or corrosive, consisting of thick mucus, causing pudenda to swell and itch and excoriate the thighs; micturition exceedingly painful; menses and leucorrhœa are inclined to be intermittent; she thinks she is almost well, when the discharge returns again; cancer of the uterus, with profuse discharge of dark coagulated blood, or of a pungent bloody ichor, preceded by pain in the back; burning and swelling of the external and internal labia; stitches in the vagina, coming from above, causing her to start. Or white, painless leucorrhœa, and sometimes like fresh green corn, with pain in back, flushes of heat in the face, and flowing like menses; discharge of mucus and blood from the vagina in the morning on rising.

Lachesis. Green or thick yellow leucorrhœa between or just before menses; feels unhappy when waking from her sleep in the morning; chilly at night, with flashes of heat in daytime; congestion of the womb, with prolapsus; great prostration, especially when exercising or lifting; tendency to fainting in nervous women, cannot bear any pressure, not even her clothes, upon the uterine region; scanty menses, with increased leucorrhœa.

Lilium tigrinum. Abundant excoriating leucorrhœa, bearing down in uterine region; relieved by sitting or lying down, or by pressing with the hand at the vulva; tenderness in the hypogastrium region, frequent micturition, with smarting or burning in the urethra after every passage; great depression of spirits; distressing pain and pressure, with fluttering of the heart; menses normal, but flow only while she keeps moving, or accelerated according to time, but scanty sensation of hurry, with inability to perform anything.

Lycopodium. Itching of labia during menses and leucorrhœa flow, cutting pains in abdomen, from right to left; fermentation in abdomen; sensation of fullness after eating but little; red sand in urine; inclination to miscarriage, with varices of the pudendum; profuse leucorrhœa at intervals; milky leucorrhœa; discharge of blood-red leucorrhœa several times before full moon; discharge of mucus from the vagina.

Magnesia carb. Suitable to menstrual irregularities and hysteria; frequent itching of the pudendum; delaying menses; leucorrhœa after menses, thin, scanty, with pinching around the navel; watery, smarting leucorrhœa in the afternoon, when walking or sitting.

Magnesia mur. Uterine spasms, followed by leucorrhœa, leucorrhœa after every stool (it is one of our best remedies in 200th dilution for constipation); profuse discharge of a watery, thick mucus from the vagina; scirrhus induration of the uterus.

Magnesia sulph. Burning leucorrhœa, particularly during motion; thick, profuse leucorrhœa, like the menses, with bruised pain in the small of the back and thighs.

Mercurius sol. Leucorrhœa most troublesome at night, with itching, burning, smarting, and soreness; strong odor of urine, scorbutic gums, enlarged tonsils; leucorrhœa of a purulent character, with superficial ulceration of the external and internal parts, with heat, tenderness, and pain; thick, white sediment in the urine, as if flour had been stirred in the urine and allowed to settle; pimples or tubercles on the labia; prolapsus vaginae; purulent, corrosive, green leucorrhœa; discharge of flocks, pus, and mucus from the vagina, of the size of hazelnuts.

Mercurius corros. Primary phagedenic syphilitic ulcers, with profuse and bad suppuration; pale-yellow leucorrhœa of a disgustingly sweetish smell; aching pain, succeeded by pressing or touching the os uteri during an embrace; scanty red urine, which is passed with difficulty.

Murex purpurea. Inflammatory and spongy enlargements of the neck of the uterus(?); nymphomania, excited by the least contact of the parts; feeling of heaviness and enlargement in the labia majora and vagina; watery, greenish, or thick bloody leucorrhœa; return of bloody leucorrhœa during stool; menses too early, too profuse; hæmorrhages.

Natrum carb. Thick, heavy leucorrhœal discharge; putrid leucorrhœa; profuse leucorrhœa after frequent attacks of colic and writhing about the navel, day and night; yellowish leucorrhœa going off with the copious urine; discharge of mucus from the vagina after an embrace, causing sterility; induration of the os uteri; menses too early.

Natrum mur. Acid, green leucorrhœa, especially when walking; itching of the pudendum, pimples on mons veneris; profuse leucorrhœa, with transparent, white, thick mucus, causing an itching in the parts; delaying and scanty menses, with headaches, yellowness of the face; chlorotic cachectic patients, with sallow skin, frequent palpitation and fluttering of the heart, and oppression of the chest.

Nitric acid. Syphilitic ulcerations, with tendency to rapid destruction of tissue, grayish or greenish in color irregular in shape, with very offensive discharge; leucorrhœa after menses, flesh-colored, green, and fetid; pruritus in the evening, sometimes when walking; stitches in the vagina, shooting upwards; brown urine with strong fetid odor; epistaxis at night; cold aggravates the pruritus and the leucorrhœa; leucorrhœa, consisting of mucus, which can be drawn out (kal. bichr., hydrast.); violent pressure, as if everything were coming out of the vulva, with pain in the small of the back through the hips and down the thighs; swelling of inguinal glands; mercurio-syphilitic inflammations, condylomata.

Nux moschata. Hysteria; leucorrhœa of women who always awaken with a very dry tongue; vicarious leucorrhœa in place of the menses; discharge of slime at the day of the menses; the latter delayed; blood from vagina, thick and dark, and at the right time of catamenia; leucorrhœa; prolapsus vaginæ et uteri; globus hystericus; fainting, with palpitation of the heart, followed by sleep.

Nux vomica. Fetid leucorrhœa, staining the linen yellow; sensation of heaviness and weight in the neck of the uterus; internal swelling on one side of the vagina, with burning stinging pains; prolapsus of the uterus and vagina, especially from straining by lifting, with hardness and swelling of the os tincæ; varices on labia; constipation. Frequent urination, with scalding and bucky sediment, dry and hacking cough, with oppression of hypochondria; dulness of mind.

Palladium. Leucorrhœa transparent like jelly, worse before and after the menses; heaviness, as from a weight on the pelvis.

Petroleum. Profuse leucorrhœa every day for several days, with lascivious dreams; burning in the genital organs, with some discharge of blood; leucorrhœa like albumen; premature menses; passes only a little at a time, urine with different-colored sediments and shining pellicle on surface.

Phosphorus. Smarting-blistering leucorrhœa; annoying sense of weakness across abdomen; consequences of masturbation, amenorrhœa with chlorosis; delaying and scanty menses; stitches through the pelvis from the vagina to the uterus; milky or slimy leucorrhœa during a morning walk; viscid leucorrhœa in place of the menses, suitable to tall and slender persons with phthisical habits; sensation of heat passing up the back; vertigo on rising in the morning; costipation.

Phosphoric acid. Leucorrhœa after the menses; profuse and lowish leucorrhœa, with itching some days after the menses, morbus and many of its evil consequences; great sense of weakness, with a remarkable state of indifference, from which she cannot arouse herself; she has to rise frequently at night to pass large quantities of colorless urine; uterine ulcer; has a copious, putrid, bloody discharge, with itching or corroding pain; os entirely free from pain; irritable uterus; it is distended with gas; nervous debility, with cold, clammy sweats or profuse perspiration.

Phytolacca. Uterine leucorrhœa, proceeding from the glandular portion of the cervix; ulceration of the os uteri; scirrhus and cancer.

Platina. Leucorrhœa, like albumen, only in the daytime, without sensation, partly after micturition, partly after rising from a rest; painful pressing towards the genital organs, as if the menses would make their appearance, passing off in the evening, but returning in the morning; voluptuous tingling in the pudenda and abdomen, with oppressive anxiety and palpitation of the heart; induration uteri; cramp and stitches in the indurated womb; polypus uteri; scirrhus of the uterus; hysteria, with great depression of spirits and melancholia from uterine disease.

Podophyllum pelt. Discharge of thick transparent mucus pressing and bearing down in uterine region; prolapsus uteri particularly following parturition, with prolapsus ani, accompanied by exhausting, frequent, but natural stools, more in the morning; leucorrhœa, attended with constipation and bearing down in the genital organs; retarded menstruation.

Pulsatilla. Thin acrid leucorrhœa, or thick white mucus, most profuse after menses; leucorrhœa acrid, burning, or like cream, and painless; menses too late and scanty, with abdominal cramps; menses bloody, thick, black, or thin and watery, flowing by fits and starts; uterine irregularities in anæmic patients or in those of venous constitution—passive leucorrhœa of a milky character, especially when lying, or before and during the menses, with cutting in the abdomen; pains in the loins, from passive congestion of the uterus; falls asleep late at night and awakes unrefreshed; flat, nasty taste; symptoms worse in the evening; relieved in the open air, and return in a warm, close room; mild, yielding disposition.

Ranunculus bulbosus. Muscular pains about the lower margin of the shoulderblade in females who follow sedentary employments; it is a burning pain, often over only a small space, greatly aggravated by long-continued needlework or writing. Leucorrhœa, mild at first, becomes acrid and corrosive.

Robinia pseudoacacia. Nymphomania; whitish, yellowish, greenish, thick, acrid, purulent leucorrhœa, with tumefaction and bruised feeling in the neck of the womb, and with general prostration; ulcerative pains in the vagina, with acrid yellowish leucorrhœa, and of most fetid smell; excessive acidity of the stomach

Ruta graveolens. Irregular feeble menses, followed by mild leucorrhœa; corrosive leucorrhœa after suppression of the menses

Sabina. Painful active congestions of the uterus; thin fetid leucorrhœa, with suppression of the menses; milky leucorrhœa, with pruritus pudendi; yellowish, ichorous, fetid leucorrhœa, and painful discharge of fetid blood every two weeks; severe itching in the vagina from before backwards; copious starchlike leucorrhœa, with drawing pains in the small of the back through to the pubes; sycosis and gonit; suitable to plethoric women, with profuse menstruation, drawing and tearing pains from the back through to the pubes.

Sanguinaria. Leucorrhœa after climaxis; it continues after menses have entirely ceased; distension of the abdomen in the evening, and flatulent discharges per vaginam, from the os uteri; annoying flushes at the climacteric age.

Sarracenia purp. Watery or milky leucorrhœa, thick, whitish, foul-smelling, with spasmodic pains in the uterus; pulsative pain in the womb with swelling, as if from a tumor or dropsy; the uterus swollen, as if full of cysts, especially on right side; the neck of the womb swollen and hot; military eruption and heat in the vulva; bloody discharge at other times than the menstrual period, as during climaxis.

Sarsaparilla. Mucous leucorrhœa when walking; delaying, scanty, and acid menses, with burning of the inner sides of the thighs; pains and suffering commencing at the conclusion of the flow of urine.

Secale cornutum. Suitable to patients of a passive character, of thin, scrawny, cachectic appearance, and subject to passive hæmorrhages (dissolution of corpuscles); leucorrhœa, jellylike, alternating with metrorrhagia in thin, scrawny women, with prolapsus uteri and excessive menstruation; moles, polypi, and morbid growths in the uterus, with prolonged forcing pains—peculiar tendency to gangrenous mortification; indurations of the cervix and of the tince; cancer of the uterus.

Sepia. Suitable to feeble and debilitated women of a dark complexion, with fine delicate skin and extreme sensitiveness to all impressions. Leucorrhœa, with stitches in uterus and great itching in vagina and vulva; profuse leucorrhœal discharge, with darting pains in the region of the cervix uteri, shooting upwards; milky leucorrhœa only in daytime; sudor hystericus, a peculiar fetid perspiration especially from the genital organs, axilla, and soles; fetid putrid urine, depositing a reddish clay-colored sediment, adhering to the bottom and sides of the vessel; sensation as if everything would come out of the vagina dilium; she has to cross her limbs to prevent it; sexual intercourse very painful, hardly endurable; putrid excreting discharge from the uterus, with shooting, stitching, and burning in the neck of the uterus; gonorrhœa, after the acute symptoms have subsided; induration of the cervix uteri; prolapsus of the parts; prolapsus ani, contracting pains in rectum, running along perineum, with exudation of fluid from anus; constipation; painful sensation of emptiness and goneness at the pit of the stomach.

Silicea. Herpetic eruption on genital organs, with intense itching and burning, aggravated from cold and getting wet, and better from wrapping up warm; shooting itching over the whole body, ulcerations of the cervix and os; painful smarting leucorrhœa during menstruation, or after taking sour things; discharge of a quantity of white water from the womb, with violent itching of the pudendum, between of the menses; milky leucorrhœa, in paroxysms, preceded by chill around the umbilicus; increased menses, with repeated paroxysms of icy coldness over the whole body; want of vital heat, even when taking exercise.

Stannum. Leucorrhœa with marked loss of strength, the weakness seeming to proceed and to centre in the chest, leucorrhœa of a yellowish or greenish appearance; discharge of transparent mucus from the vagina, prolapsus vaginae, especially inconvenient during hard stool, menses too early and too profuse.

Sulphur. Pruritus pudendorum; delaying menses, with coldness of the hands and feet, leucorrhœa, attended with burning and smarting, making the parts sore; burning in the vagina, she is scarcely able to keep still; offensive, corrosive, ichorous leucorrhœa, burning like salt; menses thick, black, and so acid as to make the vulva and thighs sore; flashes of heat with perspiration, and feeling of weakness and faintness.

Sulphuric acid. Leucorrhœa like milk, acrid, burning; frequent discharge of corrosive mucus from the vagina; discharge of bloody mucus from the vagina, as if the menses would set in.

Thuja occidentalis. Scirrhus and cancer of the uterus, gonorrhœa with or without warts; swelling of both labia, painful and burning when walking and when touching them; wart-shaped excrescences at the orifice of the uterus, with stinging and burning when urinating; ulcers on the internal surface of the vulva, with cramplike pain in the vulva and perineum, when rising from a seat, extending up into the abdomen.

Trillium pendulum. Profuse exhausting leucorrhœa with atony, prolapsus, and chronic engorgement of the cervix; profuse yellowish leucorrhœa; fetid discharges from uterus and vagina.

Xanthoxylum fraxineum. Great increase of leucorrhœa during the time when menses should appear.

Zincum. Uterine ulcers, with bloody acrid discharge, the ulcer itself being destitute of feeling, but an excessively violent and obstinate pain in the brain sometimes accompanies this ulcer; stitching, biting, and pinching in the pudendum; incessant and violent fidgety feeling in the feet or lower extremities, with varicose veins; she must move her legs constantly; she crosses her legs one over the other (sepia), and has to bend forward to pass a little urine, although she feels as if the bladder would burst; extensive superficial moist exoriations of inner and upper parts of the thighs; consequences of masturbation, especially nervous exhaustion.

Characteristic symptoms:

Æsculus hip. Severe aching across sacro-iliac symphysis, with a feeling as if back would give way at that point, causing great fatigue when walking even a little way.

Alumina. Discharge transparent, mucous, profuse, running down to the heels in large quantities. Acrid, relieved by cold washes. Worse every other day.

Ambra gris. Leucorrhœa only at night. Bluish-white mucus. Stitches in vagina before discharge.

Ammon. mur. Leucorrhœa like white of egg after a pinching pain around navel; or brown, slimy, after every discharge of urine.

Antimon. crud. An acrid water flows from vagina, which causes a sensation of biting down along the thighs.

Arsenic. Leucorrhœa whilst standing and emitting flatulence. Leucorrhœa thick and yellow, corroding the parts which are touched by it.

Belladonna. Colic, the pains come suddenly and cease as suddenly as they came, with a feeling as though all the contents of the abdomen would issue through the genital organs.

Borax. White leucorrhœa, thick as paste. Sensation as if warm water was flowing down. Leucorrhœa just midway between the menstrual terms.

Calcareæ carb. Menses always too profuse and too often. Feet and legs feel cold and damp as if she had on damp stockings.

Carbolic acid. Severe backache, dragging across the loins and through the pelvis. Foul, greenish, acrid discharge.

Causticum. Flow particularly at night

Chamomilla. Yellow, watery, smarting leucorrhœa, especially after a meal.

China. Bloody leucorrhœa, generally before the menses, with pressing pains towards the groins and anus.

Cocculus. Leucorrhœa instead of the menses. Feeling of severe prostration, too weak to talk aloud.

Ferrum. Discharge like watery milk, smarting and corroding the parts when first appearing. Long pieces of mucus are discharged from the uterus. Anæmia; cold hands and feet.

Gelsemium. White leucorrhœa with fulness in uterine region, in nervous, excitable, hysterical females, old maids, and students.

Graphites. Very profuse leucorrhœa, often in gushes, with great weakness in small of back.

Helonias dioica. Soreness and weight in the womb with the sensation as if it was a foreign body ("consciousness of a wound"). Soreness and tenderness of the breasts and nipples, especially during menses. Old people, atrophied, cancer, cachexia.

Hydrastis. Very tenacious yellow leucorrhœa, in long threads or pieces; often hanging from the os uteri. (Kali bichr.)

Iodum. Very acrid discharge, corroding even the thighs and the linen. Leucorrhœa aggravated at the menstrual period.

Kali bichr. Yellow, stiff, and ropy discharge, which may be drawn out in long strings (hydrastis). Fat, light haired persons.

Kali carb. Yellowish leucorrhœa, with much itching and burning in vulva. Menses acrid, excoriating the thighs.

Kreasot. Leucorrhœa mild or acrid with great weakness of the legs. Discharge as well as menses inclined to be intermittent. Also discharge of foul, bloody ichor in cancer of uterus, with burning and swelling of the parts. Downward sharp stitches in vagina.

Lachesis. Climacteric period. Hot flushes with burning vertex-headache. Leucorrhœa copious, smarting, slimy, stiffening the linen, and staining it yellow.

Lilium. Bearing down in uterine region, as if everything was protruding, relieved by pressing with the hand at the vulva. Great sexual desire with throbbing in the parts. Menses flow only while patient keeps moving.

Lycopodium. Leucorrhœa attended by a cutting pain across the hypogastrium from right to left. Flatulency.

Magnesia mur. Discharge immediately after every stool. Leucorrhœa at intervals, followed immediately by a discharge of blood. Stool hard and crumbling as it escapes from the anus.

Manganese. All the bones are very tender and sensitive to touch.

Mercurius. Discharge as well as accompanying symptoms always worse at night. Discharge of floccs, pus, and mucus as large as hazelnuts. Syphilis.

Muriatic acid. Leucorrhœa with exceeding soreness of the anus either from piles or from fissures.

Natr. carb. Putrid leucorrhœa, ceasing after urination.

Niccolum. Profuse watery leucorrhœa, particularly after urination.

Nux moschata. Patient always awakens with a very dry tongue. Intense sleepiness all day.

Nux vomica. Fetid leucorrhœa, staining the linen yellow. Menses too soon and too profuse.

Phosphorus. Leucorrhœa, drawing blisters. Phthisical habitus. Stitches in vagina running upwards: heat passing up the back.

Phosph. acid. Leucorrhœa after the menses.

Platina. Albuminous leucorrhœa, only in daytime. Great coagulableness. Stool difficult from the glutinous nature of the excrements.

Sarsaparilla. Leucorrhœa on walking, particularly in women who have a sharp pain in the urethra at the close of urinating.

Sepia. Leucorrhœa with stitches in the neck of the uterus, much itching in the vagina. Bloody mucus. Discharge of green-red fluid during pregnancy. Sensation as if everything would fall out of the vagina, has to cross her legs to prevent it.

num. Mostly mucous leucorrhœa with great loss of strength, sickness seeming to centre in the chest.

rum. All symptoms disappear during the menstrual flow.

Arnica. China being insufficient, especially for aching-stitching pains arresting breathing, or for the typhoid symptoms, with languor, listlessness, dulness of sense; the patient does not think herself very sick. Injuries of the spleen.

Arsenicum. Frequent bloody diarrhoeic stools, with burning and great debility, or when the disease assumes an intermittent character: tense pressive pain in spleen; induration and enlargement of spleen drawing-stitching pain under left hypochondrium.

Asafoetida. Heat in spleen and intestines; very offensive stools.

Berberis vulg. Drawing-tearing in left hypochondrium, with sensation, during respiration, as if something were torn loose, cramp-like retraction in splenic region.

Capsicum. Spleen sensitive, swollen, especially after quinine.

Carbo veg. Pressing pinching in region of spleen; quick light niggling-like stitches; abdomen bloated; scurvy; so weak can scarcely walk.

Ceanothus amer. Chronic splenitis, chronic swelling in left side under ribs, with considerable cutting pains there; worse in cold damp weather, feels always chilly.

China. Enlarged spleen; aching-stitching pains in spleen when walking slowly; pains extend in direction of long axis of spleen; oppression of chest; dropsy.

Cobalt. Sharp pain in splenic region, worse when respiring deeply.

Ferrum. Spleen large, after intermittents; shooting pain in left hypochondrium; cramp-like sensation in splenic region; dropsy after intermittents or abuse of quinine.

Fluoric acid. Pressing pain in region of spleen and left arm; pinching in spleen; left leg goes to sleep easily, asthema.

Helonias. Pain in left side, as if in spleen, which feels as if distended, causing a dull ache.

Ignatia. Swelling and induration of spleen.

Iodum. Swelling of spleen after intermittent fevers.

Kali bichr. Stitches in region of spleen, worse by motion or pressure.

Kreasot. Constriction of hypochondria, cannot bear tight clothing; pressure in region of spleen, worse on pressure; sore pain during inhalation.

Mercur. biniod. Uncomplicated cases of hypertrophied spleen; heavy painful feeling in region of liver, spleen, and pancreas; trans-

Natrum carb. Stitches in left hypochondrium, worse after drinking very cold water.

Natrum mur. Stitches and pressure in region of spleen, which is swollen.

Natrum sulph. Pain in left hypochondriac region or above on last ribs, also with cough and purulent sputa; stitches in left hypochondrium while walking in the open air; leucæmia.

Nitric acid. Spleen large after yellow fever.

Nux moschata. Enlarged spleen, loose bowels; stitches in spleen, must bend double; abdomen enormously distended; dropsy.

Nux vom. Pressure in hypochondria; abdominal plethora.

Psorinum. Stinging sharp pain in region of liver and spleen; stitches in spleen, better when standing, worse when moving, and continuing when again at rest; short-breathed; dropsy.

Ranunculus bulb. Sensation of soreness in the hypochondria, especially to the touch; pulsation in left hypochondrium; abdomen feels sore and bruised.

Rhododendron. Stitches in spleen when walking fast; tension when stooping.

Ruta grav. Painful swelling of spleen.

Sanguinaria. Violent stitches in splenic region; pain in left hypochondrium, worse when coughing, better from pressure and when lying on left side; alternate diarrhoea and constipation.

Secale cor. Burning in spleen; thrombosis of abdominal vessels.

Sulphur. Stitches in spleen worse when taking a deep inspiration and when walking; stitches in left side of abdomen, when coughing.

Sulph. acid. Spleen enlarged, hard, and painful, when coughing; diarrhoea with great debility; hæmorrhage of black blood from all outlets of the body.

Veratrum alb. Spleen swollen, intermittents.

MAMMÆ AND NIPPLES.

Nipples tender and painful during pregnancy: graph., lyc., petrol., puls., sep., sil., sulph.

Sore and bleeding nipples during nursing.

Agaricus. Nipples itch and burn, look red; chilblains.

Arnica. In first days of nursing nipples feel sore and bruised.

Calc. carb. Ulcer appears on nipple, discharging pus.

Castor equorum. In neglected cases, where the nipple nearly rotted off, it only hangs as it were by small strings.

Chamomilla. Nipples inflamed and tender, can hardly endure the pain of nursing.

Crot. tigl. Nipple very sore to touch; excruciating pain running from nipple through to scapula of same side when child nurses.

Graphites. Soreness of nipples, with small corrosive blisters or ulcers, oozing a limpid serum, or a thick glutinous fluid, which forms a crust that is removed by nursing, when the same formation again occurs, and so on. Disposition to fissures and cracks.

Hamamelis. Sore nipples, where arnica fails.

Lycopodium. Nipples sore, fissured, and covered with scurf; the child draws so much blood from the nipples that when it vomits it seems to be vomiting blood.

Mercurius. Nipple very raw and sore; sensitive gums, sore teeth, enlarged cervical glands, and other mercurial symptoms.

Phosphorus. Nipples hot and sore; goneness in stomach; much heat in lower part of back across the renal regions.

Phytolacca. Nipples sore and fissured, with intense suffering on putting child to breast; pain seems to start from nipple and radiates over whole body.

Pulsatilla. Mother weeps as often as she has to nurse; the pain extends into chest, up into the neck, down the back, changes from place to place.

Sepia. Nipples crack very much across the crown in various places, cracks very deep and sore.

Silicea. Nipples ulcerate very easily, are sore and tender, pain in small of back while child nurses.

Sulphur. After nursing the nipple smart and burns, it chaps badly about the base and bleeds.

MASTITIS.

Inflammation of the breasts.

Aconite. Chill in dry cold air the cause; synochal fever; fear, restlessness, anxiety.

Apis mel. Erysipelatous inflammation of mammae, burning, stinging, swelling, hardness, even suppuration.

Belladonna. Breasts feel heavy; red streaks running like radii from a central point, accompanied by pulsating pains, heavy head ache, constipation, and scanty urine.

Bryonia. Stony heaviness in the breasts, hot, hard, painful, but not very red; severe stitching pains in breast, feels sick on first sitting up in bed or in a chair, and still more sick on standing up.

Carbo anim. Darting in mammae, arresting breathing, and aggravated by pressure, can scarcely tolerate the application of cloth to breast, it takes the breath away to apply it.

Cactus grand. Scrofulous subjects, with great sensibility to cold air; inflammation and suppuration of the breast, with sense of fullness in chest.

Chamomilla. Indurations in mammary gland, with tearing drawing pains.

Croton tigl. When nursing, a very severe drawing pain runs directly from mammae through to the back.

Graphites. Many old cicatrices from former inflammations nearly prevent the milk from flowing; it causes the milk to flow easily and wards off abscess.

Hepar. Suppuration seems nearly inevitable.

Kali carb. Tearing-stitching pains on the flow of milk.

Lachesis. Breast has a bluish or purplish appearance; lancinating pains in mamme and down the arm, chill at night, and hot flashes by day.

Mercurius. Hard swelling of the breast, with sore and raw feeling; milk is poor, and babe refuses the breast; transient chills or shuddering indicate beginning of suppuration, or abscesses have already formed.

Phosphorus. Phlegmonous inflammation, breasts swollen; red spots or streaks; hard knots in different places, with fistulous openings, with burning-stinging pain and watery offensive discharge; hectic fever and nightsweats.

Phytolacca. Hardness apparent from the start, caked breast, stertorous breath, with large, fistulous, gaping, and angry ulcers, discharging a watery fetid pus; nipples and mamme sensitive, even before suppuration has taken place.

Silicea. Fistulous openings, with callous edges, discharge thin and watery, or thick and offensive.

Sulphur. Inflammation running in radii from nipple; profuse suppuration, with chilliness in the forenoon, and heat afternoon; old sores; breasts feel hot; nightsweats, flushes of heat, weak and faint spells, irresistible hunger towards noon.

Veratrum vir. Mastitis, with great arterial and nervous excitement.

If meningitis threatens to pass into HYDROCEPHALUS, give: 1, bell., bry., hell.; 2, apis, arn., apoc. can., dig., cin., con., hyos., op., stram., verat. vir. See Hydrocephalus.

§ 3. Particular indications:

Aconite. Inflammatory fever, delirium, violent burning pain through the whole brain, especially in forehead; red and bloated face, red eyes; burning as if the brain were moved by boiling water, full of anxiety and fear of death.

Æthusa cyn. Coma, with eclampsia and tetaniform convulsions, unconsciousness; dilated pupils; staring eyes; pressing pain in forehead, as if it would split, with vomiting and diarrhoea, red spots on cheeks, pulse small, hard and frequent, with cold skin.

Anacardium. Sequelæ of brain fever, total loss of memory; weakness of special senses; dulness and confusion of head; incomplete paralysis of muscles subject to volition.

Ant. tart. Clonic spasms, preceded by severe vomiting, with fainting, followed by deep sopor, with constant facitation of the extremities, followed by partial or general convulsions, with small fibriform pulse, and decrease of all bodily heat.

Apis mel. Meningitis from suppression or spread of erysipelas, or other exanthemata. Congestion to head and face, with fulness, burning, and throbbing in brain; meningitis infantum, loss of consciousness and delirium, single sharp shrill screams while sleeping or waking, dilated pupils, raises hand to back of ears while it screams.

Arnica. Traumatic meningitis, with serous or bloody extravasations; heavy sleep, with nervous twitching, constant dreaminess, heat and redness of face, simultaneously with coldness of the body, contraction of pupils; involuntary defecation and micturition; pulse full, strong, stertor.

Belladonna. Boring with the head into the pillow; sensitiveness to light and noise; or for violent burning and stitching pains in the head; red sparkling eyes, with furious look; red and bloated face, sopor, with distorted and half-opened eyes, heat in the head, with violent throbbing of the carotids, swelling of the veins of the head, loss of consciousness and speech, or muttering; violent delirium, convulsive movements of the limbs; spasmodic constriction of the throat, with difficult deglutition and other hydrophobic symptoms, vomiting; involuntary discharge of urine and feces.

Bryonia. The stage of excitement is merging into that of depression or stupor; constant sopor, with delirium; livid face; heat about the head, great thirst; sudden starting from sleep, screams and cold sweat on forehead; more or less constant motion of the jaws, as if chewing something; constipation.

Cicuta. Eclampsia, with pale face; incomplete coma; convulsions begin by turning the head towards the shoulder; bad effects from concussion of the brain when spasms set in.

Cimicifuga. Great pain in head and eyeballs, increased by the slightest movement of head or eyeballs, tongue clean, but pointed and trembling, or swollen.

Cina. Stupefying headache, especially in forehead, then also in occiput; vomiting, with clean tongue, or discharge of worms by the mouth or rectum; milky-white urine; sudden distressing cries in sleep; child cross and peevish.

Gelsemium. Intense and overwhelming congestion of the brain in children, during the period of dentition; coup de soleil; excruciating headache, with nausea, giddiness, and blindness.

Glonoïn. Sunstroke; throbbing headache, aggravated by shaking the head, and attended with great quickness of pulse; headache ascending from below upwards and from within outwards, with feeling as if the brain were swelling or getting too large; redness of the eyes, with soreness of the globe of the eyes.

Hepar sulph. Traumatic cerebritis, in infants and children, with spasms.

Hydrocyanic acid. Headache with vomiting, agitation, pulse feeble, unequal, and frequent; respiration unequal; convulsions of face, eyes, and extremities, pupils dilated or contracted, dimness of sight, changeable deliria.

Hyoscyamus. Stupor, loss of consciousness, delirium, the patient talking of his domestic affairs; singing, muttering, smiling, grasping at flocks, sudden starting; watery diarrhoea; red face, with starting look.

Lachnanthes. Fever, with circumscribed redness of the cheeks and brilliant eyes; restlessness, wakefulness, whining, on account of headache; sensation as if the vertex were enlarged and driven upwards; wry neck.

Opium. Lethargy, stertorous breathing, with the eyes half closed, and stupefaction after waking; great heaviness of head, with dull stupid look, as if drunk; frequent vomiting, complete listlessness and dulness of sense, the patient not desiring nor complaining of anything.

Pulsatilla. Meningitis from suppressed otorrhœa, or any other discharge.

Stramonium. The sleep is almost natural, with twitching of the limbs, moaning, tossing about, absence of mind after waking, or staring look; slow and shy retreating, or desire to escape, with screams; frightful visions; feverish heat, red face, and moist skin.

Veratrum vir. Sunstroke; fulness, weight, or distension of the head; giddiness, intense headache, with fulness and throbbing of the arteries, sometimes with stupefaction; increased sensitiveness to sound, with buzzing, roaring, etc.; double, partial, luminous, painful, dim, or otherwise disordered vision; nausea and vomiting; tingling and numbness in the limbs; mental confusion, loss of memory; convulsions or paralysis of motion.

MENINGITIS BASILARIS.

Tuberculosa. See Hydrocephalus.

MENINGITIS CEREBRO-SPINALIS.

Spotted fever.

China and arg. nitr. are recommended as prophylactics during an epidemic; gels. at the beginning of the disease; cimicif., croc., cupr., lyc., op., stram., tab., ver. during the disease; zinc where depression prevails; ars. and bapt. for tendency to decomposition.

Aconite. Sthenic forms, during or after a decided chill, with active inflammatory symptoms.

Æthusa cyn. Vertigo, a disposition to coma; obstinate vomiting present from the onset; tearing, lancinating, stinging, and beating pains all over the head and in occiput; eyes staring, pupils dilated and insensible; face pale and collapsed; weight in occiput; tearing-beating drawing in nape of neck; epileptiform convulsions.

Agaricus. Great weight in head, especially in forehead and temples, with delirium and coma; drawing pains in occiput; painful sensitiveness of the scalp; stiffness of the nape of the neck and back; violent pains all along the spine, with stiffness and soreness; convulsive attack.

Ammonium. Second stage, with giddiness, fulness of head, ringing in ears, swelling of parotids, sore throat.

Anacardium. Sequela of disease, loss of memory, and weakness of special senses.

Apis mel. Edematous symptoms about the face; stinging pain all over; brain feels tired, as if gone to sleep; burning and throbbing in head; worse by motion and stooping, better by pressing the head firmly with the hands; stiffness in back of neck; great prostration; hyperæsthesia of the surface; urine scanty; chest oppressed; pulse variable and intermittent; sense of suffocation, as if he could not breathe again; stabbing pains in occiput; obscuration of sight.

Argent. nitr. First stage. Violent headache, with vertigo, fullness, fulness, and ringing in ears; digging cutting pains, from occiput to frontal protuberance, increasing and decreasing frequently; head feels enlarged; epileptiform convulsions.

Arnica. Aching all over as if bruised; sensation, like a heavy weight, shooting and pressing in both temples; weakness of cervical muscles, do not support the head steadily; cervical vertebrae very sensitive to touch and pressure; formication in extremities; excessive diuresis; ecchymosis.

Arsonicum. Vertigo and great weight in head, with humming in ears; sensation as if brain were loose and dashed against the skull when moving; scalp sensitive and painful; photophobia or anisopsia; roaring in ears; spasmodic grinding of teeth; face pale and ashy; tongue dry, trembling; thirst for little water often; anxious breathing; diarrhoea; tense stiffness of neck as if bruised, with contortions of the muscles and swelling; great uneasiness and restless anguish; coma; tetanic spasms.

Baptisia. Bruised and painful feeling at the base of the brain and upper part of spinal cord; rolling of head from one side to the other; constant biting on the fingers and constant motion of the feet, unconsciously done by the patient; wandering pains in all the limbs, with dizziness; feels stiff and sore all over; pit of stomach sensitive to pressure; constipation, paresis of extremities; livid spots all over the body.

Belladonna. Stupefying stunning headache, from the neck into the head, with heat and pulsations in it; head inclined to bend backward, even before spasmodic retraction occurs, as it relieves the painful convulsive shaking and bending of the head backward; spasmodic distortion of face and lips; grinding of teeth; inclination to bite, retention of urine, or involuntary micturition; heat of the upper part of the body and coldness of extremities; general hyperaesthesia of all the senses; renewal of the spasm by touch or light.

Bryonia. Bursting headache; stiffness of neck; great pain in joints and limbs, not allowing motion; sudden prostration.

Cactus. Anguish at the heart, and lacerating pains in the nape of the neck; dimness of sight; pulsation and buzzing in ears; faint spells; rigidity of limbs.

Camphora. Constrictive pain at the base of brain, the head bearing to one or the other side; throbbing in cerebellum synchronous with pulsations; deadly paleness; lockjaw; oppression of chest; violent cramps in stomach and limbs; chills severe; cold clammy sweats; pulse small, weak, and slow; tetanic spasms: the limbs rigidly extended; teeth clenched; head inclined sideways or retracted.

Cantharides. Second stage, with great restlessness and activity of mind, amorous frenzy; priapism; violent lancinating pains deep in the brain, especially occiput; eyes dull, sunken; pale, wretched face, with expression of terror, pain, and despair; spasmodic constriction of throat; dysuria, or retention and suppression of urine; stiffness, tearing, and lancinating in the nape of neck, extending up into the head; universal tetanic spasm, trembling, fainting; general coldness and collapse.

Cicuta vir. Vertigo, with reeling, moaning, and howling; disposition to be frightened, grinding of teeth; diplopia, dilated or contracted pupils; dumbness, deafness; dyspnoea, dysphagia; ashy paleness, or bluish pallid face; cramp in cervical muscles, with inability to move the head after it has been turned in any direction; stiffness of neck not permitting the head to be turned; tension and soreness of the muscles, with retracted head; tonic spasms of cervical muscles; trembling of limbs, convulsions with cries; pressing together of the jaws; numbness and distortion of the limbs; opisthotonos; violent sudden jerks through the head, arms, and legs, after fits of insensibility and immobility; gastralgia with vomiting, painful distension of abdomen, and spasm of pectoral muscles.

Cimicifuga. Pain in every part of the head, especially in vertex and occiput, extending to shoulders and down the spine, with delirium similar to mania a potu; eyes dull and sensitive to pressure, with visions; conjunctiva red, with lachrymation; pupils dilated; foul breath, swollen tongue, fuligo, dryness of throat, with constant desire to swallow; general malaise, with nausea and vomiting; urine pale and copious; colicky pains, muscular twitchings, frequently changing location; profuse cold sweat all over the body, with very quick pulse.

Cocculus. Violent headache, with vomiting, vertigo, and semi-consciousness; headache as if the eyes would be torn out, and violent pains in the forehead, convulsive trembling of the head; face pale and sallow, but puffly and bloated; spasmodic oppression of chest, respiration heavy and laborious; painful stiffness of the cervical muscles; weakness of the cervical muscles; he has to lean his head against something; miliary eruptions; fainting fits, epileptiform and hysterical convulsions; paralysis.

Crotalus. Pains in all extremities; terrible headache, pain as from a blow in the occiput; paleness of face as in faintness; unquenchable burning thirst; vomiting preceded by faintness; painfulness in pit of stomach; dyspnoea, with anxiety, thirst, nausea, diarrhoea; heart-beat feeble; painful paralytic sensation in extremities.

Cuprum acet. Affects specifically the spinal cord, congestion of brain, with convulsive motions of extremities; cannot hold the head up; eyes dim, lustreless, sunken, with blue rings around; sad, depressed features; dry mouth, great thirst for cooling drinks, nausea, vomiting, and torpid stool; nervous trembling, with very great acuteness and sensitiveness of the senses; clonic spasms, beginning at the periphery, sleep or coma, paralysis of all the muscles of the back up to the neck.

Digitalis. Heart's action irregular and labored; delirium like mania a potu; great pressure and weight in head; violent lancinating pains, especially in vertex and occiput, when sitting or walking the head falls backwards, as if the anterior cervical muscles were paralyzed; convulsive efforts to vomit; vomiting, with coldness, prostration, and fainting; stiffness in the nape and side of neck; tearing sharp stitches, aching and cutting pains in nape of neck; convulsions, with retraction of the head, syncope, and collapse of vital powers.

Gelsemium. At the very onset of the disease, severe chill followed by congestion of the brain and spinal cord, vivid cheeks, dilated pupils, little or no thirst. Perfect loss of strength and great exhaustion, staggering gait, dulness of speech, icy coldness of hands and feet, pulse very weak or hardly perceptible; laborious and weak respiration, nausea, vomiting; eyelids close involuntary in spite of all he can do; itching of head, face, and neck, sweating relieves. Mental faculties retain their activity, though their power over the muscles is lessened or impaired; he cannot direct the movements of the limbs with precision; coma.

Glonoin. Violent congestion of head, with sense of expansion; pains ascend from chest and neck to occiput; blindness, with faintness and nausea, pale face, pain in whole length of spine; congestion of chest, with labored action of heart.

Hydrocyanic acid. Sudden and desperate cases, insensibility with protruded half-open eyes; dilated immovable pupils, with blindness, roaring and deafness in ears; distorted, bloated, and bluish face, tongue paralyzed and protruded; loss of speech; retention of or involuntary urine and stool; rattling slow respiration, irregular feeble pulse and beating of heart, general coldness, with heat in head.

Hyoscyamus. Heaviness of head and violent pains, alternating with pains in nape of neck; constricting stupefying headache, undulating sensation in brain, as if from throbbing in the arteries; pressure in vertex and drawing in nape of neck, when turning the head; sensation, as if the brain were shaken and loose; dimness of eyes, fearful grinding of teeth, lockjaw; palsy of tongue, vomiting involuntary stool and urine, or retention, spasms of chest, with arrest of breathing, stiffness of cervical muscles, with tension as if too short, on bending neck; twisting of neck to one side, stiffness of arms and legs, jerking of hands and feet; epileptiform spasms, hyperaesthesia of skin; brown spots, large pustules; gangrenous vesicles on body; pulse small, intermitting, quick.

Ignatia. Hysterical complications or rapid alternation of symptoms.

Lycopodium. Dread of solitude; active, irritable, and melancholy mind; stupefying headache, extending down the neck, with great weakness; acute hearing, with roaring in ears; acute smell; tongue swollen; bloating of abdomen, with tension as of a hoop, same in chest; much flatus, urine loaded with lithates; burning pains between shoulders; numbness and twitching through body and limbs.

Nux vomica. Shocks, starting suddenly from one portion of brain, with numbness and paralytic drawing in the limbs; sensation, as from a bruise in back part of head; scalp sensitive to touch; strong reverberation of sounds in ear; oversensitive to odors; neck stiff, with heaviness; stitches through the body in jerks, feels sore all over, opisthotonos, with consciousness; convulsions renewed by the least touch; fear of sleep; frightful dreams, irritable humor, and hypochondriasis.

Opium. Stupor, with or without pain, delirium, mania, heaviness, with great congestion to head, occiput feels as heavy as lead, the head falling back constantly; eyes fixed and half closed, pupils contracted or dilated, insensible to light, staring and glassy look; face bloated, muscles relaxed, with twitching of lips and flapping of cheeks; lockjaw; strangulation; intense thirst; vomiting, with colic and convulsions; abdomen hard and bloated; constipation or diarrhoea, urine scanty; snoring, rattling, slow respiration; suffocative attacks; dyspnoea, opisthotonos followed finally by painless paralysis, spasmodic jerkings and numbness of limbs, pulse variable; heat with sweat, sleep with sweat, worse while perspiring (gels, better).

Phosphorus. Extensive petechiae or hæmorrhages at an early stage; congestion to head; burning-stinging pains and pulsations commencing in occiput; contracted pupils; dull hearing; pneumonic complications; dyspnoea, with inability to exert himself; back pains as if broken; formication and tearing in limbs; frequent fainting.

Plumbum. Paralytic symptoms at an early stage; heaviness of head, especially in cerebellum, the palsied parts soon fall away in flesh, the limbs become painfully contracted; frequent spells of colic, with retraction of abdomen; somnolency.

Rhus tox. Anxiety, restlessness, stupor, vertigo, fulness, and bruised pain in head extending to ears, bleeding of ears and nose; dry cough, with perhaps bloody sputa; pain in back, as if sprained, tearing tensile pains, with stiffness of muscles and joints; vivid dreams, various ereptions.

§ 1. Principal remedies: 1, apis, bell., bry., calc., coar., coff., gels., graph., ign., n. vom., phos., plat., puls., sec., sep., sulph., veratr. 2, acan., amm., amm. m., carb. v., caust., cupr., kal., kreos., lach., lic., magn. c., magn. m., mere., natr. m., n. mosch., petr., sil., zinc. 3, bayt., borax, cann. ind., cham., chel., con., phos. ac., plumb., sabal., stram., tabac.

Particular indications:

Agnus castus. Dysmenorrhœa, with ovarian neuralgia: menses exceedingly profuse; coitus painful and abhorrent; looks thin and haggard; indifference to persons and things, hates to go out; mind untroubled, and dead to all excitement.

Apis mel. Feeling of weight and heaviness in ovarian region; great tenderness over the uterine region, with bearing-down pain; amenorrhœa and dysmenorrhœa, with scanty discharge of slimy blood, suppressed menses, with congested or inflamed ovaries, œdema of the labia; sharp plunging or stabbing pains in the uterus, or in the head, sometimes followed by convulsions, at every menstrual period, the patient feeling tolerably well during the interval; scanty dark urine; waxy skin.

Alumina. The menses delay, but finally appear, being too pale and too scanty; during flow corroding urine is passed day and night; exhaustion of body and mind after menses.

Ammonium carb. Cholera like symptoms at the commencement of menstruation, diarrhœa and vomiting during the flow; premature and abundant menses, preceded by griping colic and want of appetite; menses flow profusely during the night, blackish, in clots, and pass off with pain in abdomen; acrid flow, chafing the thighs; too late, scanty, and short; very slightly colored.

Ammonium mur. Discharge of a quantity of blood from the bowels at every catamenial period; during the flow the discharge at night is more profuse.

Argentum nitr. Menses too early, profuse, long-lasting, with headache; cutting in small of back and groin; at night tormenting pressure in præcordia; internal trembling in epigastrium; irregular, too soon or too late, too copious or too scanty, but always with thick coagulated blood.

Arsenicum. Atony of uterus; menses too frequent and too copious, with leucorrhœa in the interval; exhausting menorrhagia; sudden profuse discharge of black blood; amenorrhœa; scanty pale menses, thin, whitish, offensive discharge instead of the menses.

Aurum met. Menses too late, scanty, preceded by swelling of axillary glands, accompanied by colic; prolapsus ani; uterus prolapsed and indurated.

Baryta carb. Menses scanty, last only one day, preceded by toothache, colic, and leucorrhœa, and accompanied by cutting and pinching in abdomen; bruised pain in small of back, especially suitable to dwarfish women with scanty menses and troublesome weight about the pubes in any direction.

Belladonna. Colic before the menses (atropia), with great languor, loss of appetite, and obscuration of sight, or the menses are accompanied by sweat on the chest at night, frequent yawning, chills, colic; præcordial anguish, burning thirst, pains in the loins, and spasmodic pains in the back; pressing down in the abdomen, as if the contents would push through the sexual parts, with heaviness as from a stone; the limbs go to sleep while sitting, with pressure on the rectum; tendency of the blood to the chest and head, with beating pains, heat about the head, red and bloated face; suitable to young plethoric subjects, dragging pressing-downward pain, cutting pains from behind forward, or vice versa, passing through a horizontal diameter of the pelvis and not around its circumference (plat., sep.), paroxysmal and intolerable, preceding from six to twenty hours menstruation; stool at that time painful; sometimes a distressingly offensive flow in women otherwise healthy.

Berberis vulg. Menses too soon, discharge grayish, mucous, and then bloody and scanty, with severe pain in back and with smarting pain in vagina, violent burning pain and soreness in anus.

Borax. Membranous dysmenorrhœa; menses too early, too profuse, and attended with colic and nausea.

Bovista. Menses every two weeks, much dark and clotted blood, flow very profuse early in the morning; during the interval, occasional show of blood; burning in genitals; sweat in axillæ smelling like garlic or onions.

Bromine. Membranous dysmenorrhœa; violent contractive spasms during menses, lasting from six to twelve hours, leaving the part sore; menses too early and too profuse, of bright-red blood, or passive flow, with much exhaustion; membranous shreds pass off, local emission of flatus from the vagina, hard swelling in the ovarian region; before menses, fulness in head and chest, difficult respiration, headache, and an indescribable queer feeling all over, which makes her despondent.

Bryonia. Tearing remitting pains down the limbs, and in the body and bowels stitchlike pains, aggravated by the slightest motion; tendency of blood to head and chest, with short cough and frequent nosebleed, when menses are suppressed; membranous dysmenorrhœa, the flow profuse.

Cactus. Excruciating agony in the lumbar region at the beginning of the menstrual period; sensation of painful constriction in groins extending round pelvis; very painful menstruation, accompanied by great prostration of strength, worse in the evening, flow scanty, ceasing when lying down; painful constriction around pelvis, so that she cries out, extending gradually towards the stomach, causing sensation as of a blow in renal region; menses too soon, black, pitchlike.

Calcareæ carb. Menses too early, too long, and too profuse (atony of muscular coat of uterus, no contractive power); suppressed menses, after working in water, with tendency of blood to head, stupor, and vertigo; constant aching in vagina, and spasmodic pains in small of back; inward coldness and sensation as if cool, damp stockings were on feet.

Cantharis. Burning in vulva, and violent itching in vagina, menses too early and too profuse, black blood and scanty; menses painful; membranous dysmenorrhœa.

Carbo anim. After catamenia throbbing headache, worse in the open air; menstrual flow exhausts her, so that she is hardly able to speak during the continuance; menses too early, too long, too profuse; during menses lameness in thighs, pressing in small of back, groins, and thighs, with unsuccessful desire to eructate, chilly, yawning, blood dark.

Carbo veg. METRITIS.

Principal remedies : acon., apis., arn., ars., bell., bry., calc., carb. canth., caul., cham., chin., core., coff., coloc., con., erog., ferr., graph., hep., ign., ipec., iod., kali carb., magn. mur., mere., n. vom., op., pios., puls., rhus., sab., sec., sep., stram., sulph., veratr. vir.

Aconite. Violent fever, especially when the disease was caused by fright during confinement, or during menstruation ; hard rapid pulse ; hot dry skin ; intense thirst ; sharp shooting pains in the whole abdomen, which is very tender to the touch ; great restlessness ; fear of death, and predicting even the hour of death.

Apis mel. Stinging-thrusting pains, similar to those arising from a sting of a bee ; absence of thirst, urine scanty, dyspnoea.

Arsenicum. Burning, throbbing, lancinating pains ; restlessness and anguish, with fear of death ; thirst, but cold drinks make her worse ; wants to be wrapped up.

Belladonna. When the disease occurs during confinement, with suppression of the lochia or adhesion of the placenta ; or heaviness, drawing and pressure in the hypogastrium, as if everything would pass through the vagina, with burning stitches, pain in the small of the back, as if bruised or broken ; the pains are sudden, coming on quickly and ceasing as quickly after continuing for a longer or shorter time ; stitching pains in the hip joint, not allowing the parts to be touched or moved, or clatching pains, as if the hands were clawing with the nails ; involuntary flow of urine ; furious delirium ; throbbing headache, with throbbing of the carotids, drowsy dozing, with startings and inability to go to sleep.

Bryonia. The least motion aggravates her suffering ; head aches as if it would split open ; sitting up, as if in bed, causes nausea and fainting ; lips and mouth parched ; great thirst ; stools hard and dry.

Cantharides. Constant painful urging and tenesmus of the bladder ; in worst cases, when the patients lie unconscious, with their arms stretched out along the side of the body, interrupted by sudden starting up, screaming, throwing about the arms, and even convulsions — all signs of erosions and ulceration of internal organs.

Carbo anim. Chronic and subacute metritis ; inefficient urging to urinate, with painful pressure in the groins, loins, and thighs ; soreness in pit of stomach ; lassitude, leucorrhœa, staining the men yellow.

Chamomilla. After confinement, caused by a fit of chagrin or anger, with copious secretion of the lochia, and discharge of black clotted blood ; great impatience ; urine abundant and light-colored.

Colocynthis. Inflammation, in consequence of violent indignation — severe colicky pains, bends double, with great restlessness — tension of bowels ; feeling as if the intestines were squeezed between stones ; diarrhœa ; full quick pulse ; great thirst ; perimetritis.

Conium. Burning, sore, aching sensation in uterine region ; urine intermits in its flow ; vertigo on turning over while lying down ; the unequal and irregular, bitter taste, thirst.

Crocus. Black stringy discharge, rolling and bounding in abdomen, as from a fetus ; stitches in abdomen arresting respiration.

Hyoscyamus. Emotions cause the inflammation, with spasmodic symptoms, jerks of the extremities, face, and eyelids, typhoid ma-ritis, with delirium, throws off the bedclothes, lasciviousness, wishes to go naked, etc.

Ignatia. Suppressed grief; cramps, with lancinations, aggravated or renewed by touching the parts, empty feeling at the pit of the stomach.

Iodum. Acute pain in mamme, developed by the metritis; the mamme very sore; low cachectic state of the system, with feeble pulse.

Kali carb. Cutting, darting, shooting, and stitching pain all over abdomen; intense thirst continually.

Lachesis. She cannot bear any pressure, not even of the clothes, upon the uterine region; she wishes frequently to lift them, not that the abdomen is so very tender, but that the clothes cause an uneasiness; sensation as if the pains were ascending towards the chest; metritis during the critical age; aggravation after sleep; amelioration of the pains by a flow of blood from the vagina; skin alternately turning hot and cool; abdomen distended; lochial discharge thin and chorous.

Magnesia mur. Hysterical complaints and spasmodic turns, derm. spasms extending to the thighs; large difficult stools, which trouble as they pass the anus.

Mercurius. Stitching, aching, or boring pains in the uterus, with little heat, but frequent sweats and chills, moist tongue, with intense thirst; aggravation throughout the night.

Murex. Nervous temperament; lively cheerful disposition; strong determined will; strong sexual passions; menses anticipating and profuse; feeling of dryness and constriction in sexual regions; copious watery urination, urine smelling like valerian.

Nux vomica. Violent aching in the hypogastrium, aggravated by pressure and contact; violent pains in the loins; constipation or hard stools, retention of urine, dysuria, or ischuria; swelling of the thighs, with contusive pains and stitches in the abdomen; frequent desire to urinate, with scalding and burning pain; aggravation towards morning.

Opium. After fright, the fear of the fright still remaining; flushed face, delirium, sopor; in her lucid intervals complains of the heats being too hot for her; sleepy, but cannot sleep; coldness of extremities; fetid discharge from uterus.

Platina. Particularly after confinement, if there be excessive sexual excitement, painful pressure in the region of the mons veneris and the genital organs; profuse discharge of thick black blood; constipation, the stools adhering to the anus and rectum; palpitations.

Pulsatilla. Tension and contraction in abdomen as if the menses could appear, with nausea and vomiting of mucus; semilateral headache; bad taste in mouth, no thirst; nightly diarrhoea and scanty micturition.

Rhus tox. After confinement; slow fever, dry tongue, restless; especially at night, wants to change position often; powerlessness of lower limbs, she can hardly draw them up.

Sabina. Confinement or miscarriage; metrorrhagia of clotted and fluid blood, with pain from the sacrum or lumbar region to pelvis, stitching in vagina from before backwards: frequent urging to stool finally a liquid portion passes, followed by a hard portion.

Secale. When there is a strong tendency to putrescence; the inflammation seems to be caused by suppression of the lochia or menses; discharge of thin black blood, a kind of sanies, with tingling in the legs and great debility.

Sepia. Burning, shooting, or stitching pains in the neck of the uterus; a constant sense of pressing in the vagina, she feels that she must cross her limbs to prevent a protrusion; painful stiffness in the uterine region; sense of weight in the anus; putrid urine, depositing a claylike sediment, which is difficult to remove; icy coldness of the feet; great sense of emptiness in the pit of stomach; menses postponing and scanty, little sexual desire; melancholy.

Stramonium. Face bloated with blood, awakens with a shuddering look, as if afraid of the first object she sees, desires light and company, disposed to talk continually, imagines all sorts of absurd things; the head is often jerked from the pillow, and then falls back again.

Sulphur. Vulva excoriates easily; frequent flushes of heat, legs outstretched, wants windows and doors open; frequent weak faint spells, with strong craving for food.

MISCARRIAGE. Abortion.

Miscarriage in neighborhood of second or third month: Lach. cast. in third month: sabina; from fifth to seventh month: sepiol.

Aconite. Unconscious fear seems to control the patient, that something untoward will happen.

Aletris. Habitual tendency to abortion in feeble persons, of fit fibre and anaemic condition, even after hemorrhage has set in, we get in uterine region, tendency to prolapsus uteri.

Ambra. Threatening abortion, with tendency to convulsions, in excitable women.

Apis mel. Stinging pains in one or the other ovarian region.

more and more frequently, till labor pains are produced, sometimes flowing and finally abortus; urine scanty; no thirst; prolonged and difficult constipation; miscarriage in third and fourth month, with profuse flow.

Arnica. Abortus in consequence of a shock, injury, particularly if she commences to flow, with or without pain, or to have pains without flowing; a bruised feeling all over, so that it hurts her to move; where the period of quickening has passed the motion of fetus hurts her.

Asarum. Threatened abortion from excessive sensibility of all the nerves; from even imagining something unpleasant might happen to her, a disagreeable sensation is felt, momentarily arresting all her thoughts and functions.

Belladonna. Violent aching and tensive pains through the whole body, with sensation of constriction or distension, pains in loins as if broken, bearing down and congestion to the sexual organs, with or without discharge of blood, the discharge feeling very hot; the least jar is unpleasant to her; moaning gives slight relief.

Bryonia. Discharge of dark-red blood; pain in back worse by motion; burning pains in uterus; pain all over, limbs and all, mouth dry, nausea on sitting up, desire to keep still.

Calcarea carb. Leucophlegmasia, disposition to hæmorrhages; cold and damp feet, vertigo; disposition to leucorrhæa, painful nipples, tendency of blood to head, colic, pain in loins; varices of sexual organs.

Camphora. During epidemic influenza; disposition to catarrhs; pale, loose, cold skin.

Carbo veg. Menes too pale and scanty, or too copious and premature, with varicose condition of sexual organs; frequent headache, abdominal spasms.

Caulophyllum. Severe pains in back and loins, threatening abortion, with great want of uterine tonic; uterine contractions feeble and attended with only slight loss of blood; menstrual irregularities after miscarriage.

Chamomilla. Labor-pains, with more or less discharge of dark blood and frequent urination, the urine being profuse and pale; great restlessness and agony, irritability of temper, heaviness of the whole abdomen, frequent yawning, chills, and shuddering.

China. Sensation of distension of abdomen, as if it were packed full, discharge of flatus, upwards and downwards, without relief; hæmorrhage and its sequelæ; the membranes of an early ovum remain for weeks, keeping up a constant hæmorrhage.

Cimicifuga. Habitual abortion in women of rheumatic tendencies; cold chills and pricking sensations in the mammae.

Cinnamom. After a false step or a strain in loins; profuse flow of bright-red blood.

Cocculus. Much bilious vomiting; paralytic pain in back, rendering lower extremities nearly useless.

Conium. Vertigo on turning over when lying down; the flow of urine intermits.

Crocus. Flooding increased by the least movement, the discharge partly bright, partly composed of black strings; as fast as the blood flows from vulva it forms clots of stringy masses.

Erigeron. Abortus with profuse hæmorrhage, diarrhoea, and dysuria.

Ferrum. Great nervous erethism, flowing, and pain, with a flushed face; she is weak and pale.

Gelsemium. Pains run upwards and backwards, quite distressing, and of a sharp character, loss of will-power over the muscles.

Hyoscyamus. Delirious, clonic and tonic spasms, rigidity of the limbs, unconsciousness, or at least loss of sight and hearing; discharge of bright-red blood, with laborlike pains.

Ipecacuanha. Continual nausea, without a moment's relief; pain about the navel, passing off into the uterus; continued and profuse flow of bright-red blood; spasms with consciousness.

Kali carb. Abortus during second or third month; labor pains commence in back and pass down the thighs, they are more like stitches; headache when walking, must lie or sit down; stitches in renal region, constipation.

Lycopodium. Abdomen in constant state of fermentation, with pains shooting from right to left across the abdomen; severe pain in back before passing water, with almost entire relief as soon as urine flows; motion of child excessive and tumultuous; feeling of dryness in vagina; weeping, sadness, fainting; leucorrhœa, itching about vulva.

Mercurius. Hæmorrhage, with swelling of the external organs of generation and inguinal glands.

Nux moschata. Continued and obstinate flooding in hysterical women, disposed to fainting spells; they feel chilly and catch cold easily; mouth and throat very dry, tongue sticks to the roof of the mouth.

Nux vom. Every pain produces a desire to defecate and to urinate; frequent desire to urinate, with burning and scalding when urinating; constipation, has large difficult stools or small and frequent ones, with pain in ano; irritable, dreads being moved, pains across uterus.

Opium. Abortus after fright, spasmodic labor-pains, especially in latter part of pregnancy.

Platina. Discharge of a quantity of thick black blood, treacherous sensation extending from vulva into abdomen; mons veneris and vulva feel cold and sensitive to touch.

Pulsatilla. Discharge arrested for a little while, then returns with redoubled violence; she passes black blood, with labor pains.

Rhus tox. The patient had a strain or wrench, or she slipped and strained to save herself; pains worst latter part of night, must move often to find relief, cramp in calves, metrorrhagia.

Sabina. Abortion during third month; pains from the back directly through to pubes; discharge profuse, partly bright-red, partly clotted.

Secale corn. Feeble and cachectic women; wan, sunken countenance, filiform pulse, fear of death, copious flow of black liquid blood, and convulsive movements.

Sepia. Miscarriage from fifth to seventh month; sense of weight in anus; stools mixed with slime, often ineffectual urging and straining; inclination to fainting, rush of blood to the chest, head, and womb; varices; the motions of the fœtus are hardly to be felt; painful sensation of emptiness in pit of stomach.

Silicea. Spinal affections; constipation.

Stramonium. Threatened abortion with increased loquacity.

Ustilago maidis. Passive hæmorrhage after miscarriage, the blood comes away in lumps; flooding for days and weeks.

Veratrum album. Nausea, vomiting, and diarrhœa at every menstrual period, with every pain cold sweat on forehead.

Viburnum op. Spasmodic pains, shooting from abdomen into the legs; frequent and very early miscarriages, so that the ovum is expelled at every menstrual period, thus causing sterility.

Zincum met. A fidgety condition, restlessness of feet and legs, attends the symptoms of abortion.

The remaining weakness of the back and limbs, with continual sweating and dry cough, are best removed by kali carb.; the flooding requires mostly: bell., chin., erig., ipec., plat., sab., sec., trill., ust. maid.; but at any time we must feel sure that the placenta, small as it may be, has been discharged.

MOLES.

Hævi: acet. acid, ars., bor., calc., carb. v., fluor. ac., hep., iod., lach., lyc., merc., phos., sil., sulph., thuj.

Moles of the uterus: calc., canth., puls., sec., sil., or caul., chin., ars., ferr., graph., hyos., kali carb., lyc., sab., sep., sulph.

MOLLITIES OSSIUM.

MORBUS BASEDOWII.

Graves's disease, exophthalmic goitre: aur., bar., bell., calc. carb., calc. phos., ferr. acet., ferr. iod., guaiac., hep., iod., lycopus, natr. aur., nitr. amyl., phos., sec., sil., sulph., ver. alb.

Belladonna. Vertigo, especially when stooping, with flickering before eyes and anguish; violent palpitations of the heart, reverberating to the head; flushed face, dilated pupils, throbbing arteries.

Lycopus virg. Protrusion of eyeballs, cardiac depressions and palpitations, increased by ascending, by excitement, by deep inspiration, by thinking of them; irregular and intermittent pulse, not corresponding to the beat of the heart; frontal and fronto-occipital headache, relieved by strong pressure; sense of constriction in larynx; cough, with slight pale expectoration, wheezing and hot aching beneath right scapula; oppressed respiration, with sighing; tremulous feeling in hands; erratic rheumatoid pains, worse towards sunset and during evening.

Calcarea carb. Stiffness of eyeball, is unable to move it without an unpleasant sensation; pale face with blue rings around eyes; swelling of the glands under the lower jaw; mucous derangement all over; frequent need to breathe deeply, which again causes sticking pains in chest; shortness of breath when ascending, on waking; loss of breath when lying down, followed by whistling respiration; excessive palpitation, with irregular pulse; spasmodic contraction in cardiac region, impeding respiration, followed by severe shocks.

Natrum mur. Vision not clear, the eyes seem misty all day; cervical glands swollen and painful, chokes easily when swallowing; changed voice; eccentric dilatation of heart, with systolic beating sound; difficulty of breathing, even when keeping quiet, on standing, walking, with trembling of hands and feet; sensation of violent constriction in the heart, with intermitting pulse and feeling of oppression in lower part of chest; fluttering of heart; intermitting pulse.

Phosphorus. Sensation as if the eye were swelled and pushed out of the orbito; affections of the right heart, with consequent venous stagnation; dyspnoea, with inability to exert himself, palpitation; frequent fainting, sudden syncope, lying as if dead; hands and feet numb, clumsy.

Iodum. Protrusion of the balls; face pale, distressed, violent palpitation, worse from the least exertion, sensation as if the hand were squeezed together; constant heavy oppressive pain in region of heart; pulse accelerated by very slight exertion; goitre, swelling and hardness of the cervical glands; coldness of hands and feet; rapid failing of strength, emaciation.

Spongia. Eyes protruding, staring; thyroid gland swollen, even with the chin, suffocating attacks; violent palpitations with faintness.

Nitrite of amyl. Colfaction. Eyes protruding, staring, flutters as well as conjunctivæ injected; frequent flushes of heat in face, oppressed respiration, cardiac oppression, and tumultuous heart action.

MORBUS BRIGHTII.

Nephritis albuminosa.

Principal remedies: apis, ars., bry., berber., calc. arsen. and carb. canth., chin., colch., coloc., con., canth., chinaph., dig., eupat., p. p., evonym., atroporp., ferr., geran., helon., hell., hep., kali carb., kali chl., kalm., kreas., lyc., merc. cor., mez., nitr. ac., phos., phyt., rhus., sc., sulph., tereb.

Ammonium benz. Eyelids swollen, face bloated, head heavy and stupid; soreness in region of right kidney when pressing back against something; pain across sacrum with urgency to a stool; urine scanty, smoky.

Apis mel. Sudden swelling at any point, generally first on the eyelids; anasarca, with shining white skin; ascites, with great sensitiveness or soreness of the abdominal walls; cerebral oedema of lungs, with great dyspnoea and suffocative constriction about the throat; pain in renal region, soreness on pressure, red when stooping; frequent sudden attacks of pain along the ureters; urine suppressed or scanty, high-colored, fetid, containing albumen.

blood-corpuscles, uriniferous tubes and epithelium. Especially after scarlatina (also hep., kah carb., and lycopodium).

Argentum nitr. Gastro-intestinal irritation; violent headaches, confusion of thought, vertigo, hæmaturia, transitory paralysis, coma, convulsions from fatty degeneration of the liver and kidneys.

Arsenicum. Affects primarily the arterial heart and large blood-vessels, and after having caused hypertrophy the kidneys become diseased, and then the alimentary canal. It produces a hyperinotic crisis, with tendency to hydremia; anguish at night, driving him out of bed: stitches in the renal region when breathing or sneezing; vomiting of brown matter, with severe colic; vomiting after every meal; burning-pressing pain in the stomach; tongue dry, brown, or black; incessant thirst; extraordinary restlessness, especially at night; pale waxy skin; asthmatic attacks, anasarca; ascites and swelling of sexual organs; severe periodical headaches, with heaviness, forcing him to lie down; œdema cerebri; pulse intermittent, quick, weak, slow, tense; anemia, progressive emaciation and debility. Calc. arsenicosa helps sometimes where ars., though indicated, fails.

Aurum. Mercurial or syphilitic cachexia, palpitations, caries, swelling of the liver; bloated shining face; vertigo, as if he would fall to the left side; bruised pain in head, and confusion in thinking; dyspnoea, palpitation. It affects the left heart and with it the secreting tissues of the kidneys, causes a decided albuminous crisis, passing over in hydremia, and suits cases arising from gout, renal calculi, tedious suppurations, or hepatic degeneration. Interstitial nephritis.

Brachyglottis repens. (Puka puka.) Albuminuria depending on nervous disturbance, as from overwork, gradually causing renal disorganization.

Berberis vulgaris. Gouty or rheumatic diathesis; burning in back; urine of dark bloody appearance and largely supplied with albumen; tough mucus in mouth and throat; constant nausea and loss of sleep; frequent palpitation, slow, weak pulse; painful pressure and tension in the lumbar and renal region, with sensation of numbness, puffiness, warmth, stiffness, and lameness, extending at times into the lower limbs.

Cantharis. Early stage, especially when occurring from blows on the loins, or sudden changes of temperature; scanty secretion of high-colored urine, with scalding irritation in bladder and urethra; itching pains across the loins, or in the testicles; strangury, hæmaturia, erotism, serous exudations, burning pains, paraplegia, dysentery, with shreddy scrapings from the intestines; pleurisy. Urine contains an excessive quantity of swollen epithelial cells, and coagulates rapidly under heat or nitric acid. Post-scarlatinal nephritis, threatening uræmia.

Chelidonium. Intercurrent pneumonia (cannabis, pericarditis), short and quick breathing, with oppression and anxiety, as if he could choke; urine red and turbid, dark yellow; constant pain under inferior angle of right scapula, extending into chest and stomach, causing nausea and vomiting; severe palpitations; weariness and lassitude.

Coccus cacti. Sudden pulmonary congestions, with profuse mucous secretion and spasmodic suffocative cough.

Cuprum. Produces in the urine albumen and renal elements, without altering beforehand the circulatory organs; it attacks the left heart slower than arsen., more directly through the motor nerves of the heart than by hypertrophy, which never reaches here a high degree on account of the depressed energy of the heart. It acts etc. in uræmic convulsions, vomiting, dyspnoea, suffocating cough, slow wasting away of the muscles; syphilitic hepatitis and cirrhosis of liver; ascites.

Digitalis. Has a specific venous relation to the kidneys, and to the irregular and irritable heart; hydropericardium; scanty urination; urine thick, turbid, blackish.

Evonymus atropurp. Dyspepsia, chronic catarrhal and rheumatic ailments, migraine; the severer the headache the more albumen in urine; melancholy and bodily weakness. Liver complaint.

Helonias. Great languor; feeling of weakness and weight in the region of the kidneys; albuminuria following scarlatina, or during and after pregnancy; profound melancholy, better while doing some thing; burning pains in abdomen and kidneys; palpitations; aching pain in sacrum down into buttocks; dropsy, general debility, uterine atony.

Hepar. Dropsy after scarlatina; sensation as if bruised in small of back and thighs; palpitation of heart, with fine stitches through heart and chest. urine dark red, hot, bloody, burning, or pale, with flocculent muddy-looking sediment.

Kalmia. Dropsy from cold, with rheumatic complaints; persistent pains in lower extremities; scanty urine, albuminous, with fibrinous casts and epithelial cells; oppression of chest, dyspnoea, vertigo, dullness of head; periosteal pains prevent sleep.

Mercur. cor. Early stages, especially when caused by the absorption of alcoholic fluids, by cold, or by obstructed portal circulation, effusion of fibrin or fat-globules in the urine, or profuse secretion of pale albuminous urine; colic, tenesmus, bluish paleness of face; yellowish tint of the body; puffiness of the face and feet; offensive secretions; tendency to ulcerations and glandular swellings (infiltrate of mercury).

Nitric acid. Contracted kidney, nausea, excessive shiny secretion from mouth and throat; yellow coating all over tongue, with bitter or acid taste; bilious diarrhoea or constipation, pales, anorexia; hæmaturia, urging after and shuddering along the spine during urination; skin dry, dark, and dirty.

Phosphoric acid. Great torpor, melanotic dyscrasia, similar to scurvy and stupid typhoid; the heart relaxed, dilated, with thin walls; atheroma of the arteries, petechiae; insidious appearance of the renal degeneration, carelessness and apathy, perfect prostration, with low delirium, neither hunger nor thirst, nausea and vomiting, bleeding gums; urine contains much phosphates, fibrinous casts and epithelial cells, fatty corpuscles, rarely carbonate of ammonia, and never much albumen; costiveness or light-yellow diarrhoea, no heat nor heat; cool wrinkled skin, cool breath, cool sweat.

Phosphorus. Affects primarily the right heart, producing venous stasis, kidneys present great structural changes, granular and fatty degenerations, destruction of epithelium, and finally atrophy, urine highly albuminous; the blood profusely affected, the red corpuscles greatly diminished, and the white corpuscles increased. Nervous exhaustion, atrophy or softening of the brain, sensation of weakness or emptiness in the stomach, painless watery diarrhoea; congestion of be right heart, and hence venous congestion of kidneys; dimness of sight, amaurosis; hæmorrhages; hoarseness; pneumonia; jaundice; fatty degeneration and atrophy of liver; tuberculosis; caries.

Plumbum. Granular kidney. Loss of appetite, frontal headache worse from mental application; difficulty of breathing, especially at night when lying down; œdema of ankles; dry skin, no perspiration even after exercise; colicky pains proceeding from the spine, with obstinate constipation and retracted abdomen; amaurosis from atrophy of the optic nerve (phos. from retinal hæmorrhage; epileptiform conditions, paralysis; cutaneous anaesthesia, with albuminuria; exceedingly pale skin; chlorosis; rapid emaciation and progressive debility.

Sarsaparilla. Syphilitic taint, mercurial poisoning, scrofula, æsthetic states from hepatic diseases or rheumatism; cloudiness ofсад; dim sight, as if looking through a mist, aphthae frequent, and copious micturition of pale urine, depositing a sediment, frequent desire, but scanty urination; fetid breath; dyspnoea; tearing in almost all the joints and limbs; great weakness; languid feeling; maceration.

Secale, M. B. after scarlatina; retention of urine; urine pale or bloody, urinary deposits looking like cheese; discharge of thick black blood from kidneys; obscuration of sight.

Tartar emet. Humid asthma; dyspnoea from mucous accumulation and impending paralysis of the pneumogastric nerve; vanishing of sight, sees only through a thick veil; pale puffed face, with coma; pale sunken face; nausea and vomiting; stools of cadaverous smell, albuminous urine; palpitation, pulse rapid, weak, and trembling; great weakness and lassitude, fainting.

Terebinthina. Adapted to the early stages, when blood and albumen abound more than casts and epithelium; renal dropsy, attacking rapidly, with pain in lumbar region, urine much diminished in quantity, loaded with albumen, casts of tubes with blood-discs; urine highly charged with blood, especially if it is bright and passing in very small quantity; dyspnoea, especially at night, scarcely able to breathe; copious mucous sputa; organic disease of heart and large bloodvessels; irritability and weakness of the alimentary canal; anæmia; smooth and glossy tongue; œdema of legs, which are of enormous size; tendency to a typhoid state; rigors, followed by feverish heat through whole body, headache and fever, red face.

Uranium nitr. The patient is compelled to rise often at night to urinate, which disturbs his sleep; disordered stomach, cardiac complications, pregnancy.

Other remedies to be thought of: asparagus, amm. carb., calc. bosph., kali citr., kali hydroiod., lyc., lithium carb., tab., sulph.

Particular indications:

Aconite. Anæsthesia dolorosa: vertigo, reeling as if drunk; numbness of mouth and tongue; numbness of small of back extending to lower limbs; spasms from spinal inflammatory affections; formication in arms; icy coldness and insensibility of hands and feet.

Angustura vera. Twitching and jerking along back like electric shocks; tension of facial muscles; lockjaw.

Apis mel. Lower posterior dorsal or lumbar region feels as if bruised; could not sit on account of most violent pains in sacrum; feels perfectly powerless, could not take hold of anything; must be fed and nursed; contractions of flexors; joints cannot be stretched; paralysis and emaciation of upper and lower limbs; several glands on neck swollen to the size of walnuts and of stony hardness.

Arsenicum. Greatly oppressed breathing and anxiety; constriction and tightness of chest as if bound with a hoop; twitching, trembling, violent starting, weariness in all limbs; tetanic spasms.

Belladonna. Tonic and clonic convulsions, complete or incomplete paralysis, with or without incontinence of urine; pains in spinal cord, with weariness; palsy of the muscles of the eye and iris.

Bismuth. Rotary vertigo; spasmodic contractive tearing in muscles of right arm; gastralgia.

Cuprum. Twitching and jerking of muscles; respiration short and oppressed; stiff lame feeling in back and lumbar region; spasms of extremities; weakness, prostration, and debility.

Fluoric acid. Occipital headache; numbness in head and hands; rigidity of nape of neck; weakness and numbness in extremities.

Gelsemium. Early stage of myelitis of the anterior horns; spinal weakness from exhaustion, confusion of head, spreading from occiput to forehead; dim sight; expression of face heavy, dull, drowsy; paresis of tongue and glottis; incontinence of urine; muscles feel bruised and will not obey the will; loss of voluntary motion.

Graphites. Tremulous sensation through whole body; weakness and prostration; weakness in back and loins when walking; heaviness in legs; left hand becomes numb with formication, extending up the arms, which feel asleep; frequently feels faint, with partial loss of senses.

Kalmia. Constant pain in spine, sometimes worse in the loins, with great heat and burning; sensation as if the spine would break from within outward; aching across the loins; feeling of paralysis in sacrum; pains evening in bed, with heaviness of head; weakness and paralytic condition of limbs.

Mercur. Paralysis of lower extremities, of the bladder and rectum, with occasional jerks in the paralyzed parts; violent pains in spine, worse from motion; great restlessness and sleeplessness, worse at night in bed; insensibility of skin.

Nux vomica. Vertigo, heavy tongue; bad effects from sexual excesses; paresis of arms, with shocks as if the blood would start from the vessels; numbness and deadness of legs; brain and spinal cord secondarily affected, the primary source of irritation occurring in the alimentary canal.

Opium. General insensibility of nervous system; trembling of limbs; convulsive, spasmodic, with jerking of the muscles, shocks through the body, and general coldness; relaxation of muscles, shuffling and trembling gait.

Oxalic acid. Paralysis from inflammation of cord; limbs stiff; dyspnea; muscular twitchings; extremities heavy, powerless, numb, weak; pains of oxalic acid occupy small places.

Physostigma. Congestive state of paralysis of the spinal cord; congestion of spinal cord, with tetanic spasms; stiffness of neck, with a feeling of drawing and tension; back very weak, unable to stand erect; stiffness and pain going all down the spine, with inclination to bend forward, as if hard to sit up straight; limbs weary, as after great fatigue.

Rhus tox. Myelitis from trauma, concussion, or dampness; contractive sensation as if the sinews were shortened; numbness, with tingling and loss of sensibility; tremors.

Secale corn. Myelomeningitis; muscular twitchings beginning in face and spreading over body; spasm of tongue, constriction in epigastrium, palpitations, tingling in back extending to fingers and toes; irregular movements of the whole body.

Stramonium. Trembling contractions; tonic epileptoid convulsions, but with consciousness undisturbed; sudden jerks through the body, spots in back pain when touched; constant pain in cervical and upper dorsal vertebrae; muscles will not obey the will; alternate exaltation and melancholy; vertigo when walking in the dark, day or night; diplopia, cloudiness of vision; strabismus; stammering speech or aphonia; spasms of muscles of face, or twitching of single parts; trembling or paralysis of limbs.

Zincum. Spinal irritation, with pains only when sitting; violent, long-lasting aching pains in last lumbar vertebrae, worse sitting, better standing; burning pains along whole spine.

MYELITIS CHRONICA.

See Paralysis and Sclerosis.

MYOPIA.

Principal remedies are: 1, amm., anac., carb. veg., con., nitr. ac., petr., phos., phos. ac., puls., sulph.

For myopia in consequence of ophthalmia: puls. and sulph.

For myopia from abuse of mercury: 1, carb. veg., nitr. ac., sulph., or 2, puls.

Myopia in consequence of typhus or debilitating loss of animal fluids, requires: phos. ac.

NAILS, Diseases of.

Panaritium inflammation of the skin, tendons and their sheaths, or of the periosteum: alum., ammon. mur., anthracin., apis., asaf. bufo, calc., canar., diosc., hep., kal., lach., merc., natr. sulph., nitr. ac., petr., puls., rhus., sep., sil., sulph.; superficial, subcutaneous run around: cepa, merc., rhus., apis., graph., sulph., caust.; lymphatic vessels inflamed: cepa, lach., hep., sinuspis, rhus.; deep-seated and diffuse: bry., hep., lyc., rhus.; affecting tendons or aponeurotic tissue (whitlow): graph., lach., merc., sulph., rhus., hep., led., natr. sulph., ran. bulb., sil.; periosteum and bones (felon): fluor. ac., sil., ac., phos., mez., sulph.; old maltreated cases: hep., sil., sulph., paros., stram.

Cause. From a hurt, led. From hard work, rhus., sep. From a prick with a needle under the nail, cepa, borist., sulph. From a prick on the nail, iod. From splinters, bar., iod., sil., hep., lach., nitr. ac., petr., sulph. From hangnails, lyc., natr. mur., sulph. From spots of the skin adhering to the nails, cepa, natr. mur.

Location. Beginning at the root of nails, caust., graph. After suppuration, hep., lach. After, sil., sulph. Margin of nails, litmus. Under the nails, alum., caust., coccus cact., sulph. All around the nails, alum., bufo, caust., erot., hep., lach., merc., paris., plumb., puls., ran. bulb., rata, sang., ferr. magn.

Preventive If apis is insuflcient, give sulph. high. If arsenic, anthracin. If merc., hepar. If hep., lach. If sil., fluor. ac. From may be checked in the beginning, before suppuration, by nitr. ac. in water, applied locally; calc. carb. prevents returns.

Special Indications:

Alumina. Panaritium, with brittle nails, lancinating pains, and tendency to ulceration of the finger tips; gnawing beneath the finger nails, with crawling along the arm as far as the clavicle; nails brittle and thick, spots on nails.

Anthracin. Violent burning pain in panaritium; absorption of pus into the blood; gangrenous destruction; cerebral symptoms.

Apis mel. Burning, stinging, throbbing panaritium, very sensitive to touch; the whole finger much swollen, red as fire, swelling extending up forearm.

Asafotida. Whitlow, with violent nightly pains, and threatening necrosis of the phalanx.

Bryonia. Inflammation light, pale red, diffused, not hard nor burning at first, but at its height tearing, shooting; if suppurating, the redness spreads more and more; at first cold applications pleasant, later moist hot poultices agreeable; dry mouth, without thirst or great thirst, bitter taste, dry stool, dry skin; fast, frequent, strong pulse.

Graphites. Ingrowing toe nail; sides and roots of the finger and toe-nails become sore, ulcerate, and swell, they are exceedingly painful, violently burning and throbbing, then suppuration and proud flesh. Given at the beginning it aborts the ailment in a few hours.

Hepar. Superficial erysipelatous onychia around the root of the nail; before suppuration hepar, after it lachesis; thumb livid, violent throbbing, cutting, burning pain, lymphatics inflamed, lump in axilla; patient sensitive to touch and cold; subject to it every winter.

Ledum. Consequence of injuries, but only in first stages.

Lycop. Inflammation extending over whole hand; dark red swelling; belching, bloated abdomen, emptiness in stomach, with yawning.

Mercur. Inflammation in the cellular tissue beneath the cutis, in the sinews, their fasciæ, and their phalangeal joints; pains not violent, more throbbing than shooting; patient extremely sensitive to heat and cold.

Natrum sulph. Living in damp dwellings or workshops, pale appearance, lassitude and dull headache in the morning, chilly and nervous in the evening. A blister on the ungular phalanx, followed by deep-red swelling; festering at root of nail; great pains, more tolerable outdoors than in the room.

Rhus tox. Slow local development, frequent remission, dark red, erysipelatous, with little blisters, or œdema, pain running up the limb.

Silicea. Affection of periosteum; moderate redness or heat, deep-seated inflammation, violent shooting pain deep in the finger, worse in the warm bed, sleepless at night, pain being unbearable, with great restlessness, irritability even unto convulsive jerks; opening with a surrounding wall of proud flesh, pus malignant, discolored, it promotes expulsion of necrotic bones; ingrowing toenail.

Fluoric acid. Panaritium. Sharp sticking pain at root of thumb nail; sleep restless and unrefreshing; promotes expulsion of necrotic bones.

For violent nightly pains, threatening necrosis, asaf. or lachesis.

For onychia, a panaritium under the nail, hep. is almost specific.

after which lach. acts well, and if ulceration should have set in, fluor ac., sil. or sulph.

For ingrowing toe nails: colech., graph., kali carb., magn. auct., marum ver., natr. mur., phosph. sil.; for nails with white spots: fluor ac., sil.; bluish: china., dig., nux v., aur., chel., lyc., natr. mur., sil. easily breaking: graph., sil., squill., sulph., alum., merc., sep., discolored ant., ars., graph., sulph., mur. ac., nitr. ac., sep.; deformed graph., sabad., alum., sil., sulph.; painful: caust., graph., mgs. aust., s., ant., hep., mar., merc., nitr. ac., nux v., squill., sulph.; thickened graph., sabad.; with sensation as if a splinter went in: nitric ac. dil., sulph., hep., petr.; exfoliating: graph., sil., sulph., alum., merc., sab.; excoriating pains: graph., sep., hep., mgs. aust., merc., nux v., sulph.; yellow: con., sep., merc., nitr. ac., nux v., sulph.; acbr., aur., hep., bry., canth., carb. veg., cham., china., ferr., igu., lyc., op., plumb., spiz., growing very slowly: ant. crud., pressing squeezing: magn., sensitive: mgs. aust., nux v., sil., natr. mur., squill., sulph.; lancinating graph., puls., calc., caust., mgs. aust., natr. mur., nux v., rhus., sil., with ulcerative pain: graph., puls., ammon. mur., natr. mur., rhus., sep., sil., caust., china., hep., kali merc., nux v., sulph., thuj. falling off easily: ant., ars., hel., merc., squill., sec., sep., thuj.; hangnans: natr. mur., rhus., sulph.; calc., lyc., merc., sab., stann.

NARCOTISM.

III effects of narcotic substances.

Poisoning with large doses requires: 1. large quantities of black coffee; 2. vinegar mixed with water

The remaining ailments yield to: 1. bell., carb. veg., cham., cod., lach., merc., n. vom., op., puls.; 2. amm., ars., caust., graph., hyos., ipec., lyc., natr. m., rhus. sep., sulph., kal.

NASAL CATARRH.

Green discharge: kali bichr., merc., natr. carb., phosph., puls., rhus. sep., thuj.

Yellow: alum., cinnab., graph., hydr., mur. ac., natr. carb., nitr. ac., phosph., lyc.

Thick whitish: hydr., kali bichr., lyc., merc., nux v.

Petid: aurum, asaf., graph., merc., nitr. ac., petr., rhus.

Purulent: asaf., aur., con., lyc., petr., puls., rhus.

Fluent coryza: anacard., ars., arum, bovist., brom., calc., cho., euphr., cep., fluor. ac., gels., hep., ipec., kali bichr., lach., merc., nitr. ac., nux v., thuj.

Dryness of nose: calc., caust., ant. crud., carb. an., dule., graph., lyc., sil., spig., sulph.

Ulceration: alumina, aur., calc., graph., kali carb., lyc., puls. sep., sil., staph., sulph., zinc.

Accumulation of mucus in posterior nares: alum., anac., ant. crud., cep., coral., euphr., hydr., kali bichr., merc., natr. carb., plumb., rom., selen., spong., sulph., zinc.

Dropping of mucus from posterior nares: coral., hydr., kali bichr., nitr. ac., plumb., sep., spig., sulph., thuj.

Scurfs in the nose: alum., aur., bov., calc., cic., kali bichr., lach., natr. mur., nitr. ac., nux v., phos., sil., staph., sulph., thuj.

Syphilitic ozæna: aur., con., hep., lach., lyc., merc., nitr. ac., sulph.

Scrofulous ozæna: merc., nitr. ac., phos., psor., sil., sulph.

Dry and fluent coryza alternating: kali carb., natr. mur., nux v., phos., sil.

Stoppage of nose: elaps., ipec., kal., laur., magn. c., magn. mur., mang., nitr. ac., sil., sulph.

Magn. carb.: waking at night; amm. carb. and magn. mur.: at night; cim.: at evening; marom.: during day; phyl.: when riding; nucol.: right side at night; lyc.: nightly closing of the nostril; sil.: long continued stoppage from hardened mucus; sang.: alternating with fluency; elaps.: from least current of air; ammon. carb. and gram.: can only breathe with open mouth.

Violent sneezing: acen., ars., coccus, rhus, sabina.

Ineffectual effort to sneeze: carb. veg., galv., mez., plat., raph., zinc.

With asthmatic sufferings: calc., bov., kal., lach.

With roughness or soreness of throat: caust., nitr. ac., phos., phos. ac.

NEPHRITIS.

Inflammation of the kidneys.

Acon., alum., arg., nitr., bell., berb., cann., canth., caust., chim., coccus cact., colch., collins., eriger., eupat., purp., eryng., gela., geran., hep., lyc., nux v., puls., phyl., samb., sars., sencio., trill.

Aconite. Synochal fever: secretion of urine diminished; micturition difficult and painful: urine saturated or mixed with blood; consequence of exposure to cold.

Argentum nitr. Catarrhal renal affections, acute pains extending from kidneys to bladder, or dull aching pains extending across the loins or over the region of the bladder, with or without painful urination, with red sand in urine and abundance of uric acid.

Belladonna. Stitching pains in kidneys, extending along the ureter as far as the bladder, with periodical anguish; urine first clear, becomes turbid on standing; blood-red; when heating the urine, it deposits nearly always a cloud of phosphates; great anguish and peevish pains; restless, starts in sleep.

Berberis. Burning and soreness in renal region; sharp pain in right kidney near the spine, from there downwards into the bladder; stitching-cutting pains from the kidneys to bladder and urethra; urine blood-red, speedily becoming turbid, depositing thick mucus and bright-red mealy sediment.

Cannabis. Sensation of soreness and inflammation in kidneys and bladder; drawing pain from the renal region to the inguinal glands, with anxious nauseous sensation in pit of stomach; urine red and turbid.

Cantharis. Paroxysmal cutting and burning pain in renal region, which is very sensitive to the slightest touch, alternating with pain in tip of penis; urging to urinate; painful micturition; only a few drops at a time, bloody urine or pure blood; before, during, and after urinating, cutting pains in urethra; high fever, pulse frequent and hard, drawing-tearing pains in loins and testes, worse from motion, sometimes stopping breathing; constipation; uræmic cerebral symptoms, like stupor, numbness; after exposure to cold or mechanical injuries, urine turbid or scanty; cloudy during the night, like meaty water, with white sediment; albuminous; containing cylindrical casts.

Chimaphila. Scanty urine, containing large quantities of mucopurulent sediment; chronic catarrh of the bladder; urine thick,ropy, of brick color, and copious bloody sediment, with hectic fever and night sweats, from chronic renal disease.

Coccus cacti. Attacks of nephritic colic, with very copious urine and dull pain in the urethra; sudden, acute, prolonged lacerations, extending from left renal region along the ureters into the bladder, bruised pain in the sacro-lumbar region and in groins, spasmodic pains in kidneys, accompanied by vesical tenesmus and frequent emissions of deep-colored urine; hæmaturia, laceritious sediment of coat of brickdust, which adheres to the vessel; the urine contains mucus in the form of filaments, clouds, flocks, and sediments, and the sediment is entangled with much mucus.

Erigeron. Sharp stinging pains in region of left kidney; complete suppression of urine, and pain in renal region, followed by urging to urinate, with emission of only a few burning drops.

Hepar sulph. Bruised sensation in small of back and thighs; pale urine, with flocculent, muddy white sediment, blood being discharged only with the last drops, croupous nephritis passing into suppurative stage, with fever, chills alternating with burning heat.

Kali carb. Tensive pain in left kidney; swelling of inguinal glands; œdema of left foot, extending gradually to the right foot, and upwards over the whole body; blackish urine, which, on shaking, foams, and on standing leaves a thick, reddish, slimy sediment, frequent soft pale stools; after a blow on left side, and remaining 48 hours in wet clothes.

Kali iod. Scanty dark urine; painful micturition; sediment dirty, yellowish, great thirst, heat in the head, delirium; granulated kidney from gonorrhea or mercurio-syphilis.

Mercurius. Diminished secretion of urine, with great desire to pass it; urine saturated, dark brown, mixed with blood, with dirty white sediment.

Millefolium. Pain in region of left kidney, then bloody urine, forming a cake in the vessel.

Natrum mur. Tension and heat in the renal region; urinal sediment like brickdust; urine dark like coffee; hæmaturia.

Nux vomica. Renal colic, especially in right kidney, extending to genitals and right leg; worse lying on that side, better on back; painful ineffectual urging to urinate, urine passes in drops, with burning and tearing, spasmodic strangury.

Ocimum canum. Renal colic, right side, with violent vomiting every fifteen minutes, twists about and groans; red and bloody urine, with brickdust sediment after the attack; thick, purulent urine with an intolerable smell of musk.

Phosphorus. The skin is pale and anæmic; frequent watery diarrhœa; in complication with pneumonia, bronchial catarrh, ulceration of bones, amaurosis; albumen and exudation cells in the urine.

Phytolacca. Weakness, dull pain, and soreness in the region of the kidneys, most on right side, and connected with heat; uneasiness down the ureters; chalklike sediment in the urine; albuminous urine.

Rhus tox. Tearing pain in renal region; œdematous swelling all over; urine diminished, though he drinks much; after exposure to wet.

Senecio. Slight pains in renal region, nausea, attendant on renal derangement and renal colic; chronic inflammation of the kidneys; urine scanty, high-colored, tinged with blood.

Terebinthina. Scanty secretion of dark (occasionally) bloody urine, coagulating on addition of nitric acid and heat; œdema all over; intestinal catarrh and diarrhœa; bronchial catarrh, with expectoration of much mucus; affections of kidneys, worse from living in damp dwellings; burning and drawing from right kidney to hip; pressure in kidneys when sitting, better from motion; bloody urine, the blood thoroughly mixed with the urine, or urine depositing a shiny, thick, muddy sediment.

Thuja. Kidneys inflamed, feet swollen; dark cloudy sediment in urine.

NEPHRITIC RETINITIS.

See Morbus Brightii.

Apis. (œdematous swelling of the lids, and general dropsical condition; patient very drowsy, little thirst and scanty urine.

Arsenicum. Restlessness, especially at night after midnight; urine scanty and albuminous.

Gelsemium. Retinitis albuminuria during pregnancy; white patches and extravasation of blood in retina; dimness of vision appears suddenly; serous infiltration into the vitreous, making it hazy. No thirst, albumen in urine.

Kalmia lat. Nephritic retinitis accompanied by much pain in back, as if it would break.

Merc. cor. Nephritic retinitis during pregnancy; lids œdematous, edges swollen, burning, smarting; albumen in urine.

Phosphoric acid. Eyes look glassy, lustreless, also with staring; pressing in eyes, as if eyeballs were too large; milky urine mixed with jellylike bloody pieces; drowsiness and apathy.

Plumbum, Colch., Hepar, in fact any remedy indicated for Bright's disease may also remove the dangerous state of the eyes.

NETTLERASH, URTICARIA.

Acon., anacard., ant., apis, ars., astacus flav., bell., benz. ac., bry., calc., caust., chloral., elem., con., cop., dulc., hep., ign., kreas., lyc., nuc., nux v., petr., puls., rhus, salicyl. acid., sep., sulph., urtic. ur., ustil., ver. alb.

Acute nettle rash: acon., anacard. (emotional), apis, Arn., Bry., dule., rhus, salic. ac., urtic.

Chronic: ars., calc., carb. v., caust., lye, mez., petr., rhus, sulph., ver., chloral.

Aconite. Great heat, thirst, frequent pulse, malaise, sleeplessness; fear or fright.

Antim. tart. White lumps with red areolæ, which itch; eruption comes and goes, makes him irritable, very hot, and thirsty, worse after meat.

Arnica. Itching wheals, relieved by scratching.

Apis. Stinging burning over the whole body, passing off after sleeping soundly; sudden stinging sensation over whole body, with white and red spots in palm of hands, or arms and feet, on head and nape of neck; uterine catarrh.

Bryonia. Atmospheric influences, with simultaneous rheumatic articular pains, nightly exacerbations, and sleeplessness, worse from motion.

Calcarea carb. Nettle rash, which always disappears in the fresh air; elevated red stripes on tibia, with severe itching and burning after rubbing.

Causticum. Chronic nettle rash, coming out more fully in fresh air, with decided aggravation and itching from the heat of the bed.

Chloral. Eruption on arms and legs, exactly like nettle rash, in large raised wheals, with intense irritating, itching, oedematous swelling of face, cheeks, eyelids, and ears, coming on suddenly from a chill, not from heat.

Cimicifuga. Urticaria from menstrual or rheumatic disorders.

Copaiva. Violent chills, headache, and general malaise; red, hot skin, nettle rash all over body, delirium, drowsiness, scanty urine, which is dark with brickdust sediment.

Rhus tox. Vesicular urticaria from getting wet, during the rheumatism, with chills and fever, worse in cold air; itching all over, worse on hairy parts, burning after scratching.

Urtica urens. Itching and burning of the skin, as if scorched, raised red blotches; fine stinging points; pale rash requiring constant rubbing; consequences of suppressed nettle rash; eruption and itching disappear as soon as she lays down and reappear immediately after rising.

Ustilago maidis. Terrible itching at night; menstrual irregularities from ovarian irritation.

When caused by uterine diseases: apis, bell., kali carb., puls., sep., may be indicated; when gastric catarrh prevails: n. vom., pols., ant. crud., or tart.; dule. gives us itching of skin, with burning after scratching, griping pains in bowels, nausea, and diarrhoea, the stools being watery, after taking cold.

NEURALGIA.

1. Neuralgia frontalis, suborbitalis, and maxillaris. See Protopatgia.

Neuralgia cervico occipitalis: acon., bell., calc., caust., ign., kalm., lach., n. vom., puls., apug., sulph.

Neuralgia cervico-trachealis: acon., Arn., ars., ferr., graph., igo., lye., phos., rhus, sep., staph., sulph., ver.

3. Particular indications:

Aconite. Unbearable pains, especially at night, lancinating, pulsating; febrile heat, groaning and moaning, anguish and fear of death; thirst, redness of cheeks, pulse small and quick; hyperaesthesia of all the nerves, especially of sight and hearing; sleeplessness and restlessness.

Arnica. Stinging and pricking in the affected parts, with restlessness so that he has to stir about constantly, worse by noise or from the slightest exertion.

Arsenicum. Burning-tearing pains, especially at night, and even during sleep, nearly driving the patient crazy; great anguish, excessive weakness, has to lie down: pains come on in paroxysms; the affected parts feel cold; worse during rest after prolonged exercise, at night in bed, or after rest; relief from outside heat.

Belladonna. Lancinating-burning pains, aggravated by motion, noise, and light, shock, or contact; daily paroxysms from noon till midnight; relief by sitting up; worse when lying down, and from heat of head, from fresh air, or a draft.

Bryonia. Pressing, tearing, shooting pains, or as if from subcutaneous ulceration; worse from motion, feels better when lying on affected side; rheumatic disposition; great irascibility.

Chamomilla. Shooting, tearing, pulsating pains, with sensation of torpor in affected parts; excessive impressionability, so that the least pain becomes unbearable, and faints easily away; face puffy, one cheek red, the other pale; hot perspiration of the head and hair, with crying, weeping, crossness, and irascibility.

China. Excessive sensitiveness of the skin, painful to the least touch, torpor and paralytic weakness of the affected parts, pressive pains, with hot flashes over the face; nightly restlessness.

Cedron. Well marked periodicity; neuralgic pains post coitum; pains worse during menstruation; flying heat in face, alternated with chills; chronic intermittent neuralgia, recurring in regular paroxysms of indefinite duration, and lasting from two to four hours.

Cepa. Neuralgia in the stump after amputation

Cimicifuga. Pleurodynia, abdominal myalgia, neuralgic toothache, cardiac myalgia, great anxiety, livid or purple color of the face, cold perspiration on hands, numbness of the whole body, especially of the arms

Cocculus. Hyperesthesia of all the senses, the least noise or jar or motion is painful; great lassitude of the whole body, it is an exertion to stand firmly; hysterics with sadness.

Coffea. Pains unbearable, feels perfectly discouraged, cries and throws himself about; fear of fresh air, and of the least noise, excessive weeping and lamentations over trifles; fainting.

Gelsemium. Cardiac neurosis, with deficient power and action, hysterical palpitation in plethoric women, acute sudden darting pains along single nerve branches in almost any part of the body, myalgia from overexertion Hepar. Bruised sensation, or as of subcutaneous ulceration worse by contact; fainting towards evening from the least aggravation, relief by heat.

Ignatia. Tearing pains, or pressing from inside outwards, with paleness of face, watery urine, slight relief from changing position, worse after meals, after lying down at night, or in the morning after getting up; changeable humor, with disposition to start, or taciturn and morose; sweet sensitive nature.

Magnesia phos. Every night neuralgia, now in lower limbs or tibia, or in thighs, now in the left, now in the right side, mostly with spasmodic muscular contractions; during the day perfectly well Mercurius. Rheumatic patients with night-sweats, tearing, agonizing pains, sensation of cold in the affected parts, aggravation at night, great weakness, hot flashes from the least exertion, pale face or evanescent redness on cheeks.

Nux vomica. Stitches through the body in jerks, feels sore all over, worse mornings; great weakness, with hyperesthesia of all the senses; tendency to faint; worse morning, after eating, in fresh and cold air, from mental exertion.

Paris quad. Feeling of great weight on the nape of the neck and shoulders; violent pains on both sides of neck, extending down to fingers; especially on left side, worse by mental exertion.

Piper methysticum. Burning neuralgic pains, relieved by diversion of the mind by some new topic, by any excitement or change of position.

Pulsatilla. Tearing, lancinating, pulsating pains, only on one side of the body, worse when lying down at night, during rest, better in fresh air.

Rhus tox. Tingling-burning pains, or ulcerative pain, worse in fresh air, and when resting, better by motion and heat; constant restlessness, must change position.

Staphisagria. Neuralgia of shoulder joint and arms; crural neuralgia; sharp pains during motion, aching of the whole limbs with great heaviness during rest; sweat at night; great general prostration tion; sinking feeling in stomach and abdomen; better during rest at night.

Tarantula. Excessive hyperæsthesia, a slight touch along the spine provokes spasmodic pains in chest, and distress in cardiac region; intense headache, body burns all over.

Terebinthina. Neuralgia brachialis and subscapularis, supraorbitalis; mostly evenings and during the night in bed till morning; neuralgia vaga; sudden twitchings of the limbs as from electric shocks; intense pain along the larger nerves, numbness of limbs; neuralgic headache; motion difficult, as it starts or increases the pain; sometimes caused by sudden check of perspiration.

Veratrum album. Pains of such severity as to cause delirium and unconsciousness, fainting, with cold sweat; whole body cold, with thirst; worse by the heat of bed at night towards morning; amelioration by moving about.

Zincum met. Neuralgic pains between skin and muscle, in subcutaneous cellular tissue; great weakness of all the limbs; deficiency of vital power.

NICTITATIO.

Clonic spasms of the eyelids: agar., hyos., ign., puls.

NIGHTMARE.

Inculus: acon., aloes, alum., amm., bry., con., cinnab., guai., hep., natr., n. vom., op., phos., puls., sil., sulph., valer.

Aconite. For children and women, with feverish heat, thirst, palpitation, anguish, restlessness.

Guaiacum. Nightmare when lying on back, waking with screams, feels unrefreshed when waking up, everything seems too tight; feels exhausted, as after great exertion, especially in thighs and arms; great accumulation of wind in abdomen, with pinching from incarcerated flatulence.

Mezereum. Awakens after midnight from vivid dreams, and with nightmare, worse on awaking; burning and uneasiness in stomach, relieved by eating.

Nitric acid. Nightmare shortly after falling asleep; shocks on dropping to sleep; on awaking feels as if he had not slept enough; excessive physical irritability, with weakness and trembling, especially in the morning.

Nux vom. Nightmare after taking a heavy supper or taking alcoholic beverages; during sleep blowing-snoring respiration; dreams full of bustle and hurry; springs up delirious, has frightful visions, awakens in fright from the least noise.

Opium. Severe paroxysms, with suppressed breathing, half-opened eyes, open mouth, stertorous breathing, rattling, anxious features, cold sweat, twitchings and convulsive motions of extremities; stupid sleeplessness, with frightful visions; before midnight.

Pulsatilla. Stertorous inspirations; anxious and dreams, with weeping; lying on one's back, with the arms stretched above the head, or with the arms laid crosswise on the abdomen, and the feet drawn up; dreams of black beasts; talking, whining, and screaming during sleep; unrefreshing sleep, sleepy and drowsy by day.

Sulphur. Light, unrefreshing sleep, with aching or beating pains in the head, dreams about fire, the arms stretched above the head, the eyes sometimes half open; talks loudly while asleep, jerks and twitches during sleep; awakens with a start or scream.

Terebinthina. Nightmare shortly after falling asleep; frequent waking and tossing about at night; great languor and loss of strength; worms, with foul breath, choking sensation in throat, dry hacking cough; vertigo.

NIPPLES OF WOMEN.

See Mamma and Mastitis.

Arnica. When the nipples feel sore, as if bruised.

Calcarea carb. An ulcer appears on nipples, discharging pus.

Croton tigl. Nipple very sore to touch; excruciating pain running from nipple through to scapula of same side, when child nurses.

Graphites. Soreness of nipples, with small corrosive blisters, or an ulcer oozing a thick glutinous fluid, which forms a crust that is removed by nursing, when the same process repeats itself over and over.

Hamamelis. Sore nipples, applied internally and externally, when arnica fails.

Lycopodium. Nipples sore, fissured, or covered with scurf, the child draws so much blood from the nipple that when it vomits it seems to be vomiting blood.

Mercurius. Nipple feels very sore and raw.

Phytolacca. Nipples raw and fissured, with intense suffering on putting the child to the breast; pain seems to start from the nipple and radiate over the whole body.

Sepia. Nipples crack across the crown in various places; cracks deep and sore.

Silicea. Nipples ulcerate easily, are tender and sore.

Sulphur. After nursing, nipples smart, burn, and bleed; it chaps badly about the base.

NITRATE OF SILVER, Poisoning with.

First swallow large quantities of salt water, then mucilaginous drinks.

NOMA.

Red livid patches, without heat, pain, or swelling, which after a few days become gangrenous: ars., carb. v., elater., guarra, and constitutional remedies, as alum., sulph., calc., sil.

NOSE, SWELLING OF, and Inflammation of the External Nose.

Principal remedies: arn., ars., aaa., aur., bell., bry., calc., hep., merc., natr. m., phos., puls., sep., sulph., zinc.

If caused by a blow, contusion, fall, etc., arn. is the best remedy.

If by abuse of mercury, give: aaa., aur., bell., hep., lach., sulph.

If by hard drinking: 1, ars., calc., puls., sulph.; or, 2, bell., hep., lach., merc.

To scrofulous patients give: 1, asa., aur., calc., hep., merc., puls., sulph.; or, 2, bry., lach., phos.

For red and painful swelling of the nose, give: 1, bell., hep., merc.; or, 2, alum., bry., calc., phos., rhus, sulph.

If the tip be red, give: carb. an., nitr. ac., rhus.

Red spots require: phos. ac., sil.

Copper redness: 1, ars., carb. an., veratr.; 2, calc., cann., carb. v., kreas., mez., rhus, ruta.

When the swelling is accompanied by black pores: 1, graph., natr., selen., sulph.; 2, bry., calc., natr. m., sabin.

When by scurf on the tip: 1, carb. v., natr. m., sep., sil.; 2, carb. an., nitr. ac.

When by old warts: caust.

NOSTALGIA.

See Emotions.

NURSING. Lactation.

§ 1. Principal remedies for the ailments incident to nursing: 1, bell., calc., cham., merc., puls., sep., sil.; 2, acon., bry., carb. v., chin., con., dule., kal., n. vom., phos., phos. ac., rhab., rhus, staph., zinc.; 3, ars., borax, carb. an., cin., graph., ign., ipec., lach., lyc., natr. m., samb., staton.

§ 2. For deficiency of milk: 1, agn., calc., caust., dule., puls., rhus, zinc.; 2, acon., bell., bry., cham., chin., coec., iod., merc., n. mosch., sep., sulph.

If the deficiency be caused by want of vital action (in the breasts, of the organism generally), give: agnus, calc., caust., puls., rhus.

If the secretion of milk should be prevented by an excess of vital action in the breasts, with tension, redness, and throbbing in these parts, and if considerable milk fever should be present, give: 1, acon., bry., cham.; or, 2, bell., merc.

Lumps or nodes in the breasts, require: 1, dule.; or, 2, agn., bell., cham., rhus.

If the deficiency of milk depend upon some unknown cause, and no particular remedy be indicated, try: 1, dule.; 2, agn., calc., zinc.

§ 3. Milk fever, if medical interference should be at all necessary, requires: acon. or coff., alone or alternately.

If these remedies be insufficient, try: bell., bry., or, rhus.

Arn. is sometimes useful, especially when, in consequence of hard labor, the sexual parts have been injured.

§ 4. For retrocession of the milk, give: 1, bell., bry., dule., puls.; 2, acon., calc., cham., coff., merc., rhus, sulph.

If this retrocession should be caused by violent emotions, give: 1, bry., cham., coff.; 2, acon., bell.

If by a cold: 1, bell., cham., dule., puls.; or, 2, acon., merc., sulph.

A metastasis to the abdominal organs, requires: bell., bry., puls., rhus.

The chronic consequences of the retrocession of the milk, require: rhus t., or, calc., dule., lach., merc., puls., sulph.

§ 5. Bad, thin milk, or if the infant refuses to take it, give the mother: 1, cham., cin., merc., sil.; 2, borax, carb. an., lach., n. vom., puls., rhab., samb.

Borax. The milk coagulates readily. If borax be insufficient, give lach.

Silicea. The child throws up after nursing, and refuses the breast. § 6. Puls. is the best remedy to arrest the secretion of milk after weaning the child, or to prevent the secondary ailments of weaning. Bell., bry., calc. are likewise useful.

Galactorrhœa requires calc., especially when the breasts are tormented with milk. Try moreover: bell., borax, bry., rhus; or, chin., con. phos., puls., stram.

§ 7. Particular indications:

Aconite. Mamme congested, burning, hot, hard, and distended, with little or no milk; anxiety, restlessness.

Æthusa cyn. Child takes breast with avidity, nurses well, and then vomits copiously, and is exhausted, but soon rallies and craves for a fresh supply; the child's bowels either constive or loose, it cries much and does not thrive; mother not well, lochia thin and watery, she is nervous, has a bitter taste, milk disagrees with her, abdomen swollen and hard.

Agnus castus. Despairing sadness of mother, hence scantiness of milk.

Borax. Milk is too thick and tastes badly; often curdles soon after it has been drawn.

Calcarea carb. Want of vital activity to bring the milk forward, the breasts are distended, but the supply of milk scanty.

Carbo anim. Painful nodosities in the mammae, nursing causes stitching pain in mammae, which are sore to the touch; milk thin and of a salty taste.

Croton tigl. Pain extends from nipple through to the shoulder blade every time the child begins to nurse.

Dulcamara. Suppression of milk from exposure to cold and damp air.

Kali bichr. The milk, as it flows from the breast, has the appearance of being composed of stringy masses and water.

Lachesis. Milk thin and blue, is rejected by the child; mental depression of mother (agnus).

Mercurius. Secretion of mammary gland, instinctively as it were, repulsive to the infant; milk scanty, scorbutic appearance of gums, glandular swelling, syphilitic taint.

Phellandrium aquat. Pains come on or exist chiefly during the interval between nursing.

Phosph. acid. Scanty milk from debility and great apathy.

Phytolacca. Violent pain in breasts, whenever the milk comes into them; severe stinging pains, somewhat relieved by pressure with bare hands: babe worries continually day and night.

Pulsatilla. Milk thin and watery, containing hardly any milk globules: breasts swollen, rheumatic pains over chest and arms, craves cool fresh air.

Rheum. Almost immediately after nursing the child has a loose stool, which is sour-smelling, accompanied by colic.

Secale corn. The breasts do not properly fill with milk, there is much stinging in them; in women much exhausted from (venous) hæmorrhage.

Silicea. The infant refuses the breast or vomits immediately after nursing, it does not grow as it should; mother is not well, constipated, etc.

CEDEMA.

Edema glottidis: apis., ars., arum., chin., ign., lach., staph., stram.

Edema pulmonum: ant. tart., kali. phos.

Ammon. carb. Somnolence, poisoning of the blood by carbon; difficult breathing, causing short cough; relief from fresh air, and when sitting quiet.

Apis mel. Edema glottidis, difficulty of swallowing not caused by the swelling of the throat, but by the irritation of the epiglottis, every drop of liquid put upon the tongue nearly suffocates him.

Arsenicum. Great anxiety, restlessness, always worse towards midnight or soon after; must incline the chest forward to breathe; loss of breath immediately on lying down, expectorates frothy saliva.

Carbo veg. Collapsed state; hoarse mucous râles all over chest; rattling of large bubbles, face pale, skin cold; slow intermittent pulse, wants to be fanned.

Ipecacuanha. Spasmodic cough, sickness of stomach; fine rattling noises in chest; dyspnoea, with threatening suffocation; the chest seems loaded, and still very little expectoration; face rather pale.

Kali hydriod. Edema pulmonum, with sputa like green soap-suds.

Kali phos. Œdema pulmonum acutum, dyspnoea, spasmodic cough, with expectoration of frothy serous masses; lassitude and prostration.

Lachesis. Suffocation fits, worse after sleep; dark, almost black, urine; offensive stools, expectoration scanty, difficult, watery, salivary, must be swallowed again.

Phosphorus. Dyspnoea, worse before midnight, with tightness of chest; noisy panting breathing; chest feels full and heavy, with tension; expectorates cold mucus, tasting sour, salt, or sweet.

Tartarus emet. Large bubbling rattling; chest appears full of phlegm, without capability of relieving itself; relief from copious frothy expectoration.

CEDEMA OF THE FEET.

Arn., ars., asa., bell., canth., carb. v., cocc., euphorb., laur., merc., mez., naja., rhua., sabad., sec., ver.

1 Aconite. Violent pain in middle of chest through into the back, worse from motion; when swallowing it feels as though the food stayed lodged in the region of the heart; lying on back is impossible.

Arsenicum. Cramp in œsophagus; deglutition painful, impossible, burning when swallowing; food goes down only in region of larynx, when it is ejected again; dryness, thirst, anguish.

Asafoetida. Sensation in œsophagus as if the peristaltic motion were from below upwards; darting stitches from the chest upward towards the œsophagus; dryness and burning in œsophagus.

Belladonna. Pressing pain, like contraction, and a feeling as though a foreign body had lodged fast in the œsophagus, during deglutition, feeling in throat as if it were too narrow or drawn together, as if nothing would pass properly.

Cantharis. Difficult deglutition, with nocturnal regurgitation, burning sensation in throat, which feels as if on fire; thirst, with aversion to all fluids.

Cocculus. Burning pains in œsophagus, extending into fauces with taste of sulphur in mouth; dryness in pharynx, throat, with aversion to drink, or for sour things.

Kali bichr. Burning in the entire œsophagus; solid food is painful and difficult to swallow, leaving a sensation as if something remained there.

Lachesis. An attempt to swallow solids causes a feeling as though something had gone the wrong way, bringing on violent gagging.

Mezereum. Violent burning and soreness in the upper part of the œsophagus; deglutition painful and difficult, especially after the abuse of mercury.

Natrum mur. Only fluids can be swallowed, solid food reaches only a certain place, when it is ejected with fearful gagging and suffocation; hawking up of phlegm in the morning; obstinate constipation.

Plumbum. Fluids can be swallowed without difficulty, solids come back into the mouth again; some hours after eating burning in stomach and œsophagus; constipation, prostration, emaciation.

2. Baptisia. Œsophagus feels as if constricted from above down to the stomach; can only swallow water.

Cicuta. After swallowing a sharp piece of bone, the œsophagus closes, and there is danger of suffocation; spasmodic stricture.

Hepar. Sensation as if a fishbone or splinter were sticking in the throat; sensation of a plug in throat.

Hydrophobinum. Periodical spasms of the œsophagus, with constant painful urging to swallow, but impossibility of doing it; abhorrence of fluids, especially of water; burning stinging in throat; cough, gagging, difficult and incorrect speech.

Hyoscyamus. Spasmodic contraction after a previous injury of the œsophagus; solid and warm food can be swallowed best; fluids cause spasms in throat, stop respiration, talking; hiccough, nausea, spasmodic cough, and stiffness of the muscles of the neck.

Naja trip. Œsophagismus or spasmodic stricture of œsophagus (cic., ign.).

Phosphor. Stricture of œsophagus, regurgitation of all food; weak and empty feeling across abdomen, with occasional shooting pain in same region; great nervous irritability; food reaches the cardia and is at once ejected.

Veratrum album. Spasmodic affection of œsophagus, resulting in paralysis of tube; nearly all the food and drink taken is thrown up, attended by a suffocating sensation, with redness and heat of face; often the result of excitement and emotional causes.

By external injuries: 1, acon., ars., calc., sil., sulph.; 2, euphr., nitr. ac., petr., puls., rut., sulph. ac.

By straining the eyes in doing fine work, asthenopic symptoms: arg., nitr., bell., carb. v., gels., natr. mur., ruta., spig.

After exanthems (measles, scarlatina, variola): bell., bry., cham., hep., hyosc., merc., nitr. ac., puls., rhus, sulph.

After suppression of eruptions: alum., ars., carb. v., caust., graph., lach., natr. mur., sel., sep., sulph., zinc.

4. Symptomatic indications:

Aconite. First stage of inflammation, prior to exudation of conjunctiva, cornea and iris, or after surgical operations; lachrymation slight, excessive painfulness of eye, which feels dry and burnt; great sensitiveness to air; photophobia; eyeball sensitive to touch, feeling as if it would be forced out of orbit, making the lids tense.

Agaricus. Spasmodic affection of the lids and muscles of the eyes, especially the internal recti; muscular asthenopia, pressure and heaviness in eyes, especially painful on moving them, or exerting them by lamplight, with left-sided headache and involuntary twitching of the facial muscles and eyelids, clonic spasms of eyes, but blisters on cornea, ulcers on cornea; eyes inflamed, with flow of tears from coughing or from odors.

Æsculus hip. Burning in the internal canthi; burning and stinging deep in the orbit; weight and heat in the eyes, lachrymation; flickering before eyes; complication with long-standing constipation and piles.

Allium cepa. Acute catarrhal conjunctivitis, associated with a similar condition of the air-passages, lachrymation excessive, but not exonerating, though the nasal discharge is copious; reverse worse in the evening, and in warm room; burning especially in margin of lids.

Allium sat. Catarrhal inflammation at night; smarting, burning lachrymation; eyelids agglutinated; worse every night when he tries to read.

Alumina. Chronic blepharitis; dryness and smarting of the lids without much ulceration, and without great thickening of the lids; loss of power in the upper lids; loss of power of the internal recti; paralytic squint; absence of lachrymation; coldness of the eyes.

Ammonium carb. Muscular asthenopia from overstraining the eyes by prolonged sewing, etc.; yellow spots on looking on white objects.

Antimonium crud. Blepharitis in children; eyes red and inflamed, with itching and agglutination nights and photophobia mornings, lids red, with fine stitches in the ball, itching in the canthi.

Apis mel. Ophthalmia following eruptive diseases; acute catarrhal conjunctivitis, with bright redness and chemosis of the conjunctiva, with stinging pains; erysipelatous inflammation of the lids; blepharitis, with thickening and swelling, great puffiness, and stinging pains; cold water gives great relief; violent cases of ophthalmia Egyptica and neonatorum, with great swelling of the lids and adjacent cellular tissue; keratitis, with dreadful pains shooting through the eye, swollen lids and conjunctiva, hot lachrymation gushing out on opening eyes; photophobia; sensation as of a small foreign body in eye; ulceration of cornea; aggravation evening and forepart of night.

Argentum nitr. Ophthalmia purulenta; lids swollen from being distended by collection of pus in the eye, or swelling of the subconjunctival tissue of the lids; ulcers on cornea, with darts through the eye mornings, better evenings; coldness of the eye with boring pain in head, and sensation as if the scalp were drawn tightly, trembling of the whole body; caruncle swollen and inflamed; clusters of blood-vessels extending from inner canthus to corneal border; profuse purulent or mucous discharge; great hyperemia of conjunctiva; vision obstructed by mucus adhering to cornea and by profuse lachrymation; infraorbital neuralgia; boring pain over left eye; pannus and opacities of cornea, superficial itching of canthi; alleviation by wiping the eye (vision), and from cold air and water; worse by warmth.

Arnica. Traumatic ophthalmia; rheumatic iritis, with much lachrymation, photophobia and redness, shooting and tearing pains in and around the eye, worse at night, relieved by warmth; retinal and sub-conjunctival hemorrhages.

Arsenicum. Chronic granulated lids, painful, burning, dry, and rubs against the ball, so that they can scarcely be opened; serotulous ophthalmia, lids swollen externally and spasmodically closed, acrid tears gush from the eyes, excessive photophobia; opens the eyes well in cool open air, but cannot even in a dark room in the house; throbbing pulsating pains in eyeballs and around orbit, with general restlessness and prostration; parenchymatous keratitis and keratoiritis, with the characteristic pains of the metal; retinitis albuminosa; non-inflammatory edema of lids, burning and dryness in the eyes, feeling of sand in eyes (evening); corrosive watery discharge; spasm of orbicularis; lachrymation; predominance of nervous element; periodicity of the pains, commencing every fall, and often alternating from one eye to the other; great relief from warmth.

Asafœtida. Severe boring pain above the brows, especially at night, heating, boring, throbbing pains in the eye, over and around it, extending from within outwards; ameliorated by rest and pressure ciliary neuralgia, iritis, kerato-iritis, irido choroiditis, and retinitis, especially if of syphilitic origin and after abuse of mercury.

Aurum. Hemipopia, the upper half of the field of vision seems covered by a black body; diplopia, one object seems mixed up with the other, with violent tension in the eyes; trachoma (granulated conjunctivitis), with or without pannus, the burning pains are worse mornings, and relieved by cold water; serofulous ophthalmia with ulcerations and vascularity of cornea, with photophobia, profuse scabbing lachrymation; eyes sensitive to touch, swollen cervical glands, pains from within outwards, worse on touch (reverse of asa); interstitial keratitis, iritis, choroiditis, especially if of syphilitic origin; paralysis of the muscles due to syphilitic periostitis.

Baryta carb. Serofulous phlyctenula and ulcers of cornea, associated with glandular swellings; the pains in eyes are worse from looking at one point or upward and sideways, and better from looking downward; sensation as of a gauze before eyes in the morning and after a meal; amblyopia of old age.

Belladonna. Neuritis optica; hyperesthesia and hyperemia of the optic nerve and retina, apoplexy of retina, with suppressed menses; disseminate choroiditis; blepharitis and conjunctivitis, and dryness of eyes, thickened red lids, and burning pains in eyes, rheumatic iritis; convulsive movements of the eyeball in the light, with terrible pressive pains extending through the whole head, better in a dark room; blindness, following severe congestive headaches, diplopia, sees a second dim representation of the object on each side of it, photophobia serofulosa, with discharge of excessively acid tears.

Bryonia. Rheumatic iritis, with a steady aching pain in the back part of the eye, extending through to the occiput, worse at night and on motion; serous choroiditis; ciliary neuralgia, the pains sharp and severe, passing through the eye into the head, or from the eye downward into malar region, and thence backward to the occiput; the seat of pain becomes as sore as a boil, and the least exertion, talking, coughing, or using the eyes, aggravates; pressure ameliorates; violent pains in eyes, with vomiting, after surgical operations.

Calcarea carb. Superficial inflammation of eyes, of the margin of lids, causing losses of eyelashes, with thick, purulent, excreting discharge, and burning-sticking pains; blepharitis, with great itching of lids; indurations after styes and tarsal tumors, lachrymal fistula; ophthalmia neonatorum purulenta, with profuse discharge; trachoma with pannus, redness, and lachrymation, caused from working in the wet; serofulous ophthalmia of cornea and conjunctiva, with profuse lachrymation, excessive photophobia and sticking pains, lids chafe, red, swollen, and painfully itching; morning agglutination, cornea scurfy, cervical glands swollen, acrid discharge from nose, bloated hard abdomen, skin pale and flabby; cold, clammy feet, sweat about neck.

Calcarea iodata. Ophthalmia serofulosa, in well-nourished, plump, but pale children, suffering also from swelled tonsils, inflammation limited to one eye; severe photophobia; a stream of acid tears flows over the cheeks at every attempt to open the eye, secretions of lids; ulcers on cornea, fluent coryza often aggravates the case, worse also from the least cold.

Calendula. Traumatic conjunctivitis, keratitis, and iritis; wounds of lids and brows.

Causticum. Blepharitis, ameliorated in fresh air; tumors and warts on lids and brows; serofulous ophthalmia, with corrosive lachrymation and shooting pains extending up into the head, worse evenings and at night, with a green halo around light; cornea covered with red vessels and tendency to bulge; trachoma, with pannus; cataract; paralysis of the muscles, particularly from exposure to cold.

Cedron. Neuralgic affections of the eye, especially of the supra-orbital nerve, pain across the eyes from temple to temple, severe shooting pain over left eye, worse evenings and when lying down.

Chamomilla. Ophthalmia neonatorum; the tissue so much congested that blood oozes out from between the swollen lids, especially upon any attempt to open them; serofulous ophthalmia during dentition, with great intolerance of light, considerable redness, and lachrymation; pustules and ulcers on cornea, ciliary neuralgia in serofulous irritable patients.

Chelidonium. Conjunctiva swollen, dark red, as far as the cornea; lids swollen, red, could open them but little; great sensitiveness to light, tears constantly flowing over the cheeks; eyes hot and burning; pain from left to right eye; aching in eyeballs, worse moving the eyes; pressing pain over left eye, which seems to press upon the upper lid; neuralgia of eyebrows and temples.

China. Eye affections of malarial or intermittent character, or where there is impairment of tone from loss of vital fluids; intermittent ciliary neuralgia, amblyopia, and amaurosis.

Cicuta vir. Spasmodic affections of the eyes; strabismus occurring after a fall or blow; eyes sensitive to light; letters go up and down or disappear, or colors of rainbow around them; objects appear double or black; pupils dilated in concussion of the brain, or contracted in spasmodic affections.

Cimicifuga. Ciliary neuralgia; neuralgia in the back part of the eye, near the foramen, with photophobia, pain in temples, soreness in back part of eyeballs, movement aggravates, as though the globes would be torn from the orbits; accommodative, retinal, and muscular asthenopia, with photophobia; hyperæmia of conjunctiva, iris, choroid, and retina, due to prolonged exertion of myopic or hypermetropic eyes; soreness of the eyeballs to touch, and on moving them.

Cina. Strabismus dependent upon helminthiasis, chronic weakness of eyes, with aching in them and photophobia, from onanism; asthenopia, from some refractive anomaly.

Cinnabaris. Pain from the inner canthus of left eye across the eyebrows; sharp, stinging, stitching or dull aching, extending into the eye and head; lachrymation, photophobia; syphilitic iritis or keratitis, condylomata on iris or lids; ciliary neuralgia; soreness along the course of the supra-orbital nerve and corresponding side of head, worse at night; old tedious cases of granular lids.

Clematis. Iritis and kerato-iritis, with much dryness and burning heat in the eyes, as if fire were streaming from them; great sensitiveness to cold air, to light, or bathing; pustular conjunctivitis, complicated with tinea capitis.

Cocculus. Rheumatic glaucoma, with venous hyperæmia, dilated papils, insensibility to light, haziness of lens, and vitreous humor severe pain in and around the eyes; iritis, with corneal and scleral complications, papils irregular and contracted, blue border around cornea, photophobia, no lachrymation, tearing pains in brow and left side of head.

Colocynthis. Iritis and glaucoma, with severe burning, cutting, and sticking pain, extending into the head and around eye, acting pain going back into the head, worse on rest, at night, or on stooping, when it feels as if the eye would fall out, better by firm pressure and walking in a warm room; lachrymation profuse and acrid.

Comocladia. Ciliary neuralgia from asthenopia or chronic iritis; the eyes feel heavy, larger than usual, painful, and pressing out of the head, moving them downward and outward, worse on moving the eye or near the warm stove.

Conium. Neurotic element prevailing; great dread of light, with very little visible inflammation, conjunctiva unnaturally bloodless, and the globe of the eye has a pearly aspect, palpebral conjunctiva alone congested, striated, or studded with granulations, aversion to light, without inflammation of the eyes, weakness and dazzling of eyes, with giddiness and debility, especially of arms and legs, on walking, staggering as if drunken; induration of the lids, ptosis, hemorrhages of lachrymal sac; ulcers and pustules of cornea, photophobia, and profuse flow of tears when eyes are forcibly opened, very slight or no redness, pains worse at night and in any light, relieved in a dark room and by pressure; hyperæsthesia of retina, paralysis of the muscles; asthenopia; vision good for fixed objects, but when it is put in motion before eyes there is a haze and dull vision, producing vertigo; cataract from contusion; complication with glandular affections, especially around neck.

Crocus. Obstinate, painful spasm of eyelids, most violent at night, hot and lancinating pains in eyes after surgical operations, feeling of eyes like after much weeping, must wink and wipe the eyes, as if a film of mucus were over them, presses the lids tightly together from time to time.

Crotalus. Hemorrhage into the retina, spontaneously or from albuminuria; ciliary neuralgia; it clears up the vision after an attack of keratitis or kerato-iritis.

Croton tigl. Superficial ophthalmia of the pustular form, with pustular eruption on face.

Cuprum aluminatum. Ophthalmia neonatorum, trachoma.

Cyclamen. Convergent strabismus, hemiopia.

Digitalis. Blepharoadenitis, catarrhal ophthalmia; conjunctiva red, lids swollen, great photophobia, constant lachrymation, burning in eyes, feeling of sand in them, stitenes and darting pain, with a copious and dryness of nose, waving before eyes, everything appears green or yellow, etc., worse by light and cold.

Dulcamara. Ophthalmia neonatorum, with chemosis and congestion.

Eryngium aquat. Scleritis; smarting-burning sensation, with heavy aching pains, produced by strong light; squinting on exposure to a strong light; tearing-burning pains in eyes, watery or purulent discharge.

Eupatorium perf. Soreness of eyeballs, intolerance to light.

ness of margins of lids, with glutinous secretion from meibomian glands: lachrymation.

Euphorbium. Cataract; lens milk white.

Euphrasia. Blepharitis, lids red, swollen, and covered with thick, flow, acrid discharge, often mixed with the profuse, acrid, burning tears, which excoriates lids and cheeks, with fluent corvæ: firm agglutination of lids in the morning; conjunctivitis and keratitis catarrhalis and serofulosa; papillary trachoma; blurring of the eyes, relieved by winking, due to the secretions getting upon the cornea, and thus interfering with vision; ophthalmia neonatorum; rheumatic iritis.

Fluoric acid. Sensation as if a strong wind were blowing in the eyes, must tie them up and keep them warm: lachrymal fistula.

Formica. Pain in left supraorbital and left temporal region, the tip of the pain being tender when touched; pain and aching over the eye: objects appear as if seen through a mist; blackness before the eyes, so that he has to sit down for a few moments.

Gelsemium. Diplopia from functional disturbance of accommodation; ptosis from partial paralysis; chronic spasms of the orbicularis, mictitation; hyperæsthesia retinæ, with photophobia; constant inclination to squint; dim vision during pregnancy; blindness, with dilated pupils from retinitis albuminurica; diseases of the fundus and paralysis of the nerves, stolid indifference to external irritants (concomitant great reflex irritability).

Graphites. Inflammatory condition of the lids, conjunctiva, and cornea in scrofulous subjects, with moist eczematous eruptions, chiefly about the nose and behind ears; blepharitis angularis, especially outer canthi, with great tendency to crack and to bleed; dry scabs on the lids; burning and dryness of lids, or biting and itching, with desire to rub them; cystic tarsal tumors; scrofulous or catarrhal ophthalmia, with intense photophobia, deep ulcers of cornea as well as superficial ulceration; chronic recurrent forms; lachrymation profuse, discharges from the eyes and nose thin and excoriating.

Glonoin. Venous hyperæmia or congestion of retina and optic nerve, dim sight, with vertigo, fainting, black spots before eyes; is everything half light, half dark; drawing, pressing, aching, boring pain; quivering and twitching.

Hamamelis. Inflammation and ulceration of conjunctiva and cornea, if caused from a blow or burn; traumatic iritis, with great pain at night, and hæmorrhage into interior of eye.

Hepar sulph. Suppurative ophthalmia; iritis, with hypopion (pus in anterior chamber); keratitis parenchymatosa and punctata; deep penetrating ulceration of cornea, with intense photophobia, profuse lachrymation, chemosis; throbbing, aching, shooting pains, relieved by warmth; lids swollen, spasmodically closed, sensitive to touch, and closed easily upon opening.

Hydrastis. Mucous membrane of eyelids much congested; discharge of large quantities of thick white mucus; profuse lachrymation; eyelids glued together; smarting and burning of eyes and lids.

Hysocyamus. Excessive photophobia of scrofulous ophthalmia; metropia; convergent squint; twitching in the eye; dim vision, as if a veil before the eyes; objects appear red and too large; farsightedness, with very clear vision and dilated pupils.

Ignatia. The eyes are more painful than congested, with sensation as if sand in eyes; copious lachrymation, especially from the light of the sun; mistiness of sight, especially evenings, as if there were tears, but the eyes are dry; morbid nictitation, with spasmodic action of various muscles of face; asthenopia and amblyopia in females, due to onanism; ciliary neuralgia, with severe pains extending from the eye to the top of head, producing nausea, with globus hystericus; pains begin slightly, increase gradually till they become very severe, and only cease from exhaustion.

Kali bichrom. Chronic indolent forms of inflammation, particularly of ulcers and pustules on cornea, very little photophobia or redness, very little pain or lachrymation; eyes sensitive to touch, and the secretions of a stringy character.

Kali carb. Edema of lids, accompanied by stitches; fog before the eyes, small round ulcers of cornea, without photophobia; corners of eyes ulcerate; lids red, swollen, tarsi worse; swelling like a bag between upper eyelids and eyebrows; sensation of coldness in eyes; eyes weak, pain deep in orbits; blue or green sparks before eyes.

Kali hydroiod. Iritis or irido-choroiditis syphilitica, chemosis, pustules on cornea; no photophobia, pain, or redness; burning in eyes, with discharge of purulent mucus.

Kali mur. Conjunctivitis and keratitis with formation of small superficial blisters; small ulcers on cornea following a blister, feeling of sand in the eye; white mucous secretion or yellowish green pus from eyes.

Kalmia lat. Asthenopia, with stiff drawing sensation in the muscles upon moving eyes; everything is black before the eye when he looks downward, with nausea and eructations of wind; dull weak eyes; retinitis albuminurica.

Kreasotum. Acute aggravations of chronic keratitis, with excessive, hot, smarting lachrymation; worse in bright light, on rubbing eyes, and early in the morning; itching, biting, and smarting in eyes; blennorrhoea conjunctivae, with moderately profuse discharge but much smarting.

Lachesis. Retinitis apoplectica; amblyopia, with lung and heart affections; feels when the throat was pressed, as if the eyes would be forced out; oversensitive to light; severe pains in and above the eyes, scrofulous keratitis, with ulcers, with eruption on face, considerable photophobia, and pains in eyes and head.

Lachnanthes. After exerting eyes, or moving head quickly, vision becomes dark; looking intensely, sees gray rings fixed to the spot, or pupils very large; eyebrows and lids drawn upward so that he looks with fixed eyes; when closing eyes, upper lids twitch, eyes brilliant, face red.

Lactic acid. Hyperaesthesia of retina, with steady aching in and behind the eyeball.

Laurocerasus. Objects appear larger, hyosc. eyes staring, wide open, distorted, pupils dilated, immovable.

Ledum pal. Ecchymosis of conjunctiva; rheumatic ophthalmia with excessive photophobia, severe pain upon attempting to open the eyes, sensation as if head and eyes were pressed asunder, great lachrymation and nocturnal aggravation; burning on border of lids, and feeling of sand in eyes; worse in damp weather, in persons who take cold easily in the head.

Lycopodium. Disorders of nutrition and function of the deep-seated structures of the eyes; hemeralopia coming on in the early eve; black spots before eyes accompany the night-blindness; ophthalmia neonatorum during the suppurative stage; catarrhal ophthalmia, secretion thick, yellowish, green; arthritic catarrh of the conjunctiva, with accumulation of white matter in the corners; serofulous conjunctivitis, with yellowish discharge; ciliary blepharitis and hordeola; polypos of external canthus.

Mercurius. Blepharitis, chronic, or otherwise; affections of meibomian cysts; purulent ophthalmia, with copious discharge; keratitis diffusa; superficial or deep-seated ulcerations of cornea, pustular ophthalmia; syphilitic diseases of any or all the structures of the eye; episcleritis; serofulous ophthalmia, with photophobia (after bell.); pain in eye-ball at night; lachrymation profuse, burning, excoriating; discharges mucous-purulent, thin, acid; burning, tearing, sticking pains in and around the eyes, pimples on cheeks; much worse from the heat and glare of fire; lids spasmodically closed, thick, red, swollen, erysipelatous, sensitive to cold, heat, and touch; raw, excoriating, burning as from fiery points.

Mercurius ruber. Serofulous ophthalmia, with bright-red swelling of conjunctiva, granulations, cornea ulcerated and covered with red vessels; discharges copious and purulent, forming crusts upon the lids, which are firmly agglutinated in the morning; great photophobia; old chronic cases of trachoma, with pannus.

Merc. protoiod. Ulceration commencing at margin of cornea, involving only the superficial layers, and extending over the whole or part of cornea, particularly the upper part; excessive photophobia and redness; throbbing-aching pains, worse at night, the pain extending up into the head, which is sore to touch; thick yellow coating at base of tongue, and glandular swellings.

Merc. corros. Blepharitis serofulosa (after graph.), lids oedematous or erysipelatous, edges swollen, burning, covered with thick crusts or pustules, and spasmodically closed; hypopion in abscess of cornea or nitis; phlyctenule, deep ulcers on cornea; discharges ichorous, acid, pimples around the eyes, like small boils; ophthalmia neonatorum, with acrid discharges, caused by syphilitic leucorrhœa.

Mezereum. Ciliary neuralgia, especially after operations of the eye; eczematous affections of lids, face, and head, with thick hard scales, from under which pus exudes on pressure.

Natrum arsenicatum. Chronic conjunctivitis, membrane injected with blood, with small rings running over it, the whole eye is dry and painful, all symptoms worse in the morning; granular lids from chronic inflammation of the edges of the lids, with agglutination.

Natrum mur. Muscular asthenopia, drawing stiff sensation in the muscles of the eye when moving them; aching in eyes when looking intently; fiery zigzag appearance around all objects; ciliary neuralgia, pain above eye coming on and going off with the sun; blepharitis, ulcers on cornea, with acrid, excoriating discharge, photophobia, and spasmodic closure of lids; stricture of lachrymal duct, fistula, and hemorrhœa of lachrymal sac; affections of eyes maltreated with lunar caustic.

Natrum sulph. Granular conjunctivitis, with burning lachrymation, the granulations appear like small blisters; macule corneæ.

Nitric acid. Syphilitic affections of eyes, continually relapsing; iritis; eyelids swollen, hard, livid; chemosis, with passing out pain in the eye, copious secretion of yellow pus, which flows down the cheek; flow of irritating tears after injury of the eyes; paralysis of upper lids; on lying down or even inclining the head, feeling as if hot water were flowing over and from both eyes, relief by cold water.

Nox vomica. Asthenopia; photophobia from retinal hyperaesthesia; dilatation of pupil from spinal irritation; diplopia from muscular asthenopia, from paralytic strabismus, paralysis of the rectus externus; weakened power of accommodation from overexertion of eyes; severe pains in the eyes during night, with conjunctival injection, brought on by overuse, especially by artificial light; vision impaired by dissipation; atrophy of optic nerve; blepharospasms, sternal burn and itch, especially their margins; ecchymosis and softening of the sclera; ophthalmia neonatorum, lids swollen, bleed easily, and the child is troubled with vomiting, constipation, and flatulent eructs, blurring of sight from overheating; the child buries its head in the pillow in the morning and forenoon, while in the afternoon it uses its eyes freely.

Paris quad. Pain in eyes, as if pulled into the head; diplopia, headache worse evenings, with confusion of whole forehead, and sensation as if skin of forehead was drawn together, and the bones scraped sore, with inflamed lids, red margins, and sensation as if threads ran from the eye into the middle of head, sight weak.

Petroleum. Ciliary blepharitis from conjunctivitis granulosa or from smallpox, with sticking and smarting in the inner canthus, pannus in serofulous patients; pains at the root of nose, lids swollen, purulent discharge from eyes and nose; recent lachrymal fistula; syphilitic iritis, with dull pulsating pains in occiput.

Phosphorus. Diseases of fundus, especially in disturbance of function of the optic nerve; amblyopia from loss of fluids, and in Bright's disease; nyctalopia, with sensation as if everything were covered with a gray veil, letters look red when reading, pains of the muscles, especially when accompanied by spermatorrhoea, sexual abuse, hemorrhoids; asthenopia muscularis, with pain and stiffness of eyeballs on moving them, and a feeling of heat in eyes as after looking at a fire, retinitis, especially with nyctalopia, balls sore on motion, no photophobia, pains extending from eyes to top of head, photopsies and chromopsies, mistiness, with attacks of vanishing of sight, balls seem large and difficult to get lids over them.

Physostigma. Twitching of lids, with spasm of ciliary muscles; myopia, with pain after using eyes, muscæ volitantes, flashes of light.

Phytolacca. Malignant ulcers of lids; circumorbital pains; a syphilitic ophthalmia; burning, smarting, tingling pain in eyes, worse by gaslight; abundant flow of tears; dim vision.

Psorinum. Ciliary blepharitis, right to left, worse morning and during day; blepharitis, with photophobia, child cannot open its eyes and lies on his face; pressure as from a foreign body when lids are closed; pterygium; confusedness before eyes, with anxiety; aversion to light.

Pulsatilla. Blepharo-adenitis, with tendency to formation of styes and abscesses on the margin of lids, accompanied by acne on the granular lids, dry or with excessive bland secretion; pustular o-conjunctivitis, discharge thick, yellow, bland, profuse, better in open air, but not in wind; gonorrhoeal ophthalmia, when the gonorrhoea became suddenly suppressed; ophthalmia neonatorum, with profuse yellow purulent discharge, gluing the lids; amblyopia from suppression of any bloody discharge, from gastric derangement, from metastasis of gout or rheumatism; fistula lachrymalis, discharging pus when pressed; frequent rubbing of eyes for relief.

Ranunculus bulb. Nightblindness, with heat, biting and pressure in eyes, lids and conjunctiva slightly red, with lachrymation; smarting and sore feeling in eye and canthi; pus in canthi; herpes zoster supraorbitalis.

Rhododendron. Muscular asthenopia; insufficiency of the internal recti; darting pains through the eye from the head, worse before a storm; hot lachrymation upon staring or writing; shooting pain outward, worse before a storm, better when the storm broke out.

Rhus tox. Ptoxis or paralysis of any muscle of the eye, from getting wet; arthritic ophthalmia, with tearing pains in eyes, especially at night, increased by any movement of eye, and extending into the brain; borders of lids pain as if ulcerated, and are sensitive to touch; constant lachrymation, painful stiffness of neck. Suppurative irido-choroiditis, especially of traumatic origin, lids swollen and edematous, especially the upper, and spasmodically closed, with profuse gushes of hot tears on opening them; sac-like swelling of conjunctiva, and yellow, purulent, mucous discharge, pain in and around eyes; swelling of cheeks and surrounding parts, with red pimples. Idiopathic or rheumatic iritis, and kerato-iritis; ulcers and pustules on cornea; ophthalmia neonatorum, with oedema of the red lids, which are spasmodically closed, with thick, yellow, purulent discharge. Erysipelas or eczema of the lids. Chronic blepharitis, with puffiness of lids and face, enlargement of meibomian glands, falling out of the cilia, itching and biting in lids, sensation of dryness in eyes, and burning in the internal canthus, with acrid lachrymation mornings and in open air.

Ruta grav. Asthenopia from overstraining eyes, with heat and aching in and over the eyes; eyes feel like a ball of fire at night; blurring of vision, letters seem to run together, lachrymation; green halo around the light in the evening.

Sanguinaria. Blepharo-adenitis, with a feeling of dryness under the upper lid, and accumulation of mucus in the eye in the morning; catarrhal ophthalmia, with granular lids; retinal congestion, with flushed face and congestive headache; superficial injection of eyeball, with feeling of soreness; neuralgia in and over the eye; dimness of eyes, with sensation as if hairs were in them.

Senega. Hypopion in scrofulous subjects; paralysis of muscles of eye, the upper lid weak, falling half over the eye, difficult convergence; weak back, deficient muscular power. It promotes the absorption of lens fragments.

Sepia. Ophthalmic disorders, dependent upon uterine troubles; aggravation morning and evening, better during day; acute and chronic blepharitis, lids raw and sore, eyes full of matter, eversion of the puncta, numb pain in inner canthus; acute catarrhal conjunctivitis, with drawing sensation in external canthus and smarting in eyes, ameliorated by bathing in cold water; keratitis phlyctenularis, drawing, aching, sticking pains, worse by rubbing and pressure; the light of day dazzles and causes head to ache, with lachrymation, especially in open air, obscuration of vision dependent upon hepatic derangement; painful heaviness of upper lids on awaking.

Silicea. Granular conjunctivitis; chronic catarrhal ophthalmia, with, if possible, more intolerance to light than in the acute stage. Diseases of lachrymal apparatus; sloughing ulcers of cornea, with or without hypopion, which have a tendency to perforate, also non-vascular ulcers centrally located; discharge profuse or moderate, photophobia, pain, and lachrymation not particularly marked; iridochoroiditis; ciliary neuralgia, with darting pains through eye and head upon exposure to any draught of air or just before a storm, amblyopia from suppressed habitual footweat; it checks the progress of cataract.

Spigelia. Dull and flat aspect of the eye; severe supraorbital pains, redness and inflammation of sclerotics with ptosis, pain in eye and brow, eye painful when moved, and feels tense, as if too large for orbit, sticking pain in eye; violent digging pain in middle of eye with ptosis; pressure in eye from without inward; intolerable pressive pain in eyeball, worse from moving eye; in order to look round rather than move the eye in the orbit, one moves the whole head, heat and burning pains in eyes with perverted vision; sometimes spasmodic, involuntary motions of the eye, moderate acrid lachrymation, photophobia, vision impaired. Severe neuralgic pains, sharp, stabbing, sticking through the back into the head, starting from one point and radiating in different directions, worse by motion and at night, especially 2 A.M., severe photophobia from ciliary nervous irritation; conjunctivitis and iritis in children of scrofulous diathesis, accompanied by sharp pains, eyeballs too large; accommodative asthenopia, with anaemia of optic nerve for excessive tea drinking; sensation as if feathers were on the lashes, worse wiping them.

Spongia. Macular cornea; morbus Basedowii; double vision, better lying down; coldness of eyes; pressing heaviness of eyelids.

Staphisagria. Margins of lids dry, with hard lumps on inner borders and destruction of the hair follicles; tarsal tumors, glands of lids enlarged, with redness, tensive tearing pains, especially in the evening; constantly recurring styes; steatoma on conjunctiva palpebrarum; suppurative iritis, with bursting pain in eyeball, temple, and side of face, worse by using eyes and preventing reading or working by artificial light; arthritic ophthalmia.

Stramonium. Diplopia, strabismus from brain affections, if aggravated by mental exertion, terror, or fear; vision much affected, colors are not correctly distinguished, black objects appear gray, everything seems to be tipping over, objects appear double, before eyes, it looks as if one looked through a glass of turbid water, pupils enormously dilated, involuntary discharge of tears.

Strontiana. Removes the photopsia remaining after an operation, particularly when the objects appear covered with blood.

Sulphur. Chronic blepharitis in strumous children, who are irritable and cross by day, and feverish and restless at night, itching, biting, burning, or sensation as if sand were in the eye; lids swollen, red, and agglutinated in the morning, cannot bear to have the eye washed; eczematous affections of lids, blephorrhoea of lacrymal or fistula lachrymalis; acute or chronic catarrhal conjunctivitis, with sharp darting pains like pins sticking into the eye, or pressing, tensile, cutting, and burning pains: ophthalmia neonatorum, with profuse, thick, yellow discharge, swelling of lids; pustular inflammation of cornea and conjunctiva, with sharp sticking pains, as if a splinter was sticking in the eye; photophobia and profuse lachrymation, considerable redness, especially at angles; discharges acrid, corrosive, or tenacious, lids swollen, torn and smart. chronic scleritis; hypopion, cataract, choroiditis, and chori-retinitis, if accompanied by darting pains, and where the disease is based upon abdominal venosity, stagnation in portal circulation, habitual constipation, cerebral congestion, or upon metastasis of chronic or suppressed skin diseases.

Terebinthina. Iritis rheumatica, from suppression of habitual footsweat, or when urinary symptoms are present.

Thuja. Malignant ophthalmoblenorrhœa; frequently repeating serofulous ophthalmia, potteliedness of children, bulmy alternating with inappetency; excessive flatulence; obstinate constipation, or obstinate diarrhœa; iritis, with condylomata on iris, much heat above and around the eye; amblyopia, blurred sight, better from rubbing; aching back into the head; conjunctivitis trachomatosa, granulations like warts or blisters, with burning; photophobia and suffusion of eyes in tears; linea ciliaris, eyelashes irregular and imperfectly grown, fine scales covering the skin, eyes weak and watery; tarsal tumours and styes; better by warmly covering eyes.

Viola tricolor. Serofulous ophthalmia, with crusta lactea, lids much swollen, and soft parts around so much inflamed that the lids cannot be opened, face covered with a raw-looking excoriating eruption.

Zincum. Pterygium; conjunctivitis, more in the inner canthus, pains worse at night, granular lids after ophthalmia neonatorum; syphilitic iritis, worse at night, with hot scalding tears, amblyopia, green halo around the evening light, with rush of blood to head; luminous bodies after operations.

OPIMUM AND LAUDANUM, III effects of.

The best remedy for poisoning with large doses is: 1, black coffee or 2, vinegar. If consciousness should have returned, a few drops of ipec. will be found very useful. If any ailments should remain after ipec., give n. vom., merc., or hell. The last-mentioned remedies are excellent antidotes against the drug-symptoms occasioned by the medicinal abuse of opium.

For ill effects of habitual opium eating, or habitual hypodermic injections of morphine: macrotin, one grain, every two hours, must to prevent relapse, and finally coffee in a higher dilution.

ORCHITIS, and other affections of the testicles.

Neuralgia testis: aur., col., ham.

Hydrocele: ars., aur., clem., graph., puls., sil., rhod., spong., sulph., sulph. ac. Scrofulous persons require sd.

Oscheocele, or hernia scrotalis, has been treated most successfully with magn. m. and n. vom.

OSTEITIS.

See Diseases of Bones.

OTALGIA,

Otitis and Otorrhœa.

Aconite. External ear hot, swollen, red, painfully sensitive; roaring in ears, music unbearable, tearing in left ear.

Agaricus. Redness, burning itching in ears, as if they had been frozen.

Apis. Otitis after scarlatina, desquamation completely ceased.

Arnica. Hard of hearing from concussions, bruised pain in ears, stiches in and behind ears, great sensitiveness to loud sounds, ears very dry, discharge of blood from ear.

Arsenicum. Special indications:

Acidum nitricum. Mercurio-syphilitic basis; fetid, yellow, or rodhog, nasal discharge; ozæna with ulcers; stitches in nose as from a splinter; dirty, bloody mucus from posterior nares.

Alumen. Lupus or cancer of nose, polypus of nose, sanious discharges, especially where ulceration is present.

Arsenicum. Ichorous, sanious, and fetid discharges from the nose, with marked prostration and great general debility; discharge of burning mucus from right nostril.

Arum triph. Acid, ichorous discharge, excoriating inside, ala, and upper lip.

Aurum mur. Ozæna, excessively fetid discharge, severe frontal headache; caries of nasal bones; right nasal bone and adjoining parts of upper jaw painful to touch; putrid smell when blowing nose; ulcerated, agglutinated, painful nostrils, cannot breathe through nose.

Baptisia. Ozæna serofulosa; thick fetid discharges, accompanied with pain, soreness, and ulceration; dull pain at the root of the nose.

Graphites. Purulent fetid secretion from nose; mucus often firm hard masses or crusts, with sore, cracked, and ulcerated nostrils. Oozing moisture behind ears.

Iodum. Chronic fetid discharge from nose, which is painful and swollen: carious ulceration.

Kali bichr. Ulceration of Schneiderian membrane, attended with loss of smell and the formation of elastic plugs in the nose; ropy, tough discharge, often also from the posterior nares, offensive or not.

Merc. biniod. Whitish-yellow or bloody discharge; affection of posterior nares, with raw sensation; nasal bones diseased; turbinated bones swollen.

Merc. cor. Ozæna, discharge from the nose like glue, drying up in the posterior nares; perspiration of the septum; nose stopped up and at the same time runs; rawness, smarting in the nostrils.

Sanguinaria. Ulcerated ozæna, with epistaxis.

Theridion. Chronic catarrh, discharge offensive-smelling, thick, yellow, or yellowish-green.

Catarrh of pancreatic duct: bell., calc. carb., mere., puls.

Inflammation of pancreas: bell., iris, con., hep., mere. Buchner makes the following distinctions: calc. acet. for erythematous persons or skin affections; calc. ars. in collapse, in cardiac and renal diseases; calc. carb. for lymphatic and chlorotic; calc. iod. for scrofulous; calc. phos. for tuberculous; calc. ozal. for melanotic. Where the catarrh extends to the biliary ducts, with more or less icterus: bell., mere., and, in severe cases, digit., followed by aur. The malignant or epidemic form requires rhus, calc. ars.; softening or gangrene of the parts, kreus. or sec.; suppuration hints to calc., hep., sil.

Hypertrophy of pancreas yields to calcareous preparations: pancreatic stones: bell., or the salts of calcium, kalium, and sodium; cancer: phos., sil., calc. ars.

§ 4. Particular indications:

Aconite. Paralysis, the result of compression of the cord, caused by congestion; arms hang down as if paralyzed with heavy blows; crampy, contractive pain in hands and fingers; jactitation of arms; trembling of lower extremities; painful sensitiveness of the body to contact; congestion of blood to single parts, causing great sensitiveness and finally paralysis.

Æsculus hip. Lameness and paralytic feeling from neck down; right arm feels paralyzed, cannot raise; back and legs weak, can hardly walk, must lie down.

Agaricus. Paralysis of lower limbs, with slight spasms of arms; paralysis of upper and lower extremities from incipient softening of spinal cord; paraplegia from congestion of lumbar part of the cord; violent pains in paralyzed parts; pain in lumbar region and sacrum, especially during exertion in daytime and while sitting; pain in limbs, with lameness and numbness; formication in upper and lower limbs, as if gone to sleep; limbs cold, blue.

Ailanthus. Subacute congestion of the cord, leading to paralysis; heaviness of limbs, which feel as though they were asleep.

Alumina. Paralysis from spinal disease; rheumatic and traumatic paralysis in gouty patients; arms feel heavy, as if paralyzed, go to sleep; great heaviness in lower limbs, can scarcely drag them; when walking, he staggers and must sit down; numbness of heel when stepping; pain in the sole of foot when stepping, as though it were too soft and swollen; feeling of weakness in bladder and genitals; inactivity of intestines; mistakes in speaking; consciousness of his own identity confused; great exhaustion of strength, especially after walking in open air, accompanied by yawning, stretching, drowsiness, and inclination to lie down; lying, however, increased the lassitude.

Ambra. Paralytic complaints; weakness of whole body, of the knees, as if they would give way; of feet, with loss of sensation in the stomach, so that she must lie down; worse after sleep, feels weak and weary, eyes feel as if the lids had been closed too tightly; great lassitude, especially mornings in bed; coldness of hands and feet, emaciation.

Anacardium. Paralysis of single parts; sensation of weakness in arms, with trembling, numbness of fingers; wavelike twitches, less and there, in the legs; knees feel paralyzed, with stiffness and great lassitude; repeated tearings in paroxysms through upper and lower limbs at the same time; sensation as of a hoop or band around the parts; want of moral feeling; paralysis, with imbecility, loss of will, cannot control the voluntary muscles; cannot speak, only utters unintelligible words; drinks run out of the mouth; pulse slow and moderately full, body cool.

Angustura. Paralysis; weakness of the whole body, as if the marrow of the bone were stiff; affections of spinal cord and extensor muscles; twitching and jerking along the back like electric shocks; tetanic spasms, caused by contact, noise, or the drinking of lukewarm water; worse from touching the affected parts, rheumatism, with paralytic conditions.

Apis mel. Spinal affection, perfectly powerless, cannot take hold of anything, has to be fed and nursed; shortening of tendons, limbs, especially lower, emaciated, and cold to touch, oedema of feet and legs, effusion in joints, twitching on one side of the body, while the other is paralyzed; twitching of eyeballs; whole nervous system under the paralyzing influence, with general feeling of lassitude and depression.

Arnica. Convulsions and tetanic spasms consequent upon mechanical injuries, paralysis of body (right side), jactitation of single muscles; twitching in all the limbs; oversensitiveness of the whole body, everything feels too hard; weary, bruised, sore, great weakness, knees suddenly bend when standing, feet numb and insensible, as if weary as if bruised; painful paralysis from concussion of spine (deposits to absorb the clot in the brain of the intemperate), hopeless, downcast, peevish; state of mind pitiable (natr. mur. relief by lying on something hard, though spine is sensitive to touch).

Arsenicum. Paralysis, especially of the lower limbs; trembling of limbs (in drunkards); sensation of weakness, as if bruised, in the small of the back; stiffness in spinal column, beginning in region of os coccygis.

Baryta carb. Paralysis from apoplexy of old people, who are childish, sensorium not clear, loss of speech, trembling of hands and limbs; weariness, constant inclination to lie down; great mental and bodily weakness, failure of memory; glossoparaplegia, especially in young scrofulous persons, facial paralysis.

Belladonna. Congestive state; loss of co-ordination of the muscles of both upper and lower limbs, very like the heaviness and helplessness of movement observed in first stage of myelitis chronica and paralysis of the insane; paralytic weakness of all the muscles, especially of feet; great restlessness, with sudden startings; paralysis of right side of face.

Bryonia. Paralysis of limbs; rheumatic and gouty pains in limbs.

worse from motion and contact; legs so weak they will scarcely hold him, knees totter and knock together when walking.

Calcarea carb. Paralytic weakness; great weariness, not able to walk; great exhaustion in the morning; trembling of the body, especially in leucophlegmatic patients during puberty; worse from sexual excesses, which caused weakness of back, and threaten paralysis or progressive locomotor ataxy.

Carbo veg. Paralytic weakness of fingers when seizing anything (natr. mur.); trembling hands when writing; limbs go to sleep easily; numbness of the parts on which one lies; oversensitiveness of nerves from loss of fluids; paroxysms of pain caused by the slightest contact, and gradually increasing to a great height.

Causticum. Paralytic, trembling weakness of the limbs; one-sided paralysis, tension and shortening of the muscles, contracting the joints and bending the limbs, they become paralyzed, dull drawing, or bruised pain in the coccygeal region. Paralysis of single nerves; one-sided paralysis, especially of flexor muscles; falling of upper eyelid; paralysis of oculo-motor nerves; semilateral paralysis of face, sensation of tightness and pain in the jaws, rendering it very difficult to open the mouth, or to eat—seventh pair and inferior maxillary branch of fifth; numbness and insensibility and tightness of fingers; sensibility mostly intact.

Chelidonium. Limbs feel paralyzed; when bending forwards or backwards tearing-pressing pain in back, as if vertebrae were being broken asunder; paralytic pressure in upper arm, and weakness in thigh and leg.

China. Paralysis from loss of fluids, after arsenical poisoning, onanism; numbness of parts on which he lies.

Cicuta. Paralysis from concussion of the brain; violent spasmodic pains, paroxysmal, in paralyzed lower limbs, with involuntary trembling during remission; painful feeling of stiffness in the muscles of the lower limbs; frequent involuntary jerking and twitching in limbs, followed by complete loss of power; deadness of fingers; bruised sensation on many parts of the body; mental torpor.

Cocculus. Paralysis of lower limbs, from small of back downwards, thighs feel paralyzed and bruised; paresis of tongue, so that he has to speak slowly, and of deglutition; paresis of face and pharynx; flatulency; headache, with weakness, vertigo, sensation of seasickness; great lassitude of whole body, it is an exertion to stand firmly; paraplegia occurring in debilitated nervous persons, and where the circulation is impeded or sluggish, giving rise to edema; motory palsy; general sense of prostration from paralysis of animal life; spasmodic constriction through whole length of spine, especially on motion; anxious apprehensive disposition; affection of the spinal cord and locomotor ataxia.

Colchicum. Paralysis after sudden suppression of sweat, particularly footsweat, by getting wet; numbness of hands and feet, with prickling, as if asleep; laming pains in arms, which makes it impossible to hold anything; tearing twitches, like electric shocks, through one side of body, with sensation of lameness.

Conium mac. Paralysis of old people, especially of old women; general paralysis of voluntary muscles, paralyzing first the peripheral nerves, and finally also the spinal cord; unpainful lameness; muscular paralysis without spasms; vision good for fixed objects, but accommodation sluggish; affection of corpora striata²; humoral tetter.

Dulcamara. Paralysis from suppressed eruptions and cold; paralysis of upper and lower limbs and tongue, the paralyzed arms feel icy cold; loss of sensation; herpetic eruptions.

Ferrum. Paralysis from loss of fluids.

Gelsemium. Infantile paralysis; complete relaxation of the whole muscular system, with entire motor paralysis; giddiness and faintness, with pain in neck; great drowsiness; loss of sight; muscles weak and will not obey the will, feel bruised; tingling, prickling, crawling; limbs cold; locomotor ataxia, paraplegia, unsteady gait, trembling of hands when lifting them up; mental exertions cause a sense of helplessness from brain weakness; no loss of sensation.

Hyoscyamus. Paralysis after spasms; trembling of arms and hands; paralysis of the sphincter ani et vesicæ.

Ignatia. Paralysis after great mental emotion and night-watching in the sick-chamber; trembling of, and languor in, the limbs, hysterical paraplegia.

Kali carb. Paresis with trembling, frequent and violent vertigo, sudden attacks of unconsciousness, totters as if intoxicated, better in the fresh air; arms feel numb and cold, covered with purplish spots.

Kali hydroiod. Paralysis after meningitis spinale.

Kali phos. Paralysis dependent on exhaustion of nerve-power in recent cases, as after diphtheria, having paralytic pains in the nerves most during rest, better from motion without exertion, especially led after rising from sitting or on beginning to move.

Lachesis. Paralysis, left sided, after apoplexy or cerebral exhaustion; tingling prickling in limbs; trembling of hands, in drunkards head heavy as lead, worse about the occiput, with vertigo, flushed heat.

Ledum. Rheumatic paralysis of the hip-joint; ascending paralysis from the feet upwards.

Lycopodium. Paralysis, with formication of affected limbs, excessive flatulency from torpor of intestinal canal; great prostration, mental, nervous, and bodily weakness.

Mercurius. Paralysis agitans; tremor mercurialis; twitching of arms and legs; tearing, stinging, rheumatic, and arthritic pains, limbs stiff but can be moved by others, legs paralyzed with spinal meningitis.

Natrum mur. Paralysis of lower extremities from venereal excesses or masturbation, or from depressing mental emotions; insensitiveness of spine to touch, and still relief by lying on soap or hard; great weakness and relaxation of all bodily and physical power from the exertion, hysterical debility, emaciation.

Natrum phos. Legs weak from knee down, legs give way under her when she walks.

Nux mosch. Paralysis, with cramps and trembling, of tongue, eyelids, œsophagus; staggers on walking, falls often, weakness of small of back and knees, hysteria.

Nux vomica. Paralysis labio-glosso-pharyngea; multiple sclerosis; paralysis from apoplexy, or cerebral softening, from sexual excesses, abuse of alcohol, after mental overexertion, combined with sedentary habits; after poisoning by arsenic, after spasms, or diphtheria; parts cold, numb, emaciated; sick headache, with dimness of vision, sour bitter vomiting, with oversensitiveness of all the senses; paralysis from exhaustion of the spinal cord, spinal anemia, reflex para- and hemiplegia, or white softening, or where paresis of the motor nerve centres remains after all signs of irritation have passed away; incomplete paralysis, power of motion not entirely gone, but impeded by painful twitchings and spasmodic contraction whenever the affected part is exercised; sensation in small of back as if lame; paralysis of arm, with violent jerks in it, as if the blood would start out of the veins; staggering walk, when he walks he drags his feet, cannot lift them up; numbness and deadness of lower legs, coldness of the paralyzed parts; paralysis of the bladder in old men; great debility of nervous system, with oversensitiveness of all the senses, in drunken people; worse from motion and slight touch, but strong pressure relieves (china).

Opium. Paralysis, with insensibility after apoplexy, in drunkards or old people; weakness, numbness, and paralysis of the legs and arms: stupefying sleep; the patient is dull, stupid, as if drunk, retained stool and urine; want of vital reaction, body cold, stupor.

Oxalic acid. Sclerosis of posterior column: pains shooting down from the cord to the extremities, especially lower ones, stiffness of limbs, dyspnoea, followed by a peculiar general numbness, approaching to palsy; back feels too weak to support the body; jerking pains, confined to small spots, lasting only a few seconds; pains in small longitudinal spots.

Phosphorus. Hemiplegic, facial, and aphasic paralysis from thrombosis of left middle cerebral artery, or from pressure on spinal cord; progressive spinal paralysis, with partial contraction of the affected muscles, formication, and tearing in the limbs, anaesthesia with increased heat; periodically returning insupportable pains in the spine, preventing walking; heaviness and sensation of fatigue, especially when ascending steps, pains in the soles of feet, as if she had walked too much, with sensation as if they were asleep; great irritability and nervousness.

Physostigma. Paralysis agitans as long as no structural lesion took place: tremors of young persons from emotional or physical disturbances; staggering gait, as if drunk; feeling of constriction around the head, waist; feeling of weakness, as though paralyzed, passes downward from occiput through back to lower extremities, which feel as if asleep; slight exertion causes great weakness.

Picric acid. Paralysis from softening of the cord: during first stage tonic and clonic spasms, keeps his legs wide apart when standing, looks steadily at objects, as if unable to make them out, followed by paresis; limbs become too weak to support the body; wasting palsy.

Platina. Paralytic weakness, worse at rest; numbness, stiffness, and coldness; tremulous restlessness in legs, with numb and torpid feeling when sitting; numbness in sacrum and coccyx; weak, relaxed feeling in both areas, as after holding a heavy weight, better from motion.

Plumbum. General or partial palsy, with excessive wasting of the muscular tissue, loss of motion and sensation; paralysis preceded by mental derangement, trembling, spasms, and by shooting tearing pains: wrist-drop; muscular atrophy from sclerosis of the cerebro-spinal system; paralytic weakness of extremities especially on right side; hands and feet cold, total want of sweat, obstinate constipation; paralysis of tongue.

Psorinum. Paralytic debility, without structural changes, trembling of hands and feet, after debilitating acute diseases.

Rhododendron. Paralytic weakness during rest, or after only slight exertion, heavy weak feeling and formication in back and limbs, worse at rest and in rough weather.

Rhus tox. THE GREAT ANTIPARALYTICUM. Myelitis of the anterior horns; infantile paralysis. Lameness in all extremities and joints, with stiffness, worse on rising after having been seated for a long time, sensation not much impaired; palsy of one side of the lower extremities, with dragging, slow, difficult walking; rheumatic palsies from exposure to wet, strains, or excessive exertions, with painful stiffness, tingling, and numbness, paralysis after ague or typhoid, from sexual excesses, pains in small of back improved by lying on something hard; hemiplegia, paraplegia, paralysis of the rectum and of the bladder, dysphagia paralytica, dyspharyngoplegia, etc.

Ruta. Severe facial paralysis after catching cold, it suits especially robust and sanguineous persons; tottering as if thighs were weak, limbs pain when walking; rheumatic paralysis of the tarsal and carpal joints.

Secale corn. It destroys the activity of the cord. Convulsive twitchings and shocks, painful contractions, tetanic manifestations, perfect paralysis, with increased reflex activity; most excruciating spinal pains, especially in sacral region, paralysis of bladder and rectum; tendency to gangrene, rapid emaciation.

Sepia. Paralysis, with atrophy, icy coldness of limbs, the joints feel weak, as if they could not support the body.

Silicea. Progressive sclerosis of posterior column, sense of great debility, wants to lie down; limbs go to sleep easily, are sore, lame, and cold; trembling of legs, as if he had lost all power over them; wandering pains, passing quickly from one part of body to another; spasms or paralysis from checked footsweats, depending on alterations in connective tissue in brain and spinal cord, glandular radiation.

Stannum. Paralysis mostly left-sided; feeling of a load in the affected arm and corresponding side of the chest; from worms, cannibalism, spasms, emotions; paralytic heaviness of the limbs, worse using the arm or walking, particularly descending; paralyzed parts constantly moist from perspiration.

Staphisagria. Paralysis of one side, from anger; nervous weakness, on putting foot to the ground, pricking in balls of feet, as if toes would be drawn down.

Stramonium. Constant pain in cervical and upper dorsal vertebrae, difficult to bring hand to tumbler, or carry latter to mouth; convulsive phenomena alternating with paralytic ones; limbs feel as if gone to sleep; cold hands and feet; paralysis of lower limbs; loss of speech, muscles will not obey the will; frequent twitching, shocks through the body; caused by mental emotions, from sexual excesses, lead poison.

PARALYSIS OF MUSCLES OF THE EYE—PEMPHIGUS. 585

Sulphur. Palsy resting on a material basis, from repercussion of eruptions; tearing in limbs, muscles, and joints from above downwards; great debility and trembling talking fatigues; unsteady gait, tremor of hands; paraplegia, with retention of urine and numbness up to the navel; when the urine was drawn, it looked like yeast.

Tarantula. Paralysis; general formication, beginning with a strong pain in occiput, followed by numbness of the trunk and limbs, and complete loss of motory power.

Veratrum album. Paralysis from cholera, after debilitating losses; painful paralytic weakness in upper and lower extremities; difficult walking, first right, then left hip joint feels paralytic; tingling in fingers, causing anxiety and painful jerks in limbs; arm trembles when anything is grasped; bruised feeling in arms; hands and feet icy cold, blue.

Veratrum viride. Cerebral hyperemia, causing paralysis and tingling in limbs; paralysis of lower limbs; coldness, blueness, and dampness of hands, feet, and limbs, with cramps of extremities.

Zincum. Paralysis of feet from suppressed footsweat, by getting wet, worse from wine; great weakness of all the limbs, especially in lumbar region and bends of knees, when walking in open air; weakness, numbness, and tremor of the hands when writing.

PAROTTIS.

Mumps: bell., a bright red swelling, especially on right side; rhus, if dark red, especially on left side; merc., if pale; carb veg., coec., with lingering fever; puls., in cases of metastasis to the mammae; carb veg., ars., to testicles; ars., phos., sil., when suppurating; lyc., nitr. ac., phyt., with fistulous openings; bar., calc., carb. v., can., Clem., kali c., sil., when indurated; bar. mur., hepar, kali carb., rhus, after scarlet fever; ars., chin., lach. Kreasot. for malignant parotitis, passing over into ichoration.

PAROTITIS MALIGNA.

Angina Ludovici: anthracin, bry., hep., kreas.

PEMPHIGUS.

A cachexia, with bullæ on skin: ars., bell., calc., canth., caust., chin., dule., gamb., hep., hydrocot., jugl., lach., merc., phos., ranunc., rhus, sep., sulph., thuj.

Pemphigus neonatorum: acon., bell., bry., calc., cham., dulc., merc., rhus., psor., sulph.

Anacardium. Great burning of skin, scarlet redness over whole body, which is covered with blisters from size of a pin's head up to a pea; itching worse evening and in bed.

Belladonna. Watery vesicles (on palm of hand and tibia, so painful that he could scream).

Causticum. Large vesicles on chest and back, with anguish of chest and fever.

Bryonia. Pemphigus from and ten cheek of perspiration.

Phosphorus. Painful hard blisters, full to bursting, not itching.

Ranunculus. Constantly repeating eruption of blisters, secreting a foetid smelling gluey matter, forming crusts and healing from the centre.

Rhus tox. Confluent blisters, containing a milky or watery fluid with peeling of the skin.

Thuja. Pemphigus foliaceus, with offensive odor and formation of scales.

PERICARDITIS.

Aconite. Chill followed by heat; stitching pain in region of heart; cannot lie on right side; frequent sighing and taking deep breath; feeling of fulness in chest, dyspnoea, fainting, restlessness.

Arnica. Severe stitching pains, in consequence of trauma; complication with pleuritis.

Arsenicum. In consequence of suppressed measles or scarlet fever; inexpressible anguish and restlessness, no ease in any position; paralytic feeling in upper limbs, tingling in fingers; blood face, cold perspiration, worse at night.

Bryonia. Complication with pleuritis; stitching pain in cardiac region, preventing motion and even breathing.

Cactus. Sensation of constriction in the heart, as if it was grasped by an iron hand; acute pains and stitches in the heart; difficulty of breathing; attacks of suffocation, with fainting; palpitation while walking, and at night when lying on left side; cold sweat on face, no pulse.

Digitalis. Copious serous exudation; irregular intermittent pulse; brickdust sediment in urine; rheumatic; oedema pedum.

Iodum. Complication with croupous pneumonia; purring friction in the region of heart; violent palpitation, increased from slightest motion, better while lying perfectly quiet on back; fainting; complications with articular rheumatism.

Kali carb. Stitching pain in cardiac region; swelling between the eyebrows and the upper lids; jerking up of the limbs, much frightened when having the feet touched, worse about 3 A.M.

Lachesis. Restless and trembling; hasty talking; great oppression; anguish about heart in rheumatism; irregularity in the beat of heart.

Pulsatilla. After decrease of the inflammatory symptoms there still remain severe palpitations, keeping on even after the fit of coughing; loose rattling cough, worse on first going to bed; rheumatic pains which quickly change locality.

of chest near heart when taking a deep inspiration, when lying down in bed at night.

Spigelia. Severe cases of pericarditis, not relieved by aconite, complicated with rheumatism, pneumonia, or pleuritis; stitching pain in chest from the very slightest motion; clear rubbing sounds; purring feeling in cardiac region.

Sulphur. Palpitation after going upstairs, with shortness of breath; steady pain in left side through to the shoulders; red lips; sleeplessness; after suppressed itch.

Tartar. emet. Full feeling, constriction of chest; palpitation of heart, pulse rapid, weak, and trembling, or small and contracted; complication with pneumonia.

Veratrum vir. Faintness after rising from a recumbent position; fainting during a walk; relieved only by lying down.

PERITONITIS.

Acute form: 1. acon., bell., col., merc. cor.; 2. ars., thuj., carb. veg.; severe cases: ars., carb. veg., lach., op., ver.; peritonitis traumatica: acon., ars., op.; from strangulation: bell., nux v., op., plumb.; puerperal: bell., bry., cham., cimicif., puls.; tubercular: calc. carb., calc. lod., calc. arsenic., carbo. lod., sulph.

Aconite. Usual febrile symptoms, with anxious expression of face; burning, cutting, darting pain in bowels, worse from slightest pressure, motion, and lying on right side, abdomen hot to the touch; after taking cold, drinking cold water when heated.

Apis. Exudation; urine scanty, dark, oedema of feet; burning-stinging pain in abdomen.

Arsen. Later, when there is sudden sinking of strength; cold clammy perspiration; anxious internal restlessness, thirst, constant vomiting, burning in bowels; worse at midnight.

Belladonna. Complication with metritis and perityphlitis; cerebral congestions, colicky pains, worse from motion and contact; painful retching and vomiting; great anxiety and dyspnoea.

Bryonia. Complication with diaphragmitis, stage of exudation; stitching, pressing, lancinating pains in bowels, worse from slightest motion, tongue white and dry, great thirst; bowels constipated.

Calcarea. Tuberculosis abdominalis, abdomen much distended and hard, frequent severe cramp in the intestinal canal, with coldness of the thighs; urine dark, without sediment; constipation.

Carbo veg. Peritonitis with tympanitis and paralysis of the intestines.

Kali nitr. Stitching and sticking pain, abdomen swollen and very tender to the touch; coldness of lower extremities; numb and stiff feeling of affected parts, as if they were made of wood.

Lachesis. Abdomen hot and sensitive to touch, painful stiffness from loins down to the thighs; scanty turbid urine, with reddish sediment; strangury; constipation; lies on back with knees drawn up; complication with typhlitis.

Lycopodium. In complication with diaphragmitis or hepatitis; when lying on left side feeling as if a hard body were rolling from the navel to that side; troublesome flatulences and constipation; sleeplessness, loathing, and icteric color of face.

Mercurius. Especially corrosivus. Purulent exudations, creeping chills, pale wretched complexion, sweat without relief, foul breath, vomiting of slime, and slimy stools with straining; oedema of feet, weakness, and emaciation.

Phosphorus. Peritonitis with tympanitis, abdomen excessively sensitive to touch; burning and pressure in abdomen; sharp cutting pains in abdomen; paralysis of intestines.

Rhus tox. Great restlessness, changing position though it increases pain; tongue red at tip; pressing-cutting pain in abdomen typhoid symptoms; metritis.

Veratrum alb. Vomiting and diarrhoea; coolness of skin, sunken features; pulse small and weak; great thirst; restlessness and anxiety.

The exudations of chronic peritonitis may need for their resorption: bry., chin., chin. arsen., iod., merc., squill.; where they are more purulent or ichorous: sulph., phos., sil., ara., chin., arsen.

PERNIO.

See Chilblains.

PETECHIÆ.

Arn., bell., bry., berb., chloral, hyos., lach., led., n. vom., phos. ruta, sec., sil., stram., sulph. ac.; in putrid typhus: ars., bapt., bry., rhus, ham., sulph. ac., nitr. ac., phos. ac.

PHARYNGITIS.

With inflammation of the velum and uvula.

Principal remedies: 1, acon., alum., bell., canth., hyos., lach., merc., merc. iod., n. vom., puls., stram.; or, 2, ars., calc., dulc., ign., veratr.

For simple uncomplicated inflammation give: acon., bell., canth., lach., merc.

Inflammation, with spasmodic constriction of the fauces, requires: 1, bell., hyos., lach., stram., veratr.; or, 2, alum., ars., etc., coccolaur., lyc., merc., n. vom., op.

For sensation as of a foreign body in the throat give: 1, ars., ign., merc., n. vom., puls.; or, 2, bell., hep., lach., nitr. ac., sulph.

If the inflammation should extend to the velum give: acon., bell., coff., merc. cor., n. vom.

Inflammation of the uvula requires in most cases: 1, bell., coff., merc., n. vom.; or, 2, calc., seneg., sulph.

Compare Sore Throat.

PHAGEDENIC BULLÆ (blisters) OF HAHNEMANN.

A kind of spreading ulcerated blisters on the buttocks, feet, heels, toes, hands, and fingers, always isolated, and distinguished from pompholyx by the absence of those mucous derangements of the stomach, intestinal canal, or other functional derangements which are generally said to accompany pompholyx. Principal remedies: 1, cham., graph.

petr., sil.; 2. ars., bor., calc., caust., elem., hep., kal., magn. c., merc., natr., nitr. ac., rhus t., sep., squill., sulph.

Paraphimosis, and inflammation of the prepuce. If caused by syphilis, give merc., or nitr. ac., sep. thuj. Phimosis with gonorrhœa requires cann., merc., sulph.

Phimosis from friction or some other mechanical cause requires arn., and if inflammation should be present give acon., then arn., and if arn. should not be sufficient, try rhus t. or euphrasia.

If caused by uncleanness, acon. or merc., or sulph. will be found sufficient.

If by chemical or poisonous substances, etc., give acon., bell., bry., camph.

Suppuration requires merc., or caps., or hep. and subsequent inductions, lach., or sulph., or sep.

For threatening gangrene give ars., or lach., or canth.

To little children give acon., or merc., or calc. and sulph.

PHLEBITIS.

From contusion: arn., con., hep., from varices: chin., ham., puls., merc.; injury: acon., arn., hep., rhus: with œdema: apis, ars., chin., merc., puls., rhus; with suppuration: apis, arn., con., hep., merc., sil., sulph.; with typhoid symptoms: apis, bapt., lach., mur. ac., rhus; with vomiting: ars., puls., ver.; chronic phlebitis: arn., cham., ham., hch., lyc., n. vom., puls., spig., zinc.

PHLEGMASIA ALBA DOLENS.

Stitches in chest, more on right side, or first left, then right, in lower right chest extending towards middle of sternum, burning in chest; exudation within the pleura, when breathing deeply and when speaking she feels as if she dare not exert herself on account of great weakness of respiratory organs; excessive dyspnea, displacement of heart, tendency to fainting, dry, hacking cough.

Kali carb. The violent stitching fails to yield to dry, especially on left side, with violent palpitation of heart, dry cough, worse at night; pleura affected by extension from the lungs; pleuritis of tuberculous patients, affecting especially the clavicular region; pain as if lower lobe of right lung was adhering to ribs; pleurisy, stitches in left chest, with violent palpitation, dry cough, worse 3 A.M.

Mercurius. Stitching pain through to back when coughing or sneezing, especially on right side.

Nitric acid. Pleuritis of old people, when the pain leaves, and the pulse increases, great weakness and diarrhoea.

Rhus tox. After exposure to wet, or from straining, lifting, etc.; oppression of breathing, as if it was stopped at the pit of the stomach; dry, teasing cough; stitches in chest, worse when at rest, sitting crooked, or when sneezing; tingling in chest, with tension in the intercostal muscles, worse when at rest, tip of tongue red, fever blisters.

Squilla. Stitching pain in left side; short rattling cough, disturbing sleep; inability to lie on left side; grating of teeth; twitching of lips, which are covered with thick yellow crusts, more on left side, worse mornings.

Sulphur. Shortness of breath and oppression on bending the arms backwards; stitches through the chest, extending into left scapula, worse lying on back and during least motion; pain in chest from overlifting; pain as if chest would fly to pieces when coughing or drawing a deep breath; exudation after pleuritis; lips bright red; follows well after bry. or rhus.

Tartarus emet. Commencement of pleuro-pneumonia; rapid, short, heavy, and anxious breathing; must be supported in a sitting posture in bed; palpitation of heart.

In neglected cases, or where the disease developed itself in cachectic constitutions, study: ars., ars. iod., calc., camph., canth., carb. v., chin., ferr., hep., iod., lach., lyc., scæg., sep., sil., and others; for pleuritic exudations: apis, ars., dig., when serous; alumina, bry., hep., sulph., when plastic.

PLEURODYNIA.

Intercostal neuralgia: Arn., bov., cact., cimicif., guai., melilot., mez., nux v., ranunc., rhod.

Arnica. Myalgic pleurodynia, resembling genuine pleurisy; must continually change position, bed feels too hard.

Borax. Pleuriticlike stitches in right pectoral region, so that he cannot move or breathe without a stitching pain; stitches in chest in region of nipple, with every paroxysm of cough; shortness of breath after ascending stairs, so that he cannot speak a word; later when he speaks stitches on right side of chest.

Cactus. Feeling of constriction in chest, impeding breathing; pricking pains in chest; sharp wandering pains in chest and scapular region; bloody sputa.

Chenopodium. Dull pain a little lower than inferior angle of right scapula, but nearer the spine.

Cimicifuga. Pain in right side of chest, must lie quietly on back, and press with the hand; breath short, slight cough; sinking at stomach; rheumatic pains in joints with swelling and heat.

Guaiacum. Pseudo-pleuritic pains; frequently attending tuberculosis pulmonum in the stage of softening and suppuration; intense pain in upper part of chest, from motion of head; expectoration of fetid pus.

Ranunculus bulbosus. Stabbing, stitching, burning pains in chest and abdomen; sensation as if everything were sore and bruised, and expressly sensitive to touch; frequent pains in chest extending towards the liver, or from the liver into the chest; pain extending along the inner edge of the left scapula down to its inferior angle; pain extends sometimes through lower left chest; spasmodic hiccough.

Rhododendron. Dyspnoea from constriction of chest; shooting through left chest to back, when bending back and to the right; breath and speech fail from the violence of pleuritic stitches running downward in anterior left chest, after standing on cold ground, and getting chilled.

PLICA POLONICA.

Arg. nitr., ars., bov., branca, carb. v., ferr., fluor. ac., graph., hell., lyc., kreas., merc., natr. mur., phosph., sil., sulph., vinca.

PNEUMONIA.

Aconite. First stage in robust persons. Chill of more or less severity, followed by intense fever, hot dry skin, quick and hard pulse, accelerated, labored, incomplete respiration, with restlessness, palpitation, fear of death, dry cough, soreness and heat in chest; during second stage, burning shooting or burning-pressing pains in chest, with painfulness to external pressure, oppression and acceleration of respiration, sense of weariness and exhaustion in chest, pulmonary hyperæmia, sputa thin, frothy, tinged with blood. Percussion-sound is still clear, and crepitating râles distinctly audible.

Ammonium carb. Pneumonia of old people, with incessant cough and copious expectoration, excited as if from down in larynx, and greatly aggravated at 3-4 A. M., followed by great exhaustion, especially when complicated with coryza or influenza.

Arnica. Where the disease is caused by mechanical injury, and where in plethoric persons pneumonic infiltration shows a tendency to hæmorrhage, dry cough, shaking the whole body, with tough, bloody sputa.

Arsenicum. Extreme prostration, clammy perspiration, urgent thirst, drinking little and often; shortness of breath on slight exertion; dry and dark tongue and lips, diarrhoea; ringing and buzzing in ears; tendency to colliquation and dissolution; threatened gangrene, with ichorous expectoration, fetid or dingy green (clim, lat.). In sudden edema pulmonum, with passive hyperæmia of the lungs, sometimes caused by defects of the right side of the heart, in old people, from repressed eruptions; in asthmatic persons, hypostatic pneumonia; pneumonia notha in old people, with danger of paralysis of lungs; hoarse after midnight, sudamina.

Belladonna. Cerebral complication, with great nervousness, intense and constant delirium; restlessness, sleepiness, but cannot sleep, picking at bedclothes, flushed face, congested eyes, pneumonia arising from or accompanying acute bronchitis; pneumonia of drunkards and of old people; pneumonia of a typhoid character from the beginning; worse from lying on affected side.

Bromium. Hepatization of lower lobes; right lung mostly affected, sensation of weakness and exhaustion in the chest, sensation of constriction impedes respiration, with dry tickling cough, loose cough night and day, but no expectoration.

Bryonia. Lobular pneumonia; anxiety from oppressed respiration; pressure on middle or lower part of sternum, bruised feeling in chest; shooting pains in chest; red hepatization and cough, but expectoration not yet free; sputa viscid, tenacious, of a brick-dust color; foul tongue, constipation; gastric catarrh; thirst for large quantities; abdominal breathing; inclination to lie perfectly still.

Cactus grand. Oppression of respiration, pricking pains, acute intense pains with the cough; bloody sputa; hard, quick vibrating pulse; feeling of constriction in chest preventing free speech; sharp wandering pains in chest, especially in scapular region; cough, with thick yellow sputa like boiled starch.

Cannabis sat. Pneumonia infantilis, simulating meningitis, with high fever and delirium, the lung-lesion often only limited, confined to the apex, difficult greenish expectoration with delirium, high fever, and vomiting of greenish bilious matter; frequent, hard, teasing cough, sometimes even incessant, with dulness on percussion. Mostly indicated late in the third stage, or for complication with diseases of the heart and the larger vessels.

Carbo veg. During third or suppurative stage; profuse cool perspiration, pulse small and rapid; great prostration; tongue dry, with little or no thirst; foul, decaying diarrhoeic stools; breath foul, craves cold air; foulness of all secretions; rattling in chest; distressing cough, without any expectoration, by spells, or fetid, gangrenous sputa. Paralysis pulmonum: pneumonia complicated with affections of right heart, or in emphysematous patients, with old bronchial catarrhs.

Chelidonium. Shortness and difficulty of breathing, with tightness and anxiety of the chest, violent stitches in right lung going to the lower edge of right shoulderblade; short, dry cough, which increases the pain; great and quite irregular palpitation of heart; short and quick breathing, with anxiety, as if he must choke; bilious pneumonia; lungs full of mucus from paralysis of vagus, dark-red cheeks.

China. Hectic symptoms, with marked prostration, from loss of blood. pneumonia complicated with hyperemia of liver, icterus, intestinal catarrh; incipient gangrene; hæmoptysis, with subsequent supuration of lungs and stitches in chest, worse during deep breathing and sudden movements.

Cuprum. Lobular pneumonia, when formation of abscess threatens; beginning paralysis of lungs, indicated by sudden difficulty of breathing, followed by great prostration; complication with whooping-cough; face earthy, dirty, bluish; roof of mouth red; sweat sour-swelling; diarrhoea.

Digitalis. Pneumonia senilis, the heart's action failing; passive hyperemia of the brain, passive congestions of lungs, depending on a weakened, dilated heart; cough worse about midnight or towards morning, from talking or walking.

Ferrum. Pneumonia senilis; laxity of fibre; pulse soft and quick, occasionally slow and easily compressible; dyspnoea slowly increasing; bloody expectoration.

Ferrum phosphoricum. Pneumonia, the hyperemia depending on relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bloodvessels, as long as no exudation has taken place; general heat of body; very little thirst. First stage; nosebleed; profuse expectoration of almost pure blood or of frothy pink mucus.

Gelsemium. Congestive pneumonia, with suffering under the scapulae, both sides, caused by checked sweat; short paroxysms of pain in superior part of right lung, on taking a deep breath; pulse slow, full; thirstlessness.

Glonoin. Collateral oedema of the parts of the lungs not attacked by pneumonia, preventing the return of blood from brain, and thus poisoning it; extreme dyspnoea; serous and foamy sputa; cyanosis, with fulness of all the veins of the neck and head; coma.

Hepar sulph. Mild suppurative stage, extending only over small part of a lung, with lentescient fever; chronic pneumonia, with profuse purulent expectoration; weakness of the chest, preventing talking.

Hyoscyamus. Pneumonia, with cerebral symptoms, delirium, sopor; dry fatiguing nightcough, or rattling in chest; pneumonia complicated with typhus; hypostatic pneumonia in the course of other chronic affections; pneumonia senilis, with acute oedema of lungs; pneumonia of drunkards.

Iodum. Pneumonia crouposa; tendency to bronchial and pulmonary congestion and hæmorrhage; sensation of weakness in chest, with anxiety and oppression, and burning, tearing, stabbing pains; sensation as if something resisted the expansion of the chest; cough, with dyspnoea and blood streaked expectoration. Also during third stage, where slow suppuration sets in without marked febrile symptoms in tuberculous patient, and causes a slowly progressing hectic condition, entirely confined to lungs.

Ipecacuanha. Infantile pneumonia; respiration rapid, difficult, surface blue, face pale; rattling of large bubbles, or fine rattling noises in chest, with spasmodic cough and nausea; hyperæmia of brain, without sopor; convulsions.

Kali bichrom. Pneumonia crouposa; with expectoration of tough stringy mucus; coughs up casts of elastic fibrinous nature; lounness of ribs; pains from back to sternum, or from midsternum starting to between the shoulders; morning aggravation.

Kali carb. Pneumonia infantilis; during whooping-cough, great dyspnoea, preventing the child from sleeping or drinking; stitches in chest; difficulty of raising the mucus, although constantly coming; wheezing and rattling breathing, choking cough; inability to breathe deeply; pneumonia, with stitches through right chest, hepatization of right lung, worse when lying on right side; abscess of lung, with expectoration of pus and blood.

Kali iod. Pneumonia in the beginning when the disease localizes itself; also with so extensive hepatization as to cause cerebral congestion and serous exudation; face red, pupils large, urine suppressed, one side as if paralyzed; cough dry, hawking, later copious green sputa; oedema pulmonum, with pneumonia.

Kali nitr. Pneumonia, with excessive heat and thirst, relieved by copious perspiration and profuse hæmorrhage.

Kreasot. Gangrene of lungs; dry wheezing cough; after every coughing-spell copious, purulent expectoration; difficult breathing, with anxiety; sensation of oppression in chest, better from pressure.

Lachesis. Pneumonia, with hepatization, mostly of left lung, and great dyspnoea on awaking; especially useful in removing deposits resulting from inflammations in lungs already invaded by tubercles, or from low-graded chronic inflammations, developing during the progress of other diseases; suffocation and shortness of breath from the cough; frothy expectoration, mixed with blood; purulent dissolution of exudation during third stage; threatened gangrene of lungs with fetid breath and sputa.

Lachnanthes. Typhoid pneumonia; hot and oppressed feeling in the lungs and heart, with dizziness; cough worse in bed, preventing sleep; stitches following one another in quick succession, while at rest and when moving; unnatural brightness of eyes, with red flushed face.

Lycopodium. Typhoid or neglected pneumonia after suppressed menses, with continuing hepatization and purulent sputa, adynamia and night sweats as sequelæ of neglected pneumonia; or, pneumonia, with raising of a mouthful of mucus at a time, of a light rust-color, stringy, and easily separated; constant tickling cough, worse at night; numerous loud mucous râles, with rare and scanty sputa; cough loose, full and deep, sounding as if the whole parenchyma of the lung were softened; circumscribed redness of face; fanlike motion of nostrils.

Mercurius. Pneumonia and bronchitis, especially when the patients are disposed to hemorrhæa, or have a profuse expectoration of viscid bloody mucus; bilious pneumonia, with great tenderness over the right hypochondrium; asthenic pneumonia, with feeling of weight in lungs, short cough and expectoration of bloody saliva; epidemic broncho-pneumonia, with deep irritation of the nervous system; nose, larynx and trachea become suddenly dry, dyspnoea sets in with spasmodic cough, worse at night, and yellow green, blood-streaked expectoration; skin burning hot, at times covered with copious sweat; tongue yellow, soon becomes dry; senses dull, violent headache, soporous condition, with light delirium; complains of little or no pain (influenza); infantile lobular pneumonia.

Moschus. Irregular reaction or insufficient crisis in asthenic, torpid pneumonia in consequence of bleedings; great weight on chest; rattling, but no phlegm can be raised; pulse grows slower and slower.

Natrium ars. Pneumonia complicated with asthma; pains of a stitching character in costo-cartilaginous region; tardy convalescence.

Natrium sulph. Sycotic pneumonia; inexpressible agony; slowly coagulated blood; stitching pains running up from abdomen to left chest; dry cough, with soreness in chest; rough feeling in throat, particularly at night; had to sit up and hold chest with both hands; loose purulent sputa in the morning.

Nitric acid. Pneumonia of old and cachectic people; sputa are raised with difficulty; awakens often all stopped up with mucus, and must expectorate before he can breathe more easily; sputa of blood mixed with clots during the day; pulse intermits.

Nux vom. Broncho-pneumonia, especially of drunkards, or of persons suffering from piles. Pneumotyphus; gastric symptoms prevail.

Opium. Infantile pneumonia, where the pulmonary inflammation is disguised by symptoms of cerebral congestion and oppression; cyanotic color of the upper part of body, with slow stertorous respiration; pneumonia senilis et potatorum, with similar symptoms, difficult intermitting breathing, as from paralysis of lungs, blood thick, frothy, mixed with mucus; great oppression, burning about heart, tremor, feeble voice; anxious sleep, with starts; chest hot; hot perspiration all over body, except lower limbs; sudamina; bed feels too hot.

Phosphorus. Broncho-pneumonia; dryness of air-passages; excoriated feeling in upper chest; great weight on chest or tightness; chest sore, bruised; hepatization of lower half of right lung, later part of period of deposit and early part of that of absorption; dulness of sound on percussation: bronchial respiration, frequently attended with crepitation and rattling. Typhoid pneumonia, not a genuine inflammation, rather an accumulation of blood in the veins, and extravasation of fluid blood in the tissues of the organ, the patient is weak, with feeble pulse, sighs occasionally, is unable to use his lungs, not from pain, but merely from weakness and hyperemic stagnation, pulse thready; cold sweat: pleuro-pneumonia, with extensive implication of the pleura; hepatization, with muco or bloody sputa, coughing increases the difficulty of breathing, during the third stage purulent infiltration of the parenchyma, with mental depression, slight delirium, carphologia and subsultus tendinum, rapid prostration, cold clammy sweat, small, feeble, frequent pulse, dim eyes, sunken features, dry lips and tongue, short laborious breathing, oppression and anxiety, tedious cough and expectoration, involuntary diarrhoea, threatened paralysis of lungs; tuberculosis in tall, slender, weak chested persons. Phosphorus is our great tonic to the heart, venous heart and lungs.

Pulsatilla. Pneumonia morbillosa: broncho-pneumonia in chlorotic and anemic women.

Ranunculus bulb. Bright-red cheeks, with clean tongue; short and very oppressed breathing, with scarcely audible respiratory murmurs; dry heat; prostration from the start; small, very rapid pulse, with great vascular and cardiac excitement, nausea, and even faintness on motion.

Rhus tox. Typhoid pneumonia, often from resorption of pus, with tearing cough and restlessness, as rest aggravates the pain and dyspnoea, tongue red at tip, loss of strength, sopor, hardness of hearing, unconscious defecation and urination, dryness and heat of skin, dry and sooty tongue, dyspnoea worse from distension of pit of stomach, sputa bloody or of color of brickdust, or green cold mucus, of putrid smell.

Sanguinaria. Second and third stage; great difficulty of breathing, lies upon back, with head elevated; not much pain in chest, but that of a stitching-burning character; pulse small and quick; face and extremities inclined to be cold, or hands and feet burning, with circumscribed redness and burning heat of the cheeks, especially after noon, cough, with tough and rust-colored sputa, or in third stage purulent and offensive; diarrhoea, night sweats; hectic fever.

Silicea. Chronic neglected pneumonia, passing over into suppuration; dyspnoea when lying on back or coughing; lungs feel raw, excruciating, deep-seated pains in lungs; sputa profuse, fetid, green and purulent, often tastes greasy.

Spongia. Broncho- and croupous pneumonia; sputa taste sour or salty, worse when lying down; wheezing, anxious breathing; burning and soreness in chest; during the stage of resolution with profuse secretion and expectoration of mucus, inability to lie down, the cough relieved by eating and drinking.

Squilla. Suitable in pneumonia or pleurisy after bleeding, or when accompanied with gastric symptoms; pain in chest worse mornings, also cough; sputa copious and thin.

Sulphur. Pneumonia assumes a torpid character, with slow consolidation of the lungs; there may still be much rattling of phlegm in chest; frequent weak, faint spells, and flushes of heat: feels suffocated, wants doors and windows open; constant heat on top of head. Torpid typhoid pneumonia, with short rapid breathing, a mere heaving of the chest; cough and expectoration nearly impossible, the patient responds sluggishly, comprehends slowly; worse about midnight. Neglected or occult pneumonia occurring in psoric patients, and which threaten to terminate in tuberculosis pulmonum, or in phthisis pituitosa. Pneumonia passing through its first stages normally and then remains stationary; such a deficiency of reaction points to sulphur as the remedy, where it accomplishes the absorption of the infiltration and prevents suppuration.

Tartar emetic. Pneumonia catarrhalis (bronchiolitis); second stage of pneumonia; resolution is taking place, but it is illy supported, oppression and prostration prevailing; not much pain, but extreme want of breath; pain dull, pressing and burning, extending to sternum; despair of recovery; rattling hollow cough, with heat and moist hands, sweat about the forehead; anxious oppression of chest, with rising of heat, reaching as far as the heart; dyspnoea, with desire to cough, and a quantity of rattling mucus in chest; vertigo, with dimness of vision and pressing headache; eyes slightly inflamed, staring, dull, unsteady, half open or one closed; face red, bloated, anxious or cool, pale and earthy; nostrils dark, sooty, and dilated; mouth open, parched; tongue brown, dry, great thirst: pneumonia typhosa: oedema pulmonum; impending paralysis of lungs; suitable especially to infants and old people.

Terebinthina. Typhoid pneumonia; unbearable burning and tightness across chest, with great dryness of mucous membranes or profuse expectoration; hepatization of lungs; moist crepitating râles in upper or middle lobes; entire posterior inferior region of right side of chest dull on percussion; pulse intermitting, irregular; great prostration.

Veratrum album. Dyspnoea, with rattling of mucus; fear of suffocation; frothy serous sputa; blue face; dry and spasmodic cough, accompanied by marked cerebral congestion; hurried and small pulse, cold skin and cold sweat, with excessive debility; capillary bronchitis, asthma of lungs; suitable often to old people.

Veratrum viride. Pneumonia; pulse hard, strong, quick; engorgement of lungs; sputa containing large masses of blood, with faint feeling in stomach, nausea, slow and intermittent pulse; constant burning distress in cardiac region; heart's beat loud, strong; great arterial excitement; great cerebral congestion; red streak through centre of tongue.

POISON, ADIPIC.

This dreadful poison sometimes develops itself in badly kept sausages or other pork. According to Hering, a beverage composed of equal portions of vinegar and water, to be taken in large quantities, is the best antidote. It may likewise be employed as a wash or gargle.

Instead of vinegar lemon-juice may be employed; and, if the patient should desire, these acids may be used alternately with sugar, black coffee, or fresh black tea.

If the dryness of the throat should continue after using these remedies, and, if even slimy injection should not procure an evacuation from the bowels, give brv., and continue it as long as the symptoms continue to be unfavorable.

The ailments which remain after brv. sometimes yield to phos ac and, if paralysis or consumption should set in, give ars. or kreas.

POISONS AND THEIR ANTIDOTES.

Poisoning by acids: magnesia usta for all acids, including oxalic acid, soap in the form of soapsuds.

Poisoning by alcohol: the stomach should first be emptied by a mustard emetic, administered by the stomach pump if necessary; cold water may be dashed against the breast and spine and applied to the head, while various mechanical expedients should be employed to keep the patient awake. A few drops of aqua ammoniac instilled into the throat, or held under the patient's nostrils, will suffice to terminate the attack. Actual intoxication may be often arrested by a cup of strong coffee. Liquor ammoniac acetatis ($\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 ounce diluted with sweetened water) frequently dissipates at once the signs of drunkenness.

Poisoning by alkalis: vinegar unites with them, and forming innocuous acetates arrests their corrosive action.

Poisoning by ammonia: any mild vegetable acid may be employed to neutralize the uncombined ammonia in the system; the local irritant effects require demulcent and protective remedies.

Poisoning by antimony (chloride of): chalk, magnesia and its carbonates, combined with demulcent drinks. The hydrated oxide of iron or the saccharated oxide of iron are also recommended.

Poisoning by arsenic: hydrated oxide of iron operates chiefly as a mechanical antidote, by enveloping the arsenic and shielding the stomach until the bulk of the mass or emetics cause its discharge; a very large excess of the oxide is essential to its efficiency. Lime-water is an appropriate antidote to arsenious acid, with which it forms an innocuous compound ($\frac{1}{2}$ even up to 6 ounces with an equal quantity of milk or weak animal broth). Freshly prepared magnesia is next to the freshly-prepared sesquioxide of iron as an antidote. The symptoms of poisoning produced by arsenic taken into the stomach should be met by emetics of ipecacuanha, alum, sulphate of zinc or of copper, and the administration of tepid water containing white of egg, flour, or lime-water, or with the stomach pump &c may wash out the stomach and then give the antidote; the tendency to ecchymose must be counteracted by means of hot bottles, bricks, etc., to the limbs and back.

Poisoning by belladonna: hypodermic injections of morphia, the antagonism between belladonna (atropia) and physostigma is well known.

Poisoning by bromine: aqua ammoniac.

Poisoning by calabar (physostigma): atropia; chloral, if administered within a very few minutes after the bean; morphia.

Poisoning by cantharides: give first a vegetable emetic, with copious draughts of warm water, followed by free use of mucilaginous or albuminous liquids; olive oil is also recommended as efficient in protecting the stomach as well as by occasioning vomiting.

Poisoning by carbolic acid: $\frac{1}{2}$ grain apomorphine as an emetic.

Poisoning by carbonic acid: 1, artificial respiration by mechanical and electrical means; 2, active stimulation of the skin mechanically by warmth and by irritants, and injection of a strong infusion of coffee into the rectum; if any oxygen gas can be procured, it may be forced through a laryngeal tube into the lungs.

Poisoning by chloral: coffee, galvanism, mechanical stimulants, such as friction or flagellation, etc.; in fact, the treatment of narcotism.

Poisoning by chlorine: after emesis with warm water, albumen in the form of milk, white of egg, veal broth, flour and water, or lime-water. Aqua ammonia.

Poisoning by chloroform: amyl nitris, in moderate quantities, antagonizes the primary action of chloroform narcosis, by dilating the capillaries of the brain and the skin of the face, artificial respiration; place the patient immediately in a position as will cause the blood to flow into the brain.

Poisoning by conium: alcohol, etc.; external warmth after evacuation of the poison from the stomach.

Poisoning by hydrocyanic acid: stimulation produced by the shock of cold water dashed at intervals upon the chest and spine; application of ammonia to the nostrils, induced electricity, artificial respiration, and judicious agitation of the patient.

Poisoning by hydrosulphuric acid: chlorinated lime, as a chemical antidote, decomposing it.

Poisoning by hyoscyamus: evacuate the stomach, apply warmth to extremities and cold to the head; give stimulants, especially coffee and morphia, hypodermically, in small and repeated doses.

Poisoning by iodine: give starch or wheaten flour mixed with tepid water; white of egg and milk are also efficient; free vomiting should be encouraged as long as the liquid rejected tinges blue a solution of starch. A solution of bicarbonate of soda may be given as a chemical antidote.

Poisoning by lead: in its chronic and constitutional forms give sulphur baths. Iodide of potassium most effectual in eliminating the poison.

Poisoning by lime: vinegar, forming innocuous acetates.

Poisoning by mercury: ipecacuanha or copious draughts of fluid containing albumen, eggs with milk, flour made into a paste with milk or water; milk and ice; potassium iodide destroys the compound formed by the union of mercury with certain of the tissues and eliminates the poison through the kidneys.

Poisoning by muriatic acid: magnesia, soap, bicarbonate of soda, albumen.

Poisoning by nitrate of silver: common salt, largely diluted, so as to decompose the nitrate and induce vomiting, the resulting irritation may be allayed by milk, which should also serve for food until the stomach is restored.

Poisoning by nitrobenzole: carbonate of ammonia, electricity, hot bath and simultaneously cold douche upon head and spine, frictions of skin, etc.

Poisoning by opium : remove all the poison by the stomach-pump, or if not handy, use emetics of mustard and of half a drachm of sulphate of zinc; do not allow the patient to fall asleep, dash cold water over head and chest, walk him up and down, shake him between two attendants in the open air, irritate his legs by flagellation with a wet towel, apply electricity and administer strong coffee. In extreme cases artificial respiration must be tried.

Poisoning by oxalic acid : powdered chalk mixed with water, slacked lime, as dried whitewash, may be used till a better preparation can be procured. Magnesia.

Poisoning by phosphorus : oil of turpentine is efficacious only about twelve hours after the phosphorus has been taken; if possible the oil should be given pure, floated on water, or in capsules (ten to twenty drops every half hour); if it cannot be retained by the stomach, it may be thrown into the rectum; its absorption by the skin from liniments and epithems, and by the lungs from an atomized preparation or simply from the air of the chamber saturated with the fumes of the oil, may be employed as a supplementary means; meanwhile all albuminous and oily substances should be withheld. Oxygenated water by the stomach and the inhalation of oxygen gas are considered by many the true antidotes, by converting the phosphorus into hypophosphorous and phosphoric acid, which are comparatively inert.

Poisoning by serpents : alcohol may be used to sustain life and the elimination of the poison can be accomplished. Free excision of the part to prevent absorption of the virus; long continued and frequently repeated suction by the mouth, solution Fowler's two drops every half hour and repeated for four hours.

Poisoning by strychnia : free vomiting by mustard and warm water or hypodermic injection of one-third of a grain of apomorphia, after which the bowels should be purged with castor oil or a saline purgative, artificial respiration when asphyxia threatens. As mechanical antidotes to retard the absorption of the poison, lard, sweet oil or milk may be given before the spasmodic action becomes developed, calomel counteracts the effects of strychnia, or bromide of potassium. Calabar bean and strychnia are antagonistic, but exhaustion must be prevented by the free use of stimulants; four cases are recorded where vomiting, vir. and tobacco has saved life.

Poisoning by sulphuric acid : chalk, magnesia, carbonate of magnesia, and the alkaline carbonates.

Poisoning by tartarus emet. : the stomach must be emptied as soon as possible by large draughts of tepid water containing or followed by vegetable astringents, as green tea, galls, tannic acid, etc. Its corrosive sequelæ may be moderated by stimulants.

White of an egg, dissolved in a sufficient quantity of water, and used as a drink, especially for metallic substances, such as quinine, corrosive sublimate, verdigris, tin, lead, and sulphuric acid. In violent complaints of violent pains in the stomach or distension, tenesmus, or diarrhœa, and substances, arsenic, and a large quantity of salts. In many cases it removes the ill-effects of aconite, opium, narcotic substances, poisonous mushrooms, belladonna, carbonic acid gas, hepar sulphuris, poisonous mussels, and fish, and even of adipic acid. The vinegar may be drunk or administered by the rectum, alternately with mucilaginous substances. The vinegar should be as pure as possible. Crab vinegar is of itself poisonous.

Coffee. Strong black coffee, the beans being little roasted, and drunk as hot as possible. Indispensable for a large number of poisons, especially when causing drowsiness, intoxication, loss of consciousness, or mental derangement, delirium, etc., in general antidoting narcotic substances, such as: opium, nux vom., belladonna, narcotic mushrooms, poisonous sumach, bitter almonds, prussic acid, and all those substances containing it, bell., calocypth., valer., cicuta, and cham. In case of poisoning with antimony, phosphor., and phosphoric acid, coffee is no less indispensable.

Camphor. Principal antidote of all vegetable substances, especially such as have a corrosive effect, or when vomiting and diarrhoea, pale face, cold extremities, and loss of consciousness are present. Camphor is a specific remedy for the ill-effects of poisonous insects, especially cantharides, whether administered internally or externally. Likewise for the effects of so-called worm medicines, tobacco, bitter almonds, and other fruits containing prussic acid. It is likewise useful for the secondary affections remaining after poisoning with acids, salts, metals, phosphorus, poisonous mushrooms, etc., after the poisonous substance itself has been removed from the stomach by means of vomiting, etc.

Milk. Less useful than is supposed. To procure an artificial covering or envelop for the poison, mucilaginous substances are to be preferred. Fat milk (or cream) is suitable in all cases where oil is useful, and injurious where oil also would be hurtful. Curdled or sour milk is suitable or not suitable in all cases where vinegar is or is not.

Olive oil. Less useful than is believed. It is of no use in cases of metallic poisoning, and even hurtful in cases of poisoning with arsenic. It is very bad for the ill-effects of canthar. This remark applies to poisoning with any other insect, or if the poison should have got into one's eye. Oil may be used to facilitate the extraction of insects from the ear in case they should have got into it. Oil is most suitable for poisoning with corrosive acids, such as nitric acid, sulphuric acid, etc. It is sometimes useful in cases of poisoning with alkalies, to be administered alternately with vinegar, and in cases of poisoning with mushrooms.

Mucilaginous substances. Drinks or injections of mucilaginous substances should be resorted to in cases of poisoning with alkalies, especially when administered alternately with vinegar.

Soap. Common castile soap, dissolved in four times its bulk of hot water, and drunk, is one of the best remedies in many cases of poisoning. It may be drunk by the cupful: a cupful every two, three, four minutes, in all cases where the white of an egg is indicated, does not produce sufficient relief. Soap is particularly useful in cases of poisoning with metallic substances, especially arsenic. Likewise for poisoning with corrosive acids, such as: sulphuric acid, etc., with alum, corrosive vegetable substances, castor oil, etc. Soap is hurtful in cases of poisoning with alkalies, such as: lye, nitrate of silver, potash, soda, oleum tartari, ammonium muriaticum (saline), ammonium carbonicum, caustic, or burnt lime barytes, etc.

Sugar, or sugar-water, one of the best remedies in many cases. In case of poisoning with mineral acids or alkalies, it is best to resort at once to the specific antidote, though sugar is not hurtful. In case of poisoning with metallic substances, various kinds of paint, verdigris, copper, sulphate of copper, alum, etc., sugar is preferable to every other remedy, and not till the patient has been relieved by the sugar, administer the white of an egg or soap-water alternately with sugar. Sugar is likewise an excellent antidote in cases of poisoning with arsenic, or corrosive vegetable substances.

The first thing we have to do, in treating a case of poisoning, is to remove the poison by vomiting, and then to administer suitable antidotes.

If we should not be able to ascertain what kind of poison had been swallowed, we should first administer the white of an egg, and, if there should be stupefaction, coffee.

If we should know that the poison is:

a. A metallic substance, we have to give: first, the white of an egg, sugar-water, soap-water, and afterward, for the remaining ailments sulph., which is a real antidote to metals.

b. If acids and corrosive substances, give: 1, soap-water; 2, magnesia, dissolved in water; 3, chalk-water; 4, alkalies or potash, dissolved in water, taking a tablespoonful as long as the vomiting continues. Afterwards mucilaginous drinks, and alternately cod. and op. as homeopathic antidotes.

As regards the remaining ailments, give puls. for sulphuric acid; bry. for muriatic acid; acon. for the other acids, and especially em-pyple vinegar. If the skin should have been corroded by poisons, apply soap water or a watery solution of caust.; and, if corrosive substances should have got into the eyes, apply sweet almond oil or fresh unsalted butter.

c. For alkaline substances: 1, vinegar and water, in large quantities; 2, lemon-juice, or acids from other fruits, diluted with much water; 3, sour milk; 4, mucilaginous drinks, or injections. Vinegar is hurtful in cases of poisoning with barytes: but epsom salt, dissolved in water, renders good service, afterwards: canth. or nitr. spur. The secondary effects of poisoning with potash require coll. or carb. v.; and those of poisoning with spirits of ammonia, op.

d. For the inhalation of noxious vapors, sprinkle the patient with vinegar and water, or let him inhale the vapors of a solution of chlor. afterwards, after the return of consciousness, give black coffee or a few doses of op. or bell. See Vapors.

e. For vegetable poisons. 1, camphor, by olfaction, or sometime a drop of the spirits of camphor on sugar; 2, black coffee or vinegar, especially for narcotic vegetable juices. The best antidotes for corrosive vegetable juices are soap-water and milk.

f. For animal poisons, see the single poisons, such as: cantharides adipe poison, stings of insects, fish poison, poisonous honey, etc. For toad poison, or similar poisons, if they should have got into the stomach, give powdered charcoal, stirred up with oil or milk, or let the patient smell of the sweet spirits of nitre, if bad symptoms should set in, and afterward give ars. If a poison of this kind should have got into the eye, give acon.

As regards the wounds or bites inflicted by poisonous animals, Hering proposes the following mode of treatment: For the bites of poisonous serpents, mad dogs, or other poisonous animals, apply heat at a distance, for which purpose anything may be used which is handy at the time: a red-hot iron, incandescent piece of coal, or even a burning cigar; hold this as near as possible without burning the skin. The heat should be kept up uniformly, and should be concentrated upon the wound exclusively. The edges of the wound should be covered over with oil or fat, and this should be repeated as often as the skin gets dry. If no oil or fat can be had, use soap, or even saliva. Wipe off carefully everything which is discharged from the wound. Continue the application of heat until the patient feels chilly and stretches himself: if this should take place too speedily, continue to apply the heat for about an hour, or until the effects of the poison commence to disappear.

At the same time administer internal remedies. In the case of a serpent's bite, give the patient a swallow of salt water from time to time, or a pinch of salt or powder, or a few pieces of garlic.

If, nevertheless, dangerous symptoms should set in, give a table-spoonful of wine or brandy every two or three minutes: continue this until the symptoms abate, and repeat the brandy at every return of a paroxysm.

If the stitching pains should increase in violence, and be felt near the heart; if the wound, at the same time, should be bluish, checkered like marble and swollen, with vomiting, vertigo, and diarrhoea, give ars., and another dose in half an hour, if the symptoms should continue to get worse, or only in three hours, if they should remain unchanged; if an improvement should set in after the first dose, do not repeat the medicine until the symptoms get worse again.

If ars., even if repeated, should have no effect, give bell. In some cases senega may be tried. The chronic sequelæ of the bite of a serpent require phos. ac. and merc.

If the bite should have been inflicted by a mad dog, apply heat at a distance, as above, and, for the remaining treatment, see Hydrophobia.

If the bite should proceed from a man or animal which is not mad, but furious, give hydrophobia, which is recommended by Hering.

Wounds which have become poisonous in consequence of decayed animal matter or pus having got into them, require ars.

To guard against unpleasant consequences in case we should have to touch decayed animal substances, poisonous wounds or ulcers, or men and animals infected with contagious diseases, we should hold our hands for ten or fifteen minutes near as strong a heat as can be borne, and afterwards wash them with soap. The use of color in such cases is well known.

POLYPI.

Principal remedies:

1, calc., lyc., sang., staph.; 2, con., kali b., merc., nitr. ac., phos.

ac., puls., sil., thuj.; 3. ambr., ant., ars., aur., graph., hep., mez., petr., sep., sulph., sulph. ac., tencr.; 4. hydr.

For VESICULAR POLYPI: calc.

FIBROUS GROWTHS require: 1. calc., staph.; 2. ars., hydr., lyc., petr., phos., sep., sil., sulph., tencr., thuj.

SARCOMATOUS GROWTHS: 1. calc., staph., thuj.; 2. lyc., merc., nitr. ac., phos.

GRANULOUS GROWTHS: 1. nitr. ac., thuj.; 2. calc., lyc., staph.

SPONGY GROWTHS: 1. calc., staph.; 2. lyc., merc., nitr. ac., phos., sep., sil., sulph.

It should not be forgotten that, if we wish to treat polypi successfully, we should allow a dose of the appropriate remedy to act six or eight weeks.

POLYPUS OF THE BLADDER. In regard to this disease, we possess the record of only one case, treated successfully with calc. Perhaps we might try staph., or con., merc., phos., puls., sil., thuj.

POLYPUS OF THE EAR. Try: calc., dulc., merc., staph., sulph.

POLYPUS OF THE NOSE. Principal remedy: puls. four doses $\frac{1}{4}$ every four days a dose, then a dose calc., whose action should remain undisturbed for six to eight weeks, or longer, and if this does not help, sang.

Trucrum is of little use. Try: hydr., kali b., phos., sep., sil., staph.

POLYPUS OF THE UTERUS OR VAGINA. Try: 1. calc., lyc., nitr. ac., plat., puls.; 2. aur., con., merc., mez., petr., phos., phos. ac., sil., staph., thuj. For granular vegetations, condylomata: thuj., nitr. ac., staph., calc., lyc., merc., tart.

PORRIGO DECALVANS.

Graph., hep., mez., natr. mur., phos., sep., sulph. See Alopecia. Hair Falling Out.

POTBELLIED.

If the patients be children, see Atrophy of Scrofulous Children.

If young girls, at the age of pubescence: lach.

If old females, or females who have borne many children, give 1. sepi.; or 2 bell., calc.? chin.? n. vom.? plat.?

PREGNANCY.

a. Convulsions and spasms. See Hysteria and Convulsions during Labor.

b. Morning sickness and vomiting; acon., aletris, anacard., apomorphia, ars., carbol. ac., con., ferr., jatropha, ipec., kali brom., kreas., lact. ac., lach., lac. caninum, hlinum, magn. mur., natr. mur., nux. mosch., nux. vom., petr., phos., plat., plumb., psor., puls., sep., sil., symplecarpus, tarant., ver. alb.

Aletris far. Obstinate vomiting during pregnancy, obstinate indigestion, with much debility; nausea and disgust for food; least food causes distress in stomach; frequent attacks of fainting, with vertigo; sleep all the time, with emaciation; constipation.

Anacardium. Morning nausea, with empty feeling in stomach; vomiting of ingesta, which gives relief; nausea worse before and after eating, better while eating; weak digestion, with fulness and distension of abdomen.

Arsenicum. Vomiting after meals and at night, with gastralgia; burning pains, anguish; burning thirst, with diarrhoea after eating and drinking; burning pains in mammae; relief from motion.

Carbolic acid. Vomiting of pregnant women, with frantic headache, and irritability; nausea nearly all the morning; dull aching uneasy feeling in stomach; torpor of bowels.

Cuprum ars. Constant nausea, vomits everything; very weak; pulse full and quick; spasmodic uterine pains.

Cuprum met. Frequent vomiting, attended by agonizing and long-continued pain and retching; frequent cramps in limbs; great mental disquiet and restlessness night and day.

Cyclamen. Loathing and nausea in mouth and throat; feels as if the brain were in motion when leaning against something; vertigo; object turns in a circle about her; dimness of vision, with fiery sparks before eyes; fatty taste; fat food disagrees; wants no breakfast.

Ferrum acet. Vomiting of food, with a fiery red face; renewed vomiting after eating; everything she vomits tastes sour and acid; vomiting of blood; nervous erethism.

Gossypium. Great distress, weakness, and prostration; nausea before breakfast; found useful in very bad cases.

Ignatia. Great emptiness; qualmsiness and weakness in region of stomach, with flat taste; distension of abdomen after eating; hic-cough, sour eructations; frequent regurgitation of food, and of bitter liquid; vomiting at night of food taken in the evening; empty retching, relieved by eating; salivation, copious lemon-colored urine; clavus hystericus.

Ipecacuanha. One continual sense of nausea all the time; vomiting of fluids and solids in an undigested state; vomiting of large quantities of mucus, bilious vomiting; diarrhoea and colic.

Kali carb. Sickness of pregnancy without vomiting, coming on only during a walk, feeling as if she could lie down anywhere and die; vomiting with a swoonlike failing of strength; very sleepy during a meal; aching in back of pregnant women.

Lactic acid. Nausea and vomiting of sour substances; sour taste; no desire for breakfast, the food seems to come almost up into the mouth; faintness in stomach; waterbrash of hot sour fluid; hot, acrid, eructations, which burn from stomach to mouth; nausea relieved by breakfast; diarrhoea.

Lilium. Vomiting from malposition of uterus; frequent hawking of mucus from throat.

Nux vom. Nausea and vomiting every morning, loss of appetite; vomiting of a sticky mucus and a sour fluid; restless sleep, particularly after 3 A.M., with nausea and vomiting in the morning, and great depression of spirit; vomiting of food, or bile, of black or sour matter; longing for alcoholic stimulants; constipation.

Petroleum. Applicable to all gastric troubles of pregnant women; vomiting of bile, diarrhoea only in daytime; worse when riding; aversion to fat food and meat; dizziness after a slight meal.

Pulsatilla. Vomiting evening or night of green, slimy, lathyrus masses; heating in pit of stomach; flatulent colic evenings or at night, with frequent stools of white, green, or yellow mucus.

Rhus tox. Putrid taste after the first mouthful; eructation and nausea, with inclination to vomit; cramps in legs, at night very severe, no appetite, or hunger without appetite.

Sabadilla. No relish for food till she takes the first morsel, then she makes a good meal; horrid burning in stomach, as if it would burn up into the throat; sweetish taste; frequent spitting of insipid water.

Sepia. Vomiting of milky water or mucus; sense of emptiness in pit of stomach; thought of food sickens her; taste as of manure; aversion to meat and bread; morning nausea; vomiting of food or bile; before pregnancy uterine anomalies, with yellowish or purulent leucorrhœa.

Silicea. Qualmishness and vomiting in women whose menses were always accompanied by palpitations; taste of blood in the morning; nausea, with palpitation of heart after every exercise that raises the temperature of body; aversion to meat; constipation; great weakness at night; pressure at pit of stomach; nausea after lying down; frequent sour or loud eructations; vomiting after every drink, nervous exhaustion.

Staphisagria. Extreme hunger, even when the stomach is full, sensation as if the stomach were hanging down relaxed, constant accumulation of water in the mouth.

Sulphur. Profuse salivation, the taste of which causes nausea and spells of vomiting; flashes of heat, aversion to meat and craving for brandy.

Tarantula. Loss of appetite, intense thirst; general prostration, vomiting after eating and getting out of bed, craving for raw food.

Tart. emet. Vomiting of large quantities of mucus; belching, disgust for food; nausea; salivation.

Veratrum alb. Violent retching and vomiting, craves fruit and juicy articles of food; wants everything cold; craving for acids and salt food; canine hunger, feels very weak and faint.

Zincum. Taste of blood in mouth, and terrible heartburn after taking sweets; greediness when eating; she can't eat fast enough, fidgety feet.

c. For toothache during pregnancy.

Alumina. Drawing toothache, pain extending to other parts, as larynx, neck, shoulders.

Arsenicum. Periodical toothache, occurring mostly at night, when it becomes nearly unbearable; she is unable to remain in bed, and must get up.

Belladonna. Pains as if caused by ulceration; worse when lying down at night or in the cold air, pains mostly on right side of face, extending to eye, with moaning and weeping.

Calcarea. Toothache, worse from the slightest change of air, whether warm or cold, from drinking anything warm or cold, acute excitement, etc. (Calc. fluor.)

Chamomilla. Pains render her frenzied, jerking in teeth.

Gelsemium. General nervous excitement, or weak and trembling; pains come on in paroxysms and dart through jaws and face, congestion of head and face.

Hyoscyamus. Violent tearing and pulsating pains, causing spasmodic jerks of fingers, hands, arms, facial muscles; spasms in throat; delirium from pain.

Magnesia c. Inupportable pain during repose; she must get up and walk about.

Mercurius. Teeth feel sore to touch, feel elongated and as if loose, worse when eating.

Mezereum. Pains extend to the bones of the face and temples, particularly when they run along the left malar bone to temple.

Nux mosch. Pains in front teeth on inhaling cool air or taking warm drinks; feeling as if teeth were grasped to be pulled out.

Nux vom. Toothache in cross and morose women, suffering from piles, constipation, etc.

Phosphorus. Jerking and twitching toothache; periosteum of tooth inflamed and tender to the touch.

Pulsatilla. Relief upon exposure to cold air, or when taking cold food and drink.

Ratania. Toothache worse lying down, must get up and walk about. (Magn. c.)

Rhus tox. Rheumatic toothache, especially from getting wet; relief by heat to face.

Staphisagria. Teeth grow black, become carious and brittle; sensitiveness to mental and physical impressions.

§ 3. Prosopalgia of plethoric persons is frequently removed by: 1, acon., bell.; or, 2, calc., chin., lach., phosph., plat.

Of nervous persons, by: bell., lach., lyc., plat., spig.

§ 4. Symptomatic indications.

Aconitum. Red and hot face, with pain on one side, creeping, or from an ulcer; swelling of the cheek or jaws; fever heat; thirst; violent pains, with restlessness and anguish; pain limited to small spot; recent rheumatic paralysis of facial nerve; lobe of ear red.

Argentum nitr. One-sided, dull, drawing pains, spreading from right temple to the upper jaw, and through the dental arches, often mistaken for toothache; during paroxysms, unpleasant sour taste in mouth.

Arsenicum. Burning, stinging pains, darting quickly, like red-hot needles, from place to place, worse about midnight; face pale and distorted; puffiness around eyes; great restlessness; better by warmth, periodicity.

Baryt. carb. More chronic cases; anæmic form of prosopalgia; twitches and tingling in left side of face; sensation as if skin were covered with cobweb; tension in face.

Belladonna. Right side affected with convulsive twitching of the muscles of the face, the pain follows the course of the infraorbital nerve, shooting tearing from the side of face up into the temple, ear, and down into the nape of neck, which become rigid; worse from touch and motion, hard pressure sometimes relieves; spasm of the eyelids; noise, light, jarring, and currents of air aggravate the pain, which is worse in the afternoon; flushed, hot, and red face; pain gets gradually intolerable and then ceases suddenly after abuse of mercury.

Bismuthum. The most excruciating pains relieved by continually running about or by taking cold water in the mouth, worse when it becomes warm; features changed, as if he had been sick.

Cactus. Right side; pains worse from slightest exertion, tolerable only when lying still in bed, brought on by wine, strong light, music, or missing dinner at the usual hour; returns at same hour daily.

Causticum. Chronic cases; right side, from the cheek bones to the mastoid process, worse at night, and relieved by rubbing with cold water; lameness of facial muscles, or drawing pains in the jaws, so that the patient cannot open them, rheumatic pains in limbs; buzzing in ears; chilliness; scanty menses.

Cedron. Unbearable neuralgic pains, but wandering from one place to another place, although emanating from a carious tooth; pressing or tearing pain in one or both cheeks, with occasional shooting under the orbits; puffiness of face; clocklike periodicity

Chamomilla. Neuralgia of face, pain causes hot sweat about head, and extorts screams; twitching in eyelids, eyeballs, lips, and facial muscles; patient wild and unruly, tossing and rolling about, menses usually profuse; worse at night and by warmth.

Chelidonium. Neuralgic pains across eyes from left to right, accompanied by most profuse lachrymation and dread of light tenderness of temples to pressure; neuralgia supraorbitalis et temporalis dextra; violent tearing in maxillary antrum, flushes of heat in face; slight amelioration by pressure with hands, worse from heat, fresh air, any motion of head, and especially bowing.

China. Periodical neuralgic attacks, pains excessive, and so sensitive to least touch; parts feel weak; face alternately pale or red, pains from left to right, especially in infraorbital and maxillary branches, worse from draughts of air, from least touch, lying down, and in the night; great weakness after the paroxysm.

Chininum sulph. Paroxysm sets in at the same hour daily, the intervals are free from pain, and there is no complication with gastric or other derangements.

Cimicifuga. Prosopalgia as a reflex neuralgia of an ovarian affection, rheumatic facial neuralgia, hysterical lachrymation, neuritis affecting the malar bone, pain goes off at night, and reappears the next day; frequent flushes of heat, wants to be in the open air, great debility between menses.

Cina. Periodic twisting tearing pain in zygoma, wandering from one part to another; like stickings as with needles in lower jaw, increased by pressure with the hand, all pains reinduced by external pressure; pain as if both malar bones were pressed together and pinched.

Colchicum. Tearing and tensive pains in facial muscles, moving from one location to another, drawing in bones of face and nose, with sensation as if they were being rent asunder.

Conium. Heat in the face, with congestion of blood to the face, bluish swollen face; lacerating in the right half of the face, soreness of face as from excoriation; darting pains in teeth; aggravation from eating and drinking.

Dulcamara. Facial neuralgia, seemingly starting from malar bone, paroxysm preceded by the parts becoming very cold, attended with canine hunger, worse or excited by the slightest exposure to cold, better from external warmth.

Eucalyptus glob. Periodical facieache.

Ferrum. Neuralgia after cold washing and overheating, during the paroxysms the face gets fiery red, sometimes only in one spot; cannot keep the head quiet, at intervals the face looks pale and earthy.

Gelsemium. Neuralgic affections of the fifth nerve, particularly where the pain runs along one of its divisions at a time. Acute, sudden, darting, and shooting pains, with contractions and twitchings of the muscles supplied by the affected nerve; extreme general nervousness and loss of control over the voluntary muscles, giving rise to odd, irregular actions.

Hepar. Chronic cases; pains in the malar bones, worse when touching the parts, extending to the ears and temples, worse in fresh air, and better from wrapping up the face; at the same time coryza, hoarseness, much sweating, and rheumatic pains.

Ignatia. Supraorbital neurosis; convulsive twitching of facial muscles.

Iris vers. Pain in head, temples, and eyes, attended with most distressing vomiting of a sweetish mucus, and, if attended by much straining, of some bile.

Kali bichrom. Supraorbital neuralgia of left side; shooting pain in left upper maxillary bone towards the ear; bones of face sensitive, painful, as if bruised; face pale; cold sweat on face and body; weariness after the pain.

Kali carb. Tearing stitches from a molar into forehead, eyes, and temples; stinging in cheeks.

Kalmia. Prosopalgia right side, pains rending, agonizing, stupefying or threatening delirium; pressing pains on right side of face, especially between the eye and nose; rheumatic pain in the scalp; pain over right eye, which is weak and watery, with giddiness; neuralgia each afternoon in head, becoming worse at night; pain runs from back of neck up over scalp to top of head, then to temples and face mostly on right side; parts tender to touch, better from cold, worse from heat; facial neuralgia, involving teeth of upper jaw, but not arising from caries, periosteal pains.

Kreasot. Jerking, tearing, sticking, burning pains in anterior part of head, semilateral and extending to the cheeks, jaws, teeth, and neck, induced by talking, moving, sitting up, or lying on the side not affected, with great excitability and nervous irritability.

Lachesis. Left-sided orbital neuralgia, rising of heat in face before and weak feeling in abdomen after attack.

Magnesia phos. Old cases of facial neuralgia, most in supra-orbital branch, sometimes going to the inferior maxillary mental branch; jerking-cutting pain, worse when body gets cold; increased lachrymation.

Mercurius. Tearing pains, worse at night in bed; often starts from a decayed tooth, and involves the whole side of the face, which may be red and swollen, with pyæmia, lachrymation, constant inclination to perspire, restlessness and sleeplessness; recent cases from cold and chill.

Mezereum. Pain in zygoma and temple, right side; boring in upper maxilla and carious teeth, with frequent troublesome muscular twitchings of right cheek; prosopalgia left side from over eye to eyeball, cheek, teeth, neck, and shoulder; lachrymation; conjunctiva injected; parts sensitive to touch; neuralgic pains come quickly and leave the parts numb; worse from warmth; facial muscles drawn tense; flow of saliva, redness of fauces; burning in throat, red spots on nape of neck; formation in the skin of chest; constant chilliness; after abuse of mercury, especially for syphilitic, scrofulous, and herpetic persons.

Natrum mur. Pain in malar bones, worse when chewing; proso-palgia recurring periodically, especially after checked ague; face swollen, great thirst; whiskers fall off; itching and eruption on face, faceache with an increased flow of tears at the height of an attack; neuralgia of trigeminus with lachrymation; cheeks corroded from tears.

Nux vomica. Tearing pain in the course of the infranorbital and middle branch of trigeminus, with redness and watering of the eye, flow of clear water from eye and nostril of affected side, face numb, patient morose, irritable, constipated, belches a good deal, intermittent prosopalgia; worse from coffee, liquors, and quinine.

Phosphorus. While urinating, burning in neck of bladder: cham., nux v., petr., sulph.

Small stream of urine: graph., oleand., nitr. ac., sars., spong., staph. sulph., tax., zinc.

Must press a long time before urine flows: alum., apis, hep., nuph., populus, sec., tax.

Involuntary urination, drop by drop: aloes, arm., bell., mur. ac., dig., petr., puls., sep.

Special indications:

Aconite. Prostatitis with great urging to urinate, great pain in micturition, or where in milder cases there is great pain in walking, especially downstairs.

Aloes. Sensation as if a plug were wedged between symphysis and coccyx, pressing downwards; incontinence of urine from enlarged prostate.

Apis mel. Excessive pain in vesical region, frequent desire and pressing down in the region of the sphincter; frequent desire to urinate not only during day, but has to get up often at night, agony in passing urine.

Causticum. Pulsations in the perineum; after a few drops have passed, pain in urethra, bladder, and spasms in the rectum, with renewed desire.

Chimaphila. Sensation of swelling in perineum, as if on sitting down a ball was pressing against it; excessive itching and painful irritation of urethra from the end of penis to neck of bladder; prostatic disease, with waste of prostatic fluid; urine thick, ropy.

Conium. Discharge of prostatic fluid on every change of emotion, without voluptuous thoughts, with itching of prepuce.

Copaiva. Urine is emitted by drops; burning and sensation of dryness in the region of the prostate gland; induration of the prostate gland.

Cyclamen. In and near the anus, and in the perineum, drawing-pressing pain, as from subcutaneous ulceration of a small spot, while walking or sitting.

Digitalis. Fruitless effort to urinate, or discharge of only a few drops of urine, and continued fulness after micturition; throbbing pain in the region of the neck of the bladder during the straining efforts to pass water; increased desire to urinate after a few drops have passed, causing the patient to walk about in great distress, although motion increases the desire to urinate; frequent desire to defecate at the same time; very small soft stools passed without relief.

Hepar. Discharge of prostatic fluid after micturition and during hard stool; also independent of either.

Iodum. Swelling and induration of the testicles and of the prostate gland; incontinence of urine in the aged.

Kali bichr. Stitches in prostata when walking, must stand still; prostatic fluid escapes at stool, painful drawing from perineum into urethra; after micturition, burning in back part of urethra as if one drop had remained behind, with unsuccessful effort to void it; stitches in urethra.

Lycopodium. Pressing on perineum near anus, during and after micturition; stitches in neck of bladder and anus at the same time; urging to urinate, must wait long before it passes; incontinence of urine.

Magnesium carb. Discharge of prostatic fluid when passing flatulence.

Natrum carb. Prostatorrhœa after urinating and after difficult stool.

Natrum sulph. Enlarged prostata, pus and mucus in urine.

Populus. Enlarged prostata, catarrh of bladder, painful urination.

Psorinum. Discharge of prostatic fluid before urinating; frequent scanty urine, burning and cutting in urethra.

Pulsatilla. Painfulness in region of the bladder; frequent desire to urinate; dull stitches in the region of the neck of bladder; after micturition spasmodic pains in neck of bladder extending to pelvis and thighs; feces flat, of small size from enlarged prostata.

Selenium. Prostatic juice oozes while sitting, during sleep, when walking, and at stool, causing a peculiar disagreeable sensation; the same sensation is felt shortly before and after stool.

Thuja. Syphilis and sycosis, especially suppressed or badly treated gonorrhœa; stitches in urethra from behind, also from rectum into bladder.

Asafoetida. Soft enlargement and curvature of bones; body bloated; scrofulous, bloated, clumsy children with swelling of glands, most pains accompanied by numbness in affected parts; child screams on seeing dressings prepared; ulcers and sores raw-looking, bloody, and dark.

Baryta carb. Imperfect development; dwarfish children, mentally as well as physically; glands indurated, swollen, abdomen hard and distended; scurfs on head, ears, and nose, eyes inflamed, face puffed; general emaciation.

Belladonna. Curvature of the lumbar vertebrae; squinting, enlarged pupils; pain in the throat when swallowing; thick protruding belly; gait unsteady and staggering; complexion pale, with occasional flushes of heat.

Brucea antidysenterica. The feet are turned outward, and the children walk on their inner ankles.

Calcarea carb. The child cuts its teeth late, does not learn to walk for a long time, the fontanels are late in closing, abdomen greatly enlarged; whitish frothy diarrhoea; curvature of spine, and deformity of extremities.

Calcarea phos. Skull soft and thin, crackling noise like paper when pressed; delayed closure or reopening of the fontanels; head totters, cannot hold the head up; sallow, earthy face, full of pimples; retarded dentition, with cold tremors and emaciation, diarrhoea during dentition, with much flatus; curvature of spine to the left, lumbar vertebrae bend forward; condyles swollen on forearms and short limbs; non-union of fractured bones; spina bifida; flabby, shrunken, emaciated children.

Fluoric acid. Diseases of bones, particularly of the long bones; weakly constitution, sallow complexion, emaciation.

Kali hydroiod. Rachitis; distension of all tissues by intestinal infiltration, enlarged glands; swelling of the bones, hard lumps on cranium, decaying teeth; tearing-darting pains in all the limbs; jerks or contractions of tendons; remarkable emaciation; tenderness of the entire body, especially of head (otitis infantilis); extremely irritable, fretful.

Kali phos. Rachitis with atrophy; profuse, discolored, foul-smelling diarrhoea; violent thirst, sometimes discolored vomiting; brown covering of the teeth, etc.

Lycopodium. Glandular swellings, softening of the bones, nocturnal bone-pains, the ends of the bones inflamed, emaciation and debility from loss of fluids; upper parts wasted, lower parts swollen.

Mezereum. Bones feel distended; soreness and burning at base of thorax, bones inflamed, swollen, especially shafts of cylindrical bones, joints feel bruised, weary, as if they would give way; emaciation of diseased parts.

Phosphoric acid. Pale, sickly look, great debility; painless diarrhoea; tottering gait; painless swelling of glands; interstitial oedema.

Pulsatilla. Emaciation, especially of suffering parts; glands swollen, painful, hot; scraping or tingling in periosteum; jerking and boring in bones.

Ruta. Tottering gait, as if the thighs were weak, and there is much pain in them on walking.

Silicea. Open fontanels; head too large and rest of body emaciated, with pale face; abdomen swollen, hot; weak ankles; profuse head-sweat and body dry; like wrapping up; offensive diarrhoea, stools contain undigested food, with great exhaustion, but painless; inflammation, swelling, and suppuration of glands; inflammation, swelling, ulceration, and necrosis of bones; cellular inflammations, boils, abscesses, etc., with tardy recovery and subsequent induration. Hæclava also gives us that string of pearls around the neck, and follows well after silica.

Staphisagria. Black, crumbling carious teeth; painful swelling of glands, swelling and suppuration of the bones and of periosteum.

Sulphur. Fontanels close too late; pale sickly-looking face; eyes sunken with blue margins; diarrhoea of scrofulous children, as if the bowels were too weak to retain their contents; sensation as if the vertebrae were gliding one over the other, when turning in bed; cracking in cervical vertebrae, especially on bending backwards; curvature of spine, vertebrae softened; glandular swellings indurated or suppurating.

Theridion. Scrofula when other remedies fail; rachitis, caries, necrosis; it reaches the root of the evil and destroys the cause.

Symptomatic indications:

Aconite. Exposure to a draught of cold dry air; synochal fever and restlessness, stitching pains in chest, hindering free respiration and great agitation of the heart, with anxiety. Articular rheumatism, with hot, pale, or red swelling of joints, shifting sometimes from one to another; loud outcries and complaints, with weeping and despairing anxiety; muscular rheumatism of the lower extremity or calf of the leg, a dead heavy aching, worse from motion, from letting the limb hang down, except when it supports the weight of the body, when it feels better.

Abrotanum. Rheumatism from suddenly checked diarrhoea, cannot move head, arms or legs; much pain, but no swelling; painful inflammatory rheumatism before the swelling commences; sharp pains in cardiac region; dull pain in fingers; right to left.

Actæa spic. Very severe agonizing pain in the metacarpal and metatarsal articulations, or in small joints generally; pains of a tearing-drawing character, very tender to touch, worse at night.

Ammonium phos. Arthritis nodosa, joints of fingers, hands, and back swollen and bent; loss of appetite, emaciation, sleeplessness; nervous irritability; evening fever.

Antimon. crud. Drawing, shooting, and tensive pains; shortening of the muscles and tendons, with bending of the limbs, worse by warm air and heat of the sun, with gastric symptoms, nausea, vomiting, white tongue, and great thirst at night; rheumatism of muscular tissue, especially of the biceps flexor cubiti; rheumatism of feet, when the soles of the feet are so sensitive that patient can hardly step on them.

Apis. Chronic rheumatism; the least movement, even that of hands, increases the pain in the lower limbs; stiffness in back; burning pressing in coccygeal region, worse from any attempt to sit down; lame feeling in scapulae; darting, sticking pains in upper and lower limbs, with a paralyzed feeling; burning pain in both lower limbs, from thighs to ankles, could not move the feet; rheumatic lameness of limbs; before going to bed at night a hard shivering fit; headache and sleeplessness; skin warm; profuse sweat brings relief.

Apocynum andros. Rheumatism and gout; pain especially in right shoulder and knee; pains in the joint of the big toe, in arms vomiting, with or without diarrhoea, pain and stiffness in back of head and neck; dull heavy pain in chest, while breathing, rheumatic headaches; worse after sleep or continued quiet.

Arnica. Tearing pain, great soreness, numbness, and swelling of the affected parts; fears even the possibility of being touched, sensation as if resting on something very hard, worse evening and night, and by moving the affected parts. Intercostal rheumatism, podagra, great irritability of mind.

Arsenicum. Protracted cases, with nocturnal aggravations of pains, emaciation and profuse sweating from exhausted vitality; pains felt during sleep; drawing-tearing pains, especially in arm with inability to lie on affected side, and relief by motion of the affected part; external application of heat relieves and causes perspiration, but leaves the patient terribly exhausted.

Asafoetida. The seat of pain is in the periosteum; drawing, tearing, stitching pains in extremities; twitching of the flexors of the arms and legs; constant change of position.

Aurum mur. Continued gnawing-boring pain deep in the joints after the inflammatory symptoms have subsided.

Belladonna. Congestion to the brain, and nervous excitement, with excessive pain and erysipelatous swelling of the joints, stitching-burning pain, worse afternoon and early part of night, and to talking or slightest motion, pressing, tearing, cutting pains, deep in the bones, frequently running from the affected joint along the limbs like electric shocks, red shining swelling of the joints.

Particular indications :

Aconite. Full quick pulse, dry hot burning skin, fever, restlessness, headache, peevishness which revolts against all interference ; or, at a later period, sudden excruciating pain in stomach, gagging retching, vomiting of blood, stoppage of breath ; distressed face, anguish, cold sweat on forehead, gasping.

Aëlanthus. Adynamic malignant scarlatina. General prostration, marked cerebral affection ; pulse small, weak, often irregular, skin generally harsh, hot, and dry ; livid eruption, more profuse on forehead and face ; violent vomiting, dizziness, photophobia, muttering delirium, stupor, and insensibility ; pupils dilated ; great thirst, with dry parched tongue ; throat congested, dark-colored, in some cases ulcerated and attended with great glandular swelling ; torpor, skin cold and dry ; after pressing with the finger the color returns very slowly; great exhaustion; petechiæ; eruption is slow to make its appearance, remains livid, and even the forehead and face take on a rather purplish color; skin dry, but not hot; irregular, patchy, livid eruption, disappearing on pressure and returning very slowly, interspersed with small vesicles, worse on forehead, neck, and chest.

Ammonium carb. Malignant scarlatina, with disposition to torpor and colliquation, when there is danger of gangrene; putrid sore throat; hard swelling of the right parotid and lymphatic glands of the neck; enlarged and livid tonsils, covered with a rapidly degenerating, sticky, offensive muco; burning pain in throat, sticky salivation; faintly developed eruption; heaviness of head, drowsiness; stertorous breathing; involuntary stools, threatened paralysis of brain, with excessive vomiting.

Anthracin. Glands under chin painfully swollen, of stony hardness, swallowing exceedingly difficult, with great thirst; pulse frequent, small, with violent action of the heart; great restlessness, debility and depression, with pain in limbs; hemorrhagic exudations, induration of cellular tissue, cynanche cellularis.

Apis mel. High fever, with chilliness from least movement, heat of feet and hands when patient complains of chilliness; headache, holds head in hands; burning and stinging of skin; dryness of throat; tongue dry, of deep red color, swollen and inflamed, often covered with blisters; inability to swallow; dryness of mouth, without thirst; tonsils swollen and hard; dry ulcers on tonsils and palate, sloughing abrasions on tonsils, stinging smarting pain in throat, dysphagia; nausea and vomiting, with soreness of pit of stomach to touch; nose stuffed up; skin red, hot and sensitive, somewhat relieved by cold sponging; great restlessness and nervous agitation, suppression of urine, or urine scanty and high colored, voided with difficulty; anasarca condition, with very scanty urine; oppressed respiration, great trembling, heat of skin and fever changeable, comes in flashes; delirium, the patient is inclined to scream out post scarlatinal complaints; paleness of face and suspicious pullings of eyelids, swelling of face, limbs and abdomen; anasarca, ascites; face and limbs cold; albuminuria; waxy skin; aggravated by heat, relieved by cold; scarlatina typhosa, the whole nervous system resting under the paralyzing influences of the poison.

Arnica. Typhoid state, with epistaxis or hæmoptysis, worse by coughing; ecchymosis on different parts of body, or even small bleeds.

Arsenicum. Typhoid forms, especially at the commencement, the eruption delays or grows suddenly pale, livid, intermixed with petechiæ; total loss of strength, mild delirium, convulsive twitches of tendons, with excessive vomiting; violent diarrhoea, brought on or aggravated by drink or food; tendency to gangrene; lips dry, black, often bloody; grinding of teeth while asleep; tongue dry, brown cracked; thick, slimy, fetid saliva in mouth; longing for cold drinks and acids, bitter taste, especially after eating or drinking; vomiting of brown substances; urine dark-colored and bloody, passed with difficulty; emaciation; dyspnoea, constantly changing position; cold sweat, cold extremities; puffiness of eyelids; dropsical symptoms.

Arsenite of potash. (Fowler's solution.) Chief remedy when the rash covers the whole body and there is enough left to poison every organ of the body, especially brain and kidneys; coma alternating with delirium, subsultus tendinum, renal elements in urine; oedema pulmonum with uræmic symptoms.

Arum triphyllum. Malignant scarlatina. Intense fever; soreness of mouth and fauces, which spreads to posterior nares; nose stuffed up; ichorous discharge from nose, excoriating and furrowing the upper lip; discharge from nose thick and yellow, filling whole nasal cavity and throat; wings of nose ulcerated; upper lip red and sore from excoriating discharges; mouth covered with ulcers, with intense burning and soreness; saliva acrid; tongue red and sore, with elevated papillæ; putrid sore throat, swollen submaxillary glands; moist cough, with excoriated feeling in fauces and larynx during day, and spasmodic nightcough, compelling him to sit up; urine abundant and pale; eruption all over body, with much itching and restlessness; stiffness of neck.

Baptisia. Typhoid scarlatina. Extensive ulcerations in throat; great fetor of breath; nausea, followed by vomiting; tonsils inflamed; diphtheritic ulcers; dry sore tongue, coated at first with reddish papillæ here and there, followed by a yellowish-brown coating in centre, edges red and shining; slight delirium; burning heat of face; oppressed breathing; dysenteric stools; scalding, high-colored urine; continued fever, with great prostration.

Baryta carb. Scarlatina miliaris, swelling of parotids, tonsils, and submaxillary glands, with much saliva, or else dryness of throat, pressing, stinging pains when swallowing, remaining after scarlatina; acute tonsillitis with tendency to suppuration during scarlatina (after bell. or mere.), great prostration and weariness with constant inclination to lie or sit down after scarlatina.

Belladonna. True Sydenham scarlatina, where the eruption is perfectly smooth and truly scarlet; congestion to brain with delirium; anxious sleep, full of dreams, with startings; eyeballs red and injected; throbbing of carotids, involuntary movings of hands to head; bending head backward, head hotter than other parts of body (arn.); face fiery red or pale, puffv and sunken; lips, mouth and throat very red; tongue white with red edges or red all over with raised papillæ; violent tonsillitis and angina faucium, with stitching pain and spasmodic contractions; inability to swallow liquids, which often return through nostrils; violent thirst with or without dread of water; external swelling of neck; suffocating sensation on turning head or touching pharynx; skin so hot that it imparts a burning sensation to the hand; vomiting; the child moans, whimpers, jumps up in bed, and often wants to walk about in his sleep. Difficult hearing after scarlatina.

Bryonia. Delay or sudden retrocession of eruption, oppression of senses, general prostration, predominant coldness or chill and heat mixed up, small pulse; symptoms of pleuritis or meningitis; dropsy.

Calcarea carb. Scrofulosis, scarlatina miliaris; sore throat, difficult deglutition, loose rattling in windpipe, hot breath; difficulty of breathing, with præcordial anguish, no cough, rattling during expiration; threatened paralysis of lungs; otorrhœa; specific for parotitis or swellings around neck, especially when eruption is already fading; aphthæ on tonsils and roof of the mouth.

Camphora. Sudden retrocession of eruption, with cold skin and complete prostration; mind in a serene conscious state, with a peculiar staring wild look; purple colored, or pale, changeable, hot face with hot sweat and cold extremities; hot burning pains: great sensitiveness of stomach and abdomen; involuntary blackish stools; dyspnoea, with sensation of constriction around throat, with hot breath; accumulation of mucus in air-passages; skin shrivelled.

Capsicum. Capriciousness; exalted sensibility of all the senses, peculiar redness and burning about face, out of proportion to heat of other parts of body; throat smart and burns, and is of a deep red color; burning vesicles on tongue and mouth: pain in throat, always worse between the acts of deglutition; tenacious mucus in throat, difficult to dislodge, dry tongue, without thirst.

Carbolic acid. Restlessness, delirious at intervals, pulse rapid, white circle around mouth, rest of face dusky red, lips, mouth, and tongue black, sordes and ulcerated patches on inside of lips and cheeks; breath exceedingly fetid and repulsive; liquids on being swallowed return by nose; skin dry and scurfing off; urine high-colored and scanty; abdomen slightly tympanitic.

Carbo veg. Last stage, with rattling in throat and complete loss of vital power; cool breath and cold extremities, and still the patient must have air and wants to be fanned all the time, sticky cold perspiration. Sepsis; sunken features and sallow complexion.

Conium. Parotid and submaxillary glands swollen and hard as a stone; lips and teeth covered with black crusts, skin hot; delirium and unconsciousness.

Cuprum acet. Convulsions before the eruption breaks out, or when the eruption suddenly disappears, with tendency to metastasis to brain; quick, small, irregular pulse, low temperature; sopor, rolling of eyes; facial distortion and also of all the dexter muscles, great restlessness; throwing the body about; spasmodic action of chest, vomiting; cold face, blue lips, coldness all over; aggravation by contact.

Gelsemium. Asthenic forms of scarlet fever; intense fever, with nervous erethism during prodromal stage, followed by profound prostration of the muscular power; cerebral intoxication; pulse frequent, soft, weak, sometimes filiform; impaired vision; heat, with lagert and drowsiness; crimson flush of face in all positions, heavy-looking suffused eyes; throat feels as if swelled or filled up, is diffusely red, tonsils red and slightly swelled, delirious mutterings when asleep, half awake; spasms and paralysis; when the eruption recedes, all the viscera are threatened.

Helleborus. Dropsy, in consequence of morbus Brightii acutus sensory life entirely suspended, no fever; squinting, pupils dilated face pale and puffed; urine, after settling, looks like coffee grounds, scanty, albuminous or bloody urine; diarrhoea of jellylike mucus.

Hepar sulph. Sequela retarding convalescence; croupy inflammation of nasal mucous membrane during prostration and effervescence; swelling of parotid and submaxillary glands; early decrease of the urinary secretion, with traces of albumen and cylindrical urates, fully developed dropsy from Bright's disease; anxious feeling about the heart.

Hydrocyanic acid. Eruption at an early stage is dark colored and soon becomes livid, only slowly regaining its color after pressure with the finger; rapid feeble pulse; sinking at stomach from prostration of solar plexus; long fainting spells; involuntary stools; paralysis of œsophagus, the fluid runs gurgling down the œsophagus.

Hyoscyamus. Great nervous excitability, without much cerebral hyperæmia; sleeplessness; illusions of imagination or else utter stupidity; sparkling, red, prominent eyes, or else staring at things; indistinct muttering loquacity; difficult speech; does not reply to questions, or answers slowly and relapses into his unconsciousness; bluish face; mouth open or jaws locked; constriction of throat, cannot swallow liquids; salt taste; paralysis of sphincters, of trachea; rattling respiration; patient ceases coughing on sitting up in bed; abdomen distended, tympanitic; repelled eruptions, with tendency to diarrhœa.

Ipecacuanha. Suppressed eruptions; gastric symptoms predominate, with nausea and vomiting, accompanied by dyspnoea; sighing respiration; during sleep eyes half open, with moaning and groaning.

Kali carb. Swelling of right parotid gland; fever and restlessness; smell from mouth like that of old cheese; great dryness of skin; edema, like little bags, between eyebrows and upper eyelids; worse about 3 A.M.

Lachesis. Scarlatina maligna, advanced stages, typhoid state, threatening gangrene; destructive decomposition of both fluids and solids; smooth red or black and dry tongue, frequently cracked; trembling of tongue and inability to protrude it, it strikes against the lower teeth; patched or map tongue; accumulation of dried mucus in the nose; throat very dry and sore, aggravated by sleep; the membranous deposit commences in left tonsil and spreads toward the right; great sensitiveness of external throat to slightest touch, it causes a feeling of suffocation; paralysis of organs of deglutition, worse by swallowing; pain extends to left ear; liquids return through nose; saliva abundant and tenacious; suppuration of glands of neck; black urine, offensive stools; aphasia; torpid peripheral circulation, with cool surface and cold perspiration, passive hæmorrhages of dark fluid blood, dulness of brain functions, heaviness of head, and pains deep in the brain, worse from external pressure; muscular prostration; loquacious delirium.

Lac caninum. Enlarged glands after scarlatina; cold indurations, as found in scrofulous children.

Lachnanthes tinct. Stiff neck, the head being drawn to one side, after scarlatina or diphtheria; sensation as if eruption would break out, with loquacious delirium; brilliant eyes; circumscribed red cheeks; head feels enlarged and as if split with a wedge from outside inward; body icy cold, skin moist and sticky, cannot get warm, head burns like fire, with much thirst; dryness and roughness of throat, with pricking pain when swallowing.

Lycopodium. Child becomes drowsy and awakens from sleep frightened, clinging to the crib, seems to know no one; soon they drop asleep, again only to reawaken with the same symptoms; they are very cross and irritable after a nap, kicking and fighting; when the rash suddenly pales the glands swell and the face becomes bloated and paler than natural; urine scanty, with or without red sandy deposit. Deep blood-poisoning, showing itself by diphtheritic symptoms, stoppage of nose, rattling in throat, coma, deafness and purulent discharge from ears, great peevishness and crossness on getting awake, worse from being covered too much; scanty, dark-red, and albuminous urine, with strangury, oedema of face, hands, and feet; angites; secondary eruptions of dark-red blotches on hands, thighs, back, and face; colic during desquamation with costiveness.

Mercurius cyanat. Diphtheritic scarlatina; swelling of the glands around throat, great redness of fauces with difficulty of swallowing, complete suppression of urine; great sensation of coldness, extreme prostration and frequent fainting.

Mercur. sol. After bell; sore mouth, studded with small vesicles, salivation and excessively foul breath; dirty-yellow coating of tongue, great thirst; ulcerated throat and tonsils; swelling of all the glands of neck; itching and restlessness, worse after sweat.

Mercur. protoiod. Excessively intense angina; induration of parotid, cervical glands, and tonsils; diphtheritic affections, with excessive muscular prostration; desire to lie down, but feels worse during rest and in a warm room; sharp throbbing-boring pains from within outwards deep in the left ear, urine dark and copious, after lachesis, when there is loss of voice and hoarseness.

Muriatic acid. Intense redness all over body, with great dryness, or scanty eruption, interspersed with petechiae; typhoid condition, with anxiety and restlessness, desire to throw off the clothing burning heat of body, dark redness of face, purplish color of skin, excessive dryness of mouth and tongue; aphthae and ulceration of mouth and throat, with fetid breath; serid discharge from nose, excoriating nostrils and upper lip; gangrene, with sloughing of nasal membranes; prostration of vital forces, patient sinks down to feet of bed; pulse intermittent, weak; sighing-groaning respiration.

Nitric acid. Scarlatina miliaria, with very hot skin, intermittent breathing; tonsils swollen and sore, with great difficulty of swallowing; angina diphtheritica extends up to nares, with thin purulent discharge; cachectic children.

Opium. Cerebral oppression, with sopor and heavy snoring, convulsions, with coma and stertorous breathing between the spasms cerebral vomiting.

Phosphorus. Sudden disappearance of eruption without cause, the chest symptoms become alarming; pulmonary complications, typhoid conditions, with dry hard tongue and lips covered with sordes; loss of speech and hearing; difficult deglutition; sopor, bilitium; glandular enlargements, diarrhoea; burning sensation, which makes him constantly change his position; perfect apathy, inability to retain the urine; falling off of the hair.

Rhus tox. Vesicular eruption, or like millet seeds, itching violently; about the third day tongue dry, red, and smooth, with triangular red tip, the fever keeps rising, even after the livid eruption is out, with great restlessness at night; drowsy state with delirium, swimming eyes, ichorous discharge from nostrils, with swelling of glands of throat, or epistaxis at night, rheumatism of joints, worse during rest; oedema of scrotum and penis, swelling and suppuration of parotid gland, first left, then right, with copious ichorous discharge, leaving a deep cavity; skin peels.

Silicea. Scrofulosis, glands swollen and threaten to suppurate, boils, abscesses; subsequent induration of glands from tardy reconvalescence.

Stramonium. Violent convulsions, excited by touch or sight of bright shining things, with spasmodic jerking of limbs; paralytic trembling of arms and hands, especially of the right, with which he constantly reaches into the air, and attempts to grasp some imaginary object; restlessness, with itching of skin; rash of a coppery-red color, dry and hot skin; coma, with rattling respiration and bloody froth at mouth; rapid alternation of laughing, crying, and singing; stupor; great dryness of throat, compelling frequent drinking; swelling of tongue, so that it hangs out of the mouth; paralysis of tongue; suppression of urine. Parenchymatous nephritis.

Sulphur. Efflorescences coalesce into large spots as red as a boiled lobster, and around these spots the skin is unusually white; cerebral affections, with sopor, sudden starting, distortion of eyes; bloated and shining red face; dry nose; dry, cracked, red tongue, covered with a brownish mucus; hot flashes, the skin hot and itching; thirst and difficulty of swallowing; lethargic condition; diarrhoea, worse in the morning.

Terebinthina. Eruption slow in appearing, kidneys are involved, bloody, smoky urine with drowsiness or stupor. Albuminuria and uræmia following scarlatina; intoxication, confusion, languor, relieved by profuse urination; aching pain in head, with vomiting; excessive fullness and pressure in head, causing screams; pains come and go; thirst, but drinking causes nausea and vomiting of yellow mucus; ascites, oedema, more of the upper parts; frequent waking and tossing about in bed; after scarlatina passes small quantities of dark, sweet-smelling urine, turbid and leaving a sediment like coffee-grounds; urine, though rich in albumen and blood, contains but few, if any, casts.

Veratrum vir. Intense arterial excitement during febrile state, with cerebral congestion or irritation of the spinal centres; convulsions, with greatly dilated pupils, perfect sleeplessness; sequele, as rheumatism, dropsy, when inflammatory symptoms are present.

Zincum. Threatened paralysis of brain, complete stupor; pulse small, filiform; extremities cold; jerking of body or twitching of single limbs; bluish-red color of body, while forehead and face are pale, white distorted face; frightful shrill screams; short, quick breathing, but not rattling; occiput very hot; grating of teeth; involuntary micturition and stool.

Post-scarlatinal affections. Rheumatism: apis, bell, bry., iach., rhus, etc. Neuralgic pains in extremities and other parts: ars, can., colch., dig., gels., iach., merc., rhus tox. Scrofula: baryt., carb., calc., carb., calc. phos., graph., hep., merc., iod., psorin., sil., sulph. Otorrhœa: bovista, calc. c., merc., puls., sil., sulph. Swelling of parotis: calc. carb., kah carb., con. Difficult hearing: bell.

Conium. Swelling of glands, with tingling and stitches, marasmus with frequent sour belching, worse during night, erratic itching of all parts of body; humid, burning, corroding, crusty herpes; blackish ulcers, with bloody, fetid, ichorous discharges, especially after contusions; ophthalmia with photophobia; leucorrhœa; bronchitis; asthma; carcinoma.

Corydalis form. Serofulous cutaneous diseases, accompanied by feeble digestion and poverty of blood, serofulous syphilitic diseases.

Cornus circin. Serofulous ophthalmia, herpes of eyelids, ulcerations of tongue, gums, and mouth; chronic diarrhoea.

Graphites. Swelling and induration of glands, eczema capitis of entire scalp, forming massive dirty crusts, which mat the hair together; eczema beginning as a moisture behind left ear, and spreading over cheeks and neck, thick, yellowish, fetid discharge from nose, dry scabs in nose with sore, cracked, and ulcerated nostrils, painful nodules on lower jaw; chronic catarrhs of stomach and bowels; glandular swelling in groins; fissures and rhagades; turbid urine, menses scanty, pale, late; unpainful swollen glands on nape of neck.

Hecla lava. Serofulous otitis or periostitis, resting on a syph-littic basis, and especially affecting the bones of face and of antrum highmori; difficult dentition; rachitis; hip disease; white swelling; diseases of alveolar processes; induration and infiltration of cervical glands, studding the neck like a row of pearls; toothache from swelling about the jaws; abscesses of gums from decayed teeth; difficult dentition in scrofulous or rachitic children.

Hepar sulph. Glands inflame, swell, and suppurate; hard burning nodosities; unhealthy skin; slight injuries suppurate; stinging burning of edges of ulcers, discharging bloody pus; humid eruption of fetid odor, feeling sore, itching violently; nodosities on head, relieved by covering the head warmly and from sweat; discharge of fetid pus from ears; boils on face, lips, and chin; cancerous ulcers; disposition to phlegmonous sore throat, catarrh, or bronchitis; atrophy.

Hydrastis can. Chronic catarrhs of mucous membranes wherever situated; constipation from weakened and congestive state of the lower bowel; cancerous cachexia; cancers hard, adherent; skin mottled, puckered, with lancinating cutting pains; atony of muscles.

Iodum. Emaciation, in spite of the necessity of eating every few hours; swelling and induration of glands, the whole of the lymphatic system being involved; rachitic affections; inflammation of eyes and eyelids; otitis and otorrhea; swelling of mesenteric glands; frequent catarrhs; bronchorele; scrofulous women, with dwindling and falling away of the mamme.

Kali bichromic. Scrofulous ulcers and skin diseases; discharges from mucous membranes tough, stringy, sticking to the parts; caries of the bones of the nose; strumous ophthalmia; pustular diseases of skin, secreting a watery fluid when broken or drying up into a yellow tough mass; fat, chubby children; fat, light-haired persons.

Kali hydroiod. It distends all tissues by interstitial infiltration; enlarged glands; tophi; exostosis; swelling of bones; necrosis; all worse at night; bronchial and submaxillary glands swollen, ulcerating, atrophied; goitre; papules on face, shoulders, back; small boils on face, head, neck, back, and chest, leaving scars; pustules on cornea, without photophobia, redness, or pain.

Lithium carb. Skin rough as a grater, harsh, dry; dry itching ringworm; milk-crust; whole body, bones, joints, muscles, sore as if beaten.

Lycopodium. Swelling and suppuration of glands; disposition to catarrhs, inflammation, curvature, and other affections of bones; herpes and ulcers; humid suppurating eruptions, full of deep rhagades, breeding lice, itching violently; intertrigo; raw places, readily bleeding; boils which do not mature, but remain blue; scabs on hairy scalp; ophthalmia; otitis; purulent ichorous otorrhea; scurf in nose; chronic enlargement of tonsils, flatulency; constipation; softening of bones; emaciation and debility, upper parts wasted, lower limbs swollen.

Lapis albus (silico-fluoride of calcium) Scrofulous affections, abscesses, and sores; enlargement and induration of glands, especially cervical; glandular tumors, where physiologically no glands are usually found; goitre; cretinism.

Mercurius. Glandular swellings, with or without suppuration; cachectic affections; exostosis, curvature, caries, and other affections of bones; eruptions and corrosive herpes with crusts; tinea capitis; crusts in the face; ophthalmia, otitis, otorrhœa, coryza; slimy diarrhœa; suppuration, especially if too profuse, grayish ulcers on mouth and fauces; ulceration of tonsils; false membranes grayish, thick, with shredlike borders, adherent or free, but of marked consistence.

Natrum carb. Swelling and induration of glands; emaciation, with pale face, dilated pupils, dark urine; skin dry, rough, and chapped; suppurating herpes, with yellow rings; goitre; swollen cervical glands; humid herpetic eruptions and ulcers on nose, lips, and around mouth; burning fissures on lower lip.

Oleum jecoris aselli. Only indicated in patients of a slender and lean figure, thin, transparent skin, with a frequent pulse, great excitability of the nervous system, and high specific gravity of the urine—all signs of an accelerated metamorphosis.

Petroleum. Swelling and induration of glands; increased secretion of the mucous membranes; unhealthy skin; small wounds ulcerate and spread; chronic excoriating eczema, worse on occiput, polypi; salt rheum on arms and hands, red, raw, burning, moist, or covered with thick crusts; herpes on knees and ankles.

Phytolacca. Tinea capitis, worse washing it when he is warm, granular lids; obstruction of Eustachian tubes; acrid, excoriating discharge from nostrils, excoriating lip; swollen tonsils; indurated glands; glands and bones inflamed and swollen.

Psorinum. Pale, sickly, delicate children, whose body always has a filthy smell, even after a bath; deeply penetrating, ichthyous ulcers; skin dirty, greasy-looking, with yellow blotches here and there, at times itching; scratching gives temporary relief; hair dry, lustreless, tangles easily, pustules and boils on head, scalp looks dirty and emits an offensive odor; wants to have the head covered even in hot weather; blepharitis and photophobia; purulent offensive otorrhœa; eczema behind ears; submaxillary and lingual glands swollen, sore to touch; distended abdomen, chronic diarrhœa, involuntary micturition.

Rhus tox. Swelling of glands; herpes in the face and other eruptions discharging pus or forming crusts, emaciation; hard and distended abdomen; frequent catarrhs, ophthalmia, otorrhœa, diarrhœa.

Sarsaparilla. Great emaciation, skin shrivelled or lies in folds; herpetic circular ulcers, forming no crusts, red granulated bases, white borders; deep burning rhagades; milk-crust; ophthalmia after checked letters; marasmus of children; neck emaciated.

Silicea. Swelling and suppuration of glands; exostosis, curvature, and caries of bones; pale and bloated; disposition of skin to ulcerate; eczema, impetigo, herpes; tendency to boils, which leave indurations; carbuncles; malignant pustule; blepharitis; otorrhœa; difficult dentition; canine hunger, with nervous irritable persons; desires only cold things; swelling and induration of cervical glands and parotitis; imperfect nutrition, not from want of food, but from imperfect assimilation.

Spongia. Swelling and induration of glands; skin and muscles lax; light hair; fevers; yellow scabby eruption; suppuration of external ear; insatiable appetite and thirst.

Sulphur. Scrofulous and rickety complaints; emaciation of children, face has a very old look; dry flabby skin; glandular swellings, indurated and suppurating; ulcers, with raised swollen edges, bleeding easily, discharging fetid pus, surrounded with pimples; humid offensive eruptions, with thick pus, yellow crusts, itching, bleeding, and burning; ophthalmia and blepharitis; purulent offensive otorrhœa; painful eruptions around chin; lips dry, rough, and cracked; diarrhœa, as if bowels were too weak to retain their contents, fetid, watery, involuntary; nocturnal enuresis; curvature of spine from softening of vertebra; hangnails; burning of soles, wants them uncovered; children dislike being bathed; especially suitable for lean stoop-shouldered persons.

Theridion. Scrofula, rachitis, caries, necrosis, when other remedies fail to reach the root of the evil, and destroy cause; itching on scalp; itching behind ears, she would like to scratch them off; chronic catarrh of nose, discharge offensive, thick yellow or yellowish-green; phthisis florida, in beginning.

SCURVY.

Phlegmonous angina: 1, acon., bell., hep., ign., merc., nux v., sulph.; 2, alum., bar., calc., canth., coff., lach., sep., thuj.

Gangrenous angina: ammon., ars., con., euphorb., kreas., lach., merc., sulph.

Aconite. Violent fever; dry heat; red cheeks; restlessness; despair; dark redness of affected parts; troublesome and painful deglutition; burning, choking, crepang, and contraction of throat; painful sensitiveness of throat when talking; burning thirst.

Æsculus hip. Throat, fauces, uvula, and back of pharynx dark red or relaxed and swollen; constricted sensation with disposition to hawk; dryness and burning in throat, when swallowing, with ear-aching; scraping sensation in throat, with expectoration of salty mucus; stinging and burning in soft palate and posterior nares, which are congested and ache; gastric disorders, general malaise, coated tongue; catarrhal irritation of gastro-intestinal mucous membrane; piles.

Alumina. Clergyman's sore throat; livid redness and sensation of relaxation of throat; feeling as from a lump, with soreness, dryness and stitches in throat, when talking, as if something pointed was sticking in it; swallowing causes crepitation in ears; spasmodic constriction, salivation, and impossibility to swallow or to open the mouth; worse evening and at night, better by hot drinks or eating.

Ambra. Sore throat after exposure to a draught of air; stinging from throat into right ear, and pains from motion of tongue; sore feeling in throat during empty deglutition and from outward pressure, not when swallowing food, with tension of the glands of throat, and swollen.

Ammonium carb. Putrid sore throat, tendency to gangrene of tonsils; great dryness of mouth and throat.

Apis mel. Erysipelatous and oedematous appearance of affected parts; throat swollen inside and outside, breathing and swallowing difficult; mucous membrane covered with dirty gray membrane; blisters, in clusters, filled with clear lymph on back part of throat; feeling of rawness and scalding all around the margin of tongue; tenacious mucus in throat.

Argentum nitr. Dryness of throat in beginning to speak; burning and scraping; sensation of soreness; wartlike excrescences; dark redness of palate and velum palati; sensation as if a splinter was sticking in the throat when swallowing, eructating, breathing, stretching and moving the throat; frequent accumulation of thick tough mucus in throat, producing gagging and frequent hoarseness.

Arnica. Chronic pains in fauces and larynx, worse for a long time after an animated talk; stinging in back of throat between the acts of deglutition.

Arum triph. Rapid swelling of tongue, with prickling and burning pains; oedema glottidis; mercurial or idiopathic salivation; throat and tongue very sore; putrid ulcers in throat; constant hawking and profuse secretion from the diseased tissues; enlarged tonsils; refuses food and drink on account of soreness of throat.

Baptisia. Fauces dark red; dark putrid ulcers; tonsils and parotids swollen; unusual absence of pain; can swallow liquids only, the least solid food gags; throat sore, feels contracted, even down to the stomach; mucus abundant and viscid, which can neither be swallowed nor expectorated.

Baryta carb. Smarting in throat when swallowing, worse from empty swallowing; throat sore to touch; liability to tonsillitis after every slight cold or suppressed footsweat; tonsils suppurate, especially right one; on swallowing, sensation as if food forces itself over a sore spot, worse swallowing solids; chronic tonsillitis.

Belladonna. For almost every kind of angina, especially when the following symptoms are present: Sore pains, scraping; sensation of thickness, burning, or stinging in the throat, especially during deglutition; pains which extend into the ears; contraction and spasmodic constriction of the fauces, with constant desire to swallow, or else difficult, almost impossible, deglutition; absence of thirst, or else violent thirst, with aversion to drink, or with inability to drink, because the liquid returns by the nostrils; vivid, frequently yellowish, redness of the affected parts, without swelling; or swelling and inflammatory redness of the velum palati, uvula, or tonsils, even with suppuration; rapidly spreading ulcers; profuse accumulation of viscid whitish mucus in the throat, mouth, and on the tongue; ptyalism; swelling of the muscles and cervical glands; violent fever, with hot, red, and bloated face; violent aching pain in the forehead; whining mood.

Benzoic acid. Angina faucium and tonsillaris, with the characteristic high-colored strong urine, very offensive and ammoniacal.

Bromium. Elongation of uvula; swelling of mucous membrane of fauces and pharynx; tonsils swollen, inflamed, constant pain in throat; swallowing difficult, especially of fluids.

Bryonia. Painful sensitiveness of the throat to contact, and when turning the head; painful and troublesome swallowing, as if a hard body were sticking in the throat; stitches, soreness, and dry feeling in the throat, rendering talking difficult; fever, with or without thirst, or chilliness and feeling of coldness; irritable mood.

Cactus. Constriction of throat, exciting a constant desire to swallow; constriction of œsophagus; must drink large quantities of water to force the fluid into the stomach.

Calcarea carb. Inflammatory swelling of palate and uvula or tonsils, with sensation as if the throat were contracted when swallowing; pain in throat extending to ears.

Cantharis. Throat feels on fire, is inflamed, and covered with plastic lymph, swallowing very difficult; constriction and intense pain at the back of throat.

Capsicum. Stitches in throat when not swallowing, exciting dry convulsive cough; uvula elongated, feels as if pressing on something hard; constriction in throat, with burning; soreness and ulceration of mouth and throat; constant desire to lie down and sleep, with dread of the open air and cold.

Chamomilla. Suitable to children, or when the disease is occasioned by suppression or interruption of the cutaneous action, or for swelling of the parotid or submaxillary glands, or tonsils, stitching burning pains, or sensation as if a foreign body was sticking in the throat; dark redness of the affected parts; inability to swallow solids, especially when lying; thirst, with dry mouth and throat, tickling in the larynx, with cough; roughness, hoarse voice; fever towards evening, with alternation of heat and chilliness; red cheeks, or only one cheek red; great restlessness, tossing about, crying, moaning.

Cimicifuga. Dry spot in throat, causing cough; dryness of pharynx and inclination to swallow during the night; soreness of throat when swallowing; unpleasant fulness in throat; inflammation of uvula and palate.

Cistus can. Sore throat from inhaling the least cold air, not from warm air; fauces inflamed and dry, without a dry feeling; must swallow saliva to relieve the unbearable dryness; worse after sleeping, better after eating or drinking.

Coffea. Sore throat, worse from cold air; uvula too long, swollen, affected parts very sensitive, with sleeplessness; whining and moaning; short dry cough; constant desire to swallow, from sensation as of a plug in throat.

Colchicum. Inflammation and redness of palate and fauces, tonsils inflamed and swollen, with difficult swallowing; greenish thin mucus in throat, coming involuntarily into the mouth.

Cuprum. Inflammation of palate and tonsils; dull piercing pain in left tonsil, increased by external touch.

Dolichos prur. Stitch as from a splinter in right side of throat, with fulness behind posterior palatine arch.

Fluoric acid. Throat peculiarly sensitive to cold, slightest exposure resulting in inflammation, with increase of pain and impeded deglutition; soft palate and uvula intensely red and much touched; breath fetid, voice nasal, articulation indistinct; hawking of phlegm mixed with blood, especially in the morning.

Gelsemium. Pain on swallowing, going up into the ear, spasm of the glottis; dryness, irritation, and soreness of the fauces; difficult swallowing; paralytic dysphagia; painful sensation of something having lodged in the œsophagus; burning in the œsophagus from the mouth to the stomach; spasmodic pains in the œsophagus; hawking up of bloody water.

Hamamelis. Sore throat in those predisposed to fulness of veins; worse in warm moist air; right tonsil more swollen, varicose; dryness of lips and fauces, must drink large quantities of water to assist deglutition.

Hepar sulph. Swelling of tonsils and glands of neck; scraping sore throat, impeding speech, but not swallowing; stitches in throat, extending to ears, worse when swallowing food; sensation as if a fish-bone or a splinter were sticking in throat; pressure in throat as from a plug, with danger of suffocation; worse from atmospheric changes.

Hydrastis. The mucous membrane of the fauces studded with round protuberant spots of a red color, as if injected with blood, with aggravation from the least exposure to cold; mercurial salivation; syphilitic angina; ulceration of the mucous membrane of the throat.

Ignatia. Inflamed, hard, swollen tonsils, with small ulcers; stitches in soft palate, extending to ear, worse between the acts of swallowing; throat worse when not swallowing, or from liquids, better when swallowing food.

Iodum. Swelling and elongation of uvula; inflammation of throat, with burning pain; ulcers in throat, with swelling of glands of neck.

Kali bichrom. Chronic congestion of fauces and pharyngeal mucous membrane; uneasiness and pain in swallowing; sensation of dryness, of burning, and of rawness, or a scraping feeling, or as if something sticking in throat; accumulation of sticky tenacious mucus in pharynx, with tendency to hoarseness and tickling cough; throat pains more when putting out tongue; sharp shooting pains in left tonsil, extending toward the ear, relieved by swallowing; suppuration of tonsils; burning in pharynx, extending into the stomach; solids cause pain when swallowed, and leave sensation as if something remained there, chronic nasal catarrh, yellow slimy-coated tongue, more or less stomach disorder, bitter taste in mouth, tendency to nausea.

Lachesis. Sense of plug in throat, which is very sensitive to touch; liquids swallowed escape through nostrils; solids swallowed better than liquids; stitches in throat when swallowing, with pain in left ear; uvula elongated, fauces purplish, swollen, or ulcerated. Nervous element prevails, and the severity of symptoms is out of proportion to the morbid appearance seen on inspection.

Lachnanthes. Great dryness in throat, especially at night when waking, accompanied by cough; sensation of swelling in left side of throat; when swallowing, the sore spot itches; dryness of throat, with sleeplessness, followed by hoarseness.

Ledum. Malignant sore throat, with fine stinging pain, worse when not swallowing; great heat in throat when going into open air.

Lycopodium. Swelling and suppuration of tonsils, going from right to left; chronic enlargement of tonsils; fauces brownish red, worse from warm drinks and after a sleep.

Mancinella. Angina following scurvy; great elongation of uvula; yellowish-white ulcer on tonsils, with violent burning pain; great swelling and suppuration of tonsils, with danger of suffocation, and whistling breathing.

Mercurius. Frequently in alternation with bell. for violent stitches in the throat and tonsils, especially when swallowing, the stitches extending to the parotid glands, ears, and submaxillary glands; burning in the throat, with soreness; swelling and intense inflammatory redness of the affected parts; elongation of the uvula; constant desire to swallow, with sensation as of a lump in the throat that ought to be swallowed down; difficult deglutition, especially as regards drinks which frequently return by the nostrils; bad taste in the mouth; ptyalism; swelling of the gums and tongue; suppuration of the tonsils, or slowly-spreading ulcers in the throat; aggravation at night or in the evening, or in the open air, and when talking; chill towards evening, or alternation of chilliness and heat; sweat without relief rheumatic, tearing, or drawing pains in the head and nape of the neck.

Merc. cor. Throat intensely inflamed, preventing swallowing and causing suffocation; uvula swollen, elongated, dark red; tonsils swollen and covered with ulcers; pricking in throat, as from needles; retching and vomiting on attempting to swallow; sleeplessness on account of anxiety.

Merc. iod. Pharynx more irritable than larynx, with affection of posterior nares; great sensitiveness to cold air.

Nitrum. Sore throat day and night, with inflamed velum and uvula; stinging during swallowing; feels choked, as if closed at night, can scarcely breathe.

Nux vomica. Throat raw, sore, rough, as if scraped; pain as if pharynx was constricted, or as if a plug was sticking in throat, during empty deglutition; stitches into ear when swallowing; throat sore while eating, and still worse afterwards; small fetid ulcers in throat; dry cough, with headache and pains in hypochondria when coughing.

Palladium. Dryness of fauces and tongue, without thirst; sensation when swallowing as if something were hanging in the neck, as if hood of the hyoid bone, or as if a bread-crumbs had lodged there, even when the muscles of the throat were inactive; frequent hawking of small solid lumps, which he must swallow.

Phosphorus. Tonsils and uvula much swollen, the latter elongated, with dry and burning sensation; muscular anguish with little degeneration; dryness of throat, day and night, it fairly glitters; sensation as of cotton in throat.

Phytolacca. Sensation in the pharynx like that caused by cancer; chokiness, soreness of the throat, and a feeling when swallowing as if a lump had formed there; soreness of the posterior nares, and apparent extension of the irritation into the Eustachian tubes; swelling of the soft palate and tonsils; feeling as if a ball of red-hot iron had lodged in the fauces and the whole length of the oesophagus when swallowing; sensation as if the trachea were being strangled; grasped; hawking to rid the throat and posterior nares of mucus, which relieves the choked feeling; sensation of scraping and rasping in the throat and tonsils; great dryness of throat at bedtime.

Plumbum. Angina granulosa, going from right to left; tonsils inflamed and covered with small painful abscesses, tough mucus in fauces and posterior nares; fluids can be swallowed, but solids come back into the mouth, stricture from spasm; sensation as of a plug in throat.

Psorinum. Tonsillitis, submaxillary glands swollen, fetid discharge, throat burns, feels scalded, swollen with pain during deglutition; ulcerated sore throat.

Pulsatilla. Suitable to females and persons of a bland and phlegmatic temper, for bluish redness of the throat, tonsils, or uvula, with sensation of swelling in these parts, or sensation of a lump in the throat; scraping, soreness, and dryness in the throat, without thirst; stitches in the throat, especially between the acts of deglutition, with pressure and tension during empty deglutition; chill towards evening, with increase of soreness; varicose swelling of the cervical veins; accumulation of tenacious mucus on the affected parts.

Rhus tox. Sticking stinging pain in tonsils, worse when beginning to swallow; throat sore, feels stiff, after straining it; sensation of swelling in throat, with contusive pain, even when talking; cellulitis of neck, parotitis; œsophagitis; whining mood.

Sabadilla. Tonsillitis after coryza; suppuration; right tonsil remains swollen and indurated; when swallowing or not swallowing, feeling in throat of a body which he must swallow down; sensation of a skin hanging loosely in throat, must swallow over it; stitches in throat when swallowing, better from eating warm food.

Sanguinaria. Ulcerated sore throat; chronic dryness in the throat, and sensation of swelling in the larynx and expectoration of thick mucus; aphonia, with swelling of the throat; continual severe cough without expectoration, with pain in the head, and circumscribed redness of the cheeks; tormenting cough, with exhaustion; feeling of dryness in the throat, not diminished by drinking; heat in throat relieved by inspirations of cold air.

Silicea. Tonsils swollen; each effort to swallow distorts face; pricking in throat, as from a pin, causing cough; throat feels filled up; tough slime in fauces; the suppurating tonsils fail to heal.

Sulphur. Swelling of throat, tonsils, or uvula; scraping and dryness, sore pain; burning and stitching in throat during and between deglutition; pressure in throat as from a lump, or painful sensation of contraction; swelling of cervical glands.

Tellurium. Sore throat, worse on empty deglutition, better by eating and drinking; dry sensation in fauces.

Ustilago. Tonsils congested, inflamed; left one very large, dark-colored, with dull pain, worse when swallowing; sharp lancinating pain in right tonsil; feeling as of a lump behind larynx, producing constant desire to swallow.

SUNSTROKE.

Coup de soleil: 1. ant. crud., arn., bell., cact., lach.; 2. acon., agar., gels., glon., kalm., natr. carb., sentel., therid., veratr. vir.

Antim. crud. Fainting from the heat of summer, from exposure to excessive heat; all ailments worse from exposure to sun.

Glonoin. Distension of cerebral capillaries, reflux of blood impeded; loss of consciousness, fainting, increased warmth, and abnormal sensations; heaviness, fulness; relaxation of muscular tone, apasms followed by a paralyzed condition; painful constriction of heart, with sensation as if all the blood had ascended to head, and as if the head would burst, dizziness, worse on stooping, shaking head, or inclining it backward; dryness of mucous membrane, followed by increased secretion.

Belladonna. Dulness of brain; congestion of blood to head, with whizzing in ears; distensive headache, worse when stooping; great anguish, tearful disposition; paroxysm of dyspnoea, with anguish; constipation as from inertia of intestines.

Lachesis. Paralysis depending on an apoplectic condition of the brain, produced by exhaustion from extremes of temperature, heat or cold; burning pressure in head from within outward; dizziness, with paleness of face, tendency to faint, and numbness; cadaverous sunken expression, or bloated red face, attended with heat, headache, and coldness of extremities; excessive dryness of throat; tightness and oppression of chest.

Carbo veg. Universal debility; obtuseness of nervous sensibility; vertigo, heaviness of head, with pulsative pains and pressure above the eyes, especially when a highly electrical state of the atmosphere produced the attack.

Camphora. Severe headache, congestion of brain, fainting, delirium, convulsions; skin icy cold, covered with cold sweat; sinking of vital force; embarrassed respiration and circulation, with coldness of surface and extremities, tremors and cramps in muscles, cold sweat, especially about head and neck.

Cactus grand. Congestion to brain, bloodshot eyes, coma, suffocation, flushes in face; pulsation in temples, as if skull would burst; dimness of sight; profuse nosebleed, face pale or blue; cold sweat, general weakness, prostration, fainting; oppression of chest, as from a great weight, uneasiness, and difficult breathing, as if an iron band prevented normal motion of chest.

Natrum carb. Dulness of head when at rest, or when in the sun; head feels too large, stupefying and pressing headache in forehead, with nausea, eructations, and dimness of sight, worse in room; twitching in muscles and limbs; great debility from any exertion.

Veratrum viride. Fulness in head, throbbing arteries; increased sensitiveness to sound; buzzing in ears; double or partial vision, dilated pupils; tongue yellow, with red streak in centre; vomiting; congestion of chest, with rapid respiration and dull burning in cardiac region; faintness and blindness from sudden motions, when rising from lying; coldness of whole body; cold sweat on face, hands, and feet.

SYNCOPE.

Lypothymia, fainting.

§ 1. Principal remedies for fainting, sudden loss of consciousness, hysteric weakness, etc., require: acon., amyl. nitr., camph., carb. v., cham., hep., ign., lach., mosch., n. vom., phos. ac., tereb., veratr.

§ 2. If caused by fright or some other emotion, give: acon., amm., camph., cham., coff., ign., lach., op., veratr.

If by violent pain: acon. or cham.

If by the least pain: hep., n. mosch.

To hysteric persons give: 1. cham., coff., ign., mosch., n. mosch., s. vom.; or, 2. ara., nitr. m., tereb.

If caused by debilitating losses, or acute diseases, give: carb. v., cham., n. mosch., n. vom., psor., veratr.

If by abuse of mercury: carb. v.; or, hep., lach., op.

§ 3. Give more particularly:

Aconitum. For violent palpitation of the heart, congestion of blood to the head, buzzing in the ears, and if the fainting takes place as soon as the patient raises himself from a recumbent posture, with chills and deadly paleness of the face, which was red previously.

Carbo veg. The paroxysms set in after sleeping, after rising in the morning, or while yet in bed.

Chamomilla. The paroxysm is accompanied with vertigo, darkness of sight, hard hearing, sensation of qualmishness and flatulency in the pit of the stomach, etc.

Coffea. Suitable to sensitive persons, and if the symptoms caused by fright do not yield to acon.

Hepar. The paroxysms set in in the evening, preceded by vertigo.

Lachesis. Asthmatic affections, vertigo, pale face, nausea, vomiting, pains and stitches in the region of the heart, cold sweat, spasms, trismus, stiffness and swelling of the body, etc.

Moschus. The paroxysms set in at night, or in the open air, with pulmonary spasms, or succeeded by headache.

Nux vom. The paroxysms set in principally in the morning, or after a meal: also suitable to pregnant females or persons worn out by mental labor or addicted to the use of spirits; and generally when nausea, pale face, scintillations before the eyes, or obscuration of sight, pains in the stomach, anguish, trembling, and congestion of blood to the head or chest are present.

Phosphoric acid. The paroxysms set in after a meal, nux v. being insufficient.

Veratrum. The paroxysms set in after the least motion, or are preceded by great anguish or despondency; or attended by spasms, lockjaw, convulsive motion of the eyes and eyelids, etc.

SYNOVITIS.

1, apis, bry., puls., sil.: 2, bell., calc., caust., iod., kali carb., led., lyc., mere., rhus, sep. Helmholtz (Surgery, 3d edition, page 515) has great faith in iodide of potash, 3-10 grains pro dosi ter die, in addition to rest, accomplished by the weight and pulley.

Belladonna. Excessive pain, with sensation as if the surrounding ligaments were contracted, or when there is a bubbling, as from drops of water, in the forepart of the knee, with cutting and drawing pains; congestion to head, flushed cheeks, etc.

Bryonia. Painful tension and pressure in right shoulder: pain in right knee so that he could hardly walk, inner side of knee very painful to touch.

Calcarea. Chronic cases, in pale, weakly persons of a scrofulous habit; drawing pressure in the joints; osseous system otherwise affected.

Causticum. Stiffness of joints: bruised, tearing, and sticking pains; stiffness of joints, profuse sweat; numbness of the parts: worse in the evening.

Oimicifuga. With the synovitis there are wandering rheumatic pains, chilliness alternating with heat; great distress of mind; danger of metastasis to heart.

Colchicum. Inflammation of the smaller joints, with tearing, jerking, lacerating pains, worse at night and by motion, care, or anxiety; stiffness and lameness of joints when attempting to walk; moist skin, urine turbid.

Iodum. Much swelling of the parts, with erratic tearing pains.

Ledum. Diseases of joints, but especially of knee, effusion, with sensitiveness of the parts to pressure; aching-tearing pains; great coldness; want of vitality.

Lycopodium. Stiffness of joints; pains better by warmth and worse in cold rainy weather.

Mercurius. Drawing pains, with aching in the bones and rigidity of the parts, worse at night, with profuse, not alleviating sweat; feeling of coldness and chilliness, threatening suppuration.

Phytolacca. Dull heavy pain in joints, increasing when exposed to the air, especially in damp weather: sensation like shortening of the tendons behind the knee when walking, pains extending either upwards or downwards along the shafts of the femur and tibia, increased by motion or pressure, worse on right side.

Pulsatilla. Especially in affections of the knee, ankle, and tarsal joints, of a gouty character.

Rhus tox. Stitches in the tendons surrounding the joints, with tingling and burning in them and rigidity of the joints; tendency to typhoid conditions.

Ruta grav. Inflammation of the larger joints, especially of the upper extremities.

Silicea. Particularly affects the knee-joints.

Phimosis: acon., arn., bell., bry., calc., cann., canth., caps., cinnab., hep., merc., rhus, sep., thuj.

Paraphimosis: acon., arn., ars., bell., lach.

Syphilitic bubo: during first stage: bell., merc. iod., kali iod., nitr. ac., sil., thuj.; after awhile: aur., badiaga., carb. an., staph., sulph.

Special indications:

Arsenicum. Inflammation and swelling of genitals; phagedenic and gangrenous chancres; copper-colored eruptions on genital; burning pimples or pustular eruptions on skin. (Ars. iod.: mucous plaques.)

Asafet. Tertiary syphilis, especially after abuse of mercury; ulcers, particularly when affecting the bones, discharging fetid, fetid, thin pus; syphilitic caries and necrosis, with fetid and bloody suppuration; ulcers very sensitive to touch; extreme nocturnal pains.

Aurum. Secondary syphilis; low-spirited; bones of skull painful when lying on them; exostosis on head; caries of mastoid process of temporal bone, with fetid otorrhoea; caries of nose, with offensive discharge of pus from nose; inflammation of bones of face, putrid smell from mouth, with caries of palate; ulcers which attack the bones; headache from topi in different parts of cranial bones.

Badiaga. Syphilitic bubo, as hard as a stone, uneven, ragged, at night violent lacerations, as if with red-hot needles, even where decided fluctuation has already set in.

Belladonna. Large and painful buboes, with intense inflammation of integuments, presenting a deep-red hue, and extending over large surfaces; phlegmonous phimosis and paraphimosis; erysipelatous balanitis; painful eruptions.

Berberis aquifolium. Inveterate cases of tertiary syphilis.

Carbo animalis. Indurated buboes, with lancinating or cutting pains; chancre, nasal syphilis.

Carbo veg. Syphilitic ulcers with high edges that become irritate from topical treatment; margins of sores sharp, ragged, undermined; discharge thin, acrid, offensive; ulcer painful and liable to bleed freely.

when touched; vesicles or blisters on prepuce; burning of labia; burning eruptions on skin.

Cinnabaris. Swelling of penis; redness and swelling of prepuce, with painful itching, violent itching of corona glandis, with profuse secretion of pus; small shining red points on the glans; blennorrhoea of glans; sycotic excrescences; violent erections in the evening; small ulcer on roof of mouth, on the right side of tip of tongue, and on tip.

Coral. rubr. Chancre and gonorrhoea of gland.

Corydalis. Syphilitic nodes on skull; ulceration of fauces; profuse morbid secretion of mucus; tongue coated, with fetid breath.

Hecla lava. Destructive ulceration of the nasal bones

Hepar sulph. Mercurio-syphilitic diseases of gums; pains in bones; chancres not painful, but disposed to bleed readily; margins of ulcers elevated and spongy looking, without granulations in their centre; buboes after mercurial treatment; phimosis, with discharge of pus, accompanied by throbbing; itching of penis, glans, and frenum; ulcers like chancres on prepuce, humid soreness on genitals, scrotum, and folds between thigh and scrotum; humid, suppurating herpes præputialis.

Hydrastis. Ozena, with ulceration, bloody or mixed purulent discharge; mercurial salivation.

Kali bichrom. Syphilitic affections of mouth and fauces; bone-pains, with stitches as if from sharp needles; periodical wandering pains all over the body; pustular syphiloderma; indurated chancre.

Kali hydroiodicum. Secondary and tertiary syphilis; abuse of mercury.

Lachesis. Phagedenic chancre; gangrene of glans and mons veneris; ulcers in throat and inflamed tonsils; caries of tibia; flat ulcers on lower extremities, with blue and purple areola.

Lycopodium. Chancres with raised edges; indolent chancres, with thick, rounded, prominent margins, granulations flabby or absent, eruptions on glands; condylomata; syphilitic ulcers in mouth.

Mercur. corros. Excessive pain, swelling, and inflammation; regular indurated Hunterian chancre with lardaceous bottom, swelling and redness of nose, ozena; margins of soft chancre dark red, painful, and easily bleeding; neighboring parts cedematous, hot, and painful; chancres on inner surface of præputium or corona glandis; chancres with ichor adhering to the bottom of ulcer so firmly that it cannot be removed by washing; ulcers with thin pus, leaving stains upon the linen, as from melted tallow; phagedenic ulcers in mouth, gums, and throat, with fetid breath, tonsils swollen and covered with ulcers, bubo and swelling of glands generally.

Mercur. iodat. rub. Hunterian hard chancre, threatened gangrene of glans in paraphimosis; soreness of bones of face; sharp shooting stitches in the end of penis through the glans; old buboes, discharging for years.

Mercur. sol. or vivus. Red chancre on prepuce; spreading and deeply penetrating ulcer on glans and prepuce; pale red vesicles, forming small ulcers after breaking, on glans and prepuce; painful bleeding chancres, with yellowish, fetid discharge; small chancres with a cheesy bottom and inverted red edges; ulcers of glans and prepuce, with cheesy, lardaceous bottom and hard edges.

Mezereum. Syphilitic periostitis; constant headache from topi of skull; pains through whole body, with nightly pains in the bones, brought on by syphilis, mercury, or both combined; bones inflamed, swollen, especially shafts of cylindrical bones, fainting sort of vertigo; weary of life.

Nux vom. Chancroid: shallow and flat-bottomed ulceration, showing a disposition to spread irregularly and indefinitely, exuding a thin serous discharge.

Nitric acid. Phagedenic chancres: ulcers in urethra, with purulent or bloody mucous discharge; ulcers bleed when touched, with exuberant, but pale and flabby granulations, irregular edges; most condylomata, like cauliflower, or on thin pedicles; ulcers in vagina, looking as if covered with yellow pus, with burning pain or itching, copper-colored spots on anus, syphilitic ulcers in mouth, syphilitic epilepsy and melancholia.

Phosphoric acid. Chancres with raised edges; chancres like an indolent ulcer, edges thick, rounded, and prominent; granulations pale and flabby, or absent; corroding, itching herpes preputialis; blisters and condylomata on glans; syccotic excrescences, chronic, with heat, burning, and soreness, when sitting or walking; figwarts, complicated with chancre; painless swelling of glands; interstitial osteitis of mercurio-syphilitic origin, with nocturnal pains, as if bones were scraped with a knife.

Phytolacca. Secondary syphilis; ulcers in throat and genitals; syphilitic rheumatism and syphilitic eruptions; pains shift, joints swollen, red, periosteum affected, pains in middle of long bones, or attachment of muscles, worse at night and in damp weather, glands inflamed, swollen; ulcers with appearance as if patched out, lardaceous bottom; weakness and prostration, but no paralytic symptoms.

Sepia. Indolent chancres; burning itching, humid, or scaly herpes preputialis; chappy herpes, with a circular desquamation of skin eruptions on glands and labia; itching and dry eruptions on genitals; chancres on glans and prepuce.

Silicea. Chancres with raised edges; inflamed, painful, irritable chancres, with discolored, thin, and bloody discharge, granulations indistinct or absent; painful eruptions on mons veneris, itching, moist or dry eruptions of red pimples or spots on genitals.

Staphisagria. Soft, humid excrescences on and behind coronal glands; dry, pediculated figwarts; excrescences and nodosities of gums; female sexual organs painfully sensitive, especially when sitting; mercurialism.

Stillingia. Secondary syphilis; extreme torture from bone-pains; nodes on head and legs.

Sulphur. Inflammation and swelling of sexual organs, with deep rhagades; burning and redness of prepuce, deep suppurating ulcer on glans and prepuce, with puffed edges; phimosis, with discharge of fetid pus; glandular swellings, indurated or suppurating.

Thuja. Chancres, with pain as from a splinter sticking; syccotic moist excrescences on prepuce and glans; moist mucous tubercles itching ulcers with unclean bottoms, or whitish chancres with hard edges.

TETANUS AND TRISMUS.

Acid, hydrocyan., acon., ammon. carb., ang., arn., ars., bell., campt., etc., con., cupr., hyosc., ign., ip., lach., laur., nux. v., op., rhus., ac., stram., ver.

Acid. hydrocyan. Tetanic spasms, with lockjaw; bloating of face and neck; protrusion and ghastening of eyes; immobility and dilatation of pupils, bluish-red color of face; frequent pulse; rigidity of limbs; trunk bent forward or backward; convulsions from congested condition of cerebral vessels.

Aconite. Frequent alternation of redness and paleness of face and distortion of eyes; opisthotonos; upper and lower limbs drawn in; hands and thumbs clenched; eyes drawn upward; face covered with cold sweat; twitching in thighs; rigidity of muscles of jaws and neck.

Ammonium carb. Tetanic or epileptic convulsions from violent cerebral irritation; feeling as if head would burst; pale, bloated face; anxiety, with inclination to weep; pulse hard, tense, and frequent; great sensitiveness to cold.

Angustura vera. Tetanus and trismus, with convulsions of the muscles of the back; painful stiffness in neck and between shoulder-blades; stiffness and stretching of limbs; twitching and jerking along the back, like electric shocks, spasmodic twitching; tetanic spasm, caused by contact, noise, or the drinking of lukewarm water; labored breathing during spasms; grimacing and closing of eyes; tension and drawing in facial muscles; thirst, without desire to drink; pulse accelerated, spasmodic, intermittent.

Arnica. Traumatic tetanus; short, panting breathing jerks and shocks as if produced by electricity, tremor of limbs; crawling prickling in the part; heat of face, cold body; longing for alcoholic drinks; internal chilliness, with external heat; pulse variable, mostly hard, full, and quick.

Arsenicum. Tetanic spasms, with frightful concussion of the limbs; patient lies as a dead person, but warm, with hands clenched, the arms slowly drawn up and down, features distorted, breathing imperceptible; stiffness of limbs, particularly of feet and knees; longing for cold water, acids, or alcohol; sudden sinking of strength; pulse frequent in the morning, slower evenings; skin dry like parchment.

Belladonna. Trismus, with painful constriction and narrowness of fauces, oppression of chest, labored irregular breathing, delirium, and sopor; drawing and stiffness in neck and spine, spasmodic contraction in tongue; yawning and vertigo; painful stiffness of muscles of mastication, with convulsions in limbs and chilliness; contortion of eyes, extension of extremities, violent distortion of all extremities; opisthotonos, pleurosthotonos, especially to left side; paroxysms of stiffness and immobility of limbs, or of a single limb, with aggravation from slightest contact. Trismus infantilis, with sudden starting and drawing together of body and limbs, twitchings, strabismus; inability to swallow, and finally severe spasms; anxious, spasmodic respiration; dilated pupils, motionless staring eyes; involuntary discharge of feces.

Camphora. Tetanic spasms, with loss of consciousness; limbs extended and fixed, head bent sideways, lower jaw rigid and wide open, lips drawn inwards, increasing distortion of muscles of face, coldness all over body; oppressed, anxious, panting breathing; trismus; sudden and great sinking of strength, pulse small, weak, slow; cold perspiration, often clammy, and always very debilitating.

Cicuta vir. Trismus and tetanic rigidity from injuries inflicted upon head and spinal column; deadly paleness of face, with coldness of face and hands; throat feels closed, inability to swallow; spasms of muscles, especially of neck and chest; pulse weak, slow, trembling.

Cuprum. Paleness of face, spasmodic contraction of jaw, foam at mouth, jerking of limbs, with distortion; vomiting; opisthotonos, with the limbs spread out to the sides, and the mouth open; rigidity of limbs and trunk; jaws closed, with loss of consciousness, redness of eyes, pyalism, and frequent micturition.

Hyoscyamus. Alternate convulsions of upper and lower extremities; contraction of extremities, and tossing of body upwards, eyes staring and distorted, with spasmodic closure of lids, bluish face, clenching of teeth, foaming at mouth, constriction of throat, drawing of neck to one side, rigidity of hands, contortions, and spasmodic curvings of body.

Ignatia. Emotional trismus or opisthotonos; head drawn powerfully back, countenance livid, pupils dilated, respiration and deglutition of fluids difficult.

Laurocerasus. Hippocratic countenance, disposition to clench the jaws, spasmodic constriction of larynx, staring eyes, foam at mouth, stiffness of neck, twitching about the head.

Lycopodium. Drawing of head towards right side, with stiffness of neck, face, and jaw; dizziness, heaviness of head; weak eyes; dry and stuffed-up nose; dry, difficult stool; depression of spirits; restless sleep, with anxious dreams.

Moschus. Stiffness of body, with full consciousness; spasms in abdominal muscles.

Nux vom. Tetanic convulsions, alternating with violent convulsions of whole body; violent convulsions of body, with extreme rigidity of limbs; dyspnoea from drawing in of the muscles of chest, with distorted eyes and redness of face; spasmodic attacks from the merest touch; alternate trismus and opisthotonos; frightful convulsions, particularly opisthotonos, returning and abating several times in one minute, with full consciousness; violent convulsions, lasting from one to two minutes, all the muscles becoming suddenly stiff, jaws clenched, frequent and irregular pulse; profuse sweat; opisthotonos, with feeble beating of heart, pulse small and scarcely perceptible; spasms preceded by violent chills and shuddering.

Opium. Twitchings of facial muscles, distortion of mouth, trismus, with irregular, difficult respiration, spasmodic trembling of limbs, foaming at mouth, flushing of face, unsteadiness of eyes, quivering of lips and facial muscles; trismus, with irregular, difficult respiration; tetanic spasms, with opisthotonos and rigidity of the whole body, the trunk curved in form of an arch.

Physostigma ven. Has produced relaxation of tetanic muscles of trunk and limbs.

Phytolacca. Stiff extremities, hands firmly shut; feet extended and toes flexed; pupils contracted; teeth clenched; lips everted and firm; general muscular rigidity; respiration difficult and oppressed; convulsive action of muscles of face and neck, followed by partial relaxation, and then again tetanic condition.

Rhus tox. Injuries inflicted in ligamentous parts, rheumatismus and tetanus; rigidity as from contraction of tendons, tingling and twitching of limbs; opisthotonos, with great languor; oppression of chest; contraction of fingers; pale sickly countenance.

Stramonium. Tetanic convulsions excited by the sight of a sparkling object; the eyes of the patient glisten and sparkle; grinding of teeth, muttering; oppression of chest; violent motion of limbs, with stretching and trembling of the hands, clenching of thumbs.

Veratrum album. Pale hippocratic countenance; trismus; grinding of teeth, spasmodic constriction of œsophagus, with contracted pupils; spasmodic constriction of the palms of the hands and soles of feet; twitching of eyes; paroxysms preceded by anguish and despair.

TINEA CAPITIS.

Tinea furfuracea, amiantacea. dry scald head: ars., ars. iod., calc., hep., merc., mez., phos., sil., sulph.

Tinea favosa, favus, achor. humid scald head: 1, lappa, lye., sulph.; 2, hep., rhus., sep.; 3, bar., calc., cic., graph., oleand., phyt., staph., vinca minor, zinc.

Agaricus. Tinea capitis, with crusts sometimes spreading to other parts of the body; biting itching in scalp and other parts of head; scalp sensitive as from subcutaneous ulceration

Arctium lappa. Head completely covered with a grayish-white crust and most of the hair gone; eruption extends to face; moist, bad-smelling eruptions on heads of children; crusta lactea, swelling, and suppuration of axillary glands.

Arsenicum. Scalp perfectly dry and rough, covered with dry scales and scabs, extending sometimes even to forehead, face, and ears; burning itching eruption, parts painful after scratching

Bromine. Malignant scald head, oozing profusely; in places where the eruption is dry, the skin throws off flakes; extreme tenderness of scalp; unbearable smell of eruption; especially in children with light hair and blue eyes.

Calcareæ carb. Thick scabs, covering a quantity of thick yellow pus; thick scabs, bleeding when picked, itching slightly; large scabs, covering sometimes over one half of the entire scalp; eruption spreading over head and face; unhealthy ulcerative skin, even small wounds suppurate.

Cornus circin. Dry and moist tinea; itching of the scalp, legs, and feet, increased by scratching and rubbing, worse at night; sarcoidosis, with dry spasmodic cough or tedious chronic cough, with mucous expectoration.

Dulcamara. Ringworm on scalp, glands about throat swollen, thick crust on scalp, causing hair to fall out; serofulous ophthalmia from every exposure to cold; tinea oozing a watery fluid, bleeding after scratching.

Graphites. Exudation of clear glutinous fluid, matting the hair together and forming moist scales; the hair falls out, even on the sides of head; humid pimples on face; itching blotches on various parts of body, from which oozes a watery sticky fluid.

Hepar. Humid eruptions on scalp, feeling sore, of fetid odor, itching violently on rising in the morning, burning and feeling sore on scratching; falling off of the hair, with very sore, painful pimples, and large bald spots on scalp; inflammation and suppuration of glands; scabs easily torn off, leaving a raw and bleeding surface.

Hydrastis. Eczema on margin of hair in front, worse coming from cold into a warm room, oozing after washing; all secretions tenacious, ropy, increased.

Hydrocotyle. Tinea favosa; painful constriction of the posterior and superior integuments of the skull; general lassitude and prostration.

Jacea. Tinea capitis, with frequent involuntary urination; impetigo on hairy scalp and face; burning stitches in scalp, especially in forehead and temples; crusta lactea; thick incrustations, pouring out a large quantity of thick yellow fluid, which agglutinates the hair, scurfs on head unbearable, burning most at night; skin difficult to heal.

Lycopodium. Eruption, beginning on the back of head; crusts thick, easily bleeding, oozing a fetid moisture, worse after scratching and from warmth; pityriasis in spots on the scalp; glandular swellings.

Mercurius. Pustular, fetid eruption on head, with yellow crusts, worse when scratching and at forehead; hair falls out on temples and sides; itching all over, worse at night, when warm in bed.

Mezereum. Dry eruption on head, with intolerable itching, as if the head were in an ant's nest; white, scaly peeling-off eruption over scalp, extending over forehead, temples, ears, and neck; by scratching the irritation flies from one part to another; head covered with a thick leathery crust, under which pus collects and mats the hair; elevated, white, chalklike scabs, with ichor beneath, breeding vermin; violent itching, worse in bed, from touch.

Natrum mur. Scabs on head and in axillæ; oozing of a corroding fluid, which destroys the hair.

Oleander. Humid, scaly, biting itching eruption, especially on back part of head and behind ears.

Phosphor. Dandruff copious, falls out in clouds; roots of hair get gray, and hair comes out in bunches; burning and itching worse after scratching; the denuded scalp appears clear, white, and smooth.

Phytolacca. Tinea capitis, worse washing it, when he is warm; scaly eruption on scalp; glands enlarged.

Psorinum. Moist, suppurating, fetid eruption on head; averse to having head uncovered; hair dry, lustreless, tangles easily; skin dirty, greasy-looking, with yellow blotches here and there; the whole body has a filthy smell, even after a bath.

Silicea. Patches of eruption on scalp, exfoliating thin, dry, furfuraceous scales; eruption on back of head, moist or dry, offensive, scabby, burning, itching, discharging pus; cervical glands and parotids swollen.

Staphisagria. Humid, itching, fetid eruption on occiput, sides of head, and behind ears; scratching changes the place of itching, but increases the oozing; hair falls off, mostly from occiput and around the ears, with humid fetid eruption, or dandruff on scalp.

Sulphur. Humid offensive eruption, with thick pus, yellow crusts, itching, bleeding, and burning; dry, offensive, scabby, easily bleeding, burning eruption on back of head and behind ears, with sore pain and cracks, better from scratching; dandruff.

Thuja. Moist corroding eruption on occiput and temples, worse from touch, better from rubbing; white scaly dandruff, hair dry and falling off, extending to eyebrows; wants head and face warmly wrapped.

Vinca minor. Spots on head, oozing moisture, matting the hair together; hair falls out in single spots, and white hair grows on it; humid eruptions on head, with much vermin and nightly itching; burning after scratching.

Viola tric. Urine smells like cat's urine.

Characteristics of eruption: viola tric.: thick, pours out yellow pus, mats hair, urine of patients smells like cats' urine; sulphur: head and face bleed easily, thick pus; calc. carb.: spreads to face, thick mild pus, at times in isolated spots and white; hepar: after salves, itches mornings; silicea: more back of head, pustules; phosphor., lycopod.: thick, offensive, angry, oozes pus, worse on occiput; sarsap., sep.: worse out of doors, pus spreads the eruption; arsenic.: angry excoriating discharge, branlike on forehead; hydrastis: forehead; argent. nitr.: nape of neck; natr. mur.: nape of neck, impetiginoid; lithium carb.: skin dry, harsh, itching; staphis.: humid, fetid, occiput and behind ears; psorin.: down over ears, temples, and cheeks, moist, fetid, or scaly; petrol.: eczematous, purulent, cracking; antim. crud.: hard thick crusts; mercur.: herpes, becoming scaly, pustules, eruption worse in warmth of bed; stillingia: moist, brown, excoriating, on the scalp; mezereum: head covered with a thick, leathery crust, under which pus collects and mats the hair.

Foul, destructive, easily bleeding ulcers; black pustules surround the tumor or ulcer; burning pain, especially in ulcer or tumor; great emaciation; excessive prostration; skin ecchymosed, waxy, dry, and harsh; pains are felt even when asleep; lancinating pains; pus copious, watery, bloody, corrosive; worse evenings and at night, from cold, better from warmth (ars. iod.); lymphoma of neck, skin over it full of holes.

Artemisia vulgaris. Cancer of stomach?

Aurum met. Malignant ulceration of palate and nasal bones (syphilis, lupus); mental despondency, with suicidal disposition, face greenish, ichorous, putrid; worse at night and morning on getting cold, while reposing; better from warmth, moving, while wakened.

Baryta carb. Glandular and atheromatous tumors, especially in old persons, where pus is scanty and growth slow; lipoma of druck-arde; sarcoma in neck, with burning, worse at night, when lying on affected side; better when walking in open air, stentoma.

Belladonna. Tumors with much inflammation, painful to even light touch, mevi.

Bryonia. Indolent tumors, of slow growth, with slow and imperfect suppuration.

Calcarea carb. Leucophlegmasia and malnutrition; polyp, nasal and uterine; fibroid tumors; lipoma, encephaloma; tendency to boils, deficient animal heat, cold feet, perspiration on head and feet: pus copious, putrid, yellowish, or white, like milk; worse in cold air or wet weather, better from having garments loose; pedunculated fibroids. (Calc. iod., calc. arsen.)

Carbo an. Colloid deposits in viscera, particularly stomach; cancer of uterus; dry indolent ulcerations on external parts; scirrhus cancer on forehead; worse evenings and at night, in open, cold, or dry air.

Chelidonium. Old, spreading, putrid, carcinomatous ulcers; the pain in stomach is of a gnawing-digging character, with nausea and sensation of heat in stomach; pus scanty, corrosive, and acrid; worse in the morning, in the open air, when walking; better from pressure.

Conium mac. Tumors of all kinds, especially scirrhus, coming on after contusion; stony hardness of the tumor, and feeling of weight; cancerous swelling and induration of glands (secondary deposit); cancerous tumors of lips and face; fibroids; worse in open air, from being uncovered, from pressure or rubbing; better when lying down and from warmth.

Crocus sat. Tumors, with ulceration and bleeding; blood black, and hangs in long strings.

Colocynth. Ovarian cysts, with pain in abdomen upon straightening up; walks bent, with hands pressed to painful side; attacks of excruciating pains, cutting and griping, obliging to bend double, and screams with agony; bilious vomiting during paroxysm.

Cundurango. Scirrhus and open carcinoma. One of the best remedies to relieve the stinging-burning pains of cancer.

Galium ap. Cancer of tongue; epithelioma.

Graphites. Tumors in persons with herpetic dyscrasia; wens, smooth and shining, on scalp; sebaceous cysts, particularly when atrophomatous; pus scanty, and smelling like herring brine.

Hydrastis. Ulcers, after removal of tumor, with pricking pain on motion of the part; cancer and epithelioma.

Iodine. Induration and parenchymatous enlargement of glands, particularly of head and neck; complete prostration of strength and general emaciation; dirty yellow color of skin; pulsations in pit of stomach; worse when lying on painful side, from pressure, warmth, or walking quickly; better from cold, after eating.

Kali brom. Tumors, especially ovarian; the nervous symptoms characteristic, especially confusion of mind, and spinal symptoms tending to paraplegia.

Kali carb. Painful tumors on scalp, more painful from pressure and motion, less from external heat, accompanied by itching, as if in bones of head, with great dryness of the hair; itching warts.

Kali iod. Epithelioma of tongue.

Kreasot. Epithelioma; carcinoma ventriculi; tightness in pit of stomach; must wear clothing loose; painful hard place in left side of stomach; cancer of uterus, acrid bloody ichor from womb; profuse discharge of dark coagulated blood or of pungent bloody ichor, preceded by pain in back; cancer of mammae, which is hard, bluish red, and covered with little scurfy protuberances; awful burning, as of red-hot coal, in pelvis, with discharge of clots of blood having a foul smell.

Lachesis. Small ulcers scattered about, with pain in old cicatrices, pain or burning in ulcers upon being touched; skin in neigh-hood of tumor of livid or mottled appearance; melanosis; colloid or encephaloid cancer; gangrenous spots, cancer of breast, with lancinating pains; worse in open air, from pressure, and after sleep, better in dry weather.

Lapis albus. Lipoma, sarcoma, glandular and fibrous tumors, carcinoma as long as ulceration has not yet set in.

Lycopodium. Swelling of upper lip, with a large ulcer on the vermilion border of the lower one; vascular tumors; navus maternus; emaciation and debility from loss of fluids.

Muriatic acid. Carcinoma linguae, when the edges of the ulcer and surrounding parts are of a blue color.

Nitric acid. Pain and swelling of gland, ultimately becoming scirrhus; ulceration following tumor, with a sticking pain as from a splinter upon touching them or on motion; bone tumors, following mercury or syphilis; condylomata, with sticking pain and much moisture on anus and perineum; pus bloody and corroding.

Phosphorus. Open cancers, bleeding profusely; polypi bleeding readily on slight provocation; lipoma; encephaloma; colloid cancer, condylomata of large size, rough and dry, filling the vagina; painfulness of stomach to touch, and when walking; worse after eating anything warm; pus thin, ichorous; hectic, desires to be magnetized. Lymphoma on neck with hectic fever.

Phytolacca. Swelling and induration of the glands; carcinoma mammae; lipoma; shooting-lancinating pains, worse after sleeping, great exhaustion and prostration.

Platina. Ovarian tumors and cysts; black and clotted metrorrhagia; induration and ulceration of uterus; mental symptoms characteristic.

Silicea. Semi-malignant and cancerous tumors; scirrhus; induration of the upper lip and face; sebaceous and synovial cysts, fibroid tumors; epulis; encephaloma oculi, blood-boils and warts.

Teucrium. Polypi of all kinds, but particularly nasal fibroids.

Thuja. Warts and condylomata, sessile and pedunculated, naevi, spongy cauliflower excrescence; scirrhus and cancer of uterus.

TUSSIS CONVULSIVA.

Pertussis: whooping-cough.

Ambra. Fetor of mouth; pressure in stomach and hypochondria, itching in chest; sour-smelling urine; cough worse when many persons are present; hollow, spasmodic, barking cough, worse from talking or reading aloud, with frequent eructations and hoarseness.

Aconite. Clear ringing or whistling whooping cough, excited by burning sticking in larynx and trachea; generally without expectoration; rarely during day expectoration of mucus, with coagulated blood.

Anacardium. Fits of vexation cause paroxysms of cough; dyspnea accompanies and succeeds the coughing spell; the coughing shakes the patient thoroughly; paroxysms every three or four hours, excited by tickling in throat; at night, without expectoration; during day, with expectoration of sweetish flat-tasting mucus, or yellowish, purulent, and acrid; almost only adapted to ill-natured children.

Ambra grisea. Severe paroxysms of hollow-sounding cough, worse morning, evening, and during night; oppression and rapidity of respiration and expectoration of large quantities of tough, gray, or yellowish mucus, especially after waking in the morning, of a salt or sour taste; abundant eructations with the cough; emaciation.

Ammonium bromide. Cough and inclination to cough come suddenly; cough dry, spasmodic, and very severe, at times an interval of only a few moments; an almost continuous cough for hours, especially when lying down at night; sensation of tickling irritation, with heat and burning.

Angustura. Violent cough excited by an irritation low in trachea, mornings, and during day expectoration of much yellow mucus; hoarseness from accumulation of tenacious mucus in larynx; intermittent spasmodic respiration, much dyspnea.

Antimon. crud. Whooping-cough from deep in abdomen, with coughs, which become gradually weaker and weaker, as if from increasing closure of fauces; in the evening without expectoration, in the morning with expectoration of tenacious bloody mucus; vomiting of drinks only; involuntary micturition; weakness or loss of voice; concussion of whole body.

Arnica. Paroxysms of whooping cough excited by a creeping in trachea, generally dry, often with expectoration of frothy blood mixed with coagula, or of badly-tasting slime, which patient has to swallow; he places his hands upon the chest to support it during the coughing fit; cough occasional during day, but more frequent and severe in the evening, till midnight; worse from motion, in the warmth, and after drinking; intercostal neuralgia.

Arsenicum. Clear, ringing, crowing, or whistling cough, excited by burning tickling in trachea and throat-pit, as if from vapors of sulphur, at night without, in daytime with, expectoration of scanty frothy mucus, or in lumps, sometimes mixed with florid blood, returning periodically with increasing violence; before paroxysm, face pale and cold, vomiting of food and drink, starting up in sleep as if from suffocation, during paroxysm, face puffed and blue, burning in throat, nausea, retching, sensation of bruised soreness in abdomen, restlessness, anxiety, and despair; paroxysm ends with sweat.

Asafoetida. Hoarse, ringing, short cough, with asthmatic feeling in trachea and sensation of spasmodic constriction in chest, with accumulation of stringy mucus in trachea; pressure and burning under sternum, with frequent disposition to cough; compression of chest, as by a heavy weight, preventing expansion of lungs; slow, small, contracted pulse (erot. tigl. phos.).

Badiaga. Occasional severe fits of spasmodic cough, ejecting viscid yellowish mucus from bronchi, often flying forcibly out of mouth, terminating in sneezing and fluent coryza; worse afternoon and evening, with headache, aching pains in posterior parts of eyeballs, slight shocks in ears; pale, ashy face; sharp lancinating pains in chest especially below the scapula; soreness of flesh and integuments of whole body.

Baryta carb. Whooping-cough in old people and atrophic children, with roughness in throat, and tickling sensation in pit of stomach; evening without, morning with, difficult expectoration of yellowish, tenacious, starchy, often salty mucus, worse from getting feet wet, sleeping in cold room, lying on left side, or from thinking on it; swelling and suppuration of tonsils after slightest cold; loss of voice; chest obstructed by mucus; drowsiness and chilliness day and night.

Belladonna. Spasmodic cough at night, in quarter hourly paroxysms, each fit consisting of but few coughs, with rough, hollow, barking tone, excited by tickling in throat as if from down, or as if latex were constricted, with none or scanty expectoration of some florid coagulated blood; most violent just after midnight, worse by movement or touch, especially of throat, from talking, deep inspiration, awaking from sleep; weeping and pains in stomach before coughing, during it peevishness, congestion to head, which aches as if it would burst; photophobia, face livid and puffed; retching and vomiting, first of food, then of bile; involuntary micturition and defecation. Suitable at beginning, or later from cerebral congestion.

Bromium. Crampy, rough, barking, or whistling cough, excited by tickling in throat, as if from vapor of sulphur, without expectoration, worse from motion, deep inspiration, tobacco smoke, depression and melancholy; sensation of coldness in throat; much frothy mucus in mouth; dyspnoea, gasping for breath, chilliness with shuddering.

Bryonia. The child coughs almost immediately after eating and drinking, and vomits what it has eaten, then returns to the table, finishes his meal, but coughs and vomits again; spasmodic cough excited by tickling in throat and epigastrium, evening and night without, morning and daytime with expectoration of flat-tasting mucus mixed with coagulated, brownish, cold blood, at first difficult to dislodge. Stitches in chest, liver, and abdomen; soreness of ribs as if beaten

Calcareæ carb. Short spasmodic cough in brief but often-repeated paroxysms, excited by tickling as if from down in throat and trachea; evening and night without, morning and day with copious mucous or purulent, yellow, or grayish, or sometimes bloody sputa, of sour taste and offensive odor, worse in damp, cold air, from getting wet, washing, bathing, from talking, after sleep; in teething children cough comes always after eating, and they vomit their food.

Capsicum. Frequent and short barking cough, especially towards evening; after lying down tingling and tickling in throat; pain in throat when coughing, as if an ulcer would burst; head feels like bursting when coughing; continued stitches in throat, exciting dry convulsive cough, with earache when coughing.

Carbo an. Suffocating hoarse cough, excited by rawness and dryness in larynx and trachea; at night without, during day gray, greenish, sometimes purulent expectoration, of an offensive, sour taste; sensation as if brain were loose, epistaxis; concussion of abdomen; asthmatic breathing; hoarseness morning, aphonia at night; feeling of coldness in chest. (Brom. in throat.)

Carbo veg. Short, hard, but infrequent coughing spells, excited by a creeping irritation in larynx and throat; in the evening without, in the morning with yellow, greenish, purulent, or tenacious mucous sputa, worse by eating or drinking cold things, in damp cold air, by passing from a warm into a cold atmosphere; despondency and irritability; bleeding from eyes and nose; scorbutic condition of gums; hoarseness and aphonia; chill and coldness, with thirst, especially in cold damp, or cold frosty weather.

Causticum. Unceasing short hollow cough, excited by tickling and much mucus in throat, in daytime without, at night with detachment of an acrid fatty-tasting mucus, which apparently comes up easy enough, but cannot be discharged, but must be swallowed; worse from getting warm after taking cold, from cold air or being in a current of air, waking out of sleep (a swallow of cold water allays the cough); nasal catarrh, at night dry, fluent in daytime; restlessness; sleepiness in daytime, sleepless at night; constant chilliness; copious sweat in open air.

Cepa. Hoarse, harsh, dry, ringing, spasmodic cough, causing a raw splitting pain in larynx, so severe that he tries to suppress the cough, worse in a warm room and when lying down; better in the open air, but getting worse again on entering a warm room; copious, fluent, acrid coryza and profuse bland lachrymation; constant sneezing when coming into a warm room, catarrhal ophthalmia; chills run up the back, weakness in hips and loins; lassitude. Autumnal epidemics.

Chamomilla. Hollow suffocating cough, provoked by tickling in chest, throat, larynx, and suprasternal fossa, at night without, in daytime with scanty, tenacious, mucous sputa; worse in windy weather, from emotions, relieved by becoming warm in bed.

Chelidonium. Frequent fits of violent, dry, hollow, or short exhausting cough, excited by severe tickling in the larynx, which brings tears to eyes; by heat and sensation of dust in trachea, throat, and behind sternum, not relieved by cough; generally without expectora-tion; sometimes the exhausting morning cough causes expectoration from deep in the lungs; swallowing and breathing difficult, feeling as if air could not pass through larynx from a swelling there; stitches from left clavicle and in left mammary region.

Cina. Violent periodically recurring paroxysms, excited by sensation of down in throat, and by a quantity of adherent mucus in throat, in morning without, in evening with expectoration of a whitish, slimy, tasteless substance, detached with difficulty. Obstinate children, with black hair and black eyes bell.: quiet, mild children, with blonde hair and blue eyes; before attack ravenous hunger, bellyache, pulsy diarrhoea, itching of anus, fluent nasal catarrh; during fit loss of consciousness, pale face, cold sweat on forehead, bleeding from mouth and nose, tonic spasms of legs, suffocation, rigidity of body; after the attack whimpering when touched; vomiting of food, mucus, or bile; difficult deglutition of fluids; clucking in abdomen; thorax seems too narrow; sleeplessness; with crying and weeping.

Coccus cacti. Suffocative cough, with expectoration of much tough, ropy, white mucus, which accumulates in chest and throat, and is difficult to raise, causing nearly strangulation and vomiting of food; worse during night after going to bed, after remaining long in one position, when entering a heated room after having been in the cold open air; cough worse on first waking, which racks the system all over; head pains as if it would split, purple face; protracted tracheal catarrhs remaining after whooping-cough; irregularities in urinary secretion.

Conium. Powerful spasmodic nocturnal paroxysms of cough, at night without, in daytime with difficult, bloody, purulent, sometimes hardened sputa, of putrid taste and smell, especially after messes, scarlatina, or during pregnancy.

Corallium rubr. Fits of violent spasmodic cough, commencing with gasping for breath and continuing with repeated crowing inspirations until he grows purple and black in face, and is quite exhausted; worse in latter part of night and mornings; larynx and trachea more involved than chest; mucous membrane of throat and chest very sensitive, any change of air sets the patient coughing; loss of appetite and thirst; severe fit of coughing followed by a loose cough, with vomiting of quantities of tough, ropy, stringy mucus.

Crocus sat. Chorea complicating whooping-cough; evening paroxysms accompanied by ludicrous gestures and continued caresses, followed for one hour by beating, biting, unruly manners, followed by quiet sleep, from which patient awakes whooping, and a repetition of the whole scene; violent exhausting dry cough, relieved by laying the hand on pit of stomach.

Caprum mst. Whooping-cough in long uninterrupted paroxysms, which last until the breath is completely exhausted, excited by mucus in trachea and spasms in larynx; dry in evening, scanty sputa of mucus, with dark blood, of a putrid taste and odor, in the morning; fits recur every half hour to two hours, worse by eating and food, inhaling cold air, by bending the body backwards, better by swallowing cold water; before attack, alternation of gaiety and depression, during fit, pale sunken face, blue lips; frothing of mouth; retching, vomiting of bile and blood; whistling respiration; constriction of chest; chronic spasms and convulsions, beginning at fingers and toes; stiffness and rigidity of whole body; after the attack headache, audible gurgling of drink down œsophagus; vomiting only of solid food; spasmodic asthma, rattling of mucus in chest; oversensitiveness of all the senses, jerking during sleep.

Digitalis. Hollow, deep, spasmodic cough, excited by roughness and scratching in the roof of mouth and trachea; mornings without, evenings with expectoration of scanty, jellylike mucus; worse midnight and morning; from drinking cold fluids, from eating, walking, talking, bending body forwards; pulse very slow, much accelerated by the slightest motion; chilliness, with heat and redness of face; heat, with cold sweat on forehead, one hand hot, the other cold; desire for bitter food; vomiting of food, then of bile; after the attack great prostration.

Drosera. Whooping-cough in periodically returning spasms, made up of quickly succeeding barking coughs, which do not prevent recovery of breath; excited by sensation of dryness, or of feathers in throat, in the evening without, in the morning with yellow, bitter expectoration, which the patient has to swallow; worse after lying down and after midnight, by laughing, singing, weeping; wind colic; bloody mucous diarrhoea; attacks of suffocation; gasping for breath; constriction in chest; bruised feeling in limbs; sleepiness immediately after sunset; shivering during repose, even in bed.

Dulcamara. Whooping-cough excited by copious secretion of mucus in larynx and trachea, attended by copious, easy expectoration of tasteless mucus, and often of florid blood; worse from taking cold, by getting wet, or from repercussion of eruptions, from damp cold atmosphere.

Eupatorium perf. Hoarse, rough, barking cough, excited by sensation of soreness and heat in bronchi, without expectoration; patient supports chest with his hands when coughing; aching and bruised pains through body; worse evenings and by motion. (Arnica.)

Euphrasia. Suffocative cough, with profuse lachrymation and fluent coryza; the flat-tasting watery mucus is difficult to dislodge, and expectorated only in the morning; cough only in daytime, none at night; worse evenings, when awaking from sleep, from wind; acrid watery nature of all secretions.

Ferrum met. Spasmodic cough, in the evening without, in the morning with a blood-streaked, purulent, slimy, sometimes frothy expectoration, of a sweetish, putrid, or sourish taste, worse in the evening till midnight; during this period the spata are not dislodged, but in daytime, during motion, they are loosened. Suitable for drinkers of brandy, excessive use of tea, or for persons who have taken much china.

Hepar. Hoarse croupy nightcough; deep, dull, whistling cough, in the evening without, in the morning with expectoration of masses of mucus, purulent and bloody, sour, or of sweet taste and offensive odor; worse when becoming cold, even of one extremity only, or from eating and drinking anything cold; mucus rattling in chest, with choking; cough worse after exposure to chilly night air; shattering shocks and soreness in chest; profound sleep, with head thrown back; copious sour sweat.

Hydrocyanic acid. Violent paroxysms of cough, or frequent cough excited by a pricking sensation, which begins in larynx and extends down into trachea, followed by dryness of mouth and larynx; slow, enfeebled, and anxious respiration, with much rattling of mucus.

Hyoscyamus. Shattering spasmodic cough, with frequent, rapidly succeeding coughs, excited by tickling, as from adherent mucus, at night without, in daytime with expectoration of saltish mucus, or of bright-red blood mixed with coagula; worse when lying down, after midnight, by cold air, by eating and drinking; vertigo as if intoxicated, head rocks on this side and on that; eyes protrude; heat and redness of face; ability to swallow liquids only a little at a time, with violent thirst; spasm of chest, compelling to bear forwards, wheezing respiration; trembling and coldness of hands and feet; convulsions.

Ignatia. Depressing emotions; hollow spasmodic cough, excited in evening by an irritation in the suprasternal fossa, and in the morning by a tickling just above the epigastrium, generally without expectoration; sticking sore throat, relieved by swallowing food; feeling of emptiness and weakness in epigastrium; dyspnoea and attacks of suffocation; slow inspiration and rapid expiration; chest feels as if too small; spasmodic yawning.

Iodum. Spasmodic cough, excited by intolerable tickling in larynx and suprasternal fossa; mornings without, in evenings with frequently copious, tenacious, yellow, or bloody mucous expectoration; worse by getting heated, walking, talking, going upstairs; vomiting of food renewed at every meal; canine hunger; epigastric pains; emaciation, but nevertheless a good appetite; prostration, swelling and induration of glands; dry, dirty skin.

Ipecacuanha. Violent, shattering, hollow coughs, following each other in quick succession, and do not admit recovery of breath; expectorates mornings some light-red blood, mixed with mucus, of a putrid sweetish taste, gastric disturbances, disposition to hemorrhages.

Kali bichrom. Short, wheezing, hard cough, sometimes dry, generally with expectoration of tough mucus; worse after eating and deep inspiration.

Kali carb. Spasmodic coughs, with attacks of suffocation and vomituration; worse at night; better after breakfast, with great difficulty to expectorate the mucus, which is swallowed; vomiting after midnight and toward morning; cough on first waking, without much expectoration; coldness and feeling of emptiness in abdomen; flatulence; constipation from inactivity of rectum; dry nasal catarrh; whistling respiration; stitches and spasms in chest; feeling of emptiness in chest.

Kreasot. Hollow, whistling, spasmodic cough, excited by roughness, scratching, and tickling in chest and throat without expectoration; bitter taste of food, not perceived until just as it is being swallowed; nausea; retching during pregnancy; shattering sensation in abdomen; great sleepiness and sound sleep.

Lachesis. Hacking spasmodic cough, excited by tickling in stomach; dislodges with difficulty during day some watery mucus, which he has to swallow; disposition to deep inspiration; asthma; sensation as if there was something fluttering about larynx; hoarseness even to aphonia; livid swelling of hands and feet; emaciation.

Lactuc and distressing constriction of chest, as if a heavy load were upon it ; dyspnoea at night so that he has to sit up ; ungovernable spasmodic cough, convulsing chest and abdomen ; dry cough, with dryness in throat and tickling in pharynx.

Laurccerasus. Stadium adynamicum ; when paralysis of lungs threatens in last stage.

Ledum. Before the paroxysm arrest of breathing ; during it, epistaxis, shattered feeling in head and chest, rapid respiration ; after it, staggering, spasmodic contractions of the diaphragm, soliding respirations.

Lobelia. Violent racking cough in paroxysms of long continuance followed by profuse expectoration of foamy mucus, which adheres to pharynx ; excessive dyspnoea ; sensation of weakness and pressure in epigastrium rising to heart ; feeling as of a lump of mucus in larynx ; nausea and profuse sweat.

Lycopodium. Cough, with copious expectoration during daytime of purulent masses or bloody mucus, of a salt taste and offensive odor ; yellow complexion, with circumscribed redness of cheeks ; oppression of stomach ; vomiting of food and bile ; distension of abdomen ; constipation ; flatulency ; asthma ; rattling of mucus in chest ; threatening paralysis of lungs.

Mephites. Cough, inclined to hoarseness, oftentimes of a croupy character, without being dry ; mucous râles through upper portion of lungs ; complete suffocative feeling, he cannot exhale ; vomiting of all the food, worse hours after eating ; bloated face ; convulsions ; cough and vomiting worse at night.

Mercurius. Spasmodic cough, always in two paroxysms, which occur in rapid succession ; at night without, in daytime with expectoration of a thin, acrid, yellow purulent mucus, often mixed with bright blood, of a repulsive or saltish taste and of offensive odor ; bleeding of nose and mouth with every coughing spell ; influenza.

Moschus. Last stage, when expectoration has nearly ceased ; spasmodic cough, with vertigo and constriction of chest and trachea ; one cheek is hot without redness, the other red without heat, speechlessness ; unconscious diarrhoeic stools at night ; sleepiness ; coma.

Naphthalin. Excessive spasmodic cough ; paroxysms lasting a long time.

Natrum mur. Whooping cough at seasons of intermittent fever, with the spasmodic cough ; excessive headache, increasing during the heat until it becomes intolerable ; violent jerking and shocks in head ; acrid lachrymation ; yellow earthy complexion ; soreness and feeling of dryness in larynx and trachea ; hoarseness ; pain in cervical glands.

Nitric acid. Shattering, barking, spasmodic cough, excited by tickling in larynx and epigastrium, with expectoration in daytime of dark blood mixed with coagula, or of a yellow acrid pus of an offensive odor ; foul breath ; stitches between scapula and sacral region ; sticking as from a splinter driven into the parts affected ; offensive night-sweat, smelling like urine ; emaciation ; discharge of cold stinking urine ; salivation.

Nux vom. Frequent, very dry, hard cough, worse in the morning ; child puts his hand up to his head while coughing ; at night and in the morning without, by day and in the evening with expectoration of a yellow or gray, often cold, mucus, or finally of clear dark-red blood, suits the ordinary catarrhal stage.

Niccolum met. Hard dry cough, great dyspnoea, desire to hold up the head and to sit up during cough; little or no expectoration, great hoarseness, cannot speak a loud word.

Phosphorus. If towards the end of whooping cough the disease threatens to take an unfavorable course, hollow, hacking, spasmodic tickling cough, excited by tickling itching in chest, expectorating during day tough whitish mucus, or rust-colored, or bright-red, frothy blood, much hoarseness, almost total loss of voice from the effects of the cough; burning piercing soreness and tension in chest, comatose day sleepiness; restlessness and clammy sweat at night.

Pulsatilla. First stage of whooping cough, which is very loose from the beginning, worse towards evening; mucous sputa, of a putrid flat taste, through whole day, none in the evening or night; vomits mucus after every fit of coughing; diarrhoea, nocturnal and watery; constant tossing about; sleeplessness before midnight; heat of body, with coldness of extremities.

Rumex crispus. Dry, hacking, incessant, very fatiguing cough, excited by tickling in suprasternal fossa, extending downward to middle of sternum, with sensation as if a feather were swaying to and fro in the bronchi with the respiration, causing a tickling which provokes the cough; worse by inhalation of cold air, or by pressure of trachea in suprasternal fossa; hoarseness; voice uncertain, fluent coryza, stitches in upper part of left lung.

Sambucus. Deep, hollow, suffocating cough, excited by spasm in chest, at night without, in daytime with scanty, tenacious, mucous expectoration, of a sweetish, putrid or saltish taste; worse about midnight, from repose, lying with the head low, from dry cold air; dry heat during sleep, copious on awaking.

Sanguinaria. Dry cough awaking from sleep, and not ceasing till patient sits up, with pains in chest, relieved by discharges of flatus both ways; dyspnoea from afternoon till night; nocturnal diarrhoea.

Sepia. Cough day and night, but especially during night, with retching and complete loss of breath; cough comes in rapid succession, till breath is exhausted, then gagging and vomiting of mucus; in daytime without, in morning, evening, and at night with expectoration of yellow, green, or gray pus, or of a milky-colored tenacious mucus, of repulsive taste and unpleasant odor, which is swallowed; fits of coughing recur periodically, worse from repose, from cold damp air; congestion; stitches and shocks in chest, relieved by pressure of hand on chest; piercing in back, in scapula; burning of palms of hands; coldness of legs and feet; chilliness with every motion.

Silicea. Dangerous spasmodic cough, excited by talking in suprasternal fossa, in evening and at night without, mornings and during day with expectoration of a yellow, purulent, tough acrid mucus, more rarely of bright frothy blood, of a fatty taste and offensive odor, worse from change of air, before a thunderstorm, at the new moon, from eating cold things, or hastily; wilfulness of children, with weeping; throbbing headache, epistaxis, the blood acrid and corrosive; thirst; vomiting of cold drinks, of food, then of bile; hard burning abdomen of children; discharge of worms; fluent acrid coryza; much sneezing; sighing, deep respiration; tightness in chest; stitches in chest, extending through to back; stinking footsweat; swelling and coldness of feet.

Spongia. Sporadic cases of whooping-cough; irritation to cough high up in larynx, as if from a plug, attended, in the morning alone, by the detachment of a scanty, tenacious, yellow, or indurated mucus, of hardly any taste, which he is compelled to swallow; better by eating and drinking, worse from cold air, excitement, motion, orgasm of blood in chest, wheezing inspiration; spasmodic constriction in chest, anxious dry heat; prostration; sweat all over early mornings.

Squilla. Violent short paroxysms of cough, with difficult expectoration in the morning of whitish or reddish-colored mucus, of a repulsive sweetish taste, worse from drinking cold water, from exertion; violent acrid coryza, eyes full of water; rattling of mucus in chest, sneezing and involuntary micturition with every fit of coughing; absolute lack of sweat; morning-cough, with its expectoration, is far more exhausting than the dry evening-cough.

Sticta pulm. Spasmodic stage, cough dry and noisy, excited by tickling in larynx, finally extending to lungs, every evening and continuing through night, all secretions dry quickly, and are discharged as scales; frontal headache.

Sulphur. Frequent relapses, without any known cause, or from exposure to cold in psoric patients; suppressed cough.

Tartarus emet. Spasmodic coughs following each other in quick succession, excited by tickling and creeping in larynx and trachea, expectorating mornings some tenacious mucus; vomiting of food and drink, even before the coughing; diarrhoea, with great prostration; paroxysms of suffocation and difficulty in recovering breath; worse after warm drinks, in damp cold air, especially cellars.

Trifolium prat. Spasmodic shaking cough; bronchial râles; asthmatic respiration; profuse, stringy, cohesive sputa, like white of an egg.

Veratrum alb. Epidemic whooping-cough (spring and fall); deep, hollow, ringing cough, excited by a tickling in the lowest branches of bronchi, seeming as if it came from abdomen, at night without, in daytime with expectoration of yellow, tenacious mucus, of a bitter saltish, or sour and putrid taste; worse from coming from a cold into a warm air, from getting warm, damp cold weather, eating and drinking cold things; neck too weak to hold head up.

Zincum met. Children, as soon as they begin to cough, grasp the genital organs with their hands; in adults their varicose veins may burst and bleed from the exhausting spasmodic cough, excited by a tickling as far down as the middle of chest; expectoration during day of yellow, purulent, blood-streaked sputa, of a sweetish metallic taste, or of bright blood.

Belladonna. Great pain in ileo caecal region, cannot bear the slightest touch, not even the bedcover; nausea and vomiting; is forced to lie motionless on back; high fever.

Carduus marianæ. Obstructio visceralis, constipation; pressing pain on right side between false ribs and hips, worse when stretching out the body in the morning when awaking, with colicky pains; drawing pains in right inguinal region.

Colchicum. Abdomen extremely sensitive to touch and pressure, with flatulent distension; pressing, tearing, cutting, stitching pains; nausea, with great qualmsiness, inclination to vomit on assuming the upright posture.

Ginseng. Stinging pain, swelling and gurgling noise in ileo-cæcal region; dry tongue; heat and delirium when going to sleep.

Hepar. Deep circumscribed swelling in ileo-cæcal region; lies on back, with right knee drawn up; attacks of nausea, with coldness and paleness; frequent urging to stool and urination.

Lachesis. Great sensitiveness to contact in abdomen; painful stiffness from the loins down to os sacrum and thighs; constipation; scanty urine, with red sediment; can only lie on back with knees drawn up.

Mercurius. Painful, hard, hot, and red swelling in ileo-cæcal region, painful to touch; pale red, or pale and sickly; thirst, red, dry tongue; constipation.

Opium. Squeezing pains, as if something were forced through a narrow space, rolling up as of a hard body in right hypochondrium, retention of stool, or involuntary, offensive, thin diarrhoea.

Plumbum. Large, hard swelling in ileo-cæcal region, painful to touch and least motion; whole abdomen sensitive; navel drawn in, frequent sour belching; nausea, retching, constipation; anxious countenance; dry tongue, red on edges, brown coating in centre; great thirst; lame feeling in legs.

Rhus tox. Hard, painful swelling of nearly the entire right side of abdomen; pain worse on sitting, or when stretching right leg; impossibility of lying on left side, better when lying on back, with knees drawn up, or when gently pressing the swelling from below upwards; pale, anxious face; burning of palms of hands; profuse sweat at night, small frequent pulse.

Particular indications:

Acetic acid. Violent delirium with meteorism and obstinate constipation, with rumbling of bowels, colic and diarrhoea; stupor only interrupted by delirious talking; profuse very weakening diarrhoea in later stages of fever; profuse sweating; febrile heat with dry hot skin during first stage.

Agaricus. Cerebral typhus from overexertion and sleepless nights; delirium with constant raving, tries to get out of bed, does not know his relatives; total unconsciousness, though he could be roused for a moment when questioned; pupils contracted, eyes suffused; increasing deafness; paralysis of facial muscles, so that one or both corners of the mouth drop down, allowing the saliva to run out on the pillow; inarticulate speech; tongue tremulous, dry and bluish; burning thirst; tremulousness of whole body, with or without paralysis of extremities; pain in abdomen, with fetid discharges; pulse frequent and small, first sound of heart hardly audible; subsultus tendinum; chattering of jaws and trembling of limbs.

Alstonia constricta. Retarded convalescence, patient suffering from great prostration and debility, low fever, diarrhoea, etc.

Alumen. Enteric typhus; ichorous diarrhoea, mixed with blood of an offensive odor, very weakening colliquative diarrhoea, passes large quantities of coagulated blood; discharge of coagula from uterus and rectum; metrorrhagia from atony nitr. acid; bright red).

Ammonium carb. Adynamia; high colored and fetid urine; glandular swellings; hemorrhage from nose, gums, and bowels.

Apis mel. Exanthematic, enteric, cerebral fever, less pneumo-typhus: stage of ulceration in Peyer's glands; apathy; stupor, with murmuring delirium, hardness of hearing; inability to talk or to put out the tongue, which is dry, cracked, sore, ulcerated, or covered with blisters, with sensation of rawness and soreness; difficulty in swallowing, no thirst; great soreness and bloatedness of abdomen; constipation, or frequent, painful, foul, bloody, and involuntary stools; copious nosebleed in the morning; unconscious flow of urine; dry burning skin, or partial clammy sweat; white military eruption on chest and abdomen; great weakness and sliding down in bed, changeable, weak, and intermittent pulse. It removes the tongue phlegm from the throat.

Arnica. Stupefaction, with foul-smelling breath and large yellowish green spots on skin; weakness, weariness, and bruised sensation, general sinking of vitality, compelling the patient to lie down, and still he asserts that he feels perfectly well, forgets the words while speaking; desires constantly to move or to be moved, as everything upon which he lies seems too hard; brown streak through the middle of the tongue, involuntary and unnoticed micturition and defecation, eyes dull, expression stupid, face deep red; dry lips and dry tongue, with great thirst, distension and hardness of abdomen; brown or white diarrhoea, with distension of abdomen before, and rumbling in abdomen during stool; loud blowing inspirations and expirations; sleep unrefreshing and full of dreams, with whimpering and loud talking during sleep; stupor not preceded by cerebral excitement, he sits as if in thought, yet thinks of nothing, like a waking dream; head confused and cloudy.

Argentum nitr. Complete deafness in typhus; suppression of urine.

Arsenicum. Erethistic typhoid fever; typhus, where the power of life seems to become exhausted; especially for weak or debilitated persons, old age, and children; slow, protracted cases, with wild delirium; loss of consciousness; great restlessness and anxiety, manifesting itself in constantly moving head and limbs, whilst the trunk lies still on account of too great weakness; picking of bed-clothes, sopor; face distorted, sunken, anxious, hippocratic; cheeks burning hot, with circumscribed redness; eyes staring, glistening or sunken, dull and watery, or closed with sticky matter, hardness of hearing; lips dry and cracked; lips, gums, and teeth covered with brown or blackish slime; tongue red, dry, cracked, still, like a piece of wood, black tongue; speech unintelligible, lisping, stammering, as though the tongue were too heavy; excessive thirst, but little drinking at the time; fluid rolls audibly down the stomach; vomiting and retching, burning in stomach and bowels, sensitive to pressure; meteorism, putrid and offensive flatus; involuntary and unnoticed micturition and defecation; brownish, or watery foul stools, smelling like foul ulcers; hæmorrhage of pale blood in large quantities per anum, the patient being restless and thirsty; voice weak and trembling, or hoarse, coarse, and croaking; breathing short and anxious, oppressed, rattling, dry cough; fetid breath; white military eruption, even petechiæ; trembling and anxious sweating; cold, clammy, perspiration pungent, hot, dry skin, like parchment; decubitus; restless and disturbed sleep, anxious and frightful dreams; after each disturbance he immediately sleeps again; general and rapid sinking of forces, excessive prostration.

Arum triph. Lips, corners of mouth sore, cracked, and bleeding, constant picking of lips till they bleed; nostrils sore and chapped.

constant picking at the nose; acrid and corrosive discharge from nose; mouth burns, and is so sore that patient refuses to drink when anything is offered; buccal cavity raw and sore, bleeding; putrid odor from mouth; great restlessness and sleeplessness; deliria; urine scanty or suppressed; picking the ends of fingers; restless tossing about in bed; wants to escape; unconscious of what he is doing or what is said to him; great weakness; last stage, probably, with uræmic poisoning.

Baptisia. Typhoid and cerebral forms of fever; predominance of nervous symptoms; at an early stage white tongue, with red edges, or brown or yellow-brown down centre; bitter or flat taste, cannot digest food; stools frequent, yellow; gurgling and slight sensitiveness of right iliac region; pulse high, with increasing fever; parts rested on sore; at a later stage besotted look; stupelying headache; painful and bruised feeling in brain; disagreeable prostration, with soreness of all the muscles; want of mental force; burning and pungent heat over whole body, especially in face; dry, parched, thickly coated tongue, which feels as if swollen, or burnt and numb; ulcers on tongue; thick speech; hoarse cough; great sinking at epigastrium, with frequent fainting; pain in sacrum; parts rested upon feel sore and bruised; great restlessness; sensation as if there were a second self outside of the patient; her head feels as though scattered about, and she tosses about in bed to get the pieces together; the patient is helpless, and while one is talking to him falls sound asleep in midst of his attempted answer, sleeping heavily, until he is aroused by shaking or calling sharply his name; sickening, putrid odor of breath; stools loose, yellow or dark, and horribly offensive; offensive sweat and urine; great debility and nervous prostration, with erethism; tendency to leave the bed; chilliness all day, heat at night; chilliness, with soreness of body; ulcerations.

Belladonna. During the early stage in tumultuous cases, with great congestion to brain; intense headache, with lancinations in back part or top of head, or sensation as if forehead would burst; redness of face, alternating with pallor; the eyes brilliant and fixed; pupils dilated, groans, agitation during sleep; frightful dreams; furious delirium or nocturnal delirium, consisting solely in the utterance of a few incoherent words; tongue red, dry, trembling, and cracked; constipation or frequent diarrhea but in small quantities; urine sedimentous, or clear and very abundant; pulse large, full, varying in quantity; during the third stage, when patient is in a soporose state, without complaints, without wants, except it be for something to drink; difficult swallowing; eyes fixed, shining; mouth open from relaxation of muscles of lower jaw; tongue leathery, so that he cannot put it out; deafness; abdomen tense; involuntary micturition and defecation; tendency to slide down to foot of bed, to uncover himself, to thrust out the legs, jerking of bedclothes; somnolence, without sleep; intermittent pulse; inclination to perspire, with very hot skin; cold sweat on face; aggravation from every motion.

Bryonia. From the beginning of fever lacerating, throbbing, jerking headache, nausea, and disgust, with whitish tongue, bitter taste, dryness of throat, thirst; vesicular eruption on lips and mouth; crampy tension in stomach; pain in epigastrium under pressure; abdomen painful; flatulence; constipation; urine rare and turbid; voice weak or hoarse; cough in morning; sharp pain between the ribs on coughing or taking deep breath; oppressive lassitude; cold sweat on head; dry skin. During second stage, when the fever takes on the character of nervous, versatile or cerebral typhoid fever, with strong delirium, especially at night, about the affairs of the previous day, or business matters, and disposition to run away, visions especially when shutting eyes; irritability, peevishness, hasty speech; dull, pressive stitching, tearing headache, worse from motion and opening eyes, which are dull and watery; hardness of hearing; intense febrile heat, violent thirst for large draughts of cold water, but only at long intervals; dryness of mouth and vesicular eruption within; taste insipid, aversion to food, with nausea and desire to vomit, or slimy and bilious vomiting; epigastrium sensitive to pressure; bloated abdomen; constipation or diarrhoea, with almost involuntary discharge of offensive, putrid stools, smelling like old cheese, especially at nights and mornings; loaded urine, pains in the sides of chest when coughing or taking a deep breath; somnolence during day; agitation at night; pulse soft and small; clammy sweat; tremors of hands. During third stage: great lassitude and weakness; wants to be quiet; pains in all limbs when moving; accumulation of frothy, soaplike saliva in mouth and throat, at times almost choking patient; tongue dry, rough, and cracked, often of a dark-brown color; sighing, groaning, and moaning, restless sleep, with frequent movements of mouth like chewing, oppression and anguish in cardiac region; mental depression, with wild delirium, somnolence, without dreams; military eruption; involuntary emission of urine and feces; peculiar sour smell of body, with or without sweat; disposition subdued, but easily excited to anger.

Calcareæ carb. At the very onset, in persons inclining to grow fat, after great anxiety and worryment of mind; utter sleeplessness from overactivity of the mind, where the same disagreeable idea always returns the patient as often as he falls into a light slumber, constant tickling under middle of sternum, causing a hacking cough, worse from talking or moving; during coughing painful shocks in head, the brain feeling hot and burning; or at the end of second and beginning of third stage, with diarrhoea and intestinal ulceration, palpitation; tremulous pulse; anxiety; restlessness; redness of face, delirium; jerkings, especially in children. It relieves by bringing out the military rash; the meteorism and insensibility of abdomen diminish, and with it the agitation and anxiety; stools become more consistent and more rare.

Camphora. Sudden sinking spells; icy coldness all over, with deathlike paleness of face, cold and clammy sweat, yet he cannot bear to be covered; rattling in throat; hot breath; involuntary diarrhoea.

Carbo veg. Typhoid fever, inclining to putridity, with sopor, rattling, cold sweat; hippocratic face; small filiform pulse; bloody fetid stools; hæmorrhages from mouth and nose; tongue moist and sticky, or forehead cracked, heavy, and scarcely movable; flusid, or pale distension of abdomen, with copious escape of flatus; darkened urine, with a little flock in centre, and strong-smelling; involuntary cadaverous-smelling stools, loud rattling breathing from beginning, paralysis of lungs, with cyanosis of face, lips, and tongue, ecchymosis and bedsores from decomposition of blood; stupor, out of which the patient can only be roused for moments, with loss of sight and moaning. Such a collapse sets in sometimes early in typhoid fevers of drunkards, who complain of itching of skin day and night; internal burning up, want to be fanned and windows open. Perfect asthenia.

Chamomilla. Second stage, with redness and febrile heat of face in afternoon, with swelling of parotids; redness and dryness of mucous membranes of mouth; tongue cracked and furred; putrid and bitter taste; fetid breath; violent thirst, with great desire for fresh water; nausea; bitter vomiting; pressure upon stomach; colic; extreme sensitiveness of abdomen to pressure; greenish-yellow, watery stools; urine with yellowish flocculent deposits; catarrhal hoarseness; mucous râles; tickling in trachea provoking cough; oppression; lancinations; burning in chest, insomnia; soporose state, with subsultus; lively dreams; wild delirium; dry febrile heat, anxiety; nervous irritation; sighs and groans.

Chelidonium. Light-yellow, white, or gray stools are passed unconsciously, although patient is perfectly clear in his mind, urine pale, notwithstanding the diminution of secretion of bile, tongue insipid, pappy, coated thickly, yellow, with red margin, showing imprint of teeth; fetid breath; feeling of anguish in pit of stomach; hypochondria sensitive to pressure; tearing in lumbar vertebrae, extending to iliac bones, with sensation as if vertebrae were being torn apart; desire to sleep without being able to do so; tongue dry one day, moist the next; acid eructations; lassitude and indolence.

China. From the start the disease takes on the appearance of slow fever, with pallor of face, headache, alterations of sight, noises in ears, dulness of hearing, coated tongue, dryness of mouth, with bad taste, thirst, nausea, pressure in epigastrium, which is sensitive to pressure, swelling and pain in bowels, watery stools, scanty urine, oppressed respiration; lancinating, lacerating pains in limbs; anxiety, sleeplessness, chills, coldness, especially of hands and feet; rattling and moaning sounds in chest, and loud sounds through the nose, swelling and hardness of spleen. During the last stage, china dissipates the night sweats, accompanied by a progressive loss of strength; obstinate constipation, with clean tongue, sluggishness of bowels; tardy convalescence.

Cocculus. Depression of nervous system, with little disturbance of the vegetative sphere, except spleen enlarged; slowness of comprehension, he cannot find the right word, forgets himself, cannot talk plainly, or is irritable, cannot bear least noise or contradiction; pinched pale features and sharp nose; very quick pulse and beat of heart, lowered temperature of skin, automatic movements of muscles and tendons; ringing in ears; heat in head and chilliness in body; dry mouth, dry rough tongue, with whitish-yellow coating; constipation, only exceptionally diarrhoea; general weakness and weariness, with heaviness of limbs; unconquerable sleepiness, the least effort or interruption of sleep followed by great loss of strength; eyelids heavy and shut, as if paralyzed; drowsiness may increase to coma; fits of fainting from bodily movement, with spasmodic distortion of facial muscles; mucous membrane of bowels but slightly affected.

Colchicum. Great nervous depression, weakness as if after exertion, if patient is raised up, head falls backwards, and mouth opens to widest extent; sudden sinking of forces, so that he can hardly speak or walk after a few hours; cadaverous aspect and extreme prostration; emaciation; lying prostrate on back, comatose, eyes half open; trunk hot and extremities cold, skin dry or sweating, forehead covered with cold sweat, pulse small, frequent, thready, or pulseless; unconsciousness, carpalgia; pupils dilated, and little sensitive to light; delirium, with headache; intellect beclouded, though he gives correct answers to questions; unless asked, he is unconscious of his dangerous condition; eyes hollow, staring and sunken, face sunken and hippocratic; nostrils dry and black; lips, teeth, and tongue covered with a thick brown coating; grinding of teeth; tongue heavy, stiff, and numb; inextinguishable thirst; tympanitis, with sensitiveness to pressure in epigastric region; surface of abdomen hotter than rest of body; stools passed unconsciously, fluid, offensive, with white flakes; numerous liquid, dark, offensive stools, with severe pains; suppression of urine or copious involuntary urination; respiration irregular or intermittent.

Cuprum. In typhus, with high fever and excessive weakness; dissolution of blood, nose-bleed and petechiae; great prostration, with nervous excitability; restless, tossing about; eyes dim, lustreless, difficult hearing; paralysis of heart.

Digitalis. Useful in nervous lymphatic constitutions, with dilatation of pupils, tongue perfectly clean, pulse slow and regular, depression of strength; pressure and fulness of epigastrium; disgust, heartburn, vomiting, diarrhoea ash-colored, very light; lethargy, great sleepiness.

Eupatorium perf. Bilious and remittent malarious fevers, with severe gastric and intestinal irritation, taking on a typhoid type; copious perspiration, with nausea and vomiting; pungent heat with the perspiration at night; alternate chilliness and flashes of heat; throbbing headache; pain in occiput, after lying, with sensation of great weight in the part, requiring the hands to lift it. insipid taste, yellow or white coated tongue; diarrhoea, with smarting and heat in anus.

Gelsemium. Great prostration of all the vital forces, with strange sensation in head and continued jactitation of the muscles, trembling from weakness; drowsiness and vertigo, with dimness of vision, a kind of drunken stupor; slow pulse, which becomes accelerated by lifting or turning the patient, severe pains in head, back, and limbs, with extreme lassitude, fever, and chilliness, sticky, clammy, feverish taste, but little or no coating on tongue, which is red, raw, inflamed in middle, painful, can hardly put it out, it trembles so; distension of abdomen, with pain and nausea, predominance of nervous symptoms.

Ginseng. Delirium when falling asleep; loud gurgling noise in the ileo-cæcal tract, dry tongue, heat.

Helleborus. A perfect picture of acute idiocy; thorough unconsciousness, all impressions on the senses and all expressions of the will wanting; heart's heat and pulse very slow, skin only moderately warm; bowels inactive; involuntary micturition; difficult swallowing, constantly picking his lips and clothes.

Hydrastis. Typhoid fever, with prevailing gastric and bilious disturbance, jaundice, followed by great debility, physical prostration; bluntness and goneness in pit of stomach; torpor of liver, fetid ætus; stools light-colored, soft, acrid.

Hydrocyanic acid. Drink, which is swallowed, rolls audibly down the throat, as though it were poured into an empty barrel; coldness within and without; heat in head, with cold limbs; heat and perspiration over whole body.

Hyoscyamus. Hysterie and asthenic delirium, with attempts to run away, prompted by fear; entire loss of consciousness, and of functions of the organs of the senses; patient, as it were, lives an inward life, full of imaginations and illusions, unconscious of the outside world; when questioned, answers correctly, but relapses immediately into his delirium and unconsciousness; delirium continues while awake, and sees persons who are not and were not present; indistinct and muttering loquacity; muttering, with picking of the bedclothes; constantly staring at surrounding objects, with apparent entire self-forgetfulness, or else great agitation, restlessness, desire to run away, to hide, etc.; eyes red and sparkling, staring, rolling about in their orbits; squinting; deafness; distorted face, stupid expression; tongue red or brown, dry and cracked, paralyzed; loss of speech or indistinct speech; cadaverous smell from mouth; involuntary or unnoticed stools in bed; suppressed secretion or retention of urine; involuntary discharge of urine; frequent desire to urinate, with impossibility of doing it; paralysis of sphincter ani et vesicæ; convulsive motions; grating of teeth; jerking; subultus tendinum; trembling; sleeplessness or constant sleep, with muttering; coma vigil; roseola spots on chest and abdomen; torpor of entire organism.

Ignatia. Great impatience and despair about pains and bad feelings, which he cannot describe; gets easily frightened, and feels as though he were swung to and fro in a swing. Yawning, stretching, followed by frontal headache, which does not allow opening the eyes; hard hearing, except for speech; convulsive twitching of facial muscles; lips dry, cracked, bleeding; choking sensation from stomach up into throat, with oppression of chest, better from belching; swelling of spleen; painless diarrhoea, with rumbling of wind; sinking weak feeling in pit of stomach; convulsive motions of limbs; palpitation of heart; jerking of tendons; sleeplessness on account of various visions as soon as he falls in a doze; troublesome dreams.

Iodum. Intense pain in the ileo-cæcal region; bloody watery diarrhoea; great irritation of nervous system; picking at flocks; delirium.

Ipecacuanha. Premonitory stage, with moderate febrile action, loss of appetite, mucous state, constant nausea or vomiting; mucous diarrhoea; first stage, with yellow tongue, nausea, vomiting; bilious diarrhoea; stools yellow, painless, fermented, especially in the evening; general headache, as if bruised, all through bones of head, and down into root of tongue, or semilateral headache, with continual motion of head, as if it were badly placed upon the pillow; sweat upon head; sudden prostration, with aversion to all food; convulsive twitching in limbs, which have a painful tremor.

Lachesis. Muttering stupor; complete insensibility; delirium, with great loquacity, constantly jumping from one subject to another; thinks she is dead and that preparations are made for her funeral; sunken countenance; sleeps much with the mouth open; dry, red, or black tongue, cracked on tip, trembles when protruded or catches under lower teeth; nosebleed of a dark color; eyes weak, dull, or distorted ; sensibility to light ; deafness, rushing and thundering in ears ; dryness of mouth, with constant desire to drink ; sore throat with deafness ; distension of abdomen, with gurgling and rumbling in abdomen before diarrhoea ; stools very offensive whether formed or not ; red brown and copious urine ; nasal indistinct speech ; dyspnoea, cough, with slimy, bloody expectoration ; bedsores, ulcers inflamed, with black eyes ; hemorrhages, the blood looking like charred straw ; persistent sleeplessness, or always worse after sleep.

Lachnanthes. Fever, with circumscribed redness of cheeks and brilliant eyes ; burning heat, more on right side ; restless sleep at night, with continually increasing dryness of throat, causing sleeplessness at night ; restless sleep at night, disturbed by dreams, and followed by perspiration ; giddiness, with sensation of heat in chest and around the heart ; wailing on account of headache ; great loquacity, afterwards stupid and irritable ; icy coldness of body, relieved by external heat, skin is cold, damp, and clammy, flushes of heat alternating with chilliness, typhoid pneumonia.

Leptandra. Bilious typhoid fever, great prostration, stupor, heat and dryness of the skin, coldness of extremities ; dark, fetid, tarry, or watery stools, mixed with bloody mucus, weak, sinking sensation in pit of stomach ; pain in epigastric and hypochondriac regions, jaundice ; physical and mental depression, with vertigo and drowsiness.

Lycopodium. Typhus, with stupefaction, murmuring delirium, subsultus tendinum, meteorismus, constipation. After exacerba, when the rash is tardy in appearance, or scanty, with somnolent stupefaction, murmuring delirium, indistinct speech, mistakes in pronouncing words, yellow color of face, sunken features, falling of lower jaw, slow breathing, with open mouth and fanlike motion of the nostrils, frequent jerking of the limbs or of the whole body, awake or asleep, grasping of flocks ; squinting ; trembling ; abdomen distended, with rumbling and constipation ; dysuria, or chalky urine, dirty sticky tongue ; loose rattling cough ; cold hands and feet, or one foot hot and the other cold ; restless sleep, at ease in no position, full of anxious dreams and jerking of limbs ; when awaking, cross, irritable, scolding, or awakes terrified, as if dreaming, great emaciation and internal debility, even to paralysis ; upper parts wasted, lower limbs swollen.

Melilotus off. Pebris nervosa stupida ; deaf and dumb, involuntary stools, mixed with blood ; epistaxis, unconsciousness, loss of memory ; confusion of ideas.

Mercur. sol. During first stage, in persons of lymphatic nervous temperament, with pale, discolored, yellowish face, putrid and insipid taste, tongue loaded with thick yellow coating, painful sensibility of epigastrium and of hepatic region ; copious, liquid, flocculent stools, sometimes a little bloody ; frequent desire to urinate, agitation, anxiety, sleeplessness, headache, but hardly ever delirium, clammy fetid perspiration ; icteroid color of skin, bronchial irritation.

Mercurius dulcis. Ill-defined gastric disturbances during second stage ; painful sensibility of the whole abdomen ; watery stools, colorless, or as if mixed with flocculent matters, or like the washing of flesh, occurring most often at night. It must be suspended, as soon as tongue becomes dry and delirium manifests itself.

Moschus. Impending paralysis of lungs, pulse becoming slower and slower, cough ceases, and mucus cannot be expectorated; in swallowing fluids roll audibly down the throat, and stool and urine pass off involuntarily.

Muriatic acid. First and second stage; continued delirium, keeping the patient from rest and sleep, he is constantly occupied with changing pictures of the past and present, and thus forgets everything around him. Activity of senses increased, the eyes shrink from light, the ear is sensitive to noise, smell and taste very acute, the eye full of lustre, pupils contracted; circumscribed redness of cheeks; nose, lips, and tongue dry, the latter only slightly coated or not at all; very light affection of the intestinal canal: infrequent typhoid stools, or none at all, urine clear, with acrid reaction; beat of heart and pulse very frequent, irritable, without energy; respiration accelerated; skin mostly dry, with increased temperature; great need of sleep and still cannot sleep; muscular power not much diminished; slight debility and malaise (after bryonia). Third stage, or febris stupida, excessive prostration; headache as if the brain were bruised; constant sliding down in bed, with groaning and moaning during sleep, muttering and unconsciousness whilst awake; putridity; excessive dryness of mouth and tongue; tongue heavy, paralyzed, patient cannot move it at will, even when conscious; pulse intermits every third beat; profuse discharge of watery urine; watery diarrhoea; involuntary micturition and defecation; turning up the whites; depression of lower jaw; paralyzed tongue and anus; bleeding from anus.

Nitric acid. Typhoid hæmorrhages of bright-red blood, not clotted (alumen, clotted); tongue presents a deep-red appearance, with a sort of velvety look; soreness of bowels, with persistent diarrhoea streaked with blood; fetid urine; burning, pungent skin; hæmorrhage from bowels; ulcers in ileo-cæcal region, with gurgling in abdomen; raving delirium, getting out of bed; inflammatory affection of the lungs, with rattling cough and breathing; brownish, bloody expectoration and irregular pulse, or quick hard pulse, with suffocative respiration, prostration, listlessness; stupidity, with starting wild looks, deafness, great weakness and trembling; faint from least motion, cold feet.

Nux vom. First period; bilious, gastric symptoms predominate, with bitter and pasty mouth, yellowish tongue, nausea, greenish vomiting, bilious diarrhoea, burning in abdomen, or simply pain in stomach, with colic and frequent desire to go to stool, without being able to accomplish much; urine scanty and red, with tenesmus and constipation; intolerance of impression on external senses, all of which seem much exaggerated; great sensitiveness to open air; thirst, with aversion to water, strong want to lie down, which relieves.

Nux moschata. Bluish spots on skin; general restlessness in muscles, with vertigo; after slightest exertion weakness, with inclination to lie down; dreamy state, with drowsiness and falling of eyelids; profound coma, lying silent, immovable; delirium and stupidity; frantic drunkenness; dryness of mouth, tongue, and throat, with thirstlessness; fullness of stomach and loss of appetite; rumbling and gurgling in abdomen; putrid or colliquative diarrhoea; urine scanty, high-colored, and clear.

Opium. Febris nervosa stupida: stupor, can scarcely be roused; speechless; eyes half open; wild delirium or loud talking, fury, singing, desire to escape; slow, full, but depressible pulse: congestion to head: face dark red and bloated; respiration slow, deep-drawn, and sighing, stertorous, rattling: stertor, especially during respiration: impending paralysis of brain from intense congestion: great heaviness of occiput, so that head constantly falls backward: stupid look, with relaxed and hanging facial muscles and lower lip; black, dry tongue, without thirst: paralysis of tongue: tympanitis: constipation or extremely offensive watery diarrhoea; involuntary stools; retention of urine; partial suppression of urine with somnolence. Opium may also be given when the system fails to respond to the remedy which seems indicated.

Phosphorus. Pneumotyphus. Towards end of second period sanguineous engorgement of the lungs, even hepatization, with oppression and anxiety; hard, dry cough, with tightness of chest; or loose, rattling cough with tough, transparent, or thick, yellowish or reddish expectoration; cough worse from evening till midnight: threatened paralysis of lungs, with prostration and viscid sweat, small pulse, face sunken, rattling in windpipe: stupor, delirium, grasping at flocks: impending paralysis of brain and collapse: difficult hearing, especially of human voice; eyes hollow, sunken, with blue circles, fan-like motion of the alae nasi; frequent and copious epistaxis; nose, lips, mouth, and throat dry, not relieved by water; gums stand off from teeth and bleed easily; tongue dry, immovable, covered with black crusts, cracked, parched, and glossy; desire for cold, refreshing drinks, no appetite; vomiting of watery, bilious, or stony masses; unpainful diarrhoea, with loud rumbling and meteorism, worse at mornings; discharges watery, greenish, grayish, or black, from decomposed blood; great weakness after each stool; urine of strong ammoniacal odor, turbid, depositing a white sediment; numerous roseola spots, ecchymoses, and urticary eruption on trunk; great heat of trunk, with cold perspiration on head and extremities.

Phosphoric acid. Simultaneous and immediate depression of animal and vegetable life, appearing already at the very beginning of the disease, and where phenomena of excitement usher in the disease they are of short duration and moderate intensity, and after their disappearance the torpid character is all the more distinctly perceptible; complete apathy and indifference; don't want to talk; quiet delirium, with great stupefaction and dulness of head; unintelligible muttering delirium; vertigo so that they fall when sitting up, when lying in bed sensation as if feet were going up, with head remaining still; stupefying pain in forehead, with somnolency, without snoring, the eyes being closed, eyes glossy, lustreless, with staring, dull hearing, nervous deafness; bleeding from nose, stupid expression of face, tongue and lips pale; tough clammy mucus in mouth and on tongue; meteoristic distension of abdomen, with a great deal of rumbling and gurgling, and unpainful, watery, grayish diarrhoea, or involuntary stools; thick clouded urine, which clears up by heat, decomposing rapidly; great debility; relaxed pale skin; ecchymosis; bluish red spots on the parts which the patient lies upon: decubitus; temperature of body not high; constant sticky or profuse sweat; pulse weak, small, frequent, intermitting; enlargement of spleen.

Psorinum. Retarded convalescence from profuse perspiration; patient hopeless and despairing of recovery; extreme prostration.

Pulsatilla. During first stage chills predominating, with neither appetite nor thirst; bad pasty mouth; white tongue, nausea, mucous vomiting, and stools preceded by considerable rumbling in bowels, with pinching pains and aggravation at night, and a peevish, sad, complaining disposition; external heat unbearable, yet uncovering is followed immediately by a chill; heat only on one side, or heat on one side and coldness on other, or sweat on one side; great difficulty in speaking to use the right expression, fixed ideas, heaviness of head, with vertigo and intolerance of light; pupils first contracted, then dilated; deafness; dry tongue, as if burnt, and yet no thirst; putrid smell from mouth; drowsiness, delirium, frightful visions, restlessness and tossing about in bed, with throwing off covering on account of heat; trembling, weakness, and heaviness of all limbs; unconscious loose stools at night in bed.

Rhus tox. Excitement and overactivity in the functions of vegetative life, and simultaneous depression in functions of animal life; desire for frequent and constant movement, giving temporary relief; prostration, with sensation as if bruised, and constant desire to sit or lie down; dull feeling of head, with cerebral pains; dry, burning heat, excessive headache, with tension and rigidity of nape of neck, worse evenings and upon motion; wandering pains in nape of neck and kidneys, with weariness and languor of limbs at the most acute stage of first period, when the nervous symptoms begin to manifest themselves, when tongue is coated with fur, and there is diarrhoea with horborygmi; chills, vertigo, with closing of eyelids, altered color of face, dryness of throat, vomiting of food, yawning; hard, dull, and heavy pressure upon eyes, painful sensitiveness to light and noise; somnolence; loss of memory; tendency to delirium; lower lip and tongue blackish. During second and third stage sopor and prostration prevail, with extreme weariness, preventing the least motion; slow and difficult mental operation, answers correctly, but slow, sometimes hasty; talks much to himself incoherently; epistaxis, especially after midnight; lips dry and covered with brown crusts; sensation of dryness on tongue, as if covered with a skin, when not dry; dry tongue, red all over, at any rate dry red triangle on tip, with desire for drink; repugnance to all food; distension of abdomen, with severe pinching; very offensive flatus; bowels loose, worse at night, and involuntary during sleep; nocturnal diarrhoea, with severe colic, which disappears after stool, with headache and pain in all limbs; severe cough, with tough bloody expectoration; bronchitis; pneumonic infiltration of lower lobes of lungs; severe rheumatic pains in limbs, worse when at rest; restlessness; disturbed, anxious sleep, with frightful dreams, frequent waking, or comatose slumbering, with snoring, murmuring, picking at bedclothes; dry heat or sweat, during which patient desires to be covered; brain seriously affected, with automatic muscular movements in hands and feet; roseola; miliary eruption; great exhaustion; disposition sad, depressed, without courage, despairing.

Scutellaria. Sleeplessness; involuntary muscular movements; jerking and twitching of the muscles of face and extremities; disturbed sleep, with sudden wakefulness, or frightful dreams.

Silicea. Sometimes in worst cases, with excessive debility, profuse perspiration, and a strong desire to be magnetized, which relieves the weakness; slow convalescence, with formation of abscesses and boils, thus throwing the poison to the surface and securing a gradual recovery.

Stramonium. Loss of consciousness, imbecility, stupefaction of senses; delirium, with violent tossing about, frightful visions and illusions of sight and hearing, singing, whistling, constant involuntary odd motions of limbs and body; patient often raises or jerks the head from the pillow; spasmodic grimaces; loss of sight, hearing, and speech; all objects appear oblique; dilated, insensible pupils; coma, with stertorous breathing; drenching hot sweats, but bringing no relief, red rash upon chest; the whole inner mouth as if raw, dryness of mouth, so that everything tastes like straw, paralysis of tongue, and trembling when protruding it; complete inability to swallow from dryness of throat, no stool or urine, or blackish diarrhoea every hour, smelling like carrion; copious involuntary discharge of urine.

Sulphur. Torpid character of the fever, the patient responds very sluggishly, and comprehends very slowly, he only answers some moments after question is put; sleepless nights; heat and fulness of head, chronic, sore, and inflamed eyes; great dryness of ears, pale, sickly aspect; bright-red lips; undefined redness of tip of tongue; bleeding from nose and gums; offensive breath; diarrhoea, with constantly changing stools, the patient falling asleep immediately after stool, worse early in the morning, unpainful or with tenesmus; scanty, offensive, dark-red urine, which soon deposits a sediment; catarrh and inflammation of lungs, especially during commencement of menstruation; dry husky skin, not perspiring; skin, especially of feet, very hot.

Sulphuric acid. Typhus putridus, with great disposition to hemorrhage from the capillaries, and rapid sinking of vital forces; an oozing of dark thin blood; face deadly pale, as if the white of egg had dried on it; talking difficult, as from want of elasticity of the parts; loss of appetite, desire for fresh fruit and brandy; sensation of tremor all over, with trembling; pulse feeble and quick, tendency to gangrene.

Taraxacum. During rest intolerable tearing pains only in lower extremities; constant muttering delirium; violent tearing pain in occiput; great chilliness after eating or drinking; map tongue.

Tartar emet. Pneumo typhus, oedema pulmonum, with great rattling in chest and dyspnoea; profuse sweat all over, especially on affected parts; heaviness of head; tongue red in streaks, or covered with thick, white, pasty coating; great prostration and sluggishness of body; sleepiness.

Terebinthina. Towards end of second week bright-red tongue, smooth and glossy, as if deprived of its papillae, vertigo, fulness, and flushiness of face; extreme tympanitis, pain in iliac region and over abdomen upon pressure; thick scanty urine, with mucus and disintegrated blood corpuscles; fetid urine and stools, diarrhoea, with blood intermixed; small, wiry pulse, hemorrhage from nose and anus; bloody expectoration; profuse serous effusion in pleura and abdominal cavity; great prostration and emaciation.

Veratrum album. Torpor of vegetative system, with comparatively slight affection of the system of animal life. The disease sets in with vomiting and purging, cold sweat and coldness of limbs; pulse scarcely perceptible; abdomen very painful, as if contracted, unconscious urination; petechiæ in extremities, presenting an icy coldness to the touch; coma vigil, with frequent starts as if from fright; hippocratic face; excessive prostration.

Zincum met. Threatened cerebral paralysis; convulsions, with trembling of the hands, cold extremities; loss of consciousness; sinking down in bed; depression of lower jaw; pale waxy complexion; decubitus on sacrum and trochanter; frequent involuntary discharges from bowels; frequent, small, intermitting, scarcely perceptible pulse.

Zingiber. During convalescence complete cessation of the functions of the kidneys, no urine voided, nor a drop in the bladder.

TYPHUS RECURRENS.

Argentum nitr. Head dull, obtuse; vertigo, as if everything turns around with him, with convulsive shocks through whole body, drawing tearing in right brain, shooting alike to forehead and occiput, the whole brain aches, with chilliness, painful fulness of head, with great irritability at night; painful tension in occiput, felt stronger at the least motion; stiffness of neck, with sensation as if a foreign substance presses upon the neck, with spasmodic jactitation of the muscles of the neck; electric shocks in upper and lower extremities, extending near foramen occipitale; difficulty of swallowing and swelling of the glands of the neck.

Arsenicum. Localization of zymotic process on intestinal mucous membrane, kidneys, and liver; intermittent symptoms, either stage missing; increased irritation, versatility, or reaction; constant restlessness, with desire to leave the bed; calor mordax; great thirst, extremely quick pulse; staring injected eyes; dyspnoea, anguish, jactitation, delirium, after awhile somnolence and coma; dry fissured tongue, fuligo on tongue and teeth, diarrhoea, with tenesmus, uræmic symptoms.

China. Great malaise; involuntary closing of eyelids from mere weakness; severe pulsating headache, heat in face, vertigo.

Eupatorium perf. Breakbone fever, severe pain and bruised sensation in sacrum and extremities, copious sweat, without relief, thirst before the chill, nausea and vomiting after the chill, spasms.

Nux vomica. Intense occipital headache, vertigo, pains in eyes, as from deranged stomach; mouth dry, parched, without much thirst.

aversion to food, fainting turns; sick feeling through all the limbs; bruised pains in limbs, worse during motion and at night; great debility, with oversensitiveness of all the senses; sour, offensive sweat, which relieves the pain in limbs.

§ 1. We should use more particularly :

a. For ATONIC ulcers, as we find them among old, feeble, and cachectic persons, especially on the legs, ulcera atonica pedum : 1, ars, lach., sil., sulph.; 2, calc., carb. v., graph., ipéc., lyc., mur. ac., natr., phos. ac., puls., rut.; 3, amm., amm. m., fluor. ac., n. jugl.; 4, aral., bapt., lycopus, polyg.

b. For ARTHRITIC ulcers : 1, bry., chin., lyc., phyt., sulph.; 2, calc., graph., kal. bi., rhus, staph.

c. For HERPETIC ulcers (ulcera impetiginosa) : 1, ars., calc., clem., graph., kal. bi., lyc., merc., n. jugl., rhus, sep., sil., sulph., zinc.; 2, aral., cist., jugl., phyto.

d. For SCORBUTIC ulcers : 1, ars., carb. a., carb. v., lach., merc., mur. ac., staph., sulph.; 2, amm., amm. m., asa., clem., con., hep., phos. sep., sil., thuj.; 3, aln., geran., gal., hydr., rum., phyto.

e. For SCROFULOUS : 1, ars., bell., calc., carb. v., lyc., mur. ac., sil., sulph.; 2, aur., cist., graph., hep., kal. bi., lach., n. jugl., phos.; 3, aln., amp., aral., coryd., gal., hydr., iris, jugl., myr., phyt., rhus gl., rum., stilling., tril.

§ 6. Compare Suppuration, Herpes and Eruptions, Arthritis, Scurvy, Scrofula, Syphilis, Mercurial Cachexia, Diseases of the Bones, Cancer, Varices, Glandular Affections and the Parts where Ulcers are apt to Break Out.

Particular indications:

Acid. mur. Stinging, itching, and painful ulcers, with fetid odor, though covered with a crust; putrid ulcers, with burning pain or heat on edges; jerking pains; pus fetid and scanty.

Acid. nitr. Ulcer is sensitive and of an offensive odor; burning pain and heat in edges, shooting and pricking pains; superficial or mercurial ulcers, worse from touch or bathing in cold water; readily bleeding deep ulcers; fistulous ulcers difficult to heal; pricking in ulcers; pus copious, bloody, corroding, ichorous.

Ammonium carb. Putrid flat ulcers with a pungent sensation, pain relieved by keeping limb elevated and from outward pressure; pus white and putrid.

Antimon. crud. Fistulous, deep, and flat ulcers; spongy ulcers, with itching or pricking; granulations exuberant, worse from bathing or getting heated near the fire; pus scanty.

Arsenicum. Burning in interior of ulcer, felt also while sleeping; mortifying putrid ulcers, with high edges and shining redness of surrounding skin; base of ulcer of a blackish color, or lardaceous; fetid ichor and proud flesh in the ulcer; thin scurf on the surface, bleeding slightly when bandaging; flat, gangrenous, or inflamed ulcers, surrounding skin of a dusky red; pus copious, bloody, ichorous, or corrosive, putrid, thin, and watery; ulceration extending in breadth (sil. in depth).

Asafoetida. Ulcers with intermittent pricking pain, high hard edges, sensitive to touch, easily bleeding; shooting pains around ulcer; pus profuse, greenish, thin, offensive, even ichorous; ulcers turn black. Ulcers, particularly when affecting the bones, discharging ichorous, thin, and fetid pus, ulcerations from burns and scalds, with great sensitiveness to suffering.

Aurum. Deep ulcers affecting the bones; cancerous ulcers; mercurial ulcers, bluish-red, deep, fistulous, swollen, and painful, itching, shooting, and burning; pus yellow and fetid.

Baryta carb. Fistulous ulcers in gland, especially in those of neck, with feeling of tension; gnawing pain, or as if burnt; scabby, crusty ulcers, painless indurated ulcers, difficult to heal; pus scanty and gelatinous, or totally absent.

Calcarea carb. Unhealthy, ulcerative skin, even small wounds suppurate; scrofulous ulcers; fistulous ulcers with redness, hardness, and swelling of the surrounding skin; carious ulcers; inflamed or putrid ulcers; high and feeble granulations; tearing and throbbing in ulcers, which are white or yellow; pus scanty and albuminous.

Calendula off. Inflamed ulcers, painful as if beaten; excessive secretion of pus, surrounding parts red, with stinging pains in ulcer.

Cantharides. Ulcer with itching, lacerating, burning, and stinging pains in it; pus copious, inodorous, slightly yellow, sometimes tinged with blood; pains worse from rubbing or scratching.

Carbo veg. Varicose, scorbutic ulcers, livid, easily bleeding, and fetid; cadaverous-smelling and corroding scanty secretion; folds of skin become raw and ulcerated.

Causticum. Bleeding ulcers with blisters on the surrounding skin; boring and burning in ulcers; burning on edges; pain as if burnt; sensitive ulcers with pustules around them; swollen, with a feeling of tenseness in them; pus bloody, corroding, greenish or gray, ichorous, and thin as water.

Chamomilla. Unhealthy skin, every injury suppurates; burning and smarting pain in ulcer at night, with crawling and painful oversensitiveness to touch.

Chelidonium. Old, putrid, spreading ulcers; deep, fistulous, spreading, itching ulcers, better from firm pressure; red and painful pimples and pustules on various parts.

China. Ichorous, sensitive ulcers, having a putrid smell; flat, shallow ulcers, with copious discharge; carious ulcers, with profuse sweat; wounds become black, gangrenous; painful sensitiveness in ulcer, especially when moving the part; pus bloody, ichorous, and fetid.

Cistus can. Mercurio-syphilitic ulcers, surrounded by hard swelling, on the lower limbs; old ulcers; glands swollen, inflamed, indurated, or ulcerated.

Clematis. Scabby, deep ulcers; indurated ulcers, with high, elevated edges, difficult to heal; itching in and around ulcer, shooting pain in ulcer when touched; pus serous, yellow, acrid, and ichorous, scanty secretion or total suppression of pus.

Conium. Blackish ulcers, with bloody, fetid, ichorous discharges, especially after contusion; burning, crusty, and deep ulcers, painless, hard, and fistulous ulcers; nocturnal pains in them prevent sleep, pus fetid, watery, and ichorous.

Cuprum. Old ulcers, skin inelastic, doughlike; hard, inflamed ulcers, with jerking pain; sensitive ulcers, with redness around the edges, pus scanty and corroding.

Dulcamara. Painful ulcers with scanty discharge, worse from cold and wet, or from atmospheric changes.

Euphorbium. Old, torpid ulcers; ulcers turning black, insensible ulcers; lancinating and lacerating pains; gangrene.

Ferrum. Pale, oedematous ulcers; skin pale, yellow, sallow, dirty, withered, flabby.

Fluoric acid. Painful ulcers, worse from warmth, better from cold, with copious discharge; varicose veins and ulcers on legs, burning pains on small spots on skin.

Graphites. Old ulcers with fetid pus, proud flesh, and itching stinging pains; skin not inclined to heal, cracks and fissures, easily ulcerating; sensitive, sore, spongy ulcers, with a salty discharge.

crusty and scabby ulcers; pus bloody, watery, acrid, and corroding, smelling like herring-brine.

Hepar sulph. Ulcers discharge bloody pus, smelling like old cheese, edges very sensitive, with a pulsating sensation; stinging-burning pain in the edges; mercurial ulcers; ulcers with jagged edges and surrounded by pustules or blisters; pus laudable or fetid, ichorous, and corroding.

Hyoscyamus. Inflamed ulcers, the surrounding skin being of a bright vermilion redness; ulcers painful, bleeding, with bruised feeling on moving the parts.

Ignatia. Painless ulcers, with scanty discharge, generally worse from slight touch, better from hard pressure; skin chafed and sore.

Iodum. Bleeding ulcers, destitute of feeling; hard, spongy, and sensitive ulcers, with a feeling of tenseness and soreness; pus copious, bloody, and corroding, or thin, watery, and yellow.

Jacea. Burrowing ulcers; ichorous ulcers, with violent itching; skin difficult to heal.

Kali bichrom. Ulcers dry, oval, edges overhanging, bright-red areola; base hard, corroding, becoming deeper; cicatrix remains depressed; ulcers on previously inflamed feet; ulcers on fingers, with carious affection of the bones.

Kali carb. Bleeding, boring, burning, corroding, ulcers; disposition to phlebitis; pus copious, bloody, ichorous, thin, and watery.

Kreasot. Old, painful, putrid ulcers; spongy, burning ulcers; pus acrid, ichorous, fetid, yellow.

Lachesis. Gangrenous ulcers on legs and toes; ulcers sensitive to touch, with ichorous, offensive discharge, many small pimples around them, areola purple, better from warmth; bedsores, with black edges; the ulcer is large, with tendency to extend rapidly; burning pain only when touching the sore; smooth ulcers, with jagged edges, surrounded by papillae or small ulcers, and of a livid appearance.

Lycopodium. Old ulcers on legs, with nightly tearing, burning, and itching; fissures on heels, with oozing of water from sore places; fistulous ulcers, with hard, red, shining, and inverted edges; tumid ulcers, with elevated and indurated edges; ulcers bleed and burn when dressed; tearing and itching at night, burning when touched; inflammatory swelling of affected parts; pus copious and albuminous, or sanious, gray, yellow, and acrid.

Mercurius. Superficial, flat, readily bleeding ulcers, with a lardaceous base, worse from heat of bed and hot and cold applications; spreading ulcers, exceedingly painful, and sensitive to slightest touch; unequal elevations and depressions; gnawing and throbbing pains; ulcers of a bluish or livid appearance, with hard, elevated, and jagged edges; superficial ulcers of a whitish appearance; pus scanty or copious, but never laudable.

Mezereum. Ulcers, with sensitive areole and easily bleeding, painful at night, pus under scabs, burning vesicles around ulcers; shooting, biting, pricking pains in ulcer; pus scanty or totally suppressed; worse from rubbing or scratching.

Natrum carb. Ulcers, with swelling and inflammatory redness of affected parts; skin dry, rough, and chapped; swelling and induration of glands; pricking, pulsating, burning in ulcers; worse when lying down.

Natrum mur. Varices: superficial ulcers; red, angry-looking, smarting ulcers, surrounded by vesicles, no suppuration.

Nux vom. Raised ulcers, with pale red edges, burning or jerking pain, prurient itching; sore, sensitive ulcers, with a feeling of tenseness; pus greenish or corroding; worse after menstruation, from touch, in dry windy weather, better when lying on sound side, in damp weather.

Petroleum. Spreading, sloughing ulceration of leg; ulcers on toes, originating in blisters, feet tender and bathed in a foul moisture; ulcers, with stinging pain and proud flesh, often deep ulcers, with raised edges; painful, sensitive, spongy ulcers, they heal with difficulty, pus scanty, acrid, corroding; sanious and watery; worse from cold and in winter.

Phosphorus. Fistulous ulcers, with callous edges, erysipelatous; gnawing pain, hectic, pus thin, ichorous, fetid, easily secreted, worse from weather changes.

Phosphoric acid. Ulcers like carbuncles on skin, with a copious circumference, flat, itching, and smarting, external parts turn black.

Phytolacca. Ulcers, with an appearance as if punched out, large daceous bottom; pus watery, fetid, ichorous; shooting, lancinating, jerking pains; carcinoma, syphilis.

Plumbum. Decubitus and gangrene; burning in the ulcers; small wounds inflame and suppurate easily.

Polygonum hydropiper. Superficial ulcers and sores on lower extremities; old and indolent ulcers.

Psorinum. Ulcers on lower legs, with intolerable itching over whole body; oozing blisters on legs, from small pustules, increasing in size, with tearing pains; eruptions on instep, soon becoming thick, dirty, scaly, suppurating, painful, and itching, keeping him awake, deeply penetrating, ichorous ulcers; crusty eruptions all over, whole body has a filthy smell.

Pulsatilla. Easily bleeding ulcers, with burning, stinging or itching around them, with hard or red areola, surrounded by papillae, pus thick, bland, too profuse; better from cold, and on wetting affected part.

Ranunculus bulb. Flat, burning, stinging ulcers, with ichorous discharge; pus sanious or acrid; worse from touch or cold.

Rhus tox. Small vesicles, turning to putrid, gangrenous, and spreading ulcers; tingling and smarting as if from salt in ulcer, ulcers surrounded by papillae, pus acrid and sanious.

Ruta grav. Fistulous ulcers on lower legs, ulcers and sores on scalp, with copious discharge; raised feeling all over, as from a fall or blow, skin becomes easily chafed; pus sanious; worse in damp weather; gnawing-jerking pains.

Sanguinaria. Old, indolent ulcers, with callous borders and ichorous discharge; dirty granulations; dry, sharp-cut edges, languid circulation; limbs cold; skin pallid; sensitive to weather changes.

Sarsaparilla. Herpetic ulcers, extending in a circular form, forming no crusts, red, granulated bases, white borders; skin appears as after application of a warm compress; serous, redish secretions; ulcers after abuse of mercury; rhagades deep, burning; acrofulosis.

Secale corn. Varicose ulcers and enlarged veins of old people; bleeding ulcers, turning black, feeling as if burnt; gangrene; better from cold, worse from heat; pus putrid.

Selenium. Flat ulcers; frequent tingling on small spots of the skin, with great irritation to scratch; spots remain humid; pains worse after sleep.

Sepia. Ulcer on heel: painless ulcers on joints or tips of fingers and toes; ulcers with blisters around them; deep, crusty, scabby ulcers; flat ulcers, with digging pains; fistulous, hard ulcers, high, elevated edges, hard to heal; jerking, itching, pricking pains, proud flesh in them; sensitive, sore, spongy ulcers; pustules around ulcer, with red areola; pus copious, corroding, gelatinous, greenish, or ichorous or scanty, putrid, viscid, sour-smelling, thin, whitish ichor.

Silicea. Ulcers from suppuration of membranous parts, phagedenic, extending in depth; aching pain in ulcer, becoming black at base or edges, and bleeding; boring or burning in edges and sensation of coldness in ulcer; deep or flat, crusty ulcers; hard, fistulous, or gangrenous ulcers; proud flesh in ulcer, which is difficult to heal; jerking and itching in and around ulcer; pulsating, putrid ulcers, with red areola; spongy ulcers, edges hard, high, and spongy; stinging, burning, itching pains; pus copious, brownish, corroding, gelatinous, or grayish, bloody, and ichorous, scanty, putrid, thin, watery, yellow; worse in open air, from weather changes, lying on painful side, or pressure.

Staphisagria. Scorbutic ulcers; itching and burning in ulcers; gnawing, jerking, tearing, or shooting pains; pus excessive, acrid, ichorous, and fetid, or scanty, worse from touch and pressure.

Sulphur. Ulcers, with raised, swollen edges, bleeding easily, surrounded with pimples, with tearing-stinging pains, and discharging fetid pus; fistulous ulcers, irregular jagged edges; edematous swelling and reddish-brown discoloration of skin; pus thick, yellow, and fetid, or thin and fetid.

Thuja. Flat ulcers, with a bluish-white bottom; ulcers with indurated edges, surrounded by blisters containing pus, deep, burning, and fistulous ulcers; itching, pricking, and proud flesh in ulcers; spongy on edges; ulcers with serrated edges; better from rubbing or scratching.

Tartar. emet. Deeply-penetrating, malignant ulcers; broad and deep sloughing ulcers; gangrenous ulcers, with hectic fever; ulcers surrounded with black pustules, which break down into deep ulcers; pus absent, merely an oozing of fetid humor.

Veratrum album. Bluish ulcers; hard, indurated ulcers, itching, painless, but with redness of the areola; pus scanty.

Zincum met. Herpetic ulcers; bleeding and burning ulcers, destitute of feeling; redness of surrounding skin, with sensation of tenseness; pus bloody and corroding.

ULCUS RODENS.

Lupus exedens, epithelioma.

For ulcus rodens: ars., bell, cic., cinnab., hep., hydrocot., hydr., merc., nitr. ac., sil, staph., sulph., uranium.

For epithelioma: ars, ars. iod., bell., clem., con., lapis alb., sil., sulph.
 For epithelioma scroti, chimney-sweeper's cancer: ars., carb., clem., iach., rhus, sec., thuja.

URÆMIA.

Ars., aur., can. ind., carbol. ac., eupr., hydrocyan. acid., nicotn. phos., tereb., where uræmic blood-poisoning complicates morbus Brightii, but we must not neglect to use the catheter twice or three times a day.

In acute uræmia, during accouchement or complicating zymotic affections, especially scarlatina, with prevailing cerebral hyperæmia apis, bell., con., eupr., glon., gels., stram., ver. vir.; with aspor agar. anacard., bell., hydrocyan. ac., lact., opium; with anæmia and paralytic symptoms: ars., camph., chin., chinin. arsenic., phos., phos. az.

Compare Morbus Brightii, Pregnancy and Labor, Scarlatina, etc.

URETHRITIS.

Acon., aselep., cann. ind. and sat., canth., erig., cryng., gels., ham. mere., pod., sulph., trill.

Compare Gonorrhœa.

URINARY DIFFICULTIES.

Ischuria, dysuria, enuresis.

§ 1. Ischuria, anuria: 1, apoc. cann., arn., bell., canth., eupat. purp., hell., lyc., nitr. ac., nux v., opi., puls., senecio, stram.; 2, acon., act., camph., con., dig., gels., hep., hyosc., iach., laur., myric., plumb., rubus, ruta, sulph., ver. alb.

Dysuria: 1, acon., apoc. cann., aselep., cann., canth., dule, lyc., mg. aus., mere., nux v., paraira brava puls., sulph.; 2, arn., ars., aur., cad. cact., canl., caul., chimaph., colch., con., dig., equisetum, erig., eupat. purp., ham., hedeoma, hell., hyosc., kah, nux m., phos., salsap., senecio, staph.

Enuresis:

Arg. met. Too profuse flow of pale urine, causing the patient to rise often during the night.

Belladonna. Startling, restless sleep; moaning and screaming during sleep, serofulous glandular enlargements; involuntary micturition at night.

Calcarea carb. Fat, flabby children, with red face, who sweat easily and catch cold easily; frequent urination at night.

Causticum. Children with black hair and eyes, who pass urine unconsciously during their first sleep, burning in urethra when urinating and itching in orifice of urethra.

Cina. Frequent urging, with copious urination during the day and restless sleep all night.

Chloral. Involuntary urination, especially the last part of the night, even after having passed urine during the night and drunk no water during it.

Equisetum hycm. Enuresis by day or night; it acts well, when it remains a mere power of habit, after the primary cause has been removed.

Ferrum met. and phos. Incontinence of urine more frequent in daytime than at night, or floods the bed five or six times at night, ammoniacal smell of urine, stains the sheets very dark; yellowish clay-colored sediment, adhering to the sides and bottom of the vessel; enuresis nocturna from weakness of the sphincter vesicæ.

Kreasot. Incontinentia urinæ, when the patient dreams he is urinating in a decent manner; frequent urging to urinate, with copious pale discharge; wets the bed at night, wakes with urging from deep sleep, but cannot retain the urine; worse when lying down; better when walking or standing.

Mercurius. In children who perspire profusely, and whose urine is hot, acrid, sour smelling, with sudden irresistible desire to urinate.

Petroleum. Weakness of neck of bladder, urine drops still out after urination; involuntary micturition at night in bed; chronic blennorrhœa.

Plantago. Unusually free and profuse discharge of urine; nocturnal copious enuresis, particularly when depending upon laxity of the sphincter vesicæ.

Rhus tox. Weakness of bladder, with constant dribbling of urine, frequent and inconvenient desire to pass water.

Scilla. Frequent urging to urinate, with profuse discharge of pale, limpid urine, continuous painful pressure on the bladder and inability to retain the urine.

Selenium. Involuntary urination when walking; dripping after stool or micturition.

Sepia. Child wets the bed almost as soon as it goes to sleep, always during first sleep; urging to urinate from pressure on bladder; frequent micturition at night.

Silicea. Involuntary micturition at night, especially in children suffering from worms or chorea; weakness in urinary organs, constant desire to urinate.

Sulphur. For pale, lean children, with large abdomen, who love sugar and highly-seasoned food, and abhor to be washed; micturition copious after midnight.

Thuja. Involuntary urination at night, and when coughing; urination frequent and copious, especially in scrofulous and sycotic (warts) persons.

§ 7. Compare Secretion of Urine, Cystitis, Catarrh of the Bladder, Paralysis of the Bladder, Gonorrhœa, Lithiasis, etc.

Particular indications:

Aconite. Skin dry and hot, great thirst, unrest, nervous excitement, fear, and anxiety; pain in region of bladder; retention of urine, with stitches in kidneys; frequent and violent urging to urinate, with scanty emission of red, turbid urine.

Aloes. Incontinence of urine, especially in old people, with enlarged prostata and tendency to diarrhœa; every time on passing urine, feeling as if some thin stool would escape with it; urgent desire to urinate, he can hardly retain the urine.

Alumina. Frequent urination at night; frequent emission of very small quantities of light colored urine with great straining, severe smarting and burning with the feeling as though a few drops remained in urethra which could not be expelled; feeling of weakness in bladder and genitals in the evening, with fear that he will wet the bed; burning during micturition, and with the discharge of urine a desire to defecate; the stream assumes a spiral shape.

Anantherum. Frequent emission of urine, which is turbid or soon becomes so; sensation of numbness and obstruction in the kidneys, or as if kidneys and bladder were always full and swollen, bladder cannot hold the smallest quantity of urine; difficult, painful intermittent urination, it stops and commences again the same moment; fullness and distension of the bladder, with inability to urinate, urine turbid, thick, and full of mucus; retention of urine, with retraction of the urethral canal; urine brownish or yellowish and bloody, incontinence of urine, with involuntary urination when walking, and at night in bed during sleep, as if caused by paralysis of the neck of the bladder; tenesmus vesicae, with ischuria.

Agustura. Tenesmus of the bladder followed by profuse emission of white urine; tenesmus after micturition; one is obliged frequently to urinate, although but a few dark-yellow drops are emitted at a time, causing a burning pain; orange colored urine soon becomes turbid.

Apis. Burning in the urethra before, during and after micturition; considerable sensation in the bladder, with a bearing down in the region of the sphincter, and frequent desire to urinate; incontinence of urine, with great irritation of the parts; worse at nights and when standing; almost incessant desire to pass urine; urine high colored or straw colored, with brickdust sediment.

Asparagus. Urging to urinate, burning in the urethra; frequent urging with fine stitches in the orifice of the urethra; urine scanty and bloody, a little straw colored urine is passed, which becomes turbid immediately after being passed; after urinating burning in the urethra, with a sensation as if there was some urine yet to pass.

Arnica. Affections from mechanical injuries, with retention of urine; tenesmus of the neck of the bladder and ineffectual efforts to urinate; urging, the urine dropping out involuntarily, one has to stand a great while before the urine is emitted; brown urine with brickdust sediment; urine strongly acid, specific gravity increased.

Arsenicum. Retention of urine, as if the bladder was paralyzed, urine passing with difficulty, burning in the urethra during micturition, tenesmus and strangury, great desire to urinate but does not pass any; urine copious and burning hot; involuntary emission of urine at night when sleeping; urine profuse and dark brown, when emitting it, much sediment in the urine; hæmaturia.

Belladonna. Difficult micturition; the urine being passed gradually, with frequent urging, constant dribbling of urine, sharp cutting pain down in the abdomen, in the direction of the perineum, urine comes on suddenly and ceases in the same way; feeling in the bladder as if it would break; paralysis of the sphincter vesicae, causes profuse perspiration; urine yellow and turbid, sometimes deposits a reddish sediment.

Sedoris vulg. Violent stitching pain in the bladder extending into the urethra, with urging to urinate; frequent empty urging; empty pain in the bladder; cutting constrictive pain in the urethra when full or empty; burning pain in urethra; stitching pain in female urethra, beginning in the bladder, violent stitches in the urethra, which compel one to urinate; urine dark-yellow, red, or bloody, copious mucous sediment mixed with a whitish gray, or a reddish mealy sediment; greenish urine depositing mucous sediment, which soon becomes turbid and deposits a thick bright-red mealy sediment, slowly becoming clear, but retaining a red color, symptoms of urinary organs accompanied with the loins and hips pareira brava, pain in thighs renal colic, catarrhes, rheumatism; worse from slight fatigue, increasing as the fatigue increases.

Al. Vesicular catarrh; irritability of the bladder; nocturnal desire to evacuate the bladder; too frequent desire to urinate; decrease of quantity of urine; urine aromatic; urine of a very repulsive odor, of a changeable color, brownish, cloudy, of an alkaline reaction; dark reddish-brown urine of a high specific gravity, with an acid reaction, excess of uric acid; patient pale, languid, with a feeling of weakness in the loins; granular mucus mixed with phosphates in the sediment of the urine.

Calcareæ carb. Pain in the bladder and cutting on urinating; burning in the urethra before and after urinating; fine tickling stitches through the urethra; much sour-smelling urine passed at night; trickling of urine after micturition; involuntary passage of urine on every motion during menstruation; nocturnal enuresis; urine very dark-colored, without sediment; urine has a pungent odor, is clear and pale; offensive dark-brown urine, with a whitish sediment; the urine soon becomes turbid, and deposits a whitish flaky sediment; a fatty pellicle forms on the surface.

Camphora. Diminished power of the bladder; retention of urine, with urging to urinate; tenesmus of the neck of the bladder; painful urination; burning urine, strangury; the urine passes in a thin stream, as if the urethra were contracted; yellowish-green turbid urine of a musty odor, brown urine; red urine; the urine on standing becomes very turbid and thick, of a whitish-green color, without deposit of sediment; urine contains mucus without sediment; urine, with white or red sediment; urine profuse, colorless, frequent, or scanty.

Cannabis indica. Inflammation of the bladder; burning, scalding, stinging pain, before, during, and after micturition; urging to urinate, with much straining; copious discharge of clear bright-colored urine; the urine passes freely at times, then again in small quantities, with burning and biting; urine dribbles out after the stream ceases; aching in the kidneys; thick red urine.

Cannabis sativa. Enuresis; paralysis of the bladder; drawing pain in the region of kidneys, extending into the inguinal glands, with mucous sensation at pit of stomach; burning while urinating, but especially afterwards; stitches along the urethra when not urinating; white or red turbid urine; urine full of fibres, with mucus or pus.

Cantharides. Painful retention of urine; urging to urinate from the smallest quantity of urine in the bladder; intolerable tenesmus; violent burning-cutting pain in neck of bladder, extending to the lossa navicularis, worse before and after urinating; urging worse when standing and still more when walking, better when sitting, hardly any at night; paroxysmal cutting and burning pains in both kidneys, the region very sensitive to the slightest touch, alternating with pain in tip of penis; painful scalding evacuation, by drops, of bloody urine and at times of pure blood; pain keeps on after micturition; urine turbid and scanty; cloudy during the night, like mealy water, with white sediment; urine albuminous with cylindrical casts; deposits granular, grayish-white, looking like fragments of old mortar.

Capsicum. Spasmodic contraction, with cutting pains in the neck of the bladder; burning-biting pain in the urethra after urinating; scanty light-colored urine.

Carbo veg. Pressing pain in the bladder; contraction of the urethra every morning; frequent urging to urinate; urine has a strong odor; dark-red urine, as if it were mixed with blood; urine deposits a red sediment.

Carbolic acid. Involuntary discharge of mucus from the anus during urination; copious flow of limpid urine; dark smoky color of urine, depositing urate of ammonia.

Causticum. Frequent, painful, and difficult micturition; involuntary emission of urine when coughing; nocturnal enuresis; smarting pain in the urethra while urinating; light-colored urine with flocculent sediment.

Chimaphila. Chronic catarrh of the bladder; scanty urine containing a large quantity of mucopurulent sediment; urine thick, ropy, of brick color and copious bloody sediment; inability to pass the urine without standing with the feet wide apart and the body inclined forward.

Cicuta. Involuntary emission of urine; frequent desire to urinate, the urine is expelled with great force; copious micturition.

Colchicum. Ischuria; frequent micturition, with diminished discharge of urine; constant burning in the urinary organs, with decreased secretion; brown black urine; whitish deposit in the urine.

Colocynth. Alternate stitches in the bladder and rectum, retention of urine, with retraction of the testicles and priapism, urine fetid, it soon thickens and becomes viscid, with copious deposit, sometimes like gravel.

Conium. Pressure on the bladder; frequent micturition at night, the urine cannot be retained; flow of urine suddenly stops, and continues after a short interruption; urine white, thick, and turbid, or as clear as water, with frequent calls to pass it; burning sensation when urinating; pressure in neck of bladder, with stitches, worse when walking, better when sitting; pain in kidneys, if the desire to urinate is not quickly satisfied.

Copaiva balsam. Excessive irritation of the bladder; inflammation of the urinary organs; swelling and dilatation of the neck of the urethra, with pulsative pains throughout the penis; constant ineffectual desire to urinate; urine emitted in drops, foaming urine, greenish, turbid, with the odor of violets.

Cubeba. Chronic cystitis; cutting and constriction after micturition; urine increased in quantity, deepened in color, and smells of the drug; hæmaturia.

Digitalis. Inflammation of the neck of the bladder; pressure on the bladder, with sensation as if it were too full, continuing after micturition; continual desire to urinate, only a few drops being passed at each effort; urine dark brown, hot and burning; alternate emissions of large and small quantities of colorless urine, contractive pain in bladder during micturition; the urine is more easily retained in the recumbent posture.

Dulcamara. Paralysis of bladder, with involuntary discharge of urine; catarrh of bladder; thickening of coats of bladder, retention of urine, strangury; painful micturition; urine turbid and white reddish burning urine; mucous sediment in the urine.

Equisetum. Painful urination, with albuminous urine; extreme and frequent urging to urinate, with severe pain, especially immediately after the urine is voided; dysuria during pregnancy and after confinement; nocturnal enuresis, with frequent micturition.

Erigeron. Vesicular catarrh, with pain and irritation; dysuria in children, they have frequent desire and cry when urinating, urine profuse and of a very strong odor; external parts inflamed and swollen.

Ferrum acet. Difficult micturition, with spasmodic stricture or a tendency to retention of urine, especially in old people of weak and relaxed habits.

Ferrum met. Urging to urinate entirely absent during the night, but occurring regularly during the day, relieved by sitting and lying, but intolerable when walking (neuralgic affection); involuntary urination, especially by day; urine light colored, and depositing a whitish sediment; profuse mucous sediment in the urine; urine blood red, and plentifully charged with blood-corpuscles.

Gelsemium. Enuresis from paralysis of the sphincter in children at night; profuse urination; urging, with scanty emission and tenesmus of the bladder; spasm of the bladder, with alternating dysuria and enuresis.

Graphites. Cutting pressing from the kidneys before micturition; anxious pressure in the bladder, with sudden desire to urinate but scanty emission; nocturnal enuresis; frequent micturition, especially at night, the urine turbid, and deposits a reddish sediment.

Hepar. Nocturnal enuresis, weakness of the bladder, urine passes slowly, without force, dropping perpendicularly from the urethra; flocculent and turbid urine; dark yellow urine, burning when passing, and corroding the internal surface of the prepuce; orifice of urethra red and inflamed; brown-red urine, the last drops mixed with blood.

Hedeoma. Suppression of urine; tenesmus; painful urination; scanty emission of urine, with frequent and urgent desire, urine very dark, like black tea.

Hydrastis. Chronic cystitis; catarrh of the bladder, with thick,ropy, mucous sediment in the urine; decomposed smell of the urine.

Hyoscyamus. Enuresis; paralysis of the bladder; retention of urine, with pressure in the bladder; frequent micturition, with scanty discharges.

Ignatia. Irresistible desire to urinate; painful pressure, with a scraping sensation in the neck of the bladder, especially when walking; turbid urine; frequent emission of watery urine.

Iodum. Nocturnal urination; retention of urine; increased secretion of thick urine, with dark sediment; urine dark, turbid, milky; ammoniacal smell of the urine.

Kali bich. Frequent discharges of watery urine of strong odor; painful drawing from the perineum towards the urethra; urine with white film and deposit of white sediment; after micturition, burning in back part of urethra, as if one drop had remained behind, with unsuccessful effort to void it; shooting in renal region, small pulse, prostration; suppression of urine following cholera.

Kali hydroiod. Granulated kidney, urine copious, frequent, pale, watery, or red as blood, urine increased, with unquenchable thirst.

Kreasot. Sudden and imperative desire to urinate, in women, micturition is attended and followed by smarting and burning in pudenda, urine turbid and offensive, depositing a reddish sediment; bland yellow leucorrhoea preceding each urination, with frequent desire to micturate.

Lachesis. Urging to urinate; copious emission of foaming urine; yellow-colored urine; copious red-brown urine; turbid and dark urine, with sediment of brown sand and severe cutting during micturition; sensation as if a ball were rolling in the bladder.

Laurocerasus. Retention of urine; pale yellow urine; scanty, acrid, depositing a thick reddish sediment, burning in the urethra, and pressing after urinating.

Lycopodium. Involuntary micturition; stitches in the bladder; frequent micturition at night, with rare and scanty urination during the day; urine dark, with diminished discharge, or frequent emissions of large quantities of pale urine; red sandy granular sediment in the urine; greasy pellicle floats on the urine; painless hæmorrhage from the bladder; itching in the urethra during and after micturition.

Magnesia phos. Nocturnal enuresis from nervous irritation, spasmodic retention of urine; spasm of the neck of the bladder.

Mercurius. Vesical region sore to touch, urine passes in a thin stream or in drops and containing blood and pus; urine dark red and turbid, sour and pungent, mixed with blood, white flakes and pus; hæmaturia, with violent and frequent urging to urinate; inability to retain the urine; urging to urinate, with copious flow, larger than the quantity of fluid taken, with sudden, irresistible desire.

Mercur. corros. Tenesmus of bladder; suppressio urinæ; albuminuria, filaments, flocks or dark flesh-like pieces of mucus in the urine, urine scanty, hot, bloody, passed in drops with great pain.

Mezereum. Itching and sensation of soreness in urethra, when urinating, aroused or increased by touch or pressure; intensely painful tenesmus, tearing and drawing in anus and perineum, from which it extends through the whole urethra.

Murex. Urine diminished in quantity, but the calls to pass urine more frequent and urging than in the normal state, especially during the night, urine fetid, with an odor like that of valerian; white sediment in urine (uterine complications).

Natrum mur. Involuntary micturition when walking, coughing, or laughing; desire to urinate day and night; stitches in bladder during micturition, with burning-smarting sensations in urethra; pale urine, with brickdust sediment; discharge of mucus from the urethra, dark coffee-colored urine; cutting in urethra after micturition.

Nitrate of uranium. Sore feeling in the pubic region; increased frequency of micturition; profuse nocturnal urination, straw-colored and fetid; burning in urethra, with very acrid urine; desire to urinate again immediately after voiding urine.

Nitric acid. Enuresis; nightly desire to urinate, with cutting pain in abdomen; scanty, turbid, badly-smelling urine; smarting-burning pain in urethra while urinating; cramplike, contractive pain from the kidneys toward the bladder; discharge of bloody mucus, or of pus from the urethra; the urine is cold when emitted.

Nux vomica. Retention of urine; strangury; painful ineffectual desire to urinate; painful emission of thick urine; discharge of pale urine, followed by passage of thick, viscid, whitish, purulent mucus from the bladder; reddish urine, with brickdust sediment; burning and lacerating pain in the neck of the bladder during micturition, hæmaturia.

Opium. Atony of the urinary bladder; retention of urine from a weakened condition of the contractile power of the bladder, dark-colored urine, which deposits a brick-red sediment; lemon-colored urine, depositing much sediment.

Pareira brava. Violent pains in the bladder; pain in the thighs, extending down into the feet; strangury, with paroxysms of violent pain; the urine can only be voided while the patient is on the knees, with the head pressing against the floor; the paroxysm usually occurs in the morning, from 3 to 6 o'clock; urine has a strong ammoniacal smell, contains a thick viscid mucus; pains in thighs while urinating (Charberis bark).

Phellandrium. Urging to urinate, with scanty emission and violent burning after micturition, urine pale and watery, almost greenish.

Phosphorus. Involuntary emission of urine; smarting and burning in urethra, with frequent desire to urinate; tension over the region of the bladder; acrid, offensive smelling urine, brown urine, with red sandy sediment; bloody urine; urine with a sediment of white flocculi.

Phos. acid. Enuresis, with burning-cutting pains in urethra and cramp pain in the kidneys; spasmodic constriction of the bladder; profuse discharge of watery urine, in which immediately forms a white cloud; milky urine, with bloody jellylike lumps; burning in urethra while urinating.

Phytolacca. Copious nocturnal micturition; violent urging to urinate; urine excessive in quantity or scanty; dark red urine, which leaves a stain on the urinal of a mahogany color, which adheres very closely; chalklike sediments; albuminous urine, with increased specific gravity; pain in the bladder before and during micturition; frequent and painful inclination to urinate.

Plantago. Frequent inclination to urinate, enuresis nocturna; urine very profuse, light-colored and depositing a whitish sediment; stools regular, gray or mixed gray in color; puffiness under eyes; great irritability, normal appetite and sleep.

Plumbum. Paralysis of the bladder; tenesmus of the neck of the bladder; ischuria; difficult emission of urine; urine mixed with blood; copious red or yellow urine.

Populus. Catarrh of the bladder; vesicular and urethral irritation; scabbling of the urine; painful micturition.

Prunus spinosa. Very urgent desire to urinate; which if not attended to immediately causes severe, sharp, crampy pains in bladder.

Pulsatilla. Vesicular catarrh; incontinence of urine; nocturnal enuresis; involuntary discharge of urine when coughing; the urine is discharged in drops when walking or sitting; spasmodic pain in the neck of the bladder during (scant, after) micturition, extending to pelvis and thighs; burning in urethra while urinating; hæmaturia, scanty brown-red urine, with brick-colored sediment, bloody or mucous deposit; urine loaded with large quantities of urate of ammonia, showing a wasting, hectic condition.

Rhus tox. Tenesmus vesicæ, with emissions of only a few drops of blood-red urine; diminished secretion of urine; incontinence of urine, as soon as the desire to urinate is felt, nature requires immediate relief, urine hot, white, and muddy, or pale, with white sediment; dark urine, soon becoming turbid.

Ruta gr. Nocturnal enuresis; continual pressure on the bladder as if always full; the desire to urinate continues after micturition; involuntary discharge of urine at night in bed and while walking during the day; frequent urging, with emission of green urine.

Sanguinaria. Retention of urine in consequence of gravel and urinary calculi.

Santonin. Chronic cystitis; incontinence of urine; nocturnal enuresis; dysuria; suddenly waking, with urging to urinate, only a few drops of urine being passed each time; the urine has a peculiar green or orange green color.

Sarsaparilla. Pain and cramps in the bladder, with urging and burning; urine pale and copious; frequent urging to urinate, with scanty, but painless discharge; urine clear and red; severe strangury, with discharge of white, acrid, turbid matter, with mucous, painful retention of urine; urine frequently voided, does not become turbid, but deposits a cloud; frequent and copious discharge of pale urine, which becomes turbid on standing like clay-water; urine either too frequent, copious, and pale, or scanty, slimy, flaky, clayey, or sandy; iridescent pellicle in the urine; after each micturition pain at a point in the vicinity of the neck of the bladder; frequent urination, with distress more or less all through the pelvis; after urination chills, commencing at the region of the neck of the bladder, and spreading in an upward direction through the upper part of the body.

Sepia. Nocturnal enuresis, especially during the first sleep, constant desire to urinate, with painful bearing-down in the pelvis in the morning; burning in the bladder and urethra; pressure on the bladder in the evening, with burning after urinating; urine turbid, with red sandy sediment, which adheres to the chamber and is removed with difficulty, and a cuticle on the surface; urine has an offensive smell and deposits a white sediment.

Squilla. Tenesmus of the bladder after micturition; frequent calls to urinate, especially at night, with scanty emission, or profuse discharge of pale urine; sanguinolent urine, with a deposit of red sediment.

Stannum. Painless retention of urine; the urging to urinate absent as in atony of the bladder.

Staphisagria. Profuse discharge of pale urine, with urging; frequent desire to urinate, with emission of a small quantity of dark-colored urine; burning in the urethra during and after urinating; urging after micturition as if the bladder had not been emptied.

Stramonium. Rigors during urination, rumbling in the abdomen despite urging no stream forms; urine dribbles away slowly and feebly.

Strychnia. Atony of the bladder; retention of urine or incontinence, when these conditions depend on impaired power of the detrusor muscle of the bladder from overdilatation.

Sulphur. Nocturnal enuresis; violent desire to urinate at night; copious micturition after midnight; stitches in the bladder; cutting pain in the urethra while passing urine; the urine is sometimes clear and sometimes contains a thick sediment; rose-colored urine; fetid urine, a greasy film forming on the surface.

Terebinthina. Strangury; dysuria; violent dragging and cutting pain in the bladder; burning in the bladder; urine scanty and red, or bloody urine; difficult micturition; the urine has the color of violets, with deposit of mucus, or a thick muddy sediment.

Thuja. Frequent urging to urinate, with profuse emission; the urine looks like water on passing, but becomes cloudy on standing; red urine, depositing a brickdust sediment; burning in the urethra during and for some time after micturition.

Uva ursi. Hematuria: painful micturition, with burning; urine slimy, purulent,ropy and of a strong, pungent odor.

Verat. alb. Dysuria: involuntary emission of urine: painful pressure on the bladder and burning during micturition; frequent, but scanty, emissions of dark-red urine; green urine.

Particular indications:

Æsculus hip. Inflamed cervix uteri attended with retroversion prolapsus, ulceration, enlargement and induration with great tenderness, heat, and throbbing; thick, dark and corroding leucorrhœa, with constant backache, especially in hip and sacrum, great fatigue when walking; dull pain in occiput with flushes of heat over occiput, neck and shoulders and lame feeling in small of back.

Agaricus. Prolapsus uteri, after cessation of menses, with intolerable bearing-down pains; cramps as if she must have a chill, obliged to lie down; itching and irritation of the parts, with strong desire for an embrace; profuse menses, with tearing-pressive pains in back and abdomen; leucorrhœa very profuse, dark-colored, with much itching internally and externally, swelling of vagina and several nodules.

Agnus castus. Engorgement and thickening of the uterus, extensive ulceration of os uteri, hæmorrhagic menses, which are also painful; ovarian neuralgia; perfect abhorrence to all sexual intercourse.

Aletris far. Prolapsus uteri from muscular atony; leucorrhœa from loss of fluids or defective nutrition; debility from protracted illness; obstinate indigestion, the least food distresses the stomach; fainting with vertigo.

Aloes. Hæmorrhage during climaxis; prolapsus uteri, with fulness and heaviness in uterine region, and laborlike pains in loins and groin, worse standing; pelvic and hæmorrhoidal congestion; menses too early and profuse.

Alumina. Prolapsus uteri; bland, painless ulcers on os; throbbing and itching in vagina; corroding, profuse leucorrhœa running down to the heels, often only in daytime, relieved by cold washes, pain in sacrum; hepatic eruptions; feels better in fresh air and wet weather, and worse in dry weather.

Ambra. Hysteria; stitches in ovarian region, when drawing in the abdomen or pressing upon it; discharge of blood at every little accident, as after a hard stool, or after a walk a little longer than usual; soreness, itching, and swelling of the pudenda, lying down aggravates uterine symptoms.

Ammonium carb. Swelling, itching, and burning of pudenda; burning watery leucorrhœa from womb, acrid and profuse from vagina, worse when bending down, and during wet weather.

Antimon crud. Pressure in womb, as if something would come out; tenderness over ovarian region, after catamenia has been checked by taking bath.

Apis mel. Hypertrophy and prolapsus uteri; engorgement and ulceration of os uteri; great tenderness over uterine region, with bearing-down pain, leucorrhœa and painful micturition; heat and fulness of uterine region; stinging pains in womb, feeling in bowels as if diarrhœa would come on; abdomen swollen and tender, with swollen feet and scanty secretion of urine; dropsy of uterus, menses suppressed or diminished, with congestion to head; profuse, acrid, green leucorrhœa.

Argentum met. Prolapsus uteri, with pain in left ovary and back, extending to the front and downwards; ulcers of uterus, discharging purulent, ichorous, sometimes bloody water of unbearable stench; scirrhus of os tinæ; neck of uterus spongy, deeply corroded.

Arnica. Ulcers of uterus, with a tendency to bleed; soreness and bruised feeling in the parts, as if after a difficult labor.

Arsenicum. Open cancer of womb, with burning and agonizing pain, and secretion of fetid, brown or blackish ichor; fainting fits; excessive debility and emaciation; burning pains, even felt while sleeping at night; profuse, acrid, and corroding menses; acrid and corroding leucorrhœa.

Asafœtida. Uterine ulcers, sensitive and painful; swelling and inflammation of genitals; bearing down in genitals, worse when riding in a carriage; menses frequent and scanty; leucorrhœa profuse, greenish, thin, and offensive.

Asarum eur. Nervous irritability; sensation of lightness in limbs; when she walks she feels as if she were gliding in the air.

Cancer of womb, with warmth and painfulness of vagina, engorgement of lymphatic vessels and mucous follicles, hardness of neck of womb, which is swollen and covered with fungous excrescences; heaviness of abdomen, with exacerbation of pains and fainting while standing, stitches through thighs and hypogastrium, like electric shocks; retarded and painful menses, with discharge of black, coagulated, and fetid blood, constipation, earthy complexion, sadness, and restlessness. Tumor, size of an orange, in right and left iliac fossa, hard, round, slightly movable, not painful to pressure, only producing inconvenience from weight: os uteri standing back wards, can only be reached with difficulty; pain in uterus when reaching high with arms; bearing-down pains in uterus to back, with weakness and sickness; vagina cold.

Helonias. Profound melancholy; deep, undefined depression, with sensation of soreness and weight in womb; consciousness of a womb, dragging weakness in sacral region, with prolapsus uteri and ulceration of cervix; discharge constant, dark, badly smelling, flooding on lifting a weight, and on least exertion; face swollen, having an expression of suffering; great vaginal irritation; uterus low down, os protruding, fundus tilted forwards, the finger passes with difficulty between os and rectum; leucorrhœa, with atony and anemia, apatal on biman.

Hepar. Uterine ulcers, with bloody suppuration, smelling like old cheese; edge of ulcer sensitive; often a pulsating sensation in ulcers, much itching, or little pimples around ulcer; discharge of blood between menses; leucorrhœa, with smarting of vulva.

Hydrastis. Ulceration of cervix and vagina, prolapsus uteri, uterine disease, with sympathetic affections of the digestive organs, profuse leucorrhœa, tenacious, ropy, thick, yellow; pruritus vulvæ, with sexual excitement.

Iodum. Induration and swelling of uterus and ovaries; dropped affection of ovaries, with pressing down towards genitals; acrid leucorrhœa, corroding the limbs, worse at time of menses; uterine hæmorrhage, renewed at every stool; numb feeling in thighs and legs; emaciation, hectic fever, canine hunger or no appetite, constipation or looseness of bowels.

Kali bichrom. Prolapsus uteri, seemingly from hot weather, leucorrhœa, yellow, ropy, with pain and weakness across small of back, and dull heavy pains in hypogastrium; swelling of genitals.

Kali hydroiod. Fibroid tumors, subinvolution, hypertrophy and enlargement of uterus, predisposing to hæmorrhage; dysmenorrhœa, constant leucorrhœa; emaciation and prostration.

Kreasotum. Fundus uteri swollen and sensitive to pressure; ulcerative pain in cervix uteri, orifice of uterus wide open, almost everted, its inner surface like cauliflower; scirrhous of vagina, painful to touch; during coition violent pain, preceded by anxiety and trembling, burning in the parts, followed next day by discharge of black blood; hard lump on neck of uterus, with ulcerative pain during embrace; corrosive itching within the vulva, with soreness and burning after scratching; burning and swelling of labia; painful urging towards genitals; dark and offensive metrorrhagia, with fainting; offensive smell of large clots; putrid, acid, corrosive leucorrhœa; stitches through thighs like electric shocks; pain in sacrum like labor-pains; strong pressure to urinate and ineffectual desire to go to stool.

Lachesis. Nymphomania; uterine region feels swollen, will bear no contact; bearing-down pains; uterine and ovarian pains relieved by a flow of blood; pains like knife thrust into abdomen; uterus feels as if os was open; redness and swelling of external parts, with discharge of mucus; swelling, induration, neuralgia, suppuration, etc., of left ovary; pain in coreyx when sitting down, as if sitting on something sharp; trembling of legs.

Ledum. Fibrous tumors, with menorrhagia; displacement of uterus, abundant leucorrhœa, pale face, copious urination, even at night; worse by warmth, as in bed or over a register; great sensation of coldness all through her, she cannot keep warm from deficiency of vital heat.

Lilium tigr. Severe neuralgic pains in uterus, could not bear touch, not even weight of bed-clothing or slightest jar; anteversion; bearing down in uterine region as if everything would be pressed out, relieved by pressure with hand against vulva; bloated feeling in uterine region; pelvic organs feel swollen, aching apparently around, not in, uterus; pressure on anterior wall of rectum; voluptuous itching in vagina, with feeling of fulness; stinging in left ovarian region; low-spirited, weeping, apprehensive; opposite and contradictory mental states; frequent, scanty burning urine; bloated feeling in abdomen; limbs cold, clammy. Anteversion or retroversion, with constipation; pruritus of the genitals; uterine neuralgia.

Lycopodium. Physometra; dropsy of ovaries and of uterus; cutting across the hypogastrium from left to right, ovaries diseased, ovarian tumors; increased discharge of blood from the genitals during every passage of hard or soft stool; weariness; extreme weakness; emaciation, with tremors of limbs; stiffness, aching, chilliness, in small of back; burning pain in vagina after coition; warmth and dryness of vagina; open cancer, with tearing stitches; bloody leucorrhœa; nymphomania.

Magnesia mur. Scirrhus indurations of the os uteri; bearing down in ovarian region; uterine diseases complicated with hysterical complaints; pale face, debility, nervous excitement.

Mercurius. On os uteri bleeding excrescences, or deep ulcers with ragged edges; prolapsus uteri et vaginæ; deep sore pain in pelvis; dragging in loins; abdomen feels weak, as if it had to be held up; griping and bruised pain in small of back; painful pressure in thighs; itching of genitals, worse from contact of urine, leucorrhœa, smarting, corroding, causing itching, or purulent, containing lumps, worse at night.

Mercurius biniod. Stony hardness of fibroid tumor.

Mercurius corros. Abrasion; ulceration arising from overstimulated, then broken-down glandular structure; fibroid tumors with profuse, muco purulent, excoriating leucorrhœa.

Mezereum. Uterine ulcers, with smarting, burning, and pricking sensation; discharge albuminous, sometimes tinged with blood, corroding.

Murex purp. Prolapsus uteri with gone sensation in pit of stomach, worse about eleven A.M., relieved by eating and lying down; sensation of sharp pain passing upward on right side of uterus, then crossing the body and extending to left mamma (latus from chest to uterus); sore pain in womb, as if cut by a sharp instrument; bloody leucorrhœa during stool, or watery, greenish, thick, profuse, and anticipating menses; feeling of dryness and constriction of uterus; nymphomania, excited by the least contact of the parts; nervous temperament, strong determined will and cheerful disposition.

Muriatic acid. Ulcers in genitals, with putrid discharge, much sensitiveness and general weakness; cannot bear even touch of bed-clothes; prostration and drowsiness all day, wants to lie down.

Natrum carb. Indurated cervix and ill-shaped os, pressure in hypogastrium, as if everything would come out, thick, yellow, putrid leucorrhœa, ceasing after urinating.

Natrum mur. Prolapsus uteri, with aching in the lumbar region, better lying on back, with cutting in urethra after micturition, every morning pressing and pushing towards genitals, has to sit down to prevent prolapsus, itching of external parts, with falling off of the hair; sterility, with too early and too profuse menstruation, acrid, greenish leucorrhœa, itching, with yellow complexion; hysterical debility, feels weakest mornings in bed.

Nitric acid. Excrescences on cervix uteri; acrid, brown, offensive leucorrhœa of ropy mucus, or flesh-colored, profuse, heat, offensive discharge between the irregular menstruations from cancer of womb; urine offensive; pressing down in hypogastrium and small of back, as though everything would protrude; pain down thighs, abdomen swollen; soreness of genitals; debility, with heaviness and trembling of limbs, especially mornings; irritable disposition.

Nux moschata. Anteversion; flatulent distension of uterus; uterus displaced; mouth and throat dry; sleepy, faint, abdomen enormously distended after a meal, pressure in back outward, sensation of lump in lower abdomen; prolapsus uteri et vaginae relieves pain and vomiting caused by pessaries; irregular menses, flow dark, thick; leucorrhœa in place of menses.

Nux vom. Feeble, dyspeptic patients with pain in back, bearing down towards sacrum and pressing pain over hips; burning, heaviness and sticking in uterus; hardness and swelling of os, prolapsus uteri from straining or lifting; slight leucorrhœa, which is fetid, staining yellow; great debility of nervous system with hyperæsthesia, wants to sit or lie down.

Opium. Prolapsus uteri from fright; fetid discharge from uterus after fright; softness of uterus; want of vital reaction.

Palladium. Symptoms of falling of womb with weeping mood, all motions are painful, she can hardly stand or walk; right side of abdomen covary swollen, hard and painful as if beaten, with shooting pains from navel to pelvis, all on right side; heaviness as from a load with pressure deep in the pelvis, better when lying on left side.

Petroleum. Prolapsus uteri in patients reduced by chronic diarrhoea, occurring during day; profuse leucorrhœa, like albumen: soreness and moisture on genitals, with violent itching.

Phosphorus. Nymphomania: sterility from excessive voluptuousness, or with late and profuse menses; cancer uteri, with frequent and profuse metrorrhagia, pouring out freely, and then ceasing for a short time; stitches upward from vagina into pelvis, leucorrhœa instead of menses, watery, slimy, or acrid, causing blisters; emaciation and nervous debility; hyperæsthesia, frequent fainting.

Phosphoric acid. Ovaritis and metritis from debilitating influences; uterus bloated as if full of wind; uterine ulcer, with copious, putrid, bloody discharge, itching and corroding pain, or no pain; weakness of legs; great indifference; drowsiness.

Platina. Induration of uterus; ulceration, with coexisting ovarian irritation; nymphomania, tingling or titillation from genitals up into abdomen; metrorrhagia, with great excitability of sexual system; pruritus vulvæ, with anxiety and palpitation of heart; prolapsus uteri, with continual pressure in genital organs; numbness and coldness of body; melancholy.

Podophyllum. Prolapsus uteri et vaginae after straining or over-lifting, after parturition, with pain in sacrum; prolapsus and with torpid liver and constipation; much bearing down in hypogastric and sacral region, increased by motion and relieved by lying down; numb aching pains in ovaries, particularly on left side; sensation as if genitals would protrude during stool, with leucorrhœa of thick, transparent mucus; fulness of superficial veins; menorrhagia from straining.

Pulsatilla. Prolapsus uteri, worse on lying down and from heat, better in fresh air, with pressure in abdomen and small of back as from a stone; limbs tend to go to sleep; ineffectual urging to stool; suppressed menses, pains in back and chilliness; crampy constriction in vagina; peevishness, with weeping; dimness of vision; pressure on bladder, frequent and copious micturition, without any strangury.

Sabadilla. Nymphomania from ascarides; menses flow by fits and starts, irregularly, sometimes stronger, then again weaker.

Sabina. Nymphomania; soreness of abdominal muscles; pressing down towards genitals; frequent and violent urging to urinate, with profuse discharge; hæmorrhages, pale red and clotted, or of very thin, discolored, offensive-smelling blood; fetid leucorrhœa after suppressed menses; stitches deep in vagina; cysts in vulva, sensitive, and with tearing pains during rest, condylomata, with sore burning pains; better in open air; sympathetic irritation of rectum.

Sanguinaria. Uterine polypi, physometra; os uteri ulcerated, with fetid, corrosive leucorrhœa; too early menstruation, with discharge of black blood; frequent and copious nocturnal urination, urine clear as water; bruise-like pains in thigh, alternating with burning and pressure in chest; fainting weakness, with palpitation of heart; climaxis.

Secale. Uterine ulcer, feels as if burnt, discharges putrid, bloody fluid; burning pains in the greatly distended uterus, which feels hard and is painful to the touch; ulcers on outer genitals discolored and rapidly swelling; brownish and offensive leucorrhœa, atonic, passive hæmorrhage of very fetid or dark blood, worse from slightest motion; cold extremities, cold sweat, great weakness, small pulse; worse from warmth, motion, touching the parts.

Sepia. Prolapsus uteri et vaginae from atonic relaxation of the ligamentous and vaginal supports of uterus, relieved by lying down, worse when sitting up, standing, or walking, which cause bearing down, heat, goneness, backache, and fainting; gone sensation in pit of stomach, about noon, relieved by eating and lying down; induration of neck of uterus, dropy of uterus; tenderness of genitals to touch; leucorrhœa, passive congestion, chronic metritis, displacements, especially retroversion; frequent bloody discharges between menses, especially after intercourse; pressure at genitals, as if everything would protrude; violent stitches in vagina upwards; redness, swelling, and itching humid eruptions on labia, weakness of small of back when walking, want of natural heat, aversion to open air.

Silicea. Morbid growth of vagina: 1, calc., carb., calc. phos., con., phos., ataph.; 2, aur., hep., lyc., merc., mez., sil., thuj.; 3, bell., graph., natr. mur., nitr. ac., phos. ac., petr., puls., sep., sulph., sulph. ac.

Serous cysts: graph., lyc., puls., rhod., sil., sulph.

Condylomata: calc., lyc., merc., nitr. ac., staph., tart. emet., thuj.

VALERIANA, ill effects of.

The best remedy is cham., after which coff.; in some cases n. vom. or sulph.

VAPORS, NOXIOUS, ill effects of.

Offering proposes:

§ 1. To counteract sulphuretted hydrogen: 1, sprinkling with water and vinegar, which should at the same time be held under the patient's nose to inhale the vapor; 2, chloro-water, when the patient shows signs of life after having been apparently dead; a few drops may be given internally; 3, black coffee, when the diluted vinegar does not agree, and the patient complains of chilliness; 4, a few drops of good wine, when great heat and debility set in.

§ 2. The vapors of coal are antidoted by: 1, water and vinegar, and after return of consciousness; 2, by a few doses of opium; or 3, bell., if op. should be insufficient.

The ill effects of emanations from wood and loam work in recently built houses are best treated with sulph. ac.

§ 3. The vapors of chlore require: 1, tobacco-smoke; 2, brandy or wine; 3, loaf sugar.

§ 4. See Sulphur, Prussic Acid, Mercury, etc.

VARICELLÆ.

§ 1. Principal remedies: 1, acon., ant., bell., puls., rhin., tart.; 2, ars., canth., carb. v., con., ipec., merc., sep., sil., thuj.; 3, asafl., caust., cycl., led., natr., natr. m., sec., sol. n., sulph.

§ 2. As regards varieties, give for:

a. Varicellæ emphysematicæ: 1, acon., ant., bell., puls., tart.; 2, canth., con., mere., sec., sil., sol. n., thuj.

b For the so-called swine- or water-pox: acon., bell., led., puls., rhus

For the acuminated varicellæ: 1, acon., ant., bell., puls., rhus, tart.; 2, ars., carb. v., ipec., sep., thuj

§ 3. In the inflammatory period give acon., no matter what form the eruption may have, or bell. if the brain should be irritated.

The tenesmus or ischuria requires: canth., con., mere.

Swelling of the cervical glands: bell., carb. v., mere.

Large pustules with profuse suppuration: ars., mere., puls., rhus, thuj

For slow development of the eruption, with gastro and bilious symptoms: 1, ant., puls., tart.; 2, ipec., rhus, sulph.

§ 4. See Variola, Exanthema, Varioloid.

Hyoscyamus. Eruption fails to appear at the proper time, causing great nervous excitement, with rage, anguish, delirium, coming on in paroxysms; patient wants constantly to get out of bed and to be uncovered; hyperæsthesia of skin; vesicles coming out in crops, red.

slight fever; dry teasing cough, relieved by sitting up.

Ipecacuanha. Gastricismus during eruptive stage, with constant nausea.

Mercurius. Variola in the stage of maturation; ptyalism; tendency of blood to head; irritation of mucous membranes; moist swollen tongue, with great thirst; diarrhœa or dysentery, with tenesmus, especially during the period of desiccation.

Phosphorus. Hæmorrhagic diathesis; bloody pustules; hard, dry, exhausting cough, with pain or feeling of rawness in chest; bronchitis; hæmorrhage from lungs; back pains as if broken, impeding all motion; frequent faintings; typhoid variola, even so from the start.

Phosphoric acid. Confluent variola, with typhoid conditions; pustules do not fill with pus, but degenerate into large blisters, which, bursting, leave an excoriated surface; patient is stupid, does not want anything, not even a drink; answers questions, but does not talk otherwise; subultus tendinum, great restlessness; fear of death; watery diarrhœa.

Rhus tox. Typhoid symptoms, dry tongue; great restlessness; patient wants to get out of bed, notwithstanding his great debility; sordes on lips and teeth; confluent small pox, with great swelling at first, but afterwards the eruption shrinks and becomes livid; blood in pustules; bloody stools.

Sarracenia. (Infusion of pitcher-plant.) No reliable indications; severe cases.

Silicea. Suppurative stage exhausts the strength of patient and desiccation is delayed; caries of bones, following severe attacks of small pox, with fistulous openings and discharge of thin pus and bony fragments.

Solanum nigrum. Hæmorrhagic variola.

Sulphur. Tendency to metastasis to the brain during suppuration; stage of desiccation; occasionally indispensable as an intercurrent remedy, where others fail.

Tartarus emet. Eruption tardy in coming out, with great oppression under sternum, nausea, vomiting, sleepiness, or for suppression of eruption; putrid variola, with typhoid symptoms, especially typhoid pneumonia with tendency to paralysis of lungs; vomiting of viscid mucus, clogging the air-passages; pustules in larynx, mouth, throat, and digestive organs; leaving bluish-red marks on face, genitals, and thighs.

Thuja. Pains in upper arms, fingers, and hands, with fulness and soreness of throat; areola around pustules marked and dark red; pustules milky and flat, painful to touch, especially during stage of maturation, where it may prevent pitting.

Variolinum. Especially where the disease throws itself with full force on throat. Given steadily during the disease it will run a milder course, changing imperfect pustules into regular ones which soon dry up; it promotes suppuration and desiccation, and prevents pitting.

Veratrum vir. Intense fever, with excessive pain and restlessness. Used in alternation with macrotin the pustules flattened rapidly, dried, and fell off.

WOUNDS, Injuries, Sprains, etc.

§ 1. Principal remedies: 1, arn., calend., cic., con., hep., lach., puls., rhüs., sulph. ac.; 2, acon., amm., bry., calc., caust., cham., euphr., nitr. ac., n. vom., phos., ruta., sil., staph., sulph., zinc.; 3, alum., bell., borax., carb. veg., dule., iod., petr., sil.

§ 2. For sprains, luxations, etc., give: arnica, ten drops of the tincture in a tumblerful of water, before and after the necessary manual operations, such as reduction of the dislocation, etc. If the contusion or luxation should be very bad, arnica may likewise be given internally; and if no result should have been obtained in twenty-four hours, rhüs t., one dose, allowing it to act until an improvement takes place. A second dose of rhüs may be given after the first ceases to act, or, if a pain should occasionally be experienced in the sprained joint, amm., ruta., should be resorted to; or, agn., bell., bry., puls.; or calc., carb. an., carb. veg., ign., lyc., magn., aust., natr., natr. m., nitr. ac., n. vom., petr., phos., sep., sulph.

If the patient should have injured himself by lifting heavy weight, the principal remedy is rhüs t., especially when the dorsal and cervical muscles and the vertebral column are affected, and headache, pains in the back, or gastric ailments are experienced. If rhüs should not suffice, give calc., cocc., natr., n. vom., sulph. or, arn., bry., carb. an., carb. veg., graph., kal., lyc., pod., sep., sil. If hernia inguinalis should have been caused by lifting heavy weight or by straining the body, give: 1, n. vom., sulph. ac.; 2, cocc., sulph. If a prolapsus of the womb should have been occasioned by these causes, n. vom. is almost a specific remedy, and should be resorted to before bell. or sep. are given.

The ill effects of missing a step or pressing the foot to the floor with too much violence, require: 1, bry.; 2, cic., con., puls., rhüs.; 3, arn., spig.

§ 3. Parts which have been injured by a contusion, fall, or blow, should be bathed with a solution of arnica, arnica being likewise taken internally, if the contusion be very bad, or if the head, chest, abdomen, etc., should have been violently concussed. If arnica should be insufficient, give:

For simple contusion without concussion: 1, con., euphr., iod., led., puls., ruta., sulph. ac.; 2, croc., ham., hep., mez., petr., phos., ruta., sulph., symp.

For concussion from blow, shock, fall, or other causes: 1, cic., con., puls., rhüs.; 2, euphr., iod., lach., sulph., sulph. ac.

Concussion of the whole body by a fall: bry., cic., con., puls., rhüs., sulph., ac.

Echymosis, which does not yield to arnica: 1, bry., calend., rhüs., sulph. ac.; 2, dule., ham., lach., n. vom., puls., sulph.

Swelling of the injured parts: 1, bry., puls., rhus, sulph. ; 2, bell., n. vom., sulph. ac.

§ 4. If there should be a solution of continuity (as in wounds, etc.), apply first arnica as a wash ; and if this should be insufficient, apply :

For bites, not of poisonous animals : arn., sulph. ac. And of poisonous animals : 1, amm., ars., bell. ; 2, caust., lach., led., natr. m. puls., seneg.

Contused wounds, see Contusion, in the preceding paragraph.

Excoriations, bedsores: 1, arn., sulph. ac. ; 2, carb. veg., chin., ham., puls.

Cut-wounds: 1, staph., sulph. ; 2, natr., plumb., sil., sulph. ac.

Gunshot wounds: 1, euphr., nitr. ac., plumb., sulph. ac. ; 2, puls., ruta, sulph.

Splinters: 1, acon., carb. veg., cic., hep., nitr. ac., sil. ; 2, lach., sulph.

Stab-wounds: 1, carb. veg., cic., lach., nitr. ac., sil. ; 2, con., hep., plumb., sulph.

Burns: acon., ars., carb. veg., caust., lach., stram., urtic. Relief is sometimes obtained by washing the burn with soap spirits or saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda. Burns of the tongue sometimes are cured by a small dose of ars. or caust.

§ 5. Employ more particularly :

For readily bleeding wounds : 1, acon., arn., chin., phos. ; 2, carb. veg., diadem., lach., phos., sulph., sulph. ac.

For profuse suppuration : 1, bell., chin., merc., puls., sulph. ; 2, bell., hep., lach., plumb.

For inflamed, angry, ulcerated wounds, give : 1, cham., sil. ; 2, borax, graph., hep., lach., merc., nitr. ac., puls., rhus, sulph., sulph. ac.

Gangrenous wounds: 1, ars., chin., lach., sil. ; 2, acon., amm., bell., carb. veg., euphorb.

§ 6. If the muscles and soft parts alone were injured, give : 1, arn., euphr., hep., puls., sulph. ac. ; 2, con., dulc., lach., n. vom., sulph.

If the tendons, ligaments or synovial membranes : 1, amm., arn., bry., rhus, ruta ; 2, calc., natr., natr. m., phos. ; 3, agn., carb. an., carb. veg., lyc., magn. aust., n. vom., petr., sep.

Wounds of glandular organs require : 1, con., iod., kal., phosph. ; 2, cic., hep., merc., puls., sil., sulph.

Wounds of bones or the periosteum : 1, calend., phos. ac., puls., ruta ; 2, calc., phos., sil., staph.

Fractures: calc., calend., ruta, sil., symphytum officinale.

§ 7. Traumatic convulsions (tetanus) require : ang., bell., cic., cocc.

Traumatic (wound) fever: acon., bry., rhus t., provided arn. is insufficient.

Nervous symptoms after violent concussion of the brain or spinal marrow require : 1, cic., con., hyperic. ; 2, bell., calc., cin., hep., provided arn. is insufficient.

§ 8. Agnus castus. Strains from overlifting ; sprains and luxations of joints.

Ammonium carb. Sprains attended with fatigue and weakness in limbs, as if bruised ; drawing and tension in joints ; contraction of limbs, as if tendons were too short.

Apis mel. Dissecting wound on hand, throbbing pain extending up the arm ; erysipelas after wounds or operations ; punctured wounds ; stings of insects; skin extremely sensitive to touch, with debility and exhaustion.

Arnica. Bad effects from strains, falls, bruises, concussions, and all mechanical injuries; it prevents suppuration (ars.).

Asafoetida. Injuries of tarsus and carpus.

Calendula. Suggilations; bloody and serous infiltrations of the cellular tissue in open wounds and ulcers.

Conium. Injuries of the eyes; contusions which produce a condensation of the cellular tissue and induration of glandular structures, accompanied by a sensation of numbness.

Hypericum. Great nervous depression following wounds; consequences of spinal concussion; cervical vertebræ very sensitive to touch; violent pains and inability to walk or stoop after a fall on the coccyx; injuries in parts rich in sentient nerves, especially fingers, toes, matrices of nails; lacerations, when the intolerable pains show the nerves severely involved; it is said to prevent trismus.

Ledum. Wounds inflicted with sharp instruments; punctured wounds which feel cold to the touch and to the patient; coldness during the fever; affections of hip-joint; sprains of ankles and feet.

Rhus tox. Bad effects from straining or lifting, particularly from stretching arms high up to reach things; consequences attending an extension of membranous tissues, especially the ligaments of the joints.

Ruta. Injuries of periosteum; mechanical injuries of the tarsal and carpal joints and in rheumatic paralysis of the parts.

Staphisagria. Mechanical injuries from sharp cutting instruments.

Symphytum. Pressure, contusion, and fracture of bones, where it ends in producing a callus (mez.).

Valeriana. Spasms after slight injuries.
